SENIOR CLASS DUES

Class dues for members of the Senior class at Kansas State college have been reduced this year, according to an announcement of class officials. The total class dues this year will be $11.50, which includes the cost of a 1934 Royal Purple.
Members of last year's senior class paid $12.50 for dues which included a Royal Purple. The dollar reduction for seniors this year was made possible by a similar reduction of rates on year books for members of other classes.

Class dues should be paid as soon as possible at the Royal Purple office in order to eliminate the annual last minute rush at the closing of the term.

ENROLLMENT INCREASE POSSIBILITY THIS YEAR

College Officials Optimistic Over Prospective Student List and Probable Registration Figures

Prospects for enrollment at Kansas State college are optimistic this year and it is believed that the total number of students will equal or perhaps surpass that of last year.
Officials of the college are well pleased over the number of transcripts and inquiries which have been received during the past summer.

The vice-president's office for the past six weeks has been busy corresponding with prospective students, and a great number of students from every part of the United States are expected to enroll this year.

A number of students who formerly attended the University of Georgia, Athens, are expected to enroll in the veterinary division of Kansas State college, after the closing of that department in the Georgia school. Approximately 4,200 catalogues have been sent out during the summer and nearly 25 to 30 books each day during the past week.

Transcripts which have been received by Miss Jessie McDowell Machir, registrar, show that a higher grade high-school student will enter college this year. The number of transcripts received has not yet been determined and the exact number of students enrolled for the fall semester will not be known until several days after registration.

Dr. J. T. Willard, vice-president, said he was more optimistic over the prospects than he had been earlier in the summer. Requests for catalogues and conferences with prospective students have been numerous this summer.

NEW CAFETERIA HEAD

Mrs. Ruth Heckler Replaces Miss
Iva Welch

Mrs. Ruth Heckler is the new director of the college cafeteria. She assumed her duties September 1, replacing Miss Iva Welch who has resigned.

As in former years, the cafeteria will serve three meals a day—breakfast, luncheon, and dinner.
The cafeteria will not be open following dinner except when arrangements have been made to serve a special dinner or banquet.

Arrangements for banquets should be made with Mrs. Heckler.
Miss Catherine Bower of the English department returned Friday from Boulder, Colo., where she spent most of the summer.

HOLTZ CONTINUES OFFICE

Dr. A. A. Holtz, men's adviser and executive secretary of the college
Y. M. C. A., was re-elected president of the Kansas Council of Religious Education at the Kansas Sunday school convention in Col-feville, June 1.

Dr. J. J. Yoder, McPherson, and J. H. Little, LaCrosse, were elected vice-presidents; C. R. Stauffer, Holsington, secretary; and G. H. Harrel, chairman of the board.

GRADUATES IN CLASS OF 1933 RECORD NUMBER

COMBINED SUMMER AND SPRING CLASSES LARGEST IN HISTORY OF COLLEGE

KIMBALL CONFERRED DEGREE

Exercises Held in Quadrangle Under Perfect Weather Conditions—High Honors to Three and Honors to Six

Though the number of degrees granted at summer commencement exercises was slightly less than last year, the combined spring and summer groups totalled 642, making the 1933 class the largest in the history of the college.

At the summer commencement
the night of August 4, a total of 142 degrees were conferred, of which 96 were to members of the senior class and 55 were master's degrees.

The degree, doctor of engineering, was conferred upon the commencement speaker, Dean Dexter S. Kimball of the college of engineering, Cornell university.

Seniors Total 524
For the year, there were granted 524 degrees of bachelor of science and doctor of veterinary medicine, 108 master's degrees, seven professional degrees in engineering, and three doctor's degrees. Last year's total class was 605, including 486 to seniors, 107 master's degrees, 11 professional degrees, and one doctorate.

The summer commencement, the ninth to be held by the college, was held in the south campus quadrangle, under perfect weather conditions. The evening was somewhat cooler than is usual for early August.

"Pomp and Circumstance" was played by the college orchestra as the faculty, guests, and seniors came down the campus walks in procession. The invocation was by the Rev. Carl A. Nissen, B. S., M. A., pastor of the First Baptist

A Kansas State Athlete Now in Big Time Sports

A big-leaguer! That is the ambition of many young baseball players and sandlot stars, but it is a goal that most of them fail to attain. Only a select few find their names recorded on the rosters of the major league baseball clubs.

One of these fortunate young men is Elden Auker, former Kansas State athlete star. For three years
Auker was one of the outstanding Wildcat athletes. He was a great back on the gridiron, a flashy guard on the basketball floor, and a consistently good pitcher on the baseball team. As a hurler Auker was practically unbeatable. He rang up victory after victory over rival Big Six clubs. It was his exceptional ability on the mound against his collegiate opponents that won him a place on the roster of the Detroit Tigers, with whom he signed up immediately after completion of his college work in 1932.

Following his decision to join the Tigers, Auker was sent to the Beaumont team of the Texas league for seasoning. He did great work in the one and two thirds seasons he was with the Texans. His record for this season up to the latter part of August credited him with 16 victories and 10 defeats. He was the leading Beaumont pitcher.

With Detroit coming down the home stretch of the American league pennant race in fifth place,

THE PRESIDENT'S WELCOME

It always is a pleasure to extend a welcome to a new body of students at Kansas State college. Predominantly the students who come here are vigorous, self-reliant, democratic, earnest, and industrious. As representatives of good homes and communities they have high ideas, self-respect and common sense. It is a privilege and a pleasure for teachers to work with such students.

Many of you students are away from home on your own responsibility for the first time. Many of you will have more freedom of action here than you have had before. The atmosphere of Kansas State is unusually free. The student who does his work well and has a proper regard for his obligations as a citizen of the college community finds few restrictions on his actions. This freedom of action is something precious, something to be preserved by the exercise of considerate judgment and good sense. Students who do not respect the privileges of a free atmosphere are not wanted here and their presence here is not tolerated for long.

It is desirable for you to know that quality is more important than quantity. To do your best in both work and play is more important than to work or to play indifferently for no matter how many hours a day.

It also is important for you to know that the college can give you nothing but opportunities and facilities for doing things for yourselves. Whether you benefit from what the college offers you depends upon your own actions. If you accept with sustained enthusiasm what the college offers you of opportunities and facilities for self-improvement through both work and play, the time you spend at K. S. C. will be among the most enjoyable and most profitable periods of your lives.

Sincerely yours,
F. D. Farrell,
President.

ASSISTANTSHIP TO GLADING

Ben Glading, Manhattan, upon whom was conferred a master of science degree in zoology at the commencement in June, has a graduate assistantship in zoology at the University of California in Berkeley.

"Schoolboy" Rowe, sensational Tiger rookie hurler, developed a sore arm, which put him out of the lineup and made a place for the untried Auker, whom Bucky Harris immediately called from Beaumont.

Auker was not long in getting work with the Tigers. He made his major league debut as a relief hurler. Within a week he was given two starting assignments, but failed in both.

Then came the red letter day in Auker's baseball career. He was handed the starting berth in the second game of a double header against the Chicago White Sox on September 4. For five innings Auker pitched superb ball, holding the Chicks hitless. He was nicked for only one bingle in the sixth, but was shelled with four hits in the seventh. After the first two men to face him in the eighth had singled, he was relieved by Fred Marberry.
But his fine work in the early innings earned for him his spurs and gave him his first major league baseball victory.

With more work and more experience in big-time baseball, Elden Auker should become a dependable hurler. He has the physique and ability to stand the long grind. And when he is right, he is a mighty hard man to beat.

ALUMNI OFFICE CLEARING HOUSE FOR ALL LOANS

BOARD OF REGENTS APPROVES
NEW PLAN FOR COL-LEGE STUDENTS

MORE THAN $50,000 FUNDS

Student Will Be Directed to One of Various Funds Best Able to Fill Needs

Establishment of the alumni office as a "clearing house" through which all applicants for help from the more than $50,000 contained in various student loan funds at Kansas State college has been announced by President F. D. Farrell as a result of recent action of the board of regents, which adopted a new set of rules to cover the K. S. C. situation.

Among one of the specifications adopted was that such loans must aid "in the development of sound character" as well as to furnish financial assistance. Toward this end it is specified that "prompt payment of interest and principal and the other essential features of good business practice" must be required of those who obtain loans.

A 10 Per Cent Reserve
In the future 10 per cent of the income from any specific student loan fund must be applied to a reserve fund set up to take care of losses in principal, until the reserve fund shall be equal to 10 per cent of the principal. President Farrell explained that losses in principal because of non-payment of loans had been very small in the past, but that the new regulation was adopted as being sound practice.

Of the more than $50,000 in K. S.
C. loan funds, about $46,000 already is administered directly by the alumni association loan set-up, of which Dr. W. E. Grimes is treasurer.
Most of this has been raised by payments of life memberships in the alumni association, though other sources, including individuals, student organizations, etc., have contributed to various units.

New Loan Procedure
To apply for a loan from any of the funds, a student must present his request to the alumni office.
The alumni office will give each student a card designating the loan fund committee to which he should apply. The student must present the card from the alumni office to the chairman or other designated
The alumni office will keep a duplicate of each card.

representative of the committee.
The chairman of each loan fund committee is to supply the alumni office with a copy of the minutes of each meeting. Also, the alumni office is to be supplied, on request, with information concerning the status of loans or applications. The alumni office will make all of this information available, on request, to the chairman of any loan fund committee.

The maximum total amount lent from all funds to one individual, under usual circumstances, shall not exceed $400.

Loans from funds under college supervision are made only to juniors, seniors, and graduate students with a "C" grade average or better, who have attended K. S. C. at least one semester. Loans are not being granted students at present, however, because of the limited amount of money available.

More than $800 will be available to lend to men students at Kansas State college this fall as the result of the Lockhart bequest, expected eventually to become one of the largest and most valuable loan funds the college has had. The $800 represents the income from the fund for 1932, the first year of its availability to the college.

The bequest was made by the late George N. Lockhart, who died in Tucson, Ariz., and left to the college a one-sixth interest in 9,000 acres of pasture land in Wabaunsee county, Kansas. He specified the income was to be made available for loans to worthy men students, at reasonable rates of interest. Income from the bequest will be placed in a permanent fund, administered through the Kansas State alumni office.

The committee to administer the Lockhart fund will consist of Dr. W.
E. Grimes, chairman; Miss Jessie McDowell Machir, registrar of the college; Dr. J. H. Burt, Prof. J. B.
Fitch, and Assistant Dean M. A.
Durland.

Chappell's Milk for drinking. 1-2

ROYAL PURPLE $4.00

Students of Kansas State college will save money this year during registration today and tomorrow by purchasing their 1934 Royal Purple at the doors of Nichols gymnasium.

The price, during registration
Monday and Tuesday will be $4.00. This is a reduction of $1.00 below the cost of year books in past years. The Royal Purple will be offered only during the two days of enrollment. After registration the price will be $4.50.

Members of the Royal Purple staff have also made arrangements for students who wish to obtain year books by making a down payment of $2.00. Ken Harter, El Dorado, will edit the Royal Purple this year. Other members of the staff are Clay Reppert, Harris, business manager, and R. L. Parker, secretary-treasurer.

ATTENDANCE PRIVILEGES TO 161 STUDENTS

VOLUNTARY CLASS ATTEN-DANCE TO JUNIORS AND SEN-IORS THIS FALL

A "B" AVERAGE NECESSARY

Other Students Must Attend Classes
As Usual While Privileged Members Go at Option

The privilege of voluntary class attendance at Kansas State college during the 1933-34 school year has been granted 161 students who will be juniors and seniors this fall, because of outstanding scholastic ability demonstrated last year, according to announcement from the office of President F. D. Farrell.

Students included in the privileged list must have made at least 32 grade points each semester of last year, and average at least two grade points for each hour of work carried. Three grade points are given for each hour of "A" work, two for "B" work, and one for "C"
and none for "D."

Those on the list will not be held accountable by their deans for absence from class. For students not on the list the regular college rule applies. This requires written explanation of each absence, with penalties for absences for which no explanations or unsatisfactory explanations are furnished.

The privileged list was instituted experimentally for second semester seniors in the spring of 1927, and results were so satisfactory that it was extended to both upper classes.
Neither the attendance nor grades of the privileged students suffered, the tests showed, because of elimination of the requirement.

Those on the list for 1933-34 are:

THE COLLEGIAN GREET YOU

The first day of activity for hundreds of students begins today with enrollment and another school year will open soon for Kansas State college. To the new students and those students who are returning to the campus, The Kansas State Collegian extends a hearty and sincere welcome.

Old students have learned from experience that the sooner a person begins digging into class assignments, the better chance he'll have in passing the semester's courses. A good start is probably the biggest feature of a successful college year.

Students who come to Kansas State this year from the 1933 high school classes should be assisted and welcomed by upperclassmen. Freshmen students will find college life much different than the routine of work and play which they experienced in high school, and old students could make Kansas State more progressive by helping future upperclassmen get started right.

For nearly two decades The Kansas State Collegian has been the publication of the student body. Its aim has been in past years to present a unified and composite view of the activities and ideas of Kansas State students and to keep them informed as to the happenings on the hill. The Collegian will endeavor to carry out this purpose again this year.

A GREAT DAY FOR COLLEGES

With the adoption of the NRA by business firms and consumers alike over the country, it is now probable that students will also fall in line and keep pace with others who are co-operating. On this campus, Dynamis, general honorary society, is conducting a campaign to enlist all students in the NRA. Never before have economic problems been so important for students as at the present. The National Recovery program will be the highlight of interest for people in college this year.

College professors now feel sure of an audience for their opinions and views on the problems of the nation. The present period of economic activity has been described as "the professor's hour", and "a great day for the college professors on public questions". The fact that they are not attached to the recovery administration does not hinder them from presenting plans.

Professor Walter Rauterstrach, Columbia university, for instance, says that the NRA will not work. He declares that while the objectives of the plan are excellent they do not strike at the root of the trouble. And the root of the trouble lies in the distribution of credit, he says. Leaders of the industrial program could not be harmed by considering the philosophy of college professors.

A general increase is expected this year in the number of students enrolled in economic courses. Their desire to learn something about commerce and industry is not because they see a chance later on to become financial authorities or members of a brain trust. Today's industrial happenings demand a better understanding of foreign exchange, the gold standard, stabilization of currencies, the commodity dollar, and other like subjects.

Colleges and universities will be able this year, as in past years, to give instruction on such matters to their students. Later the students will be able to tell the rest of the folks what these things are about.

The Snooper

With the lies of rush week fresh in our ears we sneak through the dark allies and prepare to start writing again.

Once again, The Snooper snoops and welcomes each and every one who finds himself in school. A few of the old fixtures have taken a bath and changed shirts for the opening of school. The New Deal, NRA, and a few other things that very few people understand are picking up, probably due to the surprising number of people in town.

The Pi Phi's scored again by getting Betty Jones of Wichita. She is built on the "Tie-Born-To-Europe" Lawrence style.

Most of the sororities have been having a very enjoyable rush week. A few girls were able to escape unscathed but most of them were taken in by various lodes.

To some of the new students it might be well to explain some of the antics of various members of the student body and otherwise. First comes Bobby Wallerstedt, commonly known as "Bouncing Bobby". His actions at Varsity are sure to please. Next comes the two popular shirt and underwear men, Bell and Lutz. They are liable to be "front and center" anywhere. In fact you should hear one of them give regulations. Next comes Dan Blaine—most people know him but if you don't you'll hear him tell ing about himself. There are many others but they are getting too numerous to mention.

The Betas with Neddy Kimball at the helm have been going wild. They claim more rushees, more good manners, and more other things than the Alpha Gamma Rho's, and these two fraternities have been battling royally together. The Phi Delt's have been traveling to and from Topeka with their rushees. The Sig Eps have been reasonably quiet. The Delt's have shown their rushees Mike Oberhelman, saying "choose for yourself".

A quick review of summer events—Eggs Sorrells' marriage to Helen Sloan, Duke Dumars broke over and finally took the fatal step to heaven. Al Wilson came out with a light coat and dark pants at the Pi Phi summer party. Everyone thought he had dressed in the dark.

CHALLENGE TO COLLEGE STUDENTS

The really basic cause for the present lamentable state of the world is nothing so tangible as machines or money-systems or over-produced commodities. Rather it is an intangible—a vague but nevertheless real abstraction which we call "Attitude". It is a platitude that for the last century we have measured an individual's success almost solely in terms of the quantity of goods which he has acquired. And it has been proclaimed verbally again and again that such a purely materialistic mode of evaluating life is stupid. It is highly regrettable that most of the world still obstinately clings to this particular stupidity.

Such stupidity is a phase of a disease. The cheap cynicism, the bitterness, the defeat which characterize our age are the symptoms of a deep cultural disease. One finds these symptoms again and again in contemporary art, philosophy, religion. Much of modern art is but a barren formalism; the most characteristic voices of contemporary thought proclaim a purely scientific philosophy—that is to say, a philosophy glorifying the intellectual and deprecating the emotional, employing a method more applicable to the dead than to the living; and the institutions of religion have gone the inevitable way of all institutions devoted to the spiritual in a materialistic age.

Looking at these symptoms, Spengler diagnoses our cultural disease as old age—and so incurable. He preaches the decline of the West. Our civilization lives more and more in the memory of things past and anticipates only death; in the West there can be no more creation—only extension. But there are others—not many—who see as clearly as does Spengler the sickness of our age and consider it not incurable.

Dr. Wilhelm Peuck of Chicago, speaking at our world forum meetings last spring, said that in his opinion we have reached, not the end of a culture, but the end of an era in that culture. And in the Kansas State commencement address last spring, Doctor Pauck said that we of today are called upon "to create within our hearts a new mood"—a mood of unselfishness and love in which are reestablished all those spiritualities at which the Menckenes and other materialists have been so industriously sneering for the last two decades. We need to learn hope again, to turn from death to life, to let ourselves feel things again. And looking again at contemporary art and philosophy and religion, one sees symptoms of new life among the symptoms of death. There are Thomas Wolf's "Look Homeward, Angel", Lewis Mumford's "The Golden Day", and the paintings of Diego Rivera—all manifestations of a new vitality.

Our generation is challenged as few generations have been. We are called upon to maintain the structure of our civilization while changing it at its foundations. If we fail, Spengler will be proven a true prophet.

The information that the Manhattan Theatre is to present only three plays this year and is not selling season tickets comes as something of a shock to those students who knew the theatre in its heyday. The present condition of one of Kansas State's few institutions devoted to art is a sad commentary on the nature of student's interests at this college.

Badluck, The Freshman

Badluck the Freshman is in school this year! The home folks decided that Badluck would be just as well off in college as on the farm. And Badluck has made up his mind to make a success in college, just like he did in high school last year. Here's his first letter to the home folks.

Dear ma and pa:

This is sure a great place. There is more college fellers here than I ever saw since I graduated from High-School last year. I have got my high school diploma hung up in my room and all the fellers thinks it is sure great to have a swell diploma like that and they told me that my relashun ought to be proud of it.

Now listen, ma, you and pa don't need to worry about me getting lonesome because my landlady is sure a swell woman. She treats me just like I was a member of her family and I told her this morning that everybody at home was wanting me to make a success of myself down here at college and I'm going to try to make good like grandpa did at the academy.

I have to wear my freshman cap every day. They call all the Seniors Big Shots here because they carry paddles with them to see that us freshmen wear our caps all the time. I am going to get a date with a coed as soon as I meet a lot of them. There are sure some pretty ones here.

There is sure some pretty buildings here on the campus too. The campus is the place where all the school buildings are built for the college students to go to school. Gee, pa, some of these buildings are bigger than our red barn, and I'll bet that place they call Anderson hall would sure hold a lot of hay.

Your son,

Badluck

CO-OP PLAN FOR VAN ZILE THIS SEMESTER

Changes in List of Housemothers For Greeks Also Announced; Pops Move

New plans for the boarding and rooming of students and changes in the list of greek-letter housemothers have been announced for this fall.

A new plan for maintenance of Van Zile hall, whereby girls residing there can reduce living expenses by sharing in the work of the hall, will be tested this semester. The plan was formulated by Mrs. Mary P. Van Zile, dean of women, and Pres. F. D. Farrell of the college in response to many requests by girls for jobs this winter and was accepted by the board of regents.

Following is the cooperative plan as outlined by Dean Van Zile:

"If the total number of residents is as many as 75 but fewer than 100, each resident is to pay cash monthly in advance at the rate of $5 a week and to contribute not to exceed 11 hours of labor a week to aid in the operation of the hall."

"If the total number of residents is as many as 100, each resident is to pay cash monthly in advance, at the rate of $4.25 a week and to contribute not to exceed seven hours of labor a week."

Regardless of the number taking advantage of the cooperative plan, Miss LeVelle Woods, dining room director, and Mrs. Nina M. Rhoades, social director, will be retained.

"Nearly 100 girls have registered for rooms in the hall," Dean Van Zile said. "Most of them have expressed a desire to reduce living expenses by sharing in the work of the hall."

Women wishing to live in the dormitory are not obliged to take advantage of the cooperative plan. They may live there without working for $6.50 a week.

Returning students will find few changes in either the location or chaperonage of greek-letter houses this fall. Only one change in location is announced. The Phi Omega Pi sorority, formerly at 1408 Lamar, has moved to 830 Blumont.

The following changes in the list of sorority housemothers are announced: Alpha Xi Delta—Mrs. Chambers, housemother last year, has resigned to go to her home in San Antonio, Texas. Her place is filled by Mrs. E. H. Griffen, Kincaid, Kansas.

Chi Omega—Last year's housemother, Mrs. Berry, has resigned. Her place is filled by Mrs. Myra Lyons, St. Joseph, Mo.

Clover—Mrs. West, housemother last year has resigned. The new housemother is Mrs. Hulda Taylor, Arlington, Kansas.

The following fraternities announce changes in chaperonage: Phi Lambda Theta—Mrs. Heer, housemother last year, has resigned and is replaced by Mrs. E. A. Kincaid, Wichita.

Lambda Chi Alpha—Mrs. Hawthorn has resigned as housemother and is replaced by Mrs. Gladys Sibley, Edwardsville, Kansas.

Beta Theta Pi—Mrs. Elizabeth Sheets has resigned to become housemother of the Sigma Nu fraternity. The new housemother is Mrs. Jessie T. Cochrane, Topeka.

The Manhattan Boarding and Rooming house association, purposing to establish more uniform rates for the boarding and rooming of students, was organized at a meeting last month. Approximately 80 women are members of the association.

Mrs. Faathoff was elected president of the association; Mrs. B. E. Hill, vice-president; Mrs. Carrie Mastin, secretary; and Mrs. Hazel Astle, treasurer.

SOPHOMORE HONORS AT COMMENCEMENT

Upper Five Per Cent of Last Year's Class Is Recognized

Thirty Kansas State college sophomores were cited at the college commencement exercises June 1 for their scholarship achievements of the past year. The honor goes each year to not more than five per cent of the class.

Engineering—Junior Howard; Oberlin; Wilbur Coombs, Bartlesville, Okla.; Fred Benson, Grainfield; Howard Hartman, Herington; John Baptist, Uniontown; Alan Schauble, Fairview; Robert Adams, Wellington; Leslie King, Wichita.

General Science—Roberta Shannon, Geneseo; B. W. Beadle, St. Marys; Lloyd McDaniel, Michigan Valley; Paul Blackwood, Talm; Donald Miller, Hanover; Alice Barrie, Topeka; Wilma Brewer, Riley; Bernice Covey and James Coate, Miltonvale; William Fitch, Manhattan; Winifred Wolf, Ottawa.

Home Economics—Althea Keler, Enterprise; Elizabeth Walbert, Columbus; Jean Dexter, Columbus, Ga.; Arlene Marshall, Herington; Ruth Jorgenson, Manhattan. Veterinary Medicine—Edgar Milenbruch, Herkimer; Oscar Fischer, Junction City; Joseph Knappenberger, Penasola.

Mrs. Herbert Hempker of Kansas City, Mo., was a guest at the Zeta Tau Alpha house during rush week.

SIX NEW TRUSTEES FOR BIBLE SCHOOL

Two Vacancies Also Filled and Other Officers Are Re-elected At Board Meeting

Six new trustees of the Manhattan Bible college were elected at the board meeting Wednesday night. They are Lawrence Pfeiffer, Barnes; C. L. Potter, Clyde; Vern Linsley, Morrowville; Fred Janira, Havensville; C. C. Wilson, Turner; Mrs. O. M. Ownsby, Rosalia.

That gives the board 18 members whereas heretofore it has consisted of only 12. The increase was provided by a new charter arrangement. Six are to be elected each year.

To fill the vacancy caused by the recent death of Reuben Olson of Marysville, George Fenwick of Marysville was elected to the board. Mrs. C. C. Walton of Junction City was elected to the place left vacant by the resignation of Fenton Lindley of Junction City.

These officers were re-elected: Dr. C. O. La Shelle, chairman; W. P. Blain, vice-chairman; Paul Dooley, secretary; George Hacker, treasurer. All are Manhattan residents.

SUMMER WORK ON CAMPUS

College Halls Dressed Up With Paint, Repairs, and Other Improvements

Extensive work in painting and repairing on the campus of Kansas State college kept the building and repair department busy during the summer. Construction of new rooms for the music department to be used as studios were recently finished on the third floor of the northeast corner of Nichols gymnasium and a new class room was built in the auditorium.

At the present time grading is being done where the old dairy barns were formerly located. A storm sewer connection has been installed at the southwest corner of the engineering building. A two-story vault consisting of three separate compartments has been built in Anderson hall which has received a majority of redecorations of walls and ceilings. The vault will be used by the extension division and for fire-proof storage for all executive offices of the college.

The porch on the east side of Anderson hall has also been repaired and the exterior wood trim has been painted. Replastering of the executive offices in the extension division was finished recently. Floors of the auditorium have been covered with new linoleum and the floodlights on the stage have been rewired. A new slide projector and screen have also been installed in the auditorium. In Dickens hall, new light fixtures were installed and decorated, and slate blackboards were built. New floors were built in the engineering laboratory, Anderson hall, Fairchild hall, and Kedzie hall. Three sections of the old green-house were reset with new glass and the woodwork was painted during the summer.

A C supply cables have replaced the D C service in the shop practice rooms, foundry, woodworking shops, and the student hospital.

OPEN DURING SUMMER

Nine fraternity houses were open during the summer while members attended summer school. There were no sorority houses open during the summer session this year.

The following houses were open this summer: Alpha Gamma Rho, Alpha Kappa Lambda, Sigma Nu, Alpha Rho Chi, Delta Sigma Phi, Kappa Sigma, Phi Kappa Tau, Phi Lambda Theta, and Tau Kappa Epsilon.

HOLTZ NEW LEGION CHAPLAIN

Dr. A. A. Holtz, dean of men at Kansas State college and professor of economics, is the new state chaplain of the American Legion. He was elected to this office at the state legion convention in Salina last week. Doctor Holtz is also executive secretary of the Y. M. C. A., Baptist student pastor, and assistant freshman football coach.

Food From Homes Helps Students Cut Living Costs

With the beginning of registration this morning, Kansas State students were on deck, and ready to begin the school year. Nearly a week prior to the enrollment date today, hundreds of students were in Manhattan looking for jobs as soda squirts, dish washers, mowing lawns, caring for babies, or what have you; dusting out the old fraternity house for rush week; or perhaps calling on the dean for permission to carry extra hours.

Following a custom which proved successful last year, many groups of students are making much of the cooperative idea of living. Farm boys and girls, especially, who can bring a supply of food from home, have pooled their resources and lived economically. A group of boys lived in a private home last year for $12 each, monthly cash outlay for board and room. Girls usually cannot get along on so little because they require better furnished living quarters.

Two groups, nevertheless—Clovia and Lora Lodge—operated successfully last year and will continue their group living this year. Van Zile hall, the women's dormitory, has been put on an optional voluntary basis whereby residents may expend a maximum of $5 weekly for board and room by working less than two hours daily at the dormitory.

Shortage of cash has turned many upper class students to the alumni loan committee for funds to complete their education. Usually at this season of the year the fund has some $5,000 in it but at the present the resources are at low ebb, only $2,000 being available. The sum is far from sufficient to meet the needs of worthy students, Kenny Ford, alumni secretary, reports. It got a big boost recently, however, when the George Lockhart bequest from Waubesaunsee county yielded $800 rental.

Deda Louise Drake left yesterday for Lindsborg, where she will study music at Bethany college again this year.

Six members of the senior class were awarded senior honors, and three won high honors, it was announced by President F. D. Farrell.

Y.M.C.A. STARTS YEAR'S PROGRAM WITH KICK-OFF

Annual Watermelon Feed to Be Held Thursday Evening in the College Auditorium

The opening of another school year finds the college Y. M. C. A. active and making plans for both new and old students. The organization has stationed "Ask Me" men on the floor of Nichols gymnasium for today and tomorrow to answer the questions of enrolling students who find themselves lost in the apparent chaos of registration.

The opening event of this year's Y program will be the annual "Kick-Off" and watermelon feed, to be held on the college stadium field Thursday evening, September 14. This feed is free for all who are interested in athletics at Kansas State college and is an opportunity for new students to get acquainted with the big guns of the school's sports staff.

Included on the list of speakers are Dr. Howard T. Hill of the department of public speaking; A. N. "Bo" McMillin, head football coach; Frank Root, basketball coach; Ward Haylett, track coach; and other members of the coaching staff. Tom Groody, president of the Y. M. C. A., will welcome new and returning students on behalf of his organization. A representative of the Manhattan chamber of commerce will also speak. Dr. H. H. King, head of the department of chemistry and chairman of the athletic board, will preside at the speaking program.

This year's K book, published by the Y. M. C. A. in conjunction with the Y. W. C. A. and the S. G. A., is larger and more complete than those of former years. It contains a map of the city and college, letters of welcome from President F. D. Farrell of the college and from the chamber of commerce, and much information concerning the college and its traditions. Clay Reppert, president of the student council, edited the book. Enough copies have been printed to supply all students and faculty members. They may be obtained at the Y office in recreation center.

As in former years, Dr. A. A. Holtz, executive secretary of the Y, is maintaining an employment bureau for students. He reports that there seems to be as much work as usual for students this year but the number of applicants for jobs is much larger than usual, totalling between five and six hundred.

It is planned to hold the first student forum on Friday, September 29, with Dr. Arthur E. Holt of Chicago as speaker. The first cabinet meeting of the semester will be held Wednesday of this week.

Foreign Students Come Long Distance For College Study

The foreign correspondence received at the registrar's and vice-president's offices does not always indicate whether students from other countries will enter Kansas State college. Myrtle E. Zener, vice-president's secretary, cited several cases about students of foreign countries who wrote in for information and were either stranded while getting to the United States or did not appear at the time they had written they would enter here. Kansas State college, however, will welcome S. M. Ahi of Persia, a new foreign student who arrived here to take graduate work in the department of soils. Mitsuru Nakano of Los Angeles, Calif., who graduated from high school in Fukuoka, Japan, also plans to enroll in mechanical engineering tomorrow.

Other foreign students who will return this year are E. A. Perez, Panama City, Panama, who is studying for his degree in the veterinary division; Paul Nomura, Honolulu, Hawaii, also in the veterinary division; Miss Inge Kjar, Bahhagaard, Denmark, enrolled in graduate work of the genetics department; Y. S. Kim, Shanghai, China, studying for his master's degree in the horticulture department; Cirillo L. Adam, Pangasinan, Philippine Islands, enrolled in the veterinary division; S. P. Das, Bangalore, India, studying for his degree in agriculture; and F. R. Taberner, San Juan, Philippine Islands, graduate student in the division of veterinary medicine.

Perez and Das worked on a farm during two weeks of the summer vacation and spent the remainder of the time in Manhattan. They also assisted Irmie Maicu, Bucharest, Roumania, with his soils problems. Kim and Taberner visited the World's Fair in Chicago after the summer school session. Miss Kjar taught in the genetics department during summer school. Several of the foreign students attended summer school and remained in Manhattan for the opening of the fall session.

TO AID STATE BOARD

K. S. C. and K. U. Engineers to Help Corporation Commission Engineering departments of Kansas university and Kansas State college will co-operate with the Kansas corporation commission in making engineering surveys to help determine fair rates for utilities.

This announcement was made through the Kansas corporation commission after several long conferences. It is expected that the university and college engineers will be used particularly in the summer months, and that such assistance will enable the state to save considerable expense in making costly surveys.

MUSICIANS TO MEET IN K. S. C. GYMNASIUM

Annex on Anderson Avenue Will Not Be Used Next Year—Other Work at College

The music annex, a building across the street from the entrance to the drive between tennis courts and gymnasium at the Kansas State college, will not be used next year, G. R. Pauling, building and repair department head, said today.

The lease on the building, which will expire before next term, will not be renewed. Instead, five studios and a waiting room are being formed in room 76 of Nichols gymnasium, where the Franklin and Alpha Beta literary societies have met.

A new fire-proof two-story vault in Anderson hall also was constructed this summer. It will be used to protect records of the extension division, of the registrar's office and the business office.

Other work at the college includes construction of a walk connecting the entrance to the women's section of the gymnasium with the main walk at two points, construction of concrete driveways to parking spaces behind Education hall, the painting of fire escapes at the auditorium, the painting of several roofs and other exterior woodwork, and the re-setting, painting, and re-cutting of glass in three sections of the greenhouse.

PAINTING OFFERED K. S. BY ART ORGANIZATIONS

Acceptance of "The Vase" Up to Regents—Art Purchased by Ranger Fund

A painting purchased from the famous Ranger fund has been offered the Kansas State college by the council of the National Academy of Design. The matter of acceptance is in the hands of the state board of regents.

The painting is "The Vase" by the late Francis C. Jones, who died in 1932. The Ranger fund of about $400,000 owes its origin to Henry A. Ranger, artist, who stipulates that pictures bought are to be hung in galleries open to the public, that they must be the work of American artists, and that at least two-thirds of the income must be used in purchasing the work of artists at least 45 years of age.

WIN HONORS AT CAMP

Three Kansas State Students Get Recognition

Three Kansas State students won honors of various kinds at the R. O. T. C. camp at Fort Leavenworth this summer.

Bill C. Scales of Kansas City received a certificate of appointment entitling him to a commission as second lieutenant in the officers' reserve corps when he becomes of age.

Don Landon, Topeka, was runner-up in the golf tournament, and Dale Dixon, Manhattan, was second in breast stroke competition in the swimming races.

ONLY THREE PLAYS FOR MANHATTAN THEATRE

Season Tickets Not to Be Sold This Year to Theatre Goers

Because of the curtailment in campus activities, the Manhattan theatre will present only three plays this season instead of the regular five, according to Prof. H. Miles Heber of the public speaking department.

No season tickets will be sold to patrons of the Manhattan theatre this year, Professor Heber announced. Other definite plans have not been formulated. Tryouts for the first play, which will be presented November 3, are to be held the first week of October.

The idea of using more students in various plays will be given a trial this year although faculty members may be used in emergencies. Plays to be presented this year have not been announced.

KANSAS STATE STUDENTS TO HAVE NRA CAMPAIGN

Dynamis, General Honorary Society, to Sponsor Enlisting Movement Among Undergraduates

Kansas State college is to have an NRA campaign of its own, according to a plan devised by Dynamis, general honorary society, and approved by the president of the college.

The plan was devised through the agency of Harold Heckendorn, Cedar Point, president of Dynamis; Paul Blackwood, Talmo, chairman of the student-faculty forum committee; and Prof. E. R. Lyon of the department of physics, faculty adviser. The campaign is intended to educate students in both the principles and practices of the NRA and provide a means by which students may join the NRA consumer's league.

A student-faculty forum will be held Thursday evening, September 21, in recreation center with Clay Reppert, Harris, president of the student council, and H. W. Bouck, secretary of the Manhattan chamber of commerce and official representative of the NRA, as speakers. At this meeting the principles and workings of the NRA will be explained. Following the talks, open discussion will be held in which all those attending are invited to take part. The meeting is open to all students and faculty members.

Student organizations—social, literary, honorary, professional, and church—are invited to send representatives to this meeting.

September 26, a student assembly in the auditorium will be devoted to the NRA. Arthur F. Peine, president of the chamber of commerce and head of the local NRA organization, will speak on "Peace Time Patriotism."

Early in the semester, a place will be provided on the campus where students may obtain and sign consumer's cards, pledging co-operation in the NRA campaign.

GRADUATES WRITE ARTICLES

Three Former K. S. C. Students in June Issue of Matrix

Articles by three Kansas State graduates, one of them a former Manhattan girl, appear in the June issue of the Matrix, publication of Theta Sigma Phi, national honorary and professional organization for women in journalism.

The articles were written by Clementine Paddelford, director of the church housekeeping bureau and service editor for six departments of the Christian Herald, New York City; Miss Josephine Hemphill, who writes daily food news for a larger commercial organization in New York and broadcasts daily over a national hook-up; and Velma Carson, copy writer for the American Wallpaper association in New York City.

R. E. Hamler, former Kansas State football player, has become assistant football coach at Lawrence high school.

Colorful Sorority Rush Week is Held This Year

You think school opens today? Well, you're wrong. On the floor of Nichols gymnasium today are a number of coeds who are inclined to view the first few weeks of school work as but a pale aftermath to the girls' announcement it wearily, rush week. And sorority rush week—happily, or despondently, but always emphatically—is over.

Of course it is over only officially. Rushes will be entertained at the various houses all through the school year. But the occasional strain of being, oh, so very nice to complete strangers is as nothing compared to the steady strain placed on the greek-letter girls during rush week.

They went in for color this year—lots of color. The girls didn't attend mere luncheons or teas or dinners—oh, no. They attended "French" luncheons, "Black and White" teas, and "Rainbow" dinners. There were also "Dutch" dinners and "Gypsy" dinners and "Sailor" luncheons. (Presumably the girls ate at these affairs.)

Rush week opened officially Wednesday afternoon with the Pan-Hellenic tea. That evening, all the sororities had rush dinners and the big drive for new members was on. This year sororities were permitted to "date-up" prospects in advance for only two functions in addition to the Pan-Hellenic tea. No dates were made for the Friday night formal dinner, given by all houses, until Thursday morning. That morning, the sororities called the rushes whom they desired to pledge, and the rushes were expected to give the Friday night date to the house of their preference. The Friday night dinner date did not constitute a binding pledge, however, as a number of sisterhoods doubtless observed.

Saturday morning, the houses sent lists of the girls they wished to pledge to a neutral party who matched the sorority lists with the preference lists of the rushes. That afternoon, each sorority received a list of the girls it had pledged. The rushes were the guests of the sororities they had pledged that evening and were ribbon pledged.

And now it's over. Papa's car has gone home, the girls sigh with relief, and prepare to engage in the comparatively unimportant business of attending classes and studying—occasionally.

GRID WORKOUTS BEGIN TODAY FOR WILDCAT SQUAD

DIFFICULT SCHEDULE OF NINE GAMES FACES KANSAS STATE TEAM

GRAHAM FOOTBALL CAPTAIN

Aggie Backfield Looks Promising; Coach McMillin May Use
Two Shift System
This Year

With the first practice scheduled to be held this afternoon, Head Coach A. N. Bo McMillin and his assistants, Frank Root and Ward Haylett, are hard at work turning out another Kansas State grid team.

Working under pressure of a nine-game schedule, one of the stiffest in years, with a maximum of 10 returning lettermen and only a small crop of sophomore reinforcements, Coach McMillin will be facing a difficult task. Of the seven lettermen lost from the 1932 team, most of them dropped out of the line, and will be hard to replace. On the other hand, the Wildcat backfield should turn out to be one of the best in several years.

Three-year veterans lost by graduation last spring include Harry Hasler, El Dorado, and Shelby Neely, Hopewell, ends; Lloyd Dalton, Ottawa, and Neil Weybrew, tackles; Walter Zeckser, Alma, guard; Lloyd Michael, Lawrence, center; and Emmett Breen, El Dorado, halfbacks. Six of these seven are linemen. B. J. Deters, halfback; Jack Going, halfback; John Meyers, center; Earl Morrison, center; and L. B. Pilcher, guard, were also lost by completion of competition.

Headed by Captain Ralph Graham, the list of returning backs includes Tom Bushby, Dougal Russell, and Lee Morgan, all regulars last season. Oren Stoner, a sophomore who was kept out last season because of a broken ankle, is ready to go, along with Henry Kirk, Ralph Armstrong, possibly Ralph McAtee, and others who were sophomores last year. Another good backfield prospect is H. R. Weller, Olathe, who has been out of school several seasons, and who had previously earned two letters under Coach McMillin.

Promising backs of the 1932 freshman squad include R. D. Churchill, J. B. Edwards, E. F. Keas, Robert Kirk, Don McNeal, and D. E. Plenthorpe.

Among the returning line veterans are Ken Harter, Homer Hanson, George Maddox, Melvon Wertzberger, and Dan Blaine. The veterans who didn't earn letters last year will be depended upon pretty heavily to fill the gaps left in the line. Outstanding among these are E. S. Wiseman, center; Lloyd Sconce, tackle; Eugene Sundgren, guard; and Blair Forbes, guard. Other veteran linemen are L. W. Hibbs, E. C. Brookover, Ben Kohrs, and W. S. Coblenz.

Freshmen linemen who looked fairly good in spring practice were D. H. Martine, Claude Denchfield, M. C. Kohrs, W. C. Fuller, H. D. Munal, Royce Murphy, Dan Partner, Art Teall, C. D. Griffing, D. A. Watson, Joe Zitznik, and R. E. Sandels.

Coach Bo McMillin is planning to use a split shift practice system this fall, which was given a trial last spring. Under this plan the afternoon will be divided into two shifts, one group practicing from 3:30 to 5:00, and the other from 4:30 to 6:00.

Uniforms were issued last Saturday.

TICKET PRICE CUT FOR ALL HOME GRID GAMES

Season Fees for Kansas State Contests Will Sell for $3; High School Students 25 Cents

In keeping with the times, Athletic Director M. P. ("Mike") Ahearn has announced a cut in ticket prices for Kansas State football games at Manhattan.

Season tickets for the three Kansas State games at home will sell for $3, the lowest price for season tickets in many years. An examination of the conference rules governing the reduction of admissions disclosed that a special price for school children was permitted, so Director Ahearn has announced a 25 cent admission fee for high school children. As usual the knot hole gang will be admitted to all games for 10 cents.

The home schedule includes three games. Emporia Teachers meet the Wildcats September 30. On October 21, Kansas State and Nebraska will celebrate the Wildcat Homecoming with a contest. The Parent's day game will be between Oklahoma and Kansas State on November 18.

FOOTBALL INTO LIMELIGHT

Thirty-Nine Games for Big Six Schools Now Center of Attraction

(By Mildred Peters)
With the coming of fall and the opening of school, the athletic spotlights of the nation will be focused on football. And in the Missouri Valley, particularly, all eyes will be glued to the Big Six loop, now entering into its sixth year of activities.

A total of 39 games have been booked by Big Six schools for the 1933 season. Fifteen of these will figure in the championship race. The remaining 24 contests are early season breathers or intersectional tilts.

Kansas State already has nine games scheduled and may add a tenth. The champion Nebraska Cornhuskers may add a ninth game to their schedule. The Kansas Jayhawkers have a 10-game season to battle through, and Iowa State, Missouri, and Oklahoma each have nine.

The first teams in the conference to swing into action are Kansas and Iowa State, on September 23. Kansas State and Oklahoma open their season September 30, and Missouri follows on October 6.

Eight Big Six contests will be flavored with intersectional rivalry, seven of them outside the Missouri Valley territory. The drawing power of intersectional games outside the Big Six is probably the reason for booking so many games away from home. The dismal failure of the Kansas-Notre Dame game at Lawrence last year as a drawing card is enough proof of that. When the Jayhawk stadium should have been filled to overflowing, it was only a little more than half full.

This year Kansas meets Notre Dame at South Bend, Kansas State and Michigan State clash at East Lansing, and Nebraska engages Pitt at Pittsburgh.

Stars in two fields of endeavor are what Head Coach Frank Carideo of Missouri wants on his football team: Brains and Brawn. And he'll need them to overcome last year's stinging defeats.

Here's what Mr. Carideo has to say:

"Brains will be the basis of this year's team. It takes brains to make a winner. If a football player can't or won't make his grades in the classroom, it's a safe bet that he won't be alert on the gridiron. 'No man can be a brilliant star on the athletic field and then forget he has brains when he studies or steps into the classroom.'"

ASSISTANT COACH ILL

Frank Root Suffering With Infection—May Practice Today

Frank Root, assistant football coach and head basketball coach, became suddenly ill last Friday with a streptococcus infection. He has been confined to the Charlotte Swift hospital. He ran a high fever Friday but was reported as much improved Saturday night, and may be able to report for football practice Monday.

SCALE DOWN GRID PRICES

Athletic Directors Make a $2 Top On Important Big Six Games—
2-Mile Discounted

Athletic directors of the Big Six met at Kansas City last week and discussed some of the current problems facing the conference this fall.

Among the more important problems was that of cutting the price for football games. The top price will be $2 plus tax, and this only for the more important conference games. The prices for early games will scale down to as low as 85 cents. Each school is to decide for itself just how to handle the situation, but all have agreed to a $2 top.

Since the position of field judge has been eliminated in football, electric timing clocks will be installed at most stadiums to take the burden of timing off one of the officials.

The two-mile run, held during intermission period at football games, has been abandoned in the interests of economy.

The naming of basketball officials was deferred until the regular December meeting of the directors at Kansas City. Coaches, athletic directors, and faculty representatives will attend that meeting.

Margaret Lynch of Hutchinson spent rush week in Manhattan.

Each Week Activities

Official rush week at Kansas State college opened with pan helms teas at the various sorority houses Wednesday afternoon. A series of delightful luncheons, teas and dinners were held by the different sororities for new girls entering college this fall. In addition to the regular pan helms teas Wednesday, each sorority entertained with a dinner that evening. Alpha Delta Pi rushers were guests at a cabaret festival. Following a "cotton club" tea at the Alpha Xi Delta house Wednesday afternoon, there was a "world's fair" dinner for Alpha Xi Delta members and guests. World's fair buildings in miniature, arranged according to the Century of Progress plan decorated the table. The sky ride, Graf Zeppelin and other world's fair attractions were represented on the plan. The fleur de lis motif was emphasized at the Kappa Kappa Gamma tea Wednesday afternoon. At dinner the "wise owl" theme was used in the decorations, favors and toasts. The Phi Omega Pi sorority had no dinner Wednesday night. The "Ship Ahoy!" dinner was a Pi Beta Phi attraction. A "once in a blue moon" tea was the opening event at the Kappa Delta house. The dinner there featured a "Cabin in the Cotton" idea. The Delta Delta Delta dinner was carried out in rainbow colors and design. Zeta Tau Alpha sorority gave a "Marigold" tea and entertained with an "Oob La" dinner. The "Lime House" dinner attracted Chi Omega prospective pledges.

Sororities Honor Rushes

The second of four days of entertainments given by the active and alumnae members of the social sororities of Kansas State college in honor of the new girls entering school ended Thursday night with nine interesting and beautifully planned dinners. The Kappa Kappa Gamma sorority entertained with an oriental dinner, in the afternoon received guests at a Kappa Loma tea and at noon held a "Mother Goose luncheon". The Alpha Delta Pi sorority entertained its rushers Thursday night with a dinner conforming to an "ice palace" theme in its decorations. A Greenwich Village tea was given in the afternoon and a "Davy Jones Locker" luncheon at noon. The guests at the Zeta Tau Alpha house in the evening were given a dinner with the dining room decorated to resemble a Black Cat tavern. In the afternoon they attended a tea in imitation of a Farmer Jones picnic and at noon a French De Jeuner luncheon. At the Delta Delta Delta house was held a Poseidon dinner, a "cabaret party" tea and a "pantry" luncheon. Those who accepted engagements at the Kappa Delta house Wednesday enjoyed a "Diamond" dinner last night, a southern garden party tea in the afternoon and a world's fair luncheon at noon. Attractions provided by the Alpha Xi Delta sorority included a beautifully arranged shadow dinner, an Egyptian tea at which fortunes were told and a "Bon Voyage" luncheon for which the dining room was arranged and decorated to resemble an ocean liner. For the pleasure of the Phi Omega Pi guests there was offered a "Black and White Clown" dinner, an oriental tea dance and a "Gal Paris" luncheon. The Pi Beta Phi sorority entertained in the evening with an "all fraternity" dinner, in the afternoon with a Sweetheart shop tea, and at noon with a Ring Ching Ching club luncheon.

Lankford-Breen

Announcement of the marriage on Sunday, August 13, of Miss Kathryn Lankford, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Will H. Lankford, El Dorado, to Mr. Emmett Breen, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. E. N. Breen, of Tucumcari, N. Mex., is greeted with great interest by their host of friends in El Dorado and Manhattan where both attended Kansas State college. The wedding ceremony was performed at 10:30 o'clock Sunday morning at St. John's Catholic church by the Rev. Father John F. Kramer. For the ceremony the bride chose a dress of beige triple-sheer crepe, especially becoming to her brunette beauty. Immediately following their marriage Mr. and Mrs. Breen went to Wichita, where they remained until Monday evening. The romance of Mr. and Mrs. Breen began in their school days. Both were graduated from El Dorado high school, and were popular in many activities. Mrs. Breen took part in dramatics and debate. Mr. Breen was versatile in athletics, winning honors in football, basketball and track. He took his first year college work at Bethany college, Lindsborg, and there won letters for successful competition in the three major sports. The following year he transferred to Kansas State college at Manhattan, and there became one of the first-ranking athletes in the Big Six conference, of which the Manhattan college is a member. During his two years of conference competition, Mr. Breen won letters in football, basketball and track each year. He was captain of the 1933 track team, which had a most successful season. Not alone for his ability as an athlete, but also for his unfailing good sportsmanship is Mr. Breen admired by his many friends. Following her graduation from El Dorado Junior college, Mrs. Breen attended Kansas State college for a year, studying the general science curriculum. She joined Alpha Delta Pi social sorority, and became widely acquainted among the college groups. Mr. Breen received the degree of bachelor of science in physical education at Kansas State at the close of the summer session. His social fraternity is Sigma Nu, and he also is a member of Pi Epsilon Kappa, honorary physical education fraternity, and the "K" fra-

They were attended by Mr. and Mrs. Lynn B. Hicks of El Dorado at whose marriage they were witnesses not long ago. Mrs. Hicks is a sister of the bride. After the wedding Mr. and Mrs. Ragland and Mr. and Mrs. Hicks had dinner together. Mrs. Ragland, formerly of Kensington, Kan., has been a resident of Manhattan for the past six years, during which time she graduated from the Manhattan high school. Mr. Ragland, a senior in industrial journalism at Kansas State college, plans to continue his work at that school this fall. He is a member of Kappa Sigma fraternity and plays in Paul Waller's orchestra. Mr. and Mrs. Ragland will be at home at the Pala Verde apartments, 1031 Fremont, after August 11.

NEW K.S.C. BUILDING MAY FULFILL AMBITION

Other State Colleges and Universities Also Included In Government's Public Works Program

Through the federal government's public works program the ambition to have one or more additional buildings at Kansas State college may be realized. In fact, a new building may be erected at each of the four state colleges and the state university under the federal works bill.

C. M. Harger, chairman of the state board of regents, announced in Topeka that "if and when it becomes feasible," the board would submit to Gov. Alf M. Landon's public works committee a list of proposed new buildings for the state educational institutions. The board, he said, would recommend one new building for each school.

Chairman Harger and other state officials understand that under the public works bill, now pending in congress, the federal government would donate 30 percent of the cost of public buildings, the remainder to be financed by the state.

The board of regents worked on the budgets for the educational institutions under its control last summer.

It is supposed here that in event it becomes possible to erect one or more buildings at Kansas State college, the recommendations for buildings as presented to the legislature in 1931 would be followed. President F. D. Farrell had prepared and submitted a ten-year building program. No request for building was made at the last session of the legislature, because of economic conditions.

Buildings which have been requested include an agricultural engineering hall, home economics practice houses, and a residence at the horticultural farm for the farm superintendent.

SWINE FEEDERS COMING

Annual Program Will Be Held at College Oct. 14

Swine feeders will visit Kansas State college Oct. 14 for the seventh year. The animal husbandry department is sponsoring a program which has attracted approximately 400 persons annually. The morning will be devoted to an inspection of the college breeding and experimental herds. In the afternoon prominent livestock men will speakers. Members of the animal husbandry department staff will give reports on experiments carried on by the department at the afternoon session.

June Layton's Musicians Reorganize
After Return From Colorado

Fee Wee Brewster, Salina, will direct the band this year formerly led by June Layton, who with his Varsity Club orchestra recently completed a season during the summer at Manitou, Colo., where they played at the Hiawatha Gardens.

Under the leadership of Brewster, the Varsity Club orchestra will continue playing for varsity dances and parties during the coming school year. Layton has announced no definite plans.

Two new members will play with the band this year. Adrian Sorrells and Edmond Burke, former saxophone players in the orchestra, will be replaced by Matthew Betton and Arthur Endicott.

Other members of the band are Leland Phelps and William Guernant, trumpets; Mark Kannel, guitarist; Roy Wilkerson, trombone; Mike Hunt, bass; Sidney Robinson, saxophone; Bill Kaesser, drums; and Dick Fox, piano. Brewster will also play the trumpet in the new band and do a big share of the singing.

STALCU TO NEBRASKA

Trime Stalcu, research student from Bucharest, Roumania, left yesterday for the University of Nebraska, Lincoln, where he will continue his study on soils. He will stay there for approximately a year before he returns to his country. Stalcu entered Kansas State college last fall under the auspices of his government for research work.

Podunk Lads Hear Of Old Gamma Chi During Rush Week

"Well, well, well, if it isn't Mr. Smith. How are you Smith? We certainly are glad to have you with us."

A Tarzan handshake (that always makes a good impression—on the hand) and a kind of a grunt from Smith (maybe Smith is part Indian) that means I-3's glad to be here.

Interval of slightly embarrassing silence followed by a snapping sound.

"Boy, those mosquitoes certainly are bad this year, aren't they? Oh uh, Smith, what course are you going to take here? Engineering? That's fine. A little stiff (he couldn't dare tell his 'ushee' just how stiff he found it) but I know you can make it okay. You couldn't find a better school in the country for that," blah, blah, blah.

Twenty minutes later:
"You say you're from Podunk. What a coincidence. Brother Jones is from Podunk too. You probably know him so I'll call him."

Whispers in Jones' ear:
"Be a pal, will yuh, kid, and take care of that sack of flour on the dayport for me. I've talked with him for the last five hours." (Time exactly 21 minutes).

So goes fraternity rush week through a myriad of handshakes, how-do-you-dos, smokers, songs, and whatnots—all to ensnare the green from the country (he's undeveloped yet but he'll make a plenty good boy) into dear old Gamma Chi.

Rush week for Kansas State's 22

fraternities officially opened yesterday noon and will continue (still officially) throughout today, Tuesday, and Wednesday, when it will close—officially. The houses were put into ship shape by a crew of upperclassmen as well as last year's freshmen.

Despite the continued depression, no particular gloom has settled over the men's Greek organizations. Many of the brothers who have been out of school working, now find themselves able to enroll once more—and to help pay the house bills. Prospects for freshmen have not been especially discouraging, fraternity men report.

But just wait for the list of fledglings (pardon us, we means pledges) that will appear in the next issue of The Collegian.

ROYAL PURPLE BARGAIN

Students who were unable to purchase individual copies of the 1934 Royal Purple during the three days of registration when the year book was offered at an exceptional bargain price of $4.00, will again be given an opportunity to accept the unusual low price. During the next few days the Royal Purple will be offered to students and faculty members for $4.00, according to Clay Reppert, business manager. The extension of time was provided because many students were not financially able to purchase year books during registration dates. Members of the staff have provided for a down payment of $2.50 on the books and the remaining $1.50 payment can be made when the book is obtained at the Royal Purple office next spring.

TO MAKE NRA PLANS AT MEETING MONDAY

Executive Committee of Dynamics to Arrange Details of the Kansas State Campaign

With the meeting Monday night of the executive council of the Dynamics, student's general honorary society, the NRA campaign planned to enlist every student at Kansas State in the consumers' league will get under way. The meeting will be held in L 88 and will be largely given over to arranging details of the NRA campaign.

The lead-off event of the intensive program for educating Kansas State students in both the principles and practices of the NRA will be the student-faculty forum, Thursday evening, September 24, in recreation center. Speakers will be Clay Reppert, Harris, president of the student council, and H. W. Bouck, secretary of the Manhattan chamber of commerce and official representative of the NRA. Following the talk, open discussion will be held in which all attending are urged to take part. The meeting is open to all students and faculty members of the college.

A student assembly will be devoted to the NRA September 26, with Arthur F. Peine, president of the chamber of commerce and head of the local NRA organization as the speaker. His subject will be "Peace Time Patriotism."

Officers of Dynamics, which is sponsoring the campaign, are Harold Heckendorn, Cedar Point, president; George Rogler, Matfield Green, vice-president; Paul Blackwood, Talmo, treasurer; Arlene Marshall, Herington, secretary; and Alice Barrier, Topeka, publicity director. The following committee heads are also members of the executive council: Wilma Cowdery, Lyons; Alice Bozarth, Lenora; and Kenneth Davis, Manhattan.

A NEW RADIO PROGRAM

Station KSAC Will Broadcast State Government Activities Once Weekly.

Officials of radio station KSAC have announced a new hour when will be presented to listeners every Saturday from 1:30 to 2:30 o'clock and will be known as the agricultural adjustment act hour. This program will be devoted to a summary of work in the state concerning wheat allotment, the emergency pig and sow purchasing plan, and emergency dairy relief information.

The hour will be headed by Director Harry Umberger, dean of the extension division, who is in charge of the educational programs for the A. A. A. in the state of Kansas. Beginning Monday, the broadcasting class in charge of Prof. H. B. Summers, public speaking department, will present five programs a week from 8:10 to 8:30 o'clock each morning during the first semester.

Eugene Warner, Ottawa, will be in charge of each Monday morning program period to be known as "What's New in the World." John Barhydt, Hutchinson, will conduct the Tuesday morning periods called "National Affairs," and Robert Grosbeck, Manhattan, will speak on "Current Opinion" on Wednesdays. Maurice Horrell, Baldwin, will conduct the Thursday "International Affairs" program, and Don Williams, Manhattan, will broadcast college news every Friday.

A series of debates will be broadcast beginning November 14, and will be presented once a week during the months of November, December, and January, according to Professor Summers.

"Students interested in participating in one of the class programs of the radio speech course are invited to make arrangements with the program directors," Professor Summers said.

NEW DEAL FOR FRESHMEN OF KANSAS STATE

COUNCIL OF DEANS CHANGES ORIENTATION PROGRAM FOR NEW STUDENTS

LIMIT MENTAL TEST TIME

Aptitude Quizzes to Occupy One Period of Three Hours—Formerly Occupied Two Periods.

While Roosevelt is presenting his "new deal" to the country, Kansas State is presenting a new deal to its freshmen, a report from the council of deans reveals.

The most radical change in the program for freshmen is that limiting freshman aptitude tests to one period of three hours. In former years the tests occupied two periods of three hours each. The change was proposed by the council of deans at a meeting held last January, at which time the council committee on freshman lectures and intelligence tests presented its report and recommendations.

This year's tests will be given the second, third, and fourth hours of Wednesday of next week.

Two periods will be devoted to freshman lectures this year. The first lecture will be given during the fourth hour today. Men will meet in the auditorium and freshman women will meet in recreation center in Anderson hall. All freshmen are required to attend these lectures and will be excused from classes during the time the meetings are held. Mrs. Mary P. Van Zile, dean of women, will be in charge of the women and Dr. A. Holtz, dean of men, will conduct the meeting of men students.

The second lecture period will be during the fourth hour, Tuesday of next week. All freshman students will meet in the auditorium. Three short lectures of fifteen minutes each will be given. President F. D. Farrell will speak on "Scholarship"; Dr. J. C. Peterson of the department of education will speak on "How to Study"; and Dr. Howard T. Hill of the department of public speaking or Prof. M. F. Ahearn of the department of athletics will speak on "College Loyalties and Traditions."

This year, four mimeographed letters were sent to each freshman. One letter on "Ideals of Scholarship" is by President Farrell; another on "Health" is by Dr. C. M. Siever of the college health department; a third is by Doctor Peterson on "How to Study"; and the fourth is by Dr. E. L. Holton, dean of summer school, entitled "Vocations and Educational Guidance."

METHODIST HIKE TUESDAY

The Methodist "get-acquainted" hike will be held Tuesday, according to an announcement by those in charge of the annual event. The hike will be informal and will begin at 5:30 o'clock in the afternoon. Those who plan to attend the hike should meet at the student parsonage.

N-I-B-B-L-I-N-G-S

A freshman, probably a wise guy in his home town, finished enrolling last Tuesday and approached the north door of the gymnasium with the remark: "I have everything here except pink pajamas. Do you want to see them?" "No, thanks," was the reply, "we're not checking out sissies." . . . A large canvas umbrella on a newly painted, all-weather Ford touring car shelter for the front seat passengers, attracted attention this week on the campus. . . . Old cars are scarce on the campus this year. . . . Ancient vehicles that were driven on the campus last year have probably become the family car now. . . . It is rumored that the rumors that Douglas Russell has turned professional athlete are just rumors. . . . Some of the fraternity boys are blaming their small lists of pledges onto the weather. . . . But they're probably all wet. . . . The biggest bore in school this year is the student who insists on telling about his experiences at the World's Fair this summer.

DOCTOR WARREN WINS PRIZE

Outstanding Research Work in Poultry Husbandry Pays $100.

Dr. D. C. Warren of the poultry department, Kansas State college, was awarded the special $100 prize at the 25th annual meeting of the Poultry Science association at East Lansing, Mich., last month. The award is made for the most outstanding research work in the field of poultry husbandry in the United States and Canada during the year. The title of Doctor Warren's paper which appeared in the January number of "Genetics" was "Nine Independently Inherited Autosomal Factors in the Domestic Poultry." This paper represented a vast amount of original research work.

Paper Grading Machine Records Freshmen Tests

Immediately after the freshman aptitude tests are completed next week, an ingenious paper grading machine will begin its duties of recording grades and actually compiling the results of the annual intelligence tests.

The machine was recently invented and constructed by a member of the Kansas State college faculty, Dr. J. C. Peterson, department of education, and H. H. Higginbottom, graduate student in electrical engineering. The machine was constructed from a composition of old Ford parts, bits of a decrepit radio, a discarded telephone, home-made magnets, radio tubes, a used motor, and specially cast material. Not only will the machine grade papers and stamp the grade on the front of the individual test blanks, but it will also stack the papers in a neat pile. Human hands are necessary only to feed the papers into the machine, which bears characteristics of an electric counting machine, a printing press, and an automatic cheating detector.

One of the biggest characteristics of the machine is its speed. It will turn out one graded paper every seven seconds and about 800 of them in two hours. During past years several persons worked as long as two and a half months grading and recording the intelligence tests, with considerable cost to the college. The machine this year is destined to save money for the department of education, as well as time and trouble.

The inconvenience and expense incurred in the past brought about the development of the machine. Doctor Peterson saw the need and knew exactly what he wanted. Higginbottom knew how to transform the idea from theory to practicality

PEERY APPOINTED CHIEF ENGINEER

R. D. Compton, Former Radio Operator Here, to Accept Columbia Position.

After R. D. Compton, former chief engineer of radio station KSAC, left September 8 to accept a position as maintenance engineer of the Columbia broadcasting system in New York City, Eugene Peery, Manhattan, was appointed to fill the position.

Peery, who is a sophomore enrolled in electrical engineering, will be assisted by Robert Evans, Sabetha. A member of Sigma Phi Epsilon fraternity, Peery has been interested in radio since he was 14 years old. He has been a commercial operator since 1931.

The radio equipment for the college station was first installed in 1930 by Compton who was here for three years. Compton was operator for the WREN radio station at Lawrence, and station KMMJ, Clay Center, Neb., before accepting a position here.

ANNUAL WATERMELON FEED

Students and College Faculty Members Join in School Event.

Approximately 500 freshmen, several members of the coaching staff of the athletic department, and members of other departments of the college, took part in the annual football kickoff and watermelon feed sponsored by the college Y. M. C. A. last evening. The event was held under the west wing of Memorial stadium.

The big party fulfilled its purpose in that the students consumed more than a ton of watermelons and in addition became acquainted with various members of the athletic department.

With Dr. H. T. Hill of the public speaking department as master of ceremonies, there was never a dull moment in the evening's program. Probably the most important speaker on the program, especially from the standpoint of the freshmen, was "Bo" McMillin, head football coach. "Rambling Ralph" Graham, football captain, was also a speaker on last night's program.

Ward Haylett, track coach and assistant football coach, Pat Patterson, wrestling coach; Connie Moll, swimming and tennis coach; and Swede Anderson, freshman grid mentor, were also on the program as speakers. The Manhattan merchants were represented by Jerry Wilson, always a great booster for Kansas State athletics.

Tom Groody, president of the Y. M. C. A., welcomed the new and returning students in behalf of his organization. Prof. William Lindquist, music department, led the group in singing college songs, and Jim North, cheer leader, led the students in college yells.

McLAUGHLIN PRAISES KANSAS STATE COLLEGE

BOARD OF REGENTS MEMBER A STUDENT ASSEMBLY
SPEAKER.

FIRST CHAPEL SCHOOL YEAR

Noteworthy Developments By Graduates of College During 70 Years of Existence of College.

An address by Drew McLaughlin, Paola, a member of the state board of regents, and a program of music attracted hundreds of Kansas State students and faculty members to the opening student assembly held Wednesday morning at the college auditorium. Pres. F. D. Farrell presided at the assembly.

Speaking in behalf of the state board of regents, Mr. McLaughlin said that during the past two years the members of the board have had the same disappointments that have come to individuals. "Each member of the board has at heart the welfare of each of the five schools," Mr. McLaughlin said. "We want our schools to progress. It will never do to go backward, or even stand still. Yet so many times conditions have prompted us to say 'no' when the future would have served better had the response been different."

"We are all Kansans and we have kept in mind the condition of the state and the wishes of the people. Those wishes have been influenced by ability to pay. So the board of regents has had to be exceedingly careful, pure every possible item of expense, and at the same time properly protect the great schools of our state, which represent a large investment by the people of Kansas, and which have achievements that cannot be rated on a dollars and cents basis."

Mr. McLaughlin reminded the students in the audience that in the years to come they will leave this college and enter the active life of American industry. "The cheerfulness with which you employ your time will be a big factor in your lives," Mr. McLaughlin said. "You will have the choice of being wholeheartedly in the game of life or of pulling back. You will have to adapt yourselves to conditions and hours. It never pays to be too exacting. Rather one must fit in the place he is called to fill."

"You students have before you the same opportunities that always have existed. Going to college is serious business. You who are here for the first time have just passed through the happiest period of your lives—high school days. When you become middle-aged you will realize that you were the happiest when you were high school students. You have come to college because you want to fit yourselves so you can accomplish more. You want to be of greater service to mankind."

"Developments of young men and women have been noteworthy in Kansas State. During the more than 70 years this college has functioned it has furnished a steady flow of graduates who have gone into the world and given really worth while service. I am sure that if the accomplishments of this college and its graduates could be estimated in money, the total would show many times the amount this college has required in taxes. The traditions of Kansas State are of the exalted type. They are now in the hands of you students."

PHYSICS PROF WRITES SONG

E. R. Lyon Writes Words to "Dixie"; Published in The Jeffersonian

When a physics professor writes poetry it's news. And when he gets it published—well that's more news. Prof. E. R. Lyon of the Kansas State department of physics has both written and published a poem he calls "New Deal Land" and it is set to the tune of "Dixie." It is published in the August issue of The Jeffersonian, a Democratic Union monthly.

"It is meant," says Professor Lyon, "as the germ of a battlesong of the great NRA campaign."

ENROLLMENT IS 177 UNDER THAT FOR LAST YEAR

TOTAL NUMBER OF STUDENTS AT KANSAS STATE THIS AUTUMN IS 2,257

THREE DIVISION INCREASES

Ag. Home Ecs. and Vets Gain in Total Students — General Science Again Is Largest.

The total enrollment is 2,257 for this semester showing a decrease of 177 from the number at this time last year. The agricultural, home economics and veterinary divisions have had increases in the number of students while the engineering, general science and graduate study divisions have decreased in enrollment. The general science division has the largest total again this year.

L. E. Call, dean of agriculture, reports a total of 267 which is an increase of six over last year. The principal increase was in the freshman class. The number of juniors and seniors in the agriculture division is reduced. There are 99 beginners in the division which is 20 more than last year. Three more sophomores are enrolled this year bringing the total to 64. The juniors lost three leaving a count of 58. The seniors suffered the greatest loss of 12 with 45 continuing their work. The number of special students has decreased from three to one.

The division of engineering diminished in number to 557, which is 86 less than last year. R. A. Sutton, dean, says that the principal decrease from last year is in the sophomore and senior classes, but last year the senior enrollment was unusually high. This year's number compares favorably with that of two years ago, which was the highest up until that time. The freshmen of last year totaled 173 while now they total 162. The sophomores lost 66 by shrinking to 114. The juniors gained 4, totaling 154 and the seniors dropped to 127 from 161. There are five special students this year as compared with three last year.

The general science division has not yet classified its enrollment but the total number, as stated by R. W. Babcock, dean, is about 745, showing a decrease of about 90 students.

Dean Margaret Justin reports a total enrollment of 365 for the home economics division showing an increase of four students. The classifications have not been made. The veterinary division reports an increase of about 56 students making the total 165. Total figures have not been tabulated.

Dean J. E. Ackert of graduate study states a decrease of 50 with their present figures at 134.

Only two important changes have been made in the curriculum for this semester according to L. V. White, schedule supervisor. Flour mill engineering has been changed from the engineering to the agricultural division and will go under the new name of milling industry. The students in the engineering division already enrolled in this course will not be transferred to the agricultural division but the three freshmen taking it have been enrolled in the course as agricultural students. This department covers three types of milling: administration, technology, and chemistry. Another new addition is the offering of economics by Dr. J. E. Kammer for the first time in the college.

THE COLLEGE LIBRARY

With the beginning of the school year students of Kansas State college should remember that there are many places on the campus where it is possible to go for references and other aids in studying for their courses. Many curriculums require a great deal of study and research other than the regular routine of textbook work. The college library offers one of the best opportunities to those students who find it necessary to perform extra work and study.

All books in the general college library are owned by Kansas State college. The library of the agricultural experiment station, which is incorporated with the college library, is a valuable part of the institution for the benefit of students enrolled in agricultural courses. On June 30, 1932, the college library contained 99,200 bound volumes and a large amount of unbound material. The library receives currently about 1,250 serial publications, and as a depository the library receives the documents and other publications of the United States government.

The privilege of drawing books from the library which is accorded to all those connected with the college as registered students or as members of the faculty should not be overlooked. While the primary purpose of the library is for free reference, all books not specially reserved may be drawn for home use for two weeks. Many students each year are aided in completing various courses by using the available published material of the college library.

Students also have found that the three large reading rooms which are maintained in connection with the library, are typical places for study during the day and after the evening dinner hour. General reference books, dictionaries, magazines and Kansas newspapers are at the student's disposal. These rooms are freely open to students and should be used for reading and study. Many students during past years have formed the habit of visiting the library during an hour between classes, and have benefitted themselves by an extra hour of study or reading of material in the rooms.

The group of books of fiction and biographies in the Browning collection should not be forgotten. An hour each day spent in reading from this group of books would be worth while to the student. The primary purpose of the Browning collection is for diversion, but the usefulness of this group of books has afforded Kansas State students in former years is large.

Kansas State students should cooperate with the college library in complying with the rules and regulations which have been adopted. The procedure administered by the institution may seem trivial to many students who visit the library, but violation of the regulations and other serious offenses sometimes results in trouble for students. Unless the adopted rules are carried out and enforced, it will be impossible for the library to progress and its primary purpose of free reference cannot be fulfilled.

THE WORKING STUDENTS

Each year there are hundreds of students at Kansas State college who find employment in restaurants, drug-stores, filling stations, and other places in Manhattan, and work several hours each day in an effort to help finance their education. In other American colleges approximately 40 per cent of the students work their way through, wholly or in part, according to a recent survey, and of this number perhaps one-third receive no outside help.

Many people question the sacrifice these students are forced to make in order to get their education. Yet there is no one who believes that these students should not be praised for their courage and determination. But the question of whether or not it pays to go to college in this manner always arises when students defer expenses by working several hours a day outside the class room.

A student at the University of Kansas, who recently received his Doctor of Philosophy degree, lived in an automobile one year and subsisted on 13¢ cents a day. Many graduates of Kansas State college have made similar sacrifices and completed their educations by scanty living and hard work.

In Kansas State college last year more than one-third of the students supported themselves wholly, while a third supported themselves in part. The bad part about the situation is the means by which many of the students have to go about earning enough money to keep them in college. A large number of the men and women are forced to work long hours each day for their board and room. Many accept any type of job because it is a means of livelihood for the while they attend college. Dozens of students have taken jobs which are unfavorable and in some cases unhealthy. Yet they go about their work every day and perform their tasks cheerfully because it is a means of helping them work their way through school.

The average grades of the students who work their way through college are sometimes much better than the grades of those who do not work. The working students no doubt perform their outside work while other students are engaged in some form of amusement. The sacrifice that the working student makes during the time he is in school is worth the effort. There will be battles to fight after the student receives his degree, and the training in school will prepare the working student for the future.

The Snooper

The Purple Pepsters are selling Collegian subscriptions for the good of the school. "A Collegian in every household" is their battle cry. The receipts go to take them to the K. U. game.

Open house Friday night will give the various "cellar gangs" an opportunity to come into their well-meaning glory again. The new pledges that you've heard so much about (especially from the Kappas and Pi Phi's) will be on exhibition also.

A new variation of the Wellerstedt Walk was given by a robust person who looks like a cross between a Delt and an Acacia.

Jane White of the Kansas City dress model Whites' has been rushing for the Deltas. Richard Smith was carted around by her. She showed unusual interest in the boy. Incidentally the Pi Phi's like the Delta also. Jaconette Lawrence lent her car to Cotton Tietze but Cotton didn't have her with him all of the time.

The Betas report that they have nearly enough new pledges to pay off the mortgage and keep the wolf from the door for another year. The baby pink and infant blue boys are very proud of their new flock.

Lately Mark Kannal is head man in the Graham-Kannal-Skradski feud since Skrad is not back in school.

Kappa Sigma returned to the Pan-Hellenic with 15 pledges. Maybe it's a good thing the Betas were kidding when they said that they took a certain boy out of town to see his folks or they would take the hill next year.

Badluck, The Freshman

Dear Ma and Pa:

I am a real college feller now because I went to the gymnasium and enrolled last Wednesday and spent all the money you gave me when I left home. I thought when I took the curriculum of agriculture I would get to plow corn and feed the chickens here at the college, but I have to take chemistree and a course called rhetoric instead.

That rhetoric course is sure going to be easy for me because I had a lot of practice writing compositions in high school and my teacher said I ought to make a good skolar. We have to put a lot of stuff in little bottles in that chemistree course, and our teacher said chemistree was an awful important course to fellers who wanted to make a success on the farm.

A lot of the Senurs here heard of me before I came to college and said I had ought to go out for football because I was such a great star in high-school. But I told them I would rather be campest leader instead because you could get famous quicker by being a big shot than going out for football.

I am going to show the school that I am a real campest leader right away. I am going to organize a 5-H club and call it Badluck's 5-H club for Iron Men. As soon as I can get some members to join my club, I am going to be the president and charge two bucks for membership. The purpose of the 5-H club will be to make all the Senurs wear freshmen caps and don't allow no ruf stuff on the campest. The other night a Senur chased me all the way home from Aggyville because I didn't have my cap on. But he probably didn't know I was Badluck, or he'd probably wanted to apologize.

I forgot to tell you that Aggyville is the place by the campest where all the students loaf at nights and in the day time. There is a lot of stores here too where all the fellers buy books and things and where the Senurs sit around throwing the bull and drinking cokes. I am going to a bull session tomorrow night if I get my chemistree all studied. A feller told me yesterday that bull sessions were sure educational and that anybody could learn a lot by going to one.

I have been eating six hamburgers every day since I finished enrolling last Wednesday and I believe I am the champion hamburger eater in school. Anyway that's what that feller who runs the hamburger stand told me when I bought a sack full last night. He said I liked hamburgers just like a feller by the name of Wimpy, but I don't know who Wimpy is unless he is another big shot in college.

Say Ma the next time you send my laundry will you put in my boy scout badge. I won at camp last summer. I got a soldier's outfit from the college that I have to wear when the r. o. t. c. is organized here and I want to wear the badge when I shoot those big cannons in front of Nichols gymnasium. There is sure some big guns there and I'll bet they would shoot a lot further than the gun that grandpa used in the Civil war. Anyway ma if you hear a lot of noise next Monday morning you'll know it's Badluck practicing up in case of a war.

Your son,
Badluck.

BO McMILLIN STARTS SEASON GRID PRACTICE

PLAYERS GET DAILY WORK-OUTS IN PREPARATION FOR BIG SIX GAMES.

51 CANDIDATES REPORT

Signal Drills, Exercises, Passing, and Receiving, Compose Practice Sessions—First Scrimmage Later.

With spirits undampened by the rainy weather and wet field, the Kansas State football squad was rapidly getting into condition under the watchful eyes of Head Coach Bo McMillin and his assistants, Swede Anderson, Ward Haylett, and O. W. Cochrane, as the first week of practice draws to a close.

Forty-three candidates answered the call of the gridiron last Saturday, checked out uniforms, and had their pictures taken. Since then, however, new additions daily have swelled the squad to 51. Raymond Doll, was the latest veteran to turn out. The return of Doll was a surprise to both the coaches and the squad, as he was not expected back this year, and brings the number of returning lettermen to ten. Doll's presence on the squad will do a lot to make up for the loss of Douglas Russell, star backfield man, who says he will play baseball with the Detroit team in the American league next year.

No Strenuous Work
Most of the work the squad has been doing is of such a nature as to get the players into shape. On Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday of this week practices were held both mornings and afternoons. Starting yesterday, the squad will work out only in the afternoons. Long, strenuous practice sessions have been discontinued for a split shift system, in which one group will practice from 3:30 to 5:00 o'clock, and the other from 5:30 to 8:00.

None of the workouts so far have been of a strenuous nature. For the most part the practices consist of exercises and signal drills, along with some passing and receiving. Several plays have already been out, with which the squad is now working. No definite date has been set as yet for the first scrimmage.

The following is a list of the 51 members of the squad reporting so far:

Backfield
Lettermen—Captain Ralph Graham, El Dorado; Tom Bushby, Belleville; Lee Morgan, Hugoton; E. R. Weller, Olathe; R. J. Doll, Gladlin.

Veterans—Lyman Abbott, Phillipsburg; Dick Armstrong, Riley; Ed Broghamer, Wilkes Barre, Pa.; Larry Darnell, Osborne; Henry Kirk, Scott City; Jim LeClere, Coffeyville; Joe McNay, Manhattan; Marlin Schrader, Olivet; Oren Stoner, Sabetha.

Sophomores—R. D. Churchill, Junction City; Jim Edwards, Phillipsburg; Bob Jensen, Leavenworth; Bob Kirk, Scott City; Don McNeal, Winchester.

Linemen
Lettermen—Dan Blaine, El Dorado; George Maddox, Greenville, Tex.; Homer Hanson, Riley; Melvon Wertzberger, Alma; Ken Harter, El Dorado.

Veterans—Earl Brookover, Scott City; Blair Forbes, Leavenworth; Jim Freeland, Trenton, Mo.; Ralph Gage, Minneapolis; Leonard Hibbs, Upland, Calif.; Joe Knappenberger, Penafosa; Dean McNeal, Winchester; Ralph Marshall, Kansas City, Mo.; Marvin Noland, Falls City, Neb.; A. A. Olmstead, Perry; Lloyd Sconce, Halstead; Charles Skinner, Bartlesville, Okla.; Gene Sundgren, Falun; Art Thiele, Marysville; Bill Waddell, St. Joseph, Mo.; Jack Wiseman, Delphos.

Big Six Grid Notes

By Richard Fowler
The 1933 football squads of the various Big Six schools are rapidly rounding into condition and working out plays on their respective practice fields. Every coach in the conference held double workouts Monday, the first day of practice allowed in the Big Six conference, and continued or is continuing them until classes start, when they will hold only one practice a day.

Nebraska
Nebraska university's champion Cornhuskers will stake their chances for another title this fall on approximately a dozen returning lettermen and a plentiful supply of seasoned reserves. Among the outstanding Huskers returning are Masterson, quarterback; Sauer, fullback; Boswell, halfback (who scored the winning touchdown against Kansas State last year); Penney and Roby, ends; O'Brien, tackle; and Justice, guard.

Oklahoma
Oklahoma, who tied for second place in the conference with the Kansas Jayhawkers last fall, will be largely a sophomore team this season, though the Sooners will have about the same number of lettermen back as Nebraska. In practice Captain Bob Dunlap and the Panzer brothers, Bill and Art, in the backfield, and Fleetwood, at center, are the only veterans running on the first string. Other experienced men returning to Soonerland are Stacy, Whittington, Bashara, and Cherry.

Kansas
Coach Adrian Lindsey of Kansas university has shifted Ormand Beach to quarterback and Milo Clawson to center this year in order to strengthen those departments. The Jayhawk mentor has a wealth of seasoned material back this fall with which to mold his team, chief among them being Manning, Dumm, and Hall in the backfield, and Mehringer, Casini, Dees, and Watkins, linemen. Mehringer and Hall also star in wrestling and track, respectively.

Iowa State
Iowa State has a small squad of 38 working out, but among them are twelve lettermen and many veterans who failed to letter last year. The Cyclones also have some good-looking sophomore material to strengthen the team. Among their returning lettermen are Williams and Theophilus at halfback, and Templeton, Dana, Roe, and Meyer in the line.

Missouri
With a squad of 45 candidates working out daily, among them seventeen lettermen, the Missouri Tigers' prospects are looking brighter to Coach Frank Carideo than they have at any time since he became head coach at M. U. Assisted by line coach "Red" Sleight and Percy Gill, former Tiger captain, Carideo is running Stuber, Bland, Faurot, and Hatfield behind a line composed of Schiele, Ross, Houston, McMullen, Swatek, Ramsey, and Miller.

All in all, the conference football race this fall looms up on paper as one of the closest and most interesting in the history of the Big Six. Besides the conference schedule, several of the schools have games with strong interconference foes, who will test the strength of the Big Six to its utmost. Nebraska takes on Pittsburgh and Minnesota, Kansas plays Notre Dame, Kansas State tackles Michigan State, and Oklahoma plays Vanderbilt and Texas.

How a Hort Prof. Happens To be Athletic Director

This is the story of Michael Francis Ahearn, who this fall begins his thirtieth year of active interest in Kansas State athletics. It's a long, long tale, from the time Mike began his career as an instructor of horticulture until he reached his present status at Kansas State, that of director of athletics.

When Mike learned to play football, it was a game somewhat restricted to husky young giants who staged a near riot everytime they went on the gridiron.

The athletic fame of young Ahearn accompanied him from Massachusetts Agricultural college, where he was a quarterback, to Kansas State. In 1905 he was asked to take charge of football coaching, and from then till 1911 he was head coach of athletics, devoting half of his time to being coach of all sports and the other half to teaching horticulture.

Several times during that period Mike tried to resign from his athletic duties, as he had decided that there was no future in the coaching profession, but it was not until 1911 that his resignation stuck. After a big climax to a most successful season in 1909, Mike attempted to quit his athletic post. A few days later the entire football squad trooped into the Ahearn home one night while Mike was shaving to go to a party. The players explained that they had come to get their coach to stay with them another year. Mike did not go to the party, and about midnight he agreed to coach one more season. Ahearn's last team, the one of 1910, lost only one game of the 10 played. The next year his resignation held. Mike then definitely decided that his future was horticulture. In-structor Ahearn of horticulture became assistant professor, associate professor, and then professor of landscape gardening.

During this time the Kansas State athletic department became run down. Coaches and directors tried to use it as a stepping stone to other jobs. Frequent changes hurt morale. In 1919-20, the athletic council asked Mike Ahearn to head the department of physical education and athletics, reorganize it, and put both physical education and athletics on a sound basis.

Mike plunged wholeheartedly into the task and soon had the athletic department organized into an efficient machine. Much credit should be given him for the excellent condition of the athletic department.

Mike Ahearn thinks that football is a great game and will survive its handicaps. He thinks athletic work is both more fun and more trouble than teaching horticulture, and is convinced, by now, that it does have a "future."

HOPE HELD FOR K. S. C. FIELD HOUSE PROJECT

Proposal Placed Before State Public Works Representative Finds Some Favor

Hope was held yesterday that the proposed Kansas State college field house would be approved by the state public works advisory committee.

A committee from the Manhattan Chamber of Commerce placed the project before R. J. Paulette, Salina, engineer for the state committee at Topeka Wednesday, and he was quoted as being "very favorable." Martin Miller, chairman of the state committee, also expressed favor, providing satisfactory arrangements can be made for the loan and grant from the federal government, J. W. Berry, chairman of the local committee said.

Stadium corporation pledges are proposed as collateral for the loan. The stadium proposal is one of the first to be offered in nearly complete form.

NRA STUDENT-FACULTY FORUM THIS THURSDAY

MEETING AT RECREATION CENTER TO DISCUSS NATIONAL RECOVERY PROGRAM

BOUCK, REPERT TO SPEAK

Enlistment Booth for the Consumer's League to Be Open September 26 And 27

With the date for the opening of the enlistment booth in Kansas State's NRA campaign set for one week from today, plans for the all-school drive are practically complete.

Thursday evening at 7:30, a student-faculty forum will be held in Recreation center with H. W. Bouck, secretary of the Manhattan chamber of commerce, and Clay Reppert, president of the student council, as speakers. Bouck will officially represent the local NRA organization and will explain the principles and workings of the NRA. Reppert will discuss the NRA from the student's viewpoint.

Following the talks, open discussion will be held in which all attending are urged to take part. The meeting is open to all who are interested in the Roosevelt recovery program.

Meeting last night in L58, the executive council of Dynamics, student's general honorary society, which is sponsoring the campaign, selected Arlene Marshall, Herington, as chairman of the enlistment booth committee. The committee will consist of volunteers from Dynamics and it is planned to have the volunteers work in shifts so as to avoid working any individual for too great a length of time.

The enlistment booth will be placed in Anderson hall and will be open September 26 and 27. At the booth all students and faculty members who have not yet signed an NRA consumers pledge card will be given an opportunity to do so. The pledge to be signed reads, "I will cooperate in re-employment by patronizing employers and workers who are members of the NRA."

Following the forum Thursday night, members of Dynamics who desire to serve on the booth committee will receive their assignments to duty. Officers of Dynamics are Harold Heckendorf, Cedar Point, president; George Rogler, Matfield Green, vice-president; Arlene Marshall, Herington, secretary; Paul Blackwood, Talmo, treasurer; and Alice Barrer, Topeka, publicity director. Prof. E. R. Lyon of the department of physics is faculty advisor of the organization.

Next Tuesday, a student assembly will be devoted to the NRA with Arthur F. Peine, head of the local NRA organization as the speaker.

K.S.C. GRADUATE AIDS IN SOLVING A CRIME

George Quigley, Student Last Year, Bruised in Daring Robbery of Wichita Hotel

George LeRoy Quigley, who was a graduate student at Kansas State college last semester, is aiding the police of Wichita in identifying the robbers who took between $50 and $60 from the cash register of the Commodore Hotel where Quigley is employed.

Two young unmasked robbers entered the hotel at 5:30 o'clock last Tuesday morning. They carried guns and blackjacks and after commanding Quigley, the night clerk, and Gordon Coates, the bellboy, to lie on the office floor with their faces down, they hit them with blackjacks.

Coates was knocked unconscious and suffered two serious wounds on the back of the head. Quigley remained conscious and was only bruised on the back of the head. Quigley and Coates are now aiding the police by trying to identify the robbers from numerous pictures in the police files.

IN FAIR STYLE CONTEST

Georgianne Avery of Coldwater is to represent her county in the style review contest at the Hutchinson fair next week. Miss Avery was awarded first prize in a similar contest in her county this summer.

A NEW Y. M. C. A. DIRECTOR M. F. "Mike" Ahern, director of athletics, has been appointed to the Y.M.C.A. board of directors to fill the vacancy left by the resignation of Charles Corsaut, former basketball and baseball coach at Kansas State college.

AN ALL COLLEGE MIXER

Take one thousand cups of energy, ten teaspoons of smile and pour them into yourself. Then mix in all the cream of the college and put to bake for a couple of hours with a double dose of dancing feet in the college gymnasium no later than next Friday evening, Sept. 22. Here through the heat of the evening dancing and entertainment will be thoroughly dissolved and the result will be the biggest gala event of the year.

Come and see what your instructors look like when not framed by the blackboard or surrounded by the scent of a classroom. You'll have no books in hand so you can shake hands with the professors and deans on the same level for once this year. This is a new student's paradise where he comes unknown, meets the known and returns known. Here's your chance to cut and dance to your heart's content. Even book worms quit eating up the letters on this night of nights.

A GALA SEASON IN COLLEGE ACTIVITIES

Outstanding School Events Announced Yesterday After Meeting of Calendar Committee

Important college events and school activities were announced yesterday afternoon after a meeting of the college calendar committee. Mrs. Mary P. Van Zile, dean of women, is chairman of the committee.

Football games, conventions, and college entertainments are the highlights of the schedule of the school year as announced by the committee yesterday. The first football game of the 1933 season will be held in Manhattan on September 30, when the Wildcats attack the grid players of Kansas State Teacher's college of Emporia. The game will be played at Memorial stadium.

The Nebraska University football game, also scheduled at Kansas State college will attract hundreds of people to Manhattan for the homecoming event to be held in connection with the game. The Nebraska-Kansas State game will be played October 21, and will probably be the outstanding football event of the school year. On October 28, the Wildcats will invade the football territory of Kansas University, and decide the strength of the two teams. Although this game will be played at Lawrence, many students and faculty members are planning a big time for the annual Jayhawk-Wildcat game. This event has usually occurred on a holiday for Kansas State students in past years although no announcements have been made that classes will not be held on this date.

The Kansas State Teachers' Association will meet at Kansas State college on November 3 and 4 for a two day session. On November 3, the members of the association will meet from 8 o'clock in the morning, and a general session will be held that evening in the auditorium. Another session will be held the following day.

The Manhattan theatre will present the first play of the school year on November 3. Plays will also be presented by the theatre on February 2 and April 27. Names of the plays have not been announced.

The college social club will hold their annual party on November 11 this year. On November 18, the annual parent's day football game will be played against Oklahoma. Dates for the Aggie Pop this year are on December 8 and 9.

The first basketball game of the season will be played on January 7 next year. The court battle against Oklahoma university will open the basketball season for the Wildcats. Another basketball game has been scheduled for January 28, when the Wildcats play Iowa State.

Farm and Home week, one of the big events in the calendar of Kansas State college, will be held on February 6 to 9. On February 17, the Inter-Society oratorical contest will be held. The Aggie Orpheum will be held this year on March 23, and the World Forum has been scheduled for the third week in March. Other important dates for events during the school year have not been announced by the committee in charge of the calendar.

Those who attended the meeting yesterday afternoon and arranged the dates for the school events were Dean VanZile, chairman of the committee; Prof. H. B. Summers, department of public speaking; Vice-president J. T. Willard; Prof. William Linquist, music department; and Prof. F. E. Charles, department of journalism. The meeting was held in recreation center.

ASSEMBLY LIST INCLUDES MUSIC AND ADDRESSES

COLLEGE EVENTS WILL ATTRACT CROWDS THIS YEAR WITH TIMELY SPEECHES

N.R.A. PROGRAM NEXT WEEK

Freshmen Attend Special Assembly Today While Upperclassmen Go To Classes As Usual

A series of assembly programs including addresses, music, and other entertainment has been announced by Dr. J. E. Kammeyer, head of the department of economics, who is in charge of the chapel exercises this year. Although the schedule is not complete many of the important assemblies are listed in the group.

Pres. F. D. Farrell, Dr. H. T. Hill of the public speaking department, and Dr. J. C. Peterson, of the department of education, will be speakers today at a freshman assembly. The meeting will be held in the college auditorium and will be attended by both men and women, who are members of the freshman class. All classes regularly attended by those in the freshman group will be dismissed today during the time the assembly is being held. All other classes will be held as usual.

An N. R. A. program will be presented on September 26. Because of the timeliness of the subject and the growing interest of the government's plan for business recovery, a large attendance is expected at this assembly. Arthur Peine, president of the Manhattan chamber of commerce, will be the speaker at this assembly program. His subject will be "Peace-Time Patriotism."

The first program listed for the month of October will be an address by Prof. W. E. Grimes, agricultural economics department, entitled "Intergovernmental Debt Payments." Similar programs held last year drew large crowds to the auditorium and there was always a representative group of both students and members of the college faculty.

On October 18, President Farrell will speak before the assembly audience. The subject of President Farrell's address has not yet been announced. Col. Frank T. Sullivan, commander of the American Legion, will have charge of the Armistice Day program, and will be the principal speaker on that day.

Two programs directed by the department of music of Kansas State college have been announced. There is a possibility, however, that additional musical programs will be held during the two semesters this year. The two programs now scheduled will be presented by members of the college orchestra and the college band.

The annual Phi Kappa Phi recognition program will be held on December 8. Other recognition programs will also be held during the latter part of the last semester.

John Mogge, a senior this year, strolled through the city park and attended the circus last Friday afternoon. . . . It was his first circus celebration since he was a kid. . . . Dozens of college students stood with mouths open when the snake charmer hypnotized the reptiles and the circus animals went through their tricks. . . . Roscoe Pitts, the chocolate boy who carries water for the Aggie football players, predicts a successful season for the Wildcats this year. . . . Roscoe has been shining shoes during the summer. . . . But he hasn't signed the NRA. . . . Last Wednesday an upperclassman was successful in selling an unsuspecting freshman a seat in assembly for 25 cents. . . . The freshman paid the money, obtained the "ticket," but couldn't give it away at the door. . . . Another freshman, invited to a fraternity house, put the members into much embarrassment when he decided to become a permanent thing around the chapter. . . . He wanted to live there without paying dues, board, or room. . . .

ENROLLMENT TO 2268

The total enrollment for Kansas State college has reached 2268, according to the latest reports from the registrar's office. Official tabulation of registration this semester will not be made until September 30.

Nine students who formerly attended the University of Georgia, Athens, Ga., have enrolled in the veterinary division of Kansas State college. The veterinary division of the University of Georgia was closed last spring.

A staff of workers in the registrar's office is busy meeting the demands for transcripts for civil service examinations. These demands are coming in from all over the country.

Early Days of Kansas State, Professor's Memory

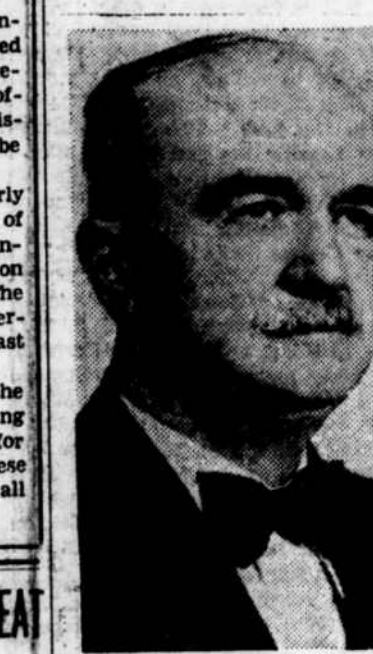

Thirty years ago parents of many Kansas State students were learning the fundamentals of chemistry, rhetoric, and mathematics on the Kansas State campus. Thirty years ago only five buildings, Anderson, Kedzie, Denison, Chemistry annex, and shops, made up Kansas State's campus.

And three decades ago Dr. J. E. Kammeyer, now head of the department of economics and sociology, left the vice-principals of the Kansas City, Kansas, high school to become professor of oratory here at Kansas State.

For thirty continuous years Dr. Kammeyer has worked in building his department up from the one course it offered when he arrived to the thirty-six courses it now offers. A new course in Economics II was added this semester.

For thirty continuous years he has held the chairmanship of the committee of public exercises in which capacity he provided programs for student assemblies. During the early years the chapel exercises were held every morning and later, twice a week. When Dr. H. J. Waters became president of the college, the time was changed

This scholarship was one of four offered to Miss Holton. During her freshman and sophomore years in Kansas State college from which she graduated last spring, she was elected to Phi Kappa Phi, honorary scholarship organization. She also was a member of the Pi Beta Phi sorority. Miss Holton intends to receive her master's degree.

SENIOR MEN'S COUNCIL WANT NEW RUSH RULES

Other Rushing Rules of Big Six Schools Will Be Studied

An entire new set of rushing rules that would put "more system and less antagonism" in rushing was discussed by the Senior Men's Pan-Hellenic council in a meeting held last night in the Kappa Sigma fraternity house.

A study will be made of the rushing rules in all the Big Six schools and from these it is hoped a set can be devised that will meet the needs at Kansas State college.

FOOTBALL BOARDS STOP BROADCAST BIG SIX GAMES

UNANIMOUS VOTE OF THE CONFERENCE AGAINST BROADCASTING GAMES

BETTER FINANCIAL SUPPORT

Newspaper Correspondents Will Not Be Barred, But No Play-By-Play Reports Allowed

Radio broadcasting of Big Six football games will be discontinued this season, according to an announcement from the Missouri Valley Intercollegiate association following a unanimous vote after two years of investigation, study and discussion.

The decision will affect all games, whether conference or non-conference events. C. L. Brewer, director of athletics and secretary of the conference directors' organization, announced that non-conference games which the Big Six teams play away from home will not be affected by the order.

Brewer said the conference decision will not only remove radio announcers from the radio booths and press boxes of conference schools, but it will place restrictions upon the use of play-by-play telegraphic reports of games dispatched from the Big Six fields. Telegraph companies and newspaper men will be provided facilities there only with the understanding that their play-by-play reports are not to be used for broadcasting.

After directors had deferred action upon the issue of a recent meeting of the association in Kansas City, the decision was reached by telegraphic vote of conference members. The delay in the decision was caused when the members decided that they wished to consult with their respective athletic boards before taking final action.

The purpose of discontinuing the broadcasting of Big Six football games was to increase the number of ticket sales during the 1933 football season. Those who were content in past years to sit by the radio loud speaker and enjoy a Big Six football game are the ones to whom the action was pointed. Members of the association announced that the step was necessary in order to obtain adequate financial support for the game in the present parlous time.

"The decision was reached by the conference after the most careful consideration and investigation both of the local situations involved and of what other institutions are doing," Brewer said. "The vote is unanimous and applies to the coming football season. What the conference will do in 1934 and subsequent years will probably depend upon the results of this year's action."

IN WORLD'S FAIR EXHIBITION

H. O. Tackwell, former Kansas State football player, who is now playing a regular tackle position for the Chicago Bears, professional team, was one of the stars in his team's 14-0 victory over the Notre Dame all-stars at the World's Fair in Chicago Sunday. "Tack" played an outstanding defensive game, and contributed a point to the scoring with a placekick after touchdown.

For three decades The Kansas State Collegian has been the official newspaper of Kansas State College. In that time the Collegian has become an integral part of students' college days. The reflection that the Collegian brings to its readers of student activities and opinions is one of the big features of college life every year for thousands of Kansas State students.

Twice each week The Collegian presents the real news of the campus. News that has no connection with the college is not found in the columns of The Collegian. Feature stories, timely editorials, columns, and local and national advertising are other features that are regularly read by Collegian subscribers. Kansas State college students should read the Collegian. Above all, the students of this college should adopt the policy of reading their own Collegian.

RADIO AND THE BIG SIX

The recent action of the Missouri Valley Intercollegiate Athletic Association in prohibiting the broadcasting of Big Six football games this season will do doubt be a big disappointment to hundreds of football fans and especially the alumni of the six schools in the conference.

A tight lid has been clamped on radio broadcasting of the games. People who formerly listened to the radio on Saturday afternoons, and enjoyed the broadcasts of the Big Six game reports this year will be denied the privilege of a play by play description of the games.

The announcement last week, however that radio broadcasting of Big Six games would be discontinued, did not come as a surprise to those connected with the business activities of the conference games. For over two years the members of the association had been making investigations of the conditions. The association had been studying the situation for two seasons, and after a series of careful discussions about the matter, the members voted unanimously to discontinue the radio broadcasting. The decision, therefore, did not come about through the influence of one individual of the association. Everything regarding the problem was considered, apparently, and the fact that the Big Six is off the air does not indicate the diminishing strength of the conference.

That the discontinuance of broadcasting will increase ticket sales is the big hope of the Big Six schools. People in and near the cities in which the conference institutions are located who have shown a tendency to sit by the radio loudspeaker during football games are the individuals who will be affected by the recent action. Whether or not the people who formerly listened to the games by means of radio will now attend the games and buy seats in the stadiums is the question in which the members of the association are interested. Many people who have listened to the broadcasts in past years will not be influenced into attending the games since the discontinuance. On the other hand, it is obvious that other football fans who heard the radio reports in former years will now buy stadium tickets and enjoy the Big Six games on the sidelines.

Members of the association realize that the action will bring protests from alumni who live in distant cities and who have listened to the game broadcasts in past years. In view of this fact, the association feels that the step was justified in order to obtain adequate financial support for football games under the present economic conditions.

In harmony with the wiping out of Big Six broadcasts at Kansas State college, the season tickets for the three Kansas State games at home will be sold for $3, the lowest price for season tickets in many years. Other Big Six schools have made similar reductions. The low reduction of football prices will undoubtedly be a big attraction to the radio football fans of former years.

COLLEGE ASSEMBLIES

For many years it has been a custom at Kansas State college to hold an assembly each week for one hour during the school year. The library, offices, classrooms, and laboratories are closed and the students and faculty members gather in the college auditorium for the assembly exercises which consist usually of devotional services, music, and addresses.

The devotional exercises are generally conducted by members of the faculty, by resident ministers of various church denominations in Manhattan or by prominent visitors. The department of music of the college and the college orchestra provide a program of good music at the assemblies. When possible, those in charge of the assembly programs obtain talented musicians who are not connected with the college. Programs in the past have included the music of the pipe organ in the auditorium. The pipe organ music has attracted hundreds of people to the weekly assemblies.

Many prominent leaders of state and national reputation are invited each year to address the assembly. In addition, addresses are delivered by the president and by members of the college faculty. The best assembly program last year in the minds of many of the students, and one of the few assemblies to attract a large crowd of students, included as a member of the public speaking department of the college.

Students who are looking for culture and enlightenment on certain subjects should attend student assemblies. Educated speakers sometimes enjoy talking above the heads of the average student and using big words to explain a point. But the student will find that the typical assembly speaker will talk in a plain enough language so that a few good ideas or thoughts can be obtained.

During first assembly program held Wednesday President Farrell told the audience there were but two things to remember about the weekly gatherings. While attendance at student assemblies are valuable, President Farrell said, nobody should go to the assemblies unless he wishes to. Attendance, in other words, is absolutely voluntary with the student or any one else connected with the college.

Interest in student activities could be increased among students by allowing the students to take a more active part in the assemblies. There are many good speakers who are members of the student body this year. Many other students could also be obtained for special programs and interesting entertainments. When the students are permitted to become a part of the assemblies, the attendance and interest in the events will increase and a better all-school activity will result.

The Snooper

Coach McMillin was looking around over the circus grounds the other day for a shoe and stocking that his child had lost. The articles were eventually found at his home where he had been in such a hurry to take his kid to the circus that he forgot to completely dress the young heir.

The boys from Kansas farms who attended the Collegiate 4-H club danc in recreation center Saturday night kept the floor hot trying to evade an insistent co-ed, a new-comer here, who apparently believed she had been verbally elected the sweetheart of Kansas State. She talked a dozen lugs into dancing with her during the evening, and showed the farmer boys a fair time between dances. (Contributed.) It would be nice to know her name, the doggoned hill-billy.

A Sig Alf, who is on the student governing corporation, recently purchased a jeweled pin. Everybody thought he had it on a Tri-Delt, but if he has it's a secret. Incidentally while he is not occupied giving tin badges away he is preparing a speech for an NRA convention next Thursday. The NRA lads ask him to hold his speech down to 20 minutes, and be prepared to answer any question that the citizens might wish to ask. News flash extra! The Sig Alf admitted the disposal of the above mentioned hardware late last night.

Wouldn't the Kappa Sigs feel funny if they were kicked out of the Pan-hell again this year? The first Pan-hell get-together was held last night in the Kappa Sig dugout. The fellow that told on them last year must have a way around the turtle neck boys because they have him pledged again.

The freshmen of the institution are taking thirty running steps this week and liking it. Take thirty lippy-lips like a snake and, jump up and down, and breathe through your mouth. And now, you pink pansy, you're dismissed. The free health examinations for freshmen are lovely.

Bill Seales brought up a picture to Weldene Middlekauff the other morning. The Pi Phi's started to burn it but on second thought they decided to put it in the basement to keep the roaches out.

Lawrence Reed of the Delta Shelta and Lucille Allman suddenly found themselves on the floor at the Varsity. Reed declares that someone tripped him but Allman thinks he stepped on her foot.

Badluck, The Freshman

Dear Folks:

I am still eating six hamburgers every day but I don't drink as much milk as I did last summer on the farm. The college here has got a cow that gives almost as much milk as Rebecca, that cow that you bought at the farm sale last winter. I'll bet Rebecca misses me since I left for school, but probably if she knew I was a real college feller now and was going to make a success of myself, she'd feel all right again.

There is sure a lot of places here that I have to go to classes. All the professors think I'm a great guy and that I am a real college feller. But I haven't had anything to do since school started because none of the teachers have told me to start studying yet, and I haven't seen any sign on the campus that we are supposed to begin studying. Ask grandpa if he got by this easy when he went to the academy.

A bunch of us college fellers went to the circus the other day and there was sure some big elephants there. One of the elephants was about twice as big as Rebecca, and you know what a big cow Rebecca is. I told the circus man that he ought to have Rebecca in his show, because she could give so much milk, but he said he'd let me know later, and that he'd buy Rebecca in case one of his elephants should happen to die.

Say pop that chemistree course that I am taking is sure a swell thing for a agriculture student like me to study. When I come home next year I am going to find out what the specific gravity of Rebecca is. The teacher said that h 2 o was water and that h20 was in about every thing that we eat. I guess there is more water in those hamburgers that I eat than there is any thing else.

I wrote a theme yesterday for my rhetoric class entitled: "Introducing Myself to My teacher". But I didn't have to write very much because my rhetoric teacher probably knew me before I came to college. Anyway she probably read about me going to college in the home town paper, because it was on the front page.

Well, mom I'm not getting homesick like you said I would probably. My landlady still treats me like I was her own son and she told the other fellers that Badluck was a great guy even if he was a farm boy.

Your son,

BADLUCK.

P.S. Say pop you'd better not tell Rebecca that I won't be home until xmas or she might quit giving so much milk.

Hey, You Co-Eds Here,s Tips on Appearances

(By a Journalism Student)

Rush week with its attempts to make good impressions is over. I heard a sorority girl say of this year's freshmen, "I think every year the rushees make a better appearance and have a better knowledge of what is appropriate." First impressions mean a lot until everyone knows you. In order to keep yourself up it is necessary to know what is considered good taste by the older girls on the campus.

My attempt to advise the new girls may come from a desire I had for help in my first year or perhaps from hearing too many critical things about others. Anyway, here's some "do's" and "don't's" which you may take or leave.

1. Pussy clothes don't belong on this campus. Hats with veils are very bad and so are long dangling full neck pieces. Spike heels aren't considered bad, but a lower heel is more favorably regarded by everyone.

2. Your good clothes should not be "worn out" at school. Patently darned chiffon hose which you used to wear for dancing should be sent home to mother for her hooked rugs. Don't wear fancy dresses formerly worn on Sundays or to parties, on the campus. A few of your good clothes may be tailored enough or with a little fixing can be made so.

3. Be sure you know what type of dress should be worn for each occasion. It is considered bad taste to go over-dressed or not dressed up enough. Any older girl who is attending the same function will be glad to tell you what she intends to wear and you can choose your costume accordingly.

4. Dresses should have plenty of style but it's not stylish to have school clothes fit too tight, to have them cut too low at the neck, or to wear thin dresses without a slip! These are cardinal sins.

5. Don't be too extreme in styles. If bangs look good on you, have them, but don't bring them down the sides of your face, too. Be moderate. And, please, don't have shaggy eyebrows. It doesn't kill one to pluck them. Again, use moderation. Eyebrows plucked too thin look even worse than shaggy ones.

6. Have confidence in yourself. That is, have poise. When you meet people you have been introduced to before, don't hesitate to speak to them. Call them by name if you can. That is the quickest way to become acquainted. Don't be afraid to talk to others because you feel inferior, but don't be aggressive either. Poise, self confidence, and interest in people will help you.

7. When you have dates don't forget that conversation is still a good means of entertainment. You don't have to smoke to be somebody, either, although smoking is not disdained by the majority of girls.

8. Be very careful about neatness and watch your breath. Chewing gum is considered very bad taste, but if it's a choice between chewing gum and bad breath—chew the gum! Mints often work as well, however.

9. Learn to dance and dance well! Dancing is the chief amusement in college, so unless you want to be a grind all the time, learn to dance.

10. Go out for activities. The more things you belong to and partici-

FRENCH FOOD TERMS NOW COMMON WORDS

Home Economics Dictionary Makes Dinner Menu Language a Simple Thing

"Au four" and "Blanc d'oeur" should never embarrass any home economics girl at Kansas State college when she sees them or similar words on a menu card. The department of food economics and nutrition in the division of home economics published a pamphlet this summer entitled "A Dictionary of Culinary and Related Terms".

This dictionary contains definitions and pronunciations of most words used in connection with foods and dietetics classes. It is an outgrowth of mimeograph copies that have been used in previous years of a few of the most difficult terms found in the different courses. The material for the publication was gathered by Dr. Martha Pittman and Miss Gladys Vail of the food economics and nutrition department. There have been many requests made on the part of students for this dictionary. Copies of this pamphlet may be purchased by anyone.

The members of the Home Economics division published another bulletin this summer. It is to be sent to prospective students or those interested in courses in that division. "The Kansas State College Bulletin" gives such information as the list of courses and equipment used in the home economics courses. General campus features are also included in the pamphlet.

pate in the better known you will be. You will also gain poise and ability.

11. Be careful in your choice of friends. Your friends mean "you" just as much as your appearance does. Without making yourself in the way, try to make friends among the girls and boys you consider superior to yourself. Have friends you would like to resemble.

12. Don't be afraid of cosmetics. Use some rouge during the day, but never too much. More lip stick can be used. Never let your nose or forehead shine. Keep a vanity, lip stick and comb in your purse. Perfume isn't advisable for the campus, but use some for parties if you like.

13. Good manners are still in style even to the extent of reading Emily Post once in awhile.

14. Watch your English. Poor speech marks a girl immediately. I don't mean you can't use slang, but don't make grammatical errors, such as "I give her that." "Have went" is the sin of all sins.

Good appearance consists in always watching yourself and in not letting things go until next time. Now, don't say I didn't tell you.

A HERO OF 1906 RECALLED

Roy Graves, K. S. Quarterback

Then, Now U. S. Dairy Chief

Cliff Stratton recalled in the Topeka Capital Sunday that Roy R. Graves, chief of the division of dairy cattle breeding, feeding, and management in the United States department of agriculture, is a former quarterback for Kansas State college and piloted the Wildcats to their first victory over K. U. in 1906. He weighed 225, but "can scoop a low ball off the ground almost as readily as he could 30 years ago."

From here he went to the faculty of Oregon Agricultural college and from there into the dairy husbandry division of the agricultural department. For a number of years he and his department associates have been seeking to determine whether it is economically feasible to feed dairy cattle on a ration of roughage alone, instead of adding grain.

Eric Montzambert of St. John's Episcopal church in Oklahoma City, Okla., Saturday, September 16. They were attended by Mr. and Mrs. Wm. T. Streeter, brother of the bridegroom. Mr. and Mrs. Streeter will be at the Black hotel in Oklahoma City for several days, where Mr. Streeter's brother is employed as chief clerk. Mrs. Streeter, formerly of Valley Center, Kans., has lived in Manhattan for the past two years, graduating last year from Manhattan high school. Mr. Streeter is probably better known as Paul Waller, leader of Paul Waller and his orchestra. Mr. and Mrs. Streeter will be at home at the Granada apartments, 1409 Laramie, after September 25.

C. D. Davis:—"Rye as a pasture plant has several advantages over wheat. It can be planted earlier with less danger of Hessian fly damage. It grows more vigorous at a low temperature, thus furnishing more late-fall, winter, and early-spring pasture. It withstands severe cold weather better. Rye may be planted for pasture any time from the middle of August to late in October with a reasonable chance of getting some pasture."

F. W. Bell: "Liberal feeding and comfortable quarters will help considerably in reducing the cost of raising fall pigs. If fall pigs are accustomed to eating grain before they are weaned, their gains will be faster and cheaper after weaning. However, young pigs will not make economical gains unless they are comfortably housed during cold or wet weather."

FOOTBALL MEN HARD AT WORK UNDER NRA IDEA

KANSAS STATE SQUAD ENTERS SECOND WEEK OF PRACTICE

DIVIDED INTO TWO SHIFTS

Frank Root Returns to Work to Help Develop Brawn and Speed in the Wildcat
Players

With the first week of practice under their belts, the Kansas State grid squad is going into the second week of drill in good condition in anticipation of the hard workouts ahead of them.

Most of last week was spent in conditioning exercises and offensive drills. Numerous plays were given out for execution. Much of the time was spent in teaching the new players the intricate McMillin system.

The week's work was climaxed last Saturday afternoon by the first scrimmage of the fall session. Each of the two shifts into which the squad is divided under the NRA plan went through an hour and a half of scrimmage. Offensive work was stressed.

Head Coach Bo McMillin's comments on last week's drills were that the boys were working hard and that the squad as a whole was far advanced at this time in their training as they have been in former years. As much had been accomplished as he had expected, and the entire squad was ambitious and was working hard. Bo explained his satisfaction of the split shift system of practice as he could teach more boys more football than under the old system.

Much of the practice this week will be devoted to forward passing and kicking, along with defensive work. Assistant Coach Frank Root turned out for practice for the first time yesterday after his recent illness.

Freshman Coach Swede Anderson started to work yesterday on his freshman squad. A meeting was held last night and uniforms are now being checked out. The first practice for the frosh will probably be sometime this week.

So far approximately 60 freshmen have indicated that they would turn out for practice. This list is not complete and the positions are those indicated by the candidates. Among these are about 22 backfield men, ranging in weight from 137 to 200 pounds. The six centers weigh from 155 to 190 pounds. Twelve guards range from 125 to 185 pounds. Ten tackles range from 155 to 205, and the ten ends from 137 to 175. Setting up exercises, limbering exercises, and the teaching of plays will be the first work of the frosh.

Women's Sports

The intramural schedule for women's sports for the first nine weeks will include three sports, tennis, horseback riding, and golf. Intramurals are open to all women students, regardless of whether or not they are enrolled in regular physical education classes. Only a heart and lung examination is required for those entering, and each girl may enter any two of the three sports offered. The poster for entrants will be posted on the bulletin board in the women's gym the last of the week, and those interested are asked to sign for intramurals.

Horseback riding may be offered for regular work in the women's physical education department this fall if enough girls are interested in the course. It will be offered only for the first nine weeks, according to Miss Helen Saum, professor in the department, and will be held Monday, Wednesday, at four o'clock, and Tuesday, Thursday, at the same hour, in the city park.

"Cost of the course," Miss Saum said, "will be about seven dollars. It includes fourteen lessons, and will consist purely of beginners' work. No one able to ride will be eligible."

Girls who are interested in the sport should see Miss Saum about it this week.

Big Six Grid Notes

By Richard Fowler
Nebraska

The 1933 Cornhusker football squad held its first scrimmage of the season Saturday afternoon, with four full teams taking part. The first and second teams emerged victors over the reserves, 27-0. Nebraska has nearly four weeks of practice remaining yet before its first game scheduled for Oct. 13 with the University of Texas.

Oklahoma university opened its gridiron scrimmage sessions Saturday with a practice game against the freshman squad. The Sooners easily defeated the frosh 7-0, with sophomores figuring chiefly in the victory. Oklahoma opens its regular season on Sept. 30 against Vanderbilt, one of the strongest teams in the South.

Kansas Jayhawk gridgers, their opening game with Wabash Teachers of Missouri this coming Saturday, are scrimmaging daily as Head Coach Ad Lindsey endeavors to find a combination with a punch to open the season. Kansas will rely mainly on experienced men in the first game at least.

Iowa State The loss of Harold Templeton, star Cyclone end of the past two seasons, through the recurrence of an old knee injury, cast a heavy gloom over the Iowa State football camp last week, but the good showing of several other men in scrimmage sessions has again raised hopes for a victory over Central college in the season opener Sept. 23.

Missouri With the varsity squad reduced to the first and second teams and reserves, Coach Frank Carideo is shaping a powerful-looking gridiron machine for the opening game of the season Oct. 6 with Central Teachers. Those remaining on the squad are about half experienced men and the remainder sophomores. Lettermen predominate in the line-up, with the sophomores forming strong reserves.

Old Mining Camp Becomes Vacation Ground in Summer

The small, out-of-the-way, mountain town of Gold Hill, Colo., is 8,000 feet above sea level. It is the town where gold was first discovered and in its heyday was producing $90,000 worth of gold a day. All that is left of that "rip roaring" town where gold was first discovered is 32 which in the summer increases to about 150. There remains also the canyon where the gold was mined.

Miss Katherine Bower of the English department spent nine weeks in Gold Hill this summer and found it an ideal place for reading, study, rest, and work. She had access to the Boulder university library, which is twelve miles from Gold Hill. It has not the hustle and bustle of a tourist camp—not in the least "dance hallish."

Miss Ada Rice, also of the English department, spent three weeks here and found it a delightful place for hikes. She spent a large part of her time in writing a text for her short story class. She declares that this one-time mining town is now a busy place for busy people.

Dean Margaret Justin of the home economics department with Miss Quinlan as her guest, spent the month of August in Gold Hill. They spent the time taking trips around the vicinity of Gold Hill. Dr. Justin also spent some time working on a new text for the department. Previous to their stay at Gold Hill, Dean Justin and Miss Quinlan attended the American Home Economics association meeting in Milwaukee, Wisconsin.

The marriage of Miss Lucille Uhlrig, daughter of Mr. Wm. Uhlrig, to Mr. Loren F. ungeheuer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank ungeheuer of Centerville, took place Thursday, June 22, at 12 o'clock at the home of the bride's father. The Rev. Heitman of St. John's Lutheran church, read the ring ceremony before an arch banked with ferns and garden flowers. Both Mr. ungeheuer and the bride are bachelor of science graduates of Kansas State college where the former is a member of Alpha Gamma Rho fraternity. He is now in the chicken hatchery business in St. Marys.

Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Gerber of Meriden announce the marriage of their daughter, Floy Elinor, to Mr. Robert S. Koon, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Koon of Manhattan, Sunday, June 18, at Platte City, Missouri. After a short stay in Kansas City, Mr. and Mrs. Koon returned to Meriden, where they were entertained with a reception at the home of the bride's parents. Mrs. Koon attended Washburn college where she was a pledge of Zeta Tau Alpha. She was graduated from the University of Kansas for the past six years she has been a popular member of the Manhattan senior high school faculty. Mr. Koon attended both Hays State and Kansas State colleges. He is a member of Alpha Rho Chi, national architectural fraternity. At present he is owner and manager of the Wareham Tailor shop. Mr. and Mrs. Koon will be at home in Manhattan after the fifteenth of August.

STATE LAND CONFERENCE

Problems Will Be Discussed at Meeting to be Held October 20 and 21

Kansas State college will be host October 20 and 21 to a state-wide land utilization conference according to an announcement made yesterday by Dr. W. E. Grimes, head of the department of agricultural economics.

The purpose of the conference is to discuss problems having to do with the profitable use of the land. An understanding of these problems is believed essential to the development of efficient methods of land utilization. Policies dealing with crop and livestock production methods and practices, credit taxation, agriculture adjustment, tenancy, exports, conservation of land and water resources, and related problems will be discussed.

The conference will be held the last two days of the week of the annual convention at the college. "This date was selected," Doctor Grimes said, "in order to make it possible for all extension workers in the state to attend the conference. It is hoped that many of the presidents and officers of the county farm bureaus will attend both the extension and land utilization conferences."

Gov. Alf M. Landon will give the opening address at the meeting which replaces the land valuation conference held annually at the college for a number of years. The leaders of the valuation conference suggested the change this year in order to discuss broader problems. The land valuation conference may be continued later on, possibly in a modified form, Doctor Grimes stated.

"This conference is in line with other similar movements under way in various parts of the United States," Dr. Grimes revealed. "A National Land Use Planning committee has been at work for more than a year. President F. D. Roosevelt is chairman of this national committee. President Farrell is taking an active part in planning the coming conference at Kansas State and he will have an important part in the program. His active participation in the national program for effective land use insures that this Kansas conference will benefit by his broad knowledge of the problems involved in securing effective land use."

The conference will begin at 10 o'clock Friday morning in the college auditorium, will continue through the day and that evening there will be a banquet. National authorities will speak at the banquet. The conference will continue Saturday forenoon and adjourn at noon in time for all to attend the football game between Kansas State and Nebraska university.

End Problem is Worrying Tiger and Sooner Coaches

(By Milfred Peters)

Reports flowing in from several Big Six schools indicate that the problem of ends will be an important one in the current grid race. The situation at the University of Oklahoma seems to be the worst of all. On his entire squad Head Coach Lewis Hardage does not have a single leftman or squad man back at end. And in addition to that he has only four ends who look like they'll be any good at all, Jack Harris, Jeff Oker, Mutt Miller, and John Miskovsky. Most of these have never played end except in spring grid practice.

Coach George F. Veenker at Iowa State has a problem similar to Hardage's. He has only one veteran endman. The loss of Harold Templeton put a crimp into the wing situation, as he was the only letterman back. Coach Veenker has transferred Ed Schafroth to an end position in an attempt to remedy this weakness. Schafroth won his major letter last year in the backfield. This year Veenker had planned to use him at guard.

At the University of Missouri, Head Coach Frank Carideo has a case almost the reverse of these two. The youthful Tiger mentor has four returning wingmen who have lettered. One of these is Charles Schiele, this year's captain.

There won't be any complimentary passes to Sooner grid games this year because the University of Oklahoma athletic council has voted to abolish them in an effort to take up the deficit on their stadium bond payments. This should go a long way in cutting down football expenses, because the issuance of free tickets costs money. The Big Six conference rules say that each complimentary ticket must be considered as a cash ticket when a division of gate receipts with visiting teams is made. And when they are issued during the whole grid season, it runs into money.

When questioned about the new football rules that will go into effect this fall, George Veenker, director of athletics and head coach of football at Iowa State, said, "I have always believed in letting rules alone."

While commenting on the sideline rule, he contended that while the rule will eliminate the wasting of a play in getting out of bounds it will also considerably diminish the advantage of superior strategy. Veenker also contends that the formation of new rules does not necessarily mean progress. Many of the new rules originate as nothing else but publicity rackets for various coaches. Here's an example he gives: "A few years ago rulemakers wanted less throwing around of the ball and inflicted a penalty for the second incomplete pass in the same series of downs. This year many are advocating a forward pass thrown from any point behind the line of scrimmage, as used in the recent East-West battle, a rule that will encourage passing."

And in closing this was his parting thrust, "There are so many sideline and end zone rules in effect now that about all we'll be doing soon is wearing out the grass down the middle of the gridiron."

The Cyclones plan to have a colorful homecoming at Ames, October 28 when they play the Missouri Tigers. In addition to the brilliance of the homecoming scene, the Cyclones will be garbed in the traditional scarlet jersey instead of the navy blue one worn during the last two seasons. They will also don scarlet for the game with Kansas at Lawrence. For the remaining seven games Iowa State will wear their navy blue uniforms.

A poster campaign is being carried on by each Big Six school in an effort to do away with profanity. Here is what the poster in the Kansas State dressing room says: "Your coaches and all the Big Six staffs feel that profanity in our games is neither manly, sporting, nor good advertising. Each one of our opponents is campaigning to keep this out of our contests. Let's have Kansas State set a pace in this."

Sollenberger-Gemmell

A beautiful mid-summer wedding was solemnized at 3 o'clock Sunday afternoon, August 6, in the First Methodist church when Miss Dorothy Sollenberger became the bride of Mr. Lee Gemmell. Rev. B. A. Rogers, student pastor of the Methodist church, read the single ring service in the presence of a large number of relatives and friends. They will be at home in the Seneca apartments. Mrs. Gemmell attended Kansas State and has been employed in the department of education. She is a member of Kappa Delta sorority. Mr. Gemmell is a Manhattan high school graduate. He holds a bachelor of science degree in engineering and a master's degree in education, both from Kansas State college. Last year he taught in the high school at Cuba and has been employed to teach in the Maple Hill high school this year. He is a member of Phi Kappa Tau fraternity and Phi Delta Kappa, honorary education fraternity.

DAIRY PRODUCTS JUDGING TEAM PLACES SECOND

KANSAS STATE TRIO HIGH IN THE CHICAGO CONTEST MONDAY

WIN TWO SCHOLARSHIPS

17 Three-Man Teams From as Many Colleges Were Entered in Competition

Competing Monday in the annual intercollegiate contest at Chicago, Kansas State's dairy products judging team took second place while two of the three members of the team collected a $600 scholarship. Seventeen three-man teams representing as many different colleges were entered in the contest. Ohio State was first in the team placings.

Plus Hostetler, Harper, and Harley Chilson, Oberlin, were second and third high individuals in judging all products. Each was awarded a $600 scholarship for advanced work in the field of dairy manufacturing. The scholarships may be used at any one of several recognized schools and were offered by the Dairy-Ice Cream Machinery corporation. To be eligible for the scholarships, a student must be enrolled in the department of dairy-husbandry.

Other members of the team, one of whom acted as alternate, were Wayne Jacobs, Harper, and Everett Byers, Hepler, Prof. W. H. Martin of the department of dairy-husbandry is coach of the team.

The Kansas team placed second in judging milk, fifth on ice cream, and seventh on cheese and butter. This is the second consecutive year the Kansas State team has placed second in this contest.

The annual contest comes as a climax to many hours of work during which the students' trying out for the team become experts in judging the relative merits of cheese, butter, ice cream, and milk by the taste, odor, and texture of these products. Last year, the contest was held in Detroit.

A Kansas State co-ed recently spent several hours writing a letter to a friend in Chicago which included 16 pages. . . . She wrote it all out in long-hand. . . . and it got by with a three-cent stamp. . . . Fewer and fewer students are found in Aggieville these nights as school swings into action. . . . The usual gang, however, in drugstores and hamburger shops puts some life into Aggieville in the early evening hours. . . . Those who believed that Kansas State co-eds would not be riding bicycles to college this winter are mistaken. . . . The bicycle fad, like jigsaw puzzles and yo-yos, is coming into its own. . . . Leonard Carrel, editor of the Kansas State engineer, began his literary career as a contributor to the magazine two years ago. . . . He resents anyone referring to the magazine as "the engineers' scrapbook". . . . The college mixer tonight in the gymnasium is an outstanding event in the school year, according to Joe Knappenberger, treasurer of the student council, and in charge of the entertainment. . . . There's going to be plenty of fun at tonight's mixer, and you'll feel like kicking yourself if you don't go. . . . R. L. Parker, a man about the campus, had to borrow a dollar from a member of the agricultural division, before he could finish enrolling. The K-Men began their high-pressure of freshmen students yesterday morning in Anderson hall in a final drive to sell more freshman caps and carry on the old tradition of Kansas State. . . . The caps were lowered in price this year from one dollar to six-bits. . . . After all the caps are sold, the real troubles for the K-men will begin in trying to enforce the rule compelling the freshmen to wear the caps. . . .

CONGO GROUP TO HEAR HILL Dr. Randall C. Hill of the department of sociology will speak at the Congregational Goodfellowship society meeting in the church parlors Sunday evening at 6:30. His subject will be "Christianity and Social Problems."

HOLD FIRST "K" MEETING FRESHMEN FINISH TESTS

Bo McMillin Will Sponsor Athletic Fraternity This Year

A reorganization of the "K" fraternity was the theme of a meeting of the athletic organization last night in the "K" room of Nichols gymnasium. In the initial meeting of the school year, "Bo" McMillin, who was recently appointed sponsor of the fraternity by Pres. F. D. Farrell, and members of the organization met for a discussion of the plans for the coming season.

It was decided at the meeting last evening to hold "K" fraternity meetings on the second and fourth Thursdays of each month during the school year. All members of "K" fraternity who did not attend the first meeting held last night, are urged by officials of the organization to attend the scheduled meetings which will be held during the coming months.

Officers of "K" fraternity this year are Ralph Graham, El Dorado, president; Don Landon, Topeka, vice-president; and Bus Boyd, Phillipsburg, secretary-treasurer.

SENIOR ENGINEERS PLAN TRIP

Thirty Students May Visit Century of Progress Exposition

Plans for senior engineers to attend the Century of Progress Exposition at Chicago are now being completed. The trip will be a substitute for the required senior inspection trip which usually comes in the spring.

The groups expect to leave Manhattan October 7 and return October 14. Reduced fares have been obtained both as to travel and hotel accommodations, which will make the trip very inexpensive. So far about 30 senior electricals and 12 mechanicals have indicated their desire to take this trip.

Charlie Chase was excused from the college hospital yesterday. He had been ill with a cold.

Beautiful Oil Painting Now in Library Gallery

(By Max Burk)

How certain women can give forth so many gestures and exclamations of admiration over a small vase is entirely beyond the mental grasp of most men. But certainly not beyond that of Francis C. Jones who, in his painting "The Vase," the latest addition to the gallery in the college library, has pictured the admiration of two young ladies over such a small vase at its peak.

The painting comes to Kansas State college by way of a $400,000 fund left by Henry W. Ranger which is administered by the council of the National Academy of Design. "The Vase" along with 17 other noteworthy paintings was purchased by the council to be displayed in American institutions that are open to the public.

During the period beginning 10 years after the death of the artist and ending 15 years after his death, the painting may be taken without cost by the National Gallery at Washington, administered by the Smithsonian Institute. If the painting is not taken within the specified five-year period, it becomes the permanent property of the institution displaying it. Since its painter,

COLLEGE MIXER THE ALL SCHOOL PARTY OF YEAR

EVERYBODY IS INVITED TO THE BIGGEST SOCIAL EVENT ON THE HILL

ELABORATE FUN PROGRAM

Here's Where You Can Get Acquainted and Get a Big Kick Out of Annual Rally

Boys! Get acquainted with that girl who smiled at you during registration. Girls! Get dated up for the next ten varsities. Freshmen! Get yourself recognized. Old students! Renew former friendships. Everybody meet everybody else at the student-faculty mixer at Nichols Gym tonight beginning at eight o'clock.

Don't stay away because you don't want to play lose your supper and drop the handkerchief. The games, which in previous years have been something of a bugbear to so many, have this year been discontinued and other entertainment, calculated to prove more entertaining to the college student, has been substituted.

The program will open with that good old way of getting everybody in a friendly, informal spirit—group singing. Everyone likes to sing in a crowd, even if he doesn't know what a tune is, because there are hundreds just like him.

The Lillian Amos school of dancing will present some dance numbers, with clever new costumes and steps, following the group singing. Stunts and even a movie have been scheduled to add to the gaiety of the affair. Amusing and clever skits will make you roar with laughter, and the antics of the kids in "Our Gang Comedy" will keep you amused throughout the entire showing of the film. A colored quartet will also be featured and all the old songs, some funny, some sad, but all appealing, will be presented to tonight's mixer crowds.

Everyone likes dancing, too. There will be plenty of it during the latter part of the evening, on a good floor with good music. If you are weak on dancing, here is a good opportunity for practice. And—you may come to the mixer by yourself, but we'll bet you that when the dance is over, you won't go home alone.

Dr. H. H. King, head of the department of chemistry, will announce the numbers, in his own inimitable way. You may know Doc as a chemistry prof—come meet him as the life of the party tonight.

The mixer has been planned by a committee composed of Prof. C. E. Moll, chairman, and Alice Wilsey, Katherine Knechtel, Joe Knappenberger, and Bill Gildersleeve. They have put lots of time and energy into making it a success, and the only compensation they ask is that everybody turns out in a big way for the student-faculty mixer.

Several upperclassmen living in a boarding house on Blue-mont avenue are trying hard to enforce fraternity rules on freshmen students living there. . . . One freshman is being ostracized for his refusal to obey. . . . Incidentally, most of the occupants of the house are fraternity pledges. . . . The new no-credit rule in force in Aggieville is causing embarrassment to some of our most accomplished jellies. . . . Public speaking students should listen to Bo McMillin at football practice these days. . . . One of the better jokes going the rounds these days is the one about the workmen who are lifting the concrete from Poyntz avenue because it is in the road. . . . Pat Murphy, senior engineer, hitchhiked from Chicago to Kansas City this summer and made better time than some other Kansas State students who left at the same time and drove. . . . Lela Ruth Oliver, an Alpha Xi pledge, frightened a burglar away from the house the other night. . . . The prowler nearly fell off the fire escape when he heard her screams. . . . Probably the beetle. . . .

MIXER ANNOUNCEMENT

The committee in charge of the student-faculty mixer tonight is anxious to get a larger attendance of college women. In previous years there has been a decided shortage of women students which was especially noticeable for the dancing part of the program. Kansas Aggie tradition does not require formal introductions at this particular event. We hope to see all college women present.—The Committee.

Upperclassmen and "K" Men Will Meet Today To Enforce Tradition

All upperclassmen have been invited by members of "K" fraternity to aid them today in the first of a series of paddling events for freshmen of the college.

All freshmen men who are careless about the old tradition of the college in wearing purple caps will meet face to face with "K" men and other upperclassmen armed with paddles at the gates of the campus today. Students interested in the paddling of freshmen and enforcement of college "cap-wearing" rules will meet at 12:30 o'clock today at the campus gates and in Aggieville to see that the tradition is carried out.

SORORITIES PLAN FOR ROYAL PURPLE PHOTOS

Yearbook Pictures Will Be Snapped Next Week; One Day To Each Group

The 1934 Royal Purple, school yearbook, will launch its year's photographic work Monday, by taking individual pictures of sorority members for the next two weeks. The photographs will be made by Ruby M. Furney, owner of the Studio Royal in Aggieville. One day will be allotted to each sorority for sittings in accordance with the cards and instructions which have been sent to the presidents of the organizations by Clay Reppert, business manager of the Royal Purple.

Each member of the sorority will go to the Royal Purple office in Anderson on or before the appointed day to obtain her receipt and then call the Studio Royal for an appointment on the respective sorority day. This slip purchased at the Royal Purple office must be presented at the Studio Royal before the pictures can be taken. The proofs will be finished within two days after the taking and returned within three days. Resittings must be taken within ten days after the original or extra charges will be made in accordance with the contract.

The Alpha Delta Pi sorority will be the first organization to make appointments and will begin Monday. Alpha Xi Delta's will have their sittings Tuesday, Chi Omega, Wednesday, Delta Delta Delta, Thursday, Kappa Delta, Friday, Kappa Kappa Gamma, Monday, Pi Beta Phi, Tuesday, Zeta Tau Alpha, Wednesday, and Clovia, Thursday.

"The color and make of dress will not make much difference in the finished photograph," says Miss Furney, "but do not wear a figured dress because of the speckled appearance it gives the finished photograph. It is necessary to have only medium colored lips and slightly rouged cheeks for a successful picture."

Each sorority is to appoint a photo-editor to see that each member makes the appointment for the sitting and returns the proof at the specified time so as to avoid mistakes and confusion.

KANSAS STATE STUDENTS URGED TO SUPPORT NRA

STUDENT - FACULTY FORUM HELD LAST NIGHT IN RECREATION CENTER

TALKS BY BOUCK, REPERT

Foundation Laid for All-School Drive of Next Tuesday and Wednesday

Voicing a stirring appeal to the student body of Kansas State to do its part, Clay Reppert, president of the student council, and H. W. Bouck, secretary of the Manhattan chamber of commerce, last night laid the foundation for the all-school NRA drive to take place Tuesday and Wednesday of next week. The two speakers addressed the student-faculty forum in recreation center.

Comparing the present war on the depression with the World War, Clay Reppert said, "This war is just as dangerous as any other war. Only to win this war, we do not need blind fanaticism but courageous sanity."

"I'm for the NRA," continued Reppert, "because it has really put men back to work. In Manhattan, 200 more men are now drawing pay than were before the NRA went into effect."

Bouck praised Dynamis for undertaking the NRA campaign. "Nothing could be more helpful," he said. He urged students to attend the student assembly next Tuesday at which Arthur F. Peine, president of the chamber of commerce and head of the local NRA organization, will speak on "Peace-time Patriotism."

Both Reppert and Bouck emphasized the affirmative side of the consumers' pledge which Kansas State students will be asked to sign early next week. The pledge reads, "I will cooperate in reemployment by patronizing employers and workers who are members of the NRA."

"This means," said Bouck, "exactly what it says. This is not a boycott but a pledge of support and loyalty."

The chamber of commerce representative emphasized that under the NRA, business, not the government, writes the codes for business. "This is the final opportunity for business to regulate its own affairs," he said.

Bouck stated as his opinion that the responsibility for the lowering of prices below the level at which the producers could obtain a fair wage must be divided equally between business and consumers. Certainly business reduced purchasing power by increasing unemployment, but consumers forced prices down by refusing to buy.

"We are all in this together," said Bouck, "and we can recover prosperity only by working together."

Paul Blackwood, chairman of the student-faculty forum committee and treasurer of Dynamis, presided at the meeting.

THE ACTIVITY FEE

The uproar among students at the beginning of the semester after the payment of the activity books is quietly dying down. The situation is not a dilemma. The bare facts that students paid five dollars for the activity books, just as they had done in past years, do not justify a creation of hard feeling against the athletic department.

Many students revolted against the payment of the books after those in charge of the admission prices of football and basketball games lowered the season tickets for townspeople to three dollars. Other students feel they are being duped in the payment of the books because there are only three games of football and basketball listed on the schedule.

Those who are screaming the loudest against the payment of the fees are the ones who believe that the entire five dollars paid for the books is turned over to the athletic department of the college. The real fact is that the athletic department gets only 72 per cent of the total amount paid by individual students. Twelve other active campus organizations are apportioned small parts of the remaining 28 per cent of the resources received from the sale of the books to students. Many of these organizations could not carry out their annual work except for the money obtained each year from the sale of activity books. The students, therefore, really obtain more for their money than the football and basketball games listed in the activity books.

All students are effected some way or other in the various organizations receiving money from the activity fee. The stock judging team each year receives four per cent of the total amount of money collected. Others benefitted by the sale of the books are dairy judging teams, 1.73 per cent; apple judging teams, 1.03 per cent; poultry judging, .8 per cent; meats judging, 1.03 per cent; band and orchestra, 5.92 per cent; debate, 4.5 per cent; oratory, 1.27 per cent; grain judging, 1.03 per cent; student governing association, 5.79 per cent, and the glee club, 9 per cent.

Everyone knows that this is another year of hard financial knocks and an apparent seasonable time for scarce coins. No one denies that he is cutting down on expenses and getting by as cheaply as possible. But the cost of the activity books has been paid. Those who have been howling about the amount of money paid for the books should remember that the fee has a bigger and a much better aim than merely taking five dollars from the student and using it for a single purpose.

THE MANHATTAN THEATRE

The decline of the Manhattan Theatre—evident to anyone who has been interested in this institution the last three years—is an event of tragic significance. Clearly, H. Miles Heberer, the director, is not responsible for the theatre's present deplorable state. It was Mr. Heberer who directed the excellent theatre presentations of a few years ago. Nor can the responsibility be charged to the department of public speaking, which has backed the institution since its establishment. No, the responsibility rests with the students of Kansas State.

Institutions such as this one are supported entirely by the active interest taken in them in the communities in which they exist. Perhaps more than any other art-form, the dramatic arts are limited by mass-reactions. Unless it be subsidized, a theatre cannot exist otherwise than by following the tastes of its audiences. If the theatre patrons would rather see three Hollywood machine-made productions than one honest dramatic work, honestly interpreted, then the theatre to exist must bow to the will of those patrons.

This is what has happened in the case of the Manhattan Theatre. A few years ago, the theatre was charging $1.00 a ticket for each play—or $3.50 for five plays if a season ticket were purchased—and was presenting plays by O'Neill and Shaw and by such lesser lights as Philip Barry, Channing Pollock, A. A. Milne, and Frank Morner. Last year, the theatre charged twenty-five cents a play and presented such stuff as "Easy Come—Easy Go" and one or two "blood-curdling mystery dramas." And last year the attendance at Manhattan Theatre productions must have at least doubled.

To say that this increased attendance is due to the reduced price is but another way of saying that Kansas State students don't know a good thing when they see it. "The Emperor Jones"—which, when presented a few years ago was but meagerly attended—is worth any number of comedy-mysteries of the usual sort. The fact that Kansas State students can't see it now, as has been said, tragic—and obvious—implication.

As a matter of fact, stage productions can't compete with motion-pictures in the field of melodrama because of the limitations inherent in the stage technique. Better that the Manhattan Theatre do not try. If the theatre, no matter what the reason, cannot present the work of honest craftsmen, it has no valid excuse for existing.

Book Review

PAGEANT

G. B. Lancaster

(Reviewed by Ruth Wilkerson)

Pageant is a novel which should please both the smart young sophisticates and the lovers of classic style. The author has placed what might have been an involved and burdensome sociological study in a suavely charming tale.

The plot is concerned with an English convict colony in which a few gentlemen attempt to control a seething majority of unruly criminals. The superficiality of English people of culture and their attempt to gain footing in a new and difficult country are portrayed through the lives of two families—the Comyns and the Sorleys.

The characters in Pageant are unusually well drawn. Especially effective is the character of Madam Comyn, who reigns majestically over her family for forty years. The character of Mabille, her favorite son, and of Jenny, her favorite granddaughter are refreshing and interesting. The character of Snow, the convict artist, and of Aunt Ellen who remains "unplucked," also add much to the simple charm of the book.

Outside of political intrigue, a convict uprising, and the curtailed love affairs of several of the characters, very little happens. However, the way in which the colony comes to life during its three periods, colonizing, civilizing, and realizing, will prove of interest to those who do not look too much for realism or too much for romance.

From the standpoint of style, I should say that Pageant is one of the best written novels of the last year. The style is characterized by precise diction and sparkling figures. At the same time, one does not flounder in smartly rhetoric in an effort to get through the book. Pageant is all in all a very pleasant, entertaining novel.

The Snooper

One farmer lad has been terribly disillusioned. He came to college to partake in dramatic productions such as H. Miles Heberer dishes out. But his secret practicing of facial contortions that would portray passion, politeness, and plurality to audiences of productions such as "Strange Interlude," and "Rebecca of Sunnybrook Farm" was all in vain. H. Miles Heberer yesterday confessed that he had a yen to produce "The Old Homestead."

Another feud this year between Stratford, Partner and Swede Lutz for the affections of a Pi Beta Phi has been waxing fro and to. Swede has the edge because he nearly has learned "Horacio at the Tressle" from Walt Bell. Dan Partner and Stratford have been losing ground because they sit around and "talk shop" all of the time.

A fragment of a note that Margaret Reddy had in her compact—"Remember I have a date with you always—" just then Reddy tore it up so that Jane Kahl couldn't read the rest of it.

Mark Kannal has started upon a journalistic (?) career by writing Nibblings. The sketch may contain items about foreign politics and the NRA but Mark will be very intellectual in the fulfillment of his purpose. Some call him "Nibblings" but he says he'd rather be called "Nubbin" for short.

Can you imagine Cotton Tietze and Jaconette Lawrence wrestling on a davenport? It's a fact—and Cotton, old cave man and dirty rusher that he is, threw our modest little Jac against the arm of the above said davenport and scored a touch-down.

Badluck, The Freshman

Dear Ma and Pa:

Say, pop, they have sure got some funny things here on the campus. There is a couple of big tall round things over by the auditorium that look like silos, but I don't know what they built the silos by the auditorium for unless its to prove that this is a agriculture college. But I'll bet those silos would sure hold a lot of alfalfa though, because they are about as high as the auditorium and the auditorium is about twice as big as our red barn. I am going to find out how they make silos like that because one of these things would sure be handy to store alfalfa on our farm next summer.

A feller told me the other day that some of the teachers here at the college have shot-guns to the students every once in a while, so I am going to try to get a good gun from my rhetoric teacher. I ask my chemistry teacher when all the students would get shot-guns, but I guess he wants to surprise us because he wouldn't tell me. I am going to try to get one of my teachers to give me one of those big cannons in front of Nichols gymnasium instead of a shot-gun, because grandpa has got ole gun already.

All of us freshmen had to choose up sides last Wednesday in the auditorium and take some commencing tests which are supposed to test our intelligence. I told all the teachers that I had my diploma hung up in my room and could prove that I could answer all the questions but I had to take them anyway. There must have been about 500 freshmen there, but I think I was about the toughest one who took the examinations because I was the only feller that didn't wear no freshman cap.

Badluck.

AN ART GALLERY JOB

Robert Lockard, Former Instructor, Will Work in Nelson Institute

Robert Lockard, a former instructor in the department of architecture, has accepted a position as personal assistant to Paul Gardner, director of the William Rockhill Nelson Art Gallery, Kansas City, Mo. Lockard left Monday evening for Kansas City, where preparations are being made for the formal opening of the gallery in December.

Lockard is best known in college circles through his water colors, which have won recognition in exhibitions such as: Midwestern Artists' exhibition, held annually in Kansas City; the Society of Independent Artists in New York City; the College Art Association Student exhibit, New York City; the traveling collections of the Kansas State Federation of Art, and the Kansas Artists' show, sponsored annually by the architecture department.

Lockard's one-man show of water colors last spring drew many visitors to the gallery of the architecture department. The variety of scenes, strong color contrasts, and beautiful composition of his pieces aroused enthusiastic response in those who viewed the collection and made his exhibition one of the most popular of the season.

Obtaining his bachelor's degree here in 1930, Lockard became a graduate assistant in the architecture department and continued his work for a master's degree, which he received in 1932. Last year he was a temporary instructor in the department of architecture, taking the place of T. J. Ware, who was away on leave.

As an undergraduate, Lockard received awards in inter-collegiate competitions in architectural design from the Beaux Arts Institute, New York, and in his senior year was awarded a medal by the American Institute of Architects for general excellence in architecture.

WILDCATS RUN THROUGH STIFF GRID SESSIONS

BLOCKING AND PASS DEFENSE ARE STRESSED THIS WEEK

RUSSELL CHECKS OUT SUIT

Varsity Versus Freshmen in Scrimmage Tomorrow Afternoon—Practice Punting and Placements

Working under the guiding reigns of Head Coach Bo McMillin and Assistant Coaches Frank Root, Ward Haylett, and Chilli Cochran, the Kansas State grid squad is going through strong defensive practices this week.

The arrival of Dougal Russell, back, was greeted with some surprise in the Wildcat camp this week, as it has been reported that he would not be in school this year. As yet he is not eligible to play.

Tomorrow afternoon the Kansas State varsity will take the offensive against the new crop of freshmen in a stiff scrimmage.

While Coach McMillin is busy teaching the backfield candidates various fundamentals in blocking and running, Coach Frank Root has been working out with the line-men. Much of the half hour period when both squads of the split shift system are on the field has been taken up with scrimmages this week. Fairly stiff scrimmages were held Tuesday and Wednesday afternoons.

Coach McMillin has been using various combinations during the scrimmage sessions. Some of the more promising candidates that have been getting in on the work are Blaine, Hanson, Harter, Wertzberger, Freeland, Forbes, Munal, Flentrop, and McNeal on the line, and Captain Graham, Stoner, Morgan, Bushby, Doll, Edwards, Churchill, Weller, in the backfield. Others taking part are Wiseman, Brookover, Griffing, Darnell, Armstrong, and Abbott.

Yesterday's practice was a workout on pass defense. It also turned out to be some practicing on passing with Stoner and Morgan throwing the ball. In punting practice

Russell, Stoner, and Churchill have been getting off some good backs. Graham has also been working out on place kicking, making good a large percentage of his tries. Several of the Wildcats are on the casualty list, but their ailments are only of a minor nature. In blocking practice Wednesday Raymond Doll, back, got the muscles in his shoulder bruised and was not in uniform yesterday. Lloyd Sconce is still limping around with a sore knee. George Maddox, tackle, is still on the sidelines with an infection, but will probably be back in uniform soon.

Big Six Grid Notes

(By Richard Fowler)

Nebraska
Coach Dana K. Bible is stressing blocking a great deal in this week's practice sessions at the University of Nebraska, as a result of the poor showing in this department during last Saturday's practice game with the Husker freshmen. Sauer, Masterson, Boswell, and Munier, all veterans, are now holding the first string backfield positions, and running behind a fast-charging line composed chiefly of experienced men. This aggregation rolled up three touchdowns during a short scrimmage against the fresh Wednesday, Sauer scoring two of the markers.

Oklahoma
Oklahoma is slated to be the sophomore team of the Big Six this season, with just enough veterans appearing in the lineup to steady the team under fire. One Sooners will spend the rest of the week and most of next in hard scrimmage sessions behind locked gates, anticipating a plenty tough game in their opener with Vanderbilt September 30.

Kansas
The Kansas University gridsters are tapering off for their game this week—end against Warrensburg Teachers with light scrimmages and signal practice. Earlier in the week the Jayhawk power house attack showed up well in scrimmage with the "B" squad, Ormand Beach and Ed Hall doing most of the ball carrying. They will probably team with Nesmith and Dumm in the backfield Saturday, behind a line consisting entirely of veterans. Though several sophomores have been showing up well, they probably will not start the game.

Iowa State
Iowa State faces its opening game with Central College Saturday with the entire squad free from injuries and high in morale. The probable starting Cyclone line will average 185 pounds and the back-field about 170. Coach Veenker is depending upon his veteran line to open up holes enabling his light but fast backfield to get into the open where it can show its speed. So he has been working on blocking chiefly.

Missouri
Coach Frank Carideo is attacking the outstanding weaknesses in the Missouri passing attack this week, working Stuber, Hatfield, and Faurot on the throwing end with four ends as receivers. The Tigers are showing up better in scrimmage than they have for the past several years.

AUKER WINS SECOND MAJOR LEAGUE GAME

Former Kansas State Athlete Limits Philadelphia Team to Six Scattered Hits

Elden Auker, former Kansas State three-sport athlete, won his second major league baseball game yesterday when the Detroit Tigers sub-merged the Philadelphia Athletics 10-3. Auker held the Athletics to six scattered hits, struck out two, and walked one man. In winning his game, Auker went the full nine innings.

Wildcat Ball Luggers Named on Check List

(Milfred Peters)
Presenting a composite list of most of the eligibles for the 1933 all-American football team, Football Annual Athletic magazine, gathers under one head some of the most brilliant grid stars in the United States. These heroes of the gridiron will headline the sport pages of the nation all through the season, because they are the cream of the 1933 crop. They were not selected in a haphazard way, as the vote of experts from coast to coast has nominated them for the high ranks of stardom. And above all each man has proved his ability in actual major competition.

Out of the group of approximately 140 gridsters on the check list, the Big Six conference rates eight. Not a very big number, yet every one is a great ball player. Perhaps the Big Six, as it is one of the big football loops of the nation, should deserve a bigger mention than this. Probably by the end of the season a new unknown star will shine on the gridiron horizon, to take the place with the favorites.

Here are the eight players from the Big Six named on the all-American check list: Pete Mehringer, Kansas University, tackle; Debus, Nebraska, guard; Bob Dunlap, Oklahoma, quarter-back; Art Panze, Oklahoma; Dougal Russell, Kansas State; and George Sauer, Nebraska, half-backs; Ormand Beach, Kansas University; and Ralph Graham, Kansas State, fullbacks.

Most of these players are now in their last year of varsity football competition, and this is their remaining chance to gain fame and glory on the gridiron. Here's luck to them.

Barred gates, gunnysacks coverpital for treatment. He is suffering from a light attack of intestinal influenza. Jack Swatek, tackle, has been ill for several days. After practice yesterday, Chick Hader, another tackle, and Herb Grenda, sophomore end, turned up with similar troubles.

Carideo divided his squad into two groups as a result of this, one for hard work, and the other for lighter drill. He attributes the illness to the hot weather which accompanied hard workouts the first week of practice.

Gwinn Henry, former head football coach of the Missouri Tigers, joined the ranks of professional football as he signed a contract to coach the Gunners, a St. Louis professional team. Professional football gained widely in additions to various teams of former Big Six and Missouri Valley grid stars. Elmer Schaeke, the Jayhawk back, has joined the Portsmouth team. Louie Weller of the Haskell Indians is playing with the Boston Redskins. Paul Young and Spot Gentry, former Sooners stars, are with the Green Bay Packers and Philadelphia respectively.

AT THE VARSITY "Voltaire"

George Arliss scores another hit in "Voltaire" at the Varsity. The role of the great French character of revolutionary times fit him as no other role has since "Disraeli." The story deals with the corruption and intrigue of count circles previous to the first revolution. Doris Kenyon as Mme. Pompadour shows the influence which those courtesans had over the monarchs—being much closer to the king than the highest statesmen. There is a fine supporting cast, but most of the film footage is given to Arliss—J. L.

A "PRINT ROOM" CHANGE
The "print room" of the architecture department has been moved from the third floor of the engineering building to larger quarters on the second floor, adjoining the free-hand studio. The room is for the use of students in the etching and block print courses.

The first newspaper woman in the United States was Mrs. Anna Royall, who published in Washington, D. C., "The Washington Paul Pry," and later "The Huntress." The books were written in 1824. Today women writers, editors, and owners of newspapers are not rarities.

Y.M.C.A. BEGINS ANNUAL DRIVE FOR MEMBERS

DON MILLER IS CHAIRMAN OF THIS YEAR'S CAMPAIGN COMMITTEE

TO COVER ENTIRE CAMPUS

Committees Are Appointed to Canvas Fraternities, Rooming Houses, Foreign Students and Negroes

Plans for the annual Y. M. C. A. membership drive have been completed and under the direction of Don Miller, chairman, are being carried out with the assistance of officers and cabinet members.

"Committees have been appointed to take care of the different sections of the student divisions, so that every man enrolled in college will have a chance to join," Dr. A. A. Holtz, executive secretary of the Y. M. C. A., said yesterday. The real drive for membership in the organization began last night. Tom Groody, Manhattan, president of the Y. M. C. A., and Joe Creed, Bartlesville, Okla., will canvas the fraternity section and Virgil Chapman, Manhattan, Clarence Keith, Ottawa, and Jean Warner will have charge of soliciting the students in other houses.

Paul Murma will cover the foreign student body, and Karl Speed, Holton, will have charge of the negro section. Jack McClung, Manhattan, a freshman this semester, will solicit membership among the freshman students.

There will also be a campaign in charge of members of the faculty to solicit membership among faculty members in the Y. M. C. A. drive. Prof. C. H. Scholer, applied mechanics department, is chairman of this committee, and Dr. H. T. Hill, head of the public speaking department, Dr. H. H. King, head of the department of chemistry, and M. F. Ahearn, director of athletics, are the other members of the faculty membership committee.

Fred Seaton and John McClung, both of Manhattan, will solicit membership among the business men of Manhattan.

The outlined activities of the year for the Y. M. C. A. carried out thus far have included new student work, "ask me" men on the registration floor, the all-college mixer, the "K" book, and watermelon feed and football kick-off. Other activities this year include student forums, Christian world forum, Sunday school basketball league, boys' work, gospel teams, go-to-college teams, retreats, Estes park delegation, room bureau, employment bureau, Aggie Orpheum, fraternity forums, discussion groups, monthly Y meetings, joint cabinet meetings with the Y. W. C. A., weekly open meetings of the Y cabinet, freshman Y. M. C. A. social events, bi-weekly dime dances, and general office student service.

CAMERA CLUB TO HAVE 2ND ANNUAL EXHIBIT

Each Contributor May Submit Half Dozen Prints for Show

Both amateur and professional photographers will have an opportunity to display their prints at the second annual photograph exhibit of the Manhattan Camera club. The exhibit will be held November 1 to November 17.

There is no entry fee and each contributor may submit six prints. These prints should be accompanied by a list of the prints with the sale price if the prints are for sale.

Hand colored prints are not eligible but any process prints may be submitted. Entries in the exhibit last year are not eligible. The prints are to be five by seven inches or larger on mounts not less than eight by 10 inches or not more than 16 by 20 inches. Unframed prints are preferred. Prints are to be left at the illustrations department not later than October 25. The jury of selection for the exhibit will consist of: E. J. Hanna, department of illustrations; John F. Helm, jr., department of architecture; and Dorothy Barfoot, department of art.

The seniors at Earlham college have passed a resolution binding them to show preference to merchants who subscribe to their college annual. They hope to accomplish a dual purpose: fair play to the advertiser, and a persuasion to the merchants that their advertisement will be valuable to themselves.

SELECT COMMITTEE TO ALLOT ACTIVITY FUND

Three Students and Two Faculty Members Compose Committee—Reppert Chairman

Two officers of the student council were elected members of the student activity fund allotment committee at the council meeting last night. The two new members are Kay Bader, Junction City, vice-president of the council, and Joe Knappenberger, Penafosa, treasurer. Clay Reppert, Harris president of the council, is ex-officio chairman of the committee.

Prof. R. I. Tarockmorton, head of the department of agronomy, and Prof. H. W. Davis, head of the English department, have been appointed by Pres. F. D. Farrell as faculty representatives on the committee. Both were members of the committee last year.

The Collegiate 4-H club met Thursday in Hamp-Tonian hall. This was the first meeting of the year. A program and the regular business meeting occupied the evening.

FUNERAL RITES FOR FRANCES HAMPSHIRE

Sleeping Sickness Fatal to Kansas State Graduate in Home Economics

Funeral services for Miss Frances Hampshire, 23, a graduate in home economics last spring, who died last Friday of sleeping sickness, were held Sunday afternoon at the Ryan Funeral home in Manhattan. Miss Hampshire was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Hampshire, 363 North Fourteenth street, and a sister of Mary Louise Hampshire, a junior in home economics and dietetics.

Miss Hampshire's case, however, was not of the contagious type that has been so prevalent in St. Louis. Cases of her type have been reported in various parts of the country for a number of years, the attending physician said.

She was born in Overbrook, Kans., June 10, 1910, and resided there until 1928. She graduated from the home economics division last spring and was a member of the Alpha Xi Delta sorority. In addition to the sister and her parents she is survived by a grandfather, Dr. S. J. Hampshire, of Overbrook, and the grandmother, Mrs. Mary Cousen, of Overbrook.

The following members of Alpha Xi Delta sorority were pallbearers: Dorothy Barfoot, Alice Kimball, Marjorie Lyles, Marie Jesse, Mary McMullen, and Ruth Stiles.

N-I-B-B-L-I-N-G-S

Vera Trusler, one of the more noted Pi Phis, confesses that some of the members of the organization were kept busy grinding up left-over beef steak into hash during rush week. . . That's true economy. . . Perhaps the girls are in training to be boarding-house keepers.

The rumor that Earl Hines, the dean of Negro piano players, is to play for the varsity this week-end is not true. . . Roger Ramey, a freshman, is recovering from the effects of the paddle line last week. . . Roger lost a valuable watch, his clothing was torn, and suffered the traditional contusions, abrasions, and lacerations. . . Tsk, tsk, you big bullies. . . Few seem to know that the money received from the sale of freshmen caps goes for parties to which freshmen athletes are invited. . . Ken Harter blames the depression for the lack of what is too often called school spirit. . . Perhaps the NRA will help to arouse the student body. . . Speaking of the NRA, a code restricting the hours spent together by some of our current inseparables would benefit the great lovers financially. . . Frank Betton, of Kansas City, is to be sports photographer for the Royal Purple. . . Frank is quite a sport and doesn't mind exposure so he should fill the job satisfactorily. . . Franklin Thackeray takes his small niece with him to visit Jessie Dean. . . Think up your own comment on that one. . . Dr. H. T. Hill, head of the public speaking department, is the very proud father of an eight and one-half pound son born Sunday afternoon. The new member of the Hill family will be named Howard T. Jr.

When the photographer who had charge of pictures for the University of California's yearbook for as long as can be remembered, decided to move recently, the truck in which the pictures were being carted met with an accident that scattered the photographic plates over the countryside.

In the opinion of three members of the barnstorming American track team, Glenn Cunningham, of Kansas university, is the world's greatest miler. And they say the Jayhawk star has not run his fastest race yet.

FORUM SPEAKERS WILL DISCUSS WORLD EVENTS

FOUR PROMINENT MEN ACCEPT INVITATIONS TO TALK BEFORE STUDENTS

MEET IN COLLEGE CAFETERIA

Programs Sponsored By the College Y. M. C. A. and Are Held at Noon on Stated Days

Four speakers have accepted invitations to address student Y forums at the college this year, Dr. A. A. Holtz, executive secretary of the Y. M. C. A., said yesterday.

The forum meetings are always held at noon on the upper floor of the college cafeteria on the stated days. They are open to the general public, students, and faculty members of the college. Those who attend may eat in the meeting room before the address or may go only to hear the speaker, who is introduced at 12:20 o'clock. The first forum will be held on Friday of this week.

Dr. John Holt, who for the past two years has been studying in Germany and working for a master's degree, will be the speaker at the first forum Friday. His subject will be "Hitlerism or What Is Happening in Germany."

On Thursday, October 12, Charles Saldanha, S.J., for 12 years head of the mathematics department of Bombay university in India and now a student at St. Mary's college where he is preparing for the Catholic priesthood, will speak on "Understanding India." Mr. Saldanha, a native of India, was educated in India and England.

C. M. Harger, chairman of the state board of regents and publisher of the Abilene Reflector, will speak October 18. Mr. Harger recently returned from a six month's trip to Africa. He contributes magazine articles to Atlantic Monthly, Scribners, and New Republic. The subject of his address has not been chosen.

On October 25, Brig. Gen. A. G. Lott, commandant of the Fort Riley cavalry school, who has recently made a tour of the Citizen's Conservation Corps camps in this region for President Roosevelt, will give his impressions of the camps and explain what they are accomplishing.

FOUR GO TO WATERLOO

Dairy Cattle Congress Will Be Held October 2

Four students will be chosen soon to comprise a team to represent Kansas State college at the Waterloo Dairy Cattle congress to be held in Waterloo, Ia., beginning October 2.

Candidates for membership in the team are Walter Lewis, Larned; Charles Murphy, Leoti; Willett Taylor, Lawrence; Ben Kohrs, Elmore; Frank Benson, Monument; and J. W. Mathers, Grinnell. Names of the team members will be announced either tomorrow or Thursday.

The tryouts which have been held for the past few weeks have eliminated all but the six candidates for the team. Prof. H. W. Cave, department of dairy husbandry, will accompany the team, which will leave Manhattan Friday morning. Included in their inspection trip will be visits to the dairy herds at the University of Nebraska; Stephens' Brown Swiss herd, Fremont, Neb.; Meredith Jersey farm and the Mountain Jersey farm of Des Moines, Ia.; and the Iowa State college herd at Ames.

GLEE CLUBS TRYOUTS HELD

Unusually Large Number of Students Desire Positions

An unusually large number of students are trying out for the men's and women's glee clubs, according to information received at the music office. Tryouts for the men's club will continue to be held all this week, and blanks may be filled out at the music office in the auditorium. Prof. William Lindquist is director of the men's club.

The personnel of the women's organization will be completed sometime this week, according to Prof. Edwin Sayre, who directs the group.

In the opinion of three members of the barnstorming American track team, Glenn Cunningham, of Kansas university, is the world's greatest miler. And they say the Jayhawk star has not run his fastest race yet.

CARTER WILL LEAD FOOTBALL MEETINGS

First Pep Meeting of Year Will Probably Be Held Friday

M. L. Carter, Smith Center, was elected by members of the student council last night at a meeting of the organization to have charge of pep meetings during the coming year. Definite plans for the first pep meeting of the year have not been announced, although the first pep and spirit arousing event will probably be held next Friday evening at the auditorium.

ECONOMICS CLUB MEETING

Members of the Agricultural Economics club will meet tonight at 7:30 o'clock in West Ag 336 for the first meeting of this semester. Dr. W. E. Grimes, head of the department of agricultural economics, is scheduled to speak.

Officers of the Ag Economics club are Frank Burson, president; Dean McNeal, vice-president; Harry Coberly, treasurer; Ben Kohrs, corresponding secretary; and Grover Steele, recording secretary.

NEW HATCHERY DEAL

Sixth Annual School for Operators Will Be Held October 20

The sixth annual school for hatchery operators will be held at the poultry department, Kansas State college, Friday, October 20. The "new deal" for hatcheries will be the central thought for the school this year, according to L. F. Payne, head of the department.

The baby chick code, which is in the final stage of adoption after many revisions, will be presented for discussion together with many other subjects of immediate interest. The possibilities are that the code will somewhat change trade practices and place competition on a much more equitable basis than has existed heretofore.

Much interest is centering around a chick sexing demonstration which will show the latest methods of determining the sex of day old chicks.

Reese V. Hicks, executive secretary of the International Baby Chick association, Kansas City, Mo.; Prof. F. E. Muschel, University of Nebraska; and Prof. R. B. Thompson, Oklahoma A and M college, have been invited as out-of-state speakers. A number of successful commercial hatchery operators in Kansas will also appear on the program together with members of the poultry department staff and the extension poultry specialists. Final copy of the program will be ready for distribution in a few days.

ALL SCHOOL MIXER A SOCIAL HIGHLIGHT

Versatile Program Presented for Students and Faculty Members Friday

Kansas State students enjoyed meeting their instructors on social rather than educational grounds at the college mixer held in Nichols' gymnasium Friday evening. Dr. H. K. King directed the entertainment through a broadcasting set-up.

Group singing was directed by Chester Guthrie and Mrs. Guthrie played the piano for the singing. A short program was presented by the Lillian Amos school of dancing. Perhaps one of the most enjoyable features of the evening was the motion picture show, "Our Gang" comedy. Dr. G. C. Salley performed several magical tricks for the guests.

After the entertainment the remainder of the evening was spent in dancing. Music was furnished for the dance by recordings reproduced through the radio set-up.

KATHRYN BLACK A WINNER

Kansas State Student Wins Championship Flight at Junction City

Kathryn Black, Council Grove, a sophomore enrolled in physical education, was awarded a championship trophy after winning first place in a golf tournament held at Junction City Saturday. Nine clubs were entertained by the Junction City Country club, and 62 players took part in the contests.

Miss Black shot a 40 to capture the medalist honors, and Mrs. Sidney Meyers, Junction City, and Mrs. Rose Bailey, Emporia, were tied with 42 each for second honors.

JOB IN CHICAGO SCHOOL
Leola White, graduate assistant in the department of clothing and textiles has accepted a position to teach in the School of Domestic Arts and Sciences, in Chicago, a private school.

Miss White received her B. S. degree from the University of Arizona in Tucson, and last year received her M. S. degree from Kansas State college.

Evening Sunset Starts the Jews In the New Year

Friday at sundown the last prayer of Rosh Hashonah of the Hebrew New Year had been said. Thousands of orthodox and reformed Jews throughout the world returned to their homes more soberly to face the oncoming new religious year.

The holiday which began Wednesday evening at sundown is usually called the day of "introspection." It is a celebration preparatory to the day of Yom Kippur or the Day of Atonement as it is more popularly known. The most important of the religious holidays of the Hebrew race is Yom Kippur with the observance of fasting all day and services of special significance to the members of the faith.

However, the Hebrew new year originally marked the beginning of the agricultural and economic year in Palestine. It was long ago celebrated by resting from all labors and offering sacrificial gifts at the Temple of Jerusalem.

OFFER EIGHT ART SHOWS

Exhibitions Will Be Used By Helm To Illustrate A. A. U. W. Lectures

A tentative schedule of eight promising art exhibitions, occurring at intervals throughout both semesters of the school year, is the good news to which many Kansas State students and Manhattan townpeople may look forward this year.

The program of exhibitions, as tentatively planned, will include oils, sculptures, water colors, prints, and textiles, and will be used by Prof. John F. Helm, jr., of the department of architecture, to illustrate his lectures before the open meetings of the American Association of University Women.

Both the exhibitions and the lectures are sponsored by the local chapter of the A. A. U. W., and are under the direction of Mrs. R. A. Seaton, chairman of the art and travel committee. The widespread popularity of a similar series of exhibitions and lectures last year has led to the continuance of the plan for this year.

"The schedule as we now have it tentatively outlined," said Professor Helm, "follows last year's plan for a well-balanced program in which exhibitions representative of different phases in art will be presented."

A NEW ENGINEERING BOOK

Professor Calderwood, Mechanical Engineering Department, Author

A new edition of Engineering Thermodynamics, a textbook written by Prof. J. P. Calderwood, of the mechanical engineering department, has been published this year. The original text was published in 1915 and since that time has passed through five editions. It is used as a standard text in the subject in such schools as Alabama Polytechnic Institute, Armour Institute of Technology, Bucknell University, Colorado Agricultural college, General Motors Institute, Kansas State college, McGill University, Ohio Northern University, Oklahoma A and M college, Purdue University, U. S. Coast Guard Academy, University of Delaware, University of North Dakota, University of Pennsylvania, University of Saskatchewan, University of Toronto, and the Westinghouse Technical School.

Professor Calderwood received his degree of Mechanical Engineer from Ohio State University in 1908, and has Master of Science degree in 1916 from Pennsylvania State college. In 1918 he became Professor of Mechanical Engineering at Kansas State, and in 1922 was made head of the department.

CROWLEY GETS DESIGN JOB

Senior Architect Draws Plans for Junction City Theatre

R. J. Crowley, Manhattan, is the architect for a theater to be erected in Junction City by Sam J. Sosna, owner of the Varsity theatre in Manhattan. Crowley is a senior in the architecture department.

Preliminary plans show a theater with Spanish design. It is to be built at a cost of $37,000 with approximately $19,000 in equipment and decoration.

FIRST PLAY NOV. 10

The first Manhattan theater production of the year will be presented on Nov. 10, instead of Nov. 3 as previously planned. H. Miles Heberer, director of the Manhattan Theater organization, said today. Choice of a play will be made within the week, and tryouts will be held the second week in October.

WILDCATS PRACTICE OFFENSE PLAYS IN HARD WORK-OUT SATURDAY

PUSH OVER FOUR SCORES

First Year Men Show Surprisingly Stiff Opposition in the Scrimmage—Bo McMillin Uses 30 Players

In a warming up scrimmage before their first game of the season against the Emporia Teachers here next Saturday, the Kansas State varsity went through a hard afternoon's workout against the frosh last Saturday afternoon.

Although not overly impressive in their showing against the first year men, the varsity gave notice to the several hundred students, faculty members, and townspeople that they could take care of their end of the game. The biggest surprise of the afternoon was the exceedingly good showing of the frosh, whom everyone has been praising highly. After the session Coach Bo McMillin told the squad that there was much work ahead of them if they were to be ready for the Emporia Teachers. The reserves, particularly, need much work.

With the varsity on the offensive all afternoon, the frosh squad showed strong opposition. Four times the varsity scored. Captain Ralph Graham broke through the center of the freshmen team for a 25 yard run and a score. Dan Blaine galloped away with a pass and scored another marker. Douglas Russell ran around right end and dashed 70 yards down the sideline for the third touchdown, which did not count because of clipping from behind. Richard Armstrong made the other counter with a 10-yard thrust through the line.

At times the varsity backfield performed well, but at other times the frosh had them stopped. Besides the consistently good work of Captain Graham, Tom Bushby did a good job of lugging the ball. Among the reserves who looked good were Armstrong, who slipped through the frosh line time and again for good gains. Russell, Darnell, Kirk, and Abbott also accomplished this performance.

During the course of the afternoon Coach McMillin used more than 30 varsity players. The big crop of freshmen gave Coach Swede Anderson many good reserves to substitute. The starting varsity line-up included Ken Harter, center, Homer Hanson and Blair Forbes at guards, Jim Freeland and Melvon Wertzberger at tackles, Dan Blaine and Lee Morgan at ends, and Captain Grohman, Tom Bushby, Oren Stener, and Don Flenthrop in the backfield. C. D. McNeal at guard, and Henry Kirk in the backfield, also saw action in the first period of the scrimmage.

After dismissing the lettermen, Coach McMillin worked Dean Griffing and Jack Wiseman over the ball and William Fuller, Dan Partner, Harold Munal, Earl Brokover, Claude Denchfield, Joe Zitnik, Arthur Thiele, Dale Garvey, and E. E. Sundgren on the line. Ralph Churchill, Richard Armstrong, Larry Darnell, Jim Edwards, Don McNeal, Lyman Abbott, and Douglas Russell did the ball carrying.

Coach McMillin is planning on giving the squad stiff workouts the rest of the week in order to get the players in the best possible shape before Saturday's game. The contest should turn out to be a good attraction because it will give Kansas State supporters the first real chance to see what the Wildcats will be able to do this season.

BICYCLE PARTIES THIS YEAR

A New Bike Shop Will Cater Especially to Fraternities and Sororities
The formal opening of the "Hollywood Rent-a-Bike" shop was held Friday, and college students were then able to participate in the fad that has swept the country during the past several months. The new shop will be operated by George Davidson and Joe Murphy, both of Manhattan. They will cater especially to fraternity and sorority bicycle parties. A large number of tandem bicycles, and bikes for men and women, are found in the shop, which is located at 714 N. Manhattan avenue.

Prof. J. B. Fitch left yesterday for Oklahoma City where he will judge dairy cattle at the Oklahoma state fair. He will return Wednesday.

VARSITY CONTRACT REMAINS UNSIGNED

Rules Adopted at Meeting Will Be Observed Until Final Action

Signing of a contract for varsity dances was temporarily postponed last evening at a meeting of the student council. Varsity dances, however, may be given at all halls approved by the student council.

Rules which were adopted at the meeting and which will be used in carrying out the regulations of the student council were announced following the meeting last night. These rules will apply until the council sees fit to accept a contract regarding the varsity dances.

Following are the rules which will apply: No advertising outside the city limits. Advertising shall be directed toward college students. All dances must have an approved chaperon. Halls must be closed at 12 o'clock, except by special permission. Strict adherence must be given to closed nights. Notice of closed nights will be given two weeks in advance.

NRA PROGRAM THEME OF TODAY'S ASSEMBLY

Arthur Peine, Manhattan Business Leader, Will Discuss Economic Situation of Country

Because the march of the nation is in harmony with the NRA program and in step with all that the plan implies, a timely subject, "Peace Time Patriotism," will be discussed at the second assembly of the school year this morning by Arthur Peine, president of the Manhattan Chamber of Commerce. His address this morning at the assembly which will begin at 10:15 o'clock will touch upon the various phases of the NRA movement and its application.

Activities of the National Recovery Administration are of interest to all thinking people today, and an understanding of them are of vital importance. College students, to be intelligent citizens, will be offered an opportunity today to comprehend what the NRA implies. The program this morning will probably draw a larger crowd of students and faculty members than any similar program this year.

Mr. Peine has been president of the Manhattan Chamber of Commerce since the beginning of the year, and a resident of Manhattan for 17 years. At the present time he is manager of the Perry Packing company. During the time he has lived in Manhattan, Mr. Peine has been active as a citizen and has always been interested in public affairs.

BARBARA LAUTZ A NEW Y. W. COUNCIL MEMBER

Elected Last Summer at Estes Park Conference of Religious Group

Barbara Lautz, Amarillo, Texas, was elected chairman of the regional council for the Y. W. C. A. at a student conference held at Estes Park, Colo., last summer. There are seven regions in the United States and for each one a student chairman is chosen. Forty colleges and universities distributed over Kansas, Nebraska, Colorado, New Mexico, and South Dakota are grouped in this region. Miss Lautz was elected to the council last summer at the student conference at Estes Park, and the council members elected a chairman from their own group. The term of office is one year.

There are 650 student associations alone in the United States, and one-tenth of all college and university women belong to the Y. W. C. A. However, in observing this figure it must be recalled that many colleges and universities do not have a Y. W. C. A. on their campus. Last year, 650 of the 750 women on the Kansas State campus were Y. W. members. The organization is forty-eight years old on the Kansas State campus.

A WIEMAR BOOK IN STUDY

Y. W. Cabinet Members Start Weekly Meetings

"Issues of Life" by Henry Nelson Wiemar is the study started in the first regular Y. W. C. A. cabinet meeting which was held last night in Calvin hall lounge. Ruth De Baun, Topeka, led the discussion which was on the first phase of growing up, based on chapter one of this book. Cabinet meetings are held regularly each Monday night.

COLLEGE CALENDAR

Fraternities and sororities are entering their usual round of open houses, or "get-acquainted" campaigns. The college calendar for the first of this week is unusually full of social activities:

Tuesday, September 26
Phi Kappa Tau will have open house for the pledges of Chi Omega from 7:00 until 7:45 o'clock this evening.

Thursday, September 28
Alpha Delta Pi pledges will attend open house from 7:00 to 7:45 o'clock at the Phi Kappa Tau house. Members of W. A. A. will have a party in recreation center from 8:00 until 10:00 o'clock in the evening.

KANSAS STATE NRA DRIVE IS OPENED TODAY

ENLISTMENT BOOTH IS MAINTAINED IN ANDERSON HALL TODAY AND TOMORROW

TO SIGN CONSUMERS PLEDGE

Students and Faculty Members Urged to Sign Cards Whether They've Signed Before Or Not

The Kansas State college NRA drive is on!

Today and tomorrow, an enlistment booth at which students and faculty members may sign the consumer's pledge card is being maintained in Anderson hall. The sponsors of the all-school drive urge all students and faculty members to sign this pledge, no matter if they have signed before, so that Kansas State college may go on record as being 100 per cent for the NRA.

The pledge to be signed reads, "I will cooperate in reemployment by patronizing employers and workers who are members of the NRA."

This morning, a student assembly is being devoted to the NRA as a part of the all-school drive. Arthur F. Peine, president of the Manhattan chamber of commerce and head of the local NRA organization, will speak on the subject, "Peace Time Patriotism."

The opening of the enlistment booth comes as a climax to an intensive publicity campaign intended to educate Kansas State students in the principles and practices of the national recovery act. The foundation for today's drive was laid at a student-faculty forum held last Thursday evening at which Clay Reppert, president of the student council, and H. W. Bouck, secretary of the Manhattan chamber of commerce, were the speakers.

The drive is being sponsored by Dynamis, general college honorary society, in cooperation with the local chamber of commerce and the student governing association. The enlistment booth is being manned by volunteers from Dynamis.

The plan for the drive was formulated last August by Harold Heckendorn, Cedar Bend, president of Dynamis; Paul Blackwood, Talmo, chairman of the student-faculty forum committee; and Prof. E. R. Lyon of the department of physics, and faculty advisor of Dynamis. The plan was approved by the president of the college early in September.

A NEW ART ASSISTANT

Marie Darst, National Secretary of Art Fraternity, Accepts Position

Miss Marie Darst, Radnor, Ohio, has accepted a position as assistant in the art department of the college. Miss Darst received her degrees from Ohio university and Columbia university. During the past few years she has been teaching in the art department at Purdue university.

Miss Darst is the national secretary of Delta Phi Delta, National Honorary Art fraternity.

M. F. AHEARN TO NBA POST

Athletic Director Is Elected Vice-President of Boxing Association

M. F. Ahearn, athletic director at Kansas State college, was elected as one of the vice presidents of The National Boxing Association at its recent meeting in Minneapolis. Director Ahearn represents the Missouri Valley district in the association. He returned last week after a week's stay at the meetings.

At the Siebel Institute of Technology, beer making has been instituted as a course of study. A small brewery is used as a demonstrator.

THE NRA DRIVE

By CLAY REPERT

Sign the consumers' code! And after signing, patronize the merchants who have the blue eagle in their windows. This is the plea of members of Dynalms, general college honorary society, who are urging students and faculty members to line up 100 per cent behind the NRA.

When the war was declared in 1917 there was no doubt as to the action to be taken by students. Those who were of age enlisted, and others helped by doing work at home. While the war on depression declared by President Roosevelt June 13 does not have the aspects of combat as other wars have had, it is indeed just as serious and dangerous and calls for the patriotism and support of every citizen—not the hysterical patriotism that brings mob psychology and causes people to go into panic but the support that causes people to be more sane and sensible.

During the World war those who did not support the cause by buying Liberty bonds and savings stamps were branded as slackers and shunned by patriotic people. The present war against depression, however, is constructive rather than destructive therefore those who will not cooperate are not called slackers, but for those who do fall in line with the administration there is the reward of the blue eagle which distinguishes them as whole hearted supporters of the recovery program which will bring better working and living conditions to all individuals. In other words, the present plan is to support the loyal but not to boycott anyone.

Under the recovery act, there is no doubt that prices on commodities, food and clothing, will rise, but it should be remembered that it is for the benefit of all that prices do rise. Clothing that has been manufactured by women and children working under insanitary and dangerous conditions in sweatshops will be produced by the fathers under the New Deal and the children will be given an opportunity for education and healthful recreation.

Hundreds of thousands have been put to work in the nation since the passage of the recovery act and it is now the duty of every patriotic citizen to support the movement by purchasing merchandise from the men who made the movement possible. Kansas State should go 100 per cent for the support of the program.

OLD MAN DEPRESSION

Few students this year could call themselves the "banker on the campus." One of the most obvious things at the beginning of the school year was the fact that this is another year of hard financial knocks and flattened pocketbooks.

The practice of strict economy on the part of college students is undoubtedly 100 per cent this year. The set check which was received by students of the college only a few years ago is a thing of the past with people in school this semester. Since parents no longer are able to send their college son or daughter plenty of spending money, the average college student is living an inexpensive life. He is budgeting his expenses as carefully as the sole bread earner in a family of seven. He is learning to save and how to spend his money. Above all—he is practicing economy.

This year, a larger number of students are doing their own labors during the year, to get them spending upon their past collected resources, or through school. These students cast a keener eye around when they are in the market for a new pair of shoes, a new suit, a text-book, or another meal ticket. The important thing now is to get the most for your money. The merchant who offers the greatest value for the article, and pays some attention to price, will get the greatest share of the students business this year, when there is a limited amount of money to spend.

Five years ago, going to college was considered something synonymous with a "spending spree." At that time a great deal of money was necessary to go through college. Parents made great personal sacrifices for their children who attended four years of college, and spent thousands of dollars. Today, there is many a graduate who wishes he had the money now that he "tossed away" while he was in college.

During the past several years, college students have been learning a lesson that requires no text-book. Neither does it require an instructor, or a class room. It is a lesson that students during prosperous years failed to learn—that of thrift. Modern college students care little at the present time whether or not they are in style. Their new mode of living is giving them advantages that students in former years did not get. Thrift is nothing to be ashamed of. If there is such a thing as a key to success, and if the time tried principles of useful living are any indication to a successful life—you'll never make a mistake by watching your pennies, hunting for bargains, and practicing thrift.

Book Review

VOCATIONAL GUIDANCE IN ENGINEERING LINES

Reviewed by L. E. Conrad

Professor of Civil Engineering, K. S. C.
This unusual book, of more than 500 pages, is the result of several years of effort on the part of the American Association of Engineers. Following an introductory section devoted, primarily, to a consideration of the general status of the engineer and his profession, are nine chapters on the major branches of engineering, as follows:

Civil, mining, mechanical, electrical, chemical, maritime, military, consulting, and contracting engineering.

Each one of these nine chapters is written by an engineer prominent in the practice of the branch described. Naturally, there is not complete uniformity of treatment. For the most part, however, the authors have made an attempt to explain the scope of these nine branches of engineering, to point out those qualities necessary for success in their practice, and to designate the desired preparation. Following the treatment of the major branches are interesting chapters on compensations and engineering literature.

Next come 40 chapters describing as many special lines of engineering practice. Each of these descriptions is written by an engineer recognized as an authority in the particular field described, or by one well qualified to write on it. The descriptions average about seven pages each.

The volume closes with a resume by the editors; brief biographical sketches of the 75 men who participated in its preparation; and an index, which will be found a great convenience to the user.

The Snooper

The bicycle fad that went out with hooped skirts has again reappeared—minus the hooped skirts. For two bits one can ride an hour or if you are going someplace and a buck and a half will get a bike for a day. One thing for (or against, take it or leave it) the bikes is that they never run out of gasoline. The Alpha Delta chapter rented a bunch of bikes Sunday afternoon and held regular fiestas in front of fraternity houses.

The Beta seniors received their first treat of cigars in four years the other day when a Chi Omega, knowing pins were scarce this year took a bit of Beta hardware (or tin badge as Dick Seaton would classify fraternity jewelry.) The names involved are Helen Hanson and Bob Wilson.

Two boys who danced together all evening at the college mixer not only demonstrated their own ignorance and poor judgment but disgraced Bob Spiker when they would not answer his "yoo-hooing."

Atwood Morrison came to town yesterday thus breaking up the play house between the Pi Phi president and a member of the Beta lodge.

Margaret Mary Reddy has finally gone romantic over John Underwood—in fact so romantic that she thought she was home when she and John were let out by a house near the bridge east of town.

Badluck, The Freshman

Dear Ma and Pa:

Well, I have got 5 fellers already who said they wanted to join my 5-H club, but if anybody else wants to be members I guess I'll let them join. Because Badluck's 5-H club for Iron Men is going to be one of the important things on the campus this year, and if the farmers don't get a corn crop again this time, all of the members are going to go bare-footed on the campus so everybody will recognize us.

Say pop I'll bet if grandpa was still fighting in the civil war he would sure be scared of us fellers here at college that wear our soldier suits every Saturday, because we carry guns that sure get heavy but they don't shoot because we haven't seen no enemy yet. As soon as we see an enemy though that looks like they want a fight we are all going to do face about and really show them that we really know something about wars.

They have a place at the college that is called wreck center but I don't know why they call it wreck center for because there is sure a lot of pretty co-eds that study there every day. Anyway wreck center is about twice as big as the hay mow in our barn and just about as pretty a place too.

All of us freshmen was suppose to wear our freshmen caps last Friday, but I sure fooled the whole school by going to my rhetoric class about an hour before it was suppose to begin. When I went home I went out by the dairy barn and fooled all the fellers again by not having to go through the campus gate. But all of the 5-H club members are going to get a cap and take turns wearing it to class. Then I won't have to go clear out by the dairy barn every time I go to school.

Your son,

Badluck.
P. S.—I am eating only three hamburgers every day now, after I found out in that chemistry course that hamburgers are about 90 per cent water, and I don't see no sense in wasting my money.

OPEN HOUSE IS HELD BY BROWNING SOCIETY

Guests and Members Enjoy Program of Entertainment and Talks

Thirty members and guests were present for the traditional open-house meeting of the Browning literary society Saturday afternoon in the regular meeting place on the second floor of Nichols gymnasium.

Alma Wilsey led the devotions, stressing friendship and giving encouragement to the freshmen girls. Margaret Glass gave a short welcome address and Miss Nellie Aberle of the English department gave an interesting talk on "Browning Traditions," in which she told of the outstanding functions to be held during the year.

Other features of the program included a piano solo by Rosemond Haebler, vocal solo by Elizabeth Walbert, a short stunt by Mary Elizabeth Cooper, and a piano solo by Helen Boler, president of the society. Refreshments were served following the program.

FIRST QUILL MEETING

Tryouts for Club To Begin Soon—Plans Discussed Last Evening

The first meeting of the Quill club for the semester will be held this evening at 7:30 o'clock in the office of Prof. H. W. Davis, head of the department of English. Plans for forthcoming programs will be discussed and officers elected.

The semi-annual tryouts for Quill club are to take place in the near future. Any student interested in creative writing is invited to submit one or more manuscripts to the committee on membership. An announcement of the date and place to submit specimens will appear in the Collegian at an early date.

IN A Y. W. PAINT JOB

"Painter" Ellen Payne and her hostess committee are hard at work on a new reception room in the Y. W. C. A. office. The extra space provided by the widening of a corridor will add another room to the Y. W. "suite." Miss Payne has been seen—a la smock—wielding a paint brush in the worthy cause of rejuvenating a cabinet and book case which are to be used in furnishing the new room. Ella Rae Davis is also a hefty painter. The two-toned gray color scheme is expected to be very effective. Any small rugs or pieces of stray furniture which can be contributed to the cause will be deeply appreciated, according to those in charge.

GEORGIA STUDENTS ENROLL

Nine students who formerly attended the University of Georgia enrolled in the division of veterinary medicine at Kansas State college this semester after the veterinary division was discontinued in Georgia this year. The students are Clyde Brock, Marshall

Osten, Frank Shry, Buford Bridges, William Ivy, Sam Bollinger, Rudolph Whitman, Albert Roby, Jr., and Leon Picot.

COLLEGE SISTER GROUP DINNERS NUMEROUS

One Dinner Held Last Night—Two Groups Meet Tonight for Social Events

Additional college sister dinners are being held this week for new girls. There are twenty groups of college sisters, and each group contains twenty or more college and little sisters, besides the captain and college sister mother.

Last night the group captained by Margaret Madaus, Hutchinson, was entertained at the home of Mrs. C. H. Whitnah, 1931 Leavenworth. Two groups will meet tonight, one with Mrs. R. I. Thackrey, 1021 Kearney, and one with Mrs. A. E. White, 1743 Fairchild. Mrs. Thackrey's group is captained by Oma Bishop, Abilene, and Mary Jordan Bellott, is head of Mrs. White's group.

Here's Way to Have Fun While Reading and Studying Books

(By Jessie Dean)

A free hour! Many and varied are the places for students to spend an hour that comes between classes. Some try the drug stores, others recreation center, some go here, others go there, and a few go to the library.

The one place in the library that is perhaps more alluring to students than any other is located on the first floor. It is the continuation or periodical department. A description of the room is not necessary, for nearly everyone at one time or another has visited that department and has seen and maybe looked into magazines that before were unknown.

But there is a wider opportunity in that room than mere curiosity or, for rhetoric students, boredom. In the first place there are popular magazines of every class. For the student who started a continued story in the Country Gentleman before coming to college, that magazine is waiting there for him. For the boys who have grown up with Popular Mechanics, (and according to the librarian in charge, there are many boys who still cling to their adolescent ideal), the opportunity is there for a continuance of the same reading.

Those are all very good advantages, but the greatest and most worthwhile opportunity has been overlooked. To gain information and at the same time find amusement, is a chance that should not be allowed to slide by. In the periodicals of the library can be found multitudes of information. Of course, it is impossible for one student to digest all that knowledge, but he can select the subject in which he is most interested and absorb that. For the boy who thrives on radios, there are many amusing and informational articles about the radio. For the girl who intends to manage an exclusive tea room, there are numerous good suggestions. These readings will always be of value to students. In the first place it may mean the aid in securing a position. But position or not, in the second place he will probably never again have the opportunity to read with such a wide choice of magazines.

Maybe we are all wrong. It is more or less work to go to the library, select a magazine, and read it. It is rather boring to go there for assignments, it might be the same way with magazine articles. But why not experiment and see if we are all wrong.

ATTEND HUTCHINSON FAIR

A group of Collegiate 4-H club sponsors have been in Hutchinson for the past few days helping with the 4-H club work at the state fair. Those making the trip were M. H.

toward his doctor's degree in economics. Mrs. Henney and their son, who have been visiting at Cambridge, Nebr., will join Professor Henney in Minneapolis.

Mrs. Grace Husted and Betty Jean Hedges of Kansas City visited at the house this week end.

AN ACTIVE TURKEY MARKET

Poultry Department Sells More Than Ten of Gobblers

The poultry department at Kansas State college, on September 2, sold through a local dealer more than a ton of Bronze turkeys. Of 149 birds in the lot, all but one graded as prime choice. The average selling price was slightly more than 25 cents per pound dressed weight.

It is unusual to have turkeys ready for market by the last of August, said Prof. L. F. Payne, head of the poultry department. It was made possible in this instance by placing electric lights in the breeding pens in December. Egg production began the middle of January and the first hatch on March 7 was seven weeks earlier than the first hatch during any of the previous seven years when lights were not used. The dressed weight of toms was 15.6 pounds each, while the pullets averaged 10.4 pounds.

A study of the price curves shows that highest quotations for dressed young turkeys occur in August and September and not during the holiday season as is generally supposed, Payne explained. Turkeys, like chickens, seem to grow faster and do better when hatched early in the season.

DIRECTORY OUT NEXT MONTH

The student directory, which is distributed by the Student's Governing Association, will be published sometime next month, according to Clay Reppert, president of the student council. There will be little change in the form of the book.

Besides the names of the students with their addresses and telephone numbers there will be a division devoted to general information. This includes S. G. A. constitution, Big Six conference athletic and eligibility rules, senior men's and women's pan-hellenic rules for initiation, loan funds, Aggie traditions and ideals, college songs and names of professional and social organizations with the names of the presidents of each organization.

Any changes in address or telephone numbers which have been made since enrollment should be reported to Jessie M. Machir, registrar, so that correction may be made before the book goes to press.

AT THE VARSITY

"Penthouse"

Ostracized by high society because he defended a gangster, Wagner Baxter shows us the trials of being a criminal lawyer, in "Penthouse," at the Varsity this week. Although his fiancée broke their engagement when he began defending racketeers, he found love in his new world.

Myrna Loy gives a good performance as a racketeer's fiancée, and goes through the dangers of double-crossing for Baxter. The racketeer situation has been a bit overworked in movie plots lately, but this gives a little different slant on the usual thing, and on the whole is good entertainment.—J. L.

AT THE DICKINSON

"One Sunday Afternoon"

If history repeats itself, what a laugh we should have when dating reverts back to the comical olden days portrayed by Gary Cooper in "One Sunday Afternoon" at the Dickinson theatre today and tomorrow.

We have Gary Cooper as a bully drugstore cowboy trying to win the belle of the town by school boy tricks. He finds the girl of his dreams married to his rival and in turn takes Fay Wray as his wife for spite. As all happy ending pictures go, Gary Cooper finds that he has married the right woman.

Heart throbs and comedy all mixed up and thrown at you giving the fullest enjoyment for an evening. Try it.—F. V.

Miss Georgiana Smurthwaite, assistant home demonstrator agent leader in the extension division, has returned from Hutchinson, where she was one of the judges at the fair.

Prof. W. E. Grimes of the department of agricultural economics spent Saturday in Topeka at the offices of the state highway commission.

Probably one of the longest and most destructive wars in the history of man is the struggle against insects which started long before the beginning of civilization. The combat between man and insects has continued without cessation to the present time, and will continue, no doubt, as long as the human race endures.

SEVENTY-ONE FROSH TURN OUT FOR FOOTBALL DRILL

Conditioning Work in Early Sessions—Freshmen Will Scrimmage Varsity Tomorrow

Seventy-one freshmen, with aspirations of becoming famous football players at Kansas State in the next three years, have been reporting to head freshman coach Carl "Swede" Anderson this week. Three practice sessions have been held in the last three days, most of the time being devoted to conditioning exercises. A great deal of time has also been devoted to line work in which each man has been tried out in the various positions to find where he is best fitted. The backfield men have been working mostly on passing and catching a ball. The coaches started yesterday to teach the men the fundamental work of football, which involves blocking and tackling.

Because of the small amount of available room at the stadium, two squads will be formed in a short time, with one squad practicing at the stadium and the other on the football field.

The names of the men reporting for practice and the positions they played in high school are:

Ends—Scott Adams, Lowell Andrews, Herald Ault, Donald Beeler, Charles Chase, Jack Dickens, Barney Hays, Bill Hemphill, Ray Lowry, O. J. Spencer, Bob Steele, Arthur Stephens, Floyd Tannahill, Ted Warren.

Tackles—George Ade, Carl Beyer, Ronald Cooper, Humphrey Curry, Enoch Ellason, Paul Fanning, Cope Jones, Dale Walker, Victor Warren, Hilary Wentz, Merle Webb, and Willard West.

Guards—Bob Carter, Augustus Cordorelli, Roger Crow, Anson Haselwood, Frank Jordan, Delmer

Lang, Raymond McMahon, Glenn Shank, and Joe Zink.

Centers—Riley Whearty, Vernon Smith, Ralph Long, Harold Redfield, Bob Callahan, and Gilbert Guthrie.

Backs—Charles Bare, George Diles, Maurice Elder, Fred Fair, George Hart, Joseph Hrab, Donald Hunziker, Ernest Jessup, Lee Roy Kince, Jim Dander, Joseph Long, William McDanel, Russell Nystrom, Vincent Peters, William Price, George Rankin, Ward Redman, Myron Rocks, Earl Sperline, and Loyd Somers.

Those not indicating the position they wish to play are: Lorin Brown, Jack Cornell, Harry Engle, Chester Johnson, James Lutz, Donald McCollum, Marvin Robinson, Max Springer and Joe Wetta.

Big Six Grid Notes

(By Richard Fowler)

Nebraska
The Cornhusker varsity encountered unexpectedly stiff opposition from the "B" squad in their regulation practice game Saturday, having all it could do to emerge victors by 12-0 on touchdowns by Sauer and Masterson. Led by Hubka, veteran guard, and Mead, a triple-threat back, the "Bubblers" played Coach Bible's star pupils on nearly even terms throughout the game. As a result four "B" squad members were promoted to the varsity, bringing the "A" squad total to 35 men. The Husker coach promised his men a great deal of passing practice this week, because of their poor showing in that department Saturday.

Oklahoma
Oklahoma approached top form for its opening game with Vanderbilt next Saturday during a practice game with the freshmen last week-end, downing the "Boomers" 33-0, with sophomores playing the main part in the victory. Coach Lewie Hardage plans to continue secret practice this week in his effort to concoct a few unpleasant surprises for the strong Vanderbilt team. Team spirit and morale are running high among the Sooners, and Oklahoma backers have high hopes for a victory.

Kansas
Not altogether pleased with the manner of the Jayhawk victory over Warrensburg Teachers Saturday, Head Coach Ad Lindsey is driving his men through strenuous practice schedule this week in order to prepare adequately for the Creighton game Saturday. He anticipates a close, hard-fought game with the Bluejays, perennial contenders for the Missouri Valley title, and predicts that victory may depend on the breaks of the game. Ormand Beach and several new men carried the offensive burden best in the Warrensburg game, and are being groomed for the same assignment against Creighton.

Iowa State
Touchdowns by Theophilus and Allender and two successful place-kicks by Amos Dana, veteran line-man, accounted for Iowa State's 14-0 victory over Central college of Pella, Ia., Saturday. Although the Cyclones outgained Central by 256 yards from scrimmage to 96, and 16 first downs to 7, they experienced difficulty in scoring through the light but game line opposing them. Practice this week will consist mainly of offensive work, as Coach Veenker tries to strengthen his running attack. The sophomores of the squad made a very favorable showing in the first game, and will probably be used considerably in the night game at Denver University this Friday.

Missouri
Missouri rolled up ten touchdowns against the freshman team in a lengthy practice session last week-end, serving notice on other Big Six schools that the Tiger is no longer a door mat for the rest of the conference. Hatfield, veteran back, led the scoring parade with four touchdowns, while the veteran Tiger line functioned perfectly. Coach Carideo was pleased, but plans to continue bearing down in practice.

NEW INTRAMURAL SPORT
Golf will be added to the list of intramural sports offered by the Women's Athletic association for the first time this fall. All women students are eligible to play in the elimination tournament, and those interested in doing so may qualify by handing in two qualifying scores of 9 holes each. The scores are to be obtained on different days and should be handed to Miss Wood by Oct. 9.

A golf roster to be signed by all entrants has been posted on the bulletin board in the gymnasium. Entrants are asked to sign it by Friday, Sept. 29.

INTRAMURAL TENNIS DATES
The preliminary tennis tournaments to be held within the various groups entering women's intramural. Competitions must be completed by Saturday, Oct. 7, and the name of the winner turned in at the physical education office. It is important that as many girls as possible within the group should enter in the preliminaries, as the group having the largest number wins points towards the intramural trophy.

Nets may be checked out from Mrs. Compton, and must be returned by 6 o'clock.

COACHES ARE PLEASED WITH FROSH SHOWING

Courage and Ability Shown By First Year Men in Defensive Scrimmage

An agreeable impression of the freshmen was formed by the coaches in the scrimmage Saturday between the varsity and the freshmen, according to Head Freshman Coach Swede Anderson. Since this scrimmage was purely a defensive one for the freshmen, no true opinion can be formed yet of their ability, although they all showed considerable courage for the game in this scrimmage.

"We are trying to improve their stance so that we may develop more speed in the freshman squad than we have at present. After a few more scrimmages we will be able to pick out a few of the outstanding men in the freshman squad," said Coach Anderson.

A SADDLE AND SIRLOIN ESSAY CONTEST OPENS

Twelve Agricultural Students Submit Manuscripts For Silver Cup Prize

Twelve essays on "The Influence of Live Stock Judging Contests" written by Kansas State students enrolled in the division of agriculture and studying agricultural journalism have been entered in the Saddle and Sirloin Club Medal Essay Contest. The students are Don Atkins, Manhattan; Louis Hanson, Jamestown; Paul Rust, Manhattan; John Latta, Holton; Walter Wilson, Blackfoot, Idaho; George Garrison, Goodland; Laurence Harmon, Hutchinson; Russell Daulton, Flemingsburg, Kentucky; Wilfred Pine, Lawrence; Harold Grogger, Solomon; Kenneth Hougland, Olathe; Ben Kohrs, Elmo.

If these students receive the highest number of points for their essays entered this year, Kansas State college will get to keep the sterling silver cup which is offered to the school winning the highest rating three times. Kansas State has already won the cup twice.

The Saddle and Sirloin club of the Union Stock Yards, Chicago, Ill., is of world-wide fame for its portrait of leading live stock men. The contest is open to all undergraduate students in the agricultural colleges in the United States and Canada. Individual awards are also given—medals and books on agriculture.

FROG CLUB TRYOUTS FOR WOMEN SWIMMERS

Any College Girl May Participate in Diving and Swimming Events

The first try-outs for membership in Frog Club were held last Wednesday in the women's swimming pool in Nichols gymnasium. Second try-outs will be held Thursday, at five o'clock.

Frog Club was organized at Kansas State three years ago for the purpose of promoting an interest and efficiency in swimming and life saving, and to promote swimming meets for women. The annual public swimming exhibition was in the form of a water pageant last year. Plans for the exhibition this year have not been announced, but the exhibition will be held shortly before the Christmas holidays.

Any girl is eligible to try out for Frog Club. The following events are used in try-outs: Form—back stroke, side underarm, crawl or trudgeon. Speed—length of pool (side overarm) in 14 seconds or less. Diving—standing front, running front, optional. Endurance—swim 5 lengths of the pool (not back stroke). No time limit. Active members of Frog Club act as judges of prospective members. A girl, passing the try-outs is given two semesters to pass the achievement chart. Initiation is held at the close of each semester.

Miss Lorraine Maytum will be the faculty advisor this year. Meetings are held every Thursday night at 7:30.

NEW INTRAMURAL TROPHY
The intramural trophy, which is awarded each year to the group having the highest number of points in intramurals, will be a new one this year. The members of Alpha Delta Pi last year received the trophy permanently for having won it three different years.

ALPHA PHI OMEGA BEGINS SCHOOL EVENTS

All Boy Scouts of College Were Invited to Scouting Event

All former or present Boy Scouts who are now enrolled at Kansas State college were invited to be the guests of Alpha Phi Omega on a Buddy hike Saturday afternoon. The group met at Nichols gymnasium at four o'clock. Everything was free.

Alpha Phi Omega is a national professional fraternity for scouting. Pi chapter is one of the outstanding chapters of the forty-three comprising the national fraternity. Its purpose is to collect together those interested in scouting for their mutual benefit and for the betterment of their colleges.

Among other activities planned by Pi chapter for this semester is the annual foot-ball day. This year approximately 3,000 scouts from all over the state will be the guests of Alpha Phi Omega and Kansas State college on November 21 for the Homecoming football game between Nebraska and Kansas State.

Another project is the inauguration of a "big-brother" program for new men students on the campus similar to the "Big-Sister" work of the Y. W. C. A. This is a new idea at Kansas State although complete details are not yet worked out.

Officers of Pi chapter, Alpha Phi Omega, for this semester are: Max McCluggage, Manhattan, Grand Master; Ronald Grebner, Manhattan, Deputy Grand Master; Dale Garvey, Waverly, Scribe; Paul Gibson, Chanute, Treasurer; and R. O.

Pence, of the Milling Department, Senior Faculty Advisor.

SWIMMING TRYOUTS

Frog Club tryouts will be held Thursday afternoon at 5 o'clock at the swimming pool in the women's gym. All women students interested in swimming are eligible for the tryouts, and those interested are asked to sign the Frog Club poster on the bulletin board of the women's gym.

Thirteen entrants were present for the first tryout, held last Tuesday afternoon.

The real name for the S. G. A. is the Student Self Governing Association, which was organized during the school year of 1919-20. At the time of its organization every student paid dues amounting to 25 cents. Membership in the organization at that time was one of the qualifications required of an Aggie student before he could hold office in any student organization.

NOTICE
• All managers of intramural teams or organizations are requested to attend the annual meeting of the athletic association in the K room of Nichols gymnasium tonight at 7:15.

PARKER'S FAITH IN A SCIENTIST'S "FOOL IDEA"

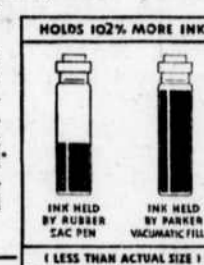

Has Utterly Revolutionized Pens!

Pen inventors vainly tried for nearly 50 years to produce this "miracle pen." Not merely a pen without a rubber ink sac, but a sacless pen without the piston pump or valves—with nothing to render it useless later. Finally most pen makers gave it up as a "fool idea."

Then a scientist at the University of Wisconsin conceived this revolutionary principle—the Vacuumatic Filler. He brought it to Geo. S. Parker, and we spent thousands to perfect it. It is guaranteed mechanically perfect.

A pen with twice the ink capacity—a twice greater beauty and distinction—a 2-way writing point, writing your regular hand on the under side, and finer on the upper side for figuring and interlining. Actually a twice greater value at a favorite price—$5 and $7.50.

Now you can see and try this "miracle pen" at any nearby pen counter. Go today. The Parker Pen Co., Janesville, Wis.

WILDCAT GRID ELEVEN READY FOR TEACHERS

SEASON OPENER BETWEEN KANSAS STATE AND EMPORIA AT 2:00 TOMORROW

TWO BANDS FURNISH MUSIC

Both Teams in Tapering Off Drills—Injuries May Keep Several of Both Squads Out of Lineups

When Kansas State's warriors of the gridiron step on the green sod of Memorial stadium tomorrow afternoon at 2:00 o'clock they will be set to open the 1933 football season against the strong Emporia Teachers eleven.

Injuries are likely to keep several veterans and lettermen from both squads out of the lineups. Coach Bp McMillin will have to do without the services of George Maddox, letter tackle, who has not been in uniform this season. Raymond Doll and Doc Weller, letter backs, both have minor injuries that may keep them out of the game. Henry Kirk, junior squadman, is out with a twisted knee.

Coach Fran Welch of Emporia also has casualties to worry about. Glenn Davis, letter guard and the only veterans for that position, and Bob Purvis, letter back, both have leg injuries. Alva Gould, veteran halfback, has an injured ankle, although he has been named on the starting lineup.

Coach Welch is bringing the picked 30 squadmen out of the 91 who turned out for practice. Seventeen of these are lettermen. Kansas State has 11 lettermen.

The Teachers have at least two lettermen for every position on the line except guard. Emporia will also have added strength because they will have the use of freshmen.

Coach McMillin has been putting his proteges through heavy practices this week in getting ready for the contest. Tuesday's practice consisted of offensive drills for the first string men. Wednesday they were put through a still defensive practice.

This afternoon will probably be spent in polishing up the rough corners and smoothing out faulty spots. The practice will likely consist of signal drill, kicking, and kick offs. Hanson, Gitting, Stoner, and Wertzberger have been working on kick offs.

Since Monday the Teachers have been polishing up on plays. Rather than take a chance on injuring his players through scrimmage sessions, Coach Welch has been easing up on the practices.

Plenty of peppy football music will be on hand for the game as the Teachers are bringing their 60-piece band along. Kansas State's 100-piece band will also be on review during the game. In addition, the center section of the east stadium has been reserved for Emporia rooters. The American Legion drum and bugle corps will also play for the knot-hole gang.

The probable starting lineups for the game are:

Kansas State—Blaine and Griffling, ends; Freeland and Wertzberger, tackles; Hanson and Forbes, guards; Harter, center; Morgan, quarterback; Stoner and Bushby, halfbacks; and Graham, fullback.

Emporia—Sawyer and McMay, ends; Dryer and Edwards, tackles; Strube and Wahl, guards; Colton, center; Conway, quarterback; Kurelich and Gould, halfbacks; and Fraley, fullback.

Officials for the game are—Ed Cochran, referee; Steve O'Rourke, umpire; and E. A. Thomas, head linesman.

KANSAS STATE NRA CAMPAIGN IS SUCCESSFUL

ALL SCHOOL DRIVE SPONSORED BY DYNAMIS ENDS WEDNESDAY

SIGN 582 CONSUMERS CARDS

Climax Intensive Publicity Events To Educate Students in The Recovery Program

Five hundred and fifty-nine students and faculty members of Kansas State college signed the consumers' pledge card in the NRA drive Tuesday and Wednesday of this week, according to an announcement made yesterday. Twenty-three of these had previously signed cards elsewhere. Leaders of the campaign expressed themselves yesterday as highly satisfied with the outcome of the all-school drive.

The campaign was sponsored by Dynamis, general honorary society, working in cooperation with the student governing association and the Manhattan Chamber of Commerce. The opening of the enlistment booth in Anderson hall Tuesday morning climaxed an intensive publicity campaign intended to educate Kansas State students in the principles and practices of the NRA. Arlene Marshall, Herington, had charge of the enlistment booth and was assisted by members of Dynamis.

Commenting on the campaign results yesterday afternoon, Prof. E. R. Lyon of the department of physics, faculty advisor to Dynamis, said, "A very satisfactory showing was made considering that a great many students and most of the faculty signed the NRA roll when the national campaign opened in August. The new roll is almost a complete list of those faculty members who had their vacations in August."

"In our college campaign we leaned over backward in our effort to avoid sensationalism and emotionalism," said Professor Lyon in a written statement addressed to the Collegian. "We made an effort to set forth both the pros and cons for the NRA."

"We were satisfied to find on our roll so many names of student and faculty leaders. The NRA appeals to leadership because it demands courage to pioneer an unblazed trail and faith to believe that America is fundamentally sound. We are deeply grateful for the splendid cooperation of all who served in the campaign and to the student council and the Collegian."

The campaign was divided into three parts. Thursday, a student-faculty forum was held at which the technicalities of the recovery program were explained. On Tuesday of this week, Arthur P. Peine, president of the chamber of commerce and head of the local NRA organization, discussed the philosophy of the program and its general significance in student assembly. The third and final phase of the program was the maintaining of the enlistment booth Tuesday and Wednesday of this week.

Y. M. C. A. MEMBERSHIP RALLY NEXT SUNDAY

Ahearn and Davis Are Speakers at Annual Y Meeting

A membership rally of the Y. M. C. A. will be held in recreation center in Anderson hall Sunday afternoon at 3:00 o'clock, according to Dr. A. A. Holt, executive secretary of the organization. The purpose of the meeting will be to arouse the interest of new members of the association.

Prof. M. F. Ahearn, director of athletics, and Prof. H. W. Davis, head of the English department, will be the speakers during the afternoon. The campaign for membership in the organization will continue next week.

CONTINUE CLUB TRYOUTS

Men's glee club tryouts are being continued this week, and appointments may be made at the music office in the auditorium.

Prospects for a large club are good, according to Prof. William Lindquist, but more tenors are needed to complete the personnel. Professor Lindquist announced that all men interested in the organization should sign up for tryouts this week.

ADD TO ANNUAL STAFF

Ken Harter, Editor, Makes Six Appointments; Reppert, Business Manager, Makes Two

The 1934 Royal Purple, college yearbook, added seven new members today to its present staff. Ken Harter, editor, has approved the appointments to six positions on the editorial staff while Clay Reppert, business manager, had added two to his business staff.

Ferne Vesceky, junior, was chosen as assistant editor. She served the same position on the 1933 Royal Purple staff. Mildred J. Peters, senior and present sports editor of the Collegian, will be the men's athletic editor on the annual. The yearbook division editor is Lela Ruth Oliver, junior, and Richard Smith, freshman, is appointed school publication and organization head. Mary Elizabeth Wilkes, junior, is filling the position of military and administration editor. Any students interested in being humor editor are asked to hand in their application to the editor as this position has not been filled.

The two appointed as assistants on the business staff are Max Burk, junior, and Harry Johnson, senior.

The 1934 Royal Purple is composed of twelve books. Each of the six divisions, general science, engineering, agriculture, home economics, veterinary medicine, and graduate study, have a complete book devoted to their interests, students, and organizations. The other six book divisions are administration, publicity, general organizations, athletics, features, fraternities and sororities, and military. The organization and arrangement of the book this year is much different and more convenient than that of former years. The staff is offering the book at a lower price this year because they believe that more will be sold during the year.

PEP MEETING TO FIRE FOOTBALL SPIRIT TONIGHT

DOC KING, WILD BILL GUERRANT, AND "BO" MCMILLIN TO SPEAK

FIRST PEPELEADER WORKOUT

North, Spiker, Brown, Dill, and Blackwell To Lead Yells on Auditorium Stage

The accumulated enthusiasm which has been gathering to a high pitch with the increasingly fine showing of the 1933 Wildcats in practice will be brought to a wild climax at the pep meeting tonight in the auditorium at 7:30 o'clock.

Dr. H. H. King, famed pep speaker, will preside at the meeting with "Wild Bill" Guerrant doing most of the talking. Loyal boosters will also see "Bo" McMillin and his fighting gridsters on the stage of the auditorium with "Mike" Ahearn, athletic director, and the remainder of the coaching staff elbowing for room on the front row. All will be introduced to the student body, each giving his opinion of the outcome of the season's first game which will be held tomorrow afternoon in Memorial stadium against the Emporia Teachers.

A classy bunch of cheer leaders will have their first work-out with the cheering sections when Jim North, Bob Spiker, Buster Brown, Bob Dill and John Blackwell go into action with the stirring yells that have helped bring many a brilliant Aggie victory. In addition, the Wampus Cats and Purple Pepsters, Aggie pep organizations, will be in there in costume to aid in leading the cheering.

This is the first pep meeting of the year and it is expected to be exceptionally well-attended with the freshmen and new students seizing their chance to learn the songs and yells of their Alma Mater. M. L. Carter, Smith Center, who is a member of the student council has charge of arrangements for the meeting. There will be no free show after the rally.

SWINE FEEDERS MEETING

Seventh Meeting of Hog Raisers to Be Held Oct. 14

The seventh annual swine feeders' meeting will be held at the college October 14 under the sponsorship of the animal husbandry department, according to an announcement by Prof. C. E. Aubel.

There will be two outstanding features to the program this year. The first will include addresses by persons prominently identified with the livestock industry, and the second will consist of the reports concerning swine feeding experiments which have been completed in the last year.

FIRST DIME DANCE

The first Y. M. C. A. student mixer will be held in recreation center, Saturday evening, September 30. These mixers will be held twice a month this year. During the last few years these events have been popular with the student body, due, no doubt, to the fact that the admission is only a dime and dancing is the main entertainment.

Keneth Davis, Manhattan, was elected chancellor of Quill club at a meeting held Tuesday evening in the office of Prof. H. W. Davis. HOLT A FORUM SPEAKER

First Student Forum Event of the Year Held Today

"Hitlerism or What is Happening in Germany" is the subject of a speech to be given by Dr. John Holt at the student forum at noon today in the college cafeteria.

The speaker will be introduced promptly at 12:20 o'clock. This is the first forum of the year and a large attendance of students and faculty members is expected.

Doctor Holt, who has been studying for the past two years in Germany and working for a master's degree, is a particularly interesting speaker on German problems. He is the son of Dr. A. E. Holt, a former Manhattan pastor who will speak later in the afternoon at a meeting on the campus.

Dr. A. E. Holt of the Chicago Theological Seminary and formerly pastor of the Congregational church of Manhattan will speak at 4 o'clock this afternoon in room 331 of the west wing of the agricultural building. His subject will be "The Social Role in Rural Life."

Doctor Holt, who is a forceful and effective speaker, is recognized as an outstanding authority on rural life problems. He has served as a member of a committee that has been endeavoring to solve the problems of fluid milk distribution in the Chicago market. He frequently is called upon to participate in national meetings where problems of rural life are considered. Both meetings are open to the public.

Some of the B. S. P.'s (meaning big shot politicians) on the hill ran the freshman pan-hel election the other night. . . . The senior pan-hel representatives of several of the houses got together and decided who was to get what offices and instructed the freshmen whom to vote for. . . . The "right" ones were elected. . . . One Chi O pledge seems to have higher education on the brain. . . . At least she walked into the Royal Purple office and asked for a University check. . . . The new varsity program is going to result in some hot competition between two well-known ballrooms. . . . Some of the boys eligible for passes were running around before the S. G. A. meeting wondering which place would be approved. . . . Most of the non-athletic bicycle riders after a few moments pedaling look as though they were on the fifty-third mile of a fifty four mile bicycle race. . . . And probably feel like it too. . . . The renters of the bikes are considering the purchase of a gallon of rubbing alcohol for the casualties. . . . One of the scouts in the agricultural department found some hops growing along side of the railroad tracks recently. . . . Along with this discovery the department is buying a cider press. . . . Looks like they are getting ready for repeal. . . .

Their cooperation made possible the publishing of a complete student directory only three weeks after the beginning of the fall term.

PATRIOTISM A FACTOR IN RECOVERY CAMPAIGN

Arthur Peine, Assembly Speaker, Says Program Calls For National Unity

Sane peace time patriotism, according to Arthur P. Peine, president of the Manhattan Chamber of Commerce, who spoke in student assembly Tuesday, is built upon creative work, and not destruction. It depends on humanitarianism rather than hate, it is humble rather than conceited, it is based on a keen sense of justice.

"Peace Time Patriotism" was the subject of Mr. Peine's address, and in it he expressed a deep suspicion of too self-conscious patriotism. He characterized the pre-war type of patriotism as frequently coming from munition manufacturers; the post-war type as originating with the pensioner and the intra-war type as a kind of exhibitionism. Mr. Peine went on to state that the NRA calls for a humble patriotism, confessing that we have gotten into the present difficulties through our own ignorance.

"Patriotism," Mr. Peine said, "at all times calls for a degree of submergence of the self in the common endeavor, for the acceptance of leadership, for sacrifice, for national unity. In these factors the American people are being weighed in the balance, and thus far they have not been found wanting."

The NRA program in relation to the new deal was discussed briefly and the objectives given. A new determination to control and regulate economic forces, an adjustment of production to effective demand, adjusting buying power, and eliminating exploitative competitive practices are the principal forces in the program.

As yet, however, results are not widespread. Mr. Peine stated that there is too much of the old game and that speculation has done much to undermine effective work. Much administration will be necessary to carry out NRA measures, but the American people have shown no disposition to turn back.

ALLEN FRANKLIN AT WAREHAM BALLROOM

Allen Franklin (in person) and his Walkashow Band are headlining the dancing program this weekend in Manhattan. This National Radio Group are to be at the beautiful Wareham Ballroom this Saturday night, in answer to the big Surprise Varsity Dance which was advertised Tuesday. Allen Franklin carries eighteen people in to Manhattan, including a real New York styled Floor Show in connection with the regular dancing, this idea being the first of its kind ever to appear in this city. Floor shows in connection with Big Time Dances are taking the country by storm, now it is being introduced in Manhattan. The dance takes off to a flying start with Allen Franklin and his Walkashow Band at 8:30 sharp Saturday night, instead of the usual 9:00 o'clock starting. This is due to the fact that the Floor Show takes up over half an hour, and thus provides the dancing couples in the Ballroom the usual 3-hour period for dancing, and at the same time gives time for the Floor Show idea. The Floor Show holds sway at 10:30 p. m. sharp. Other than those advertised in the cast Allen Franklin most always carries along one or more Guest Artists, which appear in these Floor Shows. Accompanying Allen Franklin and his Band here are Moon Mullins, of WBB radio fame, Dale Jones, CBS favorite, Marge Kellner and Dorothy Darnell, both well known to all Kansas City radio listeners. The Lynn Sisters, in fast steps known from New York to the Mississippi as Jean and Jan, then last but not least Allen Franklin's Protege, Lloyd Hansuid, the George Fergie Hill Billy Boy, from WBB and other radio stations in the North.

This Band and Revue, traveling to the coast for a winter's engagement, will make only a few stops enroute, and Manhattan dance goers are unusually fortunate in their selecting the Wareham Ballroom for one night.—Adv.

"The Y. M. C. A. serves many important interests of the student in a quiet, persistent, and effective manner," President F. D. Farrell.

Turkish tobacco is packed thousands of tiny leaves to the bale. It averages 400 leaves a pound.

Why—
Tobaccos grown in this country are "seasoned" with tobaccos from Turkey and Greece

THE ANSWER IS VERY SIMPLE:

TOBACCOS to taste right in a cigarette need to be flavored or seasoned just the same as you might season a steak or a pudding.

No tobaccos have ever been found that equal the spicy aromatic tobaccos of Turkey and Greece for this purpose. That's why we send 4000 miles for aromatic tobaccos from Sam-soun and Smyrna, Xanthi and Cavalla.

When blended and cross-blended in just the right amounts with Chesterfield's mild ripe Domestic tobaccos, the result is a rich flavor and a fine fragrance.

Chesterfields are seasoned right—they taste right. May we suggest you try them.

Through the cooperation of the Registrar's office
The Collegian is able to offer you a practically complete issue of the student directory in this issue.

It is impossible for the S. G. A. to get the publication of the booklet out until later in the fall because of other material that it contains. Your cooperation in reporting changes of address and telephone will be appreciated and it will result in a more exact directory.

CHEER LEADERS ARE READY FOR PEP RALLY

Bob Spiker Will Direct Yells at Games This Year

Football fans at the game in Memorial stadium tomorrow afternoon will view the 1933 season's debut of Kansas State's new set of cheerleaders, under the direction of Bob Spiker, Emporia, head cheer leader.

The 1933 group of yell leaders includes in addition to Spiker the following students: Jim North, Kansas City, Mo.; Lloyd Brown, Fall River; Robert Dill, Winchester; and Johnny Blackwell, Larned. Blackwell and Dill, the freshmen yell leaders, were chosen Tuesday afternoon by a committee of three faculty members including M. F. Ahearn, Dr. H. H. King, and H. Miles Heberer and two students, Nelson Reppert and M. L. Carter. Twenty students participated in the cheer-leading tryouts which were held in Nichols gymnasium Tuesday.

WAMPUS CATS PLAN BIGGER PEP SEASON

Organization Plans to Enlarge Fraternity Membership This Year

Phi Epsilon Pi, national pep organization, held formal initiation Tuesday night at the Phi Kappa Tau fraternity for those men who had been initiated informally last spring. The Kansas State chapter is known as the Wampus Cats.

According to Harry Johnson, president of the organization, the Wampus Cats are planning to enlarge the membership and encourage more pep at the games. Two or three men from each fraternity will be accepted this year, while only two were allowed formerly.

The incomplete list initiated Tuesday night includes:

C. P. Berryman, George Jobling, Elmer Metcalf, Merton Mathews, Donald Mace, Dave Hays, R. E. Lippenberger, David Gregory, Wayne Thornbrough and C. G. Isenberg.

Informal initiation for Wampus Kittens was held at K hill last night. Formal initiation for all Wampus Kittens will be held early next week.

Plans for the coming football season were made and the possibilities of ordering the traditional purple and white sweaters were discussed by those present at the meeting.

WHAT THEY SAY ABOUT Y. M. C. A.

Dr. H. T. Hill—"Christian living and Aggie loyalty are the aim and practice of the Y. M. C. A."

Dr. H. H. King—"The Y. M. C. A. tends to develop all around Christian manhood."

H. O. Dendurent—editor of The Collegian—"The work of the Y. M. C. A. is undoubtedly worthy of the liberal support of students, faculty members and other interested in Kansas State college."

"Bus" Boyd—captain of the varsity basketball squad—"The Y. M. C. A. is one of the leading spiritual and altruistic organizations on the campus."

OTHER BIG SIX GAMES
Other Big Six teams besides Kansas State who are competing in regularly scheduled football games this weekend are Kansas university, Oklahoma university, and Iowa State. The Iowa State Cyclones start things off with a game under floodlights tonight at Denver university, while Oklahoma entertains Vanderbilt tomorrow afternoon, and Kansas clashes with Creighton university tomorrow evening at Omaha. Oklahoma is doped as the underdog against a powerful Vanderbilt team, but Kansas and Iowa State are considered to have a slight edge over their respective opponents.

ALLEN FRANKLIN AT WAREHAM BALLROOM
ALLEN FRANKLIN (in person) and his Walkshow band are headlining the dancing program this weekend in Manhattan. This National Radio Group are to be at the beautiful Wareham Ballroom this Saturday night, in answer to the big Surprise Varsity Dance which was advertised Tuesday. Allen Franklin carries eighteen people in to Manhattan, including a real New York styled Floor Show in connection with the regular dancing, this idea being the first of its kind ever to appear in this city. Floor shows in connection with Big Time Dances are taking the country by storm, now it is being introduced in Manhattan. The dance takes off to a flying start with Allen Franklin and his Walkshow Band at 8:30 sharp Saturday night, instead of the usual 9:00 o'clock starting hour. This is due to the fact that the Floor Show takes up over half an hour, and thus provides the dancing couples in the Ballroom the usual 3-hour period for dancing, and at the same time gives time for the Floor Show idea. The Floor Show holds sway at 10:30 p. m. sharp. Other than those advertised in the cast Allen Franklin most always carries along one or more Guest Artists, which appear in these Floor Shows. Accompanying Allen Franklin and his Band here are Moon Mullins, of WHB radio fame, Dale Jones, CBS favorite, Marge Kelliher and Dorothy Danell, both well known to all Kansas City radio listeners. The Lynn Sisters, in fast steps known from New York to the Mississippi as Jean and Jan, then last but not least Allen Franklin's Protege, Lloyd Hansuld, the Georgie Porgie Bill Billy Boy, from WHB and other radio stations in the North. This Band and Revue, traveling through to the coast for a winter's engagement, will make only a few stopovers enroute, and Manhattan dance goers are unusually fortunate in their selecting the Wareham Ballroom for one night.—Adv.

... The sisters Kappa are still chuckling over a fast one pulled on one of their pledges last week. The pledge was in the habit of signaling her Beta flame of her unchanged affection for him by flashing the light in her room thrice at a certain time each evening—the three flashes meaning "I love you."

One of the Kappa activities after catching the pledge in the act decided to do the thing in a really big way. She used the master switch to flash the signal, blinking all the lights in the house. Imagine the Beta's embarrassment on seeing the whole Kappa house apparently a victim of his charm. The freshmen seemed to be able to dish it out but the K fraternity seems to be determined to discover whether they can take it or not. No one seems to know whether the freshmen were organized. They met at the auditorium and marched to the field, but the freshmen won't tell who, if anyone, was behind it, and the upperclassmen can't say.

One did part of his recuperating in bed. If you are a timid soul don't patronize a certain filling station in Aggieville. It is manned by four formidable looking football men, and the inducement to buy five gallons even when able to pay for one is pretty strong. Not that they would use their strength—but think of the bloodshed if they did.

Y.W.C.A. DRIVE IN NEW THEME FOR MEMBERS

ALL COLLEGE WOMEN WILL BE VISITED BY REPRESENTATIVE OF GROUP

11 ACTIVITIES THIS YEAR

Membership and Finance Campaign Inaugurated Last Night In First Rally of Year

"Pot O' Gold" is the theme of the Y. W. C. A. membership and finance drive which was inaugurated last night at a rally held in recreation center for all captains and workers taking part in the drive.

An effort will be made to see every girl in school before Friday morning of this week. The initial membership fee is $1.50. When girls sign up for membership they will also be asked to designate what Y. W. activities they especially want to participate in.

These activities include college sister work with new girls each semester, interest groups, freshman commission, retreats, Aggie Pop, Christmas bazaar, student and world Christian forums, all school parties, K books, magazine and book lending, and the Estes park conference each summer. A number of these activities are carried on in conjunction with other groups.

Evelyn Braden is membership chairman and Ruth Jorgensen has charge of finance. Captains during the drive are: Helen Morgan, Elizabeth Walbert, Ellen Payne, Geraldine Guthrie, Katherine Knechtel, Frances Tannahill, Geneva Johnson, Maxine Morehead, Charlotte Nix, Ethel Olney, and Eve Brownwell. There are ten workers on each team, and the one seeing the greatest percent of girls and attaining the best results will receive a prize package.

Creative writing and poetry, problems of personal religion, personality questions, clothes and possibilities for making them over, and world affairs which is to be a joint group with the men are the interest groups scheduled to meet this fall for a six weeks period starting October 19.

In some way the Y. W. C. A. serves every girl. It helps her find knowledge and understanding. It gives her opportunities to develop herself through leadership, service, friendship. It aids in her search for more peace, self-realization, self-confidence, character, and personality thru interest groups, and committees, through working and playing with all kinds of girls. Through its various activities Y. W. contributes to the educational life of girls. On the campus it is one of the most significant groups in aiding students to build into a whole the experiences of college—to correlate classroom with life.

MATRIX PARTY FOR JOURNALISM WOMEN

Theta Sigma Phi Will Sponsor Annual Event Next Thursday

Invitations have been issued to all women enrolled in journalism to attend the annual Matrix party in Kedzie hall Thursday evening from 8 until 9:30 o'clock. The party is sponsored by Theta Sigma Phi, honorary fraternity for women in journalism.

Eighty invitations have been sent out. A program consisting of a play and games have been planned so everyone can get acquainted. Refreshments will be served. The program and refreshments committee consists of Winifred Wolf, Ottawa; Oms Bishop, Abilene; and Charlotte Buchmann, Clay Center.

The new dairy barn, which is located a short distance north of the northwest corner of the campus, was built at a cost of less than $45,000. Four college students who are employed part time as attendants at the barn, live in the second floor of the sanitary mill house, shown in the center foreground of the picture.

New Dairy Barn Latest Addition To College Campus

The new dairy barn situated northwest of the campus proper has been open to visitors since its occupation early this fall. The building is the newest on the Kansas State college campus.

The new building is built of native limestone in accordance with the plan used throughout the campus and is designed for beauty as well as efficiency.

The structure, which will accommodate 70 cows, was constructed at an approximate cost of $45,000. There are six digestion and metabolism stalls and eight pens for herd sires.

The milk house is equipped with refrigeration facilities for cooling fresh milk to 35 degrees, in addition to a large cold storage room where perishable products may be kept. There is also a small office situated nearby. On the second floor of this section are wash rooms, showers, and locker rooms for the attendants.

A large mow supplies room for the storing of 200 tons of loose hay in addition to 75 or 80 tons of baled straw. Two carloads of feed can be stored in the feed bins while four cement silos provide for the storage of 600 tons of silage. In the feed alley of the barn are an elevator, feed grinder, and feed mixer.

The original plans drawn for the building provided for two additional wings extended to the rear, but because of the necessity of economizing these are not a part of the completed building. In place of these two wings several of the old wooden buildings have been moved to the new location, where one of them has been reconstructed as a judging pavilion.

By November 15 all of the old dairy structures will have been removed from the campus. In addition to serving as a barn the building serves the purpose of an efficiently equipped laboratory.

Members of the dairy barn building committee were Dean R. A. Seaton of the division of engineering, chairman; Prof. J. B. Fitch, head of the dairy department; Prof. Paul Weigel, head of architecture department; Prof. F. C. Fenton, head of the department of agricultural engineering; G. R. Pauling, superintendent of building and repair; and J. W. Radotinsky, state architect. President F. D. Farrell, Dean L. E. Call, and Prof. H. W. Cave of the dairy department cooperated with the committee.

Former College President The New State Treasurer

Dr. William M. Jardine, former president of Kansas State college, who resigned as minister to Egypt several weeks ago, will return to Kansas as state treasurer. His appointment to that position was announced yesterday by Gov. Alf M. Landon.

The narrative of Doctor Jardine's busy life is a story of the rise of an Idaho farm boy who once worked for 25 cents an hour and later became secretary of agriculture in the cabinet of President Coolidge. It is the odyssey of a range rider who four years ago became minister to Egypt. Woven through and through the tale is an historical background, is a picture of Kansas agriculture during the past two decades.

A graduate of the Utah Agricultural college, Doctor Jardine came to Kansas State college in 1910 to become an agronomist. Four years later he became dean of agriculture and director of the experimental station here. In 1918 he was appointed president of the college, to succeed Henry J. Waters.

Probably there is no one man in the United States who possesses such an exhaustive knowledge of agricultural problems as does Doctor Jardine. This fact was recognized by President Coolidge when

DEBATERS HAVE UNUSUAL OPPORTUNITY THIS YEAR

Only Eleven Experienced Debaters Remain From Last Year; Try-outs Begin October 15

Men and women interested in debate will have an unusual opportunity for engaging in intercollegiate contests this fall and winter, according to H. B. Summers, debate coach. Only 11 experienced debaters remain from last year's squad, Dr. Summers says, and a squad of at least 40 men can be used this season. All students who believe they have ability in debate are strongly urged to make appointments for tryout. Appointments may be made between 9 and 11 each morning during the week of Oct. 15 in G-55, the office of the public speaking department in the education building.

Kansas State is justly proud of its achievements in the field of debate. Last year a squad of 36 men under the direction of Dr. Summers held 60 debates with other colleges, including Pennsylvania, Pittsburgh, New York University, Northwestern, Ohio State, Rutgers and most of the schools in the Missouri Valley section. During the past few years teams from KSC have met crack intercollegiate debate squads from coast to coast.

Last fall, Ed Stone and Ed Kelly represented Kansas State against Iowa on the domestic allotment question here in Manhattan. Later Ed Kelly and Eugene Somerville debated New York University on the same question. Their debates were reprinted in both of the national debate publications—"Intercollegiate Debate" and the "University Debater's Annual." Kansas State College was the only school in the United States to be represented in both books.

Although the 1933-34 schedule is still incomplete, arrangements have been completed for a series of 12 weekly radio debates to be broadcast over station KSAC.

Schools which will send teams to Manhattan for this series include Missouri, Drake, Iowa State, Creighton, Nebraska, and K. U. Tentative arrangements have also been made for a series of demonstration debates to be held before high school audiences at Hiawatha, Marysville, Concordia, Topeka, Pittsburg, and possibly Ellsworth. There will also be a demonstration debate at Lincoln, Nebraska, as a feature of the State Teachers' association meeting.

DAIRY JUDGING TEAM IN CONTEST YESTERDAY

Results of Competition at Waterloo, Iowa, Will Be Announced Today

Results of the intercollegiate dairy cattle judging contest held yesterday at Waterloo, Iowa, in which Kansas State is entered, will be announced today.

A team of three members for Kansas State was chosen from the contest last Friday morning: Willett Taylor, Lawrence; Walter Lewis, Larned; Frank Burson, Monument; and Warren Mather, Grinnell.

The group stopped at Lincoln and Fremont, Nebr., and at Des Moines and Ames, Iowa, for practice judging.

With the building last summer of the new dairy barn the total number of buildings on the campus reached forty.

FOUR SORORITIES THIS WEEK

Photo Editor Will Make Daily Appointments for Individual Members of Social Organizations

Fraternity pictures for the 1934 Royal Purple, college yearbook, will be taken at the Studio Royal beginning Monday, October 9. The rest of this week will be devoted to sorority pictures and Saturday will be made up day for anyone failing to have pictures taken at the appointed time.

Each organization will appoint one of its members as photo-editor with whom they will make appointments to have their pictures taken on their fraternity day at the studio. This list will then be taken to the photographer. The photo-editor will receive an enlarged photograph of himself provided all the members of his fraternity have had their pictures taken within two weeks after the appointed day, all proofs are returned within three days, and all retakes taken within ten days and the proofs returned three days later. These regulations will also apply to sororities.

The remaining four sororities to have their pictures taken this week are: Pi Beta Phi, Tuesday; Eta Tau Alpha, Wednesday; Clovia, Thursday; and Kappa Delta, Friday. Saturday is make-up day.

The fraternities in the order they will have their pictures taken are: Aetia, Monday, October 9; Alpha Gamma Rho, Tuesday, October 10; Alpha Kappa Lambda, Wednesday, October 11; Alpha Rho Chi, Thursday, October 12; Alpha Tau Omega, Friday, October 13.

Beta Theta Pi will have their pictures taken Monday, October 16 of the next week. Pictures of Delta Sigma Phi fraternity will be taken Tuesday, October 17; Delta Tau Delta, Wednesday, October 18; Farm House, Thursday, October 19; and Kappa Sigma, Friday, October 20.

The next week Lambda Chi Alpha will have their pictures taken Monday, October 23; Phi Delta Theta, Tuesday, October 24; Phi Kappa, Wednesday, October 25; Phi Kappa Tau, Thursday, October 26; Phi Lambda Theta, Friday, October 27.

Phi Sigma Kappa will appear at the Studio Royal Monday, October 30; Pi Kappa Alpha, Tuesday, October 31; Sigma Alpha Epsilon, Wednesday, November 1; Sigma Nu, Thursday, November 2; Sigma Phi Epsilon, Friday, November 3; Tau Kappa Epsilon, Monday, November 6; and Theta Xi, Tuesday, November 7.

Every Saturday will be made up day for anyone failing to have his picture taken on the appointed day.

STUDENT ASSEMBLY

Dr. W. E. Grimes, head of the department of agricultural economics, will be the student assembly speaker tomorrow morning at 10:15. His subject will be "Inter-Governmental Debt Payments." Special music will be furnished by the department of music. Assembly attendance so far this year has been unusually large.

ENROLLMENT REACHES 2,299
Official tabulation of the enrollment of Kansas State college was given out by the registrar's office Saturday. The final enrollment is 2,299 which is a decrease of 130 from last year. This decrease of only five per cent is less than was expected early in the summer.

The freshman class has an increase of 70, while the sophomores have a drop of 92. The senior class also has a drop of 91 in enrollment. The junior class has varied least of all having only four less this year. There was a slight decrease also in the graduation section.

TEL-O-GRID REPORTS
NEXT FRIDAY EVENING
St. Louis-Kansas State Game Will Be Reported to Manhattan Fans

Kansas State football fans who will be unable to attend the St. Louis university-Kansas State football game next Friday night will enjoy a play-by-play account of the game by means of a tel-o-grid at the auditorium. The tel-o-grid is operated in nearly the same manner as the grid-graph which drew crowds for the football reports last year.

Five tel-o-grid events are listed this year for the entertainment of Kansas State football fans who want quick reports of the progress of out of town games. The tel-o-grids are sponsored by Sigma Delta Chi, men's journalistic fraternity of Kansas State college. The tel-o-grid Friday night will begin at 8 o'clock.

The lowest admission in years will be charged for the tel-o-grid event next Friday evening. Students of the college will be admitted to the tel-o-grid for 15 cents including activity books. Students without activity books, and townspeople will be charged 25 cents for the event. Members of the knot-hole gang will be charged 10 cents each.

Unlike the play by play reports of the grid-graph last year the tel-o-grid this year will give up-to-the-minute reviews of the game in such a manner that there will be no delay in the progress of the event. An improved device will be used at the auditorium so that quick reports of the game will be assured.

Members of Theta Sigma Phi, professional journalistic fraternity for women, will sell tickets at the tel-o-grid next Friday and also will act as ushers for those who attend the event.

Fighting Frosh Paddle Wampus Cats in Tussle
A sudden outbreak of flying fists and cracking paddles featured the activities of the first half of the football game Saturday when an organized representation of Wampus Cats, pep organization, tangled in combat against purple-capped members of the freshman class.

The Wampus Cats, apparently endeavoring to carry out the traditions of the school in forcing all freshman men to wear purple caps, approached the group of first year men in the stadium and started away with one member of the class who appeared at the game sans cap.

But the freshmen were organized. For the first time in several years members of the group decided this year to "hang together," and if necessary, "show the upperclassmen a thing or two." It was when several members of the Wampus Cats organization started away with the freshman without a cap that the real fighting began. During the next five minutes the participants in the riot were touched none too lightly on the chins, and there was many an eye that was brought quickly against a swift-swinging fist.

After the Wampus Cats were successful in carrying off the freshman without the cap, the other freshmen organized themselves quickly and brought the hatless freshman back to the stadium. Many paddles were also captured by members of the freshman class. The fight was ended but the argument continued for several minutes. Immediately after the game, many freshmen marched to Aggieville and to the city park but no one, apparently, challenged them to another battle.

FIVE GRID PLAYERS BECOME SERVICE MEN

Part of McMillin's Squad Now Employed in Sinclair Station

The Sinclair service station in Aggieville, located at 1215 Mogo avenue, is operated at the present time by part of the college football squad. Five members of the squad of Bo McMillin's football players are now employed at the station.

The gridiron men assisting are Captain Ralph Graham, the non-stop line plunging fullback; Melvan Wertberger, senior lineman; Paul K. Fanning, freshman squad member; and Orville Bigford. Don Johnston and Owen (Chili) Cochran are in charge of the Sinclair service station.

Cochran is serving as assistant football coach to Bo McMillin, a position which he has held for the past several years. He was a star quarterback and kicker under Charles Bachman when he was football coach here several years ago. The assistant coach is recognized as K. S. C.'s outstanding gridiron player in football history. Johnston played on the college squad two years ago.

PRELUDE TO TRAGEDY?

The threat of war hangs heavy over the world today. In Geneva, suave diplomats meet to talk of peace and disarmament while the nations which they represent arm themselves to the teeth. In Germany, a petty demagogue with a lust for power proclaims the ideals of extreme nationalism—and the German people listen to him, the youth of Germany accepts these ideals as its own. From Paris comes the astounding news that the people there are buying gas masks and live in constant fear of an air raid. The same terror grips Vienna and in Moscow. Everywhere there is talk of war and preparation for war.

Those diplomats meeting at Geneva, they play a game, always realizing that it is a game. The rulers of nations recognize a clear distinction between the real and the ideal—and they are practical men, they deal with "realities." But they are fools also or they would see that the ideal is the only real, that all "realities" are but manifestations of ideas. Plato taught that, and he was right. The world is armed today as it was never armed before, but it is not armaments which cause wars. Rather, wars are caused by that which armaments represent, by fear and distrust and hatred. Clearly the idea is here more real than "reality".

Materialism, when it becomes the philosophy of a civilization is likely to prove fatal to that civilization. Materialism is the philosophy of the static, the inanimate, and the materialist employs an analytic method that measures everything quantitatively rather than qualitatively. The materialist does not affirm reality, he denies it. That which is alive cannot be analyzed, and a civilization is a living being. The social philosopher must deal with "reality", but always he must remember that these "realities" are but the forms of human ideas, and that it is the ideas which he must change to accomplish reform.

This, then, is the task to which we must address ourselves: the reformation of ideals. Specifically, we must establish an international ideal. The art of Michelangelo, the symphonies of Beethoven, the tragedies of Shakespeare, the philosophy of Immanuel Kant—these belong to all nations. The intellectual world has no national boundaries. And compared with the pleasures of this world, how petty seem materialistic acquisitiveness, how stupid our desire for mere things.

We are the youth of the world. Are we to slaughter and be slaughtered on the battlefields of the world as have the generations before us?

FRESHMAN CAPS

The attitude that many members of the freshman class have shown this year regarding the wearing of purple caps has resulted in a problem for upperclassmen and especially those school organizations that are trying to enforce the old tradition. This year, like many other years, many freshmen have resented the wearing of caps; and upperclassmen have been scratching their heads and wondering what to do.

Very little, in fact, can be done to enforce cap wearing among the freshmen men. Members of the class will decide for themselves whether or not they will abide by the wishes of upperclassmen, and, apparently, many freshmen reached the conclusion during enrollment week that so far as they were concerned the school would get along very nicely if they would not help carry out the tradition. A few freshmen students this year did not feel that their school budget for the year would justify the expenditure in the purchase of a cap. Some, however, were stubborn and selfish, and did not buy the caps because they wanted to show the upperclassmen that they couldn't be told what to do.

The early days of Kansas State college are noted for the class fights of the students and the rough and tumble events of the school in forcing the freshmen to wear caps. Alumni of the college remember the hand to hand combats in the old days when students used text-books for brick-bats and no freshman went through the year without some sort of paddling from a group of upperclassmen. Each fall the new group of students looked forward to some sort of punishment from the other students in the college. The enrollment was small and freshmen were easily recognizable by upperclassmen. School spirit was agog, and every year the new members in the sophomore class, who were freshmen the year before, joined with other students in dealing the new crop of students the expected punishment.

Today, these knock-down, drag-out battles are a thing of the past. Although there is still absence this year of what older students termed "school spirit," Kansas State students should feel proud that combats and feuds in the school have disappeared. On the other hand, members of the freshman class should cooperate with upperclassmen and school organizations and wear their caps. Freshmen should remember that it is no disgrace to be marked a beginner in college. Other students in school will naturally have more respect for freshmen who do wear the caps than for those few reluctant members who do not think it necessary to carry out one of the college's oldest traditions.

Book Review

ANN VICKERS

By Sinclair Lewis

(Reviewed by Ruth Wilkerson)

At the moment I can think of no one with a greater lack of style than Sinclair Lewis. For the most part he strings sentences together in a careless, uninteresting manner. He does not hesitate to tell his reader what he intends to have happen in some future chapter of his story, and he has a ghoulish passion for sordid examples. Lewis is not even an orderly writer. Many times in ANN VICKERS there is a confusing lack of continuity.

In ANN VICKERS, Lewis again attempts to build a picture of a phase of American life. He chooses this time the feminist motif. Beginning in the early part of the nineteenth century, Lewis traces the life of Ann Vickers through thirty years. Had Lewis's story been a purely psychological one instead of a geographical panorama of her early years in a stodgy town, her college education in a girls school, her experiences as a suffragette, as a social worker, as a member of a prison staff, and finally as superintendent of a prison, there would have been less superfluous detail and a more superfluous book.

If Ann Vickers had found her happiness in something more original and more likely than a daring love affair and a baby; if Sinclair Lewis had not been so intent on social reform and abnormal sexual tendencies, I should feel better about him now. As it is, I think his style abominable. He has written of a significant period of American life in an awkward and ineffective manner.

The significance of ANN VICKERS was aptly summed up the other day in these words, "Of course, if girls want to have babies without getting married, it's all right, but..."

The Snooper

Red Hemphill is the boy that nearly cleaned Bob Spiker between halves at the game Saturday. The Wampus Cats, men's pep (?) organization, were about ordinary alley cats when they called a truce with the freshmen.

The romance between Clay Reppert and Mary Whitelaw has finally (after many false reports) come to the point of giving out cigars and congratulating the president of the Tri Deltis.

Richard "Slew-foot" Smith, the Sig Alpha pledge, says that he is a little modest but he hasn't quite had the time to have a date with every eligible girl in school yet but in a short time he thinks he will get around to it.

"Big George" Maddox has at least one far—"Golden Locks" as some of his friends call him was sitting on the bench due to injuries Saturday and some girl said in a quiet moment, "I sure wish that tall light headed boy would play."

A rhetoric teacher on the hills admits she does not teach boxing or floorwork in her English classes—it all came up when she received a notice of a class change with "Substituting floorwork for boxing" on the margin of the slip.

Lately, after Jim Richards cooks supper and puts his two small brothers to bed his climbs into the family Buick and does his Clark Gableing.

Badluck, The Freshman

Dear Ma and Pa:

I haven't done no studying for quite a while because I have been too busy organizing my 5-H club and showing the school that I am really a bigger shot than I was when I went to high school last year. Some of the fellers on the football team want me to go out for football and play left fullback for the college but I guess I won't play until some time later in the season when it begins to look like the aggies just can't get along without me no longer. But just wait until I organize my 5-H club football team then the aggies better look out.

There was a big football game last Saturday against Emporia and everybody sure yelled when they saw Badluck walking across the football field. Because I set a good example for the rest of the freshmen here and wore my freshman cap at the game. I told a senior yesterday that the school wouldn't need to be afraid of me not wearing my cap, because after what happened down in Aggieville last week, I was reminded of it every time I sit down to study. But my landlady gave me a soft pillow to sit on when I study my chemistree and rhetoric so I guess everything will be all right.

I went to a pep meeting last Friday night too. They sure make a lot of noise at these pep meetings and I think uncle Herman would sure have a lot of fun here because he won the hog-balling contest in Pitchfork county last year during the fair. Anyway me and the other members of my lodge are going to go to all the pep meetings this year and show them that Badluck and his 5-H club for iron men can really yell.

Your son,

BADLUCK.

p. s. Me and about 150 other freshmen got in a fight with some wampus cats last Saturday but I didn't get nothing but a skinned knee and a black eye.

FIRST THEATRE PLAY RECALLS OLDEN DAYS

"Ten Nights In a Bar-Room" a Revival of Meller-Drammer Days

Right in step with the return of "leg o' mutton" sleeves and the fashionable curves so widely accepted by the fair sex this fall, is the choice of "Ten Nights in a Bar-Room" as the Manhattan Theater's first play of the season. The revival of this member of the "meller-drammer" school was announced yesterday by H. Miles Heberer, director of the Manhattan Theater, and will be presented on November 3.

"Ten Nights in a Bar-Room" is a dramatization of Timothy S. Arthur's temperance story which first appeared in 1855. As a book it ran through numerous editions, and when dramatized became one of the most popular stage productions of the time. Years later it was filmed, both here and in England, and ranked as one of the most successful "movies."

Try-outs for the play will be held the first of next week, and definite announcements for try-outs will be announced later.

DISCUSS HITLER AT FORUM

John Holt Tells of Observations Made While Studying in Germany

Picturing the Hitler regime as an attempt to awaken a national ideal, John Holt, speaker at the student forum in the cafeteria last Friday, told of Hitlerism in Germany.

Mr. Holt's speech was based on two years of observation and study in Germany where he has been working for a master's degree. He pointed to the positive aspects of the Hitler regime in order to balance the negative reaction which most Americans have towards the dictatorship in Germany. The main emphasis of Hitler's program is in the re-budgeting of the national income on the basis of social ideals, with chief interest in the masses, the speaker explained. This is not very much different from our American NRA in which the Germans are very much interested.

"We cannot select any class, and say that the revolt is the result of the revolt of that particular class,"

Mr. Holt continued. "It comes from various classes, among which are the farmers, the disinherited of the nation or the inflation losers of 1923 and '24, the industrial proletarians, and also the students of Germany."

Hitler appealed to all these different classes by promising each class what it most needed. Since getting into power Hitler has attempted to make each class see the new program as a unified whole, with the re-budgeting of the national income so that first things come first.

Hitler puts the farmer first, considering him most important as a source of food production, as man power for the cities of Germany, and as a builder of the national culture. Hitler feels that the farm provides a home life which cannot be duplicated in the city, and that homelife is the key to fine character in young people, which makes for a solid national culture.

In regard to the treatment of the Jews in Germany, the speaker pointed out that discrimination is found in any revolution—Russia, Germany, or elsewhere; and explained the discrimination against the Jews as the result of an accumulated hate of ages and also the venting of an anger at the whole economic system in general. The most tragic thing about it is that the Jews are deprived of economic opportunities to make a living.

Mr. Holt sees Hitler as a man of the people, holding the idea of past into the far future and playing the importance of the people as a race extending from the historic ing their own part in the development of civilization and life.

NEW CASTS IN STUDIO

Architecture Department Uses 33 Molds in Free Hand Art Room

Pieces whose antiquity and beauty have made them famous are represented in the group of 33 casts which is part of the new equipment of the architecture department this fall. The casts have been placed in the free-hand studio on the second floor of the engineering building, and are used by members of the drawing classes, and occasionally, the water color classes. They are also used as illustrations by the students who are studying the history of painting and sculpture.

An Assyrian bas-relief, "The Wounded Lion," Michelangelo's rondo, "Mother and Child," and a cast of the Egyptian sphinx, the original of which is in the British museum, are among the new group of casts.

GRAHAM LEADS KANSAS STATE IN 25 TO 0 WIN

WILDCAT CAPTAIN SCORES FOUR TOUCHDOWNS AS DEFEAT EMPORIA

"RAMBLER" TAKES TO AIR

Two Counters Result of Passes—Bushby Kicks Lone Point; Play of Teams Ragged At Times

Led by the "rambler," Captain Ralph Graham, who cut loose to score four touchdowns, the Kansas State football team ran up a 25 to 0 victory over the Emporia Teachers in the first game of the season for both teams here last Saturday. Captain Graham crossed the Emporia goal line in every period. Tom Bushby place kicked the lone point after touchdown.

The Wildcats' first score came in about the middle of the first period after the Teachers had advanced the ball to the Kansas State 41-yard line, only to lose it on a fumble. Stoner then reeled off 40 yards and Graham made it a first down. Bushby made another first down and a pass from Morgan to Bushby netted 14 yards more. In three plunges Graham smashed over for the first score.

After several exchanges of punts, in the second quarter and several Teacher drives into Wildcat territory, Kansas State got the ball on their own 30-yard marker. Stoner's pass to Blaine was good for 27 yards. Another flip from Morgan to Graham planted the pigskin on the Emporia 42-yard strip. Several plays later Morgan again flung the ball to Graham who was stopped on the 15-yard line. There the Wildcats were momentarily halted when Emporia recovered a fumble, but a play later Blaine recovered the ball for Kansas State on the Teachers 4-yard line. In two plunges Graham was over for his second score.

Soon after the second period started Graham brought the crowd to its feet as he intercepted an Emporia pass on his own 33-yard line, eluded several would-be tacklers, and dash 67 yards down the east side of the field to cross the Teacher goal line for another touchdown. Bushby place-kicked the extra point.

Kansas State's last touchdown came as a result of a brilliant running and passing drive. The Wildcats took the ball on down on their own 37-yard line. Graham reeled off five, three, and nine yards. Then Stoner cut loose with a beautiful end run that was good for 24 yards and put the ball on the Emporia 19-yard marker. Bushby added three yards. Then a pass from Morgan to Graham clicked and the Kansas State captain went over the Teacher goal for the last score of the game.

Big Six Grid Notes

Nebraska The Cornhusker varsity ran roughshod over the freshman team Saturday, 33 to 0, in their last regulation practice game before the season opener with Texas university at Lincoln this week. In their rout of the freshmen, Masterson scored two touchdowns and Sauer, Boswell, and Miller one each, but the varsity reserves were held scoreless through the second and third quarters, indicating to Coach Dana X. Bibbe the need for work on his reserve men. He plans to devote the first part of this week to intensive scrimmage, and then taper off slightly on Thursday and Friday. Odds are about even on the Texas game.

Missouri Facing a strong freshman team last Saturday, the Missouri Tigers barely eked out a 7-0 decision when Lochiner, sophomore quarterback, plunged over from the 4-yard marker late in the second quarter. Though the varsity line functioned well on both offense and defense, Coach Frank Carideo ordered heavy offensive practice in preparation for the opening game with Central (Missouri) college Friday.

WILDCATS PLAY ST. LOUIS UNIVERSITY NEXT FRIDAY

Kansas State Eleven Faces Hard Game In Their Night Affair With Billikens

When Coach Bo McMillin and his squad of approximately 25 Kansas State Wildcats leave early Friday morning for their game with St. Louis university that night, they will be facing one of their stiffest football assignments of the season outside the Big Six.

St. Louis university has developed a team of heavyweights that will be hard to beat. With an eleven that averages at least 135 pounds per man, the Billikens have plenty of power. Two of the St. Louis backfield aces tip the beam at 205 pounds.

Last Saturday the Billikens bowled over James Milliken university 32 to 0 under wraps. They used only a few plays, so will probably have plenty up their sleeves for the Wildcats.

The Wildcats will go through three more hard practices sessions before they leave for the game, correcting faults found in the Emporia Teachers game last Saturday and improving their offense and defense for the Billikens.

The Kansas State squad will entrain Thursday evening and will leave Manhattan about 5 o'clock Friday morning. They will return from St. Louis Friday night or early Saturday morning.

Immediately after rush week at the University of Oklahoma this year, all students having automobiles in Norman were cautioned to have them out of town by 8 o'clock the next morning by the dean of men. Applications for car permits were necessary before the students were allowed to keep their automobiles in Norman.

LIMIT ENTRIES IN THREE INTRAMURAL ACTIVITIES

Horseshoes, Handball, Tennis Under New Rule—Soccer and Horseshoes Began Monday

An unusually large attendance of both fraternity and non-fraternity organizations was present at the intramural meeting in the K room of Nichols gymnasium, Tuesday night. "We had one of the best meetings ever held, with everyone present taking part freely in the discussions," said Prof. L. F. Washburn.

Action was taken up and passed by those present on the sports of horseshoes, handball and tennis. It was acted upon and passed to limit the number of entries for each organization to ten men in the singles and five men in the doubles for these three sports. The reason for limiting the number of entries in these sports is to eliminate men who had no intention of competing, which will mean the elimination of a number of forfeits in the first round.

Two points will be given the winner of each match instead of three as in previous years. One point will also be given to the loser of each match. The champions in each sport will get ten additional points, the runner-up five points, and each of the other semi-finalists three points. These ten points were added to recompense will get approximately the same number of points as on the three to one basis. The reason for cutting the points down from three to two for the winner was on account of the forfeits which let many men make points that weren't really earned.

For wrestling it was decided to add five extra points to the winner in each class in addition to whatever points he makes in his matches.

A new rule was made in soccer which will allow three re-substitutions in addition to the three allowed in other years.

A ringer-horseshoe tournament is being added to the list of intramural sports this year. No definite rules have been made for this particular sport as yet, however, each organization will be limited to two entries with no limit placed on the number of individual entries.

Soccer and horseshoe competition started yesterday.

GLIDER CLUB ORGANIZES

Organization Is Open to All Students Interested in Aeronautics

The members of the Glider club are preparing for another season of work and thrills. Sponsored by the Kansas State Aeronautical association, the club is open to all students who are interested in aeronautics and the sport of gliding. "Students do not need to be enrolled in the engineering division to belong," declared Prof. C. E. Pearce, of the department of machine design, "and girls are not ruled out either."

The glider, veteran of over three hundred flights, is a Northrop primary glider, built by student members of the organization. "We spent relatively little money on it," Professor Pearce explained, "but a very large amount of hard work." The machine weighs only two hundred pounds and was begun several years ago by students in the engineering division.

During the period over which the glider flights have been made, there have been no serious mishaps, either to the machine or to those guiding it, and its flights have trained several dozen men to fly it.

"The work is done," Professor Pearce continued, "on the good old American doctrine that those who don't work can't eat. In other words, every body does his share of the work, and everyone gets his share of the flying. It is not, therefore, an expensive sport, and no one interested need refrain from joining the group on that account." The machine is catapulted into the air by means of a shock cord, a long cord of elastic as thick as one's thumb. While the glider is held by three or four persons, another group stretches the cord. Then the machine is released and is shot into the air, the height attained being dependent on the amount of stretch on the shock cord. "The glider is sent up anywhere from 5 to 30 feet," said Professor Pearce, "depending upon how experienced the pilot is."

"The glider is all ready to fly," Professor Pearce continued, "and in this year's work, it is possible that we shall design and build a still better one, perhaps looking toward a machine that will soar, not glide."

How would you like a gift of $5,000. Myron Webb, a junior in the Arkansas City high school, recently was awarded a $5,000 scholarship by placing first in the third annual Fisher Body craftsman guild contest held August 18 in Chicago. His coach is now on display in the General Motors building in Chicago.

GREET JARDINE WITH BARBECUE AT CASEMENT'S

CROWD OF APPROXIMATELY 1,000 WELCOMES FORMER COLLEGE PRESIDENT

FACULTY MEMBERS ATTEND

President Farrell introduces the Honored Guest—Senator Capper Also One of the Speakers

Dr. William Jardine, former president of Kansas State college, past secretary of agriculture, and now state treasurer of Kansas, was welcomed back to his home town yesterday at a barbecue given in his honor on Dan Casement's "Junata Farm" three miles north of Manhattan. A crowd estimated at 1,000 was there to greet him.

Four Manhattan service clubs and a representation from the American Hereford association were co-sponsors with Mr. Casement of the picnic. Speeches were given by Doctor Jardine, Senator Arthur Capper, Robert Hazlett, prominent Hereford breeder of El Dorado, E. N. Wentworth, head of the livestock bureau of Armour and company, Chicago, and former member of the Kansas State faculty; and Frank Tomson, Shorthorn breeder of Dover.

Doctor Jardine, the principal speaker of the day, was introduced by Pres. F. D. Farrell, who in turn was introduced by Mr. Casement. Doctor Jardine expressed appreciation of the welcome and stated that he was glad to be back in Kansas.

"If I hadn't wanted to come here, I would not have accepted the appointment as state treasurer," Doctor Jardine said. He asserted that he is not worried about the Kansas bond situation.

Senator Capper commended Doctor Jardine's work as a member of President Coolidge's cabinet saying that "he was a great secretary of agriculture." He added that "there'll be no juggling of bonds under Bill Jardine."

Doctor Jardine came to Kansas State college twenty-three years ago as head of the agronomy department. Two years later he became dean of the division of agriculture and five years following that he became president of the college. He was appointed secretary of agriculture by Calvin Coolidge in 1925. In 1930 he was appointed minister to Egypt by President Hoover.

Members of the Kansas State faculty who attended the picnic were vice-president J. T. Willard, Dean H. Umberger of the extension division, Dean R. R. Dykstra of the division of veterinary medicine, Prof. William Lindquist, head of the department of music, Dr. J. E. Kammeyer, head of the department of economics, Prof. L. F. Payne, head of the department of poultry husbandry, Prof. F. W. Bell, head of the department of animal husbandry, Prof. C. E. Rogers and Prof. F. E. Charles of the department of industrial journalism, and M. F. Ahearn, director of athletics.

HARRIET CALLOWAY IS BACK!

A merry maddening mix-up to the tune of magical mirthful music is scheduled for patrons of the Avalon tomorrow night. And rumor from Pan-Hel meetings has it the place is going to be quite popular with its "outside" band.

What band? Why, none other than Harriet Calloway, that big black cloud of joy who made such a hit with Kansas State students earlier this fall. She is with us once again—but this time for 75c instead of $1.10.

Good bands at 75c per evening per couple is the New Deal for Kansas State the Avalon is giving this year.

Whether or not the Avalon can continue the policy it is inaugurating tomorrow night by booking bands of Calloway calibre at 75c per couple, depends entirely on Kansas State students, more especially fraternity men.

So get your best gal, men, and see how it seems to dance to a Calloway calibre band, on a "springy" floor—the only one of its kind in Manhattan—and for the admission charge of 75c.

The Avalon's New Deal to Kansas State!

ENTERTAINMENT FOR WOMEN JOURNALISTS

Atmosphere of Newspaper Office at Annual Theta Sigma Phi Party

The atmosphere of a newspaper office was present last night at the annual party for women enrolled in journalism, sponsored by Theta Sigma Phi honorary journalistic fraternity for women. Approximately 50 guests attended the party.

Newspaper caps on the heads of the guests represented what every newspaper has—headlines. A short skit to represent a comic strip, a reading for the feature, dramatizing ads for the advertising, and refreshments of cider and doughnuts, were the "spice of life" in the program, and the deadline was 9:30 o'clock.

A sign, "Ye editor's tendency to stretch things," attached to a piece of elastic; a dictionary with the placard, "Ye editor's book of learning—to be used often and diligently," and another sign, "Ye editor's last resort" with a bottle labeled "poison" were posted at the party.

SORORITIES COMPLETE ROYAL PURPLE PHOTOS

Fraternities Begin Sittings Next Week for College Year Book Pictures

The Royal Purple yearbook staff is well pleased with the response of the sororities in having their annual pictures taken on the appointed day. The last two sororities, Kappa Delta and Phi Omega Pi, have their sittings today. Saturday will be make-up day for any "number of any sorority failing to have their picture taken at the appointed time."

The Royal Purple individual fraternity pictures will be taken beginning Monday. Photo-editors of both fraternities and sororities are urged to make a definite appointment list for their chapter and turn it in to the Studio Royal before their appointed day. This will make the work easier at the studio and aid the photo-editor in seeing that all pictures are taken on the scheduled day, proofs returned three days after they are received and re-takes taken within ten days after the first setting. Enlarged individual photographs will be given to the photo-editors complying with these rules.

Ken Harter, editor, and Clay Reppert, business manager of the Royal Purple, left today for Kansas City to attend the convention of all the business managers and editors of yearbooks of the Big Six schools. The meeting will be held today and tomorrow at the Hotel Muehlbach.

Delegates to the convention will discuss major problems common to all college publications.

FRATERNITIES INTO Y

Four Greek Organizations Join Y. M. C. A. One Hundred Per Cent

Four fraternities have already lined up solidly behind the Y. M. C. A. in its annual membership drive which began last Sunday. The fraternities which have one hundred per cent membership in the organization are Alpha Kappa Lambda, Beta Theta Pi, Kappa Sigma, and Lambda Chi Alpha.

The drive was officially opened Sunday afternoon with a membership rally at which Mike Ahearn, director of athletics, and Prof. H. W. Davis, head of the English department, were speakers.

"Reports up to the present time are very encouraging," said Dr. A. A. Holtz, executive secretary of the Y. M. C. A. "The attitude has been very good on the part of both those solicited and those doing the soliciting. We are making an attempt to see every man in college and the rally will not be over until every name on the list has been checked. That will probably be finished by the end of next week."

Don Miller, Hanover, is general chairman of the membership committee, and is assisted by three other members in the drive. Virgil Chapman, Manhattan; and Clarence Keith and Eugene Warner, both of Ottawa, each of whom is responsible for a division of the city, are the assistants. The members of the Y. M. C. A. cabinet are in turn working under these men as captains. A special committee for fraternity membership is composed of Joe Creed, Bartlesville, Okla.; Tom Groody, Manhattan; and Don Miller, Hanover.

Y.W.C.A. DRIVE FOR MEMBERS WILL END TODAY

EVERY GIRL IN COLLEGE ASKED TO JOIN RELIGIOUS ORGANIZATION

GROUP MEETING NEXT WEEK

Miss Stella Scurlock, Regional Secretary, Will Be Principal Speaker at Meeting Monday Evening

Membership and finance teams of the Y. W. C. A. of Kansas State college have been hard at work since Monday in a campaign for new members and money subscriptions which will end today.

An effort was made by members of the organization to see every girl in school personally and ask each one to become a member of the Y. W. C. A., or if she already belongs to the organization, to be given an opportunity to contribute to the "pot-o-gold." At the same time girls were asked to check the interest groups and activities in which they are especially interested. Interest groups will begin activities Thursday evening.

Captains of the membership and finance teams of the Y. W. C. A. will check in today at the Y. W. C. A. office. It will not be known which team will net the largest "pot-o-gold" or see the greatest number of prospective members and old members in their territory until all captains have reported to the office.

The first all-association meeting of the Y. W. C. A. will be held Monday evening from 7:15 o'clock to 8:15 o'clock in recreation center. The main feature of the evening's program will be a talk by Miss Stella Scurlock, regional secretary. She will speak on how a girl can develop her own individual personality and make the best of herself. Miss Scurlock studied at Columbia university and was a graduate student in psychology and religion. According to those in charge of the meeting she is well qualified to discuss the subject, which is of interest to every girl.

The meeting Monday will be opened with mixing-stunts and interest group leaders will be introduced at the beginning of the meeting. Interest group leaders and their subjects are: Frances Rosser, Pratt; poetry and creative writing, Ruth DeBaun, Topeka; personality questions, Madge Gibbs, Quinter, and Elizabeth Lamprecht, Manhattan; problems of personal religion, Jeanette Moser, Blue Rapids; and world affairs, which is a joint group with the men, Ethel Olney, St. Joseph, Mo.

Frances Tannahill, Manhattan, is chairman of the committee in charge of the program. Other members of the committee are: Madge Gibbs, Marjorie Call, Ruth Gresham, Elizabeth Lamprecht, and Virginia Hagart.

Practically all of the college sister dinners have been held by the Y. W. C. A. A dinner was given last night at the home of Mrs. H. H. Haymaker, 315 N. Sixteenth street. The captain of that group is Wilma Cowdry, Lyons. Another dinner was given last evening also at the home of Mrs. L. E. Hibbs, 319 Denison street. Barbara Lautz Amarillo, Texas, is chairman of that group. The remaining two groups will be entertained sometime next week.

LAND MEETING THIS MONTH

A conference to discuss land utilization, a problem which has become increasingly important during the last few years, will be held here on October 20 and 21. Gov. Alfred M. Landon, Pres. F. D. Farrell and other authorities on land utilization will take part in the conference. The state-wide meeting is open to everyone interested in land utilization.

INTER-SOCIETY HIKE

The annual inter-society fall hike was held Saturday evening at Sunset park following the Emporia-Kansas State football game. Eats were served and a program consisting of stunts, readings, and group singing was given by representatives of various literary societies. Alice Wilsey, Washington, presided. Approximately 150 students were present.

STUDENT FORUM THURSDAY

Charles Saldanha Will Discuss Important Problems of India Charles Saldanha, S.J., St. Mary's college, will be the speaker at the student forum next week. NEW HOME ECONOMICS TEXT

Dean Justin, Mrs. Rust, and Miss Vail Co-authors of Foods Book

Dean Margaret Justin, Mrs. Lucille Rust, and Miss Gladys Vail are co-authors of the new text required in Foods I classes. The book "Foods," is an accumulation of years of experience in the administration of courses in Foods I.

Instructors and students will find that this book furnishes information that has been lacking in the text used previously.

Kansas Artists To Show In Exhibits This Year

By Gertrude Blair

The work of Kansas artists will play a large part in this year's calendar of art exhibitions as its schedule is now tentatively arranged. Six exhibits are to be shown in the gallery of the architecture department during the first semester, followed by five others in the spring semester.

These exhibits are sponsored each year by the department of architecture and are arranged by Prof. John F. Helm, Jr., of the department.

"The schedule," Professor Helm declared, "is necessarily only a framework, and will be filled in with other exhibits later on in the year as opportunities occur."

The first of the exhibits is already drawing visitors daily to the gallery. The collection is composed of water colors done by Professor Helm while in Michigan this last August, and will remain in the gallery until Oct. 9.

A collection of etchings and engravings from the Albert Rouiller galleries, which has been formed for the purpose of depicting the history of etching, will be shown from Oct. 9 to 23.

For the week beginning Oct. 23 Professor Helm is trying to obtain the work of a young Kansas artist, Margaret Sandzen, who has never shown here before.

Photographs by Dr. C. F. Taylor, superintendent of the state sanatorium at Norton, will form the larger part of the exhibition for Nov. 7 to 13. Pictures by Dr. C. Hull, also of Norton, will be included in this showing.

STUDENTS MUST SOLVE ECONOMIC WORLD PROBLEMS

DR. W. E. GRIMES A SPEAKER IN STUDENT ASSEMBLY WEDNESDAY

GOLD NOT ONLY DEBT FACTOR

Many Debtor Countries Now Want to Exchange Goods Without Buying, Speaker Said

Future citizens of the country who are now college students will be called upon to settle the questions now confronting the United States and foreign countries in regard to intergovernmental economics according to Dr. W. E. Grimes, head of the department of agricultural economics, who spoke at student assembly Wednesday.

Doctor Grimes said that in 1914 the United States owed over three billion dollars to foreign countries. Eighteen years later in 1932, these same countries owed the United States over twenty-one billion dollars without gold to pay the debts. Exhaustion of the gold supply of other countries has resulted in the desire of these countries to send goods to United States markets being compelled to buy any products in return.

"This cheaper type of product would ruin the industries of the United States," Doctor Grimes said. "These two conflicting interests must be in some way reconciled before economic stability may be gained by the different countries."

The speaker also pointed out that it was a fallacy to believe that the debts should be paid only in gold. He listed three possible mediums of payment which included gold, goods, and service. It is by the second method that foreign countries wish to pay their debts, after having exhausted the first method.

Resentment of this unequal balance of trade would be felt in the United States almost immediately if such a policy were adopted. The Smoot-Hawley tariff act was passed for this reason, Doctor Grimes said.

Pres. F. D. Farrell presided at the assembly and the Rev. A. M. Reed of the Presbyterian church of Manhattan, lead the devotions. Richard Jenson of the department of music played two organ solos.

DOROTHY BLACKMAN EDITORIAL SECRETARY

Mortar Board Re-Elects Faculty Members in Luncheon Yesterday.

Dorothy Blackman was elected editorial secretary of Mortar Board at a luncheon meeting Thursday noon at Thompson hall. At the same time the chapter re-elected its three faculty advisors, Dean Mary P. Van Zile, Miss Emma Hyde, and Miss Grace Derby.

The year's program was outlined, and further plans made for the Fourth Annual Halloween dinner given by Mortar Board for all campus women. A special meeting was called for Tuesday evening, October 10.

Modern College Coeds Ride Bikes Over The Town

(By Margaret Mary Reddy)

It's fun to go rambling, all over the town. Or across the country to hike. But it's fashion now, for modern gals.

To get there by pedaling a bike. Glimpse humanity from the crossbars. Tour Manhattan's most exclusive districts. Become an apt judge of public opinion. Ride a bicycle.

Dress for the occasion in a sweat-shirt, gingham shorts, and a flaming hair-ribbon. The variety of looks you receive will be alarming, disturbing, and vaguely irritating. For to become an advocate of two-wheeled amulation one must have both courage and mental aloofness—especially if one's legs are shaped slightly to the inward or to the windward.

You pump, pedestrians dodge, and shocked grey-beards turn a deaf ear to the seventh inning of the series. Two down, bases full, and stare in amazement at the sight of the younger generation on wheels. Mothers raise their hands and thank heaven they were lucky enough to have sensible sons instead of demented daughters with perverted ideas in regard to present methods of transportation. Filling stations are nearly collapsing into the hands of the receivers, cars remain parked in their respective garages, and the laboring man walks to work—walks rather than face a jam of reeling femininity clinging tenaciously to unwieldy velocipedes.

The bustle has given way to hustle and highways are overflowing. Every country lane has become a thriving thoroughfare, and nature is fighting for subsistence. Horses lack asstance and dig their noses deeper into the oats. This machine age. Four legs means nothing. Reins are discarded for handle bars, stirrups for pedals, and "whoa" will be an expression remembered only by our ancestors and prehistoric man. The bug has bitten, and cycling has once more come into its own.

Joe Knappenberger Heads This Year's Campaign

Joe Knappenberger is conducting the membership drive for the Collegiate 4-H club with the help of Ben Kohrs, Edwin McCollum, Wayne Herring, Grace Burson, Howard Moreen, Margaret Glass, Lebert Schultz, Linford Traux, Ruby Cor, Gertrude Greenwood, Walter Llewellyn, and Monroe Coleman.

Up to the present time there are 375 previous 4-H members enrolled in school representing 78 counties. Of the 375, 170 are freshmen.

So far this year, 163 students have signed up for Collegiate 4-H club work this fall.

"The Collegiate 4-H club members who have turned in their names for the 'Who's Who?' staff are: Robert Spenser, Gertrude Greenwood, Esther Johnson, Joe Spenser, Ceora Caven, Morris Wycoff, and Lebert Schultz."

DOCTOR TAYLOR SITS HERE

Dr. C. F. Taylor, superintendent of the state sanatorium at Norton, visited faculty members of the architecture department Monday morning. Dr. Taylor brought with him a group of about 25 photographs which will form part of the exhibition of photographs which is to be shown in the department's gallery during November. He also brought with him another small group of pictures by Dr. C. Hull, also of Norton, who works with him. Dr. Hull's pictures will also show in the exhibition.

KANSAS STATE-ST. LOUIS GRID GAME IN PLAY BY PLAY REPORT

BO McMILLIN'S HUSKY ELEVEN WILL ATTACK ST. LOUIS UNIVERSITY TEAM IN NIGHT GAME AT ST. LOUIS

SECOND FOOTBALL GAME OF SEASON FOR WILDCATS

Up to the Minute Reports Will Be Sent From St. Louis Direct to College Auditorium Where Tel-o-Grid Shows Every Play

The football tussle tonight between Kansas State and St. Louis University will be brought to Manhattan fans and college students by means of tel-o-grid, which records perfectly the exciting drama of line-plunges, long runs, and other action pictures of the two teams.

Although the Wildcats will be many miles away tonight in their game against St. Louis hundreds of fans here will have an opportunity to get a vivid description of the game by means of the tel-o-grid which will duplicate each play on the stage of the college auditorium. The tel-o-grid is sponsored by Sigma Delta Chi, professional journalistic fraternity, and is a great improvement over the gridgraph which was used last year during the football parties. While many schools are using the old grid-graph at the present time, this machine was abandoned here this year because it is too slow. The teletype which is used with the tel-o-grid will bring the account of the game just as rapidly as the observer at St. Louis can dictate the description of the play to the teletype operator at the auditorium.

The plays will be given to the audience over a loud speaker system, and the scores will be announced just as soon as they are received.

When Rambling Ralph Graham carries the ball across the field for a 40 or 50 yard gain, or when Tom Bushby, halfback, starts galloping toward the St. Louis goal line, fans in Manhattan will virtually see these startling plays by means of the tel-o-grid. Every part of the game tonight will be recorded on the tel-o-grid, and a play by play description will accompany the reports shown on the screen on the stage.

Fans are assured of an interesting game tonight when Bo McMILLIN's players meet the St. Louis Billikens. The university has developed a team of heavyweights that might be hard to beat. The fact that the average weight of the eleven men on the squad is 195 pounds is some indication of the power of the team. Two of the St. Louis backfield players, incidentally, tip the beam at 205 pounds.

The Wildcats completed three hard practice sessions before leaving for the game in an effort to improve their offense and defense for the game with the Billikens tonight.

The admission price of 15 cents with activity books and 25 cents without activity books is the lowest charge ever made for similar entertainments. A good time is in store for students, faculty members, and townspeople tonight at the tel-o-grid, and everybody there will see the game as it comes in and be first to hear the reports. The tel-o-grid will begin tonight at 8 o'clock.

STUDENT HEALTH SERVICE

Students of the college should remember that the health fee of three dollars which is paid upon registration is primarily for their benefit. In an effort to maintain good health among Kansas State students the department of student health was established, and two doctors give their entire time and three doctors devote part time to the service.

The student health fee of three dollars entitles students to free service of these physicians, although the student may employ at his own expense, any other physician he may desire. Student health needs are further fulfilled by four nurses who are employed in the student health department and the matron of the college hospital.

An important part of the student health department is the college hospital which is open day and night. Officials here are ready to receive students at all times and free hospital service is given for three days in each case of acute sickness except smallpox. After that period a charge of one dollar a day is made.

In order to help control contagious diseases all students absent from classes because of illness must obtain from the college health department a return card before he again returns to his classes. Cooperation with the department of student health will aid greatly in keeping down contagious diseases and consequently provide better living conditions for everyone connected with the college.

POISON IN THE PINES

Perhaps no portion of the campus is a more infallible source of exclamation than the evergreen grove along the east side of the campus. Carefully labelled conifers grow in neat rows, shading a rich green sod that makes the seasoned picnicker yearn for sandwiches and drink. It is, after all, an incandescent beauty.

But happy groups have enjoyed lounging in our evergreen grove, only to spend days of regret. For about and between the evergreens thrives a pretty three-leaved vine. Green clumps of it trail the grassy lawn, and some venturesome individuals even climb the rough trunks of the conifers. Picnickers who inadvertently handle this innocent-seeming plant wish later that they had never heard of Kansas State's evergreen grove as they peer at scaly blistered hands and arms through eyes swollen and inflamed.

The gardeners who are in charge of the beautiful flower beds, the sunken garden, and the vine-clad buildings should devote a day or two to salting down the poison oak that spoils the usefulness of the pine grove.

CONGESTION IN ANDERSON

At one side of the main hall of the administration building is recreation center, which is a fairly good-sized hall, capable of accommodating, in a pinch, between four and five hundred people. This being true, the reason for the hourly congestion in front of recreation center is not clearly apparent.

Between classes, the main hall is so congested that those unfortunate who have no other time at which to get their mail must either be very rude to large numbers of chatting young ladies or risk being late to their next hour class. The moral to this is perfectly clear, but for the benefit of the most consistent offenders it should be stated: Use recreation center for your between-class social meetings. You needn't worry—your boy friends can find you there.

AIMS OF KANSAS STATE COLLEGE

One of the chief aims of Kansas State college is to give to the young men and women of Kansas a high standard of collegiate training in fundamental cultural subjects which promote sound thinking and good citizenship. The college aims to turn back to the state the type of citizen who is straight-thinking in all lines and a particularly valuable leader in some definite field of human activity. During the more than seven decades the college has existed, it has fulfilled its chief aim in developing effective, intelligent leadership.

The Snooper

The freshmen, wonderful and uplifting bunch that they are, have planned a meeting for tonight to make plans for some devilment in the future. Evidently it didn't satisfy them to take the paddles away from the Wampus Cats and they are going to do something else naughty. The Wampus Cats have put on a membership drive that excludes all people that weigh less than 150 pounds. One thing to give the yearlings credit for is that they are a little better organized than last year's frosh, doggone 'em.

Announcing! George Hoopingarner has put his pin on the irresistible "Spud" Morgan of Tri Delt-Purple Peppert fame. The chocolates were passed at the Tri Delt house the other night and both Spud and George admit that they know nothing about it and claim that it was a good joke!!!

The Chi Omegas haven't been breaking into print much this year but of course the open season on late-dating has not exactly started in full swing. When it does (Section 87 of Rule 6 of the Kansas Game Laws will enlighten you further) the Pi Phi's will also probably be on hand to add their bit.

The Tri Deltas are going to post a set of rules and regulations in the vestibule, veranda, entrance, or what have you, to keep their guests from smoking in the house. One Pi Phi pledge, who was a guest Sunday night after a picnic, gracefully quenched her craving for Demon Nicotine much to the chagrin of the Tri Deltas.

Badluck, The Freshman

Dear Mom and pa:

Well, I am still wearing my freshman cap and doing wint these seniors tell me to do because some of them are carrying boards now instead of paddles and you know how bad boards hurt. But the wampus cats are still scared of us and I guess there won't be no more fights especially after they found out last Saturday that Badluck was such a good boxer.

All of us freshmen have to take a course called fiscal education and I bet when I come home next xmas you won't recognize me because I am sure getting a lot of good exercise. My teacher told me that I was about the stoutest feller in the class and I told him I got that way by drinking milk and pitching hay on our farm. There is one feller here who got athlete's foot last week but I don't see why he wants it because he don't play on the football team.

I guess we are going to have an examination in chemistree next week if everybody gets time to study. Chemistree is sure a swell thing to know but the other day I got some H2SO4 mixed up with some H2O and I was sure surprised when my experiment started smoking and there was too much reaction.

I went out to the dairy barn the other day to look at some of the cows and I don't think none of them is as good as our old cow, Rebecca. I guess I'll bring Rebecca to school with me next year so she can show the rest of these cows a thing or two when it comes to producing milk. Say pop, if Rebecca quits giving so much milk this winter, you'd better tell me so I can see what my agriculture book says to do.

Your son,
Badluck.

SPANISH CHOIR BOOKS IN ART DEPARTMENT

Come From Medieval Monasteries—Are Hand-Written on Parchment

Two ancient choir books from a Spanish monastery now belong to the art department. They were purchased for the department by Miss Vida Harris through a friend, a young Spanish girl, in Madrid. The more recent book is dated 1778. Both are entirely handmade with heavy leather covers bound with iron and brass. The leaves are parchment and are yellowed with age. There is great use of illumination and initial lettering. The predominating colors are vermilion, blue, green, yellow, and black, all very clear and strong. The older book is much finer in the quality of its design. The brass with which it is bound is much more intricately wrought than the iron on the other.

The hand lettered pages are printed in Latin with songs which are chants for feast days. The music is written with the old style square note.

Together, the books show the whole process of hand made book-making as it was done in Old World monasteries with the products grown in the monastery itself and metal work done in its own blacksmith shop.

PERCENTILE RANK IN TESTS

Results of Freshmen Aptitude Exams Will Be Announced Soon

Although all freshmen are required to undergo intelligence tests before entering school, not all of them understand just what they are trying to pass, according to Dr. J. C. Peterson of the psychology department of the college.

Freshmen examination results are reported in terms of percentile rank. This percentile rank indicates the percent of one's competitors whose scores are equalled or surpassed by his own.

Mathematical, linguistic, and general ability are indicated for each student by a separate rank. According to Doctor Peterson if the mathematical and linguistic ranks of a student are widely different, it is usually found that the student does much better work in the subject closely related to the field in which the percentile rank was highest. The rank of general ability usually corresponds to the average grades earned by the student in abstract college courses. "But it must be remembered that mental ability is only one of several factors which contribute to good scholarship," Doctor Peterson said. "Illness, lack of effort or of system in one's work, too many outside activities, or outside work may bring a student's grade-average down." Results of the tests will be announced soon by the department of psychology.

K-STATE GRID TEAM MEETS ST. LOUIS TONIGHT

KANSAS STATE ELEVEN MEETS WORTHY FOE IN HEAVY BILLIKEN SQUAD

26 GRIDSTERS TAKEN ON TRIP

Two Promising Backs, Henry Kirk and Lyman Abbott, Out with Injuries; Varsity Uses White Ball in Practices

Twenty-six members of the Kansas State football squad pulled out of Manhattan early this morning for St. Louis for their tussle with the strong St. Louis university eleven tonight at 8:00 o'clock.

After concluding three days of hard scrimmage against the freshmen in preparation for the game, the Wildcat squad is lacking the services of two promising halfbacks, both of whom suffered dislocated joints.

Henry Kirk, Scott City, received a dislocated knee which required an operation that will probably keep him from practice for at least a month. Lyman Abbott, Phillipsburg, threw his shoulder out of place in practice Tuesday afternoon and will be on the inactive list for two or three weeks. Abbott is the understudy of Oren Stoner, star halfback.

Concentrated work on both the offense and defense of the Billikens was the program of the Wildcat squad this week. Pass defense was stressed by Coach Bo McMillin, along with the kicking of placements for point after touchdown, at which the Wildcats are weak. Captain Ralph Graham and Homer Hanson, guard, did most of the kicking.

George Maddox, letter lineman turned out for practice this week for the first time this year. Maddox is a welcome addition to the Wildcat squad, as he was one of the mainstays in the line last year. He has been kept on the sidelines by an operation on an infection.

Yesterday afternoon the varsity had a long but light practice session featuring pass defense. White footballs have been used in practice, but there has been no work under lights.

Those making the trip are:
Backfield—Churchill, Morgan, Doll, Bushby, Weller, Stoner, Russell, Captain Graham, Edwards,

Armstrong, and Darnell.
Linemen—Hanson, Freeland, Grif-
fing, Blaine, Dean McNeal, Munal, Fuller, Wiseman, Sconce, Wertzberger, Flentroppe, Partner, Harter, Forbes, and Brookover.

Prof. L. B. Smith, of the architecture department, spent Wednesday in Kansas City on business.

GRADUATE HIKE SATURDAY
The Graduate club will have its second hike of the year Saturday afternoon at 4 o'clock in Sunset

R. Musser, Jewell, acting president, will be followed by election of officers.

KANSAS STATE UPSETS HEAVY BILLIKEN TEAM

WILDCATS WIN HARD FIGHT FOR SCORE IN FINAL PERIOD—WILDCAT FORWARD WALL TAKES
PLENTY OF PUNISHMENT

STONER'S LONG RUN WINS IT

K-State Halfback Dashes 55 Yards
For Score in Final Period—Wildcat
Forward Wall Takes
Plenty of Punishment

In a game packed with thrills, spectacular runs, and powerful drives, Kansas State upset the dope and defeated the St. Louis Billikens 20-14 at St. Louis Friday night.

The game turned out to be a nip and tuck affair all the way through until the end, with first one team in the lead and then the other.

The sensational 55-yard run made by Oren Stoner, star Wildcat halfback, won the game in the middle of the final quarter. Dropping back to pass on his own 45-yard marker, Stoner found his pass-receivers covered. Swiftly he went around left end and ran and dodged his way through the Billiken team to the one-foot line. Captain Ralph Graham smashed over for the touchdown and then kicked the extra point. This touchdown was the winning of the hard-fought game.

The Billikens scored first when they drove the ball 85 yards down the field for a touchdown and point in the second quarter to lead 7 to 0.

With only a few minutes left in the first half and Kansas State in possession of the ball on the St. Louis 45-yard line, Lee Morgan flipped a pass to Dean McNeal, who crossed the goal line with the first Kansas State score. McNeal carried several St. Louis players across the line with him. The try for the extra point failed. Score at the half: Kansas State 6, St. Louis 7.

On the first Wildcat play of the second half, after receiving the kickoff, Douglas Russell started around right end, then cut back through left tackle, and dashed 67 yards for a touchdown. Graham's try for the point was good.

The fighting Billikens were not to be denied, however, for a few minutes later they shoved across another counter, tying the score. The kick for the extra point was good and St. Louis went into a one point lead.

The score stood that way until the middle of the last quarter when Stoner cut loose with his brilliant run.

The play through the entire game was hard and fast. The big St. Louis team had a great ground game, as the summary shows. However, when the Wildcats had their backs to the wall and a lead to protect, they dug their spikes into the ground and held. The Kansas State forward wall took plenty of punishment and roughing from the heavier Billiken line. It was a game in which the Wildcats made every break and scoring opportunity count, although outplayed by St. Louis.

The starting lineup:
Kansas State St. Louis

SEVEN RIDERS INTO BIT AND BRIDLE CLUB

Pledges Must Show Improvement in Riding Before Joining Organization

Out of a group of 12 girls trying out for Bit and Bridle riding club, women's organization for the promotion of good horsemanship, the following have been selected as tentative members: Paula McDaniels, Topeka; Dorothy Washington, Manhattan; Donna Johnson, Cleburne; Mary Ellen Springer, Manhattan; Margaret Carr, Kansas City, Mo.; Cora Oliphant, Offerle, and Lucille Johtz, Abilene.

Before being accepted as permanent members, each pledge is required to show improvement in her riding by taking four rides with an active member, and also pass a written examination on riding rules. Another opportunity to make Bit and Bridle club will be given in the spring tryout held in April.

NO CHAPEL THIS WEEK

Because of examinations this week, the regular student assembly and chapel exercises will not be held, according to an announcement by the committee in charge of the assemblies.

On October 18, Pres. F. D. Farrell will be the assembly speaker. His subject will be "The Art of Living."

ART HISTORY IN EXHIBITS

New Prints in Department of Architecture Tell Story of Etching and Engraving

Thirty-two prints from the Albert Rouiller galleries in Chicago are being shown in the gallery of the architecture department. The prints will be exhibited during the next two weeks.

The collection, which was formed for the purpose of depicting the history of etching and engraving, contains examples of all the print media, and will form the basis of a lecture to be given by Prof. John P. Helm, Jr., of the architecture department, before an open meeting of the local branch of the American Association of University Women on Monday evening, October 16.

EXTENSION MEMBERS IN FIVE DAY STATE RALLY

President Farrell and A. B. Graham Lead Speakers in Annual Meeting

The annual state conference for Kansas extension workers will be held here October 16 to 21, according to an announcement made yesterday by the extension division of Kansas State college. The main objective of the conference will be to further strengthen extension service and develop farm bureau programs over the state.

Pres. F. D. Farrell and A. B. Graham, in charge of extension specialists, U. S. D. A., Washington, D. C., will be the main speakers on the opening day of the conference. President Farrell will speak on the subject "Human Nature and Agricultural Adjustment" and Graham will discuss "Agricultural Extension and the Future."

On Tuesday the group will consider the Agricultural Adjustment act and its relation to the extension program. Mr. Graham will discuss the national aspects of the subject and H. Umberger, dean of the extension division, will speak on the state aspects. County aspects of the subject will be discussed by S. E. Veatch, president of the Stafford county farm bureau, and B. W. Wright, county agricultural agent of Russell county. A tour of the college farm by farm bureau presidents and county agents is scheduled for Tuesday afternoon.

The third day, Wednesday, will be given to a more complete study for the correlation of the three major lines of extension endeavor, agriculture, home economics, and 4-H club work. Mr. Graham will discuss "Looking Forward in 4-H Club Work." E. B. Chapman of the Topeka State Journal will talk on "Jayhawk Mustangs," and H. W. Avery, Wakefield, member of the state board of agriculture will discuss the outlook for 4-H club work at the state fair.

Thursday's session will stress the maintenance of more effective county extension organizations to meet changing farm and home needs.

On October 20 and 21 the conference group will adjourn to the Land Utilization conference in which Governor Alfred M. Landon and President F. D. Farrell will take leading parts.

An extensive social program has been planned for the conference. On Monday evening a mixer will be held for all extension workers in recreation center. On Tuesday there will be an entertainment for wives of county agents and an extension banquet is planned for 6:30 o'clock Wednesday evening in the college cafeteria. The Land Utilization conference banquet will be held at the Wabash hotel, Friday evening, October 20. The week's activities close on Saturday, October 21, with the alumni luncheon, and the Kansas State-Nebraska U. homecoming football game.

Dean L. E. Call of the department of agriculture, who is a member of the board of directors of the Federal Land Bank of Wichita, attended a meeting of that board in Wichita, Monday, Oct. 9.

Have you got an extra copper? I don't want to break a nickel. Without the little copper I'm in an awful pickle. I am going in to dinner, and I'd be an awful sinner, in trying to evade the tax which must be paid. That's the first verse of a new theme song written but not in keeping with the spirit of the NRA at Oklahoma university.

Before being accepted as permanent members, each pledge is required to show improvement in her riding by taking four rides with an active member, and also pass a written examination on riding rules. Another opportunity to make Bit and Bridle club will be given in the spring tryout held in April.

PROMINENT MEN SPEAKERS AT LAND MEETING

ANNUAL LAND UTILIZATION CONFERENCE WILL BE HELD NEXT WEEK

SOCIAL AFFAIRS INCLUDED

Effective Uses of Land Resources in Kansas the Chief Topic of Discussion During Convention

A group of prominent speakers, headed by Governor Alf M. Landon, will address the land utilization conference to be held at the college Friday and Saturday, October 20 and 21. The conference is for the purpose of considering ways in which the effective use of the land resources of Kansas may be obtained, and will be held the last part of the week of the annual conference of college extension workers at Kansas State college.

Leaders are concerned about the effect of problems of credit, tenancy, crop and livestock production practices, and the agricultural adjustment act on the future of agriculture and industry in the state, according to Dr. W. E. Grimes, head of the department of agricultural economics. These problems will be thoroughly discussed during the two days of the conference.

Among the speakers on the program besides Governor Landon will be Pres. F. D. Farrell, who will welcome the conference visitors and preside at the morning program Friday; Dean L. E. Call of the division of agriculture; Henry Rogers, Chase county farmer; C. C. Oggsell, master of the Kansas grange; Ralph Snyder, president of the Kansas State farm bureau; Cal Ward, president of the Kansas Farmers' union; Sam Wilson, manager of the Kansas chamber of commerce; and George S. Knapp, chief engineer of the division of water resources, Kansas state board of agriculture.

The opening session of the annual conference of extension workers will be held Monday forenoon, October 16, in room 331. Waters hall, with Dean H. Umberger of the extension division presiding. The opening address will be given at 9:15 by President Farrell. His subject will be "Human Nature and Agricultural Adjustment."

Several social events will be held in connection with the two conferences. Monday evening, October 16, a mixer will be held for extension workers in recreation center. Wednesday evening at 6:30 o'clock the annual extension banquet will be held at the college cafeteria. Friday evening, a land utilization conference banquet will be held at the Wabash hotel. Saturday noon, an alumni luncheon will be held at the college cafeteria. The visitors will be free Saturday afternoon to attend the football game between Kansas State and Nebraska university.

A member of the freshman class (at least we hope he's a freshman) is the subject of much head-scratching and beard stroking in the department of agriculture. . . . The freshman recently walked into the office of the dairy building and used the telephone to inquire which class he should go to next. . . . The following day he appeared again with a mind of his own, apparently, because he notified those in the office that "he thought he went to his music lesson yesterday". . . . Invertebrate picknickers are warned to keep a weather eye open for the demon photographer of the Royal Purple who is now prowling in various nooks and corners of the country. . . . A new game has developed in one of the ag buildings. . . . Students and professors are amusing themselves during class after an ammonia coil in a refrigerator broke loose, and there is a contest between the students and the professor to see who can stand the fumes the longest. . . . So far the score has been a tie, but the students say they are at a disadvantage, since they have to listen to the professor and smell the gas at the same time. . . .

Every day, many students take a few minutes between classes to view the pictures of bugs and insects displayed in the upper hall of Fairchild. Incidentally, students are becoming interested more each year in the study of insects. Many enrolled in courses of entomology and zoology have big collections of bugs, insects, and worms.

CLUB GETS A NEW MEMBER

Clarice Painter Fulfills Requirements for Riding Organization

Miss Clarice Painter of the department of music was presented last week with a certificate entitling her to membership in the "Prince of Wales" club. The requirements for membership are strenuous, and Miss Painter completed them successfully on September 27.

The initiation ceremony was colorful and somewhat exciting—as the horse (which is always standard equipment for such things) seemed to be none too gentle a nag and objected to encumbrances on its back. So when a branch of a tree protruded out a bit too far, the rider was catapulted gently onto the ground in front of the animal, which merely stood there and looked quizzically at what had so recently been on its back.

The personnel of the Manhattan "Prince of Wales" club is not definitely known—as the person or persons who presented the certificate have not yet revealed their identity.

The certificate, which has the initials H. R. H. (His Royal Highness) at the top, was signed by the Prince of Wales, president of the organization, "George," head stableman, Will J. Weisner, assistant stableman, and Isadore Baum, riding master.

TO PRESENT QUILL WORK

Professor Rogers and Ellen Payne to Read Original Work Tonight—Membership Contest Opened

Original manuscripts by Prof. C. E. Rogers, head of the department of journalism, and Ellen Payne, Manhattan, will be read and discussed at the regular meeting of Quill club tonight. Kenneth Davis, Manhattan, newly-elected chancellor of the club, will discuss the constitution of the national organization as it relates to the operation of the Kansas State college chapter.

The annual fall membership contest of Quill is now in progress. The competition is open to all students of the college except second-semester seniors. Manuscripts may be submitted to Prof. H. W. Davis, head of the department of English, chairman of the membership committee, or to any of the committee members. These include Professor Rogers; Maria Morris of the art department; Paul Perry, Fredonia; and Lucille Allman, Manhattan. The contest closes November 1.

The manuscripts should be typed on one side of the paper only and should not have the name of the author on them. The author's name should be submitted in a sealed envelope separate from the manuscript. Material submitted may be either poetry or prose and may deal with any subject selected by the student.

TEL-O-GRID REPORTS GAME

New Device on Auditorium Stage Gives Play-By-Play
Account

Kansas State's thrilling 20-14 victory over St. Louis university last Friday night was graphically depicted in the college auditorium for stay-at-home fans by the tel-o-grid sponsored by Sigma Delta Chi, professional journalistic fraternity.

This year, a new device for transmitting news of the game to the auditorium stage was used. A Kansas State sports writer, sitting in the press box of the stadium at St. Louis, typed off the stories of the plays as quickly as they were made, and the stories were instantaneously recorded on the tel-o-type machine on the auditorium stage.

The plays were read over loud speakers to the audience while the positions of the ball were shown on a grid-map screen on the stage. The announcing was done by H. W. Davis, head of the department of English, and Maurice DuMars, sports writer of the Manhattan Mercury.

The admission charge of 15 cents with activity books and 25 cents without them was the lowest charge ever made for similar entertainments at Kansas State college.

Associate professors A. M. Brunson and A. L. Clapp, of the department of agronomy, left Monday evening for Golden City, Mo., and Matfield Green, Kan., to select seed corn from the corn seed increase plots located at these places.

Nichols gymnasium was erected in 1911 at a cost of $122,000. It was named in honor of President Nichols of the college.

The newly elected officers will hold office during the coming year.

Margaret Kneer, Manhattan, was elected chairman of the entertainment committee at the meeting. Other members of the committee include Carl Martinez, Manhattan, Bernice Bender, Holton, Mrs. L. W. Hartel, Manhattan, and Inge Kjar, Lenwig, Denmark.

Big Husky Firemen Save The Furniture In Sorority Mansion

Time—Sunday night.

Scene I—A fire at the Tri Delta house! And it caused more excitement than the girls had seen in many a day. But it happened so innocently in spite of stories which are going around.

Now here's the dope. One of the girls was using an electric hair-drier when suddenly it shorted and sent a curtain up in flames. All of which made even the slower "Deltas" move quite swiftly from room to room shouting "Fire," "Fire."

Scene II—Enter the hero, Clay Reppert, Harris, being faster than two Betas, Carley Team, Wichita, and Charles Lutz, Hutchinson, grabbed a fire-extinguisher from some thoughtful girl's hand and saved the day—rather the curtains. With three girls in the line, the fire department at the same time it is a question: what would have happened had it not been for these three gallant men. (Applause).

Scene III—To add comedy to the situation one of the actives ran all the way to the basement looking for a fire-extinguisher before someone noticed one on the third floor. Another rushed down the stairs to the kitchen and grabbed a bucket of water.

Outcome—In spite of the ruined curtains, charred woodwork, and burned floor the occupants of the house are feeling almost normal again.

The End.

STELLA SCURLOCK IS Y. W. SPEAKER

National Secretary of the Association Tells of her Basic Laws of Conduct

College students must learn to stand on their own feet, or they will always be standing on someone else's. This was the message left by Miss Stella Scurlock, national student secretary of Y. W. C. A., in the Y. W. association meeting held last night.

Miss Scurlock added personal experience to her advice when she gave the girls the laws of growing that she had learned. They were just as definite to the speaker as the laws of chemistry, or other science laws. The first law was to learn to think in terms of "you and a group," not "you or a group." "For to be truly happy," Miss Scurlock said, "one's emotions must be outgoing."

This was the first association meeting of the Y. W. this year. Introductions of interest group leaders and the freshmen commission head were made by Dorothy Blackman, local president. Preceding Miss Scurlock's discussion Laura Donat, Verdigris, Neb., gave several addresses.

Nichols gymnasium was erected in 1911 at a cost of $122,000. It was named in honor of President Nichols of the college.

TRYOUTS BEGIN FOR MANHATTAN THEATRE PLAYS

THEATRE MEETING LAST EVENING FOR ASPIRANTS IN PLAYS THIS YEAR

STUDENT INTEREST URGED

"Ten Nights in a Bar Room" To Be Presented on November 10—Two Other Plays This Year

The talents and acting ability of Kansas State college students will be demonstrated this winter when the Manhattan theatre presents its first play of the season on November 10.

"Ten Nights in a Bar Room" has been selected as the first drama of the season to be presented by the theatre and tryouts for the play which began last evening, will continue today and tonight. Tryouts for the play were continued today in order to give students, faculty members and other people an opportunity to take part in the plays during the coming season, after a number of people found it impossible to take part in the tryouts held last night. All tryouts will be held in room 56 of the Education building and will begin at 7 o'clock.

During the past years the parts in the plays presented by the Manhattan Theatre have been taken by students of the college, although many times important leads were taken by faculty members and townspeople. Officers of the theatre are this year stressing the custom of student activity in the plays and consequently hope to have a large student representation in the entertainments. All students are eligible to take part in the tryouts for the three plays this year, according to those in charge of the theatre.

Those chosen from the tryouts held yesterday and today will take part in the first two plays this year. Another tryout for the third and final play of the season will be held sometime in the spring. The date of the second play has been set for February 2, and the third play during the school year will be presented on April 27.

Season tickets for the three plays this year are expected to go on sale within a short time. George Davidson, Manhattan, is business manager of the Manhattan Theatre this year.

SENIOR INSPECTION TRIP

Electrical Engineers to Kansas City For Glimpses of Buildings and Power Plants

Fourteen senior electrical engineers left yesterday morning for a three-day inspection trip to Kansas City where they will visit electrical buildings and other plants of the city.

The students were accompanied by Prof. R. G. Kloeffer, head of the department of electrical engineering. The group will visit the Southwestern Bell Telephone company; the Kansas City Power and Light company; the Ford Assembly plant; and the Sheffield Steel corporation in Kansas City, Mo., and Armour and company and the municipal light and water plants in Kansas City, Kans.

Enroute to Kansas City the group stopped at the Tecumseh plant of the Kansas Power and Light company, and the Lone Star cement plant in Bonner Springs.

Following are names of the students making the trip: J. M. Bidson, Manhattan; L. B. Donaldson, Kansas City, Mo.; James Drew, Rolla; O. S. Emrich, Wakefield; W. C. Lacy, Everest; V. L. Lundberg, Falun; C. F. Newell, Manhattan; E. L. Ruff, Manhattan; J. H. Scott, Kansas City, Mo.; M. W. Schroeder, Grandview, Mo.; A. E. Siler, Garden City; M. S. Smyth, Manhattan; L. G. Stucky, Manhattan; and Olen Trotter, Anthony.

Prof. A. E. Aldous, department of agronomy, is assisting Mr. George Katz, of the Kansas City, Kans., Chamber of Commerce, in the selection of the best pasture among those entered in the pasture contest held in eastern Kansas. This is the third consecutive year that this contest has been held.

Associate Professor A. L. Clapp, agronomy, plans to spend Thursday in Leavenworth county putting out three wheat variety tests there.

ANOTHER TEL-O-GRID

The second football tel-o-grid of the season will provide entertainment for foot fans who are unable to attend the Kansas State-Missouri game next Saturday at Columbia, Mo. The tel-o-grid will be given at the college auditorium and is scheduled to begin promptly at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon.

The tel-o-grid, sponsored by Sigma Delta Chi, professional journalistic fraternity, gives a play by play account of the game direct from the football field and up to the minute reports will be broadcast over the loud speaker system in the auditorium. Because the game against Missouri next Saturday is the first Big Six game for the Kansas State Wildcats, a large number of football fans are expected to attend the tel-o-grid.

The admission is 15 cents with activity books and 25 cents to people without activity books.

PIANO RECITALS WILL PRESENT FAMOUS MUSIC

Charles Stratton, Department of Music, First in a Series of Five Presentations

Prof. Charles Stratton, department of music, will be presented in the first of a series of five piano recitals next Sunday afternoon beginning at 4 o'clock in recreation center. The recitals are unique in that each one will present the works of one composer. Music by Bach will be presented on the program next Sunday. The recitals are open to students and the public and there is no charge for admission.

A feature of the program will be the explanatory discussions by Prof. Charles Matthews of the department of English.

"The idea of the programs is to make people more familiar with the works of various composers," according to Professor Stratton. An effort is being made to present representative works of each composer.

Professor Stratton, who is acting head of the piano department this year, received his B. S. degree from Kansas State college in 1926. He has since studied with Moritz Rosenthal at the Curtis Institute of Music in Philadelphia, with Tobias Matthay and Arthur Alexander in London, and with John Blackmore and Sigismund Stojowski in Chicago. He received his M. S. degree in English from Kansas State college last summer.

Dates for the other recitals in the series are set for November 19, when a program of Beethoven's music will be given; December 10, which will feature the music of Chopin; January 14, a recital of Schumann's music; and February 11, a program of music by Brahms.

FIELD HOUSE MUST GET O. K. OF GOVERNMENT

ACTION OF WASHINGTON BOARD MIGHT DEPEND UPON ASSETS, WEIGEL STATES

COMMITTEE SUBMITS PLANS

Funds Used to Build Field House, Passage Way, and Complete North End of Stadium

That the action of the advisory public works board in Washington upon a field house for Kansas State college will depend largely upon how the board views our assets, is the opinion of Prof. Paul Weigel, head of the department of architecture and a member of the local committee which presented the plans for a field house before the state public works advisory board in Topeka last week.

The money to finance this project will come almost entirely from pledges here. The committee is asking for enough money to build the field house, to build a passageway from both sides of the field house to connect it with the stadium, and to complete the north end of the stadium.

The local committee for the project consists of J. W. Berry, Dr. H. H. King, Edward Ramey, Carl Fiersch, H. W. Brewer, Col. John S. Sullivan, Prof. Paul Weigel, C. D. Middleton, Prof. M. F. Ahearn, and Dr. J. T. Willard. The state board reviewed the proposed structure very favorably.

"If no complications arise in Washington, we should have our answer from the national board in at least thirty days," Professor Weigel stated.

The field house would take the place of the link in the horseshoe at the south end of the stadium. It would be of the same architectural design as the stadium. Contrary to current opinion, the field house would not change the stadium in any way and it would not be necessary to move the football field to the north.

Present plans indicate that the field house would be 300 feet long and 125 feet wide. This size structure would not entirely fill up the space between the two ends of the horseshoe, however.

"The field house could serve so many more purposes than could the completing link in the horseshoe," Professor Weigel said. "The physical education department could use it to great advantage. There would be a 200-yard track field in the building which is the largest track facility of the building would be 6,000 persons."

Other than the various forms of indoor athletics that could be held in the field house, the R. O. T. C. could drill in the building during bad weather. The commencement exercises for the college could be held here, and the state fair might also be conducted in the field house, since there would be ample facilities for such an arrangement.

If the national advisory board approves the field house project the work on the building could be started at once. Detailed plans for the building have been drawn and an outline of the work has been completed.

ANNOUNCE FRESHMAN PAN-HELLENIC OFFICERS

Frank Jordan is President; Besler, Vice-President; and Roussau, Secretary of Council

Frank Jordan, Beloit, a member of the Alpha Gamma Rho fraternity, is president of the freshman pan-Hellenic council for this semester, according to an announcement made last night. Max Besler, Manhattan, a member of the Sigma Phi Epsilon fraternity, is vice-president of the council; and Armand Roussau, Seattle, Wash., Phi Kappa fraternity, is secretary-treasurer.

Arrangements for the fall freshman pan-Hellenic party are not yet complete.

Professors J. H. Parker and H. H. Laude, agronomy, will go to Linn county Wednesday, Oct. 11, to make head selections in fields of red kaffir in order to purify the variety and have it eligible for certification in the next year or two.

It is a common thing among students and instructors to try to cooperate in every way possible to make the classroom a place of friendly relationship, enthusiasm, and proper attitude. When, however, students fail to cooperate with their instructors on the basis of class attendance, attention while in class, and correct behavior, the class does not function properly and the results are sometimes disagreeable.

Instructors can gain the respect of their students by showing them the courtesy expected from the students. The professor who insists on holding his students in class after the fifty minute period has ended will not for long hold the friendship of the group. Every college or university has one or more and sometimes several instructors who demand the students' attention after the time for class dismissal has arrived. Generally, these faculty members are learned, and invariably brilliant. Their knowledge, in fact, flows with such tide that even a jangling bell fails to stop their lectures.

Every student wants to learn as much as possible in the limited amount of time devoted to each subject. But instructors should remember that their students are enrolled in other courses that require a similar amount of time and attention. The unfortunate students who are held in class usually have to rush across the campus in a hurried manner in order to eliminate tardiness and defer criticism from their instructor. In the case of military training the penalty for two "lates," sometimes caused by delayed dismissal from the preceding class, is an absence. Students should not have to "take the rap" for something over which they have no control.

Class courtesy, then, can be equally divided between both the instructor and the student. Each should show consideration for the other and while the little bits of courtesy and respect might seem small compared to the more important and seemingly greater things in the classroom, it is—after all—the little things that count.

THE LITERARY SOCIETY

In this technical school, the educational emphasis is placed on the "practical"—that is, on those human activities which provide us with food and clothing and all other economic goods. There is a distinct tendency here to deprecate all that makes life more than mere existence, all that has no value in dollars and cents. And since this is true, it is not surprising to find that the literary societies of Kansas State college are in a sorry plight.

The literary societies have as their aim the development of the whole man. Written large in their purpose is the fostering of the arts and all such expressions of the spirit of man. It must be evident to all intelligent observers that the purpose of the societies is an altogether worthy one, and that their purpose dooms them to comparative obscurity among the extra-curricular activities of the campus.

In other years, the literary societies were the centers of both the intellectual and social life of the college. The rise of those glorified boarding houses, the fraternities and sororities, put an end to that.

The fraternities and sororities are much truer expressions of the mass-spirit of American schools than the literary societies ever were, and consequently they have displaced the earlier organizations without in any way replacing them. Taken in the large, the Greek-letter organizations are champions of the status quo, they are suspicious of anything new or different, and especially are they wary of ideas. They are the College Rotary clubs, and as such they in no way accomplish the purpose of the organizations they have nearly destroyed.

The six literary societies on our campus are hangovers from other days. Mostly they are dead-alive organizations, and yet they bear within them the seeds of a spiritual revival; their potentialities for good are tremendous. Literary society members should make their organizations really "literary" societies and discussion groups where members must inevitably see beneath the surface aspect of things and so lay the foundation for a healthier living philosophy than is generally afforded in this most "practical" of schools. Programs in these groups, instead of being in the old stereotyped forms, should consist of the presenting of a paper prepared by some member, followed by open discussion of the problems presented in that paper. Discussion topics could consist of politics, current social problems, trends in religion and morality, contemporary literature, and the like.

The members of such discussion groups would be the logical founders of the American youth movement, much-needed at this time when such movements are becoming tremendously important in almost every other country in the world.

COLLEGE PADDLE LINES

The annual practice of sending timid freshmen through paddle lines amid howls and commands of upperclassmen is gradually losing its popularity. The old tradition of paddling first year students at the beginning of the school year is, in the opinion of many schools, one of the worthless customs of student life which any institution could get along without very nicely.

At Baker university, the paddle line, which for more than a quarter of a century has been the means of enforcing student traditions at the school, was halted recently when the student commission announced that the paddle would be abolished. The action of the school at Baldwin might result in a similar rule in other schools and another method may be adopted in enforcing freshmen to carry out the traditions of the institutions.

If colleges and universities do decide within the next few years that paddles should become a thing of the past, it is probable that there will exist on campuses what student leaders term more "school spirit." A long paddle line, where upperclassmen order freshmen to perform certain duties, much to the latter's embarrassment, would deaden the school spirit of any beginner in college.

The paddle, in fact, could easily be substituted by other forms of persuasion for incoming freshmen who are reluctant in carrying out the traditions of the school.

NATURE OPPORTUNITIES

The climbing of the steps south of the gymnasium several times a day may be a good excuse for not noticing the fascinating features of that building. The energy needed for climbing the hill to Anderson hall from the east entrance probably can not be wasted on gazing at trees. But these beauties and others such as the highly-colored flower beds at the southern end of the campus should not be overlooked and taken for granted.

Students from other campuses, where grass plots, flower beds, and pine groves are unknown, fully appreciate the outstanding attractions on the campus of Kansas State college. If one is a poet, the tall, slender poplars south of the gymnasium may offer inspiration. If one is an artist, Education hall has numerous angles for practice. But if one is just an ordinary student, and most of us are let him enjoy a walk through Lover's Lane. There is some beauty for everyone, if he will but find it.

The Snooper

Pi Phi society news—Jaconette Lawrence visited Louise Ratliff the other night. The same night Ernestine Merritt visited Mary Blackburn.

Someone wants to know where Jim North, the Sigma Nu (two separate words) and big shot in the military world, was when the Wampus Cats and the freshmen had their duel. Somebody has suggested that he was probably following Capt. Ryder around.

And what was Neddie Kimball's car doing in Sunset park Sunday night? Of course we all know Neddie is interested in astronomy but why should he study on Sunday night?

(Again) Our Ernestine, and Lucille Allman with their harmonization in the Palace that was so loud that it drowned out the radio. A few other Pi Phi's who were in the Palace at the time were embarrassed quite severely. (So they tell me).

Jerry Winters, of the Delt cellar gang, was called down by the congenial cop on Anderson street the other night. The excuse about catching a train in Clay Center seemed to work very nicely.

Bill Scales, the erstwhile Romeo, is back in the money again. By next week he probably will be wearing his jeweled pin for a short while.

Badluck, The Freshman

Dear folks:

The aggies are sure a lot of good football players because we beat saint louts in a game last Friday night and it looks like we are going to be the champion football school of the world. I don't see how the players could see the ball though because it was a night game and it sure must have been awful dark on the football grounds.

I guess if the aggies keep on winning games all the time there won't be much use of me doing much practicing and the school can get along without me the rest of the year. But me and my 5-H club is going to get up a real football team and show these aggies a real game after they beat all the other places.

I had a blind date with a coed the other night down in Aggyville but after I saw her standing by the drug store waiting for me, I told her I couldn't take her to no show because I had to study my chemistree. She was sure mad, but I guess she's found out by this time that Badluck ain't no one-woman man.

About all the college fellers down here stay up pretty late doing their studying, but I always go to bed at nine o'clock at night so I won't have to do no sleeping in class like some of the seniors do. But I'll sure be glad when I get home next summer so I can get up at 5 o'clock and do the chores on our farm.

I am sure learning a lot down here at college, and I'll bet grandpa wishes now that he'd have waited and gone to school with me instead of going to the academy.

Your son,
Badluck.

A Student From Persia Finds An Ideal America

S. M. Ahi of Persia, a new foreign student at Kansas State college is taking graduate work in the department of soils, finds the American people friendly and pleasant to live with. In his four years work in the Colorado Agricultural college he has made many friends and was greatly interested in their family life since it was so different from his own.

"If I ever have a family of my own," he said, "I shall rear them as nearly like the American standards as I can. The American boy and girl are prepared to make their own living at a much earlier age than are the Persian young people. The parents in Persia have complete charge of the children until they are 20 years of age, buying their clothing and other necessities. The children are not permitted to handle money."

Asked for his opinion concerning comparative American moral standards, Mr. Ahi hesitated a moment. "There can be no comparison because of the different environment in Persia." Having no money before they are 20 years of age the Persian can buy no liquor or tobacco. He told about their method of making a date. The gentleman sends a message to the veiled lady friend asking her to meet him at a certain place at a set time. He is never in her company more than two hours, but here in America, he observed, they stay out until 2 or 3 o'clock in the morning and think nothing of it.

The American language he found was the most difficult language to learn. Other foreign languages have definite rules whereas the American language has more exceptions than rules.

Mr. Ahi expects to attend college two years, obtain his masters degree and go back to Persia where he will work for the government. Much of the land in Persia remains uncultivated due to a lack of finances and also a lack of understanding of the soil.

NEW HOME STUDY PLANS

Professor Gemmell Helps Formulate Novel College Extension Program for High School Student

Prof. George Gemmell of the home study service of Kansas State college was one of the five representatives of state schools who drew up a plan whereby high school graduates not able to attend college or secure employment may take extension courses for college credit in any of the five state schools. The plan was approved yesterday by the Kansas State board of regents.

Chairman C. M. Harger, Abilene, said the program was to be effective for the present school year only and that it liberalized considerably correspondence course requirements now in effect.

Under the plan, local communities are to assume responsibility for organizing extension college classes, furnishing class room and library and laboratory facilities, providing instructors, supplying books and supplies, while the college will approve courses, select text books, prepare and furnish outlines and provide general supervision.

Local school men are to decide which students may enroll in the classes, which will not be organized for less than five. Credits will be allowed by the five state schools for the work.

The plan is to be effective at Kansas university, Kansas State college, Emporia Teachers college, Pittsburg Teachers college and Hays State college.

Board members attending the meeting included: Chairman Harger, W. D. Ferguson of Colby, Ralph T. O'Neill of Topeka; Dudley Doolittle, F. B. Waggener of Atchison, Drew McLaughlin of Paola, Oscar Stauffer of Arkansas and Leslie Wallace of Larned.

A new machine invented recently at the California Agriculture college measures the changes in flavor of milk due to oxidation.

Eighteen different degrees are conferred each year to Kansas State students at the completion of four year courses.

Quite a number of the old alumni were back this weekend, even though there was no football game here. Prominent among them was Clark Kostner. When he walked in the Palace all the K. K. G's gave him a fitting welcome—evidently they've missed him this year! . . . Andy Skradski and Luella Graham were also here. Do they naturally gravitate back on the same weekend or is Kannah gradually fading into the background? . . .

"Heart-throb" Oberhelman has persuaded Eleanor Fowler to send back her fraternity pin from M. U. But Mike's little problem is how to get his own back. . . . Luckily for the Tri Deltas "Buffalo Bill" Reppert was on hand running around in a fire chief's hat when a fire broke out on second. He galloped upstairs immediately with an extinguisher under one arm, thankful for the opportunity to get on the second floor of the Tri Delta house! . . .

S. T. C.'s loss is the Phi Delta's gain! Breckheiser, one of the prize pledges, recently walked out of Scheu's without paying his bill, and then pulled a very "foxy pass" at the varsity Saturday night by getting his sorority pins a wee bit mixed up! The Phi Deltas should do something about this. . . . Although the Tri Deltas have evidently been taught better, they'd better re-read the chapter in Emily Post entitled: "Always Remember Dinner Guests that You've Invited! . . ."

WILDCATS START TO WORK FOR MISSOURI GRID GAME

The Conference Opener Against Tigers Saturday Will Test The Wildcat Strength

The Kansas State football squad started workouts yesterday directed at preparations for the first conference game against the University of Missouri at Columbia next Saturday. Head Coach Bo McMillin issued several new plays yesterday afternoon that will be used against the Tigers.

After stopping off at Columbia on his return from St. Louis to scout the Tiger eleven, Coach McMillin has decided that the Missourians will be tougher than their defeat by Kirksville Saturday would indicate. The reason for the Tiger defeat was that they did not expect much from the Teachers and were caught flat-footed by the attack in the early minutes of the game, after which they played much better football.

The Kansas State squad learned several things about the Notre Dame system from St. Louis that will help them against the Carideo coached Tiger eleven.

Except for numerous bruises and bumps the Wildcats came out of the Buliken battle in good shape.

Men's Intramurals

Intramural athletics started last week with soccer and horseshoes as the first two sports of the season. Soccer games will be played at 4:10 o'clock every day, except Thursdays, until November 3. Games are not scheduled for Thursdays on account of seminars.

Although early in the soccer season, when ragged and loosely played games are common because of lack of competition prior to the opening of the schedule, many of the games played so far were won by one or two point margins. The Sig Eps, Sig Alphas, Vet A. C., A. K. L's, Alpha Gamma Rhoes, and Kappa Sigs all had close contests. The Phi Kappa Taus, Delta Taus, and W. F. A. C. all won with comparatively large scores.

Horseshoes are now in the second round. The list of entries and the dates of the games are posted on the bulletin board near the west entrance of Nichols gymnasium.

The results of the soccer games to date are: Phi Kappa Tau 4, Delta Sigma Phi 0; Sigma Phi Epsilon 2, Beta Theta Pi 1; Sigma Alpha Epsilon 1, Phi Delta Theta 0; Delta Tau Delta 4, Phi Lambda Theta 1; Vets A. C. 3, Phi Kappa 4; Alpha Kappa Lambda 2, Pi Kappa Alpha 0; Alpha Gamma Rho 1, Acacia 0; Kappa Sigma 4, Theta Xi 2; Alpha Tau Omega 0, W. F. A. C. 6.

Intramural soccer and horseshoes are now in their second week of competition. Results of Friday's soccer games were Aggie Knights 1, Sigma Nu 2; Phi Sigma Kappa 4, Lambda Chi Alpha 0.

Games this week:
Tuesday—Vets A. C. vs. Phi Lambda Theta; Alpha Kappa Lambda vs. Phi Kappa; Pi Kappa Alpha vs. Delta Tau Delta. Wednesday—Kappa Sigma vs. Acacia; Alpha Tau Omega vs. Theta Xi; W. F. A. C. vs. Alpha Gamma Rho. Friday—Sigma Nu vs. Phi Sigma Kappa; Tau Kappa Epsilon vs. Aggie Knights.

JAYHAWKS TIE IRISH; HUSKERS BEAT TEXAS

Kansas and Nebraska Keep Undefeated Record Along With Wildcats and Cyclones

Outstanding among the non-conference games played by Big Six schools last weekend were Kansas university's scoreless tie with Notre Dame and Nebraska's 26-0 victory over the strong Texas university team. The Jayhawks were doped to lose by five or six touchdowns, but actually outplayed the Irish and threatened to score several times. Nebraska, in its season opener, unleashed a powerful offensive and tight defense to decisively whip the heavier Texans, rated as even choice before the game.

Kansas State kept its undefeated record clear by coming from behind to nose out St. Louis university 20-14, while Oklahoma and Missouri suffered their first defeats. Missouri, after crushing Central 31-0 on Friday, found the strain of two games on consecutive days too much and went down Saturday before Kirksville Teachers, M. I. A. A. champs, by a count of 26-6. The Oklahoma Sooners tasted defeat Saturday at the hands of Tulsa university, 20-6, after having held Vanderbilt to a scoreless tie the week before. Iowa State, the fourth undefeated team in the conference, did not play last week.

DEBATE TRYOUTS TO BE HELD NEXT WEEK

Places for at Least 40 Students on This Year's Squad; Few Are Experienced

Next week will be the last opportunity offered this semester in order to qualify for the debate squad and tryouts will be given by appointment only, according to Dr. H. B. Summers, debate coach. Aspirants for positions on the squad are asked to make arrangements this week for appointments in the public speaking office, in the Education building.

This season presents perhaps the finest opportunity in years for novices in the field of debate to engage in intercollegiate contests. There will be places for at least 40 students on the squad, Dr. Summers said, and possibly 30 of these will necessarily be new to Kansas State debate, as only eleven debater with intercollegiate experience remain from the 1932-33 squad.

Arrangements have already been made for a series of 12 radio debates to be broadcast over station KSAC once a week. On these debates a different question will be used each time. Other plans include a group of demonstration debates to be held before high school audiences at Hiawatha, Concordia, Topeka and other Kansas towns. Opponents to be brought to Manhattan for the radio debates include Missouri, Drake, Iowa State, Kansas university, Oklahoma and Nebraska.

AT THE VARSITY "Night Flight"

With a cast of six big stars "Night Flight" promises to be one of the big pictures of 1933. All the action takes place within 24 hours, and the story deals with night flying in its first stages and shows what a hazardous undertaking it really is.

The action takes place in South America and is supposed to be taken from real life. The cast includes such stars as Helen Hayes, Clark Gable, Lionel Barrymore, John Barrymore, Robert Montgomery, and Myrna Loy.—J. L.

AT THE DICKINSON "My Weakness"

Freshmen girls, here is your chance to find out how to "charm" your man. Every weakness imaginable is listed in "My Weakness" showing at the Dickinson today and tomorrow.

It means a fortune to Lew Ayres to mold a hotel maid into a charming young lady. He works it cleverly with the aid of his many girl friends but is caught by the same tricks he taught her only they seem so much more pleasing coming from her. This may show that clothes make the woman but first the woman must make the clothes. Soon she has the uncle and the two cousins at her feet. This giddy girl is Lillian Harvey who will sing "Gather Lip Rouge While You May" to you if you come.—F. V.

A forced reduction of some 10,000 students will be necessary in the near future at the University of Moscow. Overcrowded conditions and the lack of sufficient funds constitute the reason for the measure.

There are 16 honorary and professional societies of the college which seek to stimulate effort and promote the interests of the various divisions or department which they serve or represent.

KANSAS STATE COACHING STAFF

These coaches will take a prominent part in deciding the fate of Kansas State athletic teams this year. From left to right, the front row: Frank Root, head basketball coach and assistant football coach; L. P. Washburn, director of intramurals and physical education; A. N. "Bo" McMillin, head football coach; M. F. "Mike" Ahearn, director of athletics and baseball coach; back row: Ward Haylett, track coach and assistant football coach; C. S. Moll, swimming and tennis coach; and R. R. "Pat" Patterson, wrestling coach.

HEMPHILL BREAKS LEG IN SCRIMMAGE

Freshman End Injured While Attempting to Stop Doug Russell

"Red" Hemphill, freshman football end and boxer, suffered a broken leg last night while scrimmaging against the varsity team. In an attempt to tackle Doug Russell, Wildcat halfback, Hemphill's leg was pinned underneath a player and snapped when a varsity man stepped on it. Hemphill was one of the most promising players in the freshman squad.

Kedzie hall, the journalists' headquarters, was used as a cafeteria until 1908. The old sign, now painted over, remains as an old curiosity.

College Post Office Busy Place On Hill

There is probably not a student on the campus who has not at one time or another chafed impatiently at the seeming delay in distributing mail at the college postoffice. A visit behind the scenes during the time of distribution would in most cases convince the most hardened howler that Miss May and her assistants were getting the mail out in record time.

The college postoffice differs from a regular postoffice in one important point. Uncle Sam requests that all outgoing communications be enclosed in more or less standardized envelopes or postcards. The mail that is handled by Miss May, postmistress, is subject to no such restrictions. Bulky articles to be identified only by an indecipherable pencil scrawl in one corner and dainty slips of onion-skin paper folded into the smallest possible compass, alike crowd the mailroom for distribution. A local student organization recently sent out hundreds of tiny notices on tissue paper. These irregularities slow up the work of the postoffice employees and cause much needless work.

Miss May requests that students using the postoffice comply with the regulations in the matter of mailing of notes. No communication should be folded smaller than 2 1/2 x 4 inches, and it should be written on paper enough to lie flat. If all students will follow mailing regulations, Miss May says, the efficiency of the postoffice will be greatly improved.

CAST ANNOUNCED FOR MANHATTAN THEATRE PLAYS

"TEN NIGHTS IN A BAR ROOM" WILL BE PRESENTED NOVEMBER 10

REHEARSALS FOR PLAY BEGIN

H. Miles Heberer, Director of Theatre Productions, Pleased Over Tryouts Held This Week

The cast of the first Manhattan theatre play, "Ten Nights in a Bar Room," to be presented November 10, was announced last night by Prof. H. Miles Heberer, director of the production, following the tryouts held Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday.

Tryouts for the play were unusually successful this year, according to Professor Heberer. Out of a group of more than 150 students, faculty members, and townspeople who tried out for parts in the play, approximately 50 upperclassmen and 40 freshmen passed the preliminary tests.

Out of the list of 50 names of students who are upperclassmen this year, Professor Heberer will choose material for the second Manhattan Theatre play to be presented later this winter. While the freshmen are not eligible for positions in the plays this semester, their names will be held in reserve and they will take parts in the final play next fall.

Rehearsals for the first play of the season began last evening. Following are the names of those who will take leading parts in the play, "Ten Nights in a Bar Room": Donald Partner, Manhattan, a philanthropist, playing the part of Mr. Romaine; Harold Cary, Manhattan, taking the part of Simon Slade, landlord of the Sickle and Sheave Inn.

Carl Sartorius, Garden City, the Squire Hammond's son, Willie Hammond; Liebmann Langston, a Yankee tippler, Sample Swichel; Donald Isaacson, Topeka, a gambler, Harvey Green; Kenneth Lusher, Salsburg, Mo., the inn keeper's son, Frank Slade.

Dennison Olmstead, Perry, N. Y., another drunkard, Joe Morgan; Beulah Geyer, Waterville the inn keeper's wife, Mrs. Slade; Roberta Shannon, Geneseo, the drunkard's wife, Mrs. Morgan; Thelma Mathes, Leoti, the drunkard's daughter, Mary Morgan; Cora Oliphant, Olfert, a sentimental Yankee girl, Mehitable Cartright.

A MUSIC RECITAL WILL OPEN GROUP

Professor Stratton and Professor Matthews Will Present Entertainment Sunday

The music of Johann Sebastian Bach will be featured on the first lecture-recital to be given Sunday afternoon by Prof. Charles Stratton and Prof. Charles W. Matthews in recreation center. The program will start at 4 o'clock.

A series of five recitals has been arranged. The other programs to be given will include works of Beethoven, Chopin, Schumann, and Brahms. In selecting the music for these programs, Professor Stratton has endeavored to choose representative compositions of each of the five composers.

Professor Matthews' discussions will help toward a better understanding of the numbers played.

Next Sunday's program will start with the Concerto in the Italian style. This will be followed by four Preludes and Fugues from the "Well-tempered Clavier." Number 1 in C major, number 2 in C minor, number 8 in E flat minor, and number 21 in B major are the ones to be played.

The last number on the program will be the English suite in G minor. The suite includes a Prelude, allemande, courante, sarabande, two gavottes, and a gigue.

The German composer, born in 1685 at Eisenbach, wrote an enormous amount of music, both vocal and instrumental. His organ compositions have been termed "unsurpassed and unsurpassable."

"The Well-tempered Clavier," consisting of 24 preludes and fugues in all the major and minor keys was recommended to the young by the composer Schumann as their "daily bread."

Elouise White, Dalhart, Tex., was taken to the college hospital Wednesday. She is suffering from a bad cold.

BLACK PRESIDENT OF GARGOYLE CLUB

Organization for Architects Also Chooses Other Officers in Meeting Last Week

Clifford H. Black, Manhattan was elected president of the Gargoyle club, an organization for students in the department of architecture, at the regular meeting of the club last week. Other officers include Burl Zimmerman, Manhattan, vice president; Harlan E. Rathbun, Manhattan, secretary; Dwight Gillett, Plains, treasurer; Eugene D. Warner, Manhattan, marshal. The faculty advisor is Prof. Paul Weigel, department of architecture.

Dr. D. C. Warren of the department of poultry husbandry recently received a letter from Robert L. Ripley of "Believe It or Not" fame asking for a photograph of a flightless chicken for his cartoons. Doctor Warren indicated that he intended to comply with Ripley's request.

HOMECOMING EVENTS PLANNED FOR ALUMNI

Large Number of Graduates Expected for Annual Activities on October 21

Homecoming plans for the entertainment of returning Kansas State college alumni were announced yesterday by Kenney L. Ford, alumni secretary, who has made arrangements for a special alumni day on October 21, when Nebraska university and Kansas State college play football at Memorial stadium.

The alumni luncheon will be held on the second floor of the college cafeteria on Saturday preceding the game. No formal program has been prepared for the luncheon. Chancellor and Mrs. E. A. Burnett of the University of Nebraska, and President and Mrs. F. D. Farrell.

A short business meeting will be held Saturday morning by the board of directors of the Alumni association and has been scheduled to begin at 11 o'clock. Members of the board are E. A. Allen, '87, president, Raymond, Mo.; C. E. Coburn, '91, vice president, Kansas City, Mo.; W. E. Grimes, '11, treasurer, Manhattan; Harry Umberger, '05, secretary, Manhattan; Mame Alexander, '02, Phillipsburg; C. E. Friend, '88, Lawrence; H. W. Avery, '91, Wakefield; R. A. Seaton, '04, Manhattan; and L. C. Williams, '12, Manhattan.

Because of the fact that a large number of tickets have been sold thus far by the alumni office, it is expected that a large number of alumni will arrive in Manhattan on October 21 for the homecoming events. All alumni attending the football game against Nebraska university will be seated in an individual section of the stadium.

It is planned to hold registration of all alumni on Saturday morning, October 21, at the alumni office, unless a large number of alumni attending the game and other homecoming activities makes it necessary to hold registration in recreation center.

QUEEN WILL REIGN DURING BARNWARMER

TEN CANDIDATES CHOSEN FOR HONOR THRONE AT ANNUAL EVENT

BIG BARNWARMER THIS YEAR

To Be Held October 20 in Nichols Gymnasium Where Festivity Will Become Seventh Barnwarmer
For Agricultural Students

Six Kansas State coeds remain in the race for the title "Queen of the Ags" following the first elimination vote yesterday afternoon in the agricultural division seminar.

Next Thursday one of these six women will be voted the coveted title by agricultural students who have purchased tickets for the annual Ag Barnwarmer. The other five girls will be Ag "princesses." The following night, October 20, the queen will be crowned at the Barnwarming and will reign at the big party.

Ten girls were originally nominated for Ag queen. They were: Helen Hanson, Chi Omega, Clinton; Opal Schilkau, Zeta Tau Alpha, Haven; Pauline Crawford, Alpha Xi Delta, Luray; Mary Margaret Porter, Delta Delta Delta, Mt. Hope; Sarah Ann Grimes, Alpha Delta Pi, Manhattan; Eleanor Elizabeth Smith, Phi Omega Pi, Shreveport, La.; Pauline Eula Sherwood, Van Zile hall, Grenola; Sarah Florence Garrison, Kappa Kappa Gamma, Parsons; Mary E. Kendall, Pi Beta Phi, Great Bend; and Virginia Wagner, Clovia. The following girls remain in the race: Misses Porter, Crawford, Wagner, Smith, Hanson, and Grimes.

This year it is planned to have the party an open party, a radical departure from the plan employed on former years. Formerly, attendance at the party was strictly limited to Ags and Vets, a fact which has had to be forcibly proven to large numbers of students from other divisions who attempted to "crash" the event. Last year approximately 100 engineers and general science students tried to break up the party and a free-for-all fight under Texas rules ensued.

Officials in charge of the Barnwarmer this year are Robert T. Gardner, La Cynge, manager; Frank G. Parsons, Winfield, assistant manager; and Frank Burson, Monument, treasurer. The following committee heads have been appointed by the manager: Earl R. Regnier, Spearville, decorations; J. W. Mather, Grinnell, refreshments; James Ketchersid, Hope, music; and Wayne Jacobs, Harper, police.

AN ARRAY OF COLOR

Anderson Hall Vines Now at the Height of Beauty

Pause a moment the next time you pass Anderson hall and notice the vines clinging to the outside of the building. In a glance you will see that their cool restful greens have been touched with the deepest of the warm autumnal colors.

Browns, now grading to every shade, are dominant but they are so interspersed with reds and a few yellows that the whole thing results in a rapturous tone. While the joy and harmony of this natural artistry rests in the reds and yellows, the heavier background gives it a fuller and richer beauty.

HEMPHILL OUT OF HOSPITAL

J. G. "Red" Hemphill, Chanute, freshman football player whose ankle was fractured while he was scrimmaging against the varsity Monday, was released from the college hospital yesterday when an X-ray photograph revealed that the fracture had mended. Hemphill is not expected to report for practice for several weeks.

Kansas State college recently sold a nine-months-old Holstein bull calf to the Hays experiment station, according to an announcement by the department of dairy husbandry. The dam of this calf is K. S. A. C. Korndyke Corrine, an animal having a production record for one year of 19,186 pounds of milk and 676 pounds of butterfat.

The calf is sired by K. S. A. C. Quantic Iconoclast, who is the son of the famous cow, Inka, of the college herd. Inka is 17 years old and has a record for one year of 775 pounds of butterfat. This is the fourth bull that the Hays station has purchased from the Kansas State college herd.

Senator Arthur Capper Among Those to Attend Land Meeting

President F. D. Farrell has received numerous acceptances to his invitation to attend the Land Utilization conference here next week. Among those who have said they would be here are Senator Arthur Capper, Topeka; J. F. Jarrell, manager of agricultural development department, Santa Fe railroad; P. H. Wheeler, colonization agent, Missouri Pacific railway; John S. Bird, Hays; F. P. Willette, manager, Atchison chamber of commerce; E. H. Hogue, Southwestern Millers' league, Kansas City; C. M. Miller, director, state board of vocational education, Topeka; R. D. Graham, state board of agriculture, Topeka; and Chancellor E. H. Lindley of Kansas university.

Members of the committee in charge of arrangements for the Land Utilization school are Prof. E. I. Throckmorton, Prof. L. C. Williams, and Dr. W. E. Grimes.

POULTRY TEAM TO CHICAGO

To Compete in Mid-West Intercollegiate Contest Saturday—Five Make Trip

Kansas State college's poultry judging team left for Chicago Wednesday to compete in the Mid-west Intercollegiate poultry judging contest held annually in connection with the Colosseum poultry show.

Team members making the trip are T. B. Avery, Coldwater; C. L. Gish, Abilene; J. O. Miller, Meriden; N. R. Nelson, Belle Plaine; and M. L. Wilson, East St. Louis, Ill. The team members were accompanied by their coach, Prof. H. M. Scott of the department of poultry husbandry.

The contest this year will be of unusual interest since three schools are running neck-to-neck for permanent possession of the trophy cup. The cup must be won three times for permanent possession. Kansas State college, Oklahoma, and Iowa each have won the cup twice. Last year the team representing this school made practically a clean sweep of all team and individual awards.

While in Chicago the team will visit the Century of Progress exposition and make a sight-seeing tour of the city. The contest will be held Saturday and the Kansas State team will return to Manhattan Sunday.

OPEN INDOOR RIFLE RANGE IN STADIUM

Great Interest Is Displayed in Firing—33 Coeds Sign for Practice

The indoor rifle gallery range in the stadium is now open. New lights have been installed and the range is now in excellent condition. Students are displaying great interest in rifle firing and it is expected that two good teams will again represent this institution.

Due to the graduation of J. W. Wells, W. E. Laird, D. R. Johnston, G. S. Ferguson and the team captain, A. B. Niemoller, the men's team will be made up of students who did not fire regularly in the matches last year. J. L. Hartman, another member of the team last year, is not in school this semester, and H. H. Kirby, also a member, has completed his period of competition.

Postal matches will be fired this year with leading institutions throughout the country. The team will also fire in the Hearst Trophy as well as the Seventh Corps Area matches. It is also planned to compete in shoulder to shoulder matches held annually by the Missouri Valley Rifle league and by Wentworth Military Academy. The season will open December 4 and continue through March, 1934. Membership is not limited to R. O. T. C. students.

Thirty-three girls have signed up for rifle practice this year. Among them is Viola Barron, Kensington, who was high scorer last year on the Women's Rifle Team, and Velda Wunder, Valley Falls; Marion Evans, Hartford; Velda Umbach, Spearville; and Myra Roth, Ness City, who were also on the team.

A team of 15 will be selected later from a picked squad of about twenty and will fire from thirty to thirty-five postal matches during December, January, February, and March with teams from other colleges. The girls are required two hours a week of supervised shooting on the rifle range in the stadium which will be used as in previous years for practice and matches.

Prof. F. W. Bell, animal husbandry department, spent two days last week at the Stafford county fair where he assisted with the judging of livestock.

That big bar of Chappell's Rich Ice Cream, coated with crunchy chocolate, only a nickel! 10-1

ANOTHER Y. M. C. A. W. DANCE THIS EVENING

No Cutting of Dances Allowed During First Part of Program

The Y. M. C. A. Y. W. C. A. dime dance tonight will be featured with a special dance program during the first part of the evening. A special characteristic of this part of the evening's program will be the fact that no cutting of dances will be allowed. The boys' name, too, must be on the girl's dance program before he will be allowed to dance with her.

Music during the evening will be furnished by Laura Donat, Verdigris, Neb., and Margaret Ratts, Atlanta. A variation of piano selections and piano with accordion numbers will offer another novelty at the dance.

Members of the Y. W. C. A. social committee are Alice Wilsey, Washington, chairman, Katherine Knechtel, Larned, and W. E. Gledersleeve, Kingston, N. Y.

Captain Griffith Only 118-Pound
Letterman Reporting
Thus Far

Coach B. R. Patterson yesterday issued a general call for wrestling candidates, especially 118-pounders, in which class Captain Paul Griffith is the only veteran returning this year. Other lettermen now in school are A. L. MacDonald and Paul Warner, while E. A. Hinz will return the second semester.

Joe Fickel, former Big Six champion at 135 pounds, was in Manhattan Monday and worked out with the varsity squad. Coach Patterson announces that he is as good as ever for five or six minutes. Hugh Errington will stop here for a day or two next week on his way home from an extended motor trip, and will also practice with the squad. Errington was formerly captain of the Aggie team, as well as Big Six heavyweight champion and third place winner in the national intercollegiate tournament for two years.

KANSAS STATE- MISSOURI GAME BY TEL-O-GRID

TUSSLE REPORT DIRECT FROM FOOTBALL FIELD TO COLLEGE AUDITORIUM

SECOND BIG FOOTBALL PARTY

Reports on Screen and Loudspeaker
System Popular This Year—Interest Grows in First Big Six Game

The Kansas State-Missouri university football game tomorrow afternoon at Columbia, Mo., will be recorded in up-to-the-minute reports direct from the football field to the college auditorium by means of tel-o-grid during the second big football party Saturday. This is the first Big Six game for the Wildcats this year.

The tel-o-grid, sponsored by Sigma Delta Chi, men's professional journalistic fraternity, furnishes a detailed report of the progress of the game, and each play is accurately recorded on a large screen in the shape of a football field. A loudspeaker system is also used to give a play by play description of the game, and other timely activities of the event. The reports are sent directly to Manhattan and are received at the college auditorium by means of a tel-o-type.

The entertainment provided by the tel-o-grid on October 6, when the Wildcats beat St. Louis university at St. Louis, was enjoyed by a large audience and football parties have become popularized this year by the use of the tel-o-grid.

While the first Big Six game will be played at Columbia tomorrow, the interest in the football tussle has been growing recently in spite of the fact the Wildcats will be away from home. Crowds attending the tel-o-grid tomorrow afternoon are expected to be much larger than the audience which witnessed the St. Louis university-Kansas State tel-o-grid last Friday.

Members of Theta Sigma Phi, professional journalistic fraternity for women, will act as ushers tomorrow afternoon at the tel-o-grid. While the tel-o-grid is attended largely by students and faculty members of the college, townspeople, high-school students, and members of the "knot-hole" gang, are also invited.

The admission charge, which is the lowest in years for any similar entertainment, will be 25 cents with activity books, and 15 cents without activity books. The tel-o-grid is scheduled to begin promptly at 2 o'clock.

FAULKNER ON COMMITTEE

English Professor Will Assist in Compiling and Editing Guide

Prof. J. O. Faulkner, department of English, has been appointed a member of a committee of the National Council of Teachers of English to compile and edit an edition of "Students' Guide to Good Reading."

Copies of this guide according to Professor Faulkner, will be distributed free to English departments of colleges throughout the United States and used to stimulate more extensive and better reading among college undergraduates enrolled in English classes. Professor Faulkner was appointed to this committee by the chairman, Dr. A. H. Townsend of New York university.

"I'll bet a dollar I'll never be a Rhodes scholar," rhymes a columnist on the University of Oklahoma Daily, and he adds, "I know a boy who declares he is a Rhodes scholar because he has been on the highways of life."

Strange antics of sorority pledges on the University of Oklahoma campus are explained in the editorial columns of the Oklahoma Daily: "If you see a girl walking on the grass while a perfectly level Norman sidewalk is going to waste, don't think the poor girl is crazy. She's just a Pi Phi neophyte paying the penalty for going to a picture show instead of studying."

Six programs presenting the finest array of musical talent available in the United States will constitute the music "series" of the University of Indiana this year. The artists were booked in a contract with the National Broadcasting company. The artists to be presented include Maria Jeritza of the Metropolitan opera company; Egmond Petri, concert pianist; and Erem Zimbalist, violinist.

BAILEY SPEAKER IN JOURNALISM LECTURE

Discusses NRA Newspaper Codes—Says Laissez-Faire Is Dead Theory

The relation of the program of the NRA to the newspaper business was the subject chosen by W. A. Bailey, president of the Kansas Press association, and president of the Kansas City Kansas, who spoke before the journalism seminar held yesterday afternoon in Kedzie hall. This was the first journalism meeting of the year.

Immediately after the plans for the codes of the National Recovery act were announced, the newspapers over the country were faced with many serious problems, Mr. Bailey said. While many leaders in the newspaper business who drew up the first codes believed that one code would be necessary for the newspaper industry, it finally developed that three distinct codes were necessary.

Describing the NRA program as one of the most complex programs that any administration has ever attempted, Mr. Bailey said business will never again be conducted in the careless laissez-faire method used before the Roosevelt administration.

Looking into the future Mr. Bailey said there would be fewer newspapers, more collective bargaining, more truth in advertising, more carefully edited newspapers, higher circulation rates of newspapers, more by-line writers, and more radio and national news.

PROBLEMS OF INDIA DISCUSSED IN FORUM

Charles Saldanha Tells of Obstacles to the Establishment of Democracy in His Country.

"The Fitness of India for Democracy" was discussed by Charles Saldanha, native of India, yesterday at the student forum in the college cafeteria.

Mr. Saldanha is studying at St. Mary's college in order to become a Catholic missionary to his own country.

Obstacles to the establishment of democracy in India, according to Mr. Saldanha, are the caste and family system, diverse dialects and languages, religion and education. The existence of different castes—Hindus, Mohammedans, Parsees, and Christians—cut the people apart making democracy almost an impossibility as does the fact that there are 250 different dialects derived from 18 different languages.

"It is almost as if all these different groups were different nations living side by side as one nation but with no fusion and no hope of ever bringing the different groups together," Mr. Saldanha said. The lack of education is another factor which stands in the way of democracy in India. The people of India are cultured but not educated. India has always known civilization, but the great majority of the people are illiterate, and political agitation cannot be carried on without the ability of the people to read newspapers. This makes the problem more of a social problem than a political one. Ninety per cent of the people of India live in villages, only the other 10 per cent know what is really happening in India.

Mr. Saldanha drew interesting comparisons between India and the United States. Americans usually are believed to be in sympathy with the natives of India, drawing a comparison between the early American struggle for freedom from England. Such a comparison is not accurate because America and India are so different. In America the individual is all-important and there is extreme uniformity in customs and habits. In India, the family is all-important and variety exists everywhere. Even marriage is a social act, not an individual act. Labor is not an honor in pagan countries, but is held in high esteem in Christian countries, because Christ himself labored.

"The problem of India is a social problem," Mr. Saldanha concluded. "The reasons for the agitation for democracy in India are social."

BREWSTER AT WAREHAM

Pee Wee Brewster cancelled an engagement in Salina to appear at the Wareham ballroom after word was received from Kansas City that Bennie Moten had been declared unfair for playing in an unfair ballroom. As soon as the situation is cleared up it is more than likely that Moten will play a varsity at the ballroom.—Adv.

Dr. D. C. Warren and Prof. H. M. Scott of the department of poultry husbandry have found, in their study of egg development outside the ovary, that less than a cc of sodium antyol will keep a three and one-half pound leghorn hen in a state of coma for two hours.

A TIMELY WARNING

Today is one day in the year when those students who believe in luck step cautiously across the campus and go from class to class with their fingers crossed. During the day many students are going to remember the stories about picking up pins, walking under ladders, and crossing the path of black cats. For today, as you probably know, is Friday, the 13th.

While many students are not superstitious about dates and other things which are supposed to bring bad luck, there are numerous students who firmly believe that Friday the 13th is a bad day to live. The unnatural events that do happen today are sure to be blamed upon the fact that this Friday occurred on the 13th day of the month, although it would have caused no alarm should the same things have happened yesterday or tomorrow.

So if things don't go right today, just remember that today is Friday, the 13th. You won't get another opportunity this year to blame unfortunate circumstances upon the calendar.

A TRADITION PASSES

The information that the annual Ag Barnwarmer is to be an open party this year comes as a surprise to the student body as a whole and as a distinct shock to members of the Ag division. The Ags, you may be sure had little to say in the matter and there are many rumors concerning what they are going to do about it.

To them, the opening of the party must seem to be the acknowledgement of defeat at the hands of their traditional divisional rivals, the Engineers. For years various groups of Engineers have endeavored to break up the annual event and now they have succeeded with a vengeance. The Ag Barnwarmer is no longer an Ag party but merely a new kind of varsity.

The unusually bloody battle at the Barnwarmer last year is, no doubt, the event that gave rise to the official action this year. We do not deny that such battles are dangerous and should be prevented. But on the other hand, the Ags were certainly not the aggressors in the battle of previous years, and it seems a bit too cruel to deprive them of their most colorful divisional activity.

The Collegian deplores the passing of a glamorous institution—the destruction of what has been, for the Ags, a sacred tradition.

THE JOY OF LIVING

Probably one of the greatest things in life is a healthy body and the ability to remain healthy without a great deal of medical attention. Health is a thing that can be gained, but after it has once been lost, it is a thing that is hard to restore.

People who are healthy invariably get a big kick out of living. A most noteworthy example of good health in a life of activity and public service is that of Theodore Roosevelt. He was a sincere believer in good health habits, and his strenuous life has been marvelled by many a man who has longed for a similar career without sickness.

The way to be healthy is to follow the simple rules laid down by nature. Daily exercise is primarily important. The college student who takes only a short walk each day across the campus is bound to feel dull and weary at the end of the day. A large amount of mental activity should be balanced with a similar amount of physical exercise.

The right kind of food is also necessary for good health. Proper food and plenty of water, taken at regular times, will result in better rest at night. While some people require more rest than others, many students cheat themselves of needed sleep and the result is always a reflection on the nervous system. Thomas A. Edison rested only four hours out of every twenty-four, but there are few people who could get by on this amount of rest and remain healthy.

College students need good health. It takes very little trouble to be healthy, and the effort to remain healthy is surely advisable since it is a big factor in becoming wealthy and wise.

THE COLLEGE BAND

One of the most popular and attractive features of college ceremonial occasions and public gatherings is the college band. No other organization on the campus fulfills the requirements of fine entertainments and musical leadership. Student musicians who are willing to give talent and time in making the organization successful are worthy of congratulation.

To many students who are not enrolled in courses of music and probably know nothing of good music, the college band has stimulated a love for melody, harmony, and tone. Especially is the band appreciated by an audience to arouse enthusiasm and spirit at football games and pep meetings.

College students should learn to appreciate good music and acquire the knack of determining the difference between the good and bad in musical circles. The college band affords such an opportunity to students who desire to develop a good taste for genuine, inspiring, music.

ENROLLMENT AND THE A. B. DEGREE

Kansas State college is one of several state institutions of higher learning which reported a decrease in enrollment for 1933 as compared to the preceding year. Emporia State Teachers and Fort Hays college reported increases.

Is the fact that the two smaller schools gained while Kansas State lost to be explained entirely on the assumption that economic conditions 'creed' many students "to go to college closer home," as may be heard?

Comparatively recently Emporia and Fort Hays added the granting of an A.B. degree. Kansas State did not, although it was shown at the time that few changes and little expense would be involved.

Is there a connection between the refusal to add the A.B. degree and the drop in enrollment?

WHAT IS INTELLIGENCE?

It is only as you relate the knowledge you have gleaned from printed pages to your own experience that you become truly educated. It is only in the light of experience that knowledge becomes understanding. And that mysterious something which fuses knowledge with experience, which is emotional, and so forms understanding is termed "imagination."

It is precisely this unknown quality which psychologists with their "intelligence" tests do not measure. What they do measure is the subject's memory power and his ability to perform certain ingenious mental tricks; hence, to a certain extent, they measure the subject's ability to gather knowledge from books. But the discrepancy between these measurable qualities and intelligence is the discrepancy between knowledge and understanding. One wonders what Albert Einstein's intelligence quotient would be should it be identified with his speed in performing simple processes in arithmetic.

Imagination is the vital part of intelligence; those without it—though they possess remarkable powers of memory and be able to perform mental processes with astounding speed—are doomed to remain the tools of those who have it. And no man has ever devised a test for intelligence. No man ever will, for intelligence is that for which there is measurement and analysis and it is that which measures and analyzes. It is a living reality and all that the "intelligence" tests can ever measure is external to it.

The Snooper

Aside from running a steam-roller through a kindergarten what would be more horrifying than to hear someone play "Pink Elephants" at a "Y" party? But it was actually accomplished a short time ago.

The Ags, wonderful and spiritual conflagration that they are, are planning to have their annual Barnwarmer open to everybody, including the Engineers! This takes a great deal of glamor out of the occasion. What would be more exciting than to watch the hefty Ags slinging baled hay out of windows just to keep the Engineers from crashing their little shin-dig?

What is the matter with the two Aggieville clothiers? The farm-life must be getting Walt down while Swede's little brother, Bill, must be keeping the elder Lutz from his usual catering.

The freshman class are planning another fight for the next home game. This sort of rivalry seems to be the vogue this year. If and when the freshmen find some upper classmen besides the great Cat organization to handle they will still think that Bob Spiker would be nice to fight even if he does look awfully tough.

The space between weekends is plenty dull.—Kipling.

Badluck, The Freshman

Dear Ma and pa:

I am sure getting to be a real college feller now because I stayed up until 10:30 the other night studying my chemistree lesson and trying to figure out what an atom must look like. There's a picture of an atom in my book but I guess they must be awful small because I looked all over my room and couldn't find none.

I had to write a theme yesterday for my rhetoric teacher entitled "what I saw on the way to school this morning" but I couldn't write much on account of I forgot to set my alarm clock and I didn't have no time to be looking for something when I was 8 minutes late to class already. So I guess I'll have to wait until tomorrow morning and try to see something on the way to school without running.

Say pop I guess you'd better send me some more money because I ain't paid no room rent yet and my landlady says she's got to have some money to buy some coal. So if you don't want your son to freeze this winter I guess you'd better send me about 6 bucks. I am still eating six hamburgers every day and so far I'll bet I've even ate more hamburgers than the guy that cooks them for me.

Well, I guess I'd better start studying chemistree some more because we are going to do a lot of experiments tomorrow and prove a lot of things that are sure important to fellers studying agriculture like me.

Your son,
Badluck.

p. s.—I guess I must be getting homesick because I dreamed about our old cow Rebecca the other night.

WINTER IN MANHATTAN

Former K-State Athlete Arrived From Detroit for Several Months Stay

Elden Auker, Detroit American league pitcher and Kansas State's latest contribution to the big-time sporting world, and his wife, the former Mildred Purcell, are in Manhattan and plan to live here this winter.

Auker, who during undergraduate days, here became one of the best known Big Six athletes in football, basketball, and baseball, plans to officiate at football and basketball games between now and time for spring baseball training to begin next March. He probably will work a good many games with Charles Corsaut, who coached him in basketball and baseball all through college.

The pitcher has been under contract with Detroit since his graduation a year ago last spring. He was with the Decatur, Ill. club (a Detroit farm) in the Three-I league until that organization broke up. Most of the past season he spent on another Detroit farm, Beaumont in the Texas league, but went up as a Detroit regular late in the season.

His big league record is three won and three lost games. In the Texas league he won 16 of 17 games (he doesn't remember for sure) and lost 10 (about seven of them by one run). At the end of the season last year he pitched shut-out ball. He started the season off this year with a shut-out, and he finished the same way.

Auker pitched his first game for Detroit August 6 in Chicago. He was just in from Texas and tired. The manager, Bucky Harris, hesitated about using him, but the pitching staff was pretty well worn, leaving little option. Chi-ago earned a run, Auker said, and got another that was "a boot."

Not So Hard
He worked hard that day—harder probably than he had ever worked on the mound before. He was expecting it to be hard. Although the day was cool, he sweated copiously, and it was only when Pasek, catcher who came up with him from Beaumont reminded him to pretend this was the Texas league did he settle down.

After that, he said he discovered it was in reality easier up there than it was in the minors. Better support, better conditions. If he didn't try too hard it was no different. Philosophical about the game, as most athletes are, he said if they were going to hit what he put out, they hit, and if they weren't slated, well—then you go places.

STUDENTS IN TEACHERS' ROLE

Forty-seven Apprentices of College Now Have Instructors Jobs
Forty-seven Kansas State college students are serving "apprenticeships" under teachers in the Manhattan schools, according to Dr. V. L. Strickland of the department of education. Doctor Strickland has charge of the classes in teaching participation.

The cooperative plan between the college and the board of education of the local city schools has been in operation generally two years, but the same method has been carried on in the departments of home economics and vocational agriculture at the city schools for at least eight years.

The participating or apprentice teachers are never left alone in the classrooms with students, and they learn to a large extent through observation.

Four hundred men students cook their own food at Iowa State college in an effort to reduce expenses while going to school. The smaller number of jobs in the city is responsible for the "batching" habit among the students.

The great trek to Missouri will start sometime this afternoon. Half the student body is going, but the question is how many will come back? If the pink elephants are too thick most of the students will probably return to the fold by Wednesday. . . .

The meek Charlie Team has been chiseling lately, and with a Kappa. Surely the disappearance of the Tri Delta prize vase had nothing to do with it. . . . Virginia Masser, Parson's prize, is unable to recognize Manhattan when she drives in on any road except the old Oxroad which leads to Sunset. Suggestion: Rent a bike, Masser, and see Manhattan. . . .

The Sigma Nu boys always come tripping into the show making a big noise, Paulson prominently among those present, and this wasn't a week end. . . . A prominent sorority house was exceedingly worried the other night when they received no telephone calls; at 8:30 they happened to discover that all the receivers were off the hooks. Some of the girls had been playing! . . . If the freshmen really want something to do they could stir up a little excitement on this hill. By this time next week we'll send for the nearest hearse. . . .

AT THE DICKINSON

"Golden Harvest"

At last the movie has attempted to present the farmer in his true character and in sincere sympathy of his problems and not make the farm a hideout of the ignorant.

"Golden Harvest," now playing at the Dickinson, pictures in story of the recent strikes and economic difficulties that agriculture has been experiencing. The producers have exaggerated the story in places and humorized it in others. But the courageous struggle between brothers, Richard Arlen on the farm and Chester Morris as the Chicago grain exchange broker, brings out a plot which swells your sympathy for the farmer and makes you realize the hopeless position of the men who buck the boards of trade.

The tension of the heavy drama is relieved by the marriage of Roscoe Ates to Elizabeth Patterson and the wise cracking of Genevieve Tobin.—F. V.

The key-note of political campaigns on the University of Indiana this year is a "New Deal." A new political party composed of independents is attempting to establish a new regime by overthrowing the powerful coalition party.

The greatest track star that Kansas State college has produced was Ray Watson, a one-armed mile runner who represented the United States in several Olympic events and once defeated the great Joe Ray, considered by many sports experts to be the most brilliant middle-distance runner of all time. Watson is now selling life insurance in Quincy, Ill.

"Jeerful Jestures," a column in the Oklahoma Daily, University of Oklahoma in Norman, has this to say about George Milburn, a protégé of H. L. Mencken who has become a famous writer of short stories:

"This Mr. George Milburn is one of O. U.'s children And now he's famous you see. He learned this writing twist As a Daily columnist—Say Does anyone want an option on me?"

WILDCATS OPEN BIG SIX SEASON AGAINST TIGERS

GAME WITH MISSOURI TOMORROW FIRST CONFERENCE AFFAIR FOR BOTH TEAMS

AGGIES WORK ON M. U. PLAYS

McMillanmen Look None Too Impressive in Workouts Against Fresh Using Tiger Plays, Although Still Favorites

Tomorrow afternoon the Kansas State Wildcats will invade the lair of the Missouri Tigers at Columbia in the first conference football engagement for both teams.

After their defeat by the Kirksville Teachers last week, the Tigers will be out to annex the victory. The Wildcats will likewise be playing hard to keep their grid slate clean from defeat.

During the week Head Coach Frank Carideo, of Missouri, has been drilling his proteges for the Kansas State game, mainly in defensive work directed to stop the activities of the Wildcat ace, "Rambling" Ralph Graham, and other K. S. backfield stars such as Oren Stoner and Dugan Russell. In the Missouri camp the morale of the Tigers is high and they are confident of victory over the Wildcats.

At Kansas State, Head Coach Bo McMillan has been working on offensive plays to be used against the Tigers. In defensive work, freshman gridsters have been using Missouri plays against the Wildcat varsity in stiff scrimmages. As a whole the Kansas State team has looked none too impressive in these workouts.

With the exception of Lyman Abbott and Henry Kirk, both backfield men, the Kansas State squad is in good shape. Kirk is out indefinitely and Abbott still has a sore shoulder. Tiger injuries are causing Coach Carideo to shift his lineups repeatedly in order to get the smooth and hard working eleven that he wants.

In the eighteen games played between the two schools so far, each has won eight and two have been tied. Kansas State has been victorious in the last four games.

smothering the Tigers 25-0 last year. So far the Wildcats remain favorites to win tomorrow, mainly as a result of their good showing last week by defeating St. Louis university. However, the Tigers are always dangerous and are more than anxious to crack the Kansas State winning streak. The squad of approximately 25 Kansas State gridsters will leave for Columbia this afternoon.

Big Six Grid Notes

Missouri
Coach Frank Carideo firmly believes that Missouri's best chance for victory over the Wildcats in a conference opener tomorrow lies in a defense which will stop Graham, Russell, and company, for the Tigers have demonstrated scoring power of their own this season and expect to score at least once against Kansas State. Stuber, Hatfield, Faurot, and Ross will probably make up the starting backfield, behind a veteran line.

Nebraska
The Nebraska Cornhuskers are not letting up in practice this week following the victory over Texas, for Iowa State, with whom the Huskers open their conference season tomorrow, has a habit of upsetting the dope badly on occasions, and Coach Bible wants to take no unnecessary chances with the Cyclones. Parsons may replace Miller at half.

Oklahoma
Oklahoma, smarting under its defeat at the hands of Tulsa last week, is training hard on offense in preparation for Texas university. In practice this week Captain Bob Dunlap has been leaving the signal calling duties to Robertson and leading the team on offense himself. Dunlap was the chief ground gainer as the varsity scored four touchdowns on the freshmen in a practice game early in the week.

Kansas
Kansas university has a practice game scheduled with the freshman team tomorrow, before clashing with Tulsa, conquerors of Oklahoma, on October 21. The Jayhawkers are in high spirits as a result of their scoreless tie with Notre Dame, and are already eyeing the Big Six title.

Women's Sports

Tennis
Van Zile hall with forty tennis intramural entrants established a new record for women's intramural sports this fall. All matches were played off within a week from the opening day. So far all but eight other teams have been eliminated, leaving in Group I, Alpha Delta Pi, Kappa Delta, and Zeta Tau Alpha; in Group II, Neophytes, Van Zile hall, and Delta Delta Delta; and in Group III, X team, Chi Omega, and Kappa Kappa Gamma.

The three girls in each group will play against each other for a semi-final position, and the three remaining will play for final positions. The final scores are to be turned in by Wednesday.

Horseback Riding
Intramural horseback riding will begin Tuesday afternoon at the city park, and will continue until Thursday afternoon. Each organization is allowed one entrant who will be judged by her ability to handle her horse, and will be allowed 10 W. A. A. points. Six groups have entered so far: Kappa Kappa Gamma, Chi Omega, Phi Omega Pi, Pi Beta Phi, Kappa Delta, and Alpha Delta Pi. The representatives for these groups have not yet been chosen.

Golf
Organizations have been slow in showing interest in golf, probably because it is its first year as an intramural sport. Each contestant will play two nine hole games and hand in her scores for qualification by October 16. From their scores the girls will be put in flights according to their ability, the lowest scorers playing against one another, and the higher scorers against one another.

Lois Rosencrans, Manhattan, will play for Alpha Delta Pi, Erma Schmedemann, Manhattan, for Alpha Xi Delta, Mary Jane McComb, Wichita, for Delta Delta Delta, Marian Waite, Superior, Nebr., Kathryn Black, Council Grove, and Jane Stone for Kappa Kappa Gamma, and Betty Bryant, Manhattan, for Chi Omega.

FOOTBALL IN 1934
The 1934 Kansas State college football schedule has been partly completed with five conference games listed and one night game scheduled with Marquette university at Milwaukee, Wis., on October 26. A few open dates still remain. Following are the dates of games scheduled thus far:
Oct. 20—Kansas at Manhattan.
Oct. 26—Marquette university at Marquette (night game).
Nov. 10—Missouri university at Manhattan.
Nov. 17—Oklahoma university at Norman.
Nov. 24—Iowa State college at Manhattan.
Nov. 29—Nebraska university at Lincoln.

AT THE VARSITY "One Man's Journey"

The hard life that a country doctor leads is depicted in "One Man's Journey" with Lionel Barrymore. As Eli Watt, Barrymore gives a fine performance. Watt is the old type of country doctor that uses psychology as much as medicine on his patients.

Doctor Watt gives up many opportunities in order to stay near his people and help them in time of trouble, although the pay is usually in potatoes.

May Robson is splendid as a bullying housekeeper that keeps everybody on the chalk line. Other characters are: Joel McCrea, Frances Dee, and Dorothy Jordan.

It's a fine show, and Barrymore does some marvelous acting. Highly recommended.—J. L.

RECEPTION FOR VETS

An informal reception for students and members of the division of veterinary medicine followed the initiation of new members into the Junior American Veterinary Medical association, Thursday evening, October 5. Cider, doughnuts, and apples formed the evening's refreshment, following the custom of previous years.

Over 150 men were pledged by Greek-letter organizations on the Michigan State college campus this fall. This is the largest number of pledges ever made during rush week at this college. Evidently Michigan is recovering from the well-known depression.

A football player at Iowa State college declares he came to college "to get an education." He ranks his school activities in the following order: books, football, track.

Punishment for freshmen at the University of Colorado who have violated the college rules is a good ducking in the varsity lake. Approximately 50 freshmen were sentenced to duckings after a moot court was held in their honor.

University students, taken as a whole, are poor spellers, an associate professor at Colorado university, recently reported. Accuracy in learning words from the start is the foundation of good spelling, according to the professor.

Burton Rascoe, American critic, says in his book "Titans of Literature," that Dante was a bigot with a nasty mind and that the "Divine Comedy" contains whole pages as barren of poetry as the New York telephone directory.

Would be columnists could probably get some good ideas from a column in the Iowa State Student entitled "Bally Rot." And the author of this column is none other than Count Fairweather Horse-neck.

what makes a cigarette taste better

WHAT makes anything taste better? It's what is in it that makes a thing taste better. CHESTERFIELDS taste better because we buy ripe tobaccos. These ripe tobaccos are aged two and a half years—thirty months. During this time the tobaccos improve—just like wine improves by ageing. CHESTERFIELDS taste better because they have the right kind of home-grown tobaccos and Turkish Tobaccos "welded together." We hope this answers your question.

Frosh Will March In One Group To Pep Rally Friday

Class Spirit Grows Following Football Game Fight at Beginning of Season; "Pee Wee" Brewster and Band Play at Pep Meeting

A new custom at Kansas State college will be initiated next Friday evening, when members of the freshmen class gather on the campus a short time before the pep meeting and march to the auditorium in a body.

The decision of leaders of the freshmen class to go to the auditorium in a group was a result primarily of the outcome of the fight against members of the Wampus Cats, Kansas State pep organization, during the football game against Emporia Teachers on September 30. While there was a great deal of school spirit shown by members of the freshmen class at the football game at that time, the freshmen decided at a meeting held recently to further organize themselves and attend all pep meetings in the future 100 per cent strong. The meeting was held on the south side of Anderson hall some time ago and was attended by a large group of students, all representatives of the freshmen class, as well as several members of other classes.

That the pep meeting next Friday evening will contain plenty of punch and life became apparent yesterday when it was announced that "Pee Wee" Brewster and his band will furnish snappy music at the meeting. Members of their orchestra and their leader are working this week on a series of special song arrangements to be presented at the pep meeting, which will be the first of its kind held this year.

The pep meeting will also include pep talks by "Bo" McMillin, Dr. H. H. King, and other prominent pep speakers. The complete program of the pep meeting has not been announced.

Members of the freshmen class will occupy the center section of the auditorium. They will be identified by freshmen caps, which must be worn during the football and basketball seasons.

K-STATE WILDCATS TROUNCE MISSOURI

(By Mildred Peters)

For the fifth straight year Kansas State proved its football superiority over Missouri university, as the Wildcats drove and passed their way across the gridiron at Columbia to completely tame the Tigers, 33-0, Saturday.

A game that Grantland Rice doped to be an even affair turned out to be an easy victory for Kansas State, and sent the Wildcats flying into a tie with the Nebraska Cornhuskers for the Big Six lead. The victory was Kansas State's third in as many games this season.

In nearly every department the Wildcats were superior to the Tigers. When the line plunging of Captain Ralph Graham and Doug Russell was momentarily stopped, accurate passing by the Wildcat quarterback, Lee Morgan, rolled up the yardage. The excellent punting of Oren Stoner was also a decisive factor in the Wildcat's victory, coupled with Tom Bushby's blocking and a line that proved almost invincible. Only once in the first half were the Tigers able to penetrate the Kansas State defense to get into Wildcat territory.

Kansas State took the wind out of the Tigers almost at the start of the game as they opened up with a passing attack that netted a touchdown the first quarter. A pass from Lee Morgan 27 yards down the field went straight into the arms of Oren Stoner who caught it behind the Tiger goal line for the first career.

Line smashes by Captain Graham and Doug Russell resulted in the second touchdown. The Wildcats got the ball on the Missouri 43-yard line, from where line plunges placed it on the 2-yard line. Graham cracked the Tiger line for the score.

Missouri resorted to passes in their own territory, which proved to be their undoing. Stoner intercepted one of Lochner's tosses on the Tiger 34-yard stripe. On the next play Morgan flung a pass to Russell who sped down the sidelines for six more points. Dean Griffing's try for point was good and the half ended with the score Kansas State 19, Missouri 0.

Missouri's closest bid for a touchdown came in the third quarter. Runs by Hatfield along with some passes and Kansas State penalties brought the Tigers to the Kansas State 13-yard line. There the Wildcats held and got the ball when Lochner's pass went into the end zone.

With the Tiger goal line for the final period with a series of line plunges, and Graham cranked across the Tiger goal line standing up for the fourth touchdown.

With the ball deep in their own territory, the Tigers took a desperate chance on making their required yardage in four downs. They failed, and Kansas State took the ball on the Tiger 18-yard stripe. As Grenda interfered with Tom Bushby as he was trying to catch Morgan's pass, the Wildcats got the ball on the Tiger 3-yard line. Bushby went through for the touchdown, and crashed the line again for the extra point.

Every player on the Kansas State squad got into the game. Coach Bo McMillin substituted freely and gave his reserves plenty of experience in the game.

A summary of the game shows that Kansas State made 13 first downs to 8 for the Tigers. Although Missouri made more yardage from scrimmage than Kansas State, the Wildcats rolled up 219 yards on 11 passes.

The starting lineup: Kansas State: Blaine, LE; Maddox, LT; Forbes, LG; Harter, C; Hanson, RG; Wertzberger, RT; Griffing, RE; Morgan, QB; Stoner, LH; Bushby, RH; Graham, FB. Missouri: Powell, LE; Hader, LT; Ream, LG; McMillin, C; Consolver, RG; Koenigsdorf, RT; Grenda, RE; Stuber, QB; Lochner, LH; Hatfield, RH; Ross, FB.

J. R. Bentley, a graduate in 1932, at present a student instructor in pasture management, received notice recently of an appointment to the post of Junior Range Examiner of the Bureau of Forestry, United States department of agriculture. The appointment became effective October 16 and Bentley left Saturday for his home at Ford, where he spent a day and then continued on to Berkeley, Calif., to assume his duties in the forestry department.

An open meeting will be sponsored by the Y. M. C. A. Thursday evening at 7:30 o'clock in recreation center. The program will consist of special music by K. H. and K. R. Speed, colored students from Helton, group singing led by B. A.

MISS MACHIR SPEAKS TO COSMOPOLITANS

Kansas State-K. U. Picnic Will Be Held October 22—Another Meeting Thursday

Miss Jessie McDowell Machir, counselor of the Cosmopolitan club, was a speaker at the meeting of the organization held Thursday in Anderson hall. Miss Machir explained the purpose of the club and what it expects of its members.

S. M. Ahi, Teheran, Persia, was also a speaker on the program. He described the general life and customs of his country, saying that the Moslem religion dominates Persia, as from 85 to 90 per cent of its inhabitants are of that faith.

The joint Kansas State-K. U. picnic will be held at St. Mary's municipal park on October 22. Two committees were appointed to take charge of the event. John Veatch, Ozark, Mo., and Lloyd McDaniels, Michigan Park, will have charge of the transportation, and Marion Stiles and Josephine Jelinek will be in charge of the food.

The Cosmopolitan club will meet Thursday evening at a dinner held in the Pines cafe, at 6:30 o'clock. A short business meeting will follow the dinner.

Ags Rebel Against Opening of Annual Barnwarmer Party

John Latta, President of the Agricultural Student Body, Calls Special Meeting for Today in Response to Dissension in Division—To Vote on Question

In response to the violent objection by many students in the agricultural division to the making of an open party of the Ag Barnwarmer next Friday night, John Latta, Holton, president of the agricultural association, has called a special division meeting to meet at 4 o'clock this afternoon in the west wing of Waters hall to discuss the matter.

THE AG BARNWARMER
The question as to whether or not students should be allowed to govern strictly-student affairs is discussed on the editorial page of today's Kansas State Collegian. The editorial explains the Collegian's stand in the Ag Barnwarmer controversy. The outcome of the action of the agricultural seminar this afternoon may establish a precedent for similar cases in the future.

YOUTH MOVEMENT LEADER STUDENT FORUM SPEAKER

Paul Harris, Jr., Will Also Talk Before College Classes and Y. M. C. A. Meeting

Paul Harris, Jr., Washington, D. C., director of the youth movement for world recovery, will speak before a noon forum group, Thursday, on the second floor of the cafeteria. The regional councils of the student Y. W. C. A. and Y. M. C. A. are sponsoring his appearance in Kansas and Nebraska colleges and universities.

His subject will be "What Chance for World Thinking Under Roosevelt," which will be an attempt to interpret the president's policies.

Mr. Harris' program during the day will be as follows: 9:00 o'clock—Modern Europe class, F58, "The German Situation." 10:00 o'clock—Economics class, H26, "Calamity of So Long a Life." This concerns economic developments and necessities of our country. 11:00 o'clock—American Government class, F55, "Present Policies of the American Government." These class discussions will be open to anyone who is able to attend.

Paul Harris, Jr. In the afternoon will address the Manhattan high school assembly in the senior high school auditorium. His subject will be "The Products of Peace Machinery." There will be two open meetings Thursday. The first meeting will be held at 4:00 o'clock in recreation center. His subject will be "The Brink of a Precipice." This applies to the disarmament problem which is most vital now because of the opening of the world disarmament conference in Geneva, Switzerland, yesterday.

A Y. M. C. A. meeting will be held at 7:30 o'clock in recreation center, and Mr. Harris will speak on "Europe Unvisited." The speaker said this was to be a light and humorous description of conditions abroad by one who has not seen them this year.

Mr. Harris has always been interested in young men and women and youth movements. After his studies in Kentucky State college and Vanderbilt university, he served on the national staff of the Boy Scouts of America, and engaged in the educational activities conducted by the Presbyterian church in the colleges of the south.

In 1927 he became a colleague of Frederick J. Libby, executive secretary of the national council for prevention of war. In this capacity he traveled extensively throughout the United States and became known to groups in many universities, colleges, and high schools.

In his travels abroad, and Mr. Harris has been in Europe twice in the past four years, he observed and studied many world situations. He made personal contacts with such men as Viscount Robert Cecil, Lord Astor, Dr. Albert Einstein, and M. K. Gandhi.

THE AG BARNWARMER

The controversy over the official action in making the Ag Barnwarmer an all-school party has more than passing significance. The really important question is not whether the party shall be opened or closed, but whether the Ag student-body has the right to decide whether the party shall be opened or closed. The implications of this question are obvious and far-reaching.

The Barnwarmer is strictly a student activity; students pay for it and do the work for it. And it has been, traditionally, strictly an Ag party. The opening of the party was a major change in policy and as such, according to the principles of democracy, should certainly have been voted upon by the Ag student-body as a whole. No committee of three students—dominated, as this year's Barnwarmer committee was, by a member of the faculty—has the right to effect such a change without taking into consideration the will of the group as a whole. And yet, at the divisional seminar last Thursday, no opportunity was given students to voice their opinions in this matter.

The event which gave rise to the official action this year was, of course, the unusually bloody battle which ensued last fall when a large group of roughnecks from various divisions attempted to break up the Ag party. We do not admit that such fights should be prevented—we assert that they should be. But we also assert that the protection of the Ag party should be the duty of the administration rather than of the Ags. We believe the Ags are justified in their contention that the opening of the Barnwarmer destroys all excuse for having such a party. Varsity dances are held every week-end downtown and in Aggieville; though some variety might be gained by having one in the gymnasium, the gain hardly seems worth the trouble.

It seems reasonable to suppose that if the administration made definite threat of disciplinary action for the instigators of any brawl at the Barnwarmer, no brawl would take place. One suggestion which has been made is that faculty representatives from the various divisions be present at the party. If this suggestion were carried out, students with any respect for their college careers would not make any such display of degenerate horse-play as was made last year. A few uniformed policemen around the doors of the gymnasium also would be very discouraging to a group of would-be "crashers."

The Collegian takes the stand that students—as long as they do not cast discredit upon the school—should be allowed to govern their own affairs without faculty interference. The purely educational value of student self-government is not easily overestimated.

WINNING AND LOSING

The report last Saturday from Columbia that several M. U. students destroyed their activity books after Kansas State succeeded in scoring a touchdown in the early part of the football game was a display of inferior school spirit on the part of the students.

If there is such a thing as school spirit during the football season in any school it is apparent that these M. U. students were lacking in the attitude that is necessary for any football team to go through the season with the complete backing of the school.

It is not probable that the students were representative of the university. Since only a few decided to throw away their season tickets, it is likely that the remainder of the student body in the school were more in sympathy with their football players even in defeat. The activity books are a monetary loss only to the students who decided suddenly that they wouldn't back the team further. But the action of these few rebellious students is a bad reflection upon the football spirit of the school.

SOME INTRINSIC THOUGHTS

Probably one of the most uncomforable things that can happen to a student in college is becoming discouraged with his school work, or even life itself. For many students, discouragement usually follows examinations, although a few students never were satisfied with the routine of school life.

R. C. Rohrdanz, a graduate of Kansas State in 1922, presented some sound reasoning in an article published in The Kansas Engineer in January 1931. The article entitled "Psychological Meanderings" follows:

What if the other fellow has ten dollars to your one? Should that make you go around looking as though you hadn't a friend in the world?

What if he has a thousand dollars to your one? Should that make you give up and say, "What's the use?" Less competition is what he needs to make another thousand.

What if the other fellow make A's while you finish with a C? Is that a reason for you to get sore at the professor? Did you ever stop to think what it takes to make an A?

What if the other fellow takes in a matinee while you put in a couple of hours working? Is that any reason for you to feel like a martyr. Edison started out by working, and he still works harder than you do in spite of his millions.

What if your room-mate likes to go to dances and bridge parties, while you would rather go to a boxing match or a he-man picture show? Is that any reason for you to think that there is something wrong with him? It takes all kinds of people to make a world, and this one is quite well represented.

About every so often you get out of humor and make life miserable for everyone around you. Is that sufficient reason to think that the world in general is plotting against you? Why not make a little self analysis and get the surprise of your life? Students who become discouraged, therefore, should remember that the best thing to do is to "stay in the game" and "fight to the bitter end." Winners do not always get the praise and credit they deserve, but they'll never be looked upon as losers who didn't try.

The Snooper

A few things that happened at the MU game. . . . Some Kappas called up their sisterhood representative in Columbia and asked if they might stay there Saturday night. The Missouri Kappas said that their house was full and "mighty sorry that they could not accommodate them"—Lucille Allman lost her $19.98 mink coat—D. J. J. Costa, the Sig Erper, viewed the game from the dizzy heights of a friendly elm.

The Engineers have finally broken down an old Ag tradition. The Ags decided to have their annual barnwarmer on the paying basis so they are letting everybody with the price go to their dance. The Ags are planning a big "get-together" to iron out their troubles. If they decide to have it strictly for Ags then the Engineers will have to (censored).

The girl who told the Chronicle that she didn't mind a little necking but hated the so-called wrestling is not a sorority girl—in fact she doesn't even go to school.

The freshmen are showing that they really want to do something after all. They plan to march to the pep meeting in a group by themselves and do other things that will make the upper classmen afraid of them. The Wampus Cats have been in training for a week. Jim North (of Sigma Nu and Military (?) fame) has been practicing hurdling so he can clear the south fence in one jump if the freshmen start over the stadium wall again.

Fraternalities are preparing for the homecoming rush next week by laying padding on stair steps, anchoring front doors, moving all loose furniture into out-of-the-way corners, and last but not least, they are planning to turn all freshmen over to the alumni for further use.

Badluck, The Freshman

Dear Folks:
I expect you've read in the noozepaper about how the aggies beat missouri in football last Saturday so I won't half to tell you much about the game except that it sure looks like the aggies are going to be the champions of the big 6 this year. I'll bet our high school team couldn't even beat these aggies this year even if I was playing left full back like I did last year.

Say pop I ask my agriculture teacher what to feed our old cow Rebecca in the winter time when she began to lose weight, and he said that the best thing for cows was plenty of good exercise and fresh air. So you'd better get our hired man to take Rebecca for a walk every day and see if she don't put on more weight. My agriculture book says that cows like Rebecca ought to have plenty of sleep too, so you'd better be sure that she ain't disturbed by no other animals on our farm.

Me and all the members of my 5-h club are still yearning our freshmen caps but I guess the seniors and wampus cats are still scared of us freshmen because they haven't been showing up for no fights lately. I guess when they heard that Badluck was in school, they thought they'd better be careful this year. I must not look much like a freshman anymore though, because a senior spoke to me on the campus the other day when I wasn't wearing no cap.

We are going to have another football game against a school in Nebraska next Saturday, and it is going to be homecoming day, but I don't know what they call it that for unless it be because everybody goes home after the game.

your son

BADLUCK.

ps—be sure to tell me if Rebecca gains any weight and don't forget to give her plenty of hlo.

HUSKERS AND SOONERS WIN GAMES SATURDAY

Nebraska Defeats Iowa State 20-0
And Oklahoma Scores Victory
Over Texas U., 9-0

Nebraska university opened its defense of its Big Six conference football title Saturday by overpowering a stubborn Iowa State eleven at Ames, 20-0. Though outgaining Iowa State by 367 yards from scrimmage to 24, and twenty first downs to one, the Huskers could score only one touchdown over the fighting Cyclones in the first three periods. However, Coach Bible sent in a fresh team the last quarter that pushed over two more markers against the tying Cyclones. George Sauer, Nebraska's triple-threat full-back, was the outstanding ball carrier on the field, although his team-mates, Masterson and Boswell, pressed him closely for ground gaining honors. Throughout the entire game Iowa State was on the defensive against the powerful Cornhusker running attack, with Allender, sophomore back, punting out of danger time after time, only to have Nebraska come charging back to threaten the Cyclone goal again.

The Oklahoma Sooners smashed out a 9-0 victory over Texas last week to break a 14-year losing streak at the hands of the Longhorns. Captain Bob Dunlap's educated toe and a strong Oklahoma line combined to keep Texas well back in its own territory most of the game, while a safety and a third-quarter touchdown by Dunlap provided the margin of victory for the Sooners. This game, together with Oklahoma's scoreless tie with Vanderbilt two weeks ago, stamps the Sooners as a team to be reckoned with in the Big Six race this fall, as well as Nebraska and Kansas university.

With most of the Kansas regulars on the sidelines, a reserve varsity team beat the K. U. freshmen 20-7 Saturday, indicating that the Jayhawkers will have a good deal of reserve strength to call upon this year if necessary. As the Tulsa university team, which plays Kansas this week, was in the stands following their Friday night victory over Washburn college, Coach Ad Lindsey of the Jayhawks carefully refrained from using any plays which might aid the Tulsans in their preparation for Saturday's game. Harris, Brinkman, and Bloomfield stood out in the backfield for the varsity reserves, while the second string line functioned well as a unit.

NEW SCHEDULE IN ART SHOW CALENDAR

Work of Charles Marshall, Graduate of Kansas State College, Will Be Shown.
Two changes have been made in the calendar of exhibitions to be shown in the gallery of the department of architecture this year.

A new exhibition, that of linoleum blocks by Charles Marshall, has been arranged for and will be shown early in the new year, possibly January, according to Prof. John F. Helm, Jr., of the architecture department. Marshall is a graduate of Kansas State college, and has spent the last two years in the east, where he worked on state and federal projects.

The exhibition by Margaret Sandzen of Lindsborg, which was scheduled tentatively for Oct. 23 to Nov. 6, has been postponed until spring, when her work comes from Paris. Miss Sandzen, who spent last year studying in Paris, will have an exhibition of prints and portraits done in oil.

Five canvases by Ed Davison of Wichita, and a number of sculptures by Bruce Moore, also of Wichita, will form part of the exhibition of work by the two Wichita artists which will be shown in the gallery of the department of architecture November 11 to 25.

The Women's Pan-Hellenic scholarship trophy, which stands in recreation center, will be included in the exhibition of Moore's work, and the remainder of Davison's oil will be shipped in later.

"The Vase," the oil painting by the late Francis C. Jones, which now hangs in the library, will also be shown in the exhibition.

Many of the students have returned from the M. U. game which is a big help to the professors. From all reports everyone had a very hilarious time—even the Betas! Don "Lily" Hutchinson decided that Missouri was very dull, and went around saying "Boo" every three minutes "just to pep up the party."

Lucine Hudson, one of the K. K. O. girls, is reported to have had some fun, although at various intervals she had a strange interlude. . . . R. L. Parker pulled a fast one on the Missouri authorities and saw the game on a press pass—the only press he has ever seen in his trousers. . . .

Dan Partner is looking very melancholy these days, once again the famous Partner technique has gone on the rocks. Question: Is the "Home and Fireside club" to be organized again this year? . . . Because Steve Vesceky is now an alumni the Chi Omegas have no one to pass out the candy and mints this year. As a result, they have taken to calling the fraternities to ask for their loyal support in the coming Barnwarmer election. . . . The distressed looks on many of the "Beau Brummels" of this college is due to the fact that it was recently discovered that Gladys Niles has a boyfriend in With the Cornjigger. Homecoming, and a prospective Beauvais party in sight, perhaps life will cease to be a trial to rising young journalists! . . .

FRESHMEN ENGINEERS TO CLEAN KS LETTERS

Annual Pilgrimage to Prospect Hill Will Be Held Thursday Afternoon

A general whitewashing party will take place on Prospect Hill next Thursday afternoon when freshmen students in the engineering division clean and paint the letters "KS" on the slope east of Manhattan.

This will be the twelfth pilgrimage to the hill since the time the concrete "K" was first constructed in 1921. The large "S" was built several years ago.

According to plans announced yesterday by members of the engineering council all freshmen enrolled in the engineering division will clean the letters during the regular seminar period next Thursday. The letters will be cleaned and whitewashed, shrubbery cleared away, and other necessary repair work will be performed by the engineers.

Vorras A. Elliott, McPherson, is chairman of the committee in charge of the cleaning. Other members of the committee are Dean Swift, Olathe; John Veatch, Ozark, Mo.; and Roy D. Crist, Brewster.

Pep Rally Tonight First Homecoming And Holiday Event

Free Show Follows Meeting; Speakers Will Create Spirit and Football Men To Be Introduced; Freshmen To Attend in One Body

The biggest football party of the year will be held tonight at the college auditorium, when Kansas State students and faculty members gather for a pep rally willed with new bells, college songs, speeches, and ending finally with a free picture show and varsity dance.

The pep meeting will be featured by a 100 per cent representation of all fraternities and sororities of Kansas State college, as well as a large representation of the freshman class, who plan to meet at the south door of Anderson hall at 7:15 o'clock, and march directly to the meeting in a body, where they will occupy the center section of the auditorium.

The fact that there will be no classes Saturday will add largely to the genuine interest in the pep meeting, which is expected to be the outstanding rally of this kind this year. And there are rumors among the members of the student body that there'll be no school Monday—should Kansas State win the game against Nebraska tomorrow.

Bill Guerrant, who usually removes his coat during his speeches at pep meetings, will headline the list of speakers at the pep rally tonight. Other speakers include Dr. H. H. King, department of chemistry, and Head Coach Bo McMillin. All talks will be short.

Pee Wee Brewster and his band will furnish the music at the meeting, and a special arrangement of new songs and music will be presented to the audience carrying out the spirit of the game tomorrow. The band will play from the stage of the auditorium, where members of the football squad will also be introduced to those who attend the meeting.

Immediately after the pep meeting tonight, all cheer leaders will direct a parade to Aggieville, where yells will be given, followed by the free show, and the varsity dance. The free show will be given at the Varsity theatre, and will begin promptly at 10:30 o'clock. Pee Wee Brewster and his orchestra will play at the Wareham ballroom tonight following the pep meeting in a pre-game varsity.

While it was planned to have a parade tomorrow morning, no general plans have been announced. Definite plans for the parade tomorrow morning will probably be announced at the pep meeting tonight. The rally tonight will begin at 7:30 o'clock.

INTER-SOCIETY DIME DANCE

The second of a series of dime dances sponsored by the intersociety council is scheduled for Saturday night in recreation center, from 8:30 to 11:30 o'clock. The music will be in charge of Ray Gremi, will be electrically reproduced of the latest popular dance tunes.

The dances, which originated last year are open to everyone, and have proven extremely popular with the student body. The dime admission charge is used to defray the expense of the music. Any receipts above actual expenses are used in promoting the Inter-Society Oratorical contest, later in the year.

Officers of the Inter-Society Council who will have charge of the dance, are Paul Vautraviers, Centralia, president; Glenn Young, Kansas City, secretary; and Marie Davis, Nebraska City, Neb., treasurer.

RADIO ADDRESS TODAY

Addresses by Gov. Alf M. Landon, Pres. F. D. Farrell, and Dean L. E. Call of the agriculture division will be broadcast over radio station KSAC from the auditorium from 10 until 12 o'clock this morning. President Farrell's address will be on "Public Sentiment and the Land."

The addresses are part of the Land Utilization Conference program which is being held at the college today and tomorrow.

The conference is being held to consider the problems of changes in the use of Kansas land as a result of the Agricultural Adjustment program.

Wildcats to Clash With Cornhuskers For Big Six Lead

Both Teams Undeclared This Season—Bo McMillin Holds Workouts Behind Locked Doors—New Variation of Plays Are Developed

Two undefeated elevenes will clash in Memorial stadium tomorrow afternoon when the Kansas State Wildcats and the Nebraska Cornhuskers vie for the Big Six supremacy as a feature of the big homecoming celebration.

The Wildcats have chalked up victories against the Emporia Teachers, St. Louis University, and Missouri University. The Cornhuskers have overwhelmingly defeated Texas University and Iowa State. In conference standings the two elevenes are tied for first place with one victory each. Scoring data on these games should make the afternoon tomorrow a toss-up, but the experience historical background install the Huskers as pre-game favorites. In a game such as this one, dope must take its place in the background and the game must be decided on the playing field. It is even possible that the winner of this game may cop the conference grid championship.

Homecoming In 1921 Included Addresses And Big Dedication

Many returning alumni will remember "way back in 1921" when homecoming activities consisted mainly of addresses and the important event of the day—the dedication of the engineering building.

On Homecoming Day in 1921 the engineers had their big parade at 6:30 o'clock, and there was a brilliant display of electric and pyrotechnic effects. The parade was finished in time for everyone to attend the pep meeting in the auditorium. Later the crowd walked to the gymnasium for the annual mixer for students and alumni. Many people attended class reunions in the society halls, while others attended other social events that evening.

On the next day the dedication ceremonies proper for the new engineering hall were staged, and in the afternoon the Kansas State-Oklahoma football game attracted the homecoming guests and students of the college. In the evening, the journalism organizations of the college entertained the Topeka Press club, guests and other newspaper men of the state.

HARGER A FORUM SPEAKER

Optimism Expressed by Newspaper Man Who Believes Papers Better Optimism was the key note of the speech by Charles Harger, well-known journalist who spoke at student forum Wednesday noon. Mr. Harger is editor of the Abilene Reporter and chairman of the board of regents.

Forty-five years of newspaper experience has given Mr. Harger what he terms a "ring-side" seat on the show of "life" and after years of observation he still persists in optimism.

"Business life and political life are better than years ago," Mr. Harger stated. "True, we have crime, corruption, and scandal. But it was immeasurably worse years ago. An attempt, at least, is being made to punish crime. Formerly crime went unpunished and there are numerous examples."

"Newspapers are better today. Formerly, papers took 'sides' in the community scraps. Papers today make an effort to give both sides of a question and have grown better in many ways."

Don't let the flunk slips worry you too much. Dr. Albert Einstein once flunked a course in mathematics.

JUNE LAYTON RETURNS Old Grads called it Johnnie's. Younger alumni call it "Harrison's."

But K Aggie students will invite their Saturday night dates to go to the "Avalon" for the homecoming Varsity and dance to the galaxy of stars under the direction of none other than JUNE LAYTON.

For June is back—with a big new band—and this time back to the AVALON, the dance floor whose former popularity with Kansas State students is fast returning.

And the crowds that attended the AVALON to dance to Harriet Calloway and Carlton Cooon made it possible for the AVALON to continue its New Deal to Kansas State: Better Bands at 75c.

Layton's new personnel featured on the program tomorrow night includes several widely known men in the band world:

From Bobby Meeker and Frank Trumbauer comes HAROLD JONES.

From Ray Miller's band, ARBOR FULLER.

From "Goof Moyer's, HALLZE COOPER.

Celebrate the Aggies' victory with the crowds at the AVALON.—Adv.

DON'T CRASH AG

BARNWARMER

Three uninvited students were taken to the hospital after attempting to crash the Ag Barnwarmer last fall; one person was killed in an inter-divisional fight that occurred at the University of Missouri less than a year ago and still there may be some who think it would be smart to try and crash the Barnwarmer tonight.

An attempted crash would be childish and the aggressors, those who try to get in, will be creating a situation that will more than likely result in serious injury to someone, not only to the ones actively engaged but to women and others who are there as guests.

In view of these facts the Student Council will take definite disciplinary action against offenders.

Luncheons, Open Houses, Varsity and Bands Will Be Featured on Day's Program—Special Nebraska Train Will Arrive Tomorrow Morning

Luncheons, Greek-letter house parties, special varsity dances, and informal alumni meetings will feature the annual Homecoming activities at Kansas State college tomorrow.

The main feature of the day, of course, is the football game between Kansas State and the University of Nebraska—two undefeated teams. The Nebraska team will arrive on a special train sometime tomorrow morning accompanied by a large Cornhusker band, freshman football teams, and hundreds of team followers. Both the governor of Kansas and the governor of Nebraska are expected to attend the game as is Chancellor Burnett of the University of Nebraska.

Homecoming day will find the Wampus Cats, Aggie pep organization, active in providing color at the game. A special cheering section composed of ten representatives from each fraternity house will form the nucleus of the Kansas State team support. The individuals composing this cheering section, incidentally, will be armed with paddles to keep unruly freshmen in order.

The Purple Pepsters, women's pep organization, will meet the Nebraska train tomorrow to greet the Tassels, the N. U. women's pep organization, and take them to the game.

HARRIS A SPEAKER IN CAMPUS TALKS

Director of Youth Movement Discusses World Thinking at Student Forum Yesterday

"World Thinking" was the theme of a series of addresses by Paul Harris, Jr., to townspeople and students on the campus yesterday.

Mr. Harris, who is director of the youth movement for world recovery and on the national committee for the prevention of war, addressed several college classes during the morning and spoke to three large audiences during the afternoon and evening.

At the noon forum in the cafeteria, Mr. Harris spoke on "World Thinking Under Roosevelt" in which he stated that war can't be stopped by pink teas and Chinese parties. It takes sentiments plus knowledge plus shrewdness plus bull-dogged determination. War must be kept at bay until the populations of the world become habituated to the use of other methods for the solution of their problem.

One encouraging thing is the "non-aggression" treaties which certain groups of countries in Europe and in South America are signing. In these treaties, aggression, which is one of the causes of war, is defined. The adoption of this definition by so many countries is a clear gain.

"The Brink of a Precipice" or disarmament and Germany was the subject of the talk given by Mr. Harris at 4 o'clock in recreation center yesterday afternoon, and "Europe Unvisited" the subject of a humorous talk given at a Y. M. C. A. open meeting last evening.

IF YOU CAN'T SPELL DON'T LOSE COURAGE

Some Simple Words Are Most Commonly Misspelled by Students

Spelling may or may not be an important factor in the education of modern college students, but orthography nevertheless has its place in the classroom. A list of words commonly misspelled by students in the first courses in entomology, which show something of the poor spelling ability of many college students, has been compiled by Dr. Roger C. Smith, department of entomology.

The word entomology has been written the following ways by students enrolled in the classes: antomology, entimology, and etimology. And beetles has been spelled three different ways: beetles, beattles, and beates.

Following are some of the other common words which have been misspelled by students: egg, eeg; biting, blitting; bitene; cocoon, cucon, cocoon; poison; polsen; attacked, attact; parents, parence; rats, rates; caterpillar, catterpillar; jelly, gelly; fowl, foul; chinch bug; many, manny; mosquito, mosquitee; house, houce; no, now; rapid, rappid; striped, stripped; middle, midde; and borer, bore.

New York university students have formed their own "Curb Exchange." On sidewalks and streets during the first few days of class work this fall they gathered to sell and trade books and other equipment. Their cries and activity finally caused university authorities to assign guards to the crowd with orders to keep it moving.

Barnyard Tuxedos Official Apparel At Ag Barnwarmer

Aggs Vote at Special Meeting To Have Attendance at Tonight's Party Limited to Aggs and Vets—Queen Will Reign

Overalls are in order on the north end of the campus today and a horse-fank full of very damp water awaits those misguided Aggs who believe they have the right to choose their own wearing apparel. Yesterday both football and track stars were plunged into the icy depths of the portable swimming pool. There is no doubt that all the more intelligent students in the division will be wearing "barnyard tuxedos" today.

K-STATE ELEVEN FACES POWERFUL TEAM IN N. U.

Huskers Have Held Opponents to Four First Downs While Scoring 46 Points

Matched against a team that has scored 46 points to its opponents none and held its opposition to four first downs in two games this season, the Kansas State Wildcats will face a powerful team when they meet Nebraska.

A comparison in scoring shows that Kansas State has scored 78 points to its opponents' 14 in three games, or an average of 26 points per game to 23 for Nebraska. No true estimate of offensive power has been shown by either team, as in neither of the two games this year have the Cornhuskers had to open up on their offensive power, and in the Wildcat encounters with the Emporia Teachers and the Missouri Tigers, substitutions were made freely as no real offensive power was needed.

Against the McMillin team, Nebraska will pit an experienced line, a forward wall which held Texas U. and Iowa State to a total of four first downs, and a set of veteran backs in Sauer, Masterson, Boswell and Miller, plus a string of replacements whose performances in the two games this year give assurance that the Cornhuskers are well fixed in reserve power.

Kansas State will start the game with five of the seven linemen who started against Nebraska a year ago not on the squad. In their places will be men with determination and fight that may trouble Nebraska as much as the regulars did last year. In the backfield will be Captain Graham, Russell, and Stoner who are all capable of smashing the line and skirting around ends, while quarterback Morgan will be the main cog in the aerial attack.

Whenever sports writers get together to discuss great football games of the past, they almost invariably mention, sooner or later, the Illinois-Michigan game of the year that "Red" Grange dedicated the new Illinois stadium. That was the game in which the great Grange ran four touchdowns through a strong Michigan team in ten playing minutes—probably the greatest one-man feat ever accomplished on the gridiron.

DECORATION PRIZES

Prizes have been offered by the Varsity theatre for the fraternity house with the best homecoming decoration tomorrow. A six months' pass to the housemother of the winning fraternity, and one pass to each member of the fraternity has been offered by the theatre. The committee of judges will view the decorations at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning. Winners will be announced at the Owl show Saturday night.

luncheon at the Methodist church. The hundreds of alumni who will return to their alma mater tomorrow will find the college ready to welcome them with an alumni luncheon at the college cafeteria at noon. E. A. Allen of the class of '87, president of the alumni association, will preside at the luncheon which will serve as an informal alumni "get together" party.

As usual, the Kansas State college band will be much in evidence at the game. This year, the band has five drum majors, a head drum major and four others. The head drum major is Dale Gentry, Garden City. His assistants are F. M. Coleman, Sylvia; J. R. Ketchersid; Hope; B. D. Baker, Chanute; and Stanley Roberts, Chanute.

No competition in fraternity house decoration will be held this year, it was announced following a meeting of the senior men's pan-hellenic council this week. The discontinuance of the competitive decoration is due to limited finances in the various houses. If fraternities desire to decorate they may do so but no prizes will be offered.

DELAFF HEADS ASSOCIATION

Marvin DeLapp, Cherokee, is president of the Kansas State Aeronautics association for the coming year. Other officers who were elected to serve with him at a meeting of the association held Tuesday evening include Eric Matchette, Kansas City, Mo., vice-president; C. D. Thompson, Cheney, secretary-treasurer; D. I. Gillidette, Plains, flight committee chairman; I. R. Nelson, Manhattan, construction committee chairman.

Three members of each committee will be chosen later. Prof. C. E. Pearce, the faculty advisor, gave the first of a series of talks on aeronautics at the meeting.

Special courses and lectures on the methods and objectives of the "New Deal" will be given in the Graduate School of Business Administration of New York university during the current year. It was announced this week by A. Wellington Taylor, dean of the school. He said that the "objectives and principles behind the 'New Deal' will be subjected to searching analysis and criticism."

A SINCERE WELCOME

Tomorrow is Homecoming Day. Once again the alumni of Kansas State college will return to their Alma Mater and Manhattan to live again those collegiate days which now have become a memory. Nebraska university students also will be guests of Manhattan and the college during the day. To the returning graduates, students of Nebraska university, and friends of the college, The Kansas State Collegian, on behalf of the college, extends a sincere welcome.

The alumni of Kansas State college will find the same school spirit and democratic attitude among students on the campus as was present when they attended school in years gone by. So, too, Kansas State students will display a spirit of hospitality to those university students who attend the game tomorrow, visit the college, and enjoy the social life in Manhattan. Students of this college are proud to entertain students from other schools and make them feel at home during their stay.

After Homecoming activities have closed tomorrow, the welcome should be extended again to alumni and visiting students. A promise to come again next year will justify the belief that the Homecoming Day this year has not been in vain.

Nearly everyone expects a pitched battle between freshman and upper-classmen at the Homecoming game tomorrow. The freshmen are expecting it and planning for it, and the Wampus Cats are expecting it and planning for it. No doubt many students find the prospect of an old-time class fight a pleasurable one. There is a certain glory in these most direct of competitions; they contribute something of romanticism to an age that is altogether too matter-of-fact.

But there must be no class fight at the game tomorrow. Tomorrow is Homecoming day and some hundreds of alumni as well as the governor of Kansas and the governor of Nebraska will be in the stands. They have come to see a football game and will most certainly consider a class fight not only irrelevant but in very bad taste. The employment of such struggles to show "school spirit" reveals a deplorable lack of ingenuity.

The responsibility for the present cheerfully rebellious attitude of the freshmen rests largely with the Wampus Cats. For some years, the Wampus Cats' claims to the title "pep organization" have been extremely slender, and the antics of the group at the Emporia game seemed to most spectators to justify the freshmen's attitude.

Tomorrow the Wampus Cats will have a grand opportunity to restore themselves to the good graces of the student-body. They are planning to build up a special cheering section such as most other schools have. We back them in that. And why not put on a good stunt between halves? If these pepsters would devote as much energy to developing "pep" among themselves as they do in an effort to develop it in other people, they would be enormously successful.

And we repeat—there must be no class fight tomorrow. Some other time, perhaps, but not tomorrow.

THE GOOD OLD DAYS

When Brother Bill rings the door bell of the old fraternity house tomorrow morning, there's going to be plenty of handshaking. For Brother Bill has returned for Homecoming, and he'll camp at the old fraternity house for a day, to see if things are going all right for the chapter, and meet a few of the pledges, who have surely heard of him by this time.

For Bill is a past president of the old fraternity. His picture hangs in the chapter room among those of other alumni—just where he left it when he graduated twelve years ago. Football was Bill's middle name, and the chapter was plenty proud to call Bill a member of the fraternity. You see, it was good advertising. Everybody wanted to be in the same fraternity with Bill. And making grades was just like eating pie for Brother Bill. Bill, in fact, was a "big shot" on the campus in 1921.

So Bill has returned for Homecoming. The morning passes while a group of pledges and other members of Bill's fraternity listen to Bill's stories about the good old days of Kansas State college. Class fights, bloody initiations, bitter student elections, football games when men were men, and varsity dances. And just before lunch Bill sighs heavily, and wishes he were a freshman again so he could live once more those four years of college.

man again so he could live once more those four years of college.

During lunch Bill joins in on the sweetheart and 'fraternity songs. He thinks of the good old days, and wonders if the returning brothers sitting across the table have the same feeling as he does on Homecoming Day.

In the afternoon Bill goes to the football game with the brothers at the house. He sits in the student section of the stadium and yells just as loud, maybe louder, than some of the students. He gets excited. Yes, he still has the same old collegiate spirit. There are crowds. Band music. Pep leaders. Purple-capped freshmen. Kids selling peanuts and popcorn. Everybody laughing or yelling. The football game is a thrill. Bill doesn't wish now for the good old days. These are the good old days.

So after the game, Brother Bill goes to the house again and the brothers urge him into a discussion of the tussle. "Sure, it was a good game," Bill says. "Something like the good old days."

THE SWEETHEART'S RETURN

Turn your sorority house over to those girls who wore the pin before you! They are back for home-coming and it is their day. They don't give a darn whether you know who they are or not. But if you'd inquire, probably she was Kansas State's sweetheart or maybe a beauty queen in her day.

But she married the "most popular boy on the campus"—and here she is. There will be plenty back who remember when she and "what was his name" were chosen the most popular couple on the campus. Or when she was dating the captain of the football team steady—and was she the belle of the campus?

She's getting a lot of kick out of shaking hands with the wife of her former sweetheart. And aren't those darling children? Maybe at the varsity she'll have a sigh of relief because she didn't marry the "prize dancer" for here he is weighing over 250 and stomping on everybody's feet. We'll all be back some day—so don't stand around now and laugh too much at their good times!

The Snooper

Among some of those who are planning to be here for Homecoming is "Scrooge" Martin. Most people do not know Scrooge, but some of the old settlers and those who have followed court records for the past decade herald the "Return of the Native." Martin, in advanced notices has stated that he will preach from the Bell and Lutz Tabernacle between 6 and 7 sometime this week-end.

It must have been embarrassing to Dean Grifing and Dean McNeal to be thrown into the water tank by the Ags. The Ags require themselves to wear overalls (Back to the Farm Movement) for two or three days before the Ag Barnwamer. These two man-mountains decided that since they were football players that they would escape unscathed, but apparently some of the Ag freshmen didn't know about this. Along this same line about apparel Prof. C. E. Rogers says "In the interests of aesthetics (page 37 of Webster's New International) the Ags should change their custom of wearing overalls."

The Sword and Knife club has been having its annual initiation. With Charlie Team, the Beta of the crowd, this group of prospective generals have been doing things of ill repute for the past two or three days. A conclusion to the whole affair comes Saturday night when a camp is held several miles out of town.

The freshmen at the fraternity houses will spend a few sleepless nights this week-end on kitchen tables behind furnaces, divans, bureaus, and so forth—just so the old grads can sleep in comfort.

Varsity dance competition is going full sway—especially when certain dance promoters tear down the dance advertisements of their competitors.

Badluck, The Freshman

Dear ma and pa:

All of us freshmen are going to go to the football pep meeting tonight and really show those seniors that we can yell, because we are going to play nebraska tomorrow and it will sure take a lot of yelling to beat those fellers. They are about the toughest school in the big 6 to beat, but I guess they play football in a cornfield up in nebraska, because I heard that they called themselves the cornhuskers.

I have sure been learning a lot of new things this week. For instance last Wednesday morning I was just walking to school carrying my books and wearing my freshman cap when a bunch of seniors told me to sound off, and when I asked them what they meant they said I ought to know by this time so I got a lot of good whacks for not knowing.

So when school was out that night I just started yelling beet nebraska as loud as I could yell and those seniors didn't half to say sound off cause I knew by this time what they meant. I've yelled beet nebraska so much all ready that the aggies will be ashamed of themselves if they don't get more touchdowns than those corn husker fellers.

Anyway I guess if we beet nebraska as bad as we did missouri last Saturday, there won't be much use of the other schools trying to whip us, because we'll just about be the champion school. I am going to the game about 1 o'clock tomorrow afternoon so I can tell everybody to get some cotton for their ears so it won't be so noisy when us freshmen start yelling.

your son

Badluck.

p. s. all of us ags is going to have a party tonight called a barnwamer. we are going to make a barn out of Nichols gymnasium.

COLOR IS IMPORTANT

Miss Dorothy Barfoot, Art Department, a Radio Speaker Wednesday

"Color and Its Possibilities" was the subject of a radio talk Wednesday morning by Miss Dorothy Barfoot, head of the art department. "Unless we learn to use color properly," she said, "it is often very ugly. As an example, the eel gray which is so popular this fall can be worn only by the cool type of person. This type shows a cool fair skin with blue-black hair and blue eyes. This does not mean however that everyone of this type can wear eel gray as there are so many colors of eel gray—some have a decided brown tinge, others a purple blue cast."

Texture has an important effect on color, Miss Barfoot said. A certain hue in a soft texture, such as pile velvet or georgette, is easier to wear than the same hue in the brilliant hardness of satin or panne velvet.

The bright reflections of satin accentuates every curve of the figure and therefore appear to add to its size.

Texture contrasts add interest to costumes, added Miss Barfoot. Rough woolsens and velvet, a new combination of materials, is very effective. Some new silks have very unusual and interesting weaves which add to the softness of the color of the material.

LAND MEETING TODAY

President Farrell Will Preside At Opening of Conference This Morning

President F. D. Farrell will preside at the Land Utilization conference which opens this morning and which will be attended by economists, farmers, and bankers of Kansas, today and Saturday.

At 10 o'clock this morning President Farrell will speak on "Public Sentiment and the Land." At 10:30 o'clock Gov. Alf M. Landon will give an address. At 11:15 o'clock Dean L. E. Call, division of agriculture, will discuss the "History of Land Utilization in Kansas."

The program this afternoon will be: "The Need For An Inventory of Land Resources," Prof. R. I. Throckmorton, head of the department of agronomy; "Economic Factors Affecting the Land Resources of Kansas," Dr. W. E. Grimes, head of the agricultural economics department; and "Credit in Relation to Land Utilization," Prof. Harold Howe, department of agricultural economics.

A banquet will be given this evening at the Wareham Hotel with C. C. Cogswell, master, Kansas State Grange, as toastmaster.

Saturday morning's program will consist of the following addresses: "Erosion Control in Relation to Land Utilization," F. L. Duley, professor of soils; "Pasture Conservation in Relation to Land Utilization," A. E. Aldous, professor of pasture improvement; "Utilization of Water Resources of Kansas," George Knapp, state board of agriculture; "Landlord-Tenant Relations and Their Effect on Land Utilization," Prof. R. M. Green of the agricultural economics department; and "A Program for Further Work on Land Utilization," President Farrell. The meeting ends tomorrow afternoon with the Homecoming football game at 2 o'clock.

AT THE VARSITY

The human side of the war is shown in this picture of Richard Dix's at the Varsity. Dix is first shown as a man who does not believe in the wholesale butcher of his fellowmen, but because his girl calls him yellow he enters the war. War naturally brings many changes in men. This exposes the changes that are apparent in Richard Dix as he goes from a pacifist to the terror of the skies, shooting down more Germans than any other Allied.

Finally he is shot down, but recovers to marry his former fiancée. This is a fine show for fans who like to see a lot of action, the dog-fighting is very realistic and there is plenty of it J. L.

Rum and Science Mix in This Tale Of Jolly Genius

England is noted for its rum—rum jokes, rum people, and rum weather. England is noted also for its scientists—Chadwick, Milliken, and others. Doubtless you fail to see the connection. It is both vague and hazy—but so was the scientist.

This certain chemically minded Britisher had a certain remarkably arid capacity, and a certain undeniable yen for rum. Firmly planted one bitter evening in a friendly pub just off Piccadilly sat Kekule.

deep in his cups. A bit bored with the academic side of life he sought solace in a solution a trifle more saturated—he found it. Life was good, his friends were good, the rum was good—he had more, he had too much. But he was pondering, as was the entire scientific world. How could a molecule of carbon split itself into six parts? It did, but how, and into what shape? He meditated, chewed his pipe stem, pondered and dozed.

Things burred, they made wry faces, and they crawled. Came the proverbial snakes and whurples; black ones, green-eyed, with white stripes from head to tail. The one slinking over the 4th fascinated him. Its spots changed color every two minutes, he timed them. It weaved into triangles and into triads, it swallowed its tail. Kekule stared, he sobered, a perfect hexagon. Why that was it! Six little carbon atoms blinked at him, one from each contorted corner of the reptile. The entire scientific world stumped, yet for a snake it had been simple.

He was elated, he hugged the barmaid and kissed the coach-boy, told all his friends and those who weren't, almost wrote a book but better judgment prevailed.

So sentimental scientists today when splitting that chronic element "C" think often and fondly of good old genial Kekule who saw snakes, whurples, and atoms and put rum definitely on a scientific basis.

Homecoming is here, and so are the celebrations! However the Sig Alpha have the jump on the other fraternities for early celebrations—they started Wednesday night! . . . A new organization has recently appeared on the hill; of course, it is not recognized in the Dean's office. The name of this righteous order is the Wooster's Club with Art Tellajohn as president. Tellajohn announces that it is to be a pan-hellenic organization, and helpful hints are given at each meeting. Prominent members are: Ralph Exline, the Tri Delta alarm clock, Ed Murphy, that prize Beta, and many others. Don Porter has been denied membership because of his professional standing. . . . Spencer Wyatt has announced that he intends never to return home again because five girls refused to break dates for him on his last trip. Will this be harder on the home town girls, or Kansas State coeds? . . . Freshmen are resenting the fact that they are being paddled by freshman Wampus Cats! . . . Don Imason, the ten-minute bad boy, has his homecoming imbibing down to a fine point. The system consists of having a rubber tube lead from an inner sanctum down his overcoat. . . .

HIGH SCORERS INTO ACTION

Wildcat-Husker Game Will Find Graham, Russell, Masterson, and Sauer Fighting For Honors

The outstanding scorers of the Big Six will be in action tomorrow afternoon when the Wildcats meet the Huskers.

Capt. Ralph Graham of Kansas State is far in the lead for scoring honors, with five touchdowns in non-conference games, and two scores in the Missouri game, for a total of 42 points.

Russell, Bushby, and Stoner of the Wildcats have scored one touchdown each in conference competition, and Masterson, Yelkina, and Skewes of the Huskers have done likewise. These are the only ones who have scored six points or more in Big Six play.

Missing from this list, but who will give the Wildcat linemen plenty to do in the battle tomorrow, is George Sauer, powerful line-plunging fullback of the Cornhuskers. He has scored two touchdowns against non-conference opponents.

WILDCATS TO CLASH WITH CORNHUSKERS

(Continued from page one) that it will take all possible strategy to win this game. On defensive work the freshmen and B squads have been running Nebraska plays against the Wildcat varsity.

Coach McMillin has been doing some changing around in his lineups this week. One lineup finds Griffing at center, Fientrope and Hanson, guards; Maddox and Wertzberger, tackles; Morgan and Blain, ends; and Graham, Bushby, Stoner, and Russell in the backfield. The one that has been starting most of the games, and will probably be on the field at the start of this one, has Harter at center, Hanson and Forbes, guards; Wertzberger and Maddox, tackles; Blain and Griffing, ends; Morgan, quarterback; Stoner, left half; Bushby, right half; and Graham, fullback.

If the last lineup named starts the game, the Wildcats will have a weight advantage over the Cornhuskers. This team averages 190 pounds, while the Husker starting lineup averages 184 pounds. If the other lineup is started, it will be 30 pounds lighter.

Both squads will be practically at full strength for the game. Abbott of the Wildcats is handicapped by injuries.

The new electric timing clock authorized by the conference athletic directors to eliminate one of officials will be used for the first time at this game. The clock will be run from the sidelines.

Ticket sales for the game have been rather brisk, as the rivalry of the two teams and their records so far warrant a hard, fast, and close game. A block of 1,000 tickets have been sent to Lincoln, and they are reported to be almost sold. Two special trains will bring Cornhusker rooters to Manhattan.

Women's Sports

Golf

The six intramural golf entrants have been placed in two flights. The first flight of eighteen holes will be played between Erma Schedemann, Alpha 1/2 Delta, and Kathryn Black, Kappa Kappa Gamma. The second flight will be played in two matches of nine holes each. Lois Rosencrans, Alpha Delta Pi will play against Jane Stone, Kappa Kappa Gamma, and Dorothy Rosencrans, Alpha Delta Pi, will play against Marian Waite, Kappa Kappa Gamma.

Winners of the two flights will play a handicap match to decide the championship. The first match is to be played by October 24, and the tournament is to be finished by November 11.

Horseback Riding

Group winners from the preliminary riding intramurals Tuesday afternoon were Clara Bess Garrison, Van Zile Hall, and Evelyn Osborne, Chi Omega. Entrants were required to ride one horse at three different gaits, and to show form in mounting and dismounting.

Finals were held Thursday afternoon, but the winner has not yet been agreed upon.

Tennis

Marie Appel, Neophyte, was defeated by Eva Brownell, Van Zile Hall, yesterday afternoon. Miss Brownell has now only to win her match Saturday morning from Elsie Mae Musgrave, Delta Delta Delta, for a semi-final position.

Archery

Glass mugs have been introduced into two archery classes as a means of keeping a record of high scores. The required archery class has chosen William Tell as its name, and the archery technique class has selected Robin Hood. The names are pasted on the glasses and their scores are posted on them. The cups will be given to the two girls with the highest scores at the end of the season. Practice consists of shooting 24 arrows every day from 50, 40, and 30 yard distances.

N. U. HOLDS ENVIABLE RECORD OVER K-STATE

Kansas State Wildcats Have Beaten And Tied Nebraska Only Once In Seventeen Games

With a record of 15 victories against one defeat and one tie in all the games played between Kansas State and Nebraska, the Cornhuskers have rolled up an impressive record. Tomorrow afternoon the Wildcats will attempt to put another blemish upon this enviable record.

Wildcat Captain

It was in 1925 that Kansas State was able to hold the strong Nebraska to a 0-0 tie. With the coming of Coach Bo McMillin to Kansas State, Wildcat-Husker battles have become much more even.

In 1930, the Wildcats broke the victory string of the Huskers and eked out a 10-9 victory. This was a thrilling battle in which Hi-Henry Cronkite, all-American, snagged one of Ray McMillin's passes and dashed to the Nebraska goal line for the winning touchdown.

Again in 1931 the Wildcats seemed heading for certain victory when little Substitute Brown caught one of Elden Auker's punts and ran 70 yards through the entire Kansas State team for a score on a muddy field, the score that won the game.

All-time scores show that Nebraska has rolled up 343 points to Kansas State's 43. Since Coach McMillin came here, however, the Huskers have made only 40 points to the Wildcat's 18.

Warning that passing against Nebraska was dangerous business was served when the Huskers defeated the Kansas Jayhawks, 20-6, at Lawrence last season and intercepted six Jayhawk aerials during the game which led directly or indirectly to touchdowns.

Scarlet Fever Was Cause of Opening College Hospital

An epidemic of scarlet fever among the college students 'way back in 1916 brought into being the college hospital, and started that train of developments which have led to the remodeling and equipment of the present institution.

Framed in a setting of low hanging trees and greensward, the long building of native limestone gives the impression of a comfortable home rather than the forbidding aspect most people associate with hospitals. Inside, its large comfortable rooms enhance the effect. Everywhere gleaming woodwork and white furniture create an atmosphere that is a far cry from the old days when it was an experiment house.

Dr. Charles M. Siever, head of the student health service was responsible in large part for the founding of the hospital. The scarlet fever epidemic occurred shortly after his arrival here and it fell to him to find some place on the campus which could be reconditioned into a hospital. "When I first came here," Dr. Siever related, "the present hospital was a rat-and-guinea-pig-house! But vast changes have taken place since then. Shortly after its conversion it was remodel-ture torn out and rebuilt—built an eighteen-foot annex, and raised the roof so as to provide better ventilation."

The hospital itself has not been used for contagious cases since shortly after its inception in 1916, according to Doctor Siever. Such cases are kept in the isolation house, directly across the lawn, south of the hospital, where four two-bed rooms, baths, a nurses' room and kitchenette are provided.

MEN'S INTRAMURALS

No soccer games were played the first three days this week because of the wet fields. As there are six postponed games to be played now, another field will be fixed up so that more games can be played each day.

Alpha Xi Delta

Open house was held for the Farm House fraternity Tuesday night.

Louise Krehbiel attended the football game between Chillicothe and Liberty, Mo., at Liberty yesterday.

Open house was held by Kappa Sigma for the chapter last night. Ascha Johnson Sykes visited at the house Wednesday.

Betty Wagstaff, Topeka, will spend the weekend at the house.

Chi Omega

Helen Hanson spent Thursday at her home in Clay Center.

Mrs. L. P. Elliot was a dinner guest Wednesday evening.

Donna Johnson, Cleburne, was called home Thursday by the death of her father.

Eleanor Wright, Concordia; Merle Ross, Dover; Louella Graham, Topeka; Geraldine Grass, LaCrosse; and Louise Fenner, Jewell, will be weekend guests.

Sophomores at Southwestern college were successful recently in the annual class day struggle against the freshmen. The victory was decided by the final event when the sophomores upset the dope in the tug-o-war and pulled the husky freshmen across a lagoon. Frequent outbursts of shirt-tearing, razzing, and scrapping added color and variety to an otherwise peaceful program.

Colleges and universities in the state of New York practically all show increased enrollments this fall, according to final registration figures released this week.

Mary Porter Reigns As "Queen of Ags"

New Addition to Campus Royalty Is Crowned at Ag Barnwarmer Friday Night—Five Princesses Take Part in Coronation Ceremonies

Mary Porter, Mt. Hope, a member of Delta Delta Delta sorority, is the 1933-34 "Queen of the Ags". Coronation ceremonies for the newest addition to campus royalty were held at the annual Ag Barnwarmer Friday night. A circle of autumn leaves, the traditional crown for Ag queens, was placed on Miss Porter's head by Dean L. E. Call of the division of agriculture, just preceding intermission at the party and the new queen then mounted the throne of baled hay erected for her at the east end of the hall.

Miss Porter was one of six candidates for the honor, "Queen of the Ags." The six "Ag princesses" were elected by a vote of the entire Ag student body at the regular Ag seminar held a week ago last Thursday. Last Thursday, those Ags who had purchased tickets for the Barnwarmer voted for an Ag queen in the office of Assistant Dean Durham of the division of agriculture.

The five Ag "princesses" are Helen Hanson, Clay Center, Chi Omega; Sarah Ann Grimes, Manhattan, Alpha Delta Pi; Pauline Crawford, Luray, Alpha Xi Delta; Eleanor Smith, Shreveport, La., Phi Omega Pi; and Virginia Wagner, Richmond, Clovia.

The gymnasium was decorated for the party with corn stalks and baled hay in keeping with the spirit of the occasion. Kerosene lamps were suspended from the ceiling. Music was furnished by Jack Pickering and his orchestra.

For two days preceding the Barnwarmer, the Ags were overalls on the campus. A horse-tank full of water awaited those Ags who did not comply with this rule. As in former years, attendance at this year's party was limited to Ags and Vets. However this year's party differed from those of former years in that no engineers attempted to crash the affair.

Robert Teagarden, La Cynge, was manager of this year's party; Frank Parsons, Winfield, was assistant manager; and Frank Burson, Monument, was treasurer. Committee chairmen were: Earl Regnier, decorations; Wayne Jacobs, police; and Jim Ketchersid, music.

A NEW LAND PROGRAM

Twelve Points in Plan Adopted by Conference Meeting Here Last Week

A 12-point program for land utilization in Kansas was adopted by the first Land Utilization conference of the state held at Kansas State Friday and Saturday. The points were presented by President F. D. Farrell and are aimed to preserve the usefulness of the state's natural resources.

The program:

1. Complete an adequate inventory of land resources at an early date.
2. Secure wider use of farming practices that will conserve soil fertility and avoid soil erosion.
3. Adopt credit policies and practices, both private and governmental, which will promote effective use of the land.
4. Establish taxation systems and practices which will encourage the conservation of land resources.
5. Secure general use of farm leases that will make possible effective land use.
6. Promote types of farming that will result in the most effective use of land.
7. Definitely relate land use to the demand for Kansas products in domestic and foreign markets.
8. Develop and support transportation systems that will facilitate efficient land utilization.
9. Develop farm wood lots and shelter belts and, where practicable, re-establish grass.
10. Conserve the fish and game of the state.
11. Utilize land for recreational purposes that are in keeping with the needs and financial resources of the people.
12. Direct all land utilization policies and practices toward the development of a satisfying life for those who use Kansas land and toward safeguarding the general welfare of Kansas people.

Here's How Actor Judged 1933 Royal Purple Queens

Fredric March, movie star, throws an inside light on the method he used in judging the 1933 Royal Purple beauty queens in this extract taken from his "Beauty Expert" article published in the November issue of Screenland magazine.

"In one contest I was asked to select five, classified this way: Aristocratic, naive, vivacious, sportsmanlike, and exotic. "It was very easy to select the sportsmanlike girl because there were only two entered in that division, one in riding clothes and the other in snow sports togs with skis.

"The girl in the riding things was very pretty but she looked as if she were conscious of what she was wearing, as if she weren't used to them, and I felt that she had probably never seen a horse at close range, so I gave the decision to the snow sports girl.

"That illustrates a beauty point; I don't like self-consciousness, so I don't choose girls who look as if they were thinking about themselves."

Other requirements were quoted in the article by which he picked the beauties. The girl must appear well groomed and look trim and neat as if she took care of her appearance.

But first of all Fredric March notices the feet clad in smart shoes, properly polished. Height does not make any difference to the star as long as the girl is well proportioned, but they must radiate with health and not be too thin. One of his pet peeves is a "phony smile" which is unattractive and only a genuine, spontaneous one charms. "Any girl with freak eyebrows was OUT!" wrote the judge although he does not object to shaping the eyebrows when they are too heavy. A well shaped nose and a strong mouth full of character (not a rosebud or cupid's bow) are essential for a winner. The average length neck set properly in properly held shoulders adds to the natural grace of a woman although this is a point she rarely gives much thought to.

"I like the outdoor girl," wrote Fredric March. "All this bicycle riding, swimming, hiking and indulging in sports is great. It's good for girls and it's beauty building."

But last of all and most important, the movie star declares that he cannot be fooled by the beauty the photographer tacks onto the picture. The beauty may be changed but character will penetrate the work of any photographer and make the girl a winner or a loser.

The 1933-34 student directories which have been issued by the Student Governing association are now obtainable at the Royal Purple office in Anderson hall. Students who own activity tickets may get the books free, but others must pay 25 cents a copy.

Each directory contains a complete list of students, faculty members, and administration officials; the Student Governing association constitution; the college calendar; the names of the student council members; names of members of the state board of regents; a list of college organizations; two college songs; and the names of the presidents and housemothers of various organizations.

WRESTLING KNAKS AT ASSEMBLY TOMORROW

Coach Patterson and Two Students Will Provide Self-Styled Program

Wrestling, the sport which is over 5,000 years old, will be the feature of the student assembly Wednesday at 10:15 o'clock at the college auditorium.

The lecture demonstration will be presented by B. R. Patterson, wrestling coach. Coach Patterson will be assisted by P. W. Griffith, Edmond, and June Roberts, Larned.

According to Coach Patterson, Roberts and Griffith will be dressed in the regulation suits and will do much of the explaining. The students will demonstrate holds which are allowed in the wrestling rules of Kansas State college. Griffith will captain the wrestling team of 1934 and Roberts was captain of the team last year.

The first hold to be demonstrated will be one which dates back 5,000 years. Wrestling was introduced in Greece from Asia in 1776 B. C., and continued until 292 A. D. when it was suppressed by the emperor. It was revived soon after in the reign of Coubertin, Coach Patterson said. Wrestling was introduced into the United States by the Amateur Athletic Union in 1896. Kansas State college awarded the first wrestling letters in 1926.

The fastest fall ever recorded for a Kansas State college man was made last year in Missouri by Alvin McDonald, Bremen. His time was 20 seconds.

Patterson explained that rules have been changed since the first matches. In former years the referee stood in the ring with a club and hit the man who made a foul. Now all holds which endanger life are ruled out. This and more will be explained in assembly.

Prof. L. P. Washburn of the physical education department will lead the devotion. Special music will be given by the department of music.

N. U. STILL OUT IN FRONT IN CONFERENCE GRID RACE

With Two Victories, Huskers Lead Kansas and Sooners as Favorites to Retain Title

(Conference Standings)
	W	L
Oklahoma	1	0
Kansas State	1	1
Missouri	1	5

After Saturday's conference games, Nebraska, Oklahoma and Kansas university are now the only schools in the Big Six with undefeated slates so far as Big Six competition is concerned. By virtue of winning the game Saturday, the Nebraska Cornhuskers are favored to retain the conference title. By losing the game, Kansas State dropped down in the conference race, having now one victory and one defeat.

The only other Big Six game Saturday found Oklahoma decisively winning from Iowa State. Nebraska defeated Iowa State in their first conference game this season, which now gives the Nebraska Huskers two victories and Iowa State two defeats.

Although Kansas university has not played any Big Six games this season, they received quite a jolt at the hands of Tulsa university Saturday. Kansas will meet its first Big Six opponent Saturday when the Kansas State Wildcats journey to Lawrence for a conference game.

Attend the tel-o-grid next Saturday.

Frankie Trumbauer To Select Beauties

Royal Purple Queens Will Be Chosen by Famous Musician at Ball November 25—Sales Campaign Continues

To have the Royal Purple beauties selected personally by Frankie Trumbauer, America's greatest saxophone player, at the Royal Purple Beauty ball on Nov. 25, is the key-note of originality struck by the staff of the 1934 yearbook.

This famous musician from the motion picture "The King of Jazz" will review the beauty candidates at the beginning of the dance and promptly at 11:55 o'clock he will personally present the grand beauty queen and the four beauties. These winners will each receive a full page picture in the new 1934 yearbook which will be published this spring.

"Although final negotiations with the Fredrick Brothers for this famous orchestra have not been definitely concluded we feel safe in making this announcement," Clay Reppert, business manager, said. The annual sorority book sales campaign will be short and crisp, beginning last week and continuing for only four weeks. Competition has been made much more difficult by the yearbook staff requiring each sorority to sell twenty-five books in order to enter one candidate and fifteen more book sales for each additional nominee according to Reppert. There will be no unlimited number of prospective beauties from each house after they have reached a certain number of sales as there were last year.

The organizations are permitted to count all the books sold in their houses and any sales to underclassmen on the campus providing they have not already made arrangements for their book at the Royal Purple office. Seniors outside of the sororities are not counted in this contest. The books will be sold for $4 only during this campaign. The sellers are permitted to accept two dollars and one-half in down payment and a dollar and a half later.

Each sorority and Van Zile Hall has elected a book sales manager who will take care of the campaign for the particular organization and report the number of sales to the Royal Purple office each day and check in the money whenever she sees fit. For additional information she may call at the annual office in Anderson hall. At the closing of the contest, if her organization has at least one representative as a contestant she will receive a free pass to the Royal Purple Beauty Ball for her date and herself the same as the beauty candidates.

At the closing date of the campaign each sorority will select its representatives who will have their pictures taken at the Studio Royal immediately. The nature of dress will be decided upon at a later date. The pictures will then be sent to Frankie Trumbauer who will make a study of them to form an idea as to the beauties he will select. This earlier study, however, will have little effect upon the final appearance choice, as the girl will be judged for her appearance at the ball regardless of the excellency of the picture.

"This system will make the contest authentic beyond doubt," Ken Harter, editor of the Royal Purple, said yesterday. "Suspicion that the judging of the beauties was made by some secretary will also be avoided."

THE PROPOSED FIELD HOUSE

Editor's Note—The following editorial, written by a graduate of Kansas State college, suggests some worthwhile ideas for the proposed field house of the college, and is worthy of careful consideration by those in charge of the promotion of the new building.)

The outcome of an appeal for federal aid in the construction of a field house here which would at the same time complete the south end of the stadium is still in doubt. In all humility, we have a suggestion to make; or perhaps a question to ask of the architects who planned such a building.

Would it be possible to include a dance floor in such a structure, large enough to hold the crowds that sometimes attend varieties and parties at Kansas State? And if possible, might not this be made to help pay for the cost of the construction of the field house?

The writer has had occasion to help sponsor one or two parties at Kansas State, and knows something of the cost of the renting a hall.
There are 32 fraternities and sororities on the campus, virtually all of whom give at least one party, and in many cases two parties a year. A large number of the dances are given in ballrooms rented for the occasion. In the absence of definite figures at hand, we should guess these parties total well toward $1,000 a year.

In addition, a number of honorary and professional organizations, literary societies, and other groups, give dances and balls during the year in rented halls. We suggest that a large, well constructed and well decorated dance floor might be included in a structure such as has been planned, and the future proceeds pledged toward paying for it, thus improving our chances for federal assistance on the project.

SCHOOL SPIRIT 1933-34

Kansas State college students who displayed school spirit during homecoming activities last week are worthy of hearty congratulations.
Never before have students cooperated so wholeheartedly and enthusiastically with pep leaders and others in charge of homecoming events as during last Friday and Saturday.

The right attitude was first shown by students at the pep meeting Friday night when one of the largest representations of members of the student body attended the pre-game rally. Those who planned the pep meeting and made arrangements for the large attendance at the meeting should be commended. The pep meeting was termed successful and its success was made possible only through the cooperation of students, faculty members and other people who joined hands in establishing a true school spirit.

The same school spirit was shown also at the football game Saturday. A praiseworthy fact is that although prospects for a Kansas State victory were not promising after the beginning of the second half of the game, students did not lose enthusiasm. Their cheering continued to the very last. Pep leaders directed yell after yell following the first touchdown by Nebraska.
Kansas State students did not, like students at Missouri university, lose their spirit and destroy their activity tickets in disgust.

No person who attended the game Saturday failed to notice the spirit of the Kansas State football players. Their was no defeat except by score. Always in the game, the Wildcats fought bitterly, determined to do anything everything possible—except lose hope and give up in defeat.

In a few more years, perhaps, last Saturday's game will be forgotten by students who are now attending college. The fact that Kansas State students backed the team last Saturday, however, will never be forgotten. On the other hand, if Kansas State students should have given up in despair and failed to support the players that represent their school, it is likely that such a thing would always be remembered.

In the long run, then, the final score of last Saturday's game is of secondary importance. A poem written many years ago expresses the really important thing when a good summary is needed. The lines follow:

For when the one great scorer comes,
To write against your name,
He'll write not what you won or lost,
But how you played the game.

AN EDITORIAL ON NOTHING

(By the Office Metaphysician.)

When today was only one hour old, the make-up man—that bogy of the white-collar men in a newspaper office—brought us the sad news that we needed six more inches of type to fill out the editorial columns. That's one thing about editorial columns—the darn things have to fill out just right.

What, I asked profanely, shall I write about?
There is nothing, I said, to blast upon. Nothing!
Nothing! Nothing!

And the editor, that helpful soul, yelled "Write an editorial on nothing". I pondered the possibilities of such an editorial and the more I pondered the more interesting the subject seemed.
I shall not stop with physics, thought I. I shall go into the metaphysics of nothing.

Just consider these questions: Could there be something if there were not nothing? Could the atom exist without the void? Could any thesis exist without antithesis? If there were not evil, would good be possible? If there were not darkness, would there be light? Could any single thing exist without its opposite?

And all these questions, thought I, must be answered in the negative! Nothing is but the absence of something—and therefore nothing presupposes something. One might even go so far as to say that something arises out of nothing.

(At this point, the office metaphysician took two aspirins and went to sleep on a desk.)

The Snooper

It was a great homecoming—even the Kappa Sigs donned their vests and discarded their turtle-necked sweaters to go to the varsity Saturday night. And Mark Kannal of dark circle fame wasn't by himself. The biggest social error of the week end was Ned Kimball asking somebody at the dance if they had smelled the cork yet.

Scoogee "Bilgewater" Martin (Collegian files, October 1933) had six freshmen believing that he was Arch Miller's father-in-law. Scoogee, fresh from the bananas farms of Texas, gave a lecture against the California Fruit Growers Association at the entrance of the Agronomy farm Saturday morning.

Censorship keeps out many activities of the week end, for instance, who's business was it that a certain Pi Phi Papa was in Sunset the other night? And what Beta Alumni lost his overcoat, pin, hat, and $7 in cash?

The Pi K A Cornjigger committee didn't take into consideration that they would have to pay $5 extra for decorations. A farmer did not like it because the Pi K A's stole some of his property, so he started to swear out a warrant but found out that he would have to have the names of the guilty persons. Anyway after the smoke cleared away Dean McNeal and his Royal Four-flushers had to pay for the corn (fodder, in case just pure corn would confuse you).

Fred Garrison, the Sigma Nu pride and house-bill, was calmly combing his hair before the crowd at the game Saturday. He might have been absent-minded or he might have been (censored) or again maybe he was just bragging.

A certain sorority president (name on request) was slightly embarrassed the other night when someone said that she was the cutest pledge the sorority had. Last year the same joke was pulled on Scoogee Martin by Ione Hill.

Janet "Red Eaglet or Birdie" Murdock of the Wichita Murdocks, was up for the game and to see how her protegee, Betty Jones, is getting along. Betty, in a few more lessons may be able to carry her note as high the the regulation Pi Phi. But Janet left a volume of "Table Manners" so that Betty could learn to eat with her fork instead of the knife.

"Bombshell"

"Bombshell" is the story behind scenes of the life of a movie star.
It is different from the regular Jean Harlow picture, and quite entertaining. Lee Tracy is the present agent that thinks up all the publicity stunts that nearly ruin his love affair with Miss Harlow.

The picture lives up to its name as there is one explosion after another in this star's hectic life. Even her love affairs are made headline stuff under the guidance of Tracy.
The cast contains such notables as:
Frank Morgan, Una Merkel, Fran-crot Tone, C. Aubrey Smith, and many others. Well worth your time.—J. L.

Homecoming is over for another year, and students in this great institution can once more forsake the cold hard floor, for a nice bed. . . . The biggest explosion of the week-end was the announcement that Paulson and Hasler had been married since last Thanksgiving. . . .

Gene Ross is trying to qualify for the Woor's Club by keeping some poor unsuspecting female out in the sun until 4:30. . . . No doubt she thought it was very dull. . . . Johnny Shersinger, the dental student, got the Chi Omega president up at five Sunday morning to let in one of the girls, only to push "Hot Shot" Horshem in the front door. . . . News Item: Frank "Pa-looka" Prentup has regained his independence. He stood "Betty Coed" up last Sunday morning! . . .

One last shot at our contemporary and then we're done. Would you believe it, Snooper Shilder is afraid of cows! Not only the ferocious kind, but the meek, gentle species with beautiful soft brown eyes! And everyone thought he was such a brave man!

HUSKERS PROVE TOO STRONG FOR K-STATE ELEVEN

CONFERENCE BATTLE FOR BIG SIX LEAD GOES TO BIBLE-COACHED TEAM, 9-0

LONG RUN LEADS TO SCORE

Boswell Dashes 57 Yards to 4-Yard Line — Kansas State Defense Tightens at Crucial Moments in Game to Stop Nebraska

Playing before a Homecoming crowd estimated at 16,000 and fighting for the early season supremacy of the Big Six, the Kansas State Wildcats went down to defeat before the hard charging Nebraska Cornhuskers 9-0 here Saturday.

Not until late in the third quarter, however, were the Wildcats scored upon in a game which was featured throughout by the hard charging and blocking of the opposing lines and the stubborn defensive stands made by the K-State team when its goal line was threatened.

Even the Nebraska score came like a bolt of lightning when the fleet Boswell took the ball on his own 39-yard line and ran 57 yards through a somewhat dazed defensive team to the 4-yard line where he was forced out of bounds by Russell. Sauer carried the ball across on the third down after he and Boswell had both made a try at the line.

The other three points were added by a place kick from the toe of Mastersen with only 12 seconds remaining in the game.

The first half was played on nearly even terms, with a slight edge going each quarter to the team which was favored by the wind. Kansas State held the advantage in the second quarter after an 85-yard punt by Russell was downed on the Nebraska 5-yard line.

Early in the third quarter, the Wildcats brought out an aerial attack that took the ball to the Cornhusker 20-yard line. Morgan was forced back from there to the 39-yard stripe, however, and downed in another attempt to pass. It was from there that Boswell started his long run.

Three times in the final period the Huskers came charging down on the Kansas State goal line, only to be stopped by a fighting Wildcat line. Hanson and Griffing did good work in closing up the center of the line and Graham and Wertzberger covered the wide plays. Nebraska made 11 first downs to Kansas State's 8, and rolled up much more yardage from scrimmage than did the Wildcats. Kansas State completed 11 out of 18 passes for a total of almost 120 yards.

Big Six Grid Notes

St. Louis 23, M. U. 7
The University of Missouri lost another football game last Saturday.

day to the much favored Billikens of St. Louis university. The first half of the game ended in a scoreless tie, but late in the third quarter both teams scored. Rapp, a Billiken back, went over for the winning touchdown in the last quarter.

Even though the Tigers lost, they clicked in a manner they have never clicked before on both offense and defense. Although Coach Carideo hated to lose the game he was pleased with the way his team played.

Tulsa U. 7, Kansas 0

The University of Kansas' highly touted eleven suffered defeat at the hands of Coach Henderson's Tulsa eleven last Saturday. It all happened in the third quarter when "Big Bill" Volak, 220 pound guard, dropped from his position in the line into the backfield, and slipped around left end to catch a pass which he carried to the two-yard line. Denis then smashed for the touchdown and kicked the extra point.

Late in the last period the Jayhawkers threatened to score by advancing 65 yards, but Beach failed to make a first down, and consequently Kansas lost possession of the ball.

Oklahoma 19, Iowa State 7
Oklahoma opened its Big Six schedule at Norman by defeating Iowa State 19 to 7 to tie Nebraska for the conference lead. Cassius Gentry, a Sooner tackle, was the hero of the day by blocking three Cyclone kicks which were costly to the Iowan's.

Up until the fourth quarter Iowa State had the Sooners beaten. But last quarter Sooner attacks both in the air and on the ground proved successful and netted them two more touchdowns, giving them the victory.

Women's Sports

Horseback Riding

Horseback riding seems to be coming into its own as far as the women of the college are concerned. One of the more expensive sports, requiring proper clothing, and also money, it has been slow in gaining popularity on the campus. Interest shown in Bit and Bridle, and the number of substitutions of riding lessons for physical education has increased remarkably this fall, and early morning horseback rides even on Sundays are becoming less and less unusual.

Clara Bess Garrison, riding for Van Zile Hall, won the horseback riding intramurals Thursday. Evelyn Osborne, Chi Omega, took second place.

Tennis
Tennis intramurals are slowly dragging to a finish, with Sara Jane Antrim, Chi Omega, winner of the one match played since Wednesday against Gathryn Black, Kappa Kappa Gamma. The scores of the two games played were 6-4, 9-7, which gives Miss Antrim a semi-final position.

MEN'S INTRAMURALS

With the end of the soccer season less than two weeks away, the Kappa Sigs and the Sigma Nus are still undefeated in groups 3 and 4, respectively, but in group 1 there is a three way tie between the Phi Taus, the Sig Eps, and the Sig Alphas. Each team has won two games and lost none. In group 2 the Delta Taus and the Vets are tied with two victories and no defeats each.

The Sigma Nus defeated the TKE's in the only game played Friday, 3 to 0.

This afternoon Alpha Kappa Lambda plays the Vets, Phi Lambda Theta plays Pi Kappa Alpha, and Phi Kappa plays Delta Tau Delta.

Tomorrow's games are Alpha Tau Omega vs. Kappa Sigma, Acacia vs. Wesley Foundation A. C., and Theta Xi vs. Alpha Gamma Rho.

A special series of demonstration debates is to be held this year in twelve to fifteen Kansas towns before audiences composed of high school students and townspeople. There will be a group of radio debates, including those mentioned above, and a further series of platform debates with the universities in the Valley Conference and elsewhere, the nature of which will be announced later.

H. W. Johnson, Manhattan, head of the committee on registration, announced that 190 Kansas State college graduates registered at the alumni office Saturday.

Aggies from New York to California came back for the homecoming festivities. Kenney L. Ideal football weather prevailed, and more alumni and K-men were back.

Eighty-seven people attended the alumni luncheon given in Thompson Hall last Saturday afternoon. Mr. E. A. Allen, Raymore, Mo., president of the Kansas State College Alumni Association, had charge of the luncheon.

WILDCATS AND JAYHAWKS TO CLASH TOMORROW AT K. U. K. U. NOT BLAMED FOR CAMPUS DAUBING

Kansas State Title Hopes Depend On Jayhawker Defeat

Spirit Runs High in Wildcat Camp—K-State Aerial Attack Feared by Coach Lindsay's Squad—No Serious Injuries on Either Team

(By DON McNEAL)

A powerful team of Jayhawks and a fighting band of Wildcats will meet on the gridiron tomorrow afternoon when Kansas State goes to Lawrence for its annual battle with the university. It will be the thirty-first meeting of the two teams, and the fifth game of the season for both.

This game will hold the conference spotlight, as it is the first Big Six contest for the Kansas team, which is hoped to be one of the leading contenders for the championship crown Nebraska is now wearing. If Kansas State can jump over this high hurdle, it will still be in the race ready to take the lead if someone can dump the Cornhuskers.

The Wildcats might enter the game as the underdog, but that means nothing in a game between these two long-time rivals. Kansas State has won both games played on the K. U. field since Bo McMillin became head coach of football here, and both times the Wildcats were expected to go down in defeat. In addition, Coach McMillin and his great team will be out tomorrow afternoon more determined than ever to avenge the humiliating defeat they suffered on their home field last year.

Neither team will be seriously handicapped by injuries. Dick O'Neil, Jayhawk end, returned from the Tulsa game with a leg injury, but will undoubtedly be available for the game. Kansas State casualties in the Nebraska game included Dan Blaine, Homer Hanson, Lee Morgan, and Tommy Bushby, but all will be ready to go tomorrow.

In their drills for the game, both coaches have emphasized offensive play. However, the university squad has spent a great deal of time working on a pass defense to stop the strong aerial attack that has been displayed by the Kansas State team in previous games.

Working behind closed gates Coach McMillin has experimented with several changes in positions on his first string to make available a more speedy team to go against the hard charging forward wall of the Jayhawk eleven. If more speed is desired in the offense, Darnell and Weller in the backfield; McNeal, guard; Partner, tackle, and Freeland and Churchill, ends, will probably see considerable service tomorrow. The starting line-up, however, will probably be as usual with Harter at center; Hanson and Forbes, guards; Maddox and Wertzberger, tackles; Blaine and Morgan ends, and Graham, Bushby, Russell, and Stoner in the backfield.

Officials at Lawrence are expecting a crowd of at least 15,000 and from all indications that figure was not set too high. More than half of the 1300 tickets placed on sale at the athletic office here Tuesday have been sold.

A special train carrying the 100-piece college band, approximately 30 freshman football players, the varsity squad, and many Wildcat supporters will leave here tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock. A stop for lunch will be made in Topeka, and the train will arrive in Lawrence at 12:30.

FOOTBALL TEL-O-GRID
A football tel-o-grid tomorrow at the college auditorium will present up to the minute information about the Kansas State-K. U. football game at Lawrence Saturday afternoon.
The tel-o-grid, sponsored by Sigma Delta Chi, men's professional journalism fraternity, has proved popular this year for football fans who are unable to attend the out-of-town games. The tel-o-grid will begin at 2 o'clock. Admission will be 15 cents with activity books and 25 cents without activity books.

Big Parade to Mt. Oread Begins Early Saturday Morning

On to K. U.! That will be the cry of Kansas State college students who trek to Lawrence tomorrow, ascend Mt. Oread and attend the K. U.-Kansas State football game tomorrow afternoon.

The annual football classic between these two Kansas schools will attract hundreds of Aggie students who will ride to Lawrence on special trains, in private automobiles, and in buses. The special train will leave at ten o'clock tomorrow morning.

The train-load of students, faculty members, and members of the football squads will also include members of the Purple Peppers, women's pep organization, and a delegation of Wampus Cats, pep organization for men. Super-enthusiastic cheer leaders of the college will also be at the game to keep the Kansas State delegation in a cheering mood during the tussle.

The Kansas State college band in shining new uniforms will also accompany the Kansas State football fans to K. U. tomorrow. Besides music at the football game a battle of bands between organizations of Kansas State college and Kansas university has been assured by leaders of the two groups.

The fact that there will be no classes tomorrow will probably result in a large representation of Kansas State college students at K. U. On the other hand many studious and energetic students will stay at home and take advantage of a "quiet weekend," consequently being prepared for Monday classes. Those who give loyal support to the football game tomorrow, however, are assured a good time at K. U. Many townspeople and professors of the college also plan to attend the Big Six football classic.

The migration to Lawrence will probably begin at noon today. Many sorority and "fraternity" members plan to stay at the chapter houses at K. U. during the weekend and attend social events. The larger number of people from Manhattan, however, will go to Lawrence tomorrow morning and return immediately after the game tomorrow afternoon.

HELM Praised in Editorial

One of Eight Kansas Artists Honored in Star Write-Up Sunday
Prof. John F. Helm, Jr., of the department of architecture, is one of eight artists singled out for praise in an editorial in the Kansas City Star last Saturday.

"Kansas is developing a very distinct group of artists, although they have not formed themselves self-consciously into art colonies as in some other states," the editorial stated. "Whether men like Curry, Poor, John Noble, Birger Sandzen, Arthur W. Hall C. A. Seward, Herschel C. Logan, and John F. Helm, may be said, in any sense, to constitute a 'school,' they represent a degree of artistic activity of which any state might be proud."

As for the aches and pains they get while playing, Graham said they never give them much thought. They just rather take them for granted. Ralph said it is certainly hard on fellows who go out for football year after year and never get to play in a game. "Probably the only reason they do this," said he, "is because they're afraid the coach will call them cowards, and that hurts worse than anything—to be called a coward."

To sum up his statements, Graham said, "Football is worth everything you put into it. I can't imagine not playing it."

BATTLE OF BANDS AT K. U. GAME TOMORROW

Wildcat Musicians Angered by University Band President's Statement in Kansas City Times

There will be a battle of bands, as well as an important gridiron classic, when Wildcat meets Jayhawk at Lawrence tomorrow afternoon.

For members of the Kansas State band, which for years has been regarded as one of the best-playing and best-marching college bands in the Midwest, are at the boiling point because Robert Slater, co-president of the K. U. band, was quoted as saying in the Kansas City Times early this week that the Jayhawk band would really show the Wildcat band how to play music at the game.

"They may have a larger band than we," he said, "but we'll have the music."

Kansas State band men, who are proud of their band, and take it seriously, rose in wrath when they heard of these remarks. Some of the musicians made very ungentlemanly remarks about the K. U. band, and all of them were angered that anyone would have the nerve to say that their band could be "showed up."

Director Lyle Downey's only remark was, "We'll go down and see about that Saturday."

School Truce Holds As Teams Prepare For Annual Classic

Authorities Believe Manhattan People or Students Responsible for Paint Job Wednesday—Investigation Reveals No Campus Warfare Between Two Schools

(By Max Burk)

That students of Kansas university were not responsible for the painting of red letters and daubs of paint on the walks and stone pillars of several entrances of the campus Wednesday morning, seemed probable in light of information received yesterday.

One of the custodians reported yesterday that the campus entrances had not been daubed when he went to work at 5 o'clock Wednesday morning.

Closer investigation revealed drops of red paint extending from the cafeteria entrance to Aggieville, a distance of approximately three blocks.

No K. U. student, it is believed, would leave his car that far from the scene of his daubings. He might have needed it for a quick getaway.

The truce between Kansas State college and Kansas university effected four years ago to end campus warfare between the two schools is apparently still binding.

College authorities believe the deed might have been instigated by Manhattan residents or even Kansas State students who wished to see the warfare renewed as has happened in the past.

A check-up yesterday of paint dealers in Manhattan revealed that the brand of paint used—known by an abandoned paint can—is not sold in Manhattan.

M. F. Ahearn, director of athletics, said, "We do not blame K. U. authorities in any way for the misdeed. It was probably just two or three over-zealous football fans who have a mistaken idea that that is the way to raise college spirit."

"I sincerely hope Kansas State students will not attempt any reprisals."

Further indications that the campus warring might be resumed this year appeared when the Lawrence Journal-World said it had learned upon good authority that Jayhawkers are guarding their campus.

However, precautions are being taken here. Touchdown II, the Aggie mascot that was almost kidnapped four years ago by university students, will probably be removed to safer quarters.

The Wampus Cats, men's pep organization, have not yet expressed any intention of guarding the campus as they have done in former years.

War off the gridiron first flared between the Kansas schools in 1927. Tuesday of the week before the game that year, Jayhawkers journeyed to Manhattan to smear the big "K" on the hill east of Manhattan with red paint. Searching parties summoned from fraternities failed to capture the university students. Freshmen repainted the "K" the next day.

Six Kansas State undergraduates returned the compliment the following Wednesday night by decking the Mt. Oread radio towers with purple and white paper streamers and painting scores of past games on the Jayhawkers' walks. Touchdown I was closely guarded.

The two weeks prior to the 1929 game recorded the worst outbreak in the history of the schools.

The Jayhawkers kicked off by lettering "KU" on the Aggie walks and engineering building.

The Aggies returned the kick by daubing the university walks with paint of a purple hue.

Early Saturday morning, one week before the game, three students of Mt. Oread were caught by the group guarding the campus and were promptly taken to the Kappa Sigma house and relieved of their locks.

Sunday night a fake telegram was sent from Wamego saying five carloads of K. U. students were nearing Manhattan. Several hundred men mustered from fraternity and rooming houses guarded the campus and the big "K."

Guards did all night duty at each of the entrances to the campus. Bonfires lighted the entire campus.

Monday night a K-Aggie freshman was captured and taken to Lawrence where he was dressed in a gingham dress, paraded about the campus all day Tuesday and

Aggie Pop Again Offers Prizes To Collegiate Talent

The nineteenth annual presentation of Aggie Pop will be given December 8 and 9, it was announced yesterday. Sponsored by the Young Women's Christian association, the Aggie Pop has become one of the traditions on the campus.

As in former years, prizes will be awarded to the best stunt out of each group consisting respectively of twelve and eight minute entertainments. The stunts will be under the direction of Mrs. Mary Myers Elliott and will be subject to her suggestion.

The program this year is to be made up of stunts given by both men's and women's organizations. Each organization is expected to submit a stunt to the student-faculty committee which will select the ones fitted to be presented on Aggie Pop night.

There will be two classes of stunts, the eight minute periods, which will be presented before the curtain during intermission, and the twelve minute stunts. The Y. W. C. A. has asked that the women's organizations prepare the longer stunts and that the men enter the shorter curtain acts.

The individual acts in this year's presentation will be judged on cleverness, artistic beauty, and presentation. The plans and preparations, including costumes, will be approved by the committee before November 1, the final date of admission. Each stunt will be given once on each of the two consecutive nights.

All organizations are asked to submit a stunt and to appoint one member of each group to be responsible for the interpretation of the stunt by the committee.

Helen Morgan, Newton, is manager of Aggie Pop, with a committee of five: Louise Krehbiel, Newton; Nancy Jane Campbell, Lakota; Clara Bess Garrison, Lincolnville; Myre Roth, Ness City; and Jane Harman, Manhattan.

Wrestling Stunts Prove Popular At Student Assembly

Coach Patterson and Students Explain Knacks of Sport in Exhibition Stunts—Professor Washburn Presents Sportsmanship Code and Points to Audience

Tumbles, somersaults, and pinholds, were among the unusual occurrences at student assembly, Wednesday.

Coach B. R. Patterson and two of his students, P. W. Griffith, Edmond, and June Roberts, Larned, presented a lecture-demonstration of a few of the holds used in wrestling. Coeds as well as athletes were shown some of the technique of one of our minor sports.

Coach Patterson told of the development of wrestling, a sport over 5,000 years old. The Greeks introduced wrestling in their olympics and the Greeks quit war long enough to have their tournaments. Wrestling was on the list of activities of those ancient olympics. Coach Patterson explained that the Greeks recognized no fouls but prohibited gouging of the eyes and biting. In modern rules anything that will injure the contestant is ruled unfair.

Among the holds demonstrated by Roberts, captain of last year's team, and Griffith, captain of the team of '34, were "pin holds," "grape-vines," "bear hugs," and "rides." The students did much of the explaining.

Much interest is shown in varsity and freshman wrestling. Patterson said. Last year between 70 and

GRIMES, HOWE TO MEETING

Dr. W. E. Grimes and Prof. Harold Howe, both of the department of agricultural economics, have places on the program of the annual conference of teachers of economics and business now in progress in Lawrence. The conference will adjourn tomorrow in time for the delegates to attend the football game between Kansas State and Kansas university.

400 DIRECTORIES AVAILABLE

Approximately 1,800 copies of the 1933-34 Student Directory have been distributed and 400 more are available in the Royal Purple office in Anderson hall, according to Clay Reppert, president of the Student Governing association, which issued the directories. Every student who owns an activity ticket may get one free copy. Others who want directories must pay 25 cents a copy.

OUT-OF-TOWN ALUMNI PLAN MANY MEETINGS

Six Gatherings to Be Held in Connection with Teachers' Conferences

Eight meetings for Kansas State college alumni will be held next week, according to Kenney L. Ford, alumni secretary. Six of these will be held in conjunction with the Kansas State Teachers' association meetings.

Meetings will be held at the following places: Thursday, Nov. 2, the Ivanhoe Country Club, Kansas City; Friday, Nov. 3, The Colonial Tea Room, Lawrence; The Allis Hotel, Wichita; The Lora Locke Hotel, Dodge City; the basement of the municipal building, Parsons; the Lamar hotel, Hays, and the college cafeteria, Manhattan; Saturday, Nov. 4, East Lansing, Michigan.

H. L. Kent, president of the New Mexico college of agriculture, will speak at the Hays reunion. Dr. W. M. Jardine, former president of Kansas State college, will attend the meeting at Wichita; and Kenney L. Ford, alumni secretary, plans to attend both the Kansas City and the Wichita meetings. Dorothy Barfoot, head of the art department, will attend the Lawrence meeting.

M. F. Ahearn, director of athletics, members of the Kansas State coaching staffs, and members of the 1933 football squads, will attend the meeting at East Lansing, on November 4.

SIX INITIATED INTO PAX

The following were initiated into Pax, Junior men's political organization, Sunday, October 15: Ansel Tabias, Acacia; John Wilcox, Phi Delta Theta; Kenneth Breckheisen, Phi Delta Theta; Kenneth Seibel, Phi Kappa; Eugene Mock, Phi Kappa; David Butterfield, Sigma Phi Epsilon.

STAND BY THE PLEDGE

Students! Stand by the pledge your Student Council signed four years ago to stop fighting with Kansas university before the annual football game. The student councils of the two major Kansas institutions signed the pledge at that time in order to protect the property on the campus as well as to prevent injury to those engaging in the combats.

A week before the 1929 game, fighting started with carloads of students going to Lawrence and as many coming from there to Manhattan.
They smeared paint over buildings and destroyed all the property they could get their hands on. One group of K. U. students attempted to steal Touchdown II, K-State mascot, and as a result were taken to the game in his cage with shaved heads and painted bodies.
Likewise Kansas State students were caught in Lawrence and placed on exhibition before the public.

Before the game in 1930 "K. S." was painted in purple on the new auditorium at Lawrence;
this cost the state several thousand dollars as the auditorium was of a porous material, which absorbed the paint and the stone blocks had to be replaced.

Nothing happened in 1931 and '32 and it looked as if there would be no more trouble between the schools caused by over-enthusiastic supporters. Last Wednesday, however, someone painted the walks at the campus entrances here. Officials of the college have been on the trail of the offenders since, and it is likely that they will locate them before long.

There is the chance that the paint on the walks may have been put there by Kansas State students who are anxious to resume the fight dropped in 1929. In any case the paint on the campus entrances should not be taken as a threat and an attempt made to even the score. It would merely result in destroying property that would be a cost to the state to replace and would benefit no one.

"I sincerely hope Kansas State students will not attempt any reprisals," stated M. F.
Abernethy, director of athletics. And "Mike" is a man who knows full well what the results would be if a fight should start.

It will be a fine thing for as many students as possible to attend the game in Lawrence Saturday and give the team whole-hearted support but it will not help to smear paint and colors on the campus of the opponents.

STUDENT TAXONOMY

Someone has said that it takes all sorts of people to make a world, and that if we were all alike, without our faults, and our individual ideas, our earth would be very a uninteresting place on which to live.

So too, in school life, it takes all sorts of students to make a college. If students had similar natures, opinions and attitudes based upon exact lines of thought, and per-chance, performed an equal amount of school work and study, there would be very little use for better teaching.

There are, precisely, three types of students in college. First, there is the conscientious, hard working student; who believes that grades reflect a student's aptitude for his work. He has earned for himself the title, "book-worm." This type of student sacrifices everything else in the interests of study, and in the end, grades. He enjoys only a small amount of social activity.
While his roommate attends a show or takes time out to read a continued story in a magazine, the "book-worm" ponders over his books, so that his final grades will be high.

The second type of student is the "sponger."
Somebody who has attended college a year or so, knows the "sponger." He seldom works, except to "cram" before an examination, or perhaps to copy some other student's work. He's a "free-lance" sponger. He gets through his classes by "throwing the ball" and "spreading it on his back" for the benefit of students and professors. Literally, he sings his way through, at the expense of the entire school. He's a "moocher," a "chisler," a "parasite" and unfortunately, a big crime to students upon whom he lives.

The average student constitutes the third type of student in college. The student is average, and only because he makes average or better grades, but because he is possessed with enough common sense to know the characteristics of the other two classes of students in school.
The average percentage of students in this college are of the average type.

This class of student does more studying than is required, but keeps out of the "book-worm" class. He takes his studies seriously, but doesn't pound his brain with a lot of worthless facts that he will never use. He enjoys school life and gets a big kick out of living. He doesn't worry about what the professor might think about him, because he knows that the professor is too busy to be forming pessimistic opinions. If things go wrong, he doesn't give up in despair, and wonder if it's all worth while. He believes in the theory of "sticktiveness", and usually comes out the victor in the end. "The average student", in fact, takes it on the chin, and comes back asking for more.

After graduation, these three types of students will enter into various phases of industrial, political and social life. Here again, these same students will be classified as citizens.
And while there are citizens who "sponge",
"average" citizens, and the hard working "book worm" citizens, it does, after all, take all sorts of people to make a world.

The Snooper

the Deltas are planning a party in Kansas City Saturday night. The instigators of the plot are not known in full but one of them is named Jane.

This is a picture—it represents Jim Richards
"The Beau Brummel". The top hat shouldn't be used of course but we couldn't find a picture with a crooked nose and a derby. No, R. L.
Parker, that isn't a bottle opener in his hand, it is a cigarette, the opener is in his left coat pocket. That smile? Oh, that is just the rush-week expression that Jim takes on special occasions. Especially when he goes up to see some sorority girl or tries to get a grade changed from bad to better. What is the difference between Jim and the other Phi Kappas? There is no difference—a Phi Kappa is a Phi Kappa no matter whose barn you find him in. Does Jim like publicity? We don't know. That is what we are trying to find out.

As told around the campus the Kappas and Ivonia Danielson is going to have her car stolen some time if she isn't careful when she parks it in front of the A. T. O. house.

As far as pus go—They thought he was a poor fish but they found he was only a Nibbling.

The Mercury carries the headline, "Sunday Movies, Beer Attacked." The W. C. T. U. has fostered this movement. The Sunday show idea has not been so overwhelming but attacking beer and coming out ahead has been going on for quite a while with great success.

A national officer of the Tri Deltas is coming to spend most of next week with the local chapter. This means that the three or four girls that have been dating up there will have to curtail their evening excursions.

Badluck, The Freshman

Dear Ma and Pa:

Well, I have finally got my new lodge organized and we decided at a meeting the other night to call it "badluck's 5-h club for iron men and other freshmen of the college who can take it". I guess that is a good name for my organization because we ain't going to let no seniors join on account of they can't take it like us freshmen can.

Anyway we adopted some rules and regulations at a meeting in our attic the other night and if you don't tell nobody I'll tell you what they are but they're sposed to be secret.

Here is the rules:

1. There won't be no chewing of tobacco on the campus by no member of the club.
2. No member is allowed to get chased by no senior because that would prove that he couldn't take it.
3. Every member has got to learn to rattle because we don't want no sissies in "Badluck's 5-H club for iron men."
4. No sleeping during class.
5. If any member gets athlete's feet that proves that he is a iron man, and he can be an officer in our club.
6. No fighting with any body except football players.
7. Everybody in the club has got to pay 25 cents every month because we are going to buy a overcoat for touchdown II so he won't get cold this winter. (Touchdown is a big cat that lives by the jimmisium in a wire cage and he sure looked cold when I saw him the other morning.)
8. No member is allowed to go to bed before 8 o'clock except on saturday nights.
9. Every member has got to learn to yodel and sing cowboy songs.
10. Everybody has got to eat 6 himburgers every day and drink milk to build up his muscles.

I guess we'll have a lot of other rules for my club but right now there ain't no use in having so many regulations until we get more members.
Well, I guess I'd better start studying some chemestree because we are going to have another meeting tonight, and try to think up some good ideas for my club. Anyway I am sure getting famous, and in a couple of more weeks I ought to really be a big shot on the campus.

Your son,

BADLUCK.

Just a word of advice to freshmen: Don't be fooled by the big noises of the campus. The college "big shots" aren't except in rare cases—the campus leaders. A "big shot" is one who senses the will of the crowd and then obeys that will.

HONOR COEDS TUESDAY

Will Announce Two Outstanding Freshman Women of Last Year at Banquet

The honor of being the outstanding freshman women in scholariship will be divided between two of this year's sophomores, Ruth Langenwalter, Wichita, president of Mortar Board, announced today.
Announcement of the two women will be made at Mortar Board's annual Hallowe'en dinner Tuesday evening.

Each year Mortar Board places the name of the highest ranking woman of the preceding year's freshman class on its scholarship plaque which hangs in recreation center. An additional honor is the recognition at the banquet, which is open to all campus women. Sororities will dispense with their din-members may attend the banquet.

Kathryn McKinney, Bartlesville, Okla., is in charge of the sale of tickets which may be purchased for forty cents, a price below that of former years. Tickets may be obtained at the Y. W. C. A. office, and will be sold in Anderson hall Monday and Tuesday. Members of Mortar Board will also sell tickets.

The Hallowe'en dinner is one of pus women and it annually attracts a large attendance.

Women's Sports

Tennis

One more match is required to decide the third girl to play in the semi-finals of the tennis intramurals. The match will be played by Evelyn Diehlman, Zeta Tau Alpha, vs. Mary Elizabeth Wilkes, Alpha Xi Delta. Mildred Forrester, Kappa Delta, lost her last match to Evelyn Diehlman 3-6; 6-0; 6-3.
The other two players for the semifinals are Sara Jane Antrim for Chi Omega, and Eva Brownell for Van Zile hall.

Golf

Kathryn Black, Kappa Kappa Gamma, won the first flight of eighteen holes in intramural golf from Erma Schmedeman, Alpha Xi Delta, by a narrow margin of a 5-4 score. In the second nine-hole flight, Jane Stone, Kappa Kappa Gamma, won her match 5-4 from Lois Rosencrans, Alpha Delta Pi.
Dorothy Rosencrans, Alpha Delta Pi, forfeited her match to Marian Waite, Kappa Kappa Gamma. The match between the two winners of the second flight should be a fairly even game, as each of the golfers turn in almost identical scores.

Fifteen points towards the winning of the intramural cup have been awarded to Van Zile hall for winning the horseback intramurals.
Chi Omega who placed second, was given 10, and Kappa Kappa Gamma, Phi Omega Pi, and Alpha Delta Pi were given five. Ten
W. A. A. points were given to each of the following girls who represented her organization in the contest: Cora Oliphant, Phi Omega

Clara Bess Garrison, Van Zile hall; Jane Swenson, Alpha Delta Pi, and Jane Harmon, Kappa Kappa Gamma.

Archery

The annual Wild Animal Hunt of the Junior Archery Technique
Class will be held at Rotary Cabin, Thursday, November 2. Members of the class make pictures of car-board animals, and distribute them through the nearby woods. The entire group is divided into three teams who have chosen for their captains, or head hunters, Jane Swenson, Wilma Cook, and Rita
Brown.

The object of the hunt is for each girl to make as many points as possible for herself and for her team by shooting close to the supposed heart of some animal. A picnic will follow the hunt.

MEN'S INTRAMURALS

Next week will wind up the soccer games in the group brackets. After that the finals will be played. The Phi Taus and Sig Eps are tied for the leadership in group 1, but in the other groups one team enjoys an undisputed lead. The Delta Taus lead group 2, the Kappa Sigs are ahead in group 3, and the Sigma Nus are showing the way in group 4.

Results of games Monday night are: Sigma Phi Epsilon 6, Sigma

"Saturday's Millions"

A player might seem carefree in his social life but when he gets on that football field the old grit and gumption takes first place in "Saturday's Millions" playing today and tomorrow at the Dickinson.

The movie tells the story of football players grinding their hearts out to fill the stadiums for the schools with total self denial as to any freedom of capitalizing their own names without the interference of public opinion. It's a great game and you can see it with the thrills of "Saturday's Millions" watching the star play the entire game with a secretly broken hand.—F. V.

A strategic point in the battle for sales

Today's intense competition calls for new and more effective merchandising methods. Several plans pioneered by Bell System men are proving helpful.

For example: the "Where to Buy It" section of the telephone book. Here local dealers are listed beneath the trade-marks of advertised products—such as Plymouth, Greyhound Lines, Exide, RCA Victor. This service helps manufacturers to reduce substitution, helps dealers to increase sales, helps you to locate the brand you want.

I keep coming back to that word "balanced" on the back of the Chesterfield package

YOU often hear the word balance—something is out of balance—top-heavy, not on an "even keel."

What you read, "Chesterfield Cigarettes are a balanced blend," means that the right amounts of the right kinds of tobacco are welded together; that is, home-grown tobaccos, the right kind, the right quantity—are blended and cross-blended with tobaccos from Turkey and Greece.

When these tobaccos are balanced one against the other, then you have a mild cigarette.

When they are in balance, then you have a better-tasting cigarette.

May we ask you to read again the statement on the back of the Chesterfield package?
May we ask you to try Chesterfield?

WILDCATS HAVE OUTPLAYED JAYHAWKS LAST 10 YEARS

K-State Eleven Has Record of Six Victories Against Three Defeats in Recent Games

Two great elevens will clash in Memorial stadium at Lawrence tomorrow afternoon in what is perennially known as the gridiron classic of Kansas. When the Wildcats and the Jayhawks get together, things always start to fly, whether it's hair from the Wildcat's fur or feathers out of the Jayhawk's back.

In the last 10 years Kansas State has decisively proven that it can take the measure of the university. During that time the Wildcats have scored six victories against the Jayhawks, as compared to three defeats and one tie. Statistics on the game show that Kansas State plays better, or winning, football at Lawrence than at Manhattan, which adds much hope for the outcome of the game tomorrow. Four of the six games won have been played on K. U. soil, while all three defeats were handed the Wildcats at home.

Just to skim over all-time records, 30 games have been played between the two schools so far. The Jayhawks have been victorious in 30 of these, the Wildcats have won seven and tied three. In all-time scoring, the university has made 397 points to 145 for K-State.

Big Six Grid Notes

(By Herbert S. Neyhart)

Tomorrow will be a tell-tale day in Big Six football, with Nebraska and Oklahoma, the two undefeated teams of the conference, meeting and Missouri and Iowa State fighting for the lower berths.

In games played so far this season there are indications that the Huskers will have a busy afternoon if they intend to beat Coach Lewie Hardage and his proteges who share the top ring with them. But if Nebraska gets a victory over Oklahoma, and Kansas State beats the University of Kansas, the Big Six race will practically be decided in favor of the Cornhuskers. Nebraska would then have three successive victories with a hapless Missouri, and a strong defensive Kansas outfit still to deal with. Both the Sooners and the Huskers are in tip top shape.

The Missouri-Iowa State game is also being watched by critics. Both of the above teams are seeking their first conference victory. Missouri's good showing last week against St. Louis university even though they met defeat makes Coach Frank Carideo regard next Saturday as the Tiger's best chance to enter the winning column. But Iowa State, despite injuries received in the Oklahoma game last Saturday, will not be ready to take a third defeat in the Big Six without a terrific battle.

Football is a queer game in the fact that you cannot go much by predictions, so we will have to wait till next Saturday to find out more definitely what each team's standing is likely to be in the Big Six. The present standing is:

Nebraska	2	0	2
Kansas	0	0	0
Kansas State	1	1	2
Missouri	0	1	1
Iowa State	0	2	2

AT THE VARSITY "Midshipman Jack"

This is a highly amusing story of life at the naval academy. Of course the commandant has a beautiful daughter which complicates matters for some of the upper classmen.

The leading role is taken by Bruce Cabot, but Arthur Lake as the spoiled rich boy, and Frank Albertson as a recruit from the navy make things very interesting when they are "plebes."

The action covers a whole school year starting with the coming of the new fourth class men and ending with graduation. The trials and tribulations of a midshipman are brought out, showing how obedience comes first in the navy.

churches in Riley county are also cooperating to make this play a real drama of the life of the saloon days of 1850.

The freshmen who passed the preliminary tests will be eligible for the play to be given next semester rather than for plays next fall.

Y. W. INTEREST GROUPS MEET

Discussion Ranges From World Affairs and Poetry to Clothing That Y. W. C. A. girls have a variety of interests was demonstrated by the large attendance at each of the five interest group meetings held October 19.

The planning committee for these discussions is: Ethel Olney, St. Joseph, Mo., Willard Parker, Clearwater, Sarah Ann Grimes, Manhattan, Jane Ewart, Topeka, Ruth Jorgenson, Manhattan, Fred Hill Huntington, Long Island, N. Dr. Helen Ford, professor of child welfare and eugenics, will act as advisor for this group and Midge Gibbs, Quinter, and Elizabeth Lamprecht, Manhattan, as the planning committee.

The personal religion group made plans for a definite program. The committee in charge is: Dorothy McLeod, Y. W. C. A. secretary, Gail Anderson, Lincoln, Elizabeth Gattman, Fergus, Montana, Ruth Gresham, Manhattan, and Martha Koestel, Partridge.

"Boots" Gross will referee the fights. "Shorty" Miller is the manager of the Manhattan club.

finally sent home on a train.

Tuesday afternoon a caravan of 15 cars from here swooped down on the university campus to give "Uncle Jimmie" Green's statue a bath in purple paint and to capture four Jayhawks.

Lawrence students telephoned the Topeka police who turned out in full force to stop the Aggie caravan returning to Manhattan. Two of the kidnaped were freed but the Aggie car with the other two evaded the police and brought its prisoners on to Manhattan. Meanwhile two Aggies, "Cotton"

Tietze and John Merritt, were kidnaped by the Jayhawks after the police had stopped the Aggies' car. They were taken to Lawrence, given the old prison haircut, and released.

But not to be outdone by the Aggies, the U. students started on a return visit here Tuesday night, but word of their coming was sent here.

On a long full blast of the college whistle at 2 A.M. Wildcat warriors rushed out of their houses clad in everything from pajamas to boots and sheepskins and carrying flashlights, blackjacks, and anything that even looked like a paddle. Carloads of guards posted at the Blue river bridge east of Manhattan, caught five scouts sent ahead by the university's caravan and locked them in the cage evacuated by Touchdown II.

Thirteen more were later caught and sheared. They led the parade to the Saturday morning pep meeting walking in chain gang fashion and shouting "Beat K. U."

At the pep meeting they entertained the Aggie audience with speeches, hog calls, song, and Aggie yells.

After the meeting they were branded with a purple K on the spot where hair once grew, paraded to Fourth and Poyntz, and sent home.

Incidentally, the Aggies won the game, 6-0.

STUDENTS DECLARE HOLIDAY

Varsity Defeats Freshmen By 6-0 Margin

Forward Pass From Weller To Darnell Results In Score

A 19-yard forward pass, Weller to Darnell, proved the margin of victory for the Kansas State varsity reserves in their annual encounter with the freshmen yesterday afternoon in Memorial stadium. Darnell received the pass on the freshmen's 40-yard line, and ran the remaining distance to the goal line unopposed.

The freshmen made a strong bid late in the final quarter, but were stopped on the reserve's 8-yard line, when Edwards intercepted Warren's pass to Ayres.

The first half was played on fairly even terms with both teams playing cautiously and putting out of danger, on the second and third downs. Warren and Ayres had a slight advantage over the varsity punters, Weller and Garvey. The only scoring threat of the first half was made by the reserves late in the second quarter. A long pass from Garvey to Edwards was complete on the freshman 13-yard line, but four plays by the reserves failed, and Ayres punted out of danger as the half ended.

The scoring play came suddenly in the middle of the third quarter. The freshmen kicked off to start the second half, and after several exchanges of punts the reserves got possession of the ball on their own 41-yard line. The freshmen stopped two line plays, and were playing close up to stop another. Weller, playing quarterback for the reserves, anticipating this, faded back to shoot a long pass to Darnell, who outran the safety man to the goal line. Dean Griffing was sent in to try for the point after touchdown, but his kick from placement was wide.

The freshmen came back in the fourth quarter with a passing attack, which was unstoppable for a time. In this thrust the freshmen completed five passes for a total of 68 yards. Ted Warren was on the tossing end of these passes, with Barney Hays and L. C. Ayres doing the receiving. This final march by the freshmen was stopped on the reserves 8-yard line, when Edwards intercepted a pass intended for Ayres.

Weller, Armstrong and Darnell were the big ground gainers for the reserves, with Churchill, Sundgren, and Munal showing up well on the defense in the line. Warren and Hays stood out for the freshmen on offense; with Hays, Wassberg, and Cordorille doing yeoman's service in the line. "Duck" as Cordorille is called, was eager to go at all times, and amused the spectators on one occasion when he got clear through to the punter before the ball had been snapped from center.

A crowd of approximately 900 students saw the game. This number was larger than had been expected, due to the fact that they had skipped school for the day as a part of the celebration of the victory over K. U.

Starting lineups:

Freshmen	Pos.	Reserves
Hays	L. E.	Denchfield
Beeler	L. T.	Munal
Holland	L. G.	Murphy
Wassberg	C.	Skinner
Cordorille	R. G.	Thiele
Mulheim	R. T.	Sconce
Burns	R. E.	Churchill
Warren	Q. B.	Weller
Elder	L. H.	Edwards

Others who played:

Reserves: Zitnik, Garvey, Broghamer, Nolan, Jensen, Darnell, Sundgren, Griffing, Fuller, Keyes, LeClare, Nixon.

Freshmen: Lander, Jessup, Ayers, Lang, Crow, Long, Rooks.

Bessie Brooks West, head of the Institutional economics department, attended a meeting of the Dietetics association in Chicago October 9 to 13. She is chairman of the Institutional Administration Department of American Home Economics Association, and represented that department.

COLLEGIAN BOARD ELECTION ON NOV. 7

Election Will Be Held Next Tuesday in Kedzie Hall—Applications Due

Nominations for membership on the Collegian board to which any student in college is eligible, must be submitted before Monday evening at the office of Prof. C. E. Rogers, head of the department of journalism. The election will be held Tuesday, November 7. Two new members will be elected.

The Collegian board consists of five members, of which three are automatically appointed to membership when they are elected to the offices of president of Theta Sigma Phi, honorary journalistic fraternity for women, and Sigma Delta Chi, men's professional journalistic fraternity, and the head of the department of journalism.

Nominations are in the form of petitions bearing the signatures of ten Collegian subscribers but it is not necessary that the student be enrolled in journalism to become a member of the board.

NEW IDEA IN CONCRETE

Applied Mechanics Department Conducts a Successful Test For Pouring Forms

The department of applied mechanics has successfully carried out certain tests in the development of a new form for the pouring of concrete in circular holes. The forms consist of rubber-coated fabric tubes with pipe connections vulcanized into the ends. Two of these forms were presented to the department by the Monolithic Duct Co., Wichita, Kansas, for whom the tests are being conducted.

These tubes when inflated by air or water pressure expand in diameter and decrease in length. The concrete is then poured around the tube and allowed to harden before the tube is deflated causing a reduction in diameter and an increase in length which permits the tube to separate from the hardened concrete and to be withdrawn from the hole.

Prof. E. R. Dawley of the applied mechanics department believes that there are many possibilities for the use of this material in engineering work. It provides an easy method for the construction of circular culverts under highways, drainage or weep-holes in structures and electric conduits or other material in building construction.

LAND GRANT MEETING

The annual meeting of the Land Grant College association will be held in Chicago on November 13-15. Representatives of all land grant colleges in the United States will attend.

Kansas State college will have five representatives: Pres. F. D. Farrell, Dean R. A. Seaton, Dean L. E. Call, Acting Dean Margaret Ahlborn and Dean H. Umberger.

Automobiles Cause More Deaths Than Major Wars

(By Marjorie Call)

One of the unusual and unexplainable things going on at the present time is the decrease in automobile accidents from 1932 to 1933. Most things, at present, are blamed on the N.R.A. and, in a way, more careful driving is probably a result of the depression.

Anyway, here's some interesting data on car accidents. During all the wars in which this country has engaged as a nation Americans killed in action or who died of wounds numbered under 300,000. During the last 15 years, a period approximating the total duration of these six major wars, Americans killed in automobile accidents within the United States or who died of such injuries have numbered 325,000.

According to the type of accident, collision with automobiles ranks first; collision with pedestrians, second; collision with fixed objects, third. The largest number of people were killed by drivers exceeding the speed limit, next by drivers off the roadway, third by drivers on the wrong side of the road. Other reasons for deaths were: not having right-of-way, cutting in, passing standing street cars, passing on curve or hill, failing to signal and

ASSEMBLY THURSDAY

Dr. P. C. King, president of Washburn college, Topeka, will be the assembly speaker in the college auditorium on Thursday at 10:15 o'clock. Dr. King has been president of Washburn for three years. Special music will be furnished by the department of music.

SWISS STUDENT TELLS WHY HE STUDIES HERE

Emile Meyerhaus Desires to Introduce American Methods of Milling to His Country

(By Malcolm West)

Emil Meyerhaus, Zurich, Switzerland, a new foreign student in the department of milling, finds the American people friendly, courteous, and very helpful.

"I was favorably impressed by the American people on my arrival in this country a few weeks ago," said Mr. Meyerhaus, "and I find that the people as a whole are friendly and very courteous to a foreigner. The American people are very different from those in Switzerland, however. They spend more money and have more amusements."

Mr. Meyerhaus is taking work in milling technology and is investigating the American methods of marketing products. His father owns a large mill in Zurich, Switzerland, and he is studying with this in mind. He expects to remain at Kansas State college the balance of the semester and then go to Kansas City, Minneapolis, Buffalo, and other places for work before returning home. Some time was spent in Dipoldsvatle, Germany, in a milling school before coming to the United States.

While Mr. Meyerhaus has been in this college scarcely a week he has found the American student very different from the student in Europe.

"In Europe," he said, "students work until they have enough money to go through college. Then they go to college and study the required number of years and do little or nothing else. All the work is lecture and the student has only his instructor's lecture on which to base his opinions. Over here in America I find that the student has so much more opportunity for individual work in his studies than in Europe. And so many students work outside of school for a part of their expenses. That is not done in Europe. I am surprised at the number that are doing that here. I think it is a good thing for the student to work like this. The students here are so much more self-reliant than in Europe. Perhaps because of this factor. On the whole I like it here and wish that Europe were more like this country."

Attend Assembly Thursday.

No Classes Held Yesterday Because Of Defeat Of K. U.

Cheering Groups Armed With Paddles Gather Early to Prevent Class Attendance—Notices Posted on Bulletin Boards Turn Out Phoney

Fired with enthusiasm over their football team's victory over Kansas university Saturday, Kansas State students yesterday declared a holiday, celebrating with a special free varsity dance at the Wareham ballroom in the morning, and turning out in nearly full force in the afternoon for a football game between the varsity and freshmen football squads.

Notices of unknown authorship, signed with the name of the college president and informing the students that a holiday had been declared, adorned several bulletin boards early yesterday morning.

The phoney notices read: "In due regard to our victory over Kansas university last Saturday there will be no classes held today, Monday, October 30.—F. D. Farrell, President."

Shortly before 8 o'clock, C. O. Price, secretary to the president, came to the south campus gate and emphatically informed the group of students gathered there that the sign must come down. He then removed the notice from the bulletin board.

Plans for the holiday were made Sunday and the Greek letter houses were organized Sunday night. At 7:25 o'clock yesterday morning, students armed with paddles to prevent any class attendance, began gathering at the campus gates. A few students who sneaked through the campus guards were caught on the campus and later punished by a paddle line on Anderson avenue—an unusual reward for earnest studiousness.

At 9 o'clock several hundred cheering K-Staters gathered downtown in front of the Wareham theatre. Coach A. N. "Bo" McMillin, who saw them there, gave them an impromptu address.

"I appreciate your splendid school spirit," he said, "and I don't want to throw a wet blanket on your pleasure. But you wouldn't think much of the football players if they refused to come to football practice. Your duty is in the class room, and your refusal to do your duty is hurting rather than helping the team."

The crowd cheered "Bo" and left in a body for Aggieville, many in the crowd apparently in favor of attending classes for the remainder of the day. On reaching Aggieville, however, the crowd was met by a parade of students marching down from the college campus where they had been engaged in breaking up any classes that may have met. The two crowds then converged and headed back toward the downtown section. A ten-piece band producing weird noises headed the parade.

Approximately 1500 students jammed the Wareham ballroom at 10 o'clock yesterday morning for the free varsity dance. The Wareham record-broadcasting system furnished the music for the brave souls who dared venture out on the crowded dance floor. At the ballroom, Coach McMillin again addressed the crowd, announcing the freshman-varsity football game yesterday afternoon.

The game, which began at 4 o'clock, was attended by a large portion of the student body and with the concluding feature of the day's festivities.

FOOD DEMONSTRATIONS

Two food demonstrations will be given today and tomorrow in Calvin hall by Millicent Atkin of the Evaporated Milk company. The demonstration today will be given at three o'clock this afternoon and the lecture tomorrow will be given at 9 o'clock in the morning.

While the demonstration will be held primarily for students enrolled in home economics, it is open to everyone who wishes to attend. Both demonstrations will be held in L-41.

A PARENTS' DAY PROGRAM

November 18 is Parent's day at Kansas State college, and a special program is being planned for the parents.

There will be the Oklahoma university-Kansas State football game, special exhibitions in the various departments, and a banquet in the evening. E. L. Barrier of Eureka, president of the Kansas State College Parents' association says that a good program is being planned for the banquet.

OUR PRIZE BONER

Yesterday, Kansas State college was suffering from a bad attack of "school spirit"! The outbreak of enthusiasm took the usual forms. School spirit in this school is generally demonstrated by breaking up classes—if you don't go to class, you have school spirit, if you do you're a sissy. This is a simple if not too accurate method of classification.

Why this sudden demonstration? We beat K. U. in football Saturday? Well, what of that? Since 1921, K. U. has only beaten us three times. What's K. U.—that we should be so ecstatic over beating her? K. U. students don't seem so tickled about beating us—when they do. They're cocky enough already at that school down the river without our giving demonstrations in their honor.

Of course we understand that the foolishness yesterday was due to the fact that an illegal holiday is much more exciting than routine class work rather than to the fact that we won a football game Saturday. The winning of the game was just an excuse, and not a good excuse either. You may be sure that at Lawrence they are amused by our provincial ways.

We pulled a boner—a prize boner.

CONGRATULATIONS, LYLE

Last year, a Collegian columnist—compelled by the necessity for filling eight inches of editorial column with type—said harsh things in an amusing way, about the Kansas State college band and about its director, Lyle Downey. Well, The Collegian isn't making any such statements this year. Kansas State has a great band and its greatness is largely due to the efforts of Lyle Downey.

No student of this college who saw the band's inspired playing and marching at Lawrence Saturday could fail to be thrilled by it. In the much publicized battle of bands at the game, the Kansas State organization won by a knockout (or a walk, or what have you). No less an authority than the Kansas City Star proclaimed the fact Sunday in a top-head story filled with printed horse-lauds for the K. U. musicians and bouquets for Mr. Downey.

And so The Collegian offers its heartiest congratulations to you, Mr. Downey. We're mighty proud of our band.

SOPHISTICATION

Now the cry is, "Be sophisticated!" Sophistication is not hereditary—you acquire it. Even the most mediocre-minded can become sophisticated. First, realize that "sophistication" has nothing to do with money and "intelligence," has no relation to mental profundity.

The sophisticate has no general philosophy but displays the basic moods—this is his working code. Adopt a mild skepticism toward the universe, not the savage pessimism of the last era. That has given way to a more tolerant variety of unbelief. Be a bit bewildered by this modern life; don't pretend to know what it's all about. Fear the obvious as if it were a deadly poison.

Detachment, ennui, horror of the sentimental and a slight desire for satire—these are attributed to the worldly. All bright people are alike on the surface and the surface is seldom scratched.

These are a few beliefs of the ultra-minded:

1. Congress is always wrong.
2. The only book in the world which is beyond criticism is "Alice in Wonderland."
3. The best American food in America is obtainable in speakeasies.
4. Air travel is dull.
5. Fringe-noted automobile horns are vulgar.
6. Greenwich Village, Provincetown, and Tins are inhabited solely by fake artists and real estate men.
7. College dances have no value now that their use has been reduced to practicality—social prestige has disappeared.
8. There should be more good murders in order that there should be more good murder stories in the newspapers.
9. Synthetic dancing is always slightly ridiculous.
10. One is happiest when asleep.

The Editor's Desk

For three nights during last week, on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, freshmen men students at K. U. guarded their campus on Mt. Oread against a possible raid by Kansas State students preceding the game. Kansas State students, however, did not forget the peace truce drawn up between the two schools four years ago. The student councils of the two schools, undoubtedly, appreciate the attitude shown by the students in abolishing the painting parties. Antagonism and fighting between the two schools is no longer popular.

Two events to take place soon, the Manhattan theatre play on November 10, and the annual Aggie Pop on December 8 and 9, deserve the generous support of the entire student body. "Ten Nights in a Bar Room", to be presented by the Manhattan theatre, is the opening play of the season. During past years the Aggie Pop, sponsored by the Young Women's Christian Association, has provided good entertainment for audiences.

Those who attended the student assembly Wednesday were well pleased with the presentation of wrestling stunts by Coach E. R. Patterson and two students, June Roberts and P. W. Griffith. Student participation in assemblies always proves popular. Professor L. P. Washburn presented a list of sportsmanship rules at the beginning of the assembly which are characteristic of Kansas State athletes.

The fact that reporters make a newspaper was proven yesterday, when many of the collegian newsgatherers forgot about the holiday and covered their beats in routine style. Reporters naturally like holidays, but true to their profession yesterday they remembered that news today might not be news tomorrow. The staff, incidentally, spent 15 minutes at the south campus gate yesterday morning, begging to be admitted in view of the fact that The Collegian must be edited.

The Snooper

The long and strenuous week-end that was stretched a day more brought about various encounters, calamities, strange interludes, etc. chief of which was the result of the game. The only other thing was the gushing Kappa party in KC. The only other thing that happened at the game of any importance was Bob Spiker, of the Cheer-leading Spikers, starting an Aggie yell when the KU team came on the field wearing purple blue sweaters.

This picture represents the Aggieville student, mainly because we can't change the wording. Furthermore it represents Lucille Allman, the Pi Phi modeling girl. Lucille is the one with the dress and those in the background are Betas. The expression on her face is her favorite "Oh I'm so tired I wish I had a coke." Those girls following her (they are not in the picture of course) are some more Pi Phi's hoping that there might be an extra coke for them. Lucille's little German dog (it isn't in the picture either) was left at home because it would sooner be there. What else about Lucille? Nothing much, we were after the Pi Phi's in the first place.

Nathan Flestein, the amble in the eve of the Journalism department, in his hurry to get to Anderson from Kedzie cut across the grass yesterday morning. The custodian had to inform Nathan that in this country sometimes certain places were not to be walked on and the grass between Kedzie and Anderson was one of the places.

Badluck, The Freshman

Dear ma and pa:

Well, the aeries are sure going to town in football because we beat K. U. last Saturday. You mite not no it but it was a great honor to beat K. U. because even Notre Dame couldn't beat that school, and then us aeries went down there and showed them what real football playing was. I guess about all the school here went down to K. U. and showed everybody what real yelling was too, because there wasn't no classes that day, and nobody had to do no studying.

Anyway if the aeries keep up their good football winning they are going to be the champion football players of the world. Just like I told you about a month ago. I'll bet next year the whole school will go out for football and try to play on the team, because football playing is better than knowing how to yodel or play bridge right now.

Well pop you sure ain't wasting no money by sending me to school because I am really learning a lot in this agriculture course I am taking. Next summer, I'll bring some of my books on chemistree and rhetoric home and show you how you can make more money on your farm. Because chemistree is sure a swell thing for farm boys like me to no especially if a feller has got any atoms or molecules on his farm.

I was down in Aggieville the other night and I heard some seniors talking about paddling all of us freshmen again and making us wear our caps, so it looks like we're going to have to show the school that we can really take it again. I believe us freshmen are about the only class that ain't got no classes in it, because it sure wouldn't do no good to be a sissy this year.

Say mom, you'd better send me some more neckties because my roommate said that those I got is terrible and ain't fit to wear.

Your son,

BADLUCK.

GLIDER HITS THE DUST

Sideslipping to Ground in Gust of Wind—Student Uninjured

Sideslipping to the ground in a gust of wind, the glider owned by the Kansas State Aeronautical Association was badly damaged Sunday when it buried the tip of its wing in the ground, tore off several wing ribs, and buckled the fuselage. A student riding in the glider at the time of the accident was not injured.

The wires were snapped and the covering torn from the wing in the crash. The glider will be repaired as soon as possible, according to Prof. C. E. Pearce, faculty sponsor of the association.

A similar accident was experienced a year ago on "Engineering Day" when the glider sideslipped into a fence and several ribs were torn from the wing and the fuselage broken. This accident was also due to a gust of wind.

"The glider being of the primary type will be easily repaired," Professor Pearce said. "Students will begin work on it this week and continue until the machine is ready for flight. The glider will be in condition by the end of this week or shortly after."

This machine is owned by the aeronautical association and during the past has been flown twice a week by students interested in gliding.

A KANSAS RADIO TALK

A. W. Johnson of the state highway commission presented the eighth radio talk of a series "From Your Car Window" over station KSAC Saturday. The program was sponsored by Prof. C. H. Scholer, head of the department of applied mechanics.

Johnson's talk concerned his automobile trip recently through the Smoky Hill region. He described places of historical, economical, geological, and literary importance.

Johnson told of Harkley's elevator at Minneapolis which has been the subject for many paintings and etchings during the past several years. McPherson, he said, is an economic paradox in this depression. Since 1929 it has become the center of the most important oil field in Kansas.

The speaker also told of his visit to the little village of Rock City one of the most interesting geological mysteries in the state and of Solomon Valley which forms the setting for "The Peace of Solomon Valley" by Margaret Hill McCarter.

NEW HOMEMAKING DISPLAY

Exhibits Recently Placed in the Show Cases in Calvin Hall

A new homemaking display was recently placed in the exhibit cases in the basement and on the second floor of Calvin hall. Hand decorated China, loaned by Miss Margaret Ahlborn, assistant dean of the division, is arranged in the south case on the basement floor.

The evolution of the Practical Cookery and the Etiquette or Service of the Table is shown by copies of the different editions of each book and of the combined book. Practical Cookery originated in 1907 with a pamphlet on canning and confections. The second edition (1912) and the third edition (1913) were larger cloth bound books containing recipes for all classes of foods. The fourth edition (1921) and the fifth edition (1925) resembled the Practical Cookery now used the 1932 edition.

SIGMA XI ELECTS

Dr. John Parker Chosen President of Research Organization

Dr. John H. Parker, professor of agronomy, was elected president of the local chapter of Sigma Xi at a meeting held October 24. Sigma Xi is a national honorary research organization for students and faculty members.

Other new officers for the year 1933-34 are as follow: Prof. H. W. Cave, vice-president; Dr. Roger C. Smith, secretary; Dr. J. L. Hall treasurer; Prof. R. J. Barnett, and L. E. Conrad, executive committee; and Dr. Martha Kramer, Dr. H. P. King and Dr. E. C. Miller, membership committee.

The local chapter was first organized in 1923 as the Sigma Xi club and was composed of 59 active and 10 associate members from the faculty who had been elected to the society at other institutions.

In the report of the retiring secretary, Dr. C. W. Colver, to whom goes a large part of the credit for the success of the chapter, it was recorded that the present membership is 81 active members, 18 associate members, and two alumni members.

Election to membership in Sigma Xi is based primarily on the recognition of promising research ability in students. Lectures which bring research workers from various parts of the world to the campus are sponsored by the organization during the college year.

The architectural department will end an exhibition of art and architectural work to the Olathe high school to be permanently displayed there. The exhibition will consist of water colors, fine arts work and architectural drawings.

Kansas State, by virtue of its 6-0 victory over Kansas U. Saturday, took undisputed possession of second place in the Big Six conference race. The game was K. U.'s first conference battle, and dropped the Jayhawkers to the cellar, along with Missouri.

Nebraska, with a 16-7 victory over Oklahoma in a ragged game at Lincoln Saturday, is in first place with three victories and no defeats, and appears headed for a third consecutive conference championship. The Huskers only remaining conference games are what appears to be a setup with Missouri Saturday, and a battle with K. U. Armistice day. Oklahoma's defeat dropped the Sooners to third place. Iowa State's 14-7 triumph over the hapless Missouri Tigers Saturday elevated the Cyclones to fourth place in the conference. The Tigers are still in the cellar, with two losses and no victories.

"Ann Vickers"

This story from the novel by Sinclair Lewis is purely for sophisticated. Irene Dunne plays the part of Ann Vickers whose career means everything to her—she refuses to let marriage enter into her life. However, she is not averse to love, and Bruce Cabot and Walter Huston complicate the situation a bit. She goes through the various stages of a reformer; first being a social worker, and finally starting the ideal women's prison. At the end of the story she decides that marriage is better than all the careers in the world. Edna Mae Oliver relieves the drama of the show with her comedy.—J. L.

The high spot of yesterday's holiday was the game between the Varsity and Frosh squads. The game was played amid much falling down by both teams, cheered on by "peppy" (?) songs from the east side of the stadium.

Contrary to the report that Freddie Garrison was in a wreck last weekend, he only dived off of a retaining wall thinking that he was in a swimming pool! Disgruntled because the game came out the wrong way, the K. U. P. K. A.'s walked off with some of the local frat's (if you don't believe this is a fraternity look it up in Baird's manual) most prized possessions. Too bad they didn't get Phi Hackney!

WILDCATS WIN FROM KANSAS U. BY PASS ROUTE

6-0 VICTORY OVER JAYHAWKS
BOOSTS K-STATE STAND-

MORGAN TO STOREN DOES IT

Kansas State Halfback Receives Throw Behind Goal Line—Defensive Play Predominates in Contest

(By the Collegian Sports Editor)

A touchdown pass from Quarterback Lee Morgan to Halfback Oren Storer early in the third quarter gave the Kansas State Wildcats a hard-earned 6-0 victory over the University of Kansas Jayhawks before a Dad's Day crowd estimated at 17,000 at Lawrence Saturday. This victory boosted the Wildcats into second place behind the Nebraska Cornhuskers, and shoved the Jayhawks into last place along with the Missouri Tigers.

The play that scored the touchdown came after two minutes had elapsed in the third period. A 70-yard punt by Storer rolled out of bounds on the K. U. 6-inch line. The Jayhawks immediately punted out of dangerous territory. Storer signalled for a fair catch of the kick, but was roughed and Kansas penalized 15 yards, placing the ball on the K. U. 10 yard line.

After the Wildcats failed to gain on two plays through the line, Morgan faded back and tossed the ball to Storer, who received it behind the Kansas goal line for the score. Griffing's try for the extra point went wide.

The game failed to produce many thrills, as it was, throughout, a defensive one. Both lines battled hard and held the backfield aces of the opposing teams to short gains. The Jayhawk line was the stronger of the two, but the superiority of the Wildcat backfield made up for this. Both fullbacks, Captain Ralph Graham for Kansas State, and Ormand Beach for Kansas, did great work in backing up their respective lines on defense. In the line Harter, Forbes, Hanson, Wertzberger, Maddox, Griffing, and Blaine played well, while in the backfield Morgan, Bushby, and Storer, and Graham proved difficult for Kansas.

The first half went by without either team coming close to a score. They both battled on nearly even terms. Following Kansas State's score in the third quarter, the Jayhawks made several drives deep into Wildcat territory, but they failed to materialize into scores. The first was stopped on the K-State 13-yard stripe when Bushby intercepted a Jayhawk pass batted into his hands. Again Kansas came down the field, but the Wildcat line stiffened and held them for downs on the Wildcat 13-yard line.

With a 6-point lead to keep, the Wildcats battled hard through the remaining part of the game to keep possession of the ball as long as possible. When the Jayhawks did get the ball, they opened up with a flurry of passes that failed to get them anywhere.

Russell proved to be the best ground gainer of the game, making 39 yards in 13 attempts. Graham made 32 yards in 18 attempts.

Big Six Grid Notes

(By H. S. Neyhart)

Nebraska 16, Oklahoma 7
Big Bob Dunlap, all Big Six quarterback from Oklahoma, seems to have paved the way for Nebraska to retain the Big Six championship when he let Boswell of Nebraska fall on the kickoff in his own end zone.

With this good start Nebraska added another touchdown before the half ended and kicked the extra point making the count Nebraska 13, Oklahoma 0. But in the third quarter Boswell fumbled and Little of Oklahoma recovered on the Nebraska nineteen yard line. Then after a pass and several line plays Dunlap went over for Oklahoma's only touchdown. The kick for the extra point was good. Finally, in the last quarter, Masters kicked a field goal to clinch the game for Nebraska. The final score was Nebraska 16, Oklahoma 7.

Iowa State 14, Missouri 7

Iowa State turned back Coach Carideo's Tigers in a sensational battle at Ames last Saturday. The game was a battle of offenses. Both teams made long runs but the Cyclones had the most punch when the goal line was in sight.

In the fourth quarter with Iowa State leading 7 to 0, Missouri made its only touchdown with a pass from Hatfield to Lochiner to tie the score. The Cyclones, however, were not through and on a blocked punt got the ball on the Missouri forty-two yard line. After a long pass and several line plays the Cyclones got their winning touchdown.

MEN'S INTRAMURALS

The Phi Kappa Taus and Sig Eps, co-leaders in group 1, meet tomorrow in a soccer game which will decide the winner in that bracket. In other brackets the Delta Taus, the Kappa Sigis and Sigma Nus have undisputed leads and will be the winners unless defeated this week.

In the only game played Friday the Phi Sigis and Aggie Knights battled to a 1-1 tie. The Phi Delts tied the Sig Eps 2 to 2 in the only game played yesterday.

Tonight's games are Alpha Kappa Lambda vs. Delta Tau Delta, Phi Kappa Alpha vs. Vets A. C., Phi Kappa vs. Phi Lambda Theta, and

Beta Theta Pi vs. Phi Delta Theta. Tomorrow's schedule, besides the Sig Ep-Phi Tau scrap, includes games between Alpha Tau Omega and Alpha Gamma Rho, Wesley Foundation and Kappa Sigma, and Theta Xi and Acacia.

PLANS FOR WOMEN'S GYM

Designs for a women's building for Kansas State college are being drawn by K. P. Hincheliff, Manhattan, as his term thesis problem. The designs include offices for the dean of women, Y. W. C. A., W. A. A., and the women's athletic administration.

A large gymnasium, a swimming pool, and play rooms are outstanding features. The building is planned for an immediate enlargement in case of increased enrollment. The probable location of a new women's building, if one is built, will be south of the engineering building and near the home economics building.

AT THE DICKINSON

"I'm No Angel"

Mae West has proven to the film directors and public that a pretty face and slender figure are not always essential to make a feminine movie star enticing. She does more with hips and eyes in two hours than any world-wide "Get Your Man" organization could do. Before "The End" Mae West decides to rush her sex appeal on only one man rather than divide it between the world's male population. The show was so popular that it was impossible to decide whether school was not held yesterday afternoon because Kansas State beat K. U. or because Mae West was in town.—F. V.

equipment course has been dropped, and classes in farm structures, modern farm and home equipment, farm motors, land reclamation, and land improvement have been extended for both graduate and undergraduate credit. The course in land improvement has been renamed: drainage, erosion control, and irrigation.

The senior curriculum in chemical engineering calls for 16 hours instead of 17, resulting in one less hour at graduation, but totaling the same as the other engineering courses. Senior students will take four hours of elements of chemical engineering each semester, instead of three the first semester and four elective hours the second. A required inspection trip, and two elective hours replace a four-hour course in crystallography and mineralogy.

In the electrical engineering course all required inspection trips will come in the first semester instead of the last, and courses in electrical instruments and meters, and advanced alternating currents have been dropped.

Agricultural students majoring in landscape gardening instead of taking one hour of general zoology and one hour of elective will be required to take three hours of physiographic geology, and three of general history of architecture. Horticulture problems is reduced from a four to a two hour class. In the department of dairy husbandry a course in cattle breeding and selection is substituted for breeds and pedigrees. While in the poultry department the senior or graduate course in poultry management has been increased from two to three hours. Students in milking industry will take a required seminar instead of writing a thesis. Students majoring in animal husbandry and veterinary medicine will take a course in feeds and feeding.

The department of botany and plant pathology has dropped a three hour course on vegetable diseases. An insect ecology course of two hours credit is a new addition in entomology.

All special courses in teaching methods, and three courses in religious education have been dropped from the department of education. General psychology replaces A, B, and C. Animal psychology will be replaced by the psychology of exceptional children. Credits for practical teaching will range from one to four hours instead of a straight three hours.

Economics and sociology will substitute for an advanced accounting course for C. P. A. problems. History and government has dropped the course on national and state constitutions and in mathematics two three hour courses are offered for both graduate and undergraduate credit in the field.

of higher algebra and history of mathematics.

Undergraduates in music are required to take vocal ensemble.

In public speaking the undergraduate course in argumentation and debate II has been changed to advanced debate and extended to include graduate students.

Five one hour credit courses have been added to the curriculum of physical education for women: first aid, camp craft, intramural athletics for women, clogging and character dancing, and tumbling, pyramids and stunts. Principles of health is a new three hour addition.

In the division of home economics courses in positive child health, labor in the clothing and textile industries, and clothing II have been dropped. The individual clothing class is to have four hours credit instead of five, and advanced clothing three instead of four.

The seminar in food economics and nutrition will be a two semester course instead of one, and will net one to two credits each semester. A new course, clothing selection, carrying two semester hours credit has been added to the present curriculum.

IT TAKES HEALTHY NERVES TO RUN 308 AT BILLIARDS!

ERICH HAGENLOCHER, twice 18.2 balk-line billiard champion of the world. Healthy nerves have carried him through stern international competition to many titles. Mr. Hagenlocher says: "For successful billiard play, watch your nerves! I've smoked Camels for years. They are milder. They never upset my nervous system."

TALKING IT OVER calls for more Camels. Steady smoking reveals the true quality of a cigarette. Camels keep right on tasting mild, rich and cool... no matter how many you smoke.

A MATCHLESS BLEND

IT IS MORE FUN TO KNOW
Camels are made from finer, MORE EXPENSIVE tobaccos than any other popular brand.

Steady Smokers turn to Camels

"I know of no sport," says Erich Hagenlocher, "that places a greater strain on the nerves than tournament billiards. The slightest inaccuracy can ruin an important run. One simple rule for success is, 'Watch your nerves!' I have smoked Camels for years. I like their taste better. Because they are milder, they never upset my nervous system, and believe me, I smoke plenty."

There is a difference between Camel's costlier tobaccos and the tobaccos used in other popular cigarettes. You'll notice the difference in taste and in mildness—and Camels never jangle your nerves. You can prove this yourself. Begin today!

FAMED DANCERS TO APPEAR AT KANSAS STATE

UNDAY SHANKAR AND HINDU COMPANY HERE ON NOVEMBER 12

ELEVEN MEMBERS IN TROUPE

Dancing and Musical Event Sponsored by Mu Phi Epsilon and Orchestra, College Organizations

Uday Shankar and his Hindu company will present a program of dances and music at the college auditorium Tuesday evening, November 21, at 8:15 o'clock. Their appearance here is sponsored by Mu Phi Epsilon and Orchestra.

Shankar, who was discovered by Anna Pavlova, the famous Russian dancer, is himself a dancer of the first class, gifted with an exquisite sense of rhythm, and a fastidious taste in dress. He was graduated from the London Royal College of Arts in 1923, and made his debut in Paris in 1928.

His company is composed of three men, two women, and six musicians with 57 types of instruments. Simkha, a French woman, is his leading female dancer. She was trained by Shankar himself, and he claims a perfection for her which he could not find in the female dancers of his own race. The other woman in the troupe is his cousin.

This is the second year of Shankar's American tour. He has met with great success in every appearance of this tour, and with every new program he has presented new variations of his own to the dances which made each presentation new and thrilling.

TELEVISION SOON SAYS PROF. PASLAY

Regular Programs Will Be Broadcast By College Station Within Few Weeks

The transmission of regular television programs within the next few weeks is the expectation of Prof. L. C. Paslay, instructor in electrical engineering, who is in charge of the television laboratory. At present test programs are being transmitted and all equipment is being placed in order.

The schedule for this year has not yet been definitely decided upon but programs will probably be given on Mondays, Wednesdays, and Fridays, in the evenings. All equipment has been rebuilt so that two persons may now readily control it during sound and visual transmission where before four persons were necessary. This makes the sending of programs much easier and will encourage the building of amateur television sets in the state.

Heretofore no sound broadcasting has been possible except for local demonstrations, when the telephone has been used. At present Professor Paslay is conducting experiments which he hopes will enable them to transmit sound by radio at the same time as the visual transmission. If he is successful in broadcasting long-range sound and visual transmission at the same time, the sound transmission will probably be done over KSAC. Sound-proof curtains are to be installed in the studio.

Mr. Paslay, with the help of A. W. Rucker, graduate assistant, is also conducting tests on a new optical system which will project pictures in black and white instead of orange and black as the old scanning disc used to do. A new flying spot equipment has been installed, which will regulate the size of the pictures.

The federal radio commission has reassigned this station from 2150 to 2055 kilocycles. This change took place on November 1.

Professor Paslay is being assisted by E. L. Kent, Manhattan, a junior in electrical engineering.

Chester B. Freeman, who graduated from the department of architecture in 1932, has received a position in government work at Fort Riley. He will be in the drafting department under the construction quartermaster.

"PEGGY OF FLINT HILLS" A SPEAKER

Mrs. Willard Green Discusses Personalities of Journalism During Lecture Hour

Mrs. Willard Green, known as "Peggy of the Flint Hills," spoke to journalism students Thursday afternoon on "Personality in Journalism."

"Weather, seasons, and common things around us furnish the material for newspaper writers," Mrs. Green said. "The secret of writing about these things is the ability to clothe it in personality and color. To be able to 'clothe' it in personality, a writer should create his own individuality. He should be curious and learn 'all he can about everything.'"

In column writing it is originality that puts the writer across.

Mrs. Green is "Flint Hill Peggy" of the Chase County Leader, Cottonwood Falls. She also writes the column "Downsides" for the Topeka Capital. Mrs. Green is president of the Kansas Woman's Press association.

CO-ED SCHOLARS ARE HONORED AT DINNER

Betsy Seiler and Helen Vickburg Guests of Honor at Mortar Board Banquet

Betsy Seiler, Wamego, and Helen Vickburg, Talmage, were honored at the annual Mortar Board dinner Tuesday evening for having the highest scholarship average among the freshman women of last year. The dinner was held in Thompson hall at 6 o'clock.

Miss Seiler and Miss Vickburg, who are students in the division of general science, both had perfect grades or 3.0 averages. Their names have been placed on the Mortar Board scholarship plaque which hangs in recreation center.

Dorothy Blackman, Manhattan, was toastmistress and introduced the speakers, Miss Emma Hyde, associate professor of mathematics and president of the Mortar Board alumnae board last year, explained the objects and purpose of Mortar Board and introduced the present members. The Student Governing Association was the topic of the speech given by Helen Morgan, Newton.

Richard Herzog, Salina, sang three numbers, "I Hear You Callin' Me," "A Dream," and "Sweet Little Woman of Mine." The Mu Phi Epsilon string trio played "Dance of the Wood Nymphs" and "Lassie O' Mine."

The present members of the Kansas State chapter of Mortar Board introduced at the dinner are Ruth Langenwelter, Wichita, president; Florence and Kathryn McKinney, Bartlesville, Okla.; Oma Bishop, Abilene; Hollis Seaton, Goodland; Barbara Lautz, Amarillo, Tex.; Harold Reed, Holton; Dorothy Blackman, Manhattan.

TWO THEATRES REDUCE PRICES FOR STUDENTS

SENIOR MEN'S PAN-HELLENIC SUCCEEDS IN CUTTING CHARGE TEN CENTS

ADMISSION NOW 25 CENTS

Varsity and Dickinson Cooperate With Fraternities—Students Must Present Activity Books or Show Greek Pins

Through the efforts of two representatives of Senior Men's Pan-Hellenic council, Kansas State students, beginning tonight will be admitted to two theatres in Manhattan at a reduction from the regular price.

At the Dickinson theatre during the evening students will be admitted for twenty-five cents with the presentation of an activity book or if they are members of fraternities or sororities it is necessary only to show their pins.

At the Varsity theatre, with the presentation of an activity or a fraternity or sorority pin, a book of five tickets can be purchased for $1.25. The number of books that can be purchased is not limited.

Since the prices of the evening shows have been raised to 35 cents many of the students felt that they could not afford to pay the extra ten cents charged by the theatres. R. L. Parker, Kansas City, and J. R. Ketchersid, Hope, represented the organization in obtaining the reduction of prices.

"I feel that the students should back this and take advantage of the offer after the management of the two theatres cooperated in this manner," Parker said. This is the first time an opportunity of this kind has been offered to the student body.

A saving of ten cents can now be made on every ticket purchased in the evening at the Dickinson theatre, and a saving of 50 cents on the purchase of a book of five tickets can be made at the Varsity theatre.

THIRTEEN SUBMIT TO QUILL

Much Interest Shown in Membership Contest of Writer's Club Which Closed Wednesday

Seventeen original manuscripts were submitted by thirteen aspirants for membership in Quill club in that organization's semi-annual membership contest which closed Wednesday night.

As yet no close examination of the material has been made, but some of the manuscripts show unusual promise, according to Prof. H. W. Davis of the department of English, who is chairman of the membership committee. Most of the work submitted was done in the field of poetry and the short story. The American College Quill club is a national organization for the encouragement of literary effort and criticism among college students. Each member must consistently contribute original work while in college in order to retain his membership. Admission to Quill is only by the submission of one or more original manuscripts to a membership committee which also considers the character of the applicant as regards responsibility and capability for sustained literary effort.

Kenneth Davis, Manhattan, Chancellor of Ur Rime, Quill club's local chapter, expressed himself as pleased with the interest shown in the recent contest, as well as with the high quality of the work submitted. The manuscripts are now in the hands of the local membership committee, which is composed of Professor H. W. Davis, Professor C. E. Rogers, and Maria Morris of the college faculty, and Lucille Allman, Manhattan, and Paul Perry, Fredonia, student members.

GARGOYLE CLUB HIKE

Members of the Gargoyle club, architectural engineering organization, will hold a steak fry at Sunset park this weekend. At a recent meeting of the club, several pictures, taken by students at the World Fair during the inspection trip, were shown. The department of architecture has ordered another film to be shown at the next regular meeting.

ARTHUR WILLIS HIGH FRESHMAN

Scores 100 Per Cent in Each of Three Divisions of Freshman Tests

Arthur Willis, Hugoton, a freshman in chemical engineering, ranked the highest in the freshman aptitude tests with a percentile rank of 100 in each of the three divisions—general ability, mathematical ability, and linguistic ability. To receive the highest score is one of the outstanding honors to be attained in college, according to Dr. J. C. Peterson, head of the psychology department.

All freshmen are urged by Doctor Peterson to come to the psychology office, room 30, in education hall and receive their scores. The scores are given in the form of percentile ranks in general, mathematical, and linguistic abilities. A student's percentile rank indicates the per cent of his fellow classmates whose test scores are equalled or surpassed by his own. The test ranks have been sent to the individual deans to be used in helping students to adjust their study and work schedules and also to interpret difficulties in their work.

TRAGEDY OF BOOZE FIRST THEATRE PLAY

"Ten Nights in a Barroom" to Be Presented on Nov. 10 in Auditorium

"What will happen if the saloon returns," is the theme of the Manhattan Theatre play to be presented November 10. Originally the play was written for 1890 but Prof. H. Miles Heberer has taken a different angle for his production and the setting is to be for 1940. The costumes which have always been old fashioned will be modern, although Professor Heberer will not attempt to visualize how dress will be seven years from now.

When the play was given some years ago the audiences took it very seriously. Tears were shed. Two years ago the same play was given in New York and the audiences roared at parts which now seem ridiculous. The play will be treated as serious but will no doubt be humorous. The play once more becomes valuable with the repeal of the 18th amendment so near at hand.

According to George Davidson, Manhattan, business manager, the students have not supported the theater for the last several years. He feels that the students should support the theater as they do athletics. The theater has chosen a large cast and is to present three good plays this season. Success of the theater depends entirely on the students, Davidson says. Tickets will go on sale Wednesday at the box office of the auditorium and will be twenty-five cents plus ten cents for reserved seats.

FILM K. U.-K. S. GAME

Stirring scenes of the Kansas State-K. U. football game are now being shown at the Dickinson theatre. The four minutes of action are shown in connection with the regular program. Closeups of players, the touchdown by Stoner, and snaps of prominent persons who attended the game are features of the picture. The film, which was shown at the theatre yesterday, will be continued today and tomorrow.

ALUMNI BANQUET TONIGHT

Alumni of Kansas State college, Kansas university, College of Emporia, and the Kansas State Teachers college, Hays, will have reunion banquets at 6:15 o'clock this evening in Thompson hall.

About fifty Kansas State alumni will meet in the banquet hall. The Kansas university alumni will meet in the northeast corner of the dining room and the State Teachers college alumni will meet in the northeast room on the second floor. Moving pictures of the College of Emporia campus will be shown to its alumni in the tea room.

PRESIDENT OF WASHBURN IN ASSEMBLY TALK

"DREAM OF AN ADEQUATE GENERATION" SUBJECT OF TALK BY DOCTOR KING

SHOULD NOT PASS THE BUCK

Individual Responsibility Needed by Students Who Are Going Into the World—Shouldn't Think What Other Fellow Does

"The Dream of an Adequate Generation" was the title of an address by Dr. P. C. King, president of Washburn college, Topeka, at student assembly yesterday morning.

"This may be only a college executive's dream," Doctor King said, "but I am optimistic about colleges, teachers, and students."

"Students are going into the world and they need a larger acceptance of individual responsibility," he stated. "We must not think what the other fellow ought to do but what we ourselves ought and can do. How quick we are to wash our hands of certain situations and place the blame on somebody else. And I am pleading for a getting away from the American idea of 'passing the buck.'"

"A student must have a respect for the analysis of the scientific and the business world and if he is going to be adequate, he must bridge these two not in a parlor discussion but in the life of the street."

The speaker quoted from a French scholar who said of an American historian that he "neither feared Europe but loved America and tried so hard to understand her that he came to a level of moral power and intellectual clarity that was beyond the of his day and generation."

Doctor King was a vision of a stream of life made up of men and women who have a taste for the so-called cultural things of life, and who also have an imagination to lift the community situation to a higher level.

During the assembly program Max Martin played a violin solo accompanied at the piano by A. C. Jefferson. Both Mr. Martin and Miss Jefferson are members of the music department. Father Arthur J. Lucky of the Seven Doctors church led the devotionals.

PARRISH SPEAKS AT STUDENT FORUM

Discusses the Far East, a Land Now in Center of World Interest. Manchuria, the hot spot of the Far East, a region northeast of China proper, a land where lived the Manchus, a land that was home to a dynasty which had led the conquest of China in 1644, and held the Chinese imperial throne until its overthrow in 1911, was discussed by Prof. F. L. Parrish, department of history and government, at student forum Wednesday noon.

In his lecture Professor Parrish answered three questions—What is Manchuria? What people live there? and Why is it a hot spot?

"Except for a small bit of border on the Yellow Sea," said Professor Parrish, "Manchuria was completely shut in by three great powers: the Soviet republic, the Japanese empire, and the Chinese republic. This region, five times the size of Kansas, is subject to great extremes of temperature. Rainfall, though scanty, comes at the very time when it is most needed."

The interior of this region, he explained, is a great steppe or plain. Converging on this great plain are three important rivers: the Liao, the Nonni, and the Amur, which is navigable for 1500 miles. The ports, however, in the north are all Russian territory and in the south are controlled by the Japanese. The dominant occupations of this territory are agriculture and industry. The most remarkable product of farming being the soy bean; four million tons of which are exported annually.

SET PAN-HEL DANCE DATE

Freshman Greeks Decide to Hold Annual Party December 20

Saturday, December 20, was chosen as the date for the Freshman Men's Pan-Hellenic dance, at the regular meeting of the Freshman Men's Pan-Hellenic council at the Tau Kappa Epsilon house, Monday night, October 23.

The council decided that the dance should be formal for women and informal for men. The attendance of all fraternity pledges will be required at the dance and non-fraternity men will not be admitted. All senior Pan-Hellenic men will be invited. A uniform price, which has not been set, will be charged.

Not all of the plans for the dance have been made. The Wareham ballroom has been tentatively chosen as the place, although the name of the orchestra has not yet been announced.

Miss Hilda Grossman, instructor in the music department, was called to her home in Waverly, Iowa, Sunday, because of the death of her father.

'Red' Nichols Will Name Beauties At Royal Purple Ball

Famous Orchestra Leader to Appear in Person at Annual Social Event—Yearbook Sales Deadline on November 19—Sororities Hard at Work

After a tremendous shuffle of orchestra leaders and dates, the 1934 Royal Purple comes out victorious with the famous Red Nichols personally selecting the 1934 Royal Purple beauties and his twelve-piece orchestra playing at the Wareham ballroom, November 25.

Such an enormous crowd is expected at this social highlight of the year to hear this famous orchestra and watch the beauty review that the management of the yearbook has found it necessary to limit the crowd to 300 couples and sponsor an advance ticket sale in the Royal Purple office beginning Monday, November 5.

SANDZEN TO LECTURE HERE MONDAY NIGHT

"Modern Swedish Art" Subject of Illustrated Talk by Famous Kansas Artist

Birger Sandzen, Lindsborg, internationally famous painter and print-maker, will give an illustrated lecture on "Modern Swedish Art" in recreation center Monday evening, November 6. The lecture will begin at 8:15 o'clock.

The lecture will include a discussion of Swedish contemporary and folk art and is sponsored by the American Association of University Women. An admission charge of twenty-five cents will be made.

Professor John Helm, Jr., of the department of architecture said, in commenting on the lecture, "Sweden has done a great deal in the last two decades to revive the handicraft work for which Sweden of the last generation was famous. Since Sandzen was born in Sweden and is thoroughly acquainted with the art traditions of his country, he is especially qualified to speak on the subject which he has chosen for his lecture."

"Sandzen is considered the dean of Kansas artists," said Professor Helm, "and has had more influence on art in this section of the country than any other mid-western artist. English writers on print-making have said that Sandzen is one of America's greatest lithographers; some consider him the greatest American artist in this field."

The slides for Professor Sandzen's lecture were loaned by the American-Scandinavian society of New York City. Tickets may be obtained from Professor Helm; Prof. J. E. Rogers, head of the department of journalism; Prof. H. T. Davis, head of the department of English; and Miss Dorothy Barfoot, head of the department of art.

FORESTRY CLASS TRIP

Prof. W. F. Pickett's farm forestry class visited the state experiment station at Hays, Friday and Saturday. Points of interest inspected by the class were the state nursery and the state park in which one unit of 200 members of the C. C. C. has nearly completed its six months period of work in pruning trees, and cleaning up the grounds.

W. A. Copenhaver, who graduated from K. S. C. in 1933 in landscape gardening is the superintendent in charge of the conservation corps at Hays.

Members of the class who made the trip were R. T. Romine, Manhattan; D. H. Woodman, Manhattan; E. L. Eshbaugh, Manhattan; L. L. Kelly, Manhattan; W. R. Schibler, Manhattan; W. M. Lehman, Wathena; D. K. McKenney, Solomon; J. J. Ramsbottom, Munden; and Q. Q. Hoglund, Miller.

PHOTOGRAPHS ON DISPLAY

Thirty-five photographs by eleven local photographers were accepted by the committee of judges and are now on display in room 67 of Anderson hall.

Except for six prints by Floyd Hanna they are all amateur work. This work shows decided improvement over that done last year. Those in charge of the exposition believe the local photography club is partly responsible for the improved work.

The following have contributed to the exhibit: Floyd Hanna and George Wiley, Louisa, Everhardt, Mrs. George Wiley, Edward Humston, Vera Ellithorpe, Edward Wimmer, E. T. Keith, Mrs. H. R. Bryson, K. W. Given, and James Machir.

This world's most popular recording leader will review the beauty candidates in the presence of the dancers at 10 o'clock and promptly at 11:15 o'clock will personally present the grand beauty queen and the four beauties. These winners will each receive a full page picture in the new 1934 yearbook which will be published this spring with Kenneth Harter, El Dorado, as editor.

Midnight, Sunday, November 10, will be the positive deadline for the annual sorority book sales campaign. All sorority pledges and actives will work hysterically during the next and last two weeks in order to reach the book sales number necessary to enter candidates during this terse annual campaign. Competition has been made much more difficult by the yearbook staff requiring each sorority to sell twenty-five books in order to enter one candidate and fifteen more book sales for the second, ten additional books for the third, and five more for the fourth.

No unlimited number of prospective beauties from each house will be offered after they have reached a certain number of sales as it is last year.

The sororities, Clovia and Van Zile hall, are permitted to count all the Royal Purples sold in their houses and any sales to underclassmen in school, any instructors, departments or anyone outside of the college providing they have not already made arrangements for their books at the Royal Purple office. Seniors outside of sororities are not included in this contest. The yearbooks will be sold for $4.00 only during this campaign. The sellers are permitted to accept two dollars and one-half in down payment and a dollar and a half later, or the entire payment.

Each book sales manager elected by her organization is asked to come to the Royal Purple office today and report the number of books sold up to date and check in the money. At the closing of the contest, if her organization has at least one beauty entrant she will receive a free pass to the Royal Purple Beauty ball for her date and herself, the same as the beauty candidates. These chosen representatives will make appointments on the first Monday after the closing deadline at the Studio Royal to have their pictures taken in formal dress, posing any way they wish.

These pictures will be sent to Red Nichols the day before the ball so he can study them, formulate ideas as to their appearance and names. This will however have no direct bearing upon the personal appearance review selection by the leader.

Red Nichols and his band have just completed a successful summer at Ritz Carlton Hotel, Atlantic City.

PRICE DISCRIMINATION

We aren't as tickled over the reduced theatre prices for students—obtained for us by the earnest efforts of two hard-working campus politicians—as we perhaps should be. The reduced admission charge, you see, does not obtain for townspeople.

No doubt we are idealistic and therefore—from the politicians' standpoint—impractical, but it seems to us distinctly unfair in a case of this kind to make price discrimination either for or against any group of people. Why should students pay ten cents less for a picture show than townspeople pay for seeing the same show? Are college students with their, we fear, largely theoretical intellectual superiority, less entertained by Hollywood clap-trap than working-men? We doubt it. And are students financially less able to pay for their amusement than working-men? We doubt that they are.

Perhaps theatre prices have been too high in Manhattan. But if they have been, our contention is that students needn't attend the theatres. If the theatre managers thought that their high admission prices reduced attendance they'd promptly reduce their prices.

Our suggestion to the Pan-Hellenic council is that it use its vast powers in the future to more valuable ends.

IF JACK'S A DULL BOY

Everybody will agree that "all work and no play makes Jack a dull boy."

One of the primary aims of the athletic department of the college is to develop physical tone and harmony among members of the student body. The opportunities for physical exercise, after several hours of hard mental exercise are open for the student and should be used.

For the freshmen and sophomores of the college, a two-hour per week physical exercise program is required, and members of these two classes are provided with enough bodily activity to insure a healthy body. Members of the other classes, however, are not assured of a plan for physical exercise, and as a result do not always get the exercise which is important to health.

There are many places where students who are not enrolled in physical education courses can get valuable exercise. During fair weather, the tennis courts offer an opportunity for muscle relaxation and activity. Intramural games are also a source of recreation for a large number of students. Handball, basketball, baseball, gymnasium work, boxing, wrestling, and track are other possible diversions which will keep the student healthy.

If Jack, therefore, begins to get dull about this time of the year, the thing to do is to see that he gets plenty of good physical exercise. If Jack remains dull, perhaps he hasn't learned to play, and if he has worked too long without play, it might be a long time before he can enjoy this one great medicine for people who are dull.

OUR RELIGIOUS LIFE

At the beginning of each school year, the dozen or more churches in Manhattan, extend by letter and other means of communication a sincere welcome to students to attend their services on Sunday. The churches, realizing the need for religion in the life of the college student, are working constantly for a better attendance on the part of the students, and at times devoting their program entirely for their benefit.

The churches in Manhattan deserve the appreciation and attendance of Kansas State students. Of the many institutions in the city, the churches, undoubtedly, perform a far better service to the public, and to the college, than is usually realized.

Going to church should not be considered as an inferior extra-curricular activity. The benefits realized from church attendance are numerous. Some of the most influential student leaders of the college are members of churches, and they go regularly, because they obtain mental and spiritual rewards.

One of the most usual excuses for not going to church, perhaps, is the lack of time. But this is not a good excuse. Going to church takes only one hour each Sunday—sixty minutes, during one day of each week. And after one hour in church you're bound to feel a lot better, and your time will be well spent, too.

The Editor's Desk

The importance of getting away from the old American idea of "passing the buck" was stressed yesterday by Dr. P. C. King, president of Washburn college, in his address in student assembly. Doctor King's statement in regard to national government could also apply to student self-government. "Passing the buck" has long been a system which students in college have resorted to, and it will be a great day for colleges when such practices are forgotten.

Birger Sandzen, the dean of Kansas artists, and internationally famous painter, will give an illustrated lecture at recreation center Monday evening. It is not often that Kansas State students get an opportunity to see and hear an artist of his type. Born in Sweden, Mr. Sandzen will discuss "Modern Swedish Art." Students will be spending their time at an advantage by attending the lecture.

The college is fortunate this year in obtaining a program of music and dances by Uday Shankar and his Hindu company. Their appearance here, sponsored by Mu Phi Epsilon and Orchestra, is scheduled for November 21.

Those responsible for the engagement of these musicians and dancers deserve the congratulations of the student body. The fact that Shankar has met with great success in every appearance during his tours over the United States makes his visit here an important event of the school year.

The Senior Men's Pan-Hellenic council has succeeded in getting a reduction of prices for students who desire to attend picture shows at two theatres in Manhattan. It is doubtful that such an activity by the organization was really valuable. With so many worth-while activities which could be carried out by this organization or any other similar group, it seems deplorable that the council should direct their energies to such petty ends.

The Snooper

Thanks to somebody we found that the Betas became quite hostile the other night when some sorority pledges tried to get some corn (fodder) for a party out of the cornfield that the Beta Aps keep going so well. The following morning the sorority found a shock of the corn on their front porch. Surely the Betas don't hide their in that corn field.

The Pan-Hell group that boasts of having the Sig Ep politician and the Phi Sig Burr-head in their midst has reduced the prices of the shows by their ability to swing favoritism etc., in any direction. Co-operation with P. D. Roosevelt (the president of the U. S.) was obtained through middle-men who carried communications direct to the Sig Ep and Phi Sig houses.

Tomorrow about 200 teachers swarm into our quiet little city to unleash their stored up enthusiasm. (We will call it enthusiasm anyway). These teachers, hardy and under-paid lot that they are, come into our midst to discuss "Better Heating for One Room Schoolhouse" and debate will take place at the hide out of the Salvation Army, located in the rear of Bell (P) Lutz clothing store. The subject will be "Resolved: That Repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment is Again Our Ethics as School Teachers of Kansas." A few other things will happen, some too numerous to mention, others not fit to mention, and still others that we would rather not even think about.

A certain freshman wants to know if the Pi Phi's teach their pledges to wink when they say hello. Or are they using these tactics just to get-around this year?

Badluck, The Freshman

monday night 10pm

Dear folks—

Well, I am sure staying up late doing my studying these nights because I am a real college feller now and all of us fellers hardly ever go to bed before 10 o'clock. That is pretty late, but you've got to be able to take it in college.

Say mom you ought to see the pretty coed I met the other night at a party. She is sure a swell girl and I'll bet all those girls I knew in high school there at home would sure be mad at me if they knew I was such a big shot here at college. We are going to the show tomorrow night, if she don't have to study but I don't think she will because she is one girl that is beautiful and smart at the same time. Anyway, I've quit eating so many hamburgers every day, so I could save my money and go to the show and buy some pop afterwards.

Those doughnuts you sent to me were sure swell mom. I guess my room-mate liked them too because when I came home the other morning there was only one left in the sack and my room-mate was just about sick from eating so many. I asked him yesterday if he liked oatmeal cookies, and he said no, so I guess the next time you'll better send me oatmeal cookies instead of doughnuts.

It looks like all the seniors have forgot about us freshmen being in school because none of them are carrying paddles anymore, and it is sure easy on all of us freshmen. But I guess it must be all right to have it this way because I haven't heard no freshman yelling that he wanted to get paddled lately.

Say pop the next time you go to town to sell some butter and eggs you'd better go down to the store and get me some shoes. These I am wearing now are all worn out from walking so much.

Your son,

BADLUCK.

Ps—Don't worry about me getting enough sleep because I'm not going to stay up until 10 o'clock again anymore.

ART EXHIBIT IN ANDERSON

Interior Decoration, Glass-Ware and Clothing New on Display

When Kansas teachers visit the campus next week they will be invited to view the art department exhibit on the third floor of Anderson. Interior decoration of two rooms, a dining and a living room, and a museum will be included. Antiques which have been restored to former beauty are combined in a modern manner in the two rooms.

The museum, which is being completed for the visiting teachers, contains a number of glass cases holding modern porcelain, glass, wedgewood, Chinese art work, Indian pottery, peasant costumes, and colonial quilts, shawls, coverlets, and spinning wheels. There is a collection of old bonnets and hats, a Paisley shawl, India print hangings on the wall, etchings, lithographs, and crayons including some work by Birger Sandzen, a Kansas artist.

A prehistoric clay bowl of Indian origin is also included in the exhibit. A cradle and child's high chair dating from the colonial period, Japanese prints, and wall hangings in modern prints are also to be found in the museum. The museum and interior decoration exhibit will be open to the public.

Y. W. GROUP HEARS STEWART

No Profit in War Says Professor of Sociology

"No country can profit by war" was the statement made by H. W. Stewart, assistant professor of economics and sociology, at the Y. W. C. A. world affairs interest group meeting Thursday night.

Using the topic "Inter-Governmental War Debts" as a basis for his speech Mr. Stewart listed five possible methods of payment. First by a shipment of gold from debtor to creditor nation. Second, by a transfer of moveable wealth, such as livestock and railroad equipment. Third by a return of foreign securities. Several countries tried this at first but the securities did not hold out. Fourth by borrowing from some other nation, and fifth by payment through the use of goods and service. This last method proved to be the only possible way of payment, and the U. S., as the main creditor nation, has raised high tariff barriers to prevent just this thing.

"In all probabilities," declared Prof. Stewart, "the debts will be paid by drastic reductions. Political reasons will prevent cancellation."

"College students can do their part by studying the debt situation, for not until confidence, which can be established through the settlements of debts, is restored will the largest barrier of the economic depression be removed."

The personality questions interest group had a cosmopolitan from Cole Brothers Dry Goods store discuss "Aids to the Improvement of Personal Beauty." A fashion show displaying correct and incorrect dress was presented at the clothes group meeting. The problems of personal religion group discussed Maud Roydon's, the famous English preacher, idea of the meaning of Christianity to the individual. Each girl's "most-favorite" poems were exchanged at the poetry and creative writing group meeting.

ARCHERS PLAY INDIAN

Seven little, eight little, nine little Indians—yes really!

The Indians were members of Miss Helen Saum's physical education

tion archery technique class. Tuesday noon the girls packed their bows, arrows, and a lunch and left for the Rotary camp west of Manhattan. They were accompanied by Miss Saum and Miss Lorraine Maytum, both of the physical education department.

Halloween has come and gone with the usual dire results. Some of the college students reverted to their childhood days and went out to ring doorbells. The Betas and the Pi K. A.'s (see last week's Collegian for identification) had a slight feud; they ran a race to see which could dump the most trash in the other's front yard. Dawn saw a goat tied in the Tri Delta front yard, and rotten eggs all over the front of the Pi Phi house. A bunch of the boys were whooping it up! . . .

Dona Keeney and partner won a prize for the best looking couple on the floor in Ellsworth last weekend. . . . Jane Harmon recently received an indelible lipstick from the roommate of one of her admirers, who complains that the accident one grabs the first thing upon entering the room to erase the traces—incidentally the first thing is usually the former's shirt! . . .

Jim O'Malley, of Phi Kappa Kappa, is supposed to be treading down the flowery path, and is about to put out his pin. Heaven forbid! . . . Sarah Garrison regrets having made a hasty decision during rush week when she made a date for the Kappa party. The moral to this story is: Take a second look! . . .

Big Six Grid Notes

By Herber S. Neyhart
Tomorrow's grid battles will show a definite change in the starting lineup of most of the teams in the Big Six. These changes are due primarily to injuries and to a desire for improvement on the part of the coaches.

Iowa State vs. Iowa U.

Iowa State looking forward to the Iowa university game tomorrow has made a complete change in its backfield due to the condition of Don Theophilus who received injuries in the Missouri game last Saturday.

Nebraska vs. Missouri

Johnson, Hatfield, Stuber and Davidson appeared in the Tiger backfield yesterday in a mock scrimmage against the second team. Coach Frank Carideo has been working them on a passing attack to use against Nebraska. The Tigers aren't conceded much chance of stopping the title-bound Cornhuskers tomorrow.

Kansas vs. Oklahoma

Kansas university and Oklahoma are going to have their annual grid-iron classic Saturday. This should be a hard-fought battle from beginning to end. Coach Ad Lindsey, realizing that his team lacked a scoring punch against Kansas State last weekend, has moved Ormand Beach into a blocking position in the line. This leaves Brinkman, Hall, Nesmith, and Harris in the principle ball juggling positions. Coach Lewis Hardage is expected to use nearly three full teams against the Jayhawkers.

MEN'S INTRAMURALS

The final games in the soccer group brackets will be played tonight. With victories this week, the Phi Kappa Taus, the Delta Taus, and the Kappa Sigs clinched the championship in groups 1, 2, and 3, respectively, but in group 4 the winner will not be decided until tonight's games are played. Sigma Nu, with three victories and no defeats, is in the lead, and will be the winner if victorious in tonight's game. However, if the Sigma Nus lose, and the Phi Sigs, who are in second place, defeat the TKE's, the race would end in a tie in this bracket.

Results of Tuesday's games are: Delta Tau Delta 5, Alpha Kappa Lambda 1; Vets A. C. 1, Pi Kappa Alpha 0; Phi Kappa 1, Phi Lambda Theta 1; and Phi Delta Theta 2, Beta Theta Pi 1.

Wednesday's scores are: Alpha Gamma Rho 2, Alpha Tau Omega 1; Kappa Sigma 2, Wesley Foundation 0; Acacia 2, Theta Xi 1; and Phi Kappa Tau 2, Sigma Phi Epsilon 1.

Tonight the Sigma Nus meet the Lambda Chis, the TKE's battle the Phi Sigs and Alpha Kappa Lambda plays Phi Lambda Theta.

Horseshoe matches are now in the fifth round. M. L. Carter, who won the singles championship last year, is still in the running, and is a favorite to repeat.

Basketball is the next intramural event. The first games will be played in two weeks, and already the various teams are practicing for the court game.

A radio is being given away at the Canteen. 16-1

Prof. H. W. Davis, of the English department, discussed "Early American Poetry" in a speech over station KSAC Tuesday. He presented samples of poetry written by William Bradford, Anne Bradstreet, and Michael Wigglesworth. He also read the twenty-third and 121st psalms as they appeared in the Bay Psalm Book.

Dr. S. C. Salmon, formerly of the department of agronomy, and Dr. M. A. McCall, both of Washington, will be here November 3 and 4 for conference with other government men here. They are connected with the United States department of agriculture.

Those attending the thirteenth annual potato show at Lawrence this week are Prof. L. E. Melchers and Prof. O. H. Elmer of the department of botany and plant pathology and Prof. W. B. Balch of the department of horticulture.

Professor Melchers and Professor Elmer are both members of the program committee, the former being chairman.

DEBATE TEAMS BEGIN SEASON ON RADIO TODAY

DONALD GENTRY AND DENNY OLMSTEAD SCHEDULED FOR ADDRESSES TODAY

TWELVE DEBATES THIS YEAR

Group of Radio Debates Will Go on Air Each Tuesday Afternoon—Dr. H. B. Summers Is Debate Coach

Labor provisions of the National Recovery Act will be argued this afternoon from 4:30 to 5:30 o'clock by Donald Gentry, Manhattan, and Denny Olmstead, Perry, N. Y., who will represent Kansas State college against Hastings college in the first of a series of 12 radio debates over station KSAC.

Kansas State's radio debate program is one of the most extensive of any of the larger schools in the midwest, according to Dr. H. B. Summers, debate coach. Last year 12 similar debates were given. The college has broadcast several debates each season for the past four or five years, presenting, on the average, from 15 to 20 radio debates each season.

This year's group of radio debates, of which the event with Hastings college is the first, will go "on the air" each Tuesday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock. Teams representing many of the colleges in the Valley Conference will take part in these radio debates. On November 14 Eugene Summerville, Manhattan, and Eugene Warner, Manhattan, will represent Kansas State college against Kansas university. They will discuss the question of "British System of Radio Control."

On November 28 James Westmacott, Chase, and Ned Kimball, Manhattan, debate against the debate team representing Doane college on "Socialism." On December 5, John C. Kauffman, Abilene, and Richard Donnelly, Stafford, debate against Central college of Missouri on the "Canadian Banking System." On December 12, Jessie Dean, Baldwin, and Helen Morgan, Newton, debate against Missouri university on the "British System of Radio Control," the same question as that with Kansas university. R. B. Kendall, Council Grove, and Edward Kelly, Manhattan, will debate against Crayton college, December 19, on the "Industrial Codes of the NRA." On December 26 Donald Gentry, Manhattan and James Rexroad, Hutchinson, will debate against Washburn college on the "Short Ballot." Assignments have not been made for the last five debates which are on January 2 with the College of Emporia on "State Supported Medical Clinics," January 9 with St. Benedict's college on "Inflation of Currency," January 23 with Maryville Teachers college of Missouri on the "Ontario System of Liquor Control," January 30 with Drake on the "Recognition of Russia," February 6 with Iowa State college on the "Agricultural Adjustment Administration."

Kansas State college students have debated in the last two years over KPAB and KPOR, Lincoln; WOW, Omaha; WHO, Des Moines; WOI, Ames; WRAF, Kansas City; KMBC, Kansas City; WIBW, Topeka; WCAU, Philadelphia; and other radio stations.

High school students from 20 to 30 schools will benefit by a series of six demonstration debates on the high school question, "Adoption of the British System of Radio Control," presented by Kansas State students in various cities in the state.

Eugene Summerville, and Eugene Warner, Manhattan, will give the first of the series Thursday night at Concordia against Nebraska university. BIG CROWD AT TEL-O-GRID

A large crowd of enthusiastic football fans attended the tel-o-grid play by report of the Kansas State-Michigan State football game Saturday at the college auditorium. The crowd was somewhat larger than usual because of the inability of students and friends of the college to attend the game at East Lansing, Michigan.

This was the fourth time this year that students and friends of Kansas State college have had the opportunity of hearing and seeing a play by report of an out of town football game. The tel-o-grid is sponsored by Sigma Delta Chi, men's professional journalistic fraternity, and the Kansas State athletic department.

KING A SPEAKER

Dr. H. H. King, head of the chemistry department, was one of the speakers at the alumni meeting at Hays Friday night. He spent some time reminiscing and recalling memories for the many graduates that attended that meeting.

Pres. H. L. Kent of the New Mexico State college, who was formerly on the Kansas State college faculty, was the principal speaker of the evening.

ROYAL PURPLE BOOK SALES ON NEW INCREASE

SORORITY MEMBERS WORKING HARD FOR BEAUTY REPRESENTATION IN YEAR BOOK

CANDIDATE DEADLINE NOV. 5

Reports of Books Sold and Money Collected Must Be Turned in Office Today—Results Soon

Royal Purple book sales have leaped up to startling figures after the announcement that the world famous orchestra leader "Red" Nichols, would pick the 1934 Royal Purple grand beauty and the four queens as his band plays for the Royal Purple ball at the Wareham ballroom, on November 25.

Sorority members, realizing that the final clamp on number of candidates will be strictly at midnight, November 19, are putting forth every effort and convincing sales talk to sell as many Royal Purples as possible so as to enter every prospective beauty available. Some sororities have sold their twenty-five books and are now soliciting the next fifteen for the second candidate. Their next goal will be ten and then five and their chances to win the honors for their house will then be four times as great.

Complete reports of books sold and money taken in must be checked in at the Royal Purple office at 1 o'clock today by the sorority book sales manager or their results will not be published in the next issue of the Collegian with the eleven organizations.

Lists of rooming houses and about 600 names of students living there have been sent out to each sorority so as to open a much larger field for the pledges to invade and sell books.

"With the yearbook price down to four dollars and sororities so eager to have "Red" Nichols select his member as beauty queen, every sorority is expected to have at least three or more beauty candidates take part in the Royal Purple beauty review," Kenneth Harter, editor of the yearbook, said yesterday.

AN INTEREST IN ART LECTURE BY SANDZEN

Large Audience Hears Famous Artist at College Last Evening

(By Charlotte Buchmann)

Picturesque Stockholm with its medieval flavor and remarkable modern architecture, cosmopolitan character and reserved people, was one of the features of emphasis by Birger Sandzen, Kansas artist, in his talk on "Modern Swedish Art" sponsored by the American Association of University Women last evening in recreation center. Mrs. J. E. Ackert presided.

The character of a people is reflected in its art and the art collections in public and private museums of Sweden surpass any other country of Europe. The architectural beauty of public buildings of the Scandinavian countries of Sweden, Norway, Denmark, and Iceland demonstrates also the artistic sense of the people, according to Sandzen.

The Lindsborg artist, who was born and educated in Sweden, displayed a great knowledge not only of Swedish art but of the personalities of the artists, many of whom are his personal friends and acquaintances.

The interest of the large number of people in attendance at the lecture never wavered in Sandzen's discussion of the various arts exemplified by these artists. The list includes wood engraving, oil painting, etchings, lithographs, and sculpture. Landscapes, especially snow scenes, portraits, figures, murals, animals, and photographs, were some of the forms adopted. Sandzen included also porcelain, copper, silver, gold, and stone ware in his discussion of Swedish art. The peasants are particularly responsible for a remarkably fine and cheap type of stoneware for household use, Sandzen said.

Slides loaned by the American-Scandinavian Foundation of New York were used by Sandzen to illustrate the points of his talk. This foundation, said Sandzen, sponsors an exchange of scholars, fifteen of which go to Sweden each year in return for twelve which yearly come to America to study any subject they wish on a $1,000 scholarship.

A NEW PHOTO DISPLAY

An exhibition of photographs by Dr. C. F. Taylor, of the state sanatorium at Norton, and by his assistant, Dr. C. Hall, is now on display in the art galleries of the engineering building.

Another exhibition of oil paintings by Bruce Moore and Ed Davison, Wichita artists, will go up November 11. Davison is a banker by vocation, but he has won national recognition as an artist. Twelve canvasses which have won prizes in eastern exhibits will be shown.

Manhattan and college people were unusually interested in the Savachek exhibition of etchings last week and many visitors came to see the pictures, according to Prof. Paul Weigel, head of the architecture department.

TRAGIC STORY IN MANHATTAN THEATRE PLAY

"TEN NIGHTS IN A BAR ROOM" ASSURES AUDIENCE PLENTY OF REAL DRAMA

TICKET SALES WEDNESDAY

College Play Covers Years 1940-50 Although Women Characters Will Wear Dresses of the '90's

Tickets for "Ten Nights in a Bar Room" will go on sale at 9 o'clock tomorrow morning at the box office in the college auditorium. The play will be presented Friday night in the auditorium and will start at 8:15 o'clock sharp, according to Prof. H. Miles Heberer, director of the play.

Romaine, played by Don Porter, Mt. Hope, comes to Cedarville and meets Simon Slade, landlord of the Sickle and Sheaf Inn, played by Harold Cary, Manhattan, and the village tippler, Sample Swichel, Loebmann Langston, Hutchinson. Romaine tells Swichel that he should quit drinking but Swichel doesn't think so, and Romaine also tries to persuade Slade to go back to milling and quit running a saloon, but doesn't succeed.

The three men then go to the inn and Joe Morgan, the town drunkard, played by Dennison Olmstead, Perry, N. Y., comes in. His small daughter, Mary Morgan, played by Theodora Mathes, Leoti, comes after him. Slade throws a beer mug at Morgan and it hits Mary. Morgan decides never to drink again. Ten years later Romaine comes to the village and finds Slade and his son still running the saloon. Both Slade and the son are drunkards. Morgan is the wealthiest man in town now and Swichel also has quit drinking and is working for Morgan. All those in the play who quit drinking went to the top and those who drank to the gutter.

Other characters are Harvey Green played by Donald Isaacson, Topeka; Mrs. Slade, the inn keeper's wife, by Beulah Geyer, Waterville; Mrs. Morgan, the drunkard's wife by Roberta Shannon, Geneseo; Willie Hammond by Carl Sartorius, Garden City; and Melchite Cartright, a sentimental Yankee girl, by Cora Oliphant, Offerle.

The play covers the years of 1940 to '50, predicting that the ladies will wear dresses then similar to those in the '90's. The original lines of the play will be used and no attempt will be made to burlesque the colorful situations.

George Davidson, Manhattan, business manager, believes the play will be worth the time and money of Kansas State students.

BELIEVES IN YOUTH

Dr. Daniel Poling, president of the National Youth Conference at New York, expressed his belief in the youth of today in his speech, "What Price Youth," at the Kansas State Teachers meeting Friday. He stressed the fact that young people today have many more temptations to withstand than did those of twenty years ago.

The speaker severely criticized the tendency of people today to "pass the buck." To develop a better people he declared the individual must accept more responsibility. He gave as examples people trying to evade responsibility; their unwillingness to testify in court; business men's willingness to pay fees to racketeers; and the average citizen's unwillingness to have the law administered impartially.

STUDENTS AND THE THEATRE

The opening play of the Manhattan theatre, "Ten Nights in a Bar Room" will be presented next Friday evening and once again students of the college should be reminded that the theatre deserves their support.

The Manhattan theatre is the one organization on the hill which presents each season the highest type of entertainment for Kansas State college students. During past years the theatre has built up a reputation of fine play productions and audiences have always been pleased with the presentations. The fact that the casts for the plays always consist of Kansas State students, picked by the director of the theatre, should make the play events an important part of the social calendar during the year.

The theatre, then, should be supported. If necessary, students should go without many of the luxuries during this week and attend the play next Friday evening.

REMEMBER PARENTS' DAY

A special day has been set aside this year for the parents of students of Kansas State college. They will be honored by their sons and daughters on November 18 and a special program has been arranged for their coming.

It is not often that Kansas State students are able to show respect and gratitude to their parents while away from home. A letter now and then, or perhaps a trip home during the weekend is about the only real contact that students make with their parents during the college year.

Parents' day will offer a splendid opportunity to students to entertain their mothers and dads at the college. An elaborate program has been prepared for the parents and the students will be hosts and hostesses during the day.

The success of Parents' day this year will depend largely upon the students. The first thing for students to do, therefore, is to write to their parents at once and invite them to the college for the day.

The parents, on the other hand, should visit the college whenever possible, and Parents' day offers a splendid opportunity for them to enjoy the day and see the college too.

Student committees, appointed recently, are now working on a program for the day. A representative group, consisting of members of S. S. C. A., Senior Men's Pan-Hellenic, Women's Pan-Hellenic, the Y. W. C. A., the Y. M. C. A., and Van Zile hall, will make arrangements for the event.

Parents will have an opportunity to meet important college officials at a banquet during the evening. Executives of the college are always glad to meet people who have sons and daughters in college.

Parents' day will be successful this year if students and parents cooperate, and while the event is yet ten days off, students should act at once and see that their parents are invited.

This is one season of the year when Mother Nature, inspired perhaps by her successful summer in the beautification of the landscape, transforms the members of her family into a display of color. Everywhere, along the countryside, down the avenues, in parks and gardens, the outdoor person enjoys her paintings—after a glorification of three months in green.

But it is not necessary for the outdoor person to go to the country to enjoy this striking art of Mother Nature. On the college campus are excellent examples of nature in color. The trees, the bushes, even the grass, are now in picturesque beauty—transformed only a few weeks ago at the close of the summer season.

It is not important that one be a naturalist to appreciate the results of nature's art. It is no more necessary that we understand in a technical way the things of nature in order to appreciate them than it is to know everything about music in order to enjoy the work of masters. Nature gives us the picture, and we are left simply to enjoy it, and talk about it while it is new.

Especially interesting are the oaks on many parts of the campus. Dressed in bright yellow robes, these sturdy trees will retain their leaves throughout the winter, dropping them next spring when fresh buds burst forth and produce a color transformation.

The Editor's Desk

Two Kansas State debaters will go on the air this afternoon for a discussion of labor provisions of the NRA. It is doubtful that the students who present their arguments today will have a large and appreciative audience. The debate, if presented in the college auditorium or any other college building, would be far more successful. Making it a broadcasting affair is destroying the real basis of enjoyment for the public.

Frank Sullivan, commander of the Kansas department of the American Legion, will be the speaker at the annual Armistice day assembly Saturday morning. The Armistice day exercises during past years have been perhaps the most impressive programs of the assembly events, and the address Saturday will be an outstanding talk of the year. The college R. O. T. C. units will occupy the center parts of the auditorium during the assembly.

Birger Sandzen, a Kansas artist, presented an attractive illustrated lecture last evening to an art-appreciative audience. Sponsored by the American Association of University Women, Sandzen told of Scandinavian art, a new phase of artistry on the Kansas State campus.

The "gay naughties of 1903" have recently come to life on the University of Idaho campus. Coeds have gone back to thirty years ago, and adorned their hair with ribbons while those fortunate enough to have long tresses have revived the old fashioned pig tail with a large ribbon perched on top of their heads. Men students have revived the handlebar moustache, and beard growing contests are the current rage. Students, it seems, must always be doing something foolish to attract attention.

Study and review are the big things this week. Students who have studied daily during the past nine weeks are having no difficulty now with their examinations. Next week the routine of study and going to school will not be interrupted except for "shot guns." The worries of students never cease.

The Snooper

Several Kappas were reported to have been seen at the dance in Aggieville last Friday night. Even the two Fowler sisters of Oswatoma fame enjoyed the change of environment. The elder Fowler evidently and apparently was stood up by a hot-shot freshman football player.

Howard Moreen, the bird-leg Sig Alph, talked over a national hook-up the other day at a radio station in Lawrence. Letters, telegrams, and fan-mail poured in but the one that was framed is a telegram—"Fine speech why go to farm to enjoy moon love?" The telegram was signed "Gerry." We wonder if Geraldine Hammond meant for this telegram to be punctuated?

The Welfare Board had a meeting and as usual severely criticized the local theatres for holding their shows past midnight last Saturday.

Students can save nine days of their valuable time by attending "Ten Nights in a Bar Room" Friday night.

For the information of the Ags—the sign "Kappa Pen" in front of the Kappa house Friday night was not the kind of pens they have down on the farm but it represented a penitentiary. The pen was run on the serve yourself system. The only bar in the whole place was in the basement where punch was served.

Badluck, The Freshman

Dear Ma and Pa:

Me and my 5-H club has been doing a lot of thinking lately on how we should run the school and it looks like we are going to have to do a lot of reforming on this campus.

For example, now pa, you'd be surprised at the number of students that sleep in class—mostly because they stay out after 10 o'clock at night and don't do no studying. I know one senior who never does go to bed before 10 o'clock and he is sure having an awful time learning his subjects.

Well, ma, I had a date with that coed I told you about last week, and I felt so good that night that I even held her hand when we walked home from the show. I guess it must have been the moon or something that night, because I sure felt kind of funny, and I couldn't think of much to say. Anyway I was smoking my pipe and tobacco that night to prove that I was really Badluck, the Iron Man who could take it, but pretty soon I began to get sick and I haven't smoked my pipe since. I guess this coed didn't like the smell of tobacco because she left me sitting on the curb when I got most sick of all. And I've called up three times since then and every time she's hung up just after I told her it was Badluck.

Ma, if you got any books on feminine psychology I wish you'd send them with my laundry the next time, on account of big shots has got to understand women.

I told my girl about Rebecca, our old cow, and about how much milk she gives when she is feeling good. But I guess she wasn't interested much because she said I sure had a man-street mind. I don't know what a man-street mind is but she sure said it like she meant it.

Well, it is about 9 o'clock now so I guess I'd better go to bed.

your son,

BADLUCK.

Ps—don't forget to send that psychology book.

A PHOTO-ELASTIC MACHINE

The department of mechanical engineering has received recently, a very elaborate machine for making stress analysis. The machine was constructed and designed in Germany. It was unpacked here from an air-tight case lined with sheet tin.

Since, because of its delicate construction, the machine might have been damaged in transportation it was immediately set up by members of the department and tested. It was found to be in excellent condition.

chine records on a camera plate a pattern of stress designs which the experimenter may examine at his leisure.

Although very few of these machines are in existence, the department of mechanical engineering constructed a workable model to be used for exhibition purposes last year at open house. Department officials regard the new machine as a great asset to the department and are convinced that its use in connection with the Begg's deformer, owned by the civil engineering department, will yield some very valuable information.

In regard to the Kappa party one of the male sex said, "And in to the valley of death rode the six hundred." However, the party is reported to have been a large success, especially for the little Garrison girl. . . . A very prominent Phi Delta wobbled into the Palace at 11:30 Saturday morning still appalled in his tux. Evidently he's anticipating Beauvais! . . .

Dick Seaton has resigned from the "True Blue" club, after receiving word from Illinois that Mary Holton is about to become engaged. . . . The Three Musketeers, Boone, Miller, and Menzie, are losing their grip. After reading all available helpful ads, they still didn't get a bid to the Kappa party. This is unparalleled in the history of this school! . . . Tyne Wagstaff, the big shot from Topeka high school, is a candidate for the "Home and Fire-side club." He has now had three dates broken with him. . . .

AT THE VARSITY

"Footlight Parade"

Warner Brothers have produced another musical comedy that surpasses "42nd Street" and "Gold Diggers of 1933." The cast is practically the same although James Cagney has a leading part in "Footlight Parade."

Ruby Keeler and Dick Powell as usual are very good in their singing and dancing roles with a little romantic interest on the side. Joan Blondell furnishes the comedy as the stenographer hopelessly in love.

The musical numbers are extravagantly staged; the cleverest one being "Shanghai Lil." The Human Waterfall is a beautiful number, but it is drawn out a bit too long.—J. L.

K-STATE OUTGAINS Foe

Slippery Field Hampers Famous Passing Attack of Both Teams
—First Tie Game for a McMillin Team

Kansas State battled the powerful Michigan State Spartans to a scoreless tie in an important inter-sectional game at East Lansing Saturday afternoon.

The game which attracted a Dad's day crowd of over 6,000, was the first tie game a Kansas State team has played in since "Bo" McMillin succeeded Charley Bachman, now Michigan State coach, as head Kansas State mentor. A slippery field hampered the famous passing attacks of both teams.

As the score indicates, the two teams were very evenly matched, with what little advantage there was going to the Wildcats, who made a little more yardage and fumbled the cold, wet pigskin less than their opponents. The first downs were Kansas State 8, Michigan State 10. A cold cross wind gave a distinct advantage to the team playing with it in each quarter. Michigan State had this advantage in the first and fourth quarters, and Kansas State in the second and third periods.

Most of the first quarter was a punting duel, but late in the period a Spartan offensive carried the ball to the K-State 9-yard marker for the first serious scoring threat of the battle. This was accomplished by a 21-yard pass from Armstrong to Captain McNutt, and line plunges by Armstrong and McCrary, a powerful negro fullback.

The Wildcats made two serious threats in the second quarter. To start things off Russell got off a long punt from his own 43-yard line which was downed on the M-State 5-yard marker. Kircher, the Spartan safety, got the ball go, thinking it would roll over the goal line. Bushby then caught Warmbein's short punt against the wind on the 24-yard line, and was run out of bounds on the 9-yard marker. On the next play Graham tried a center smash, but was stopped at the line of scrimmage. Russell went through left tackle for a 3-yard gain, placing the pigskin on the 6-yard line. However, on the next play a pass from Morgan to Graham over the goal line was ruled incomplete, and the Spartans took possession of the ball on their own 20-yard line.

Only a few minutes passed before the Wildcats were again in scoring territory. A pass from Morgan to Russell was good for 22 yards, placing the ball on the Spartan 37-yard stripe. Russell made a beautiful catch, leaping high into the air to take the ball. A triple pass, Morgan to Bushby to Graham, gained 21 more yards and placed the pigskin on the M-State 16-yard line. But this threat vanished when a long pass from Morgan to Munal was incomplete across the goal line.

On the first play of the second half, a 43-yard pass from Morgan to Bushby, the longest gain of the game, placed the ball on the M-State 30-yard stripe. After a pass was grounded by the Spartans, Russell made 6 yards through the line in two plays, but on the fourth down a pass from Morgan to Bushby was 6 inches short of a first down, and the Wildcats lost the ball. The Wildcats drove to the M-State 27-yard marker soon after, only to lose the ball on downs, and had another scoring chance when Bushby recovered a Spartan fumble on the Michigan State 29-yard line, but an offensive failed to materialize.

Michigan State got two good breaks in the last quarter, but failed to take advantage of either. Their first chance came when Graham fumbled on his own 21-yard stripe, and Brown of Michigan State recovered. An incomplete pass over the goal line halted this threat.

A little later Stoner got off a poor punt from his own 15-yard line when he was rushed badly, and the ball rolled out of bounds on the 19-yard stripe. Warmbein lost five yards on the first down, when he recovered his own fumble. Then he tried a pass, but it was incomplete. On the third down he was tackled for a yard loss after faking a pass. Stoner intercepted a pass on the next play to end the threat.

Women's Sports

The last half of women's intramurals for this semester begins next week. Volleyball and dancing, the latter consisting of social, clog, natural, and folk dances, will be held first. At the end of the season, a posture contest will close this year's intramurals.

Archery

Next Saturday, the Archery Technique students, begin their annual original shoot contest. The most difficult of the shoots promise to be a blindfold shot, by Eva Brownwell; a left-handed shot by Wilma Cook; and a moving targets shot by Lois Rosecrans.

A Major Club

Forty-eight women physical education majors have recently formed a Major club, and have elected Cora Oliphant, Offerle, as its first president. Although chiefly for the upperclassmen, there are representatives from the freshmen, and sophomore classes. Social meetings are held once a month, a different class taking charge of the entertainment each time. The senior division entertained the other members last Tuesday night with a Halloween party in the women's gymnasium, and the freshmen plan a Thanksgiving party this month. In December, the majors of the men's physical education department will be guests of the Major Club at a dance in recreation center.

A horseshoe ringer tournament will be held Saturday, in which one representative from each organization will compete. The man to throw the most ringers out of 25 attempts will be the winner. Each candidate will have a chance to throw three blocks of 25 ringers.

HOSPITAL HAS VALUE

The main purpose of the student health department is not to issue pink cards to enable the student to re-enter class, but to prevent sickness and offer medical aid to the students, according to Dr. C. M. Siever, college physician.

In case of accident or sudden illness while on the campus, Doctor Siever advises that the patient be brought to the office in Anderson hall, or to the hospital, rather than call for a nurse or one of the physicians to come to the scene. By doing this it enables the department to give them better care, because the necessary equipment is on hand. Stretchers are available at Nichols gymnasium, student health office in Anderson hall, and at the college hospital.

AT THE DICKINSON

"The Bowery"
The most famed street of the globe—the Bowery—with its betting, beer, and bustles, lives again. In an atmosphere of Brooklyn bridge, Carrie Nation, and the Police Gazette, move the real characters of the '80's. The story concerns the ups and downs of one Pat O'Connor (Wallace Beery), hard fisted, warm hearted Bowery boss, who tries to convince himself that dames are bad. His adopted son, "Swipe" (J. Cooper), dislikes "skits" and the yellow race.—M. M. R.

NEW GLIDER POSSIBLE

Because the primary glider was almost completely demolished in a wreck last week, the glider club is considering the construction of a secondary glider. The secondary type of glider is of a much more delicate construction and demands a skilled pilot to operate it. The factor that will probably prevent the construction of such a glider at the college is the lack of shop room for housing the long wings.

In carrying out a study of the theory of glider operation, Prof. C. E. Pearce, of the machine design department has just completed a series of four lectures to the glider club on the phases of aeronautic science, design, and construction.

OUR FOOTBALL TEAM

It is high time for the students of Kansas State and the townspeople of Manhattan to realize that Bo McMillin this year has one of the strongest, if not the strongest, football team which has ever represented this college. Right here on this campus the Wildcats are held with less respect than in any other part of the country. Of course there are a few who have had faith in the team right along, but they have been in the minority.

The play of the team this fall, especially in the last three games, has not surprised the football wisemen, but most of the students and townspeople have been amazed, and still there are "doubting Thomases." Coach Dana Bible of Nebraska expected a hard game, and he got it. In fact, he was quite lucky to win at all, winning when several of the Aggies had a mental lapse, and looked for their headgear when the ball was in play. But still the "doubting Thomases" were doubtful, and said the Wildcats were lucky they didn't get beat four or five touchdowns.

Then came the K. U. game, and most students went to Lawrence expecting their team to get a good trouncing, although all the previous week Coach Lindsey had admitted openly that he was afraid of the K-State aerial offensive, and despite the fact that Grantland Rice in his column predicted a close Wildcat victory. But still we heard, "The Aggies were lucky, weren't they?"

The Michigan State game brought on the same situation, with most of the students not giving the Wildcats a chance to win. They didn't win, but they played a tie game, and again the remarks of surprise were heard, although Grantland Rice in his predictions Friday called the game a toss-up. Michigan State has a strong team, of course. They proved that fact when they romped on a major eastern eleven, Syracuse University, 27 to 3, but Kansas State is strong too—the 0 to 0 result was no upset.

This inferiority complex started early in the fall, when it was thought that "Bo" wouldn't have a thing to put in his line, and that the backfield would be nothing extra. Many remarks were heard to the effect that Kansas State would be lucky to win a game, and that we were certainly doomed for the cellar in the Big Six race. But instead, the inexperienced line has developed marvously, and the backfield is exceptional.

Students of Kansas State should get behind their team and have more confidence in it. It is one of the very strongest teams in the Missouri Valley area. It has a passing attack dreaded by every opponent; it has a backfield which has gained nationwide recognition; and it is a team which can give any eleven plenty to think about in sixty minutes.

We have a team to be proud of!

CAMPUS QUESTION MARKS

What student hasn't had the annoying experience of having in his class one of those persons who questions, who argues, who disrupts the whole class period by his persistent disregard for others?

A healthy interest in a subject is a good thing to have, but such an interest should be neither the excuse for nor motive for carrying out what eventually becomes a dialogue between the student and instructor, with the class looking on as a bored and restless audience.

If the student has questions bearing on a point which has been brought up for class discussion, let him ask them. But if it is evident that a question does not bear on the subject as a whole, or that everyone else has grasped the situation, or that it is irrelevant from the standpoint of importance or subject matter, then the proper thing for the student to do is to take the question to his instructor after class period has closed. He should not be allowed to impose on the courtesy of the instructor and the endurance of the class.

The person who monopolizes the class room period in this way is guilty not only of a breach in good manners, but of the more serious offense of wasting everyone's time. On top of this, there are many cases in which a specified amount of work must be covered in a limited time, and by holding up the class for his own selfish interests, the student is putting the entire class at a serious disadvantage by wasting time which might profitably be spent by them on further work.

The Editor's Desk

Many college students now spend some time in the afternoon listening to the radio broadcasts of Red Nichols and his orchestra. The fact that Nichols will choose the Royal Purple beauty queens at the ball on November 18 accounts for the increased interest in listening to radios. Nichols and his orchestra broadcast daily from the Muehlebach Grill over station WHB, Kansas City.

Someone has suggested that the reason Kansas University has not scored during their last three football games is because members of the team have joined the NRA. Unlike our national definition of the NRA, however, the letters are defined for the K. U. football team as "No Running Attack."

The director of the Manhattan theatre apparently doesn't appreciate the modern college student's pleasure in collecting mementos to "display in his room." Perhaps the student or students who lifted the Manhattan theatre signs from the billboards this week considered their appreciation of art superior to that of merely stealing the signs. And the queer things that college students do nearly always result in head scratching by those who can't understand the activities of modern youth.

Hundreds of football fans this year have enjoyed the tel-o-grids presented at the college auditorium during out-of-town football games. Sponsored by Sigma Delta Chi, men's professional journalistic fraternity, and the Kansas State athletic department, the tel-o-grids have been a real service to supporters of the football team. Tomorrow, the regular tel-o-grid will be featured by a 40-minute film of the Kansas University-Kansas State football game on October 28. The moving pictures will show highlights of the game and interesting scenes on the sidelines.

The Snooper

Can you feature the great Al Wilson, the Pi-K-Alfa red-eye, looking all over for some of his personal belongings that happened to be lost in an interlude that he was subjected to. It took Harry Rooney fifteen minutes to find Al's upper dental appendages and where he found them is the burning issue.

The Beta riff-raff, freshmen in case you don't know the Betas, have not checked up on some of the members in their lodge. Someone called for Charles Manly and the freshman said he didn't even know him.

It has been reported that Reva Jean Blankinship has been wearing a Phi Delta pin ever once in a while. Whether Jean has certain days to wear her new pin or whether she and Lucienne Hudson are working under the same plan where one wears one pin one day and the other the next—or something.

The following is taken direct from the "Kappa Keyhole" that is published ever so often. Biggest chiseler, Jane Harmon; Aggieville loofer, Lucienne Hudson; Best gymchewer, Frances Rosser; Social lioness, Helen Cickrell; (note: a social lioness is a woman who is queen of all other women in being liked by boys, etc.) Ingenue, Keeta Strong; Monumental heartbreaker, Lane Hill; Most unconscious, Maxine Fowler. Then the editor took the opportunity to brag a little when she said that some worthy Kappa turned down a date with Ralph Graham. A few other things of interest were also noted, but since you know that "Kappa Takes Hill" at Kansas State nothing further need be said.

Since Lawrence and Kappa know most every thing else we will have to call it a night.

Badluck, The Freshman

Dear folks:

Well, ma, I read that book on feminine cycology that you sent to me last week and just as soon as I finished the last chapter I called up that coed I told you about last time and she is going to go to the movies with me tomorrow night again. But I had to promise her that I wouldn't smoke my pipe anymore when we were walking home from the show. I haven't told her yet that I read about feminine cycology on account of I don't want her to find out that I know all about women.

We are going to play a football game with Iowa state college tomorrow. They call themselves the sionies but I don't know why unless its because all their football players like to play football when the wind is blowing. Anyway us Aggies don't care if they are the sionies because we are the wildcats and wildcats sure like windy places.

I guess me and my "5-H club for Iron men and freshmen who can take it" will have a special meeting tonight and get our football team organized because the football season is about over and there is going to be a lot of championship teams to play next month. I am going to be the manager of the team and make all the players eat 12 hamburgers every day and drink plenty of milk on account of good football men have got to have a steady diet. For exercise, I guess I will have my team run about a mile and 1/2 every morning before breakfast so they'll sleep good the next night. So you'll probably be reading in the newspapers about Badluck's football team in about a week.

your son,

Badluck.

ps—we are going to call my football team the "coompunchers" because it will look just like a rodeo when we play some of these champion teams.

Big Six Grid Notes

Nebraska vs. Kansas

The biggest battle of the weekend in Big Six football is the annual clash between the Nebraska Cornhuskers and Kansas University on Armistice day at Lincoln. This game is also of interest to Kansas State because if Kansas university beats Nebraska, K-State will have a chance to share the Big Six title with the Cornhuskers.

It remains to be seen if the Jayhawkers can do this. At the present time they are given only an outside chance at a victory. If Nebraska has any outstanding weakness, none of their opponents have been able to find it this season. Coach Ad Lindsey seems to think that the Jayhawk's only chance of winning is through an aerial attack. So far this season, however, with the exception of the Kansas State game, the Huskers have shown a brilliant pass defense.

Missouri vs. Oklahoma
Oklahoma university's clash with Missouri's Tigers at Columbia tomorrow should turn out to be a comparatively easy victory for the Sooners, if pre-game dope is any ruler by which strength can be measured. However, Coach Frank Carideo's Tigers may yet turn the trick and get a Big Six victory.

With the exception of Bland, the Tigers should be at full strength for the tilt. The Sooners will also be in good physical condition for the game, as they developed no serious injuries from the Kansas struggle last week.

NORRIS DISCUSSIONAL LEADER

Dale Norris, graduate student, will lead the discussion on "Let's Be Normal" at the Goodfellowship society meeting, Congregational church, Sunday evening, at 8:30 o'clock.

At 7:30 that evening, the second fall sermon of the year, "Where Is the Church Going?" will be given by Rev. Perry L. Platt, Jr. This sermon is based on Winifred Garrison's "March of Faith," an American church history of the last 60 years.

The morning sermon by Rev. Platt is "But Must You Do It?"

KAPPA PHI MEETING

Kappa Phi cabinet meeting was held Tuesday night at the student parsonage. Dinner was served to seventeen members by Ethel Olney and Fern Geyer. Devotions were led by Katherine Holman. It was decided to hold a party for all other girls' organizations at the Methodist church on December 5.

The regular meeting featured a talk by Miss Dorothy Barfoot, of the department of art, on "Art in Building." A box of chocolates was received from the Lincoln chapter of Kappa Phi thanking the Manhattan chapter for their hospitality to the Lincoln girls who were here for the Homecoming football game. A string trio, composed of Margaret Higdon, Julia Crow, and Lucille Herndon, entertained with two numbers. The devotions were led

MEN'S INTRAMURALS

Phi Kappa Tau defeated Sigma Nu 3 to 0 in one of the semi-final soccer games Tuesday afternoon, but the other game, between the Delta Taus and Kappa Sigs, resulted in a 3 to 3 tie, and will have to be played over this afternoon. The finals, between the Phi Taus and the winner of this game, will be played some time next week, probably Tuesday.

Basketball, the next intramural sport, begins next week. All of the fraternities, and six independent organizations, will compete. The independent groups are the Aggie Knights, W. F. A. C., the Vets A. C., and three new teams forming a sort of color combination—the Red Shirts, White Shirts, and Black Shirts. The latter is a group which broke away from the Aggie Knights.

H. E. Rivers, Hutchinson, and V. C. Bates, Garden City, juniors in the department of architecture, won first and second places respectively in a glass contest that had as its project the design of a formal garden.

IT TAKES HEALTHY NERVES

TO BE AMERICA'S GREATEST STUNT GIRL

● A SUDDEN NERVE-RACKING swing upward from a racing auto into a hurtling plane... It's all in the day's work for Mary Wiggins, famous stunt girl who also dives on fire into fire and does the suspension glide in mid-air while hanging only by her teeth. It means something when she says, "Camels never give me edgy nerves even when I smoke a lot."

MOE: I'm so glad to see you, Sue. Were you nervous during your first flight?

SUE: Not a bit. I smoked Camels all the way, and I never felt better! I haven't worried about nerves since I took your advice and changed to Camels.

Steady Smokers turn to Camels

LISTEN TO MARY WIGGINS, greatest of all girl stunt performers, as she tells of her discovery that one cigarette is different from the others! She says:

"I have to be sure, my nerves are healthy to do my stunts, changing from a speeding auto to a plane, the high dive on fire into fire, wing walking while up in a plane, and the high-altitude parachute jump. As to smoking, I've found that Camels don't interfere with healthy nerves. I've tried all the brands. Camels are milder and better in flavor. They do not give me edgy nerves even when I am smoking a lot."

You'll like that rich Camel flavor and mildness. And your nerves will tell you the difference there is in Camel's costlier tobaccos.

CAMPUS CHEST FUNDS DEPEND ON MONEY NEED

PROF. F. L. PARRISH, CHAIRMAN OF COMMITTEE SAYS SOLICITATION MAY BE MADE

Student Representatives Selected Annually by Student Organizations to Serve on Committees

The Campus Chest is still in existence and will be active this year, but no solicitation for funds is likely to be made unless there is urgent need for it, Prof. F. L. Parrish, chairman of the committee, has announced.

The chest, organized at Kansas State ten years ago, consists of a fund raised by students and faculty to aid worthy causes on or off the campus. It is administered by Prof. J. O. Hamilton of the department of physics.

The original fund has been increased from time to time by solicitation, although no solicitation is likely to be made this year as many students themselves are attending college with decreased funds.

The personnel of the campus chest committee, which is almost complete for this year, includes seven faculty members, eight students, and President P. D. Farrell. The student representatives are selected annually by campus student organizations, thus making the committee essentially a new one each year. The function of the committee is to pass on appeals on or off the campus and to act as a collecting agency on the campus for any off campus appeals which it approves.

GARRETT A SPEAKER

A. W. Garrett, of the food and drug administration station at Kansas City, Mo., is scheduled to speak at the nutrition seminar in C 26 on Wednesday evening at 7:30 o'clock. Mr. Garrett's subject will be "The Enforcement of the Present Food and Drug Act."

ALPHA ZETA FALL BANQUET IS HELD

Arthur F. Peine is Principal Speaker at Dinner at Masonic Temple

Arthur F. Peine, president of the Manhattan chamber of commerce, and of the Perry Packing company, was the principal speaker at the annual fall banquet of Alpha Zeta, national honorary agricultural fraternity, held last night in the Masonic temple. Mr. Peine discussed the "Experience of Life," stressing the importance of high scholarship groups in colleges contributing to the cultural life of their home community.

Preceding the banquet, ten new members were initiated into the club. They were Kenneth Davis, Manhattan; C. L. Gish, Abilene; J. O. Miller, Meriden; Donald Cornell, Wheaton; George Rogler, Matfield Green; Edwin Lamb, Manhattan; J. W. Taylor, Lawrence; K. G. Shoemaker, Pomona, and Howard Moreen, Salina.

At the banquet, the address of welcome to the new members was given by Al Thornbrough, Lakin. The response to the welcome was given by Howard Moreen. John Latta, Holton, chancellor of the Kansas chapter of Alpha Zeta, was toastmaster.

A RADIO DEBATE

Donald Gentry, Manhattan, and Denny Olmsted Perry, N. Y., will represent Kansas State in a radio debate over station KSAC this afternoon from 4:30 to 5:30 o'clock against Hastings college on the Labor provisions of the National Recovery Act. This is the first of a series of 12 radio debates which will be broadcast each Tuesday afternoon.

BASKETBALL MEETING

There will be a meeting for all varsity basketball candidates on the main floor of the gymnasium at 12:30 o'clock tomorrow. It is desired that all those court men who plan to go out for varsity basketball report at this meeting. The 1933-34 court squad will be coached by Frank Root and captained by Bus Boyd, Phillipsburg.

FUNERAL SERVICES FOR THELMA COFFMAN

College Student, Killed in Auto Accident Tuesday, Buried in Sunset Cemetery

Funeral services were held Friday afternoon for Miss Thelma Louise Coffman, a junior at Kansas State college and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Coffman of 1431 Yuma, who was killed late Tuesday afternoon when a demonstrator car she was driving overturned on highway 29, four miles east of Manhattan.

Raymond Moorman, Manhattan, who was teaching Miss Coffman how to drive, received severe lacerations and suffered shock.

Miss Coffman was apparently killed instantly when she was thrown from and pinned beneath the car.

Will Parks, a farmer living near the scene of the tragedy, summoned an ambulance, and both Miss Coffman and Mr. Moorman were taken to a hospital. Miss Coffman's body was later removed to the Southern funeral home, and Moorman was released after receiving treatment for his injuries.

Born on June 21, 1913, in the Ashland community, Miss Coffman had been a resident in this community all her life. She was classified at Kansas State college as a junior in general science, although she planned to graduate at the end of the present year, completing her course in three years.

The funeral services were conducted by Dr. D. H. Fisher at 2:30 Friday afternoon at the Presbyterian church. Pall bearers were William Fitch, Tom Groody, Paul Ragland, Russell Madison, Hal McCord, Jr., Jean Willoughby, Richard Swart, and Ned Samuel. Interment took place at Sunset cemetery.

MANY TICKETS ALREADY SOLD BY ENTRANTS IN ROYAL PURPLE CONTEST

RED NICHOLS THE JUDGE

Delta Delta Delta Leads in Sales Battle—Phi Phi's and K. K. G.'s Are Next—Alpha Xi Delta Is Fourth

"Buy your ticket from me and our sorority will have its 20 sold for another beauty candidate," will be the cry of every sorority girl during the next two weeks, before Red Nichols personally selects the beauties while his magnetic orchestra enchants the exclusive 300 couples at the annual Royal Purple ball, Saturday night, November 25.

Many tickets have already been sold at the Royal Purple office and sales will stop when the 300 limit is reached.

This new campaign invented by the yearbook staff gives each organization an official day to sell beauty ball tickets at the Royal Purple ticket office in Anderson hall. For each 20 tickets sold another candidate will be added to the sororities' list received from book sales. The organization members are privileged to sell at all times before and during their sales day, but only on their assigned day will they have total possession of the official ticket office. At the end of the organization's day the sellers will report the returns and check in the money at the annual office.

In six days the midnight deadline will put a positive clutch on all future book sales to count toward the required numbers for Royal Purple beauty queens. Because the deadline Sunday, November 19, has crept upon the pledges so suddenly the staff has lowered the requirements for the second candidate to 10 books and the third representative and any thereafter to five book sales. As soon as a sorority has sold enough books or tickets for a candidate they are required to elect its representative and send her name to the Royal Purple office to receive instructions as to how the pictures are to be taken at Studio Royal.

"Some sororities have misunderstood the rules of the campaign and have counted seniors outside of their respective houses as book sales," Ken Harter, editor, said yesterday. "This cannot be done because all seniors are given the book with the payment of the senior dues."

Book sales have further been made easier by leaving the seventy-five cent refund apply on the purchase of a Royal Purple, making the down payment as low as $1.50. This applies to all men students and women who have made reservations for their pictures.

The Tri Deltas have the largest number of books sold outside of the house thus far. The Phi Beta Phis and Kappa Kappa Gamma's rank next with Alpha Xi Delta as fourth. The other organizations are about the same. Book sales managers must make a report at the office today or tomorrow or they will not be given a free pass to the Royal Purple Beauty ball the same as the beauty candidates.

The official selling days for the sororities selling tickets to the Royal Purple Beauty ball are: Tuesday, Nov. 14, Kappa Kappa Gamma; Wednesday, Nov. 15, Kappa Delta; Thursday, November 16, Clovia; Friday, Nov. 17, Alpha Delta Pi; Saturday, Nov. 18, Phi Omega Pi; Monday, Nov. 20, Zeta Tau Alpha.

Varsity Theatre License Revoked By Welfare Board

FROSH DEFEAT RESERVES

With deep shadows of twilight enveloping Memorial stadium, a husky frosh eleven defeated the varsity reserves 6-0 as they scored a touchdown late in the final quarter last evening. It was the first victory for the frosh in three battles against the reserves.

Playing with a white ball on a nearly dark field, Ayers cut loose with a pass from the varsity 30-yard line that went into the hands of Burns, who dashed down the sidelines to the 1-yard line, where he was forced out of bounds. A try at the line threw the frosh back a yard. Ayers then swept wide around his own right end for the touchdown.

DR. H. T. HILL A SPEAKER

A meeting of the Junior Y. M. C. A., featuring Dr. Howard T. Hill, head of the department of public speaking, as the main speaker, will be held this evening in Recreation center at 7:15 o'clock.

The Y. M. C. A. quartet, composed of V. T. Chapman of Manhattan, G. W. Edelen of Kansas City, Mo., A. C. Willis of Hugoton, and J. L. Duncan of Manhattan, will furnish entertainment on the program. Plans will also be made for organizing the Hi-Y extension team, a team which gives programs at neighboring high school Hi-Ys during the winter.

The Junior Y. M. C. A. was formally the freshman commission. It is primarily for freshman men, but all members are invited to attend the meeting this evening.

Hundreds Turned Away From Doors Yesterday as Management Refuses to Operate Without Permit

Hundreds of would-be-show-goers were turned away from the doors of the Varsity theatre last night because the manager, Sam Sosna, declined to operate without a permit. Accused of violating the city "blue law" which outlaws Sunday shows in Manhattan, Sosna was deprived of his operating permit by action of the local welfare board late Saturday afternoon.

A welfare board member, when questioned by the Morning Chronicle Saturday night, stated that the board had reached a definite decision, but declined to divulge the nature of that decision, saying that the board would meet again at 5 o'clock Wednesday afternoon. It is now understood that at this meeting, Sosna will be permitted to state his case and reply for a permit. The fact that no press publicity was given the board's action accounts for the large crowds turned away from the theatre yesterday.

The ordinance provides that for operating without a permit, the fine shall not exceed $25. Mr. Sosna indicated he did not choose to operate willfully in violation of the law and was reluctant to proceed without a permit, although he felt he was being invited by the welfare board to do so.

Mr. Sosna explained that handling the crowd and showing the 10:30 picture in time to close by midnight has been impossible.

STATE LEGION COMMANDER IN ASSEMBLY TALK

FRANK SULLIVAN, ARMISTICE DAY SPEAKER, DISCUSSES WAR AND PEACE

Cadet Officers and Faculty Veterans of World War Seated on Platform During the Exercises

"Sensible patriotism is one that is the goal of ideals and objectives that will make for the well-being of our people; a patriotism of common purpose, cooperation, a kindness, and good will," Frank Sullivan, state commander of the American Legion, declared in an address at student assembly Saturday morning.

"Americanism," Mr. Sullivan said, "does not mean painting the slacker's house yellow; in forcing the disloyal to kiss the flag; or knocking men's hats off when they are not removed as the flag goes by. Americanism on the contrary means the education of our citizens so they will want to serve to the best of their ability in any way that their country may require; so that they will reverse the flag and not defile it; so that they will understand the proper respect for the colors when they are displayed. An exaggerated patriotism will only lead the nation back into the mistakes of yesterday."

Speaking of the mistakes of other days, Commander Sullivan said that anyone who knows anything about war does not want it for war is notoriously unsound and unprofitable. No new wealth is created and much of the old is expended. Man power is turned from productive activity to that of destruction. "Since this is true we should exert every effort for peace, and use every means to settle international disputes without the loss of human blood."

On the platform of the auditorium were seated Commander Robert Swan of the local American Legion post; Mrs. E. G. Jackson, president of the Legion Auxiliary; members of the college faculty who served in the world war; college military department officers and cadet officers; and members of the military staff of Ft. Riley.

Dr. J. E. Kammerer, department of economics and sociology, had charge of the program and Dr. A. A. Holtz, also of the department, and state chaplain of the American Legion, gave the invocation. The college band furnished the music during the assembly.

FILMS AT TEL-O-GRID

Students and friends of the college who attended the tel-o-grid report of the Kansas State-Iowa State game last Saturday also saw motion pictures depicting the K. U. K. S. game at Lawrence the preceding week. The pictures showed the spectacular plays and other highlights of the game.

Organizations Of State High Schools To Play Saturday

RECOGNITION OF RUSSIA NOW NEAR

Two Professors Believe U. S. Could Gain Much by Dealing With Russia

This is the first of a series of five discussions of important world affairs by faculty members of Kansas State college. The next article will concern the problems of Cuba.

(By Clara Gantenbein)

"Why not recognize Russia?" was the question asked by Prof. F. L. Parrish and Dr. F. A. Shannon, both of the history and government department, when asked their opinion of the recognition of Russia by the United States. Both agree that the United States has much to gain by such a step.

"The Russian people have lived under the Soviet regime for sixteen years, and show no evidence of developing another government very soon," Professor Parrish said. "The new regime has shown a disposition to make good its own obligations. Terms of recognition could never be worked out until the United States government shows a willingness to meet the Russians. Now that our president has shown a cordial American attitude, it appears that recognition is very near. Such recognition will be mutually helpful and should come as soon as possible."

Doctor Shannon heartily approves the president's direct diplomacy with Russia. He believes we should have more of it, and thus cut down the expenses of our foreign ambassadors, who are mere office boys anyway, saying and doing only what the department of state wants them to.

"Recognizing Russia," Doctor Shannon added, "might be one step toward industrial recovery. We need to have less restricted trade with all countries, which would mean the lowering of our tariff wall."

Both professors agree that Russia has proved, by her dealings with other countries, that her credit is good and that she has fulfilled her obligations.

FIRST THEATRE PLAY DRAWS LARGE CROWD

Audience Is Enthusiastic Over "Ten Nights in a Bar Room."

An enthusiastic group of students, faculty members, and townspeople, attended the first Manhattan theatre production of the year, "Ten Nights in a Bar Room," at the college auditorium, Friday night. According to George Davidson, Manhattan, manager of the theatre, the crowd Friday evening was larger than any play crowd last year.

"Ten Nights in a Bar Room," a temperance play written in pre-prohibition days, depicted the evils wrought from liquor, although not modernized to the extent of the advertising. The only evidence that Prof. H. Miles Heber, director, had produced a 1940-50 setting was that the men wore 1933 apparel.

Don Porter, Mt. Hope, as Mr. Romaine, and Dennison Olmstead, Perry, N. Y., as Joe Morgan were very well cast. Mr. Olmstead's characterization of a drunkard was realistic.

L. G. Langston, Hutchinson, as Sample Swichel was excellent in his part as a Yankee tippler. The audience appreciated his song to the tune of Yankee Doodle. Cora Oliphant, Offerle, as Mehitable Cartwright was good in her comedy part. The part of Simon, a typical saloon keeper, was ably done by Harold Cary, Manhattan, and K. P. Lusher, Salisburg, Mo., as Frank Slade made a convincing drunkard. Carl Sartorius, Garden City, and Don Isaacson, Topeka, were well cast.

Thelma Mathes, Leoti, as Mary Morgan, the drunkard's daughter, was sweet in her part. The audience liked her song "Father, Dear Father." Beulah Geyer, Waterville, and Roberta Shannon, Geneseo, were good in their parts as the wives of the innkeeper and the drunkard, respectively.

MILITARY PARADE IN AFTERNOON WILL BEGIN DAY'S EVENTS

APPEAR AT FOOTBALL GAME

Representatives of Student Organizations and Alumni Secretary New Busy Working Out Plans

Fourteen bands representing thirteen high schools and Kansas State college have accepted the invitation from the alumni office to appear in Manhattan this Saturday and take part in the annual Parents' Day activities and events during the football game.

The bands will take part in a huge military parade at 12:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon and will appear at the football game between Oklahoma university and Kansas State College.

The military department will provide a marshal for each band to accompany them while they are in Manhattan. The various churches will entertain the bands at dinner Saturday night.

The east stadium will be reserved for the bands and before the game the groups will play the Star Spangled Banner. Two or three of the most outstanding bands will parade between halves during the game.

Representatives of several student organizations in cooperation with Kenney L. Ford, alumni secretary, are arranging an elaborate program for Parents' Day. Members of the committees and their organizations are: Mae Gordon, Women's Pan-Hellenic; Rita Brown, Van Zile Hall; Marian Todd, Y. W. C. A.; R. G. Hendrickson, Y. M. C. A.; LeRoy Heinsohn, Mens' Pan-Hellenic; and Clay Reppert, Student Governing Association.

Eighteen high schools were invited to send bands to the college for the Parents' Day activities. High schools in Kansas which will be represented here next Saturday are Abilene, Glasco, Topeka, Minneapolis, McPherson, Holsington, El Dorado, Kansas City (Wyandotte), Manhattan, Clay Center, Salina, Concordia, and Wamego. The Kansas State College band will also take part in the musical activities during the day.

There will be special class exhibits and displays in several buildings over the campus for the parents of students during the morning, and in the afternoon the guests of the college will attend the football game.

Dr. O. O. Wolf of Ottawa, national secretary-treasurer of the Livestock Producers Commission Association, will be the principal speaker at the Parents' Day banquet Saturday evening in Thompson hall. Pres. F. D. Farrell will address the parents in behalf of the college. E. L. Barrier, president of the Parents' association, of Eureka, will be toastmaster.

Prizes will be awarded at the banquet to the parents coming the longest distance, the parents having the largest number of children in school, and the fraternity or sorority having the largest number of parents present.

Other officers of the Parents' association are Pat Brown, Fall River, vice-president; Jerry Wilson, secretary; F. N. Seekamp, Mulvane, treasurer; and L. H. Cool, Glasco, member-at-large.

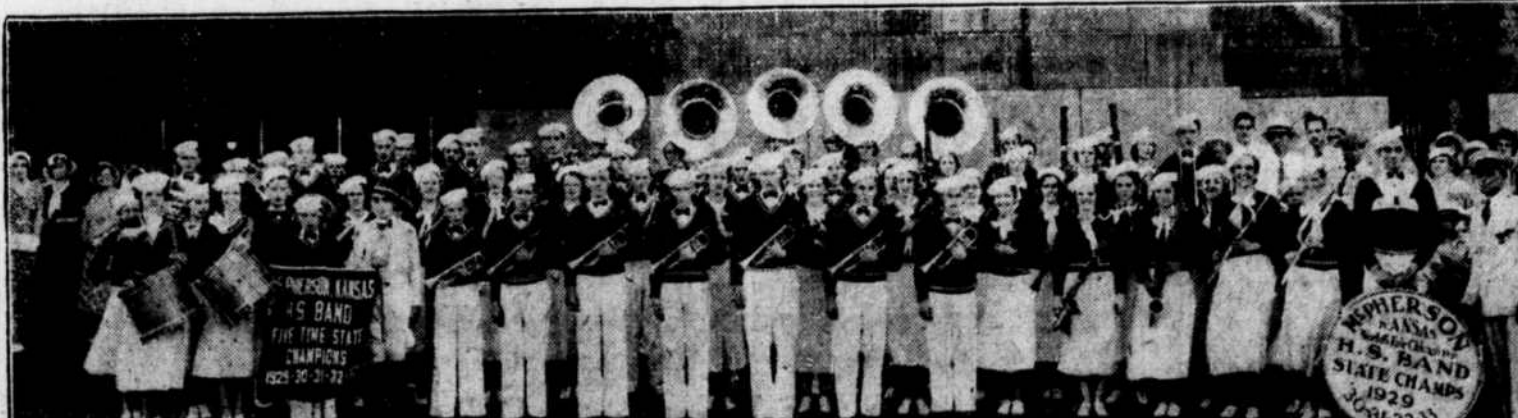

OMICRON NU MEETING

Plans to have the programs for the coming year based on Dean Margaret Justin's trip around the world were made at the Omicron Nu meeting held Thursday afternoon at 5 o'clock in Calvin 58.

The theme of the meeting was Hawaii where Dean Justin has just been. At present she is in Burma.

play in answer to the query "What will happen if the Eighteenth Amendment is repealed." Again history repeats itself using the same argument for prohibition at the time the play was written as it used now—the profit in liquor.

The college orchestra, under the direction of Prof. Lyle Downey, accompanied during the performance with the exception of one scene which was accompanied by Prof. Richard Jenson on the organ.

Rated as Kansas champions every year since 1929, the McPherson high school band is one of the 14 Kansas bands representing 13 high schools in the state which will appear here during Parents' Day next Saturday. The McPherson band is composed of 85 members and is directed by Mr. August San Romani. Members of the organization attended the World's Fair in Chicago this summer as the official Kansas band.

THE WELFARE BOARD

The recent action of the welfare board in revoking the Varsity theatre's permit to operate because of continuing a few minutes past midnight Saturday night has caused much unfavorable comment about the board and strengthened the conviction that the board should no longer continue to function.

The welfare board has obviously outgrown its purpose. It was organized during war times when there perhaps was need for an organization of this kind. During recent years, however, the board has apparently had but one purpose—to keep Sunday shows out of Manhattan.

It is indeed to be regretted that the welfare board should have the power and the shortsightedness to revoke a theatre permit as it has done. It is practically impossible for a midnight show to finish exactly at 12 o'clock, and the popularity of the midnight shows has been evinced in the immense crowds that attend them.

The tactics employed by the board in handling the matter were extremely unfair. Mr. Sosna, manager of the Varsity theatre, was notified Saturday night that his permit had been revoked, but the board refused to give it statement to the newspapers to that effect, thereby informing the public of the action. The statement issued by the board, was to the effect that no definite action had been taken, but that the matter would be taken up in their meeting Wednesday. In this manner it attempted to dodge the immediate responsibility, and consequently conveyed a false impression.

If the welfare board does not confine its activities to something more useful, the only conclusion that can be reached is that the board should go out of existence. The student body and a majority of the townspeople favor Sunday shows, and the answer is that the board must either consent to these or cease to exist.

PEACE AND MR. SULLIVAN

The inconsistency of celebrating Armistice day—peace day—with displays of banners, uniforms, and similar military paraphernalia seems to be apparent to but few people. Last Saturday, Kansas State college, celebrating the fifteenth anniversary of the coming of peace after the most disastrous war in history, massed 800 cadets in uniform at a special assembly, had the band out to play the most stirring military music, and, climaxing the proceedings, enlisted the services of the state commander of the American Legion to give the annual sentimental glory talk about war.

Mr. Sullivan's address was one of the most dangerous in its implications ever given at the college—all the more dangerous because in it he alternated the utterance of the most laudable ideals with the expression of the blindest patriotic superstition.

Here are typical excerpts from Mr. Sullivan's peace day address:

1. Explaining how we got into the war, "Right was more precious than peace, and ever will we fight for that which is most dear to America—democracy and freedom." Every resource was spent in the interest of democracy and freedom against Kaiserism. "As a matter of fact, America was undecided for some time as to which side she should fight against—England, for messing with the sea trade of the United States, or Germany for doing the same thing. It was finally decided that Germany was doing the most messing."

2. "Americanism... means the education of our citizens so that they will want to serve to the best of their ability in any war that their country may declare." Let us hope that increasing numbers of United States citizens will become "un-American."

3. "We have seen enough war"—It was nice of Mr. Sullivan to mix such pious expressions as this one with his proud proclamations of red-blooded Americanism.

4. "European nations are still unwilling to accept the American doctrine of common purposes, cooperation, kindness and good will. Because of their self-centered and nationalistic attitude of mind they refuse to recognize their economic interdependence of the modern world." Of course, the United States has stood fast-footed for free trade during these turbulent post war years. With staples, with more men than the fact that the United States refused to join the League of Nations and that her re-

5. "Yes, we want peace, but only that peace which comes with honor and security... No one who knows anything about war wants it, but, hellish as it is, no true American prefers dishonor to peace." But who decides when our national honor and security are threatened? Generally it is a group of politicians, influenced greatly by various business interests which make huge profits in case of war. What is called "national honor" would be more accurately designated "the war-profits of Bethlehem steel."

The general ideals voiced by Mr. Sullivan are ideals of war—not ideals of peace. The attitude of national self-righteousness to which he gave repeated utterance is the basic attitude responsible for the bloody madness which is war.

The Editor's Desk

Next Saturday is Parents' Day at Kansas State college and those in charge of the program and other activities for the event are working together to make the day a success.

While the greater part of the responsibility for the success of the day rests with the representatives of several organizations and those who are planning the program for the event, the students of the college can do their part in making it a great day by inviting their parents to visit the college. Parents of Kansas State college students are, of course, welcome to visit the college during all times, but Parents' day has been set aside especially for the fathers and mothers of the students of the school, and during the day the parents will be guests of their sons and daughters.

The real success of the day, therefore, depends upon the students. The elaborate program which is being prepared for the parents would be useless should the parents fail to visit the college on that day. It is not too late to invite your parents for Parents' day. A letter or postcard today, with an invitation to them, to visit the college next Saturday would reach them in time to enable them to make plans for coming. And you can be assured that the college will welcome them, and make them comfortable during their stay in Manhattan.

The Snooper

All has not been quiet on the Western Front! The war guns have been booming and various replacement have been added. Balled down, it comes to light that some of the most promising collegiate lovers have been throwing bricks at each other. The Phi Eps and the Tri-Deltas have suffered the most casualties. The Kappas have taken advantage of the situation and now the Kappa-Delta forces have enlisted themselves nearly 100 per cent. Trenches have been thrown around most fraternity houses and freshman squad drills have become an ordinary occurrence. Scales and Middelkauff must have been in the same shell-hole over the weekend as they have survived the whole affair without a scar.

With Babblings reviving the "Home and Fireside" club and originating the "Wooer's" club, someone should start the Joe Morgan club. Charter members would be chartered and so forth. The main objection is that some of the parents take The Collegian.

A put (much as we hate it)—A movement should originate to Kam-al columnists.

To those who have listened to Red Nichols over a Kansas City radio station, it will be a treat to see him in person at the Royal Purple ball. Bets are now open on the queens—some are giving the Tri-Deltas the odds but since Red Nichols selects the beauties himself no college politics will affect the selection.

Badluck, The Freshman

Dear Ma and Pa:

Say, I guess we've just about got the best football team in the world because we beat Iowa state last Saturday and it looks like we are going to be the champions. Even if Iowa state was the scion, the Aggies showed them that it didn't make no difference whether they played when the wind was blowing or not.

I've been doing a lot of thinking lately about what my 5-H club for Iron Men could do on the campus, and I guess that we'll start a campaign against big shots. There is more big shots in school they any other kind of shots, and I don't see no sense in letting the big shots tell the rest of the school what us other shots ought to do. So I passed a rule that from now on no member of the "5-H club for Iron Men" could be big shots because big shots can't take it like us Iron Men can.

Me and my girl, is sure getting along fine now since I found out a lot about ettiquit and quit smoking my pipe when I take her to the movies. I was going to see her last night but she said she was going to be busy studying; so I didn't go over, but when I went by her house last night pretty late I saw another fellow leaving her place. But I guess my girl was studying that night after all, because when I got home I called her up again and she said she had sure been learning a lot.

So I guess these coeds is just like us other college fellows—they want to learn just as much in college as they can so they won't be so dumb about everything when they go back home. A senior told me yesterday that a college education was worth 9 dollars a day, but he must have been fooling me because I ain't seen no money yet.

Your son,

BADLUCK.

GRAHAM LEADS KANSAS STATE TO 7-0 VICTORY

K-STATE CAPTAIN MAKES LONE SCORE AND EXTRA POINT TO BEAT IOWA STATE

Roll Up 267 Yards from Scrimmage and Make 14 First Downs to 1—Cyclones Turn Back Drives in Second Half

A lone touchdown and extra point scored by Captain Ralph Graham early in the second quarter gave the Kansas State Wildcats a 7-0 Big Six victory over Iowa State at Ames last Saturday and kept them in a second place tie with Oklahoma university.

The score was driven across by power alone, with Graham using his ramming tactics to good advantage. The drive started from the Kwa State 48-yard line where Doug Russell had placed the ball after a 35-yard run from his own 17-yard marker just as the first quarter ended.

On the first play of the second quarter Russell made five yards. Graham then tore through center on a spinner play to the Cyclone 27-yard stripe. Russell picked up two more yards, and from there on the K-State captain took command.

The fire was directed at a weak spot in the left side of the Cyclone line. In a few plays Graham had driven the ball to the 3-yard line. A 5-yard penalty assessed against the Wildcats failed to stop the "Rammer," however, and in two plays he smashed the ball across the Iowa State goal line. Graham also plunged through the line for the extra point.

Although the Wildcats failed to score, they threatened the Cyclone goal line several times. Twice in the third quarter and again in the final period Kansas State drove deep into Iowa State territory, only to be turned back, either by a stubborn defense or an intercepted pass. The game ended with Kansas State in possession of the ball on the Cyclone 3-yard line.

The score does not show the difference in the offensive power of the two teams, as Kansas State made 14 first downs to one for Iowa State, and outgained them 267 yards to 61.

MEN'S INTRAMURALS

The Delta Taus and Kappa Sig played their second consecutive tie game Friday night in trying to play off their semi-final soccer game, so yesterday they decided the issue by seeing which team was the best at penalty kicks. The Kappa Sig won 3-1, and will meet Phi Kappa Tau, the winner of the other semi-final game over Sigma Nu, in the battle for the championship tonight.

M. L. "Red Wee" Carter, Phi Kappa Tau, won the horseshoe ringer tournament held Saturday, pitching 14 ringers out of a possible 25. J. T. Wallingford, Delta Sigma Phi, was second with 12, and J. O. Thurston, Kappa Sigma, was third, with 10.

Basketball play will begin Thursday. The team groupings have not yet been made.

SHAN-KAR

And His Company of

HINDU
Dancers and Musicians

In A Repertoire of Hindu Dance Drama

PRAISE of the PRESS

"Here is a company of beautiful persons, appareled gorgeously who move charmingly through decorative patterns with the added filipp of exotism... here is an exquisite art that lays open the heart of an alien and venerable culture."—John Martin in the N. Y. Times.

With his company of dancers and musicians he reveals the dances of India which contain the core of the cosmos as the Hindus have perceived it for thousands of years.

Shan-Kar's dances deal with love. And dealing with love, they play its whole octave of emotions, ranging from enchantment, melancholy and opulence to erotic ecstasy, rising finally to their culmination, in the rarified air of divinity.

HERE'S Energy FOR YOU

SHREDDED WHEAT
S helps you go places and do things. And that's easily explained. Shredded Wheat is whole wheat. And whole wheat is man's greatest energy food, blessed by Nature with all the vital elements... proteins, vitamins, minerals, carbohydrates, and bran. All of these come to you in shredded Wheat. Nothing has been added, nothing taken away. The next time you draw up a chair in your favorite campus eating place, order Shredded Wheat. When the crisp, baked, golden brown biscuits are placed in front of you, just pour on plenty of milk or cream, and top with your favorite fruit. And enjoy the best-tasting bowlful of energy that ever brightened your day.

When you see Niagara Falls on the back of you, KNOW you have Shredded Wheat.

In my haste to put the Burp after Delta Tau Delta last week the names of the pin grabbers were omitted. They are as follows: Marion Waite, Helen Pickrell, and Jane Whyte. "Yammer" Graham bought a study lamp with a frilly shade one sunshiny day, which was just his mistake, as it is now gracing one of the rooms at the Tri Delta house!

Since all the better (?) columnists are going in for punning now, which as anyone can see is a very serious error, here is the best that punnings can do—a student coming out of one of Professor Keith's classes yesterday remarked that she was getting C-sick! There is something about Joe Murphy that doesn't appeal to a horse or else he is distantly related to the Prince of Wales. The limp is the result of a recent equine battle. Note of thanks to George "Sweetie-shinaple" Maddox for his unparalleled help in the writing of this column!

COMPOSE ART EXHIBIT

Bruce Moore and Ed Davidson Show Work in Architecture

The exhibition of oil paintings and sculpturing by Ed Davidson and Bruce Moore, both of Wichita, is now up in the art gallery on the third floor of the engineering building. Ed Davidson has been recognized in eastern exhibitions for the last ten years. Moore has studied for two years under the Gugenheim foundation in Paris.

Prof. John Helm, Jr., of the architecture department, will give a lecture concerning this exhibit Monday, November 20, on the second floor of the auditorium at 7:30 o'clock.

FROG CLUB PAGEANT

"The Ice Maiden" Will Be Presented on December 12

"The Ice Maiden" will be presented by members of the Frog Club, women's swimming organization, for its annual water pageant on December 12.

The story was taken from an old northern myth. A beautiful maiden was frozen into an ice maiden by a wicked old gnome because she refused to marry him. Later a prince was traveling through the land and saw the ice maiden. He fell in love with her. He tried everything in his power to restore her to her former self, but failed in every attempt.

Finally a fairy came to him and told him that if he could perform some feat that would please the old gnome, he would release the beautiful maiden from her icy home. The prince called on everything in his realm to help. He could get aid from only those of the water: fish, frogs, turtles, mermaids, etc. They in turn performed their stunts for the old gnome. Finally he was satisfied and released the beautiful maiden. The prince and she were married, and they went back to his land to live.

H. Miles Heberer is writing the dialogue and is planning the setting and staging. Underwater lighting will be used. Cora Oliphant, Offerle, is in charge of the pageant in general. Katherine McKinney, Bartlesville, Okla., the stunts, Wilma Ray Womer, Topeka, costumes, and Ruth Dobson, Manhattan, publicity.

Miss Lorraine Maytum is sponsoring and directing the various events.

The pageant will be given in the men's swimming pool. Tickets will be 25 cents.

REPAIR ANDERSON HALL
 Because Portland cement was unknown fifty-five years ago, it is now necessary for workmen to repair the stone of Anderson hall and to put new mortar in the concrete base.

The east wall of Anderson hall which is over fifty-five years old, was put together with a mortar of lime and sand. Portland cement was unknown at that time. The ivy vines which grew over the building hold so much moisture that the lime has been dissolved from between the stones. Consequently, it is necessary to replace the old mortar. Some parts of the building were repaired several years ago.

SENIOR APPLICATIONS DUE
 Miss Jessie McDowell Machir, registrar, requests that all seniors come to her office this week and sign their applications for degrees.

"Seniors do not pay the $7.50 fee when they make applications for a degree," Miss Machir said. "The fee is paid in the spring. Many students put off signing their application for a degree because they believe that the fee is paid when they sign for the degree."

There are 138 seniors enrolled in engineering, 124 in general science, 74 in home economics, 41 in agriculture, and 35 in veterinary medicine. Only half of these have signed their applications for degrees.

HONOR TO TRI-K CLUB
 According to announcement made at the regular meeting of the Kiod and Kernel Klub held last week, the organization has been accepted as a junior member of the American Society of Agronomy.

Dr. David Page, Topeka, president of the Page Flour Mills and owner of a large herd of Ayreshire cattle, discussed the milling industry and answered questions at the meeting. Professors W. H. Riddell and J. B. Fitch, both of the dairy department, and Dr. C. O. Swanson of the milling department were guests at the meeting.

Y. W. C. A. interest groups will meet Thursday night at 7:15 in Calvin hall.

The regular dinner meeting of the Cosmopolitan Club was held Thursday evening at the rines cafe.

On November 16, the regular meeting of the club will be held at 7:30 o'clock. Miss Helen Elcock of the English department will speak on the subject, "Parliamentary Practice," during the meeting. Special accordion music will be furnished by Laura Donat.

HIGH RIFLE SCORES

Three scores of ninety-nine out of a possible one hundred were made this last week at the rifle range by Edward Waller, Wellington; M. P. Rogers, Glasco; and Viola Barron, Kensington. All scores were made from the prone position.

Scores fired on the range this week will be used as eliminating scores to determine the personnel of the rifle team for the coming year. The team will be composed of forty men and women.

Covering the Shopping Front

The STLYE SHOP has all sorts of strictly sports things in sweaters, shirts, and suede jackets that will go to the game Saturday. Or, if you want something dressier, their line of wool dresses will meet your approval. You can get them in blue, green, black, brown, or a combination of colors—all of them are ultra-smart. After 5 o'clock dresses are being featured for dinner after the game, and the little gay fall evening wraps, swish coats they're called. Go to the STLYE SHOP, 404 Poyntz for those new clothes you'll need before the game.

The Oklahoma game, which is to be the last one of the season here, is bound to be fast and furious and you'll go wild with excitement. Can you imagine letting an old pair of battered shoes, the ones you've been wearing all semester, mar the thrill? There's no excuse for it, not when THE COLLEGE SHOE STORE has such a complete line of smart, inexpensive shoes. After the game someone will call you and take you a-dancing and how about it when you drag out your shoes and see how scuffed they are? Then you remember that big so and so that stepped on your foot at the last Varsity. Shoes do all sorts of things to your happiness as well as your appearance. They can make it or break it. Go into THE COLLEGE SHOE STORE, 1216 Moro, before Saturday.

The new line of dresses in the AGGIEVILLE HAT AND FROCK SHOP have the clever necklines that are so good this year. Not only are these dresses extremely swank and dashing and just what you'll want for the game, but they actually make you look ritzier and perkier. The AGGIEVILLE HAT AND FROCK SHOP has slews of different styles in silks and woolsens.

IF YOU'RE RUN DOWN AT THE HEELS take your shoes into ROSENCRAN'S and get them to look like new. No matter how smart your new outfit may be, run over heels detract from your appearance and make you look shabby. Rosencran's prices are reasonable and their work is of the best quality. Their shop is conveniently located in Aggieville. ROSENCRAN'S SHOE SHOP, 1214 Moro.

D. Hunt, of the electrical engineering department, are attending the Lighting School held in Kansas City Monday and Tuesday. They are accompanied by L. R. Adler, Goddard, and Grant Miller, Offerle. Adler is a senior in electrical engineering, and Miller is a graduate student. The school is sponsored by the General Electric company.

 YEAR'S BIGGEST COMEDY HIT!

IT TAKES HEALTHY NERVES TO BE A CHAMPION BRONK RIDER!

RIDE 'EM COWBOY! Every second is crowded with danger for Eddie Woods, twice all-round cowboy champion at the famous Calgary Stampede. It sure takes healthy nerves to stay on board a fighting bronk! "Camels are my smoke," says Eddie Woods. "They never jangle my nerves."

"OUT ON THE RANCH I became devoted to riding and smoking Camels. Even if I am not in the championship class I need healthy nerves. And Camels do not upset my nerves. They are the mildest cigarette I know!"

Steady Smokers turn to Camels

EDDIE WOODS, one of the "top hands" of the cowboy world, says: "Ten seconds on the back of an outlaw horse is about the hardest punishment for a man's nerves that anybody can imagine. To have nerves that can take it, I smoke only Camels. I've tried them all, but Camels are my smoke! They have a natural mildness, and I like their taste better. Most important of all, Camels do not jangle my nerves, even when I light up one Camel after another."

If you are nervous... inclined to "fly off the handle"... change to Camels. Your own nerves and taste will confirm the fact that this milder cigarette, made from costlier tobaccos, is better for steady smoking.

WOMEN'S SPORTS
(By Jane Whyte)

That Kappa Kappa Gamma's golf champion, Kathryn Black, should be intramural golf champion was expected, so the fact has caused little comment around the women's gym, but although still early in the season, it is time for fraternal and other groups to begin to worry about Van Zile Hall under the capable Brownwell, taking everything in sight. Van Zile has already won the horseback riding intramural, and Eva Brownwell expects to retain her tennis title again by beating Evelyn Diehlman, Zeta Tau Alpha, Wednesday in the final sets.
The volley ball season started last night.

Very slight interest has been registered so far as dancing is concerned, with representatives from only Alpha Delta Pi, Pi Beta Phi, Phi Omega Pi, and Kappa Kappa Gamma, and Van Zile entering.
The Pi Phis are expected to win this, as a number of members are enthusiastic members of Orchestras, but as their chief exponent, Lucille Allman, has not officially registered even at this late date, there may be some difference in the outcome.

The Woman's Athletic Association will sponsor the annual Co-Ed Prom, in Recreation center, Thursday night at eight o'clock. For those who are inclined toward boyishness, it is less expensive in the long run to take your roommate as a date to the affair, as the admission prices are fifteen cents a person, and only twenty cents a couple.
The best dancers and the best dressed couple receive prizes and publicity.

We hope that you will see as much as you can during your short visit of the college itself and of the work and the play for which the college provides.

Most of all we hope that your visit here will heighten your interest in the college as something that belongs, not to the faculty, but to you and to your sons and daughters. The more keenly you appreciate your share in the ownership of the college the better able the college will be to serve your interest and the interests of your children.

COWBOYS WORKOUT HERE

Oklahoma A. and M. Football Squad Stops on Way to Omaha

The Oklahoma A. and M. college football squad, enroute to Omaha to play Creighton tomorrow, stopped here yesterday afternoon for a short workout before going on to Marysville to stop for the night.

The Cowboys, members of the Missouri Valley conference, have one of the strongest teams in the valley area, and have a victory over Tulsa U., conquerors of K. U. and Oklahoma, to their credit.

The Cowboys worked out with the Kansas State squad, each team alternating at pass offense and pass defense. There were 27 members of the squad, besides the coaching staff and business manager.

K-STATE-OKLAHOMA MIX-UP LAST CONFERENCE AND HOME GAME

FIVE MEN ON INJURY LIST

Ticket Sales Light Thus Far Although Game Will Attract Many Last-Minute Buyers—Tickets at $1.10

(By Lloyd Riggs)

With a second place in the Big Six at stake, the Kansas State Wildcats meet the Oklahoma Sooners in Memorial stadium tomorrow afternoon in the last conference and final home game of the season.

Both teams have won three games in the conference, and lost one—to the champion Huskers—so the winner will take undisputed possession of second place in the Big Six, and the loser will drop to third place. Should the Wildcats win, and cop the runner-up position, it will be the highest position they have ever held since the formation of the Big Six conference six years ago.

In conference competition Kansas State has scored 46 points to its opponents' nine, and against the same opposition the Sooners have tallied 67 points, and held their opponents to 23. As these records indicate, there is little to choose between the two teams, with Oklahoma having a better scoring punch, but Kansas State the stronger defense.

This week Coach Bo McMillin has been drilling his men especially on defensive work, in order to stop Oklahoma's dreaded passing attack, and to cope with Bob Dunlap, the Sooners' all-Big Six triple-threat quarterback, who is a demon opening runner, and an expert at passing and punting. Poyner, a line-smashing sophomore fullback, will also require plenty of attention.

Reports from Norman indicate that Coach Hardage is also stressing pass defense, so the game may develop into a strictly ground affair.

The Kansas State injured list has now swelled to five names—those of Morgan, Bushby, Wertzberger, Blaine, and Weller. The injuries to Morgan and Bushby are most vital at the present time, as they will keep these members of the famous five-man backfield out of most of the game. Morgan's ribs were injured in the Iowa State game, and Bushby sprained a ligament in his ankle during practice Tuesday night. Wertzberger has sufficiently recovered from an ankle injury to play most of the game tomorrow, but Blaine and Weller probably will see only limited service. Blaine received a shoulder injury in the K. U. game, and Weller pulled a tendon in the last practice before the Iowa State game.

Tomorrow morning 2,500 seats in the north end of the west stadium will be placed on sale at $1.10. So far ticket sales for the game have been light. However, such was the case before the Nebraska game, when a last minute rush brought the attendance up to 15,000, and the same thing may happen tomorrow. Certainly a game between two such strong teams battling for a high prize should draw a large crowd.

Fourteen Kansas high school bands, totalling about a thousand pieces, will help the Kansas State band furnish music for the game.

"Static and Static Elimination," was the subject of Prof. Fred Schumann of the electrical engineering department over radio station KSAC November 1. Professor Schumann discussed the extraneous noises and disturbances to which the term static has been rather loosely applied. He said these undesirable noises are due to a variety of causes. Knowledge of the characteristics and sources of each of these disturbances is necessary before a method can be found of overcoming or minimizing them to a satisfactory degree.

Leads Tomorrow's Battle

In the last home football game of the season tomorrow afternoon Graham will direct the plays of the K-State Wildcats. The tussle tomorrow is also the last conference game this season.

ANNUAL AGGIE POP TO INCLUDE NINE STUNTS

FOUR SORORITIES, FOUR FRATERNITIES, AND VAN ZILE HALL CHOSEN

Women's Groups to Present 12-Minute Stunts—Men, 8-Minute Stunts—Judges Not Yet Selected

Four sororities, four fraternities, and Van Zile hall have been chosen by a student-faculty committee to present stunts at the nineteenth annual Aggie Pop, which is sponsored by the Young Women's Christian Association, December 8 and 9 in the auditorium.

Of the manuscripts submitted for Aggie Pop this year, those of Alpha Xi Delta, Chi Omega, Delta Delta Delta, Kappa Kappa Gamma, Van Zile hall, Alpha Tau Omega, Beta Theta Pi, Kappa Sigma, and Phi Kappa Tau were selected for presentation. These groups will start rehearsing their stunts this week under the direction of Mary Myers Elliott.

The women's groups will present twelve-minute stunts, and the men's stunts will be eight minutes in length. The best long stunt and the best short stunt will be selected by a committee of judges, the selection of which has not been made, and each of the two winners will receive a cup. Judging will be based on the originality, cleverness, artistic beauty, and presentation of the stunt.

Each group will present its stunt twice, performing once during each evening that the program is presented. The final judging will be done at the second performance.

The committee in charge of the general arrangements for Aggie Pop is composed of Helen Morgan, Newton, chairman; Louise Krehbiel, Newton; Nancy Jane Campbell, Laklin; Clara Bess Garrison, Lincolnville; Myra Roth, Ness City; and Jane Harmon, Manhattan.

SHANKAR'S LEADING DANSEUSE IS FRENCH

European Girl Is Only Member of Dancer's Troupe Who Is Not Hindu

By Don McNeal

A French girl, Simkie, will be Uday Shankar's leading danseuse in his dance-music interpretation of the east to the west in the college auditorium here Tuesday evening.

Simkie—her real name is Simone Sarber—is the only member of the company who is not a high-caste Brahmin. She dresses most of the time in Hindu costume, however, and she now wears a red mark on her forehead which places her in the highest caste.

She says that in feeling the other members of the troupe are her brother and sisters, and that she feels their dancing and music as much as she does the dancing and music of Europe. Dancing is Simkie's art and she thinks of her future in terms of it.

Four years ago Simkie met Shankar and studied dancing under him. A year later when he returned to Paris with his troupe she joined him as his dancing partner. Kanak Lata, Shankar's cousin, is the only other woman in the company. She is a native Indian from East Bengal.

Her membership in Shankar's troupe caused a scandal in the village back home because a Brahmin girl should never appear in public. If it had not been for her family connection with Shankar her parents would never have let her leave India to dance.

By taking Kanak back to Calcutta to dance Shankar hopes that this ancient Hindu custom will be broken and the girls will be allowed to dance. This would be a great triumph for the 16-year-old Hindu girl and another step toward the revival of the dance art of ancient India.

ROYAL PURPLE CAMPAIGN RACE NEARS CLIMAX

PI PHIS PASS TRI DELTS IN SALES CONTEST

Yearbook Deadline Set for Midnight Sunday—Twenty-One Candidates Chosen Thus Far

Sororities are starting the last lap of the Royal Purple book sales campaign and will cross the finish line at midnight Sunday. Twenty-one beauty candidates have already been selected to represent eight of the twelve sororities in the beauty review where Red Nichols will choose the five winners at the Royal Purple Beauty ball, Saturday, November 25.

The Pi Beta Phi is leading in the book sales race with a half hundred yearbooks sold. The Kappa Kappa Gamma are near the forty mark while Delta Delta Delta is close to thirty. Chi Omega, Alpha Delta Pi, Alpha Xi Delta and Clovia are all about in the same rank working on their second candidate from book sales. Kappa Delta, Zeta Tau Alpha, Phi Omega Pi, and Van Zile hall have nearly reached their quarter of a hundred mark.

The beauty candidates thus far are Alpha Delta Pi, Marjorie Conner, and Lucie Johtz; Abilene, Alpha Xi Delta, Louise Krehbiel, Newton; Chi Omega, Cibly Crocker, Manhattan, and Donna Johnson, Cleburne; Delta Delta Delta, Gladys Niles, Liberal, Merridith Manion, Goodland, Erma Jean Miller, Manhattan, Madge Mahoney, Atchison, and Mary Elizabeth Pleanor, Manhattan; Kappa Kappa Gamma, Jane Harman, Manhattan, Eleanor Fowler, Oswatoma, Paula McDaniel, Topeka, and Virginia Dole, Salina; Pi Beta Phi, Tella Hinshaw, Bennington, Virginia Webb, Concordia, and Dorothy Hughes, Manhattan; Phi Omega Pi, Wilda Davis, Offerle; Clovia, Wilma Cook, Ash Valley, and Frances Berggren, Morganville; and Kappa Delta, Dorothy Leshosky, Cuba. Zeta Tau Alpha and Van Zile hall have not chosen their representatives.

Ticket sales by the sororities have added many beauty candidates and made the students eager to purchase their tickets before the three hundred limit mark has been reached. Some sororities have sold as many as 50 tickets before their official day at the ticket office in Anderson. Each twenty tickets sold give the organization an additional candidate for the beauty review.

The sororities are asked to select each candidate as soon as the requirements for each are met and send the names to the Royal Purple office. This will prevent a rush on the Studio Royal and give employees more time in which to refresh the proofs. The eight candidates of Pi Beta Phi and Delta Delta Delta will have their pictures taken between 3 o'clock and 6 o'clock Sunday afternoon. These candidates are to make appointments at the Studio Royal before that time. The remainder of the beauty pictures will be taken in the evenings during the next week.

BAND PLEASURES WITH ASSEMBLY CONCERT

Unusual Versatility Displayed by Lyle Downey's Musicians Before Large Audience

Unusual versatility and technique were displayed by the Kansas State college band in its first student concert presented in student assembly yesterday morning, which was attended by one of the largest audiences this year. The band is directed by Lyle Downey of the music department.

The Grand March, "Los Conquistadores," by Drumm, was the opening selection of the program. This was followed by an overture, "Fountain of Youth," by King, which presented musical pictures of wooded glades, fountains, and blooming flowers. The next number, "The Man of the Hour," by Woods, was lively and full of color.

A group of three melodic selections including a waltz, "Morning Glory," and a serenade, "A Night in June," both by King followed. The third and concluding number of this group was a novelty selection, "The Whistling Farmer Boy," by Fillmore.

A band of whistling farmer boys, a bark without a dog, a crow without a chicken, a squeal without a pig, and a chirp without a bird, is the story of the whistling farmer boy.

It was feeding time and the barn yard animals had begun to assemble. A farmer boy whistled to gather the fold and his dog barked an answer to the accompaniment of his master's call; then came the pig, the ducks and the chickens. But the trustworthiest dog continued to bark. This was unfortunate, for behind him stood the oboe player, an irritated foe who could stand no more. He reached for his gun, pulled the trigger and fired. The concert ended with selections from "Prince Charming" by King.

BEETHOVEN RECITAL SUNDAY

Second of Stratton's Piano Concerts Features Sonatas—Matthews to Lecture

Music by Ludwig van Beethoven will be featured on the second of a series of recitals to be given by Professors Charles Stratton and Charles Matthews, Sunday afternoon in recreation center. The program will begin at 4 o'clock. Professor Stratton will play three sonatas by the German composer. Op. 13, the Pathétique; Op. 57, Appassionata; and Op. 111 are the works chosen.

In selecting the numbers for the recitals Professor Stratton has chosen those compositions which present most adequately the works of each composer. Professor Matthews will give an explanatory discussion on the sonatas to be played.

Four more recitals, including Sunday's, will be given in the series. December 10 will feature the works of Chopin; January 14 will be a program of Schumann's music, and February 11 will be devoted to the music of Brahms.

FREEDOM OF CUBA A SERIOUS PROBLEM

Two History Professors Believe the Platt Amendment Should Be Abolished

This is the second of a series of five discussions of important world affairs by faculty members of Kansas State college. The next interview will concern the problems of the Philippine Islands.

(By Clara Gantenbein)

"No nation is absolutely free," said Prof. F. L. Parrish of the history and government department when asked if Cuba should be allowed her freedom. Cuba can never be an exception, certainly, as long as the island of Cuba lies so close to the shores of the United States.

"Cuba may conceivably be essentially independent, politically, and at the same time be obliged, in order to maintain that independence, to govern her affairs in a way that will not threaten the security of a great neighboring power," Professor Parrish said.

Concerning the Platt amendment which states that the United States still retains the right of intervention in Cuba and which is the chief point of contention in Cuba today, Dr. F. A. Shannon, also of the history and government department, said the amendment, passed in 1901, is taking away the initiative of the Cubans.

"The Cubans think 'What's the use, the United States will step in any time anyway as long as they hold that amendment over us,'" said Doctor Shannon.

"Why should we hold this treaty over them any more than we would over Germany or England?" Doctor Shannon asked. "The Platt amendment should never have been passed. It should be abolished with nothing as a substitute."

Professor Parrish believes, however, that if the rank and file of Cubans regard the amendment in their constitution as distasteful, the United States government and the Cuban government may well draw up a treaty substitute.

TO REVISE FRAT RUSH RULES

Fan-Hellenic Council Sends Questionnaire to All Greek Letter Houses

Questionnaires were recently sent to representatives of all fraternities at Kansas State college to determine the opinions of these organizations in respect to changes in the rushing rules. At a meeting of the men's Pan-Hellenic association early this year, it was decided that such a change was needed.

Copies of rushing rules of other colleges have been secured and studied with regard to possible adoption at Kansas State, according to Howard B. Hudiburg, chairman of the rushing rules revision committee. However, due to local conditions, it was thought best to formulate an entire new set of rules.

Possible changes in the rules were discussed at a meeting of the men's Pan-Hellenic association held Monday evening at the Alpha Tau Omega house.

There seemed a good probability that the NRA might yield funds for a new home economics building and that the bringing of them together into one building from their present scattered quarters would be a fine step toward a correlated home economics program for the school. They rent their practice house as they can, one semester out of each year, and have no nursery school."

SPECIAL EXHIBITS AND DISPLAYS FOR PARENTS DURING THE DAY

BANQUET TOMORROW NIGHT

President Farrell, E. L. Barrier, and Dr. O. O. Wolf Listed as Speakers—Three Prizes to Be Given

(By Alice Barrier)

A day of tribute will be commemorated by students of Kansas State college tomorrow when the annual honors and hospitality significant of Parents' Day are bestowed upon fathers and mothers.

Over one thousand high school students from over the state will play in the 14 high school bands participating in the huge military parade which begins at 12:30 o'clock tomorrow afternoon. The bands will also play at the Parents' Day football game in the afternoon between Oklahoma university and Kansas State college.

More than 300 editors of Kansas are expected here tomorrow to attend the football game as guests of the athletic department. An entire section of the stadium has been reserved for the newspaper men. Members of the Fourth District Editorial association will hold their fall meeting tomorrow morning in the community house.

Special exhibits and displays will be held over the campus for the parents of students during the morning. Art exhibits will be held in the engineering building and in Anderson hall. Women's gym classes and all veterinary medicine classes will be open to visitors. Military classes will drill during the middle of the morning.

The band parade, an important feature of the day, will start at the corner of 2nd street and Poyntz avenue at 12:30 o'clock and continue to the stadium by way of Aggieville. The parade will be led by motorcycle patrol, and cadet officers of the R. O. T. C. will have charge of the individual bands.

Eighteen high schools were invited by the Y. M. C. A. college to send bands to Manhattan for the Parents' Day activities. The bands in their marching order during the parade will be Abilene, Clay Center, Concordia, El Dorado, Glasco, Holington, Kansas City, Manhattan, McPherson, Norton, Salina, Topeka, Wamego, and the Kansas State college band.

After reaching the stadium the bands will enter the south gate and arrange themselves around the track. With the college band and the R. O. T. C. color squad in the center of the field the bands will play in unison the national anthem.

Following this ceremony all the bands except three will be seated in a section of the east stadium. The three bands which will be seated in chairs in front of the stadium will be McPherson, Topeka, and Wyandotte high school, Kansas City.

Captain W. A. Swift of the department of military training will act as marshal during the parade, and Lyle Downey, director of the college band, will have charge of the marching arrangement and order.

A banquet will be held for the parents in Thompson hall tomorrow evening at 6:00 o'clock. A special program has been arranged for the event.

Pres. F. D. Farrell will give the address of welcome during the banquet. E. L. Barrier, Eureka, president of the Kansas State college Parents' association, will be the toastmaster. Music will be furnished by the Mu Phi Epsilon trio composed of Julia Crow, Manhattan; Margaret Higdon, South Haven; and Lucille Herndon, Amy.

Dr. O. O. Wolf of Ottawa, national secretary-treasurer of the Livestock Producers Commission association, will speak in behalf of the parents at the banquet.

A prize will be given during the banquet to the Greek organization having the largest representation of parents. Parents coming the longest distance and parents having the largest number of children in school will also be awarded prizes.

Tickets for the Parents' Day banquet will be on sale today and tomorrow in the alumni office and in the main hall of the administration building.

FRATERNITY RUSH RULES

Once more revisions in rushing rules that would eliminate many of the misunderstandings and confusions that arise between fraternities during the rush week activities are being discussed by the Senior Men's Pan-Hellenic council.

In a questionnaire prepared by the rush rules revision committee, each fraternity was asked to name three things radically wrong with the present system of conducting rush week and to suggest changes that could be made to correct these wrongs. The following controversial questions were included in the remainder of the questionnaire:

1. "Do you favor a system of deferred pledging... whereby a student is ineligible for pledging until he has been enrolled in school one semester?" If such a system were inaugurated at Kansas State, great hardship would be worked on fraternities who had lost a large percentage of members by graduation the previous semester. House bills would soar. In addition to this the deferred system of pledging would defer the eligibility of the pledge for initiation one semester. Students enrolling from junior colleges could not be initiated until the first semester of their senior year at Kansas State.

2. "Do you favor a system of preferential bidding (such as sororities at Kansas State now use)?" Such a system gives rise to gossip that so and so has pledged a fraternity of his second or even third choice. Usually freshmen are absolutely incapable of saying "I like this house best, this next to the best, and this third to the best." And usually the fraternity is not content to let the rushee walk away promising he will mark them first.

3. "Is it your opinion that evening dates with a rushee during rush week should last later than 1 a. m.?" It is our opinion that they should not. The all-night sessions with which every fraternity man is well acquainted make a "hell week" out of rush week. This rule, if adopted, should be rigidly adhered to prevent fraternity men calling on the rushee after he has been taken home for the night.

4. "Should fraternities be allowed to ribbon pledge men as soon as the rushee has kept all c' his first dates?" Why not? When a man decides to pledge, he should accept the ribbon which would be respected the same as a formal pledge.

5. "Should representatives from each fraternity meet each night during rush week to announce the names of the man pledged that day?" No. Such procedure would only add to the confusion already prevailing at rush captain's meetings. How much simpler it would be to accompany the newly-pledged to the office of a faculty advisor immediately after he has pledged, and at this time have the pledge's name enrolled as having been formally pledged. The list of those pledged would be available to all fraternities at all times during rush week. For this, we suggest the office of Professor Harold Howe, representative of the faculty council on student affairs.

YOUR OPPORTUNITY

Prof. Charles Stratton's piano recital next Sunday afternoon is the second in the musical season at Kansas State college, a season during which the department of music presents faculty members in recital.

Each year a series of programs is presented which could not be equaled in the small town from which the majority of our student body is drawn. And each year there is in attendance at these musical events an appreciative but sparse audience—pitifully sparse in the face of the 2200 students enrolled in the college!

It is true that there is a small minority of the student body who simply do not like music in any form. There is a larger group who are interested in it only in the form of our popular dance tunes. With neither of these groups does this editorial have any quarrel, for it does not purport to be a discussion of taste in form and style of music.

It is a message to that still larger group of the student body who do truly enjoy these music recitals, and yet who neglect them, not purposely, but through carelessness.

It is a reminder to them that it is indeed pleasant and thoroughly worth one's while to enjoy these opportunities while they are accessible.

The Editor's Desk

Students returning to Manhattan on December 4 from the Thanksgiving holidays will be faced with one big problem in Aggieville and down-town. Thanksgiving always gives way to Christmas, and the big question during early December will be whether or not to "do your Christmas shopping early."

The Collegian will attempt to determine the attitudes of Kansas State college students regarding the Sunday show question, (which in itself is quite a question) in a student vote next Tuesday and Wednesday. Sunday movies, while always a burning question in cities where such entertainments are not allowed, have been included in collegiate conversation during recent weeks.

An elaborate program of weekend events has been prepared for the fathers and mothers of Kansas State college students, and a real Parents' Day is now an assured thing. Members of several student organizations and authorities of the college deserve thanks for the efforts and enthusiasm displayed preceding the occasion. It is not often that such cooperation is displayed by students.

Many people have tried to imagine the scene which will be presented tomorrow when members of 14 uniformed bands march from downtown Manhattan, through Aggieville, and into the stadium preceding the football game. It is certain that such an event will be picturesque and will probably be remembered for a long time during years to come.

The Snooper

The Welfare board has questioned the authority of a certain editorial that appeared in the last issue of the Collegian. The Sunday show situation was discussed with variations yesterday with the editor of the Collegian defending himself. One member told the editor that he didn't have the sense of a high school student. "But at that most high school students would like to see a Sunday show."

Some professors are copying Mae West's style on the grade cards they say "Come up and see me sometime."

The little working girls of KSC have been doing their bit to get their sisters in the money as far as beauty is concerned. Last week you bought a Royal Purple and this week you buy a ticket to the Beauty Ball to see Red Nichols crown the beauty queen next Saturday night. It's a tough life.

You can surely get a Socialistic point of view by reading the Collegian. If you don't believe it glance over Kannal's Nibblings. He says "down with everything, from the gutter to the Phil Sigs."

Evelyn Osborne the "late date checker-up" at the Chi Omega house solidly declared recently that she would not make a fool out of herself again by running for beauty queen.

The Alpha Xi Delta actives are sorta jealous or something. They laid down the law that they will NOT allow a pledge to run for a beauty queen candidate.

We beg you pardon—What is the difference between Hazel and Maxine? (ans.) Maxine is a little Fowler.

Badluck, The Freshman

Dear Folks:

I am sure glad you are going to come up for Parents' Day tomorrow, because you are going to be my guests and we will go to the football game and have a good time while you are here.

You know, mom, the more I get to thinking about how you and dad are working there on the farm to send me to school, the more I believe that I'm just like all the other college students here, because I don't stop to realize that you probably get along without a lot of things yourself, just so I can go to college. You and dad never had a chance to get an education like I'm getting, but you go right on working just the same, to earn enough money to put me through school.

I guess college students just don't realize what a fine thing it is to have mothers and dads except when they need money or something. A lot of us forget that it's our parents that are responsible for our education, because if it wasn't for them we probably wouldn't be able to go to school and study so we can enjoy life more.

And that is the reason the college is going to have Parents' Day tomorrow. The dads and mothers of the students here will be welcomed by the college faculty and the officials of the school, and it will be a pleasant day for the parents.

So I just want to tell you that I do appreciate everything you've done for me and when I graduate from college I am going to be prouder of you than ever. There is no finer thing in the world than having folks and especially folks like you and dad.

Your son,
Badluck.

KANSAS STATE STOCK JUDGERS ARE SELECTED

TO COMPETE AT KANSAS CITY AMERICAN ROYAL TOMORROW

SIX ARE CHOSEN FOR TEAM

Will Return to Manhattan Wednesday Night—Several From Other Colleges Here

Announcement of the names of six students in the division of agriculture who will represent Kansas State college in intercollegiate livestock judging competition at the Kansas City American Royal livestock show tomorrow was made yesterday by Prof. F. W. Bell of the department of animal husbandry, coach of the team.

The six team-members, selected from the eleven students who tried out for positions, are V. E. Burnett, Edmond; P. S. Burson, Monument; Plus Hostetter, Harper; Warren Mather, Grinnell; and C. B. Team, Wichita.

The team will leave for Kansas City late this afternoon and the contest will begin tomorrow morning at 7:30 o'clock. Announcement of team and individual awards will probably be made late tomorrow night. Approximately 15 college teams are expected to compete in the contest.

Yesterday, the Colorado college judging team and a high school team from Utah practice-judged the college herds here while on their way to Kansas City. Today, three college teams—the Texas A. and M., Oklahoma A. and M., and Texas Tech, respectively, are working out on the college herd.

Following the contest, the Kansas State team will practice judging the animals exhibited at the show. The team will return to Manhattan Wednesday night of next week.

Several changes may be made in the team personnel before the International Livestock exposition contest at Chicago, December 2, according to Professor Bell.

THE GREAT RED NICHOLS

When the 1934 Royal Purple staff decided to have the beauties judged in person as well as by photograph we decided to get the greatest band possible and in Red Nichols we feel sure that we have been very fortunate. These are the reasons Red Nichols was selected—

1. Red Nichols starred one season with the Earl Carroll Vanities in New York two seasons with the Ziegfeld Follies in New York. This qualifies him as no other orchestra leader is qualified to judge beauty.
2. Red Nichols has one of the three internationally known orchestras in America. He toured every country in Europe and his recordings have outsold any other band touring Europe.
3. Red Nichols has been considered the world's greatest trumpet player for the past ten years.
4. Red Nichols has been featured in every exclusive night club in the United States.
5. Red Nichols has the most popular band ever in Kansas City. He has broken all existing attendance records at the Meuhlebach Grill.
6. Red Nichols has one of the greatest bands at the present time he ever had.

Kansas State should feel fortunate in being given the opportunity to hear such a band as Red Nichols'. He will return to the Meuhlebach after a week's tour, of which Manhattan is one of the fortunate places.

MRS. JARDINE A GUEST

Domestic Science Club Honors Wife of State Treasurer
Mrs. William M. Jardine, wife of the newly appointed state treasurer, was a guest of the Domestic Science club yesterday afternoon at a meeting held at the home of Pres. and Mrs. F. D. Farrell. Mrs. Jardine was a member of the club eight years ago before she left Manhattan.

The main feature on the program was a number by the college quartet, composed of Prof. William Lindquist, Prof. Edwin Sayre, Miss Hilda Grossman, and Lucille Allman. They sang the song cycle of the Persian Garden written by Larza Lehmann for the poem Rubaiyat by Omar Kahyaym.

RIFLE PROSPECTS GOOD

Prospects for a championship girls' rifle team are especially good this year since five of those awarded sweaters and emblems last year are out for practice again. They are Viola Barron, high scorer last year, Fernie Henry, captain of last year's team, Velda Wunder, Maxine McKinley, and Myra Roth.

In addition to those mentioned above the following girls are also competing for positions on the team: Opal Schlickau, Wilma Cook, Laura Skillin, Virginia Bryan, and Marie Appel. Those who have not reported as yet are Inez King, Marion Evans, and Eva Brownell. Matches have been arranged with South Dakota State college, the Universities of Missouri, Illinois, Michigan, Maryland, Vermont, California, Wichita, Nevada, and Indiana. Additional matches are being scheduled.

All girls who have submitted their names for rifle practice are to continue coming to the range until notified to the contrary.

ANTIOCH EDUCATION IS UNIQUE IN MANY WAYS

Students Work a While, Study a While, Then Work Again

A cooperative plan of education makes Antioch college unique among our schools of higher learning. Located at Yellow Springs, Ohio, this school was opened in 1853 with Horace Mann as first president and reorganized in 1921 by Arthur E. Morgan who is now president of the institution. The school is non-sectarian and coeducational.

The plan of the college is carried out with alternation between actual employment and attendance at the school. Two students fill a position. While one works, the other attends school. At the end of every five or ten weeks the two students change positions. The ten weeks period is used only if the position is more than 250 miles from the college or if the work is of such a nature that the longer period is required. The positions are filled throughout the year, but each student gets a vacation of five weeks during the summer.

This double program is not carried out with the idea of affording students merely a chance to work themselves through school but to give them opportunity of gaining practical experience and of having contact with reality.

A minimum of three years cooperative work is required for graduation. The students complete the entire course in from four to six years. They work as regular employees and receive normal wages. The students are self-supporting while at work. Two dormitories for men and one for women accommodate nearly all the students at the college. All housing of the students is under the immediate direction and control of the college.

The study at the school is self-directed for students above the sophomore year with a syllabus for each course outlining the year's work. Individual conferences with instructors supplement this study, since attendance at classes and discussion groups is not required. The students are given examinations at regular intervals and a comprehensive examination is given at the close of the senior year.

This extramural plan is made possible through the cooperation of business men in the states of Connecticut, Illinois, Indiana, Kentucky, Massachusetts, Minnesota, Nebraska, New Jersey, New York, Ohio, Pennsylvania, and Washington, D. C.

seminar Wednesday afternoon. Mr. Garrett, in his illustrated lecture, told of the Federal Foods and Drug act which was passed in 1906 when Theodore Roosevelt was president. Garrett explained this law was no longer adequate. The act was passed when face powder and soap were the most important cosmetics used. Most foods were prepared in the family kitchen. Advertising was anything but high pressure, and the law-makers of 1906 did not embody anything in the law about illegal or improper advertising of cosmetics, Garrett said.

A new food and drug bill entitled "Senate Number 1944" was introduced in congress last June by Royal S. Copeland of New York. Garrett said, "The bill will be acted upon in January. It brings the old law up to meet modern conditions." Exhibits to point out conditions which exist were also shown by Garrett, who urged the public to let those who have power to change the law know your wishes on the subject of having a new food and drug act to meet the needs of today.

U. S. Type 31.

SOUTHERN MARYLAND TOBACCO
U. S. Type 32.

U. S. Type 11 is produced in the Piedmont Belt of Virginia and part of North Carolina.

U. S. Type 12 is produced in eastern North Carolina.

U. S. Type 13 grows in South Carolina.

U. S. Type 14 is produced mostly in southern Georgia—a few million pounds in northern Florida and Alabama.

U. S. Type 31 includes what is called White Burley tobacco. It was first produced by George Webb in 1864. It is light in color and body, and is milder than the Burley used for pipes.

U. S. Type 32, Maryland tobacco, is noted for its "burn". In this respect Maryland excels most other tobaccos.

These are the kinds of home-grown tobaccos used for making Chesterfield Cigarettes.

Then Chesterfield adds aromatic Turkish tobacco to give just the right seasoning or spice.

Chesterfield ages these tobaccos for 30 months — 2½ years — to make sure that they are milder and taste better.

Women's Sports

By Jane Whyte

So many people have turned out for the 5:00 and 5:30 volleyball practices that different group managers are having a bad time trying to give everyone a chance to play in their allotted half hour.

Practice games so far have reached a state of general enthusiasm seldom heard in the women's department, and while it is too early to venture any reliable opinion as to potential victors, Kappa Kappa Gamma and Kappa Delta, with practically every individual of her respective organization, should have better than average teams, by process of almost unlimited elimination.

By defeating Evelyn Diehlman, Zeta Tau Alpha, 7-5, 6-1, Wednesday, the women's tennis championship title remains with Eva Brownell, Van Zile Hall, for a second season. Her playing, while not spectacular, is steady and accurate, and gives assurance of her retaining her title a third year.

A last minute enthusiasm for dancing has become apparent in the last two days. Delta Delta Delta and the Winners, are the only two organizations as yet unresponsive and unrepresented, while Chi Omega, Zeta Tau Alpha, the Neophytes, Alpha Xi Delta, and the X team, all have a good number of contestants entered.

MEN'S INTRAMURALS

The two soccer finalists, Kappa Sigma and Phi Kappa Tau, fought to a 1 to 1 tie Tuesday in the game which was supposed to have decided the championship. They will try again to decide the issue in a game next Tuesday at 4:10 o'clock.

The intramural basketball season started last night. Twenty-nine teams, divided into five group brackets, are competing.

The members of these various brackets are: Group I—Delta Tau Delta, Lambda Chi Alpha, Phi Kappa Tau, Phi Delta Theta, Sigma Phi Epsilon, and Phi Sigma Kappa. Group II—Delta Sigma Phi, Alpha Rho Chi, Pi Kappa Alpha, Tau Kappa Epsilon, Beta Theta Pi, and Sigma Nu. Group III—Kappa Sigma, Alpha Kappa Lambda, Farm House, Phi Lambda Theta and Theta Xi. Group IV—Alpha Tau Omega, Sigma Alpha Epsilon, Alpha Gamma Rho, Acacia, and Phi Kappa Tau. Group V—Aggie Knights, Wesley Foundation A. C., Red Shirts, White Shirts, Black Shirts, Vets A. C., and Tigers.

Results of last night's games are: Delta Tau Delta 27, Phi Sigma Kappa 11; Lambda Chi Alpha 24, Sigma Phi Epsilon 18; Phi Kappa 15, Phi Delta Theta 14; Sigma Nu 22, Delta Sigma Phi 9; Beta Theta Pi 45, Alpha Rho Chi 6; and Tau Kappa Epsilon 30, Pi Kappa Alpha 4. Tonight's games are: Aggie Knights vs. W. F. A. C., White Shirts vs. Red Shirts, and Black Shirts vs. Vets A. C.

LAST HOME GAME

Tomorrow afternoon 14 of Kansas State's warriors of the gridiron will don their purple jerseys for their last appearance! on the green turf of Memorial stadium when they go forth to do combat with the mighty men of the South, the Oklahoma university Sooners. Seven of these fourteen seniors are backfield men, the other seven linemen. The backfield men are: Captain Ralph Graham, Tom Bushby, Lee Morgan, Ray Doll, Dougal Russell, H. R. Weller, and Ed Broghamer. The graduating line-men are: Ken Harter, Homer Hanson, Blair Forbes, Dan Blaine, Dean McNeal, Joe McNay, and Mel Wertzberger. Ten of these are lettermen. George Maddox is the only letterman now on the squad who will not graduate this year.

morning. His lecture will be followed by a round table discussion. A luncheon and the football game tomorrow afternoon will close the school.

Big Six Grid Notes

Kansas vs. Iowa State
When the Iowa State eleven invades Kansas university next Saturday they are going to meet a fighting bunch of Jayhawkers. Although they have been deep in the enemies' territory many times the Jayhawkers have not been able to score since they beat Creighton, September 30.

Coach Ad Lindsey predicts that his eleven will break this hoodoo next Saturday and score against the Iowans. If they do this they are likely to win. Both teams are in good shape.

Nebraska vs. Pittsburgh U.
A rally bonfire attended by several thousand enthusiasts gave the Husker squad a sendoff for the grid battle with Pitt tomorrow at Pittsburgh.

The Nebraskaans are somewhat handicapped by injuries received in winning their conference battle with Kansas last Saturday. Four of their regulars will not be at full strength for the tilt.

Pittsburgh, in preparing for the Huskers, has made several changes in its lineup, and is working especially hard to perfect a pass defense against Nebraska.

Missouri vs. Washington U.
Missouri has another large hurdle to face when it meets Washington university Saturday in St. Louis.

The Tigers and Washington have been rivals for many years and have always played close football.

In preparing for this game Coach Frank Carideo has been putting his men through several pass formations.

Even though this is not a conference game it would be a feather in Missouri's bonnet if they could win it, as they have had a very unsuccessful season.

SOCIETY DANCE

Members of Browning, Ionian, Athenian, Webster, and Hamilton literary societies met in Thompson hall, Saturday for a program of numbers by members of the various societies and a dance. Dave Crippen's orchestra played for the dancing which lasted from 9 o'clock until 11.

A bird's-eye view showed the way

Telephone engineers recently found the best route for a new telephone line by taking a bird's-eye view of their difficulties.

The territory was heavily wooded, spotted with swamps and peat beds, with roads far apart. So a map was made by aerial photography. With this map, the best route was readily plotted, field work was facilitated.

Bell System ingenuity continues to extend the telephone's reach—to speed up service—to make it more convenient, more valuable to you.

Students Vote on Sunday Shows Today and Tomorrow

Collegian Will Sponsor a Poll for Students Who Wish to Express Their Opinion—Ballot Box in Anderson Hall Near Royal Purple Office

In an effort to determine student sentiment on the question of Sunday shows for Manhattan, The Collegian will conduct a poll of student opinion today and tomorrow.

The ballot box will be located in the main hall of the administration building in front of the Royal Purple office and will be open from eight until five o'clock with time out for lunch.

As each student votes, his or her name will be crossed out of a student directory to insure against stuffing the ballot box and other unfair voting.

Prof. George Dean, head of the department of entomology, and a member of the Manhattan welfare board, yesterday requested the city commission on behalf of the welfare board, to submit the Sunday show question to a vote of the citizens of Manhattan.

"The board," Professor Dean said, "feels that this is the only way to finally settle this question. We have informed the mayor that there has been so much disagreement that we do not know what action we should take to carry out the will of the people."

The city commission will meet at 4:30 o'clock this afternoon to consider the request of the welfare board.

The controversy arising this year was a result of a revoking last week of the Varsity theatre's permit to operate a moving picture show after midnight Saturday night. The theatre's permit was revoked at a meeting of the welfare board held Saturday afternoon, November 11, the action to be effective Monday, November 13. The management of the Varsity theatre refused to operate without a permit following the action, and the permit was restored at a special meeting of the board last Wednesday.

The fine for operating without a permit is not to exceed twenty-five dollars for each offense.

Last spring the Dickinson theatre's permit was revoked by the welfare board for operating after noon and evening shows on Sunday. At that time the Collegian conducted a poll of students, asking their opinion on the show question, and found that an overwhelming majority of students favored Sunday movies.

The management of the Dickinson theatre conducted shows for eight days before asking for a restoration of a permit, and for this offense a fine of $200 in police court was imposed upon the theatre. The welfare board restored the Dickinson permit after the management promised to abide by the board's rule.

The case was appealed to the district court and Judge Edgar C. Bennett, who was presiding, dismissed the appeal last Friday, because the theatre management failed to present a case. The fine is now payable to the city.

"Phillips 66," Owned by P. W. Ljungdall, Awarded Grand Championship Prize at Wichita

"Phillips 66," the entry of Phillip Ljungdall, Menlo, won the title of Grand Champion steer at the first annual 4-H club fat stock show at Wichita last week. The steer also brought the high price of the show. It was purchased by G. R. Ames, manager of the Phillips Petroleum company of Wichita. Ljungdall is enrolled as a sophomore in agriculture.

Other collegiate members who showed stock at the show are Carl Eiling, Manhattan, who entered beefing and swine; Wilton Thomas, Clay Center, who entered junior short horns; and Hobart Thompson, Coldwater, who entered beefing. Eiling took seventh place in Hereford senior calves and fourth place in Poland China hogs. Thompson took sixth place in Hereford senior calves and Thomas took sixteenth in junior short horns. There were 120 entries in the Hereford class.

Eiling also was second high in stock judging and is on the winning team which goes to Chicago to the National Club Congress held December 1 to 9. Thomas is a member of the Clay county judging team which took second place.

The 4-H Club Fat Stock show is a state-wide meet which takes the place of the Kansas National Livestock Show and is limited to 4-H members only. There were 44 counties represented at the show last week.

Ray Freeland, Effingham, had the Grand Champion barrow at the American Royal Livestock show in Kansas City this week. The Riley county judging team which took first place in Wichita also took first place at the Royal in Kansas City.

M. H. Coe, A. J. Schott, Miss Lora Hilyard, and Miss Mabel Smith, all members of the extension division staff, will attend the Royal show in Kansas City on Wednesday. Mr. Schott will speak at the Dickinson county annual 4-H club achievement banquet to be held in Abilene, November 24.

The first Experiment Station luncheon will be next Saturday at 12:10 o'clock in Thompson hall. H. E. Myers is general chairman this year.

John Mogge and Bob Spiker Will Announce the Event—Year Book Sales Campaign Continues

More than 25 Kansas State college coeds will be candidates for beauty queens at the Royal Purple beauty ball which will be broadcast over station KSAC from 10:30 to 12:00 o'clock at the Warehouse ballroom Saturday night.

The music of the ball and announcing of the beauty queens by Red Nichols, famed orchestra leader, at 11:15 o'clock preceding the review, will be broadcast by remote control over the station from the ballroom. John Mogge, Goodland, and Robert Spiker, Lawrence, will announce the program.

The Royal Purple book sales have been larger this year than any former year with a total of about 200 individual copies sold thus far. The beauty pictures, which will be full length and in formal dress, will be taken today and tomorrow at the Studio Royal. The pictures will then be sent to Nichols a day before the ball, so that he may form a tentative opinion of the candidates and connect the names with the faces before the personal selection Saturday night.

OPEN HOUSE SUCCESSFUL

College Hospital Officials Well Pleased With Event
Such great interest was shown in the open house held at the college hospital Saturday that Dr. C. M. Siever, head of the department of student health, has issued a general invitation at any time to all desiring to inspect the health facilities of the campus.

"Parents and all others associated with the student body," said Doctor Siever, "should know what means the college has for caring for their children. They should be familiar with the place where sick students are cared for."

The Question of Sunday Shows

Editor's Note: In an effort to obtain a clear definition of the problems involved in the Sunday show controversy, a member of the Collegian staff yesterday interviewed the Reverend J. David Arnold, a member of the welfare board. The interview follows.

Question: What, exactly, is the welfare board and what is its function?

Answer: The welfare board is a committee appointed by the mayor of Manhattan to regulate commercialized amusements in this city. The committee has jurisdiction over any amusement business where a regular admission charge is made, such as carnivals, circuses, motion pictures, public dances, etc.

Question: Who makes the rules regulating these businesses and how does the board enforce them?

Answer: The board makes its own rules and enforces them by the withdrawal of permits.

Q—Does the board have prosecuting power?

A—No. The only way the board enforces its rules is by the withdrawal of permit. It is then up to the city to prosecute for operating without a permit, which is a violation of a city ordinance.

Q—Does the board operate under the state Sunday labor law?

A—No. In revoking the permit of a theatre for operating on Sunday, the board is so acting because that theatre has violated a rule of the board.

Q—If the board has the power to change its rules, why has it not done so with regard to Sunday shows?

A—The board feels that it is representing the public, which includes both those who desire Sunday shows and those who oppose Sunday shows. A closed Sunday has been the custom in Manhattan for many years. With many people this question is also considered to be a moral question. The board does not feel justified in making a change in such an important matter without a plebiscite of public opinion.

Q—When could this matter be submitted to the people?

A—At any time that the mayor will call an election. If the people so desire, they may petition for such an election.

Q—In case a special election is called as the result of petition, who bears the expense of that election?

A—The city.

Q—Would the city allow out-of-town college students to vote in such an election?

A—No. Only bona fide electors and citizens of Manhattan should have a voice in the government of Manhattan. People living in neighboring communities would have the same right to vote in city elections as do out-of-town college students.

Q—What attitude does the board take on holding such an election?

A—The board in the past has often asked for a referendum and has expressed its willingness to abide by the results of the election.

Q—Does the board as such oppose Sunday shows?

A—No. The board has opposed certain of the methods used by those who desire Sunday shows to attain their ends. The board has consistently held that, in order to be fair to all concerned, there should be a referendum.

Q—What is the attitude of the board toward the Collegian's poll on the Sunday show question?

A—The board commends the students for taking an intelligent interest in community affairs. Of course, the board feels that the election should be fair and accurately record the sentiment of the student body as a whole.

Q—Do you believe that student sentiment should be taken into consideration on this question?

A—No doubt student sentiment will be taken into consideration by many voters when they cast their ballots, if a special city election is held.

Q—Why was the Dickinson theatre's permit revoked last spring?

A—Because of violation of the rule of the board. The Dickinson theatre ran both afternoon and evening shows on Sunday.

Q—Did the board propose a referendum on the question at that time?

A—Yes.

Q—Why was a referendum not held at that time?

A—I don't know. The theatre management could have asked that the question be submitted at the city election last spring. There

STUDENT FORUM

"Integration of Personality Through Religion" will be the subject of the Very Rev. John Warren Day, dean of the Grace Cathedral, Topeka, in his discussion at student "Y" forum tomorrow noon.

Dean Day is well-known throughout this section of the country as a lecturer and leader in young people's work and in social welfare organizations.

This will be the last student forum this fall. As usual the meeting will be held in Thompson hall. Dean Day will be introduced at 12:35 o'clock.

TWO FAMOUS SPEAKERS

Will Be Featured This Week With Assembly Talks

Students will have an opportunity to hear the best known missionary evangelist in the world at a special student assembly to be held next Friday at the college auditorium.

Dr. E. Stanley Jones, "evangelist to the educated classes of Asia," is coming here from Kansas City to speak to the students of Kansas State college. Manhattan will be the only place in Kansas where Doctor Jones will speak.

Whether in India, China, Japan, Manchuria, South America, the United States, or Canada, Doctor Jones' audiences have crowded the largest available auditoriums. He is the author of "The Christ of the Indian Road," and other books, seven hundred and fifty thousand of which have been sold, ranking among the best sellers of this country.

Dr. J. E. Kammeyer of the department of economics and sociology, who arranged for Doctor Jones' appearance here, said that students should take advantage of this opportunity to hear a speaker of such rare ability.

Dr. Earl G. Brown, of Topeka, secretary of the state board of health, will speak on "Accident Problems" at the regular assembly next Thursday.

JOHN REINECKE DEAD AFTER HEART ILLNESS

Former Editor of The Collegian Dies at His Home in Great Bend

John Reinecke, a former student enrolled in journalism at Kansas State college and editor of The Collegian last semester, died early yesterday morning at his home in Great Bend. The cause of his death was valvular infection of the heart.

Reinecke was a member of Phi Sigma Kappa, social fraternity, and a pledge of Sigma Delta Chi, men's professional journalistic fraternity. He was secretary of Phi Sigma Kappa during his senior year in college.

During the time he attended school at Kansas State college, Reinecke was forced to carry light assignments because of ill health. And after attending the 1933 session of summer school he lacked only one hour of being eligible for graduation.

He had planned to enter the field of advertising after leaving school last year, but he remained in Great Bend because of ill health. Funeral services have not been arranged. Several members of Phi Sigma Kappa fraternity at Kansas State college will attend the funeral rites.

PHYSICAL EDUCATION MEET

Prof. Helen G. Saum, head of the department of physical education for women, will attend the state W. A. A. convention at Hays Friday and Saturday, and on Friday will talk on "Play Days." The convention was held here last year. Mildred Forrester, Wamego, state treasurer, and Lucille Johnst, Abilene, will represent the club at Hays. The alternates are Wilma Ray Womer, Topeka, and Elsie Gottschalk, Wichita.

Vote on Sunday shows today.

PHILIPPINES UNEASY UNDER HAWES BILL

Professors Believe Trade With U. S. a Big Factor in Problem of Islands

This is the third of a series of five interviews of world problems with Kansas State faculty members. The next article will concern the Japanese-United States relations.

By Clara Gantenbein

"That a people would rather have their own government than an effective government seems to be world psychology," said Miss Inez Alsop of the history and government department in an interview concerning the Philippines and their freedom.

Prof. C. M. Correll of the history and government department further stated that even while the business men on the islands recognize the trade advantages of being under the protection of the United States, many of them want freedom.

"The commercial advantages under England's rule were fully recognized by the traders in the thirteen colonies, but nevertheless they preferred to be free. The Islands as a free nation would have nothing to fear from aggressive Japan," Professor Correll said.

"The Philippines," stated Miss Alsop, "want freedom but they do not want to accept the Hawes bill which was passed by congress a year ago. This law states that the Islands are to be free in ten years but during that time the United States would gradually raise the tariff on their products."

"The Philippine Islands are feeling the hard times and naturally want free trade with the United States since 90 per cent of all their trade is with this country. They will in time build up trade with other countries," Miss Alsop believes.

TWO NEW ART EXHIBITS

Art Department Will Sponsor Showing Before Christmas

Two exhibits have been scheduled by the art department for pre-Christmas showing. One, with definite Christmas card and gift appeal, will open November 23 and remain for the first two weeks in December. Japanese prints will be featured and they will be shown on the second floor of Anderson hall.

The second exhibit will consist of India chintzes, antique Armenian embroidery, Persian art objects including trays, India lacquer, and Egyptian antique copper. It will be exhibited in the rooms of the art department on the second floor of Anderson hall from November 21 to December 8.

NEW SERIES OF LECTURES

A discussion of the Pulitzer Prize poem, "Conquistador," by Archibald MacLeish, will open a series of lectures by members of the English department. This discussion will be given by Prof. H. W. Davis, head of the department, on November 28.

On December 5, an illustrated lecture will be given by Prof. L. B. Smith, of the department of architecture. He will discuss Richard Harding Davis's biography by Fairfax Downey on December 12. On December 19 Prof. A. W. Breeden will discuss "The Store" by Thomas Stribling. On Jan. 9, 1934, Prof. N. W. Rockey will discuss "Poor Splendid Wings," a description of the Rossettis and their circle, by Frances Winwar. Prof. Anna Sturmer will discuss "The Journal of Arnold Bennett" on January 16.

A second series of discussions of other contemporary literature will be given by the following professors: Ada Rice, Helen Elcock, R. W. Conover, C. W. Mathews, and J. P. Callahan. This series will begin on February 6.

TELEGRAM FROM CHICAGO TO MISS PAINTER BRINGS THE NEWS

TICKET REFUNDS READY

Dancers Were Assured of Packed House Tonight After Three-Day Ticket Sales Event

Uday Shankar and his Hindu company will not appear at the college auditorium tonight after an accident in Chicago yesterday to the famed performer prevented the arrival of the Oriental dancers.

Miss Clarice Painter, a member of Mu Phi Epsilon, music organization which was sponsoring the appearance of the famed dancer and his troupe in conjunction with Orchestra, received a telegram from Shankar early last evening.

The telegram, addressed to Miss Painter from Chicago, read: "Deep regret. Accident to hand prevents my appearance in Manhattan. Signed, Uday Shankar."

Miss Painter immediately wired Shankar a reply and attempted to make arrangements for the appearance of the troupe at a later date.

Shankar and his company were virtually assured of a packed auditorium tonight to see their Oriental dancers. There had been a rush for seats since last Friday. Ticket sales for this program were greater than for any similar presentation in recent years.

With the box office opening last Friday more than 500 seats had been reserved by yesterday afternoon. The dancers were expected to arrive in Manhattan early this morning.

Refunds on tickets which have been sold to those who planned to attend the event will be made at the box office at the auditorium during the next several days, Miss Painter said last night.

A COLLEGE HERBARIUM

Kansas State Ranks Second for Plant Growth Habitat

The second most complete state herbarium in the middle west has been compiled at Kansas State college.

A collection of seventy-nine thousand plant specimens, representing seventeen thousand species, makes up this herbarium which was begun in 1880 and is now under the supervision of Dr. F. C. Gates of the department of botany and plant pathology.

At the present time Doctor Gates is working at the herbarium and straightening it up in view of making a check list of Kansas plants, something which is now sadly lacking. Doctor Gates is a recognized authority on the identification of Kansas plants and has done much work along this line, including his labors on the state herbarium. He believes the work he is now engaged in will be completed in two years.

The 105 state counties collect these specimens which constitute the collection and send them to this college. Here they are preserved and tabulated on a map of the state. Each plant has its own separate map on which are kept the record of its distribution throughout the state.

Some of the counties have over 700 species while others have only one or two hundred. The specimens are collected by persons who either are interested in the work as a hobby or are connected with the college.

THE SUNDAY SHOW PROBLEM

In asking the mayor for a referendum on Sunday shows in Manhattan, the welfare board has proposed the only satisfactory solution to this perennial problem. The board's action, of course, does not guarantee that a special election will be called. The election, if there is to be one, must be called by the city commission.

Agitation for Sunday shows is usually instigated every year by the management of one or other of the local theatres. Those who sponsor Sunday shows, naturally, center their attack on the welfare board, which voiced public sentiment over a decade ago in ruling against Sunday shows and which enforces its rule by revoking permits to operate. The wonder is that this question was not submitted to a vote long ago.

The Collegian has no illusions concerning the ability of students to directly influence the settlement of this question. The Collegian only hopes that the results of the student poll which it is conducting today and tomorrow will influence voters in the city poll—provided the city commission is wise enough to call for one. It seems only fair that students should have influence in this matter, since they largely support, either directly or indirectly, most of the business of Manhattan and are, perhaps, the main support of the theatres of the city.

The time has certainly come for the question to be settled one way or the other. The city commission has no choice but to submit the problem to the vote of the people.

A BOOK TO READ

One of the best ways college students may use leisure time is in reading. Many students, who have an extra hour that is not utilized are sometimes faced with the problem of doing something worth-while, and perhaps are forced to waste their time because they do not know how to spend their extra hours at the best advantage.

While useful suggestions with regard to this problem of leisure among college students might result in recommendation it should not be followed by revulsion. Reading will probably give you more real pleasure than any other form of mental exercise, and to spend an hour or so with an interesting book will result in a better appreciation of the finer things in the arts and sciences. If you admire a book which you wish other people to admire, you try to influence other people to read, when they are faced with the problem of leisure.

Thomas Carlyle once wrote that "in books lies the soul of the whole past time; the articulate audible voice of the past, when the body and material substance of it has altogether vanished like a dream." At a time when we are shuffling through college, the reading of books will enable us to live in the past and bring a better understanding of the present conditions of things.

THE 1933 COLLEGE CITY

"Gray-bearded professors who asked, 'What do you think of the college student of today?' answer, their voices trembling with age, 'Just the same—just the same fine girls and boys.'"

This is nonsense. College girls move with a changing world. Their dress, their mode of living, their thoughts, their ideas have all changed with education's coming of age for women.

The college girl of today spends less time discussing life and its problems than her sister of 1918. Not so long ago every girl had this problem to settle: Marriage or career? The answer usually was: Marriage. During the late 1920's every girl had a job waiting for her just around the corner after graduation. How different the 1934 graduate finds life. She goes job-hunting—and once in awhile a girl obtains a position because she or her father happens to have a pull.

The girl of today has an interest in economy and political affairs. America's playtime is over and it doesn't take long for a college girl to realize this. Mental work is becoming fashionable.

A girl going to college today realizes that she is lucky to be there and makes valuable use of her opportunities. The chances are that she will make a good citizen when she is out in the world.

The Editor's Desk

Whether or not you are in favor of Sunday shows it is your duty to go to the polls today or tomorrow and express your attitude toward the problem. It was reported recently that there was unfair voting on the Sunday show question last year, and it is significant to note that this year there will be no "stuffing of the ballot box." And after the voting is over students who failed to vote should not criticize the attitudes of the other students.

Hundreds of students, faculty members, and townspeople will be disappointed when they learn that Uday Shankar and his oriental dancers will not appear at the college auditorium tonight. It is likely, however, that the appearance of the dancers will be only a postponement, and the troupe may be engaged at a later date.

The announcement yesterday that the Royal Purple Beauty ball will be broadcast over station KSAC next Saturday night has increased the interest in the event. Many students who will be unable to attend the ball will very likely gather around radios during the time Red Nichols and his orchestra are sounding notes for the dancers.

The Snooper

It looked as if Douglass Russell was started on his first million Saturday. He received five dollars per touchdown from a Manhattan fan. He bought some "cigars" (supposedly) with the ten bucks and passed them at the Alpha Tap house. Speak of ATO—Doc "the Great, or Little Caesar" Matthews started his jewelry exchange this weekend with a member of the Roper family.

Thanks to somebody we learn that the KTE's had two cops help them get some letters that were stolen last homecoming. The letters (what they are is the question) were found in a respectable rooming house on Fairchild. The Farm House fraternity is about the only respectable rooming house left in town but it couldn't have been the soll and crops boys, surely.

Dave Umberger and Ed Murphy the two Beta lion-tamers have been using assumed names lately. Ed and Dave, the two little clowns from 580 Sunset, spent several hours in the basement apartments of their respective domiciles planning this quaint bit of humor.

The Alpha Xi Deltas won the Grand Championship prize at the Parents' day banquet last Saturday. Two loyal Alpha Xi's and their parents attended the event.

Maxine Harding, the local gal who made good (this is not a pun), will be back in Manhattan with Red Nichols and his band Saturday night. Maxine, whom you all remember, used to sing with June Layton, is now singing with Nichols in the Muehlebach Grill.

Beaus Vals—(this paragraph is censored)—

Things heard this weekend—"Ernestine Merritt is sorta dumb isn't she?" ditto, ditto. "Oh, I see Kannal is out, and Skradski has a date with Graham." "Has anybody set 'em up while I have been gone." Rushee—"I guess I'll have to come up to the next party that you have." "Put on your plaid Sox and let's go wading." "Burp."

Badluck, The Freshman

Dear Ma and Pa:

Well, since parents' day is over I guess I'd better tell you about some of the things which is been going on here. They is a grate deal of tawlk rite now about us having Sunday picter shows in town. They is a bored wich is called the wellfair bored that don't want nobody to have no Sunday movies and they is lots of dignified people which is big shots in this town and on the bored at the same time.

Anyway Badluck and all the members of the 5-h club for iron men and freshmen who can take it, is going to vote today for Sunday picter shows. A senur told me yesterday there was sure a lot of ajeetashun on the campest but I ain't see none of it anyplace yet.

I have something extree-spesial to tell you but its a secret so don't tell nobody on account of I don't want nobody to know it. I am in love with the most beeyoutifull coed in the world what God ever made. (Some senurs here think that God didn't make coeds but I know he made this one). I was walking down the street with her the other nite and the sky was kinda silver and the moon was shining and all once I felt kinda sick inside something like when I smoked my pipe full of tobacco about two weeks ago—only different. And so I knew right away I was in love.

So I rote her a pome that I am going to tell her tonight and if you keep it a secret I'll tell it too you.

Your eyes is like diamonds,
 On account of they shine,
 And your hair is just like the hay,
 That dad put in his barn.

This don't rime very good but it says what I mean any way.

So I guess there is nothing like being in love with somebody and especially when its a coed like mine.

Your son,

BADLUCK.

Fathers and Mothers of Students Honored With Prizes—Only Small Number Attend Following Game

Alpha Xi Delta sorority was awarded the prize offered by the athletic department of the college for having the largest attendance of parents of members of the organization at the annual Parents' Day banquet Saturday evening in Thompson hall.

Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Lautz, who traveled 560 miles from their home in Amarillo, Texas, to be here for Parents' Day, won the prize for the parents coming the longest distance. Mr. and Mrs. G. B. Morgan, Manhattan, won the prize for having the largest number of children in school.

An unusually colorful program was presented for the fathers and mothers at the annual Parents' Day activities. Forty-two people, including parents of Kansas State college students, were guests at the banquet Saturday evening. This was the smallest number which has attended a Parents' Day banquet during the last ten years.

Members of the Mu Phi Epsilon trio presented three musical selections at the beginning of the banquet. Pres. F. D. Farrell, who gave the address of welcome, stressed the ways in which the parents could help the college. E. L. Barrier, Eureka, president of the Kansas State college Parents' association, was toastmaster during the banquet. H. B. AT THE VARSITY "Christopher Bean"

A very good picture was made from this play originally written in French. The plot held very closely to the original drama except that some comedy was inserted. The story would have been better, however, if the producers had omitted the last humorous scenes, and allowed the picture to end as the play did.

The leading roles are taken by Marie Dressler as the maid, and Lionel Barrymore as the country doctor. Christopher Bean does not appear in the picture at all; his paintings become priceless after his death. The story deals with an old New England family who had a great number of his paintings lying around (they believed them to be worthless). All the action takes place within twenty-four hours, and the picture finished with a grand climax—J. L.

Russell Dodges Through for Both Touchdowns in Last Home Tussle Witnessed by 10,000 People

(By Karl Goss)
Led by Dougal Russell and Capt. Ralph Graham, Kansas State won undisputed second place in the Big Six conference by defeating Oklahoma Saturday, 14 to 0, in the final home game of the season. The victory gave Kansas State its highest rating since the organization of the Big Six. Should they win from Texas Tech. on Thanksgiving day, they will have the best record since 1909, when Mike Ahearn coached a team that won nine out of ten games.

Dougal Russell, fleet halfback, made both touchdowns by breaking through the line, once in the second quarter for forty-nine yards, and again in the fourth quarter for thirty-nine yards. Stoner's kicks for points after touchdowns were both good.

Although failing to score, Capt. Ralph Graham, plunged through the Oklahoma line for consecutive first downs, paving the way for his teammate, Russell, to score. He once headed a drive which failed on the Sooner 12-yard line, lacking only a few inches of a first down. Graham and Russell were aided in their drives by a stalwart line that was stubborn on defense and alert on offense, making openings on almost every play for these two backs to charge through. The playing of George Maddox, tackle, was particularly outstanding as it was he who made the opening for Russell to go through and score both touchdowns.

A Parents' Day crowd of 10,000, including 1,000 high school bandmen and 400 Kansas editors, saw twelve Kansas State seniors, all lettermen this year, play their final home game of college competition. Captain Graham, Morgan, Russell, Bushby, Harter, Forbes, Doll, Blaine, Weller, McNeal, and Hanson are the seniors finishing their competition this season.

During the first quarter, neither team showed anything but defensive strength. After about five minutes of playing in the second quarter, Dunlap punted from his 27-yard line which Russell took at full speed on his own 35-yard line and ran it back to the Sooner 49-yard line before he was stopped. On the first play, finding on opening between guard and tackle, he charged his way through to Oklahoma's secondary. Finding their secondary strung out, he zigzagged through them, eluding tackler after tackler and tearing away from those who got their hands on him but failed to hold. Then with only the safety between him and the goal, he sidestepped him and raced to the goal for the first touchdown.

The other touchdown came in the fourth quarter, starting on Kansas State's own 37-yard line. After Graham had gained 25 yards from line plunging, he faked, slipped the ball to Russell who tore through left tackle, then cut back and raced 38 yards for the other touchdown.

The Y. M. C. A. was responsible for the appearance of 1,040 band members at the game Saturday, where they paraded in full dress before the crowd.

Fourteen bands including Glasco, Wamego, El Dorado, Wyandotte, Concordia, McPherson, Topeka, Clay Center, Abilene, Manhattan, Norton, Minneapolis, Holisington, and Salina accepted the invitations that W. D. Fitch, Manhattan, chairman of the Y. M. C. A. committee, extended to them.

A thrill swept through the crowd when the 1,040 instruments, under the direction of Lyle Downey, assistant professor of music, joined in playing the national anthem, and a spectacular sight was presented as the members dressed in their school colors marched across the stadium. Dr. A. A. Holtz, assistant professor of economics and sociology; Kenny Ford, alumni secretary, and J. B. Parish, Fort Scott, assisted on the Y. M. C. A. committee. Y. M. C. A. members plan to sponsor the appearance of the bands as an annual event.

AT THE DICKINSON

"Take a Chance"
This show ran on Broadway 52 weeks for four reasons: beautiful dancing, four latest songs, wise-cracking comedy, and romance. Cliff Edwards and his ukelele return to the screen in this show, and he's just as good as he ever was. June Knight gives a very humorous imitation of Greta Garbo and Lupe Velez in one of the songs. Lillian Roth, Broadway star, also in this picture putting her songs across in the usual Roth manner.

The love interest is carried along by Buddy Rogers and June Knight, with James Dunn and Cliff Edwards furnishing the comedy. There is no plot to speak of and the show is rather dull in spots but is pulled out of the slump by the Daniel Boone scene in the last act—this is the cleverest act in any musical this year.—J. L.

The Question of Sunday Shows

would have been no extra expense and the question would have been settled.

Q.—Do you consider violation of the Saturday night closing rule as serious an offense as the operation of shows on Sunday afternoon and night?

A.—No. And the board has taken into consideration the varying length of time it takes to empty the theatre. The board has never been exacting in this matter.

Q.—Then why was the Varsity permit revoked?

A.—The board felt that the Varsity management was not giving sincere cooperation and was presuming on the leniency of the board in keeping shows open Sunday morning generally until 12:30 or 12:45 and on one occasion until 1:30.

Q.—Why was the press not informed of the board's action the Saturday that the Varsity permit was revoked?

A.—The press was informed. I personally went to the Mercury office and told Mr. Dwight King, a staff member, that the Varsity's permit had been revoked as of Monday, November 13. I could not inform the press as to when the permit would be restored as I did not know when Mr. Sosna, the Varsity manager, would ask for restoration. I stated that the board would meet Wednesday, November 15, to consider the restoration of the permit if application had been made.

The information was not available early enough for the Mercury and I assumed that I was talking to both papers. I am sorry that I did not get the information to the Chronicle editor also so that it could be published Sunday.

Q.—Who are the members of the Welfare Board and who does each member represent?

A.—Prof. George Dean, Mrs. Dan Casement, Mr. B. R. Hull, Mrs. C. O. Swanson, and myself. One member represents the college, one represents the churches, one the downtown interests, one the women's clubs, and one the interests of the parents and teachers of Manhattan.

"The board appreciates the courtesy of this interview," said Mr. Arnold, "with the opportunity it offers to get before the student group the position of the board. The board realizes that as the students gain a more complete understanding of the problems which the board faces and of the difficulty of solving these problems to the satisfaction of every one, better feeling will be promoted between the welfare board and the students."

Luckies draw easily
—burn evenly

It's easy to see why so many women prefer Lucky Strike. Luckies are fully packed with long strands of choice tobaccos, round and firm to the very tips. That means Luckies always draw easily, always burn smoothly. It also means no annoying loose ends to cling to lips or mess up the nice things in a woman's purse. And every day more and more women are showing their appreciation by saying "Luckies please".

Student Vote Indicates Majority Favor Sunday Shows

Collegian Conducts A Two-Day Poll To Get Students' Ideas

NAMES OF STUDENT VOTERS CHECKED IN STUDENT DIRECTORY AT POLLS

873 VOTE YES; 151 SAY NO

City Vote Will Be Held December 7-8—Professor Dean Requests That Voters Express Their Opinions

Do you favor Sunday shows in Manhattan?

This was the question asked the student body of Kansas State college by The Collegian Tuesday and Wednesday of this week.

And an overwhelming majority of students answered "yes."

Ten hundred and twenty-four votes were cast in The Collegian's poll in Anderson Hall, and of this number, 873 ballots were in favor of Sunday shows in Manhattan, and 151 were opposed to them.

The ballot box, which was located in the main hall of the administration building, was under supervision of staff members of The Collegian.

As each student voted, his or her name was crossed out of a 1933-34 student directory so that duplication of votes was avoided.

The Manhattan city commission, at its regular meeting Tuesday afternoon, set December 7 to 9 as the tentative dates for an informal referendum on the question of Sunday shows in the city. The commission's action was taken at the request of the Welfare board which stated through its spokesman, Prof. G. A. Dean, head of the department of entomology, that a city poll was necessary to enable the board to carry out the will of the people.

The votes would be counted according to a plan of the city clerk, in which a board of three persons, one to be selected by the commission, one by the welfare board, and one by the business men, who have petitioned for Sunday shows.

The Chamber of Commerce is taking a poll of its members on the Sunday show question. Ballots were mailed this week to members of the organization.

DEAN DAY DISCUSSES OUR RELIGION AT NOON FORUM

Speaker Believes Religion One of Three Roads Leading to Satisfying Life

Religion is one of the three roads by which a person can arrive at a satisfying life, one which is adapted to his environment. This was the statement of the Very Rev. John Warren Day in student "Y" forum Wednesday noon.

The other two roads, he said, are philosophy and psychoanalysis. The philosophical method is open only for those who are very well educated, who have read much and who have carefully worked out their own philosophy of life by which to integrate their lives, he said. There are two groups of philosophers: those so-called Stoics and those who follow the teachings of Omar Khayyam. The Stoics believe that if there is a God, he cares little for us, therefore one should live calmly with excesses of neither joy nor grief. The Omar Khayyam philosophy is that God is a God of chance that all happenings are accidental and all that is left for us to do is "eat, drink, and be merry today for tomorrow we die."

The second method of reaching a happy life is through psychoanalysis. This is not new. It was used centuries before Freud made it a scientific study. By it the person is compelled to face situations as he finds them in life. The specialists who help patrons to "integrate their personalities" by this method charge at least $10 to $25 per hour. The cost of this method makes it im-

Miniature Radio Can Be Carried in Pocket—Now on Market

For novel Christmas gifts someone might be interested to know that a "first and only pocket size, all-electric AC-DC radio" is on the market.

Its weight is two pounds, height six inches, width four and one-half inches, and thickness two and one-half inches. The fact that it is small does not eliminate its good volume control and its fully visible dial. It operates on 110-volt AC or DC current, 40 or 60 cycle.

This interesting bit of information was among the many circulars that Dr. A. A. Holtz, of the department of economics and sociology, finds on his desk each day.

Prof. Margaret Ahlborn, assistant dean of Home Economics, gave a report on the Land Grant College at Chicago at a home economics division dinner in Thompson hall yesterday at 5:30 o'clock.

practical for the average person.

A religion based on a sound philosophy of life is the means the majority of people are using today to achieve integrated lives. A working religion, the Dean pointed out, is the kind which teaches that God is not an anthropomorphic being but a spirit of which we are a part.

Dean Day showed how this theory is put into practice by religious workers today as they help the country's unemployed build up their self-respect.

HAYLETT ATTENDS MEETINGS

Wildcat Track Coach at Olympic and A. A. U. Conventions in East

Coach Ward Haylett, track mentor at Kansas State, attended the national Amateur Athletic Union convention at Pittsburgh, Pa., last week. The question of Jewish participation in sports and in the Olympic games in 1936 at Berlin was discussed. A resolution temporizing the stand taken by the A. A. U. was adopted unanimously. It expressed the hope that full freedom of participation would be extended German athletes of Jewish faith, and promised American participation in the games if that were done.

Coach Haylett is also attending an American Olympic Association meeting at Washington. The Jewish question has come up for discussion at that meeting, and it appears likely the association would follow the stand taken by the A. A. U., its major member, and declare for American withdrawal from the 1936 games unless the German government in fact as well as in theory abide by the Olympic principle of nondiscrimination against any race, color, or religion.

PAINTINGS TO SHOW WORKS OF KANSAS ARTISTS

DEPARTMENT OF ARCHITECTURE GALLERY WILL BE THE SCENE OF GROUP

A SERIES OF ART SHOWS

Kansas State Federation of Art Also to Sponsor Collection of Twenty Artists From Ohio to Utah

The annual exhibit of Kansas artists will be the next to come to the art galleries of the department of architecture, according to Prof. John F. Helm, Jr., the department.

This group of paintings, which will be on display from November 27 to December 31, is selected each year by the department of architecture and will include this year, works of Dr. Birger Sandzen, C. A. Seward, Arthur Hall, Norman Bassett Hall, Herschel Logan, Robert Lockard, and Prof. John F. Helm, Jr.

From December 4 to about December 11, there will be an exhibition of East Indian textiles in the galleries from the Gordon Matzene collection. These are some very beautiful textiles commented Professor Helm, and Matzene is a collector and authority on East Indian and Chinese art. The department is able to have the textiles here through the courtesy of Dr. Birger Sandzen of Lindsborg. It is thought that the collection will be on display in the art department, A 55, from approximately December 11 to 21.

C. A. Seward, director of the mid-western painters, will select a representative collection from about twenty artists, ranging from Ohio to Utah. This collection, sponsored by the Kansas State Federation of Art will be on display from February 3 through February 19.

Clay Reppert, Harris, is seriously ill at his home at 1606 Fairchild avenue.

Agronomy President

Prof. R. I. Throckmorton, head of the department of agronomy at Kansas State college, was elected president of the American Society of Agronomy at its annual meeting held last week in Chicago.

Professor Throckmorton was elected vice-president of the society last year so that, according to a new rule of the organization, he was in line for the presidency this year.

Professor Throckmorton was also made a fellow in the society, being one of the three of the society's 900 members to receive that honor this year.

SHANKAR AND TROUPE SHOW NOW DOUBTFUL

Sponsors Make Efforts to Engage Famed Dancers After Chicago Accident Last Week

Two broken fingers were the extent of the injuries suffered by Uday Shankar in an accident in Chicago the first of the week which prevented his appearing with his dance-music troupe of Orientals in the college auditorium here Tuesday night. Miss Clarice Painter of the music department talked by telephone with Shankar's manager Tuesday morning.

The sponsors are still trying to get Shankar here at a later date, but doubt was expressed as to the probable success. He leaves Chicago with his manager Saturday to recuperate in California.

The box office which was kept open to refund money on tickets was closed yesterday and all refunds will now be made in the music office in the auditorium. Advance ticket sale had virtually assured a full house for the program. Saturday noon has been set as the deadline for the refunds on tickets.

All plans had been completed Monday night for the presentation of the dancers and their arrival was awaited when the telegram canceling the engagement was received. The sponsors expressed regret that the entertainment could not be given.

Engagements at Topeka and Wichita were also cancelled. His presentation here was to have been the first in the state.

ACCIDENTS IN STATE SUBJECT ASSEMBLY TALK

DR. EARL G. BROWN, BOARD OF EDUCATION SECRETARY, EXPLAINS KANSAS ACCIDENTS

E. Stanley Jones, Missionary to India and Asia, the Speaker This Morning at 10:15 O'Clock

Last year there were 247 deaths in Kansas caused by falls and overbalancing was the greatest factor either from old age, or from some chronic disease, according to Dr. Earl G. Brown, secretary of the state board of health, who spoke on "The Accident Problem" at student assembly yesterday morning.

Pres. F. D. Farrell introduced the speaker with a story of a cartoon which appeared about twenty-five years ago. In this cartoon, President Farrell said, was the picture of one of the first automobiles and a caption which read to the effect that the auto would bring about two classes of people—the quick and the dead.

This prophecy was repeatedly brought back to the audience by Doctor Brown's speech and by the many graphs and diagrams which he drew to illustrate his lecture. Incidentally the class of dead and injured seems to increase much faster than the fleet foot.

Autos led every other cause in the number of deaths each month of this year except April when falls led the list. The greatest number of deaths for any month, said Doctor Brown, occur during the month of July. Seven per cent of all deaths occur on the farm either by machinery, animals, or other causes.

The Rev. W. U. Guerrant, student pastor of the Presbyterian church spoke briefly and led devotions during the assembly exercises yesterday.

E. Stanley Jones, Methodist missionary to India and Asia, will speak at the second assembly of the week this morning. Doctor Jones is a leader among the intellectual classes of India and is particularly interested in youth. The assembly today will begin at 10:15 o'clock. There will be no student assembly next week because of the Thanksgiving holiday.

REPPERT ORPHEUM MANAGER

Nelson Reppert, Harris, has been appointed manager of Aggie Orpheum, which will take place on the first weekend in March.

Staff members have not been chosen but appointments will be made before Thanksgiving to assure early preparations for the spring event.

Entertainment in the form of vaudeville will be featured by the various social groups invited to compete.

U. S. RELATIONSHIP WITH JAPAN IS SOUND

History Professors Think Removal of Ambassador Had Little Significance

This is the fourth of a series of five interviews with Kansas State faculty members concerning world problems. The next article will concern Germany's recent withdrawal from the League of Nations.

(By Clara Gantenbein)

"The Japanese-United States relationship has been sound and the removal of the United States fleet from the Pacific to the Atlantic ocean recently was done supposedly to strengthen the friendship between these two countries," Miss Inez Alsop of the history and government department said, when asked for her opinion on the policy of the United States-Japanese relations.

Prof. C. M. Correll, also of the history and government department, and Miss Alsop both agree that the removal of the Japanese ambassador has little significance. Their opinions differ, however, on the Russian-United States step towards recognition and its effect on Japan.

Miss Alsop believes that if Manchuria is to be used by Japan as a basis of aggression against Russia, Japan's position will be weakened and Russia's strengthened by the United States recognizing Russia. Professor Correll believes Japan will not take the sudden United States-Russian friendship with any significance. "Why should she?" Professor Correll asked. "Other nations have recognized Russia."

"The United States," Professor Correll said, "has not enough personal interest in Manchuria to make that country a contention between the United States and Japan. The United States is interested only in so far as Japan's action in Manchuria will effect world peace. We should not criticize Japan's interest in Manchuria for it is very similar to that of our attitude toward our smaller neighbors. Hers too may be called a Monroe Doctrine attitude."

Housemothers Say Both Yes And No When Asked About Sunday Movies For Fraternity And Sorority Members

(By Margaret Mary Reddy)

Remember the Sabbath—remember Long's hill—remember Sunset—but view the "flickers" through a jaundiced eye—so runs the opinion of a minority of the more influential housemothers of sororities and fraternities of Kansas State college.

Like the voice from the Biblical burning bush, twenty-one housemothers spoke but refused to be either identified or quoted when questioned yesterday concerning their attitudes toward Sunday movies. They may be called cellar-smellers, they may be said to dog the footsteps, but, so be it, they are not publicity hounds.

Most of our keepers of the matronly morals consider the Sunday silver screen to be a lesser of two evils; the most outstanding temptations being steak roasts and the call of the open road—(Watch out you sinners—buy a twenty-five cent ticket and avoid life's pitfalls.)

The forces of opposition, with one accord, united in the wherefores of their disapproval. Says Mrs. Don't Go, "there are plenty of other things to do." We hope she was only thinking of those things mentionable among the better homes and gardens.

Says Mrs. Remember the Sabbath. "Sunday is a day of rest." Of the rest of what—we've wrestled all week—even been arrested—so why rest now?

Added Mrs. Keep It Holy, "you see plenty during the week."

Came applause, approval, and consideration. Mrs. Advocate says, "It's not when the picture is shown, but what kind of a picture is shown." Right you are—and ain't some awful. There's nothing like a Mickey Mouse for stabilization of morals.

States another approver, "Sunday shows will not effect church attendance—those who go to church will continue going to church, and those who attend movies will attend movies." It's just life—some prefer sermons—some sirens—but neither will affect the other—both untouchable.

However, among all the allies, good censorship was a requisite made by all of the housemothers in regard to the Sunday cinema.

One of the more considerate housemothers emphasized the fact that so many of the students lacked mechanical means of conveyance and it would be a solution to their difficulty and an aid to their appearances and desirability if it were permissible for them to purchase two theatre seats for the evening and mingle with the upper crust.

"It's an answer to a Sunday social problem," was the statement of one housemother, and from one of the more logical thinkers came this: "If students have the money to drive to Fort Riley or to Junction City, why not have them attend a movie in Manhattan?" It's that question old as eternity—how can we keep them down on the farm—cause the pastures further on loo; greener.

For those readers—if any—who are sticklers for statistics comes the following tabulation of those interviewed "keepers of the keys": Six firmly arranged themselves again; five hung upon the brink of indecision; and ten lustily asserted "aye!"

But a majority wins if even by a nose—and what they don't know is mighty little; gawd blesses them—we keep them—and after all we are just a well-regulated niche in a mighty social order.

THE POLL ON SUNDAY SHOWS

In calling a special election on the question of Sunday shows for Manhattan, the city commission has made the only satisfactory answer to the demands of those citizens who desire Sunday shows. The welfare board has for some time felt that this matter should be submitted to a vote of the people.

The board members feel and rightly so—that on such a question as this the only final answer can be made by the people; certainly this is the only answer in keeping with the principles of democracy. The city commission has done well to follow the suggestion of the welfare board in calling the election.

Some fault might be found with the proposed manner of conducting the city poll. The commission, of course, feels that such a poll as this does not justify the expense of an election conducted in the regular manner and has decided to hold the election in the office of the city clerk. By this procedure, the expense of having supervisors for each ward will be avoided. But such a poll is likely not to be as accurate an expression of public opinion as would a regular election. Since the proposed procedure requires that more time and trouble must be taken to vote than would be the case in an ordinary election, those having selfish interest in the outcome of the poll will be more likely to influence the result than would otherwise be the case.

There can be no doubt concerning student opinion on the Sunday show question. The Collegian poll conducted this week revealed an overwhelming majority of students favoring Sunday shows. Most of these votes, of course, would not be effective in a city poll since most of them were cast by out-of-town students. But the student poll was conducted with absolute fairness and the result should have an influence on the voting of townspeople in the city election.

THE NEW LEONARDO

Leonardo looked at them, thinking: They are the youth of the world and I am their prophet. And then—his lean face tense, his eyes smouldering—he mounted his pulpit and addressed the restless crowd before him:

"You have been conditioned by the defeatism of a cynical age. You have been taught to view the ways of the world with an amused, superior detachment. You have been taught to laugh at all the gods and sneer at all reformers. You have been taught that it is ridiculous to be earnest about anything.

"But the philosophy that you have been taught is the philosophy of cowards, defeatists, impotent ones. It is only those who fear life who seek to detach themselves from it. Your cynicism is but the surface aspect of a deep-seated fatalism—which is the religion of slaves and weaklings.

"I denounce your teachers as disseminators of false knowledge. They are nihilists, prophets of death.

"I am the prophet of life.

"I, Leonardo, tell you that you cannot detach yourself from that of which you, yourself, are a manifestation. The ways of the world are your ways and you but deceive yourself in thinking that you can look upon them from a chosen distance. Indeed, that which is outside you is but expression of that which is within you.

"I tell you that you must cultivate the great emotions. You must love deeply and hate deeply. You must know despair, for it is only thus that you can know ecstasy. The intellectuals, those who seek to be aloof, are those who will not-to-live; they are the life-deniers. That which is vital is emotional rather than reasonable."

Leonardo, seeing that the crowd paid no heed to his words, ceased his harangue. The members of the crowd before him gazed at him amusedly, smiling at his earnestness. Their amusement evidenced their contempt for him. Leonardo clenched his fists, his eyes flashing.

"You disciples of death! You ineffectives!" he cried.

He stopped and gazed helplessly at the crowd which now mocked him openly. Then he descended from his pulpit and fled toward distant hills.

The Editor's Desk

After the student assembly yesterday morning where students and faculty members heard something of the accident problems in Kansas, it was a noticeable thing to see those who attended the assembly carefully walking down stairs and the steps outside the auditorium. It is a good thing to remind people once in a while to be careful, and it is hard for us to remember that during the daily routine, "accidents will happen."

According to a poll conducted this week by The Collegian the students of Kansas State college favor Sunday shows. The outcome of the vote was not alarming, except for the fact that a large number of ballots were cast. Students have always favored Sunday shows, and until some other more interesting diversion enters in, it is likely that they will always prefer movies on Sunday to other types of entertainment. Going to shows on Sunday is unique, many students believe; yet it is likely that many who voted for Sunday movies would seldom attend the shows on that day of the week.

It seems doubtful that human beings will ever learn the difference between practical joking and destroying the property of others. A billboard near Aggieville, displaying the picture of a woman and advertising a brand of cigarettes, was recently painted over by a would-be prankster, with the idea perhaps, of getting a laugh out of someone. A columnist in a local newspaper says the billboard, smeared with brown paint, is worth a smile. But nobody, including the owner of the sign and the advertiser, is smiling. Rather, the act, to them, is disgusting, and they believe that only a moron with less than inferior intelligence would be capable of daubing paint on the property of others.

The Snooper

If you've never been to the Harlem Club in Kansas City you might ask certain members of the Farm House fraternity and the Clovia club how they like the atmosphere. While you are asking them see if they went to the Muehlbach Grill to hear Red Nichols. If they can't inform you, see and hear Red Nichols Saturday night. The names of the members of these two formerly respectable organizations are withheld by special request.

As R. L. Parker was telling Don Hutchinson, "It would be too bad if Red Nichols chose an escort as a beauty queen when the beauties and their boy friends walk across the stage to be reviewed." An unofficial survey shows that this sentence of 29 words is one of the longest phrases that R. L. didn't try to rhyme.

Badluck, The Freshman

Dear Folks:

Say on I been doing a lot more thinking this last week and I've decided that what this college needs is to give fellers like me and all the members of my 5-h club a degree in feminine sociology because I've just about learned all there is to know about love making and understanding women. We would call this an F. S. degree and I'll bet if the college would make it a four year course here their wood sure bee a lot of students who graduated with F. S. degrees.

I guess that I'm about the only feller in school that realizes what an important thing it is to know the important things about women. My girl don't know yet that I ought to have a F. S. degree, and I guess I won't tell her either until the college starts giving them. Anyway I am going to rite a theam for my rhetoric teacher tomorrow on this subjeck and I am going to call it "Why every student ought to know all there is to know about women and what a grate thing a f. s. degree wood be in a colleg like this one."

There is going to be a swell soshul affare going on tomorrow night called the royal purple ball and I guess me and my girl is going to go to it. I saved up enough money last week to buy a ticket and I did it manly by not eating as many hamburgers as usual but my girl don't know it. Anyway there is a feller by the name of Red Nichols who is going to chuse the beautie queans and I guess it is sure going to be a pretty thing to see.

I rote my girl another pome last night and sent it to her today and I'll tell it to you if you don't tell nobody that I rote it. Here it is:

You are an awful pretty girl,
 You look just like my ma,
 You are the most beautiful coed,
 That I have ever saw.

I guess after she reads that pome she'll know that she is sure a pretty coed or else plenty dumb.

Your son,
 Badluck.

READY FOR TEXAS TECH

Wildcats Trot to Field for Scrimmages—Game November 30

After winning second place in the Big Six rush for football honors last Saturday in the game with Oklahoma university, the Wildcats trotted out to the Ahearn field this week for a few limbering up exercises and some short signal practice in preparation for the Turkey Day game with Texas Tech, Lubbock, on November 30. Towards the latter part of the week Coach Bo McMillin has been putting his men through some light dummy scrimmage, not strenuous enough to subject the players to any possibility of receiving injuries during practice.

The whole Wildcat team escaped serious injuries in the tussle with Oklahoma. Although there are still a few sore spots from previous games, the team should be in excellent condition for the last scheduled conflict at Texas.

WITHOUT A TENNIS RACKET

Statue Depicts the Athletic and Intellectual College Girl

The women's panhellenic trophy, a sculpture in bronze of the contemporary college girl, now standing in recreation center, was sculptured by Bruce Moore, young Wichita artist.

Moore was asked to take the commission when studying in Paris and was told that a sculpture of an athletic and intellectual college girl was desired. He accepted the commission and used his young Swiss sister-in-law as a model. At first, in an attempt to satisfy the "athletic" qualification, he placed a figure. With the consent of the women's panhellenic association, the racket was removed from the model.

The finished figure in bronze was received and accepted. Each year the name of the sorority with the highest standing is engraved upon a plate on the front of the sculpture standard. There are now two names upon it—those of Pi Beta Phi and Alpha Xi Delta sororities.

Organizing clubs seems to be a famous indoor sport around this school. The Kappas have organized an "Ex-Delt Lovers" club, with a song, secret sign (the old finger wave), "n' everything. It seems that the Board of Directors are all burnt-out flames of that noted "Casanova" Kostner! In order to be a success with Lucille Allman you must have red hair—past: Red Clancy, and Tyne Wasburg, present: P. P. Blaine. Note: Why don't you try dying your hair Isaacson?

Clovia freshmen, not to be outdone by the two actives that get around so well in the Snooper column, went to Clay Center Monday night with the Farm House boys to frolic in the skating rink. Pretty nifty, that! Why did "Buttercup" Maddox, after leaving Humboldt street in the wee small hours to meander toward the Kappa Sigma house, finally end up at the Beta house? Qualifications for asking George this question: 6' 6", and you'd better weigh 300 pounds! Charles Johnson, the Kansas City wonder boy, went out pumpkin picking yesterday afternoon. Is this a new name for a picnic? If the really hunted pumpkins, we nominate him for that grand old fraternal order—Sigma Phi Nothing!

IMPORTANCE OF TELEVISION

Professor Paslay Discusses Future of New Industry in Radio Talk

"Without a doubt, the time will come in the near future when some form of satisfactory television transmission will be available," said Prof. L. C. Paslay, instructor in electrical engineering, in a radio talk, "The Future of Television," on November 15, over station KSAC. Prof. Paslay presented some of the most difficult problems that are holding back television and suggested solutions that might bring television up to the level of sound broadcasting of today.

Television necessitates using a space in the ether which is equivalent to that used by 20 or 30 of the present day broadcasting channels.

This alone, he said, makes television in the broadcast band entirely out of the question. If the ultra-short wave lengths are used, difficulties again occur as the broadcasts would only reach to a radius of 40 or 50 miles due to the curvature of the earth.

PHI KAPPAS DOWN KAPPA SIGS TO TAKE SOCCER TITLE

2-0 Victory Last Tuesday Ends Long Drive for Intramural Soccer Championship

By defeating Kappa Sigma 2 to 0 in the final game of the soccer season Tuesday afternoon, Phi Kappa Tau fraternity for the fourth consecutive year either won or tied for the soccer championship. This victory also enabled the Phi Taus to tie the all time record of Delta Sigma Phi in having been undisputed champions three years, and co-champions one year. Since the beginning of intramural soccer at Kansas State in 1926, one of these two fraternities has won the championship every year but one, in 1929, when Sigma Nu won the trophy. The Delta Sigs were the winners in the first three years, 1926, '27, and '28, the Phi Taus the victors in 1930, '32, and '33, and in 1931 the two teams tied for the cup. This year the Kappa Sigs were runners-up, Delta Tau Delta was third, and Sigma Nu fourth in team points. The complete list follows: Phi Kappa Tau 256, Kappa Sigma 198, Delta Tau Delta 187, Sigma Nu 76, Phi Sigma Kappa 38, Sigma Phi Epsilon 132, Vets A. C. 132, Sigma Alpha Epsilon 121, Wesley Foundation A. AN EASTERN GAME

Negotiations were completed yesterday for a football game next year between Kansas State and Manhattan college of New York City. The game will be played in New York Saturday, October 6. This will be the first time Kansas State has ever appeared that far east. Manhattan is coached by "Chick" Mehan, a nationally known coach whose New York university eleven several years ago were one of the most powerful outfits in the country.

Horseshoe matches have now reached the final rounds, both in the singles and the doubles. The singles finalists are J. T. Wallingford, Delta Sigma Phi, and Ben Kohrs, Alpha Gamma Rho. The doubles finalists are J. O. Thompson and H. W. Sunderland, Kappa Sigma, and M. L. Bergsten and Ben Kohrs, Alpha Gamma Rho. The final matches will be played some time this week.

The results of Tuesday night's basketball games are: Beta Theta Pi 19, Delta Sigma Phi 17; Lambda Chi Alpha 21, Phi Sigma Kappa 14; Tau Kappa Epsilon 2, Alpha Rho Chi 0 (forfeit); Phi Kappa 17, Sigma Phi Epsilon 15; Sigma Nu 21, Phi Kappa Alpha 17; and Delta Tau Delta 24, Phi Delta Theta 14. Big Six Grid Notes

Iowa State vs. Drake
Iowa State will play its final football game of the season with Drake next Saturday.

The Cyclones came back from the Kansas game last week with no serious injuries. They should be at full strength for the tilt. Up until now they have not been up to par since the Oklahoma game, five weeks ago. Don Theophilus, a fullback, was named by his team mates to captain Iowa State against Drake.

Nebraska vs. Iowa

The University of Nebraska football team, unbeaten up until last Saturday, will meet Iowa university at Lincoln next Saturday.

Because of Iowa's showing so far this season Coach Bible of Nebraska believes that the Huskers are running up against every bit as powerful a foe as Pitt. The Iowa team outweighs the Huskers. But if the day is nice and the field is dry the light Nebraska team should overbalance this weight by their speed.

If George Sauer is able to be in the game Saturday Nebraska should be at their peak physically. Sauer was hurt in the game with Pitt last Saturday.

It is especially useful for material too dry for ordinary use. Professor Dawley also suggested that it might be a good cure for lumbago, rheumatism, over-weight, and other similar ailments.

Frank J. Zinc of the agricultural engineering department is preparing a paper on Comparing Field Tests of Rubber Tractor Tires and Steel Wheels which he will present in Chicago in December. Tractor tires, a new development of several rubber companies, are known as air wheels, similar to large wheels used on aeroplanes. He is being assisted by L. E. Barger, instructor in the department, June Roberts, and T. E. Martain, graduate students.

A MEETING OF DEANS

The Kansas Association of Deans and Registrars will hold its annual meeting Saturday at 9 o'clock in Lawrence. Dean R. W. Babcock of the division of general science, Assistant Dean C. M. Correll of the division of general science, Dean J. E. Ackert of the division of graduate study, Assistant Dean M. A.

Durland of the division of engineering, and Miss Jessie McDowell Machir, registrar will be the guests of Paul B. Lawson, acting dean of arts and sciences of the University of Kansas.

The morning session is scheduled for 9 o'clock and will be a joint meeting of the deans and registrars. Dean W. P. Behan, acting president of Ottawa university, will open the discussion. The topic will be "Guidance, not exclusively vocational, as it is being handled in our institutions." Miss Louie Lesslie, secretary of the state board of education, and Chancellor Lindsey of the University of Kansas will speak on this subject.

In the afternoon a round table discussion will be held for the deans. Miss Hattie White, head of the business office, and Mrs. Opal Hill, a clerk in that office, have gone to Kansas City, Mo., for a few days.

Jane Harmon Is the Grand Beauty Queen

FOUR OTHER BEAUTIES ALSO CHOSEN BY RED NICHOLS AS ASSOCIATES

In Grand Parade

Yearbook Staff Tells of the Royal Purple Ball and Annual Characterizations Over Station KSAC

When Jane Harmon, Manhattan, Kappa Kappa Gamma, stepped upon the green grassed platform before an array of purple and white decorations, Red Nichols personally decided then and there that she was the one and only 1934 Royal Purple Grand Beauty Queen, at the Royal Purple ball, Saturday night at the Wareham ballroom.

As Mary Elizabeth Wilks, Leavenworth, Alpha Xi Delta, Merrideth Manion, Goodland, Delta Delta Delta, Dorothy Hughes, Manhattan, Phi Beta Phi, and Donna Johnson, Clebourne, Chi Omega, marched in the beauty parade before the 325 couples, Mr. Nichols held out their

JANE HARMON pictures as his personal selection of the four associate beauties picked from the 28 entrants of Kansas State sororities.

"Never in my life have I had the privilege of judging such beautiful college girls," Nichols said. "But these five I find especially outstanding and announce them as the 1934 Royal Purple beauties."

The four brunettes and one blond greeted the radio audience over station KSAC as they were presented before the microphone by Red Nichols. Jane Harmon, the first to speak, wore a black formal covered with gold spangles. Mary Elizabeth Wilks was dressed in blue velvet trimmed with a corsage of roses on her shoulder. Merrideth Manion wore a white satin evening dress. Dorothy Hughes appeared in orange crepe with dropped fur sleeves, and Donna Johnson wore a pale blue crepe with white beads.

Ken Harter, editor of the yearbook, and R. L. Parker, secretary-treasurer, told the radio audience of the method used this year in choosing the beauty candidates and something of the makeup of the 1933-34 Royal Purple. Prof. H. W. Davis, faculty advisor of the Royal Purple board, welcomed the beauties.

A group picture of all the candidates and of Red Nichols surrounded by the five beauties on their steps of honor was taken by Prof. K. W. Given, department of public speaking, for a full page picture at the opening of the feature section in the coming yearbook.

The queen and four beauties will each receive an individual full view picture in the new Royal Purple.

Following the initiation Mrs. C. E. Rogers will entertain all members of Theta Sigma Phi with a tea at her home.

GENETICS PAPER PUBLISHED

Dr. H. L. Ibsen, professor of genetics at Kansas State college, is the author of a paper on genetics which was published recently. The paper consisted of experiments that have been carried out by himself and others during the last 15 years.

Doctor Ibsen is working on another paper dealing with inheritance of anatomical characters in general, and also a third paper which will deal with the inheritance of milk production.

Doctor Ibsen's purpose is to compile all the facts into a book later on.

Professor Gainney recently attended the Second International Congress of Soil Science held in Russia. A short business meeting will precede Professor Gainney's talk.

First English Talk Tonight

Professor Davis Will Discuss "Tallier," Tonight in First of Series

"Tallier," by Edwin Arlington Robinson, will be discussed by Professor H. W. Davis, head of the department of English, tonight at 7:30 o'clock in Recreation center. This is the first of a series of lectures to be presented on Tuesday evenings by members of the English department. Townspeople, students and faculty are invited.

"Tallier," the most recently published poem of E. A. Robinson, is a departure in tone from his previous work. "Heretofore Robinson's poems have been tragically serious studies of frustration," said Prof. Davis, "but in 'Tallier,' he treats his subject with serious good humor."

"The subject matter will be interesting to all who have been married, all who are married, and all who suspect that some day they will be married," promises Professor Davis.

TODD A SPEAKER

Sherman Todd, Olathe, gave a talk on his experiences in China and with the Chinese students at freshman commission meeting Thursday night. He attended school for one year at Yenching college, Peking, China, and is now a junior in agriculture at Kansas State college.

Kansas State Will Tussle With the East

1934 FOOTBALL SCHEDULE IS VIRTUALLY COMPLETE—MANHATTAN FIRST

Three Home Games

Seven Games Have Been Listed by Officials for Wildcats Next Year—To Meet Old Foes

With the scheduling of two non-conference games—with Marquette university and Manhattan college of New York City—last week the Kansas State 1934 football schedule nears completion.

Negotiations for the Manhattan college game were completed Thursday. The Wildcats will meet this team in New York Saturday Oct. 6. This will be the first time Kansas State has ever appeared in Gotham, and is also the first time they have invaded territory east of Morgan-town, West Virginia, where West Virginia university was played in 1930 and 1931.

Manhattan is a small school, but has high ambitions in football, and has a nationally known coach—"Chick" Meehan—who formerly coached at New York university. At that school Meehan in a few years built up one of the strongest teams in the country from what had been a poor struggling small college class eleven, but resigned under fire because he was accused of over-emphasizing football. At Manhattan he appears to be in the process of building another fine team.

It is now assured that Kansas State will play Marquette university at Milwaukee the night of October 12. The Wildcats played Marquette three times in previous years, twice when Charley Bachman was coach here, and once since the advent of Bo McMillin. Bachman's teams all broke even with the northerners, but Bo's first hapless team was defeated 14-0.

These two games, plus the five Big Six games, brings the schedule to seven games—three at home, and four away. One more home game will be scheduled, and also one more game away from home. Colorado U., Denver U., Colorado Agricultural college, Washburn, the Ft. Hays Teachers, and Detroit university have all been dickered with Kansas State officials, but to date no games have been scheduled with any of these schools.

Kansas U., Missouri, and Iowa State will be the Big Six attractions at home next year, while the Wildcats will invade the lairs of Nebraska and Oklahoma. The arrangement of the Big Six games is a little different than in the last few years in that Kansas will open the local conference season, and that the Wildcats will close the season against Nebraska at Lincoln Thanksgiving day.

The schedule to date is as follows: Oct. 6—Manhattan at New York. Oct. 12—Marquette at Milwaukee. Oct. 20—Kansas at Manhattan. Nov. 10—Missouri at Manhattan. Nov. 17—Oklahoma at Norman. Nov. 24—Iowa State at Manhattan. Nov. 29 (Thanksgiving)—Nebraska at Lincoln.

NEW CHURCH ORGAN DEDICATED SUNDAY

Miss Marion Pelton, Miss Hilda Grossmann, and Charles Stratton in Recital

Miss Marion Pelton, assistant professor of music, dedicated the new organ at the Manhattan Congregational church Sunday evening with an organ recital. She was assisted by Miss Hilda Grossmann and Mr. Charles Stratton, also of the music department.

The program was divided into three groups of organ numbers. The first included "Prelude" by Corelli, "Soeur Monique" by Couperin, and "Toccata and Fugue" by Bach. "Miniature Overture" and "The Dance of the Reed Flutes" from the "Nut Cracker" suite by Tchaikovsky, "Pilgrims Chorus" by Wagner-Liszt, and "Scherzo" by Zigout were played as a second group.

Before the last group of organ numbers, Miss Hilda Grossmann, accompanied by Mr. Charles Stratton sang "Thou Hast Known" by Ward-Stephens, "Clouds" by Charles, and "The Almighty" by Schubert. This was followed by three organ numbers, "Cantabile" from the Sixth Symphony by Widor, "Intermezzo" by Callaerts, and "Toccata" from Widor's Fifth Symphony.

HAMILTON-IO DANCE

The Hamilton and Ionia Literary societies will have an apron and overall party tonight in recreation center from 8:30 until 11:30 o'clock.

Old Mr. Turkey-Gobbler

Thoughts of turkey and cranberry sauce will be uppermost in the minds of Kansas State college students tomorrow when they start home for the annual Thanksgiving holiday. Thanksgiving and roast turkey, in fact, are synonyms in the minds of most Americans. From the first Thanksgiving day of the Pilgrims, when visiting Indians furnished wild turkeys for the feast no Thanksgiving menu has been complete without roast turkey.

Stanley Jones in Chapel Talk

Discusses Missionary Work in Far East—Urges Students to Try Religion

"It works." Those were the words Dr. E. Stanley Jones, Methodist missionary to India, used in his speech "Our Approach to an Awakened East," before the student body and many townspeople last Friday morning in the college auditorium. Dr. Jones used these words in reference to religion. For twenty-six years he has been a missionary to the East. Twice he was elected a bishop but twice refused the honor, preferring to return to his work in India.

Dr. Jones is particularly interested in youth and addressed his remarks primarily to the student body. For six months of last year he lectured before student groups in China. All of his work in both India and China has been with the intellectual classes. For nine months of each year, he said, he is out in public with the intellectuals and for the other three months he is in a retreat in the Himalaya mountains. About thirty-five men of all classes and both East and West get together to form a spiritual convocation. Class distinctions are thrown aside and each one bares his heart to the other, Dr. Jones said. Questions are discussed and ironed out. One day out of each week is set aside and absolute silence prevails while each man confers with his inner self.

At public lectures, he said, any one may arise and ask questions. In his last remarks Dr. Jones asked the student body to try religion. "Try it," he said. "If it doesn't work, don't take it. If it does work, take it."

Y. W. C. A. ACTIVITIES

Y. W. C. A. interest groups met Thursday night. This meeting was their last meeting before Thanksgiving vacation. There will be no meeting after vacation and on December 14 the various interest groups will have a joint program.

The Freshman Commission Cabinet was organized last Thursday night. The following officers were elected:

President, Janet Samuel; vice-president, Dorothy Hammond; secretary and treasurer, Corinne Solt. Sara Jane Antrim was elected program chairman and Georgianna Avery, publicity chairman. Dorothy Hammond will also act as the social chairman.

A bazaar, sponsored by the Y. W. C. A., will be held all day Tuesday, December 5, in Recreation center with Ruth Gresham, Manhattan, in charge.

Various committees have been appointed. The following have been named as chairmen of the various committees: Katherine McKinney, charge of publicity; Mary Gordon, candy; Ethel Bellis, decorations; Joe Elizabeth Miller, supplies; freshman commission will have charge of the Chinese display, Gale Anderson of the Japanese booth, and Eva Brownleville, European display. College sister groups will make the candy for the bazaar.

TEA ROOM JOBS

Ernestine Merritt, Minneapolis, and Frances Conard, Ottawa, will be in charge of the tea room in Thompson hall during the next nine weeks. Both are seniors in institutional economics and members of the tea room management class. They plan and serve 25 cent and 40 cent dinners every day from 5:00 to 6:45 o'clock and take charge of special parties in the tea room.

Leonice Fisher, Fort Riley; Ellen Ball, Williamsburg; and Opal Bowers, Manhattan, were in charge of the tea room during the first nine weeks of school.

College Wins At Royal Show

Judging Teams Prepare to Represent Kansas State at Chicago This Week

Making a record never before equalled by any exhibitor, Kansas State college made nearly a clean sweep of prizes offered in sheep exhibits at the Kansas City American Royal livestock exposition held last week. Forty-four out of the 52 prizes for which the college showed were won by the college. These placings included nine first places, one champion, and one grand champion.

A number of prizes were also won by the college hog exhibit at the exposition, including two championship honors. The college also exhibited beef cattle at the show.

Prof. R. F. Cox has charge of the college sheep, Prof. C. E. Auel has charge of the college hogs, and Prof. A. D. Weber has charge of the college cattle.

Members and coaches of the judging teams are preparing for the contests to be held this week at the International Livestock show at Chicago.

The livestock judging team will leave Thursday for Chicago. Members of the team coached by Prof. F. W. Bell are: V. E. Burnet, Manhattan; F. S. Burson, Monument; Paul Griffith, Edmond; P. H. Hostetter, Harper; R. W. Mather, Grinnell; and C. B. Team, Wichita. Hostetter was the high man of the contest held at the American Royal. There were sixty-five entrants.

The home economics meat judging team left yesterday noon for Wichita to compete in the midwest home economics meat judging contest to be held there today. Members of the team are: Helen Bolter, Dover; Margaret Murphy, Wichita; Mildred Schlickau, Haven; and Mable Hodgson, Little River. Prof. D. L. Mackintosh is coach of the team.

Members of the men's meat judging team which will leave for Chicago, Saturday, December 2, have not been picked, according to Coach D. L. Mackintosh.

CROPS TEAM TO CHICAGO

The collegiate crops judging team composed of John O. Miller, Meriden; Wilfred Pine, Lawrence; and John R. Latta, Holton; and coached by Prof. J. W. Zahnley will leave for Chicago Thursday evening. The team will compete Saturday, December 2, in the intercollegiate crops contest. The contest is held in connection with the international grain and hay show of the international livestock exposition.

POSTPONE QUILL MEETING

Quill club has postponed consideration of the qualifying manuscripts submitted for its membership contest until after the Thanksgiving holiday. The meeting for the purpose of voting on these manuscripts will be held December 5 at 7:30 o'clock in the office of Prof. H. W. Davis, chairman of the membership committee.

TWELVE INTO IONIAN

The Ionian literary society initiated twelve new members at their regular meeting Saturday. The new members are Helen Latta, Holton; Mildred Joltz, Solomon; Martha Koestel, Partridge; Marje Blythe, White City; Marjorie Lomas, Manhattan; Wilma Bremen, Riley; Genevieve Hoyt, Manhattan; Elsie Lee Miller, Manhattan; Elizabeth Knechtel, Larned; Irma Stanberg, Jewell; Nelle Ruth MacQueen, Manhattan, and Lenore Converse, Harveyville.

Students To Show Talents In Aggie Pop

ANNUAL COLLEGE ACTIVITY TO BE PRESENTED DECEMBER 8-9

Prizes To Winners

Nine Fraternities and Sororities Will Be Entered in Eight-Minute and Twelve-Minute Stunts

Directors have been chosen, stunts have been selected, and preparations for the nineteenth annual presentation of Aggie Pop are well under way.

This campus tradition which was originally called "Popularity Night" is sponsored by the Young Women's Christian association and will be presented December 8 and 9.

The faculty committee has selected the five main act stunts and four shorter stunts for intermission. This year the five main act stunts of twelve minutes each are to be given by the women's organizations and the eight-minute stunts by the men's organizations.

As in years before, prizes will be awarded to the winner in each group. These awards will be presented on Saturday night. The long acts will be judged on the basis of cleverness, artistic beauty, and presentation. All short acts will be judged on cleverness and presentation.

Each house entering has selected a director to take charge of the stunt and all of the houses will receive the direction and suggestions of Mrs. Mary Myers Elliot. The stunts chosen by each house and their directors are Beta Theta Pi, "The Gypsy Fiddler," Ned Kimball; Kappa Sigma, "Who's Afraid of the Big Bad Wolf," Max Burk; Alpha Tau Omega, "Virtue Will Triumph," Merton Mathews; Phi Kappa, "Old Tormentor," Russell Hurt; Kappa Kappa Gamma, "Love Swings On," Gladys Skinner; Chi Omega, "Gingham Lullaby," Virginia Haggart; Alpha Xi Delta, "Snow Fun," Marian Buck; Van Zile Hall, "Colored Minstrel," Mary Lois Rynders; and Delta Delta Delta, "Forward and Backward," Ellen Payne.

The sponsors of Aggie Pop feel that this year's performance will be one of the best in years since the organizations have had a better selection of stunts than formerly. There has been more variety in the type of program and, too, the houses have started rehearsals earlier and are devoting more time to their stunts.

Orchestras have been selected to play for the two performances. Jack Pickering's orchestra will play on Friday night and the "Varsity Boller" will play on Saturday night. This is a new feature and should add to the success of the entertainment.

This year's Aggie Pop is managed by Helen Morgan, Newton. The members of her committee are Louise Kriebel, Newton; Frances Farrell, Manhattan; Myra Roth, Ness City; Clara Bess Garrison, Lincolnville; Jang Harmon, Manhattan; and Nancy Jane Campbell, Lakin.

SIGMA XI HEARS PALEONTOLOGIST

Fort Hays Scientist Gives Illustrated Lecture on Fossil Hunting

George Sternberg, curator of paleontology at Fort Hays Teachers' college, gave an illustrated lecture on "Western Kansas as a Source of Fossils" at a get-acquainted party following a dinner for Sigma Xi members at the Gillett hotel Saturday evening.

This well-known fossil hunter told how the fossils are removed from the earth and showed lantern slides to illustrate. He expressed regret that most of the fine fossils that are found in the state are taken to foreign institutions, and added that Kansas is well known in Europe for its fossils.

The program included references to many leading books of fossils of plants and animals. One of the books was written by Mr. Sternberg's father who was also a well-known fossil hunter.

A short business meeting was held at which 64 members were present. Prof. Arthur Sperry of the department of geology introduced the speaker to the meeting.

COLLEGE HOSPITAL

Discharges from the hospital last week were Delbert Wendt, Bonner Springs, on Friday; George Watson, Clifton, on Sunday; and Elbert Henry, Belleville, on Thursday.

Send the Collegian to the home folks. They'll enjoy it too.

STUDENT ASSEMBLY

The date of the next regular assembly is December 8. No assembly will be held this week.

The entire assembly will be dedicated to the members of Phi Kappa Phi who have been admitted to that organization since last June. The speaker will be Prof. L. E. Conrad of the department of civil engineering. His subject will be "Where Credit Is Due." Certificates of membership will be presented to the new members at this time.

GERMANY MIGHT GO BACK INTO LEAGUE

History Professors Believe Other Nations Will Realize Germany's Situation

This is the last of a series of five interviews with Kansas State faculty members concerning world affairs.

(By Clara Gantenbein)

What will be the result of Germany's withdrawal from the League of Nations? While the answers to this question can only be suppositions, Dr. F. A. Shannon of the history and government department, who admitted that he was no prophet, said he understood how it would be an advantage to Germany to be out of the league.

He believes the other nations, seeing that Germany would no longer stand for this unfairness in armament, might possibly disarm until they are more nearly on a parity with Germany.

"What the outcome will be, nobody knows," said Prof. F. L. Parrish of the history and government department. "Germany has withdrawn from active participation in league deliberations, but she is still a member for two years more. Before that period is up she may withdraw her resignation."

Concerning the powerful regime of Hitler in Germany, Professor Parrish said that the German leader is between two blazing fires. One is his huge militant herd of Nazis demanding or expecting Germany to take the bit in her teeth. The other is the body of treaty obligations which watchful powers expect Germany to respect.

"Hitler," stated Doctor Shannon, "is a fanatic. The Germans are a smart people, but under such trying times they 'fell' for him just as we Kansas people nearly 'fell' for Doctor Brinkley in our times of distress. Hitler's recent book, 'Mein Kampf,' should be treated lightly—it was written to satisfy the clamor of the German people, for Germany cannot afford another war."

Annual Cosmo Dinner Tonight

"Feast of Nations," Traditional Banquet of Club, Will Be Held in Methodist Annex

The "Feast of Nations," the annual traditional, informal banquet of the Cosmopolitan club here, will be held at the Methodist annex, 1630 Osage. The feast is characterized by foreign foods prepared by student members of other countries as well as American native dishes. There are 65 acceptances to invitations to date, according to Marion Stiles, Manhattan, business manager.

The following menu has been arranged: Persian Cocktail, Persia; S. M. Ahi; Puri and Keima, India; S. P. Das; Arroz Frilo con Pollo, Panama; E. A. Turkeys and Students To Mix Thursday

TREK FOR HOME WILL BEGIN WEDNESDAY NOON

A Real Vacation

Unlucky Students Who Remain in Manhattan Will Enjoy Turkey Day Programs and Dances

Thanksgiving day—Turkey Day—is again enticing the studious and the inane away from classes and drugstore sessions, pulling them homeward for the first big holiday of the school year.

Tomorrow, the homeward trek will begin. Some will journey by train, some by motor car, and some by the well-worn—and wearing—method of hitch-hiking. And it is likely that the struggle of the intellect to control the appetites will result in a complete, if temporary, defeat of the intellects of most students the day after tomorrow.

The holiday begins, officially, tomorrow noon, and ends Sunday night. And between these two time-limits, students will feast and sleep and, in general, forget that they are students. Of course there will be a few students who will take text-books home, planning seriously when leaving here to study a bit during the vacation. But unless something mysterious happens, the books will lie on the library table—unopened, and perhaps forgotten when the students leave for Manhattan late Sunday night or early Monday morning.

For those few unfortunate students who must remain in Manhattan after the general exodus Wednesday noon, the Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. will sponsor a program of "something to do while the rest are gone."

On Friday night the Y. W. C. A. and the Y. M. C. A. will sponsor a dance in recreation center. No admission will be charged. On Saturday a retreat will be held at Camp Rotary where there will be a friendly competition in volleyball and horseshoes. At noon a picnic lunch will be served. Each person will be asked to bring 15 cents. The Rev. B. A. Rogers of the Methodist church will lead the retreat.

PROFESSOR SAUM SPEAKS

Physical Education Director Discusses "Play Days" at Hays
Prof. Helen Saum, director of women's physical education, talked on "Play Days" at the 10th annual session of the State W. A. A. convention at Hays Friday morning.

Professor Saum defined play days as the coming together of schools for games but not competition. Play days have been limited to girls, and girls of different schools have participated on the same teams in volleyball, baseball, and swimming.

At the business meeting it was agreed that various schools in the same vicinity be put into three groups for play days. No school will have to go an unreasonable distance by this arrangement.

The colleges represented were Hutchinson junior college, Hutchinson; Wesleyan, Salina; Mary Mount, Salina; College of Emporia, Emporia; K. S. T. C. Emporia; Wichita university, Wichita; Washburn, Topeka; Sterling college, Sterling; Fort Hays Teachers college, Hays; and Kansas State college.

The convention will be held in Ottawa next year.

S. G. A. Adds New Member to Royal Purple Position

Howard Moreen, Salina, was appointed yesterday to the Royal Purple board by the S. G. A. council to take the place of Joe Kepler, who did not return to school this fall. Other members of the Royal Purple board are Winifred Wolf, Ottawa, Albert Thornbrough, Lakin, Prof. E. T. Keith, and Prof. H. W. Davis.

A RADIO DEBATE

A debate between Doane college, Crete, Nebr., and Kansas State college Tuesday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock will be broadcast over station KSAC. The question will be "Should the United States Adopt the Modified System of Socialism." Ned Kimball, Manhattan, and J. R. Westmacott, Chase, will represent Kansas State college on the negative side.

A DAY OF THANKS

Once again the spirit of Thanksgiving will be observed next Thursday when people all over the United States join in a festivity of thanks for nature's annual bounty and other marks of God's favor.

For three hundred twelve years Americans have devoted one day in the year to a celebration of Thanksgiving. During times of peril and disaster and the more prosperous seasons the spirit of Thanksgiving has been carried on from one generation to another.

With Indians as guests of honor, about tables loaded with game and fish, wild fruits from the forest, and corn-bread and vegetables from their new gardens, the Pilgrim fathers celebrated their first American harvest festival in October, 1621, the first autumn of the exiles in their new home.

Although there were feasts, fasts and Thanksgiving days celebrated during each of the following years, it was not until 1636 that we find record of a celebration such as we now keep. It was in the fall of this year that the colonists in Plymouth colony gathered in the "meeting-house beginning some half an hour before nine and continued until after twelve o'clock," with psalm-singing, prayer, and sermon. Then came "making merry to the creatures, the prouder sort being invited of the richer."

Later President Washington issued a proclamation recommending that November 26, 1789, be kept as a day of "national thanksgiving" for the establishment of a form of government that made for safety and happiness. The day gradually became a custom in the western and some of the southern states, each appointing its own day. In 1864, President Lincoln issued a proclamation in which he "appointed and set aside" the last Thursday in November as a day of national thanksgiving.

Today, Thanksgiving day has become a thoroughly American institution. Each year we become more thankful for the things we enjoy. Deep in our hearts we express our thanks as a silent expression of our souls. There is a radiation of sincere appreciation and gratitude in our feelings. Our thoughts of Thanksgiving are not bespoken in our conversation during the day. But they are there, nevertheless. . . . We are glad that we are living. We enjoy life. We hope to live many more years. We find joy in our friendship with others. We appreciate our good health and hearty appetites. We are thankful.

THE NEW LEONARDO

Leonardo, banished to distant hills, voiced the platitude, "man created God in his own image," and framed his message for the valley-dwellers, thus:

"Dub the Christian Absolute Lord, God of Hosts, of infinite compassion and infinite wisdom, creator of all things and by whose will we exist. The infinite and eternal is He. We, the finite, cannot comprehend Him.

"But translate Him into private life and observe him through the eyes of the whole man. Then he becomes Mr. God, standing on an enormous pedestal and performing sleight-of-hand to please spectators. He is the sum of the hopes of the fools and cowards among men. Mr. God is the cosmic clown.

"Let us deny him, laugh at him, mock him. He is the least of man's creations. And let us banish all the vague gods of the scientists and theologians to the limbo of the Unknowable. Then we affirm that there can be no gods outside ourselves. The essential man is the Absolute."

The Editor's Desk

Kansas State students have waited a long time for the vacation which begins tomorrow at noon. When the whistle blows at the power house, there will be many a collegiate automobile headed toward home, and it probably won't be at a slow pace either. Many who stay in Manhattan plan to "catch up on a few things" during the four-day holiday. A few will go with the Wildcats to Lubbock to watch the Kansas State team tussle with the Texas players in the annual Turkey day football game.

The 1933-34 Royal Purple staff devised the only fair method of selecting beauties for the yearbook when it was decided last fall that the candidates would be chosen at the Beauty Ball rather than by photographs. It is apparent to anyone that choosing the most beautiful co-ed in any school by looking at a photograph could easily become a job for the judge's secretary rather than the judge himself.

The exhibit of Kansas artists which will be held in the art galleries of the architecture department, November 27 to December 31, should be of interest to every student of the college. During recent years the works of Kansas artists have won high recognition in the middle west. Artists of our state should not be passed. The paintings of Prof. John F. Helm of the department of architecture will appear among those of other Kansas artists.

The Snooper

The Beauty Ball proved to be quite a success—even the Deltas were crowning into the ears of their lady loves. Jane Harmon the "best example of beauty shop work" was crowned the queen. Someone asked her for her opinion of beauty contests and she replied "so much hokey" (hokey is a better word anyway.)

Here are some excerpts from a bit of political propaganda—(It has to do with the election of Lois Narramore for honorary colonel). "A sophomore who has combined the domestic with the athletic by a major in home economics and art. Prominent in all mentionable campus activities—(we shall disregard the unmentionable.)—so to you future defenders of our homes and hearth sides—(sounds like Reddy)—I leave instructions 'tis a new deal and a fair deal—in fact she's a great deal fairer looking than most of them." And on—"If lurking doubts and bits of sneaky suspicion still clog your mind just go up and see her sometime. Do you follow me boys? (signed C. C. (Note: the fire escape on the Chi Omega house is on the south side boys.)

The Snoopers own Who's Who—
Bob Wallerstedt, born a few years ago. He is nicknamed "Another Sigma Nu Flower." He bounces around at dances. He bounces around other places. In fact he's an old runder. At present he works at the telephone office. No, he isn't a telephone girl.— He takes engineering and is studying Shan-Kar dancing. He is sometimes called intellectual, sometimes he is called something else. And so forth. (Next time, if nothing happens, Ned Kimball will be brought to light.)

The great organization of Pax, a chapter of the United Artists and devotees of Bacchus, had its annual shin-dig, bawl, debating society and church social, last night. It hadn't started yet—the dance—when this was written but did you ever read accounts of a fire in an old maid's home? If you haven't, disregard the fire and think of the time the old maids would have. The Pax party is something like the above-mentioned fire.

The great Jim Richards won a $2 bet—he bet some of the Phi Kappas that he wouldn't go to the Gold Diggers ball, after he won he was mad, and declared that the "gals weren't true to him" and he would leave them out of his social register. Remember Jim that the Pi Phi party is December 9.

Badluck, The Freshman

Dear Ma and Pa:

Well, thanksgiving is about here and everybody here is doing there thanksgiving shopping early. When I was coming home from school yesterday afternoon I saw a turkey running down anderson avenue and a whole bunch of softmores and senturs was chasing him. I thought it was just another turkey that a store in Aggieville was giving away so I started chasing it; and after I run about six blocks I caught him by the ankle just above the feet and all at once a big fat man came running up and said, "hey there, clod-hopper, give me my turkey back."

But I just kept rite on running and this fat guy couldn't run very fast so I beat it right to my room, and when I got there I put the turkey in my closet and closed the door. Well, pretty soon, I heard somebody knocking at my door and when I went to see who it was, I saw a big policeman standing there with a stick in his hand. I told him I didn't have no turkey in my room, but he knew just where he was on account of he heard him in the closet making a funny noise. Well, the policeman went over and opened the door and there was a great big egg in the closet right where the turkey left it. So me and the turkey and the egg all had to go to the police station for a couple of hours, until this big fat feller came and took everything but me and the egg.

Anyway, ma, I am really going to celebrate next Thanksgiving because I am going to eat 10 hamburgers instead of just six, and I guess I will drink an extra quart of milk too, on account of this is going to be a special day. And say, ma, don't forget to send me that cake that you told me you'd make for me on thanksgiving.

Your son,

BADLUCK.

Kansas State Wildcats To Texas Today

WILL ENGAGE TEXAS TECH IN FOOTBALL TUSSELE THURSDAY

No Team Injuries

McMillin Not Cocky Over Outcome of Turkey-Day Classic—
Texas Tech Has Charging Line

Kansas State's Wildcats, fresh from their conquest of second place in the Big Six conference, leave today for Lubbock, Tex., where the Matadors of Texas Tech will be met in battle Thanksgiving day.

The team will be at its peak physically for the first time since the Nebraska game, as no injuries were received in the Oklahoma game, and all the players injured in previous games have had plenty of time to recover.

Coach McMillin is not at all cocky concerning the outcome of the Turkey-day classic, as the Matadors, although representing a young and small school and not as well-known as some of the older teams of the southwest, have a team which has won eight out of their nine games played so far, and boast of one victory over Baylor, a member of the Southwest conference. They have a fast charging line, are experts at blocking, and have an outstanding backfield quartet.

Tech uses the Notre Dame system, which the Wildcats have faced before this season in the St. Louis, Michigan State and Missouri, games.

Texas Tech's season record follows:

Tech 39	Freshmen	0
Tech 0	Southern Methodist	14
Tech 33	Dixie University	0
Tech 7	Arizona	0
Tech 40	Louisiana Tech	0
Tech 12	Texas Sch. of Mines	0
Tech 27	Haskell	0
Tech 7	Simmons	0
Tech 13	Baylor	0
Total 178	Opponents	20

KAPPA BETA MEETING

The program at the Kappa Beta meeting Tuesday, November 21, was in the form of a consecration service. Vona Wandling was the leader. Alice Sternburg played a clarinet solo.

Hollis Saxon, the vice-president, presided at the business meeting, which preceded the program. It was announced that initiation will be held Tuesday, December 12.

MEN'S INTRAMURALS

Alpha Gamma Rho was the winner in both branches of the intramural horseshoe matches which were completed last week. In the singles Ben Kohrs defeated J. T. Wallingford, Delta Sigma Phi, in the final match, and in the doubles Kohrs teamed with M. L. Bergsten to defeat J. O. Thompson and H. W. Sunderland of Kappa Sigma in the finals.

In Friday night's basketball games Farm House defeated Alpha Kappa Lambda 25 to 11, Kappa Sigma downed Theta Xi 28 to 15, and Sigma Alpha Epsilon won from Alpha Gamma Rho 20 to 11. Last night's results are Sigma Nu 16, Beta Theta Pi 12; Delta Sigma Phi 14, Tau Kappa Epsilon 18.

AT THE VARSITY

"The Sweetheart of Sigma Chi" All the college coeds and cake-eaters should see this picture, the girls so they will know just how to go about getting a pin, and the boys will know how to block the technique of the feminine element.

Buster Crabbe is the hard-to-get man who finally falls for Mary Carlisle, who is the type of girl who make a collection of fraternity pins. After he learns about her from the brothers, she realizes her mistake and does her best to try to remedy matters.

The thing that makes this different from the rest of the college pictures is that there is no football game. The athletic idea is brought in by having a boat race; the night before the big race Mary Carlisle practically wrecks the crew, but it all turns out all right. Ted Fio-r-tis and his band furnish the music for the picture.—J. L.

Big Six Grid Notes

(By Herbert Neyhart)

Nebraska 7, Iowa 6
A crowd of 37,000 spectators saw the University of Nebraska defeat Iowa university at Lincoln last Saturday.

The Huskers made their only score late in the second quarter when Bernie Masterson scooped up the ball that Miller was holding for him to placekick and dashed around Nebraska's left end for the touchdown. He also kicked the extra point.

Then the Nebraskans without the aid of George Sauer, triple threat Nebraska back, held the Iowans scoreless until the last quarter. With a swift wind in their favor the Iowans at this time made a 36-yard drive for their only score. The try for extra point failed.

When the game ended Nebraska had the ball on Iowa's 7-yard line.

Iowa State 7, Drake 7
Although Iowa State threatened three times to cross Drake's goal line they were only able to cross it once.

State's only score came in the fourth quarter with Drake leading 7 to 0, when Bill Alexander intercepted a Bulldog pass and smashed through center for the tally. Dana's placekick tied the score.

Drake's score was also made on an intercepted pass in the second quarter.

Many are afraid that the new beginning dancing organization known as the Junior Orchestras is about to die from lack of attendance. The club has changed its regular meeting hour from Wednesdays, at 3:00 o'clock to Thursday afternoons at the same time, and all old and new members are earnestly requested and invited to come to these meetings.

Prof. F. C. Fenton, head of the agricultural engineering department; Prof. F. J. Zink, agricultural engineering department, and Instructor E. L. Barger of the agricultural engineering department expect to attend the meeting of the American Society of Agricultural Engineers in Chicago December 4 and 5. Mr. Barger will present a paper on the use of rubber tires on tractors at the power division section of the meeting.

The eighteenth annual convention of the Kansas Association of Ice Cream Manufacturers was held in Topeka Thursday and Friday. Prof. W. H. Martin of the department of dairy husbandry, and Prof. R. M. Green of the department of agricultural economics were speakers.

Prof. Harold Howe of the department of agricultural economics, will accompany John Hepler, district extension agent, to Seneca today to speak at the annual meeting of the Nemaha county farm bureau.

Jim Richards got around to dancing with all the beauty candidates at the Royal Purple Beauty Ball last Saturday night, even though Jim, Harry Miller, and Burnette Stratford were conspicuous by their absence at the Gold-diggers' Ball.

Paula McDaniels capitalized on Lee Carlson when she borrowed his car for Friday night, and later rented it for a dollar. Little Esther Hedges lost her equilibrium, and tripped over her partner's feet finally ending in a horizontal position at the dance. The Sigma Nu flowers were having fun after the beauty ball by playing with their coffee. Freddy Garrison poured his in the sugar bowl, while Bob Wallerstedt, not to be outdone, drank his from the saucer! . . . Tut! Tut!

Girls take a last lingering look at Dick Donnelly, because after Thanksgiving he may no longer be with us. . . . Question of the hour: Why did Don Isaacson sit in the lobby of the Wareham Friday night until a poor Kappa freshman took pity on him and asked him to go up to the dance with her? . . . Why is Bill Seales importing a girl for the Sig Alpha Christmas party? . . . Why are Tella Hinshaw and Virginia Pettibon looking so unhappy these days? (Answer: Don and Partner are beginning to dominate!)

Prepare For Aggie Pop Presentation

NINETEENTH ANNUAL ALL-COLLEGE SHOW, DEC. 8-9

To Give Nine Acts

Prizes to Be Same as Last Year—A Different Set of Judges for Each Show

(By Pauline Compton)

Final preparations for the nineteenth annual presentation of the Y. W. C. A. Aggie Pop, to be given December 8 and 9, were made last night when the six judges were announced.

Friday night the judges will be Miss Ruth Hartman, Miss Helen Hostetter, and the Rev. Perry L. Platt. Kingsley W. Given, Lyle Downey, and Miss Janet Wood will be the judges on Saturday night.

Under the direction of Mrs. Mary Myers Elliott of the public speaking department the nine competing organizations are putting last minute touches on their stunts.

There will be five main act stunts 12 minutes in length and four shorter stunts for intermissions 8 minutes long. Cooperating with a suggestion of the advisory committee the women's organizations are presenting the long stunts and the short stunts will be taken by the men's houses.

Prizes this year will be as last year and awarded on Saturday night after the second performance. The prize for the 12 minute stunt is a silver loving cup which is 11 inches tall. The winner of the short stunt will receive a cup which is nine inches tall.

In judging the long acts, cleverness, artistic beauty, and presentation will be a basis for deciding the winner. For the short stunts the judges will base their decisions on cleverness and presentation.

The stunts and the houses presenting them are "Love Swings On," by Kappa Kappa Gamma; "Gingham Lullaby" by Chi Omega; "Sno Fun" by Alpha Xi Delta; "Colored Minstrel" by Van Zile Hall; "Forward and Backward" by Delta Delta Delta; "The Gypsy Fiddler" by Beta Theta Pi; "Who's Afraid of the Big Bad Wolf" by Kappa Sigma; "Virtue Will Triumph" by Alpha Tau Omega; and "Old Tormentor" by Phi Kappa.

A CHRISTMAS EDITION

Only eleven shopping days will remain for students in Manhattan after the special Christmas edition Friday. The issue will carry information about the merchandise of merchants, downtown and in Aggieville, who have stocked their stores with attractive gifts for everyone.

Students should plan to do their buying from complete lines before going home and not be confronted with the problem of selecting from the picked over stocks of home town merchants. Early buying is more satisfactory.

KLON-KERNEL MEETING

The regular meeting of the Klod and Kernel Klub, new student section of the American Society of Agronomy will be held this evening in Ag. 303, at 7:30 o'clock. Prof. A. E. Aldous will speak to the group on his work at Nebraska in 1932.

Approve Work On College Campus

Civil Works Administration O.K.'s Kansas State Improvement Program

The Civil Works Administration authorities in Manhattan have approved a program for improvements on the college campus.

Groups of men and teams have been working the past week grading the west side of the campus and the drainage ditch of the county road bordering upon it.

The baseball practice fields are being graded and the dirt taken therefrom is being used to extend the west side of the varsity baseball field so that the bleachers may be placed farther away from the third base line. Later on, it is expected that work will begin on dressing up the edge of the campus west of the stadium and the drainage ditch bordering it.

It is also expected that work will begin soon on improving the township road north of the college campus. The one-way bridge just north of the campus will be widened and the hump on the road just west of the agricultural building will be cut out so as to carry the drainage along the road instead of through the pasture north of the road.

Prof. L. E. Conrad head of the civil engineering department, was appointed by John G. Stutz, state civil works administrator, to supervise and direct control surveys in Kansas under the Coast and Geodetic Survey. The Civil Works Administration has allotted funds to the Coast and Geodetic Survey for carrying on these control surveys in all the states of the Union. The work consists of triangulation, traverse and leveling. Headquarters will be established in room 219 of the engineering building.

Professor Conrad will make appointments of 330 men for this work from lists provided by this state civil works administration. Ninety-nine of these men must be experienced engineers and the remainder should be men with at least an engineering degree.

Each applicant must file his application with his local national employment bureau. The Manhattan bureau is stationed on the second floor of the Community building.

PARKER ATTENDS MEETING

Dr. John H. Parker of the agronomy department, attended the meeting of the Western Seedsmen's association at Kansas City Saturday.

More than 100 seed dealers from about a dozen midwestern cities attended the meeting which was held at the Baltimore hotel. Seed dealers were present from Mississippi in the south to North Dakota and from Colorado in the west to Illinois in the east.

A banquet was held for the visitors in the evening, at the Kansas City Athletic club, at which Rudy Patrick and J. G. Peppard seed companies of Kansas City acted as hosts.

KAPPA PHI ENTERTAINMENT

Kappa Phi, the Methodist church college girls' fraternity, will entertain the other church fraternities at a meeting tonight at 7:30 o'clock in the recreation rooms in the Methodist church basement.

The groups which have been invited to the meeting are Kappa Beta, the Christian church college girls' fraternity; Theta Epsilon, Baptist; and Theta Pi, Presbyterian.

Mary Elizabeth Allman, Manhattan member of Kappa Phi, is in charge of arrangements for the meeting.

Thackrey To Edit Kansas Day Magazine

JOURNALISM INSTRUCTOR MAKES PLANS FOR SECOND ISSUE

An Annual Edition

To Include Work of Famous Writers and Artists of State—Kenneth Davis Is Assistant Editor

"The Kansas Magazine," revived last year through the efforts of Prof. R. I. Thackrey, journalism department, Kansas State college, will be published again on Kansas Day, January 29, with Professor Thackrey as editor and Kenneth Davis, Manhattan, as assistant editor.

Letters are being sent to many well-known Kansas writers requesting contributions for the ensuing edition, according to the editor. Manuscripts from students will be considered and accepted if the material merits publication.

The purpose of "The Kansas Magazine" is to publish under one cover representative selections of prose and verse written by Kansas authors. Reproductions of etchings and paintings by prominent Kansas artists are also included.

William Allen White, Ed W. Howe, E. Haldeman-Julius, Helen Rhoda Hoopes, Karl Menninger and Jean Lyle, John S. Curry, John F. Helm, Birger Sandzen, and Marco Morrow are the most widely known among those who contributed to last year's issue.

It has been suggested that the magazine be published quarterly instead of once a year. "Quarterly publication will not be attempted," said Mr. Thackrey, "unless justified by the reception given these first issues, prospects for a continuous supply of good material, and prospects for continuous support through copy sales, which must be the source of revenue. An annual on an enduring basis is to be preferred to a more frequent visitor which might, in time, prove less welcome."

REMODEL MUSEUM

New lighting fixtures were installed in the museum in Fairchild hall last week.

After the usual cleaning the museum was fumigated yesterday morning to kill insects and other organisms which might prove destructive to the specimens.

N-I-B-B-L-I-N-G-S

Things we'd like to know... Is the idea of no smoking on the campus a college rule or a tradition? ... When anyone speaks of it they say it is a tradition, but it isn't listed in the student directory. ... How did Fern Fox (nee Vesceky) manage to find the news of her marriage to Don Fox a secret for so long? ... Why don't the Beta's (pardon us for mentioning them) teach their pledges how to act in public? ... How much does the Snooper charge for publicity in his column and why doesn't he change the names on his rubber stamp? ... Who are the people who are always singing in the auditorium? ... If all the people who attend chapel were laid end to end they would sleep better. ... An absent minded student threw away his cigarette upon approaching the campus the other day and started to remove his hat. ... The Kappa Sigs evidently don't let the depression bother them because they have chosen "Who's Afraid of the Big Bad Wolf" as their Aggie Pop stunt. ... If they haven't an extra large and ferocious wolf at their door they are different than most of the so-called fraternities on the hill. ... Speaking of a cavity in one of his teeth a person was heard to remark that every time he ate a sandwich he had to buy two—one for the cavity and one for himself. ... The game at Lubbock, according to the players, was good boxing practice. ... The Texans evidently aren't as tough as they were touted however, because none of the Aggies were injured although several of the Texas team had to be taken out because of injuries.

SUCCESS IN TELEVISION

Programs Are Regularly Sent from College Laboratory in Evenings Regular television programs are being transmitted every Monday, Wednesday and Friday in the evenings from 6:45 to 7:30 o'clock in the television laboratory of the engineering building. Experimental transmissions are being made of persons who are interested in television. A sound proof studio has been built in the laboratory.

This station was recently re-assigned from 2150 to 2055 kilocycles. Prof. L. C. Paslay who is in charge of the television laboratory is being assisted by A. W. Rucker, graduate assistant, and E. L. Kent, Manhattan, a junior in electrical engineering.

Art Talk Tonight

Burr Smith to Give Illustrated Lecture on "The Art of the Book Illustrator"

An illustrated lecture on "The Art of the Book Illustrator" will be given by Prof. Linus Burr Smith of the department of architecture tonight at 7:30 o'clock in recreation center.

The speech this evening will be the second of a series of lectures given under the auspices of the department of English on subjects of contemporary literature.

Professor Smith will handle his subject in an historical fashion, tracing the development of illustrations from the Egyptian hieroglyphics is 1500 B. C. to art and illustrations of the twentieth century. He has made a special effort to select material for people interested in books and he has been able to secure slides taken from the original copies of Egyptian, Babylonian, Greek, Gothic, and modern art in illustrations.

The lectures this year have been divided into two series, one for each semester. Discussions to be given this semester by professors of the English department are Fairfax Dawney's "Richard Harding Davis: His Day," by Prof. J. O. Faulkner on Dec. 12; Thomas Stribling's "The Store," by Prof. A. W. Breeden on Dec. 18; Frances Winwar's "Poor Splendid Wings: The Rossetis and Their Circle," by Prof. W. W. Rockey on Jan. 9; and "The Journal of Arnold Bennett," by Prof. Anna Marie Sturmer on Jan. 16.

Kansas State college will be represented by a mixed meats judging team at the International livestock show this year. Usually the Kansas State team has been either all men or all women. Prof. D. L. Mackintosh, coach of the team, said last week that there are usually one or more mixed teams in the competition.

The college team, which will compete with eight other teams, will leave Manhattan Saturday night for Chicago. Monday the team will work out in the Swift and company storage plant and Tuesday will compete in the International contest.

Members of the team include Miss Helen Boler, Dover; Miss Madeline Hodgson, Little River; Charles Murphy, Leoti; and Walter Lewis, Larned.

GRADUATE THINKS OF AN IDEA FOR CONGRESS

J. A. Cook Believes the Rehabilitation Program Will Work Under New Plans

(By Joe Martinez)
"A dollar in a cash box buys no food, clothing or luxuries" so we must increase government expenses, decrease taxes on property, make hoarded cash undesirable, make mortgages free property, make leisure very desirable and make kidnapping and other illegal business such as counterfeiting unable to operate and thereby obsolete. That is an engineer's method of rehabilitating the crisis partly caused by the "efficiencyizing" of the engineers.

Furthermore there is actually a way that this "rehabilitation" program may be put to work! All that we have to do is to make a simple federal law authorizing all this—prosperity will begin to flow around us!

Cash on hand will be made very undesirable and yet not so undesirable that it will be burned or otherwise destroyed, and if it is destroyed a means is provided whereby an equivalent amount of cash can be placed in circulation. The means is merely to tax every dollar in circulation five cents, or more, per year.

Of this five per cent tax the government and the banks would receive one per cent each. The banks will thus become a "people's financial service station" instead of a "joint" maintained by profits received through speculating with depositors' money. The remaining 3 per cent shall be distributed to counties throughout the United States in proportion to their respective miles of roads. But, this money is for labor only, for counties have no money for materials the laborers must furnish their own tools.

Under this federal law also all money will be reprinted every year for distribution during June (a slow month). And everyone exchanging cash shall fill out a form giving the government a check on shady operations.

Simple, isn't it? Anyway, that is the way J. A. Cook, a graduate in 1919, in a letter to Prof. R. G. Kloeffler, department of electrical engineering, has conceived as a way of starting the stream of prosperity flowing again.

Cook is employed by the Electrical Research Products company of St. Louis, Mo.

Sherwood Eddy, Famed Authority on International Relations, Will Address Groups

Sherwood Eddy, a well known authority on international relations, will give three speeches at a state-wide student conference at the University of Kansas, December 8 and 9.

Mr. Eddy has traveled all over the world in the last 35 years, spending five months in 1931 and 1932 in China and Manchuria. On July 20, 1933, he attacked the denial of impartial social justice to all minority groups in Germany, the denial of liberty of thought, conscience, speech, press, and voluntary association in German life, and the disregard of fundamental laws and principles of morality and economics. This statement was widely quoted in the press throughout the world. He has written a great deal on contemporary religious, sociological, and economic problems.

Y. W. C. A. and Y. M. C. A. members throughout the state will attend the conference. Registration will begin at 3:00 o'clock Friday afternoon, in the lobby of Memorial Union building. An Estes student conference reunion in Lawrence will also be held at that time.

INDIAN STUDENT TELLS OF GANDHI

S. P. Das, Bangalore, India, Considers Hindu Leader One of World's Most Important Men

S. P. Das, Bangalore, India, a junior enrolled in agriculture, explains in an interview something of the work of Mahatma Gandhi, who was recently released from prison after a rigid self-inflicted fast in India. Gandhi is attempting to bring about a regeneration of the class of people known as the untouchables in India, and he has definite plans for the continuance of the work he has begun.

(By Francis Baker)

"Mr. Gandhi is in my opinion one of the most outstanding men in the world today," said S. P. Das, when asked about the leader of the mass of Indian people. "The work that he is doing is one of the greatest things that a man can do is an attempt to better the conditions of his fellow countrymen."

"Gandhi," continued Mr. Das, "is a person to whom the usage, 'practice what you preach' may be readily applied. When he first began his work for the untouchables, he became as one of them, living in the same circumstances, eating the same type of food, and following the same customs."

"Of the people who have most consistently opposed Gandhi are the members of the higher class Indian castes, who have done everything in their power to subvert or eliminate anyone attempting the spread of ideas similar to those of Gandhi among the lower classes," Mr. Das stated.

"Gandhi's ultimate objective is the establishment, among the lower classes of Indian natives, of a feeling of equality with other classes. He feels that if he can succeed in making all members of Indian society equal and on the same level, socially, economically, and politically, the country will then be ready to make definite progress in the establishment of an independent nation."

This cannot be accomplished, however, without the cooperation of all the people, and opposition is still too strong against Gandhi for much progress in the near future, Mr. Das said. The people of England as a whole have shown great interest in Gandhi's work and agree to some extent with his ideas. They, too, realize that the work is only begun and that it will take years of tedious endeavor on the part of Gandhi and his followers to show results.

Mr. Das believes that the caste system has so undermined the morale of the lower class Indians that they have lost all self-respect and all hope of ever making a place for themselves in the world.

"The most important reason for the failure of the London round table conference was the fact that the higher caste Indian princes would not consider any of the demands or suggestions made by Gandhi. They completely ignored him and therefore no satisfactory results were reached by the time the conference closed. The root of the whole trouble lies in the disapproval of these higher caste Indians who feel that they will be injured socially or economically if there is anything done which will tend to bring about the abolition of the caste system," Mr. Das concluded.

AGRONOMY MEETING

Professor Laude a Speaker at Seminar Held Yesterday

The first meeting of the agronomy seminar was held Monday afternoon in east Waters hall. Professor H. H. Laude of the agronomy department spoke on Jarovization or vernalization, a new field of plant research recently developed, especially in Russia.

The process of vernalization consists in soaking seeds of crop plants at certain temperatures and in the light or in the dark, depending on the species and variety of the plants used. At the plant breeding station at Odessa, Russia, some very striking results have been obtained, Mr. Laude said. Winter wheats have been made to behave as spring wheats and spring wheats have been made to ripen earlier.

Some primary experiences with winter wheats, which gave positive results, were conducted by A. F. Swanson at the Ft. Hays station in 1933. Professor Laude carried on some field experiments in vernalization of soybeans and sorghum at the agronomy farm at Manhattan, but obtained no positive results.

GYMNASIUM WILL BE DECORATED FOR THE DANCING

Eleven Piece Band

Ted Adams and His Colored Band Will Furnish Music for Dancers from 8:30 to 11:30

The second all-school party of the school year, sponsored by the Kansas State chapter of the Junior American Veterinary Medical Association will be held Saturday evening in Nichols gymnasium. The dancing will begin at 8:30 o'clock and continue until 11:30 o'clock.

The dance is the first social event sponsored by the members of the veterinary association and it is planned to make the party an annual event and one of the important dates on the college social calendar during coming years.

Ted Adams and his 11-piece colored band of Omaha, Neb., have been engaged to furnish music during the dancing at the party. Adams and the members of the band recently completed a three-months engagement at Memphis, Tenn., and during recent years their music has become popular over the central and southern states. During the past several months the band has played regularly at the Roof Garden of Sioux City, Iowa, and at the Club Araby of Omaha.

Students enrolled in veterinary medicine and in agriculture and members of the veterinary association are now selling tickets for the event. The dance is informal for both men and women, according to the sponsors of the party. Members of the association plan to decorate the gymnasium for the dancing.

Dr. R. R. Dykstra dean of the veterinary division, and Mrs. Dykstra; Dr. H. F. Leinhardt, also of the division of veterinary medicine, and Mrs. Leinhardt, will be chaperones at the dance.

M. L. Bergsten, Cleburne, is chairman of the dance committee. Other members of the committee are H. H. Flechner, Manhattan; A. S. Rosenwald, Denver, Colo.; Russell Madison, Slayton, Minn.; and W. L. Skinner, Beverly.

SUNDAY MOVIES IN MANHATTAN

Two weeks ago The Collegian sponsored a poll for college students in an effort to determine the opinion of the student body in regard to whether or not they did or did not favor Sunday shows in Manhattan.

After two full days of voting on the question Kansas State college students indicated that a large majority favored movies in Manhattan on Sunday night. Eight hundred seventy-three students voted in favor of Sunday shows and 151 indicated on the ballots that they were not in favor of movies on Sunday.

Following the poll at the college, the Manhattan city commission at its regular meeting, set December 7 to 9 as the dates for an informal referendum on the question of Sunday shows in the city. The commission's action was a result of a request of members of the Welfare board who desired that a city poll be taken before it would be possible to carry out the will of the people regarding the question.

Citizens of Manhattan who are interested in the question will go to the polls next Thursday and Friday to vote for or against Sunday shows. Kansas State college students have already indicated their attitude toward the matter. But college students, although not permitted to vote in the city referendum, can still play a leading part in the success of the poll, by encouraging townspeople, who are the voters, to go to the polls on Thursday and Friday and cast their ballots.

While the outcome of the voting will remain a question until the votes are counted following to two-day poll, it is apparent that many citizens will be influenced to a great extent by the outcome of the student vote two weeks ago.

THE AGGIE POP

One of the oldest activities at Kansas State college is the annual Aggie Pop which will be presented to college students, faculty members, and townspeople this year on December 8 and 9.

Originating as "Popularity Night" on the Kansas State campus nineteen years ago, the Aggie Pop has become an event which is looked forward to each year by older students and others who have enjoyed the entertainment in past years. The Aggie Pop, in reality, has become a sort of tradition at Kansas State college. Sponsored by the Young Women's Christian association the event promises each year a high degree of cleverness, artistic beauty, and elaborate presentation.

Directors of nine fraternities and sororities have been chosen and rehearsals have started. Prizes will be awarded to the winning organization in the short and long act groups.

In view of these facts Kansas State college students are urged to attend the Aggie Pop next Friday and Saturday. You will be assured of a good performance and at the same time you'll be giving your support to one of the most important and colorful collegiate events during the school year.

OUR LIBRARY

It has been said that in a good library is stored away much of the wisdom of the world. Many college students realize this fact and enjoy it. And to be able to enjoy it they are classified as the fortunate students in our educational institutions.

It is possible, however, for anyone to find enjoyment in reading. Not stiff reading of figures and facts. Not pages of meaningless sentences and unsmooth phrases. But literature that has been created by authors and writers who have experienced life and know it as it is. These have produced the writings that are lacking in falsity—that reflect only wisdom, experience, and truth.

Visit the reading room in our library tomorrow or today and get on to the knack of this pleasure in reading. You'll find it profitable and enjoyable. It's a good habit and it's worth at least a portion of your consideration when you are faced with the question of diversion.

"Another insurance policy for peace," cried the Metrotone newsreel announcer as a news shot of the launching of the "Cuttlefish". Uncle Sam's newest submarine, was shown in a local theatre recently. One of the audience laughed derisively.

The Editor's Desk

The five state schools of Kansas are faced with a regrettable situation in view of the fact that more than 500 students will have to quit school if they cannot get work to do, according to a recent report.

The board of regents, however, in realizing this situation has presented a statement of fact to the federal department asking that there be set aside from public works appropriations sufficient funds to employ these students during part of each day and keep them in school. According to the proposal, the money would be well spent for it would aid students to work their way through college. Many of the students would have to return home, discouraged with nothing to do. They would go through the winter in idleness when they might be getting an education.

Charles M. Harger, chairman of the board of regents, believes the proposed plan in giving aid to students in college would be much better than helping them at home or in the C. C. C. camps. The C. C. C. camp members are costing $1,000 each year. One-third of that sum would aid a worthy student to stay in college. Under the plan the money would be spent in improving the campuses and similar work where it would do some good.

College students who are working their way through school are of the earnest and thoughtful type, and the proposal by the board of regents deserves careful consideration by the federal department. Young folks who desire an education enough to work for it certainly deserve the careful consideration of those who can make it possible for them to obtain the necessary work.

The Snooper

Thanksgiving, the quaint old American custom, has had its purpose degenerated according to reports. Y. M. C. A. officers attending night clubs; big shots of the campus doing amusing and uncalled for things; automobiles breaking down; and various other things too numerous to mention.

Answering Kernal's question about rates—regular newspaper rates are charged but not collected. And speaking of Mark do you know his ambition is to have a newspaper beat to cover deaths and funerals? And he is well on the way to success according to some people!

Who's Who—Ned Kimball, born under the impression that Betadom is the vague, lives under the strain that Betadom is essential. Ned ("Hell, just call me Neddie" as he sometimes calls himself) goes to college when Ernestine doesn't bother him and when he isn't following Harmon around. Ned drives a car; he is town-man; consequently he lives here in the summer. This is getting old, so are the Betas. (Next week, some member of the Delta Shetals—so help us.)

Did you know that Winifred Winship was an Alpha Chi Omega pledge at K. U. before she came to Manhattan to pledge Pi Phi? And that Russell was not even in the game when the papers reported that he received a bid pass from center? That the presence of Ralph Graham on a street corner in Newton caused an automobile wreck? And that Clay Reppert is a big shot in Kingman? And a shot around the campus took a revolver with him when he had a date with a Kappa the other day? And that if you took the columns in The Collegian, and carefully pasted them together that they would reach from the waste paper basket in the Royal Purple office to the waste basket in the college postoffice? And if you had known what was going to be written you wouldn't have read this far you saps!

Badluck, The Freshman

Dear Ma and Pa:

I sure got homesick during Thanksgiving vacation but since I am president of my 5-H club for Iron Men I had to show the rest of the members that I could take it—and not lose no sleep over getting homesick.

I didn't do much during vacation except go to the movies every afternoon except on Thanksgiving day and that was because I ate so many hamburgers for dinner that I didn't feel like going no place after that. I got the chocolate cake you sent me, mom, and I ate it with my Thanksgiving dinner so you can see I sure had a good time.

Me and my girl was out walking in Aggieville the other night and we was looking in windows at the Christmas presents and other stuff, when all at once she stopped in front of a jewelry store and started to look at some swell rings and bracelets. Well, I went up there to see what she was looking at and when I said, gee ain't those pretty engagement rings, she said, oh, they sure are, gee, aint they nice. So, I just 'hot maybe she'd like to have one of those swell rings in that window so the next day I went down to the store and ask the feller in the jewelry store how much they was worth, and he said they was worth quite a bit, but he'd sell em to me at a bargain price of $149.88. So I just said, gee whiz, they must be good rings.

Anyway when me and my girl goes out walking after this I am going to take her window shopping in front of the five and ten cent store on account of I can get her more Xmas presents out of a place like that than I ever could any place else. Your son, BADLUCK.

P. S. Say pa I guess you'd better send me about 5 bucks more because I really ought to buy my girl something for Christmas I guess. If I have any money left I'll buy you a necktie—and you can let me wear it too school next semester.

THE GOLDEN DAY
A Study in American Experience and Culture, by Lewis Mumford

(Reviewed by Romayne Cribbitt)

When life is no longer trapped in the maze of tangibles, when it is not distraught by war or the scurry of commerce, then it can grow. But its sturdiness and the keenness of its vision will depend upon how well the essential elements of life are metabolized. Ample food and pure water are not enough; without the inner urge and purpose, life may become a dwarfed clown or it may grow into a monstrous idiot of clumsy strength and senseless mouthings. The vigorous, alert form of life results from the synthesis of the common materials of existence into a well-proportioned being, conscious of its manifold relations with the world.

Such was the life that America experienced between 1830 and 1860. The first, immediate stress of hewing out a stable community in the wilderness had passed. The coming storms of industrialism and of the Civil war, though sensed in the air, had not yet darkened the sky. In this brief interval, American thought lived through its golden day. The significant men of that day, Emerson, Thoreau, Whitman, were not content with seeing life and reporting it. They saw the possibility of achieving in this New World a truly new world for life. They faced the fundamental questions: What is the direction and purpose of life? What elements are essential to its growth? How does the spirit work out its most satisfying forms? They attempted in their writings and in their lives to make answer to these questions; their work remains the unclaimed heritage of Americans.

The golden day was not one of unclouded splendor. The mind's vague frustrations, the whims of fate, the lonely shadows of the soul, these elements were searched out and recorded by Hawthorne and Melville. They affirmed that life's profoundest experiences are reached through the catharsis of tragedy.

"The Golden Day" is an account of the American culture as revealed in its literature and philosophy. The progression of American thought is traced from its dawn in the disintegration of medieval Europe, through the bright sunlight of the golden day, and on into the dreary, smoke-filled night of industrial dominance, through which we are still groping.

Lewis Mumford sees deep. He is not deceived or engrossed by the surface superficialities of "style" and "plot" and "system." He looks past the surface to the substance beneath. The vision that the giants of the golden day saw, Lewis Mumford has seen. He is aware of our rich inheritance, of our potentialities for fulfilling many high visions; and his story of these things is one of intense and passionate beauty.

AT THE VARSITY "Dancing Lady"

This is the best picture that Joan Crawford has made since "Our Modern Maidens"—for once she forgets her drooping eye lashes and gives a good performance as the show girl who lives for dancing only. Franchot Tone is the spoiled rich boy who uses his money to try to divert Joan from her career—with no success.

Clark Gable does no heavy love-making but just uses his old personality to finally win the girl. The musical numbers are all very fine, and Fred Astaire of Broadway fame dances with Joan. Incidentally, in this picture Fred taught Joan the dance that he and his sister have always used exclusively. Ter Healy and his stooges, and Ma Robson furnish the comedy.

All in all it's quite the best musical that has been around here for quite some time.—J. L.

3 about Cigarettes

Not so long ago practically all cigarettes were made by hand

Now, Chesterfields are made by high-speed machines that turn out 750 cigarettes a minute, and the cigarettes are practically not touched by hand.

BY the use of long steel ovens—drying machines of the most modern type—and by ageing the leaf tobacco for 30 months—like wine is aged—Chesterfield tobacco, is milder and tastes better.

Only pure cigarette paper—the best made—is used for Chesterfield.

And to make sure that everything that goes into Chesterfield is just right, expert chemists test all materials that are used in any way in the manufacture.

Chesterfields are made and packed in clean, up-to-date factories, where the air is changed every 4½ minutes. The moisture-proof package, wrapped in Du Pont's No. 300 Cellophane—the best made—reaches you just as if you went by the factory door.

Collegian Sports Editor Picks An All Big Six Eleven

Nebraska Players In Leading Part Of First Grid Team

Graham Placed At Fullback and Sauer of Nebraska Fills Half-back Position

By Milfred Peters
The Collegian Sports Editor
With all-star football eleven springing up right and left, it seems rather useless to have another. Yet it is the custom and privilege of every sports editor to select his own.

The All-Big Six team selected by The Collegian gives the champion Nebraska Cornhuskers the biggest share of the players among the first 22. On the first team there are five Huskers, three Kansas State stars, two Sooners, and one Jayhawk. Nebraska places nine players on the first two teams. Kansas State and Oklahoma each five, and Kansas university three. Throughout the latter part of the grid season, Captain Ralph Graham and George Sauer of Nebraska have been running a hot race for all-star rating at fullback. Both are so good that it is impossible to keep one or the other off the first team.

To get around this, Graham has been placed at fullback and Sauer at halfback on the first team. There is not much to choose between the two. It is the opinion of this writer that Graham would fit in better than Sauer at fullback. Throughout his three years of competition the Wildcat leader has been a smashing back. When a few yards were needed for a first down, he could be relied upon to deliver. Besides his ground-gaining ability, "Rambling" Ralph has been a great captain and leader. For this reason he has been named as captain on the all-Big Six eleven. As a defensive fullback, Graham is without peer in the conference. His great line backing has been a big factor in the Wildcat's defense.

At halfback, Sauer's 195 pounds add power to the first team. His all-around versatility in the backfield make him a valuable asset to any eleven. Teaming with these two are Dougal Russell of Kansas State and Bob Dunlap of Oklahoma.

Russell's brilliant open field running ability has resulted in many scores for the Wildcats this year. He is one of the most elusive backs in the country after he breaks loose, as the Sooners will testify. He scored the two Kansas State touchdowns against the Oklahomaans which gave the Wildcats the runner-up place in the conference. Dunlap at quarter makes the first team backfield complete. He is a quick thinker and also makes good use of his all-around ability.

It is doubtful if there is a better backfield combination in this section of the country than the one just named. Each player on it is a master in his specialty. Graham and Sauer can crash the line with the best of them. Russell is great at openfield running, as well as kicking. Dunlap can pass, kick, or run, whatever the case may be. This backfield averages 187 pounds per man.

Nebraska gets four men in line positions, Oklahoma, Kansas State, and Kansas university each one. Nebraska and Kansas had the best ends of any of the conference eleven, so Bruce Kilbourne of the Huskers and Ernest Casini of the Jayhawkers have been placed at ends on the first team. The two tackles on the first eleven are the heaviest men on the line. George Maddox of Kansas State and Gail O'Brien of Nebraska both tip the beam at more than 200 pounds.

First string guards are Ellis Bashara of Oklahoma and Warren DeBus of Nebraska. They average 178 pounds, but their apparent lack of poundage does not take anything away from their playing ability. Franklin Meier of Nebraska has been named at center. There is no question about the fact that he is the one and only great pivot man in the conference, which lacked other superlative centers this year. The first string line averages 181 pounds.

The second team will give the first team a run for its money any time. The backfield consists of Bernie Masterson of Nebraska at quarter; Hubert Boswell, Nebraska, halfback; Tom Bushby, Kansas State, halfback; and Ormand Beach, Kansas, fullback. Masterson is nearly as brilliant and versatile a quarter as Dunlap. Boswell is a great runner. Bushby a blocker, and Beach a defensive, blocking fullback.

The second team line can easily match up with that of the first string. The ends are Lee Penney, Nebraska, and John Harris, Oklahoma, both outstanding players on their respective teams. Pete Mehringer, Kansas, and Cash Gentry, Oklahoma, have been placed at tackles. Gentry was known as the Sooners' punt blocker. Mehninger's play has been good, but not quite as good as last season. Clair Bishop, Nebraska, and Homer Hanson, Kansas State, are the second string guards. Bishop has teamed up well with his Husker teammate, DeBus, at guard. Hanson's line play has been outstanding for Kansas State. Harold Fleetwood of Oklahoma ranks next to Meier as a center.

These two teams still leave several players of the conference who deserve mention. Among them are Stacy, Oklahoma, guard; O'Neil, Kansas, end; Schiele, Missouri, end; Flentrop, Kansas State, guard; Kvaternick, Kansas, guard; Clawson, Kansas, tackle; Wertzberger, Kansas State, tackle; Griffing and Harter, Kansas State, centers; and Allender, Iowa State; Hatfield, Missouri; Stoner, Kansas State; Bill Pensze, Oklahoma; Morgan, Kansas State, backs.

Texas Tech Wins From K-State 6-0

Matadors Score on Recovered Pass From Center Which Sailed Over Goal Line

(By Lloyd Riggs)
To the amusement of some 7,500 cowboys from the badlands of the Texas Panhandle, Texas Tech took a rough and tumble game of football played "Texas style" from Kansas State at Lubbock, Tex., Thanksgiving day, 6 to 0, in the last game of the season for the Wildcats.

The Tech score came in the third quarter when Priddy, substitute center of the Matador outfit, recovered a pass from center which sailed into the end zone. At that time the regular Wildcat backfield was on the sidelines, trying to recuperate, as the heat and high altitude had just about gotten the best of them. Darnell was supposed to take the pass from center, but he was playing a position he was not accustomed to, and didn't time the play right, so no one was there to catch the ball, and it sailed on into the end zone. It was Griffing who centered the ball and not Sundgren, as the Associated Press story said, and Russell was not in the game. There was nothing wrong with Griffing's pass, and it was not a bad pass, as that report had it.

It is the positive belief of the players that Kansas State scored a touchdown in the first quarter, when the Lubbock story said that Tech held two feet from the goal line, but the Wildcat players in the game at the time are certain that Graham was across the chalk line by at least a foot.

"Texas style" football is much the same as "Texas style" wrestling—nothing is barred. Tech slugged and held continuously, but the officials did nothing about it. Coaching from the sidelines was also allowed.

Russell's punting was one of the outstanding features of the game, and he was also the only Purple ball-lugger to gain at all consistently. Kansas State's passing attack was stopped for the first time this season, as only two passes out of 17 attempted were completed.

This leaves a season record of six victories, two defeats, and one tie for the Wildcats, one of the best records Kansas State has made since it began playing big time opponents. The total points were 105 for Kansas State and 29 for its opponents.

Workouts for Frosh, Sophomores, and Juniors Will Continue for Ten Days

The twelve Kansas State seniors who played their final game at Lubbock, Texas, Thanksgiving day, have now turned their suits over to their understudies with the hopes of them establishing a better record next year. Coach A. N. "Bo" McMillin will hold workouts for the next ten days for the freshmen, sophomores, and juniors. Some of the sophomores and juniors, however, have finished their football for this year, as they reported to Head Basketball Coach Frank Root, yesterday for basketball practice.

The Biggest user OF FINE TURKISH TOBACCOS

—why Luckies taste
better, smoother

On certain mountains in the Near East is a limited collar of earth—called in Turkish, "Yacca." Tobaccos grown there cost as high as $1.00 a pound. Carefully they are examined, leaf by leaf. Often it takes a man a whole day to select two pounds of certain of these fine tobaccos. Lucky Strike is the world's biggest user of fine Turkish tobaccos. For these tender, delicate Turkish leaves are blended with choice tobaccos from our own Southland—to make your Lucky Strike a cigarette that is fully packed—round and firm—free from loose ends. That's why Luckies taste better, smoother.

Gypsies, Bull Fighters For The Aggie Pop

NINETEENTH ANNUAL Y. W. C. A. PRESENTATION TONIGHT AND TOMORROW

Nine Acts In Show

Two Sororities and Four Fraternities Will Compete for Two Silver Loving Cups

A gypsy fiddler, colored minstrels, torreadors, and even a big bad wolf will appear tonight during the nineteenth annual Aggie Pop which begins its performance at the college auditorium at 8 o'clock.

Nine organizations are co-operating to give an entertainment which is one of the leading events of the school year. Competition

JEAN DEXTER WINNER

Jean Dexter, Columbus, Ga., won first place in the poster contest advertising Aggie Pop. The poster was on display in the main hall of the administration building—until it disappeared yesterday morning. Anona Wilson, Manhattan, won second place in the contest. The poster is on display in the Uptown Palace drug store.

Members of the commercial illustration classes submitted the posters. First prize was a check for one dollar plus a ticket to Aggie Pop and the winner of second prize received two tickets for the entertainment.

will be strong for the two silver loving cups which are given to the best stunt in each of the twelve and eight minute groups. Miss Jessie McDowell Machir, registrar, will present the prizes after the performance tomorrow night.

Mrs. Mary Myers Elliott, formerly of the public speaking department, is coaching the stunts. The five women's organizations with their stunts and directors are Kappa Kappa Gamma, "Love Swings On," Gladys Skinner, Topeka; Chi Omega, "Gingham Lullaby," Virginia Haggart, Topeka; Alpha Xi Delta, "Snow Fun," Marian Buck, Abilene; Van Zile Hall, "Colored Minstrel," Mary Lois Rynders, Wichita; and Delta Delta Delta, "Forward and Backward," Ellen Payne, Manhattan. These are twelve-minute stunts and will be judged on the basis of cleverness, artistic beauty, and presentation.

The short curtain stunts for intermissions are presented by the men's organizations. They are Beta Theta Pi, "The Gypsy Fiddler," Ned Kimball, Manhattan; Kappa Sigma, "Who's Afraid of the Big Bad Wolf," Max Burk, Manhattan; Alpha Tau Omega, "Virtue Will Triumph," Merton Mathews, Manhattan; Phi Kappa, "Old Torreador," Russel Hurt, Manhattan. These will be judged on cleverness and presentation only.

Judges for Friday night will be Miss Ruth Hartman of the music department, Miss Helen Hostetter, department of journalism, and the Rev. Perry L. Platt, Saturday. Prof. Lyb Downey of the music department, and Miss Janet Wood of the department of physical education will be the judges.

The "Varsity Nine" band will play Friday and Saturday for the performances. This is a new feature and is expected to add to the success of the 1933 Aggie Pop.

Last year Delta Delta Delta won first place for the long stunt and Beta Theta Pi won first place for the short stunt. Competition probably will be unusually keen and decisions will probably be very close.

The Aggie Pop is managed by Helen Morgan, Newton. Committee members are Louise Krehbiel, Newton; Frances Farrell, Manhattan; Myra Roth, Ness City; Clara Bess Garrison, Lincolnville; Jane Harmon, Manhattan; and Nancy Jane Campbell, Lakin.

May Broadcast Big Six Football

Athletic Director Ahearn States the Council's Favor of Broadcasts After Faculty Meeting

The broadcasting of the Big Six games will be the principal problem confronting the athletic directors and faculty representatives when they gather in annual session at Excelsior Springs, today and tomorrow.

Some of the facts they must face are that Kansas State played football to the largest crowd in its history this year and that Nebraska also had a record breaking crowd, while Missouri's attendance dropped.

John K. Shelleck, business manager of athletics at Nebraska, attributes the increase of spectators to five causes: good weather, a spectacular team, cheaper season tickets and $1.00 general admission, no broadcasting, and a slight change in business conditions in general.

Prof. M. F. Ahearn, head of the department of physical education and director of athletics, stated that at the faculty council meeting held Tuesday it was decided to ask for permission to broadcast games in the future, both football and basketball. The council favored broadcasting the games only from the college and without a commercial hook-up.

Oklahoma is also in favor of broadcasting Big Six games, but instead of advertising some product and interrupting the game all the time the Oklahoma officials believe it would be proper to advertise the school during intermissions.

Considerable feeling both for and against broadcasting the games has been created at the various schools. The question will probably be settled at the meeting today and Saturday.

Dr. H. H. King, head of the chemistry department, and representative of Kansas State college at Big Six conferences, and Prof. M. F. Ahearn, director of athletics, will attend the meeting at Excelsior Springs.

Here's How Aggie Pop Was Named Nineteen Years Ago

(By Pauline Compton)

Whence came the POP in Aggie Pop? Well, it's a long, long story and goes something like this. It seems that almost a score of years back when the old event, Y. W. C. A. County Fair, was about to meet its doom and a stunt night was to take its place, a gang of the old cronies gathered round and tried to find a name for the new presentation. They thought and thought. It had to have Aggie in it—but that wasn't enough. It had to have something with a "flare" to it—but what could it be? Then suddenly out of the quiet, a young feminine voice cried, "Why, call it 'Aggie Pop.'" And thus the "POP" was put in because the most "POP"ular of the stunts was awarded a prize. From reliable sources the voice was supposed to have belonged to Mildred Inskip who was Y. W. C. A. secretary at the time.

Down through these nineteen years of its existence, never has Aggie Pop failed to be presented.

It's a Hustle-Bustle Life Now Around the Christmas Shops

(By Margaret Mary Reddy)

Boughs, bulbs, and baubles—that's all—and yet the usual city street, sandwiched in between the usual row of usual city buildings assumes a Christmas glamour—a certain something which gives even the common curb stones a personality.

It is the season of kinship, kinder folks, and "so many shopping days until." Antiquated aunts, funny uncles, and far distant and long-forgotten cousins force themselves into the memory of the ever-stretching family budget and the paternal purse strings. Discarded bridge prizes are excavated, exquisitely wrapped, and with the dearest of sentiment—sent on—(interesting, the tracing of the life cycle of a bridge prize).

The Goldsmithian atmosphere disappears, mercantile centers bulge and flow over into a motivated mass of human buying power herculean in its bustle, its hustle, and its lack of consideration. He who appears not when the gates are opened reaps not the benefits of the bargain table—it's a survival of the fittest. Mortals—window

Election Soon For Student Council Posts

NEW MEMBERS TO BE ELECTED AFTER CHRISTMAS HOLIDAYS

Petition Necessary

Any Member of S. G. A. Eligible for Council Positions—Election Judges Must Approve Names

Two student council members will be elected by Kansas State college students at an election to be held immediately after Christmas vacation, according to an announcement yesterday by the student council.

One man and one woman will be elected to fill the positions of M. L. Carter, Smith Center, who will graduate this semester, and Mayrie Griffith, formerly of Topeka, who did not return to school this semester.

Any member of the Student Governing association, which includes all students who have paid the activity fee, is eligible for nomination to the offices.

A petition with the signatures of 25 names of members of the Student Governing association must be presented to Merrideth Manion, Goodland, secretary of the student council, by six o'clock on December 20, and approved by election judges before nomination is made.

One person may sign only one petition. The man and woman receiving the highest number of votes will be elected, and they will take office at the beginning of next semester. The election will be held in recreation center from 8:30 o'clock in the morning to 5:00 o'clock in the afternoon. A definite date will be announced later.

CARREL A DELEGATE

After failing in an attempt last year to establish a chapter of Kappa Eta Kappa, honorary electrical engineering fraternity, at Kansas State college, plans for its adoption are again being considered.

In an effort to revive interest in this organization, L. W. Carrel, Topeka, editor of the Kansas State Engineer, recently attended a national convention of Kappa Eta Kappa at Georgia Tech, Atlanta, with four delegates from the chapter at Kansas university.

The proposed plans for the organization are now under consideration.

NINTH ANNUAL CONGRESS OF STUDENT FEDERATION BEGINS DECEMBER 26

Discuss Problems

Prominent Speakers Will Appear at National Convention—Program for Coming Year to Be Planned

Clay Reppert, Harris, and A. K. Bader, Junction City, have been elected by members of the student council to attend the Ninth Annual Congress of the National Student Federation of America, which will be held at Washington, D. C., on December 26 to 29.

The National Student Federation of America is the official organization of the accredited institutions of the United States, and its program is to unify the student bodies of this country into a definite body, to crystallize student opinion, and to foster a student movement in the United States comparable to those of European nations.

Membership of the National Student Federation of America consists of the student bodies of individual American colleges and universities.

Although Kansas State college is not a member of the federation, the institution has been invited to send two delegates to attend the congresses during the past several years. A congress is held each year where delegates from the member institutions meet to discuss student problems, to hear prominent speakers on subjects of common interest, to determine the program for the coming year, and to elect members to the executive committee and to the National Board of Advisors.

The executive committee has twelve student members who direct the policy of the federation and determine procedure between congresses. To insure fair representation, the United States is divided into seven regions, and each district elects a member to the executive committee. The staff of the central office is composed of young college graduates.

Reppert is president of the student council and Bader is vice-president of the organization. Kansas State college was represented by M. L. DuMars, Manhattan, and Esther Row, Larned, at the national congress which was held at New Orleans.

"Students or faculty members who know of a subject which they would like to have discussed at the congress should inform the delegates, and the problems will be presented," Clay Reppert said yesterday. "Suggestions concerning the conference will also be welcomed by the delegates who will make an effort to get any information which will be of benefit to the students and the college."

THE PROPOSED PEACE CLUB

Coming at this time when efforts to establish a permanent world peace seem futile attempts to "stream banners against the wind," the movement to establish an active peace club at Kansas State college is both an expression of hope and an attempt to realize an ideal. Similar movements are now under way in many American colleges and universities and in them are gathered thousands of students who cherish the dream of a warless world. On these movements depends largely the success of war-prevention proposals.

Sponsors of the proposed peace club at this college have announced that an extensive discussion campaign to educate students here in the true causes and inevitable consequences of war will constitute a major portion of the club's program. Such a program will be of inestimable value as an antidote for the type of American military history published in most school texts. These texts in almost all cases attempt to persuade the reader that every war in which the United States has engaged has been a sort of holy crusade.

The national movement which the Kansas State group hopes to join is actively opposed to military training in colleges. The national organization is also taking definite action for the establishment of a Department of Peace in the United States government, and for the passing of legislative measures by Congress which will remove the manufacture of munitions and other war materials from the control of private industry and which will provide for the conscription of capital in case of war. That all of these proposals, if realized, would be tremendously effective safeguards of peace no one can deny—and every one, or so they always say with proper piety, loves peace.

Today there is more economic, social, and cultural interdependence of nations than ever before. World war, coming now, would come perilously near proving fatal to our civilization—and we are only beginning to realize how near to cultural dissolution and death the last great war brought us.

War is inevitable, cry the defeatists. War is man's destiny, they tell us. One is reminded of Ahab's defiance of the storm in Melville's great allergy. All that is splendid in man is expressed in his challenging of his destiny. The proposed peace club is in the nature of such a challenge

A STUDENT'S OPINION

(From The Manhattan Mercury.)

The students want to know why the merchants are pussyfooting the Sunday show proposition?
Why don't they come out from under cover and tell the voters why they want Sunday shows?

Every possible effort is made to get our money via purchases, our patronage is not only solicited but expected by the Manhattan merchants. We are a factor in business and it is about time that the merchants should realize that our opinions should be as sacred to them as our money.

By a vote taken by the student body the Sunday shows, carried by an overwhelming majority, 873 voted for Sunday shows while only 151 voted against. He want Sunday shows because it is the most convenient time for us to go. We want them on Sunday because it costs us too much to go out of town to a show on Sunday and our allowances make us skimp on our every day necessities because of that.

The people of Manhattan make every effort to get us here and try to increase the enrollment as far as possible, yet they fail to allow us these same privileges that we would have in other school towns.

It is regrettable that we can not vote at this referendum, but we hope that the business men and the citizens of Manhattan will take our opinion into consideration when they go to vote.
Not voting is the same as voting against Sunday shows.
(signed) R. J. Crowley.

A scientist predicts that another ice age will come in a few hundreds of thousands of years, which only goes to show that this is a cold, cold world, and that some of the things which have been going on haven't been so hot.

The Editor's Desk

Someone stole the first prize Aggie Pop poster yesterday which had been exhibited on the bulletin board in Anderson hall. The poster represented many hours of planning and hard work by a student enrolled in an art class. Less than two days before the presentation of the Aggie Pop, a thief turned into a coward and exhibited characteristics of a common alley-rat.

There is an important difference, however, between a thief and a rat. The former is twenty times lower than the latter. It is necessary for a rat to steal only enough in order to survive, but when a thief steals he exhibits himself as a glutton and a coward. He shows no consideration for the rights of the other fellow. A rat doesn't show a great deal of regard for the human race either, but he steals only when there is an excess of commodities and only when necessary.

The material loss of the poster is unimportant in this case. But the fact that any person would lower himself to the extent of stealing where stealing is not necessary is the important thing.
Don't call him a rat—the name is far too complimentary to a person of his calibre.

The Snooper

The Freshman Pan-Hell group held its regular meeting at the White House Tavern the other night. It is slightly provoking that the members of this erstwhile and noble group should congregate with truck drivers to discuss plans for their annual party and other such nonsense that goes to make up this outfit.

Who's Who—(in every blank place insert your favorite Delt's name. Note: The space will still be blank but try it anyway.) _____ is a Delt.
His flower in the pansy. _____ goes to church every Sunday. _____ is (in, or out) of love with a certain Kappa. _____ sits in the Palace during every vacant class period. _____
tries his best to be popular on the hill but that typical Delt stench of a wet-goat-walking-through-a-forest-fire keeps his ambition at a low ebb. (Next week—any suggestion will be accepted.)

Social events this weekend are the Pi Phi party, and the Vet all school dance. The Vets plan to make this an annual event if it is successful; the Pi Phi party is already an annual event whether it is successful or not. The Vets have high hopes and will stand around in mixed groups discussing the position of the fifth rib in elephants or what have you; the Pi Phi's have high hopes and will stand (part of the time we hope) around discussing the relative merits of a certain rushee or how well so and so looks in her borrowed dress. (How is that for killing two birds with one stone?)

What would happen if—You saw Cotton Tietze without Lawrence hanging around? Don White, last year's super-journalist, came back to school?
The Betas paid their Y. M. C. A. dues? You remember that they joined 100 per cent. El Dorado ran out of athletes? The Sig Eps would become a thing of the past. Kansas should repeal its prohibition laws? (Nothing, things would go on just as they always do.)

Badluck, The Freshman

(BADLUCK PICKS AN ALL-SCHOOL TEAM)

Dear ma and pa:

Say you no everybody else is picking all the champion football players so I just decided that I'd pick me a team too. But it wouldn't do no good to choose an all big 6 team so I just picked a team rite here in school—which is mostly teachers and professors.

For the position of quarter-back I am going to choose Frank Byrne on account of he is plenty fast and shifty and wood sure make a good ballcarrier. The best half-back in school wood probably be Dr. H. T. Hill, the feller who talks at pep-meetings, because he is sure a mighty slippery feller and while he wuz talking to the other teams Mr. Byrne could be running down the field with the bawl. The other half-back wood be Doc King because he could finger out some chemical signals and nobody on the other team would know what he wuz talking about.

The tackles is going to be Prof. H. W. Davis and Dr. Roger Smith on account of they could sure make it plenty tuf for the other teams. I picked Lyle Downey as guard and made him Honory Captun too because he is got more self confidence and bickling ability than anybody else. Prof. H. Miles Heberer is the other guard for the same reasons.

Doc Holtz is going to be center on my team on account of he is such a big husky looking feller, and Professor Sperry is going to be full-back because he looks fuller than anybody else. The ends is going to be Assistant dean Durland and Dean Hugh Durham for the important reason that they both look like they could run fast. I need a water-carrier on my team too, so I picked Frank Root for that job.

I am going to be the honorary coach and if any other teams wants a game this winter they'd better be seeing me because the football season is going to be over pretty soon.

Your son,

Badluck
p. s.—I guess I won't pick no second team until I see how this team plays.

The Kappas have a new game. The other night in one of their duller moments, a few of the girls started demonstrating some of the various campus shiks' techniques—the rest of the girls were supposed to guess what man of the hour it was. The only two that the whole chapter recognized were Mike Oberhelman and Si Sartorius. . . . The picture "The Way to Love" was Johnny Barr's inspiration the other night in the Palace—Johnny went tripping around clipping all available neckties. Very cute. . . . Suggestion: Why doesn't Lee Morgan have a pamphlet printed on "The Ten Reasons Why I'm Such a Wonderful Athlete"? It would save a lot of his valuable time that he spends telling the student body about it. . . . Margaret Dryden, the Harper meteor, returned to school with one of Clark Kostner's rings; merely proving that she is a Kappa, and has a way about her! . . . The bigheartedness of Dave Umberger is overwhelming. He recently gave Mary Louise Hampshire his old car to trade in on a new one—now at least he's sure of getting around. . . . Tender love scenes are being demonstrated in the Palace by Peggy Parker aided by Floyd Pinick. Well, heighho, love makes the world go round!

AT THE VARSITY

"The Kennel Murder Case"
William Powell returns as Philo Vance in this story of the murder of a prominent art collector in New York. The case is very baffling as at first it appears to be suicide.

then a double murder is discovered. The art collector is generally hated by at least ten persons who are suspected at various times throughout the picture.

Philo Vance at last comes through with his solution, and the murder scene is reenacted, but the real murderer is the one least suspected. The comedy is furnished by Eugene Palette as the sergeant and the city coroner. If you like detective stories—see this picture.—J. L.

ATHLETIC COUNCIL MAKES AWARDS AT A MEETING HELD LAST TUESDAY

Only Nine of Those Honored Will Return Next Year—Veach
Given Track
Letter

The Kansas State athletic council awarded letters to 21 members of this year's football team in a meeting last Tuesday.

The following players received letters: Captain Ralph Graham, El Dorado; Tom Bushby, Belleville; Douglas Russell, McDonald, Pa.; Raymond Doll, Chaffin; Larry Darnell, Osborne; Lee Morgan, Hugoton; Harold Weller, Olathe; Oren Stoner, Sabetha; R. D. Churchill, Junction City; Dan Blaine, Eldorado; C. D. McNeal, Boyle; Blair Forbes, Leavenworth; Don Flenthrope, Wamego; Kenneth Harter, Eldorado; Dean Griffling, Council Grove; Homer Hanson, Riley; Dan Partner, Eldorado; Eugene Sundgren, Salina; Melvon Wertberger, Alma; George Maddox, Greenville, Tex.; and James Freeland, Trenton, Mo. John Veach, track man, was also voted a letter by the council.

Letters were awarded to the players on the following basis: they must have played 60 minutes of actual playing time in conference games or their equivalent; they must be up in scholastic standing; and they're actions off the field as well as on the field must be meritable.

Kansas State will be handicapped considerably next season with the loss of Captain Ralph Graham, Tom Bushby, Larry Darnell, Raymond Doll, Harold Weller, Dan Blaine, C. D. McNeal, Blair Forbes, Homer Hanson, Lee Morgan, Douglas Russell, and Melvon Wertberger. These twelve letter men are seniors and have played their last game.

Women's Sports

(By Jane Whyte)

Kappa Kappa Gamma had its big moment Wednesday night when its freshman volleyball team beat Clovia in a close game 20-16. This lone victory out of their three games gives them a slight edge on the Pi Phis who have lost all three of their games, once to Van Zile, 44-3, and again to the Zeta Taus, 34-9.

X Team won its other two games this week, defeating the Kappas 27-10, Monday, and Phi Omega Pi 23-7, Tuesday. Its three games with no losses places it at the top at present with the Chi Omegas, Van Zile, and the Alpha Deltas all tying for second, having played a total of two games without defeat. The standings of the other teams dwindle as they play until the Pi Phis and Neophytes tie for the bottom and split honors there.

However, here are the other scores for the week, with the winning teams named first: Monday, Chi Omega vs. Kappa Delta, 19-12; Tuesday, Zeta Tau Alpha vs. Delta Delta Delta, 22-9; Wednesday, Zeta Tau Alpha vs. Pi Beta Phi, 34-9; Alpha Delta Pi vs. Neophytes, 24-17. And now for the dancing intramural. The bottom has dropped out of it, so many people have forfeited their rights. Tuesday night the Alpha Deltas danced better than the Alpha Xis, thus showing that not only are they better volleyballers, but also that they are much more graceful.

Chi Omega won its bracket because the Kappa Deltas forfeited their place, and the Wednesday night groups all forfeited to each other, so there is no winner in that case. It's really too bad one of those organizations, not mentioning any names, didn't know that, as they could have stayed in the intramural then, and had a lot less work.

PLAN TO HOLD MASS MEETING NEXT TUESDAY

(Continued from page one) The national movement is backed by such well-known leaders as Kirby Page, Stanley High, Norman Thomas, Reinhold Niebuhr, and Mary E. Woolley. Recently the board of directors of the national movement has been holding a series of conferences in New York City to develop, through the suggestions and counsel of leaders in the peace field, a legislative plan for establishing a Department of Peace in the government of the United States. The organization has already secured some congressional cooperation toward this end and is hopeful of making considerable progress when congress convenes.

The national organization is also furthering plans for putting through congress this coming session a bill to remove the manufacture of munitions and war materials from the control of private industry.

A growing sense of the need of a local peace club has existed in this school for several months and the recent visit of Paul Harris, representing the National Youth Movement, crystallized sentiment.

TRAP SHOOTER

SHOOTING FROM SCRATCH, 25 yards behind the

Kansas State Students Will Meet Tonight To Organize a Peace Club

KAMMEYER, PLATT, AND CLAY REPERT ARE TO SPEAK

Town Club Meets

Non-Student Group Gathered at Community House Last Night—Faculty Are Invited Tonight

In an effort to enroll students of Kansas State college in a youth movement for the prevention of war, an open meeting of students and faculty members has been called for 7:30 o'clock tonight in room 58 of the home economics building. The meeting is the result of agitation by a growing number of students here who have felt the need for such an organization on this campus.

Speakers at the meeting will be Dr. J. E. Kammeier, head of the department of economics and sociology; the Reverend Perry L. Platt, pastor of the First Congregational church; and Clay Reppert, Harris, president of the student council. Following the speeches, plans for organizing a permanent Peace club at this college will be discussed. Similar clubs are now active in many colleges and universities in the United States.

J. L. Benneman, Manhattan citizen, was appointed chairman of a committee to draw up a statement of aims for a town peace group at an informal meeting of towns people and faculty members held last night at the community house. The group at the meeting decided to call a second meeting in early January to consider the proposals submitted by Mr. Benneman's committee.

The purpose of the proposed club for Kansas State as outlined by its sponsors is to educate students in problems of international relations by means of discussions within meetings and by the promotion of an extensive publicity campaign. It is also proposed that the club initiate an active movement endeavoring to counteract militarism in the country as a whole and in this college.

At the meeting tonight, plans for increasing the effectiveness of the club by having it become a chapter of a national organization known as World Peaceways will also be discussed. The national organization is backed by John Dewey, Kirby Page, Norman Thomas, Reinhold Niebuhr, and others. The national organization has as definite aims the establishment of a Department of Peace in the Government of the United States and the removal of the manufacture of munitions and war supplies from the control of private industry.

BUY RAINBOW MACHINE

Departments of Machine Design and Applied Mechanics Purchase. A rainbow making device, prosaically called a photo-elastic analysis machine, is now in the possession of the departments of machine design and of applied mechanics.

It was made by the Winkel Zeis Company of Göttingen, Germany. The machine contains various types of glass lens and prisms, through which polarized rays of light are transmitted.

"When these rays of light are transmitted, we find that every combination of the spectrum can be produced," Prof. C. E. Pearce explained.

The colors may be altered or shifted considerably by a slight change in the loading of the model, which is made of a sealed water-white bakelite. Scientifically, these colors can be made to tell the story of stress concentration, and quantitatively in pounds per square inch. The models and the loading frame were made by George Wiley, who is doing his graduate thesis work on the "rainbow machine."

ATTEND LAND MEETING

Prof. Harold Howe of the department of agricultural economics, Prof. I. V. Iles, of the department of history and government, and Prof. C. R. Thompson, of the department of economics and sociology, will attend a meeting of the technical committee on taxation in relation to land use, in Topeka next Thursday.

This committee is one of three which were appointed at the time of the land utilization conference which was held here last October.

CHALLENGE TO YOUTH

In the last part of the last decade, the western world began to hear from an increasing number of young people who felt that they were being denied their proper heritage, who rebelled against the post-war apathy of older contemporaries, and who proclaimed their right to work out their own destiny.

They looked about them and saw their parent generation repeating the mistakes that had but lately plunged the world into the most disastrous of all wars, and they lost all faith in the wisdom of their fathers. They looked about them and saw a world sick with despair, caught in the binding meshes of cynicism, and what they saw mothered the conviction that they themselves were the hope of the world.

At first these young people were not in contact with one another and were rendered ineffective by their loneliness, but as their number has increased, they have organized definite youth movements dedicated to the reformation of social ideals and to the effective realization of these ideals with the consequent achievement of a warless world. In almost all western countries these movements are becoming increasingly important.

In America, student movements of this nature have been largely confined to eastern colleges and universities, but within the last few months there has been increasing activity initiated by student groups in the west and middle-west. A manifestation of this activity is the peace club proposed for this college, and for the discussion of which an open meeting of students and faculty members is being called tonight. Kansas State should be represented in this international youth movement. The time has come when we must develop larger interests than those which now most occupy our attention.

The task to which the members of the movement address themselves is no task for cowards or weaklings. Those who take active part in the proposed Kansas State organization must expect the sneers of "practical" people as well as of those intellectuals who cry "that nothing can be done, that we are but straws blown in the breath of a hostile god." A high and therefore rare moral courage is required to even attempt the realization of dreams.

Those who climb slowly, painfully toward an ideal, pulling the masses behind them, assert that the world is their world, that they are the chief authors of their destiny.

LITERARY SOCIETIES PLAN FOR PARTIES

Franklins and Brownings Plan Christmas Social Events for December 16

The Franklin literary society will have a Christmas party December 16 at 8:00 p. m. in room 158 of Calvin hall. A number of special guests and friends of the organization are to be invited. The entertainment for the evening will consist of numbers by a girls' trio, readings, Christmas carols and games. Late in the evening 100 gifts will be taken from a Christmas tree and distributed.

The chairmen of the various committees are: Edmund Marx, Manhattan, invitations; Emma Ann Storer, Muncie, entertainment; and Doris Streeter, Milford, refreshments.

The Browning literary society is also making plans for a Christmas party December 16. At their last meeting Ethel Olney, St. Joseph, Mo., had charge of their paper, the "Bluebird." Evelyn Diehlman, Findlay, Ohio, gave a stunt and Rosamond Habel, Clearwater, was in charge of the music.

A RADIO DEBATE

A debate between Missouri university and Kansas State college, scheduled for Tuesday afternoon from 4:30 to 5:30 o'clock will be broadcast over station KSAC.

SILVER CUPS PRESENTED TO WINNING GROUPS SATURDAY NIGHT

Nine In Competition

"Snow Fun" and "Who's Afraid of the Big Bad Wolf" the Prize Winners—Decisions for Second Place

First prize for the long stunts in the nineteenth annual Y. W. C. A. Aggie Pop held Friday and Saturday was won by Alpha Xi Delta's sorority with a stunt entitled "Snow Fun." Kappa Sigma with a stunt "Who's Afraid of the Big, Bad Wolf?" won first place in the short-act group.

Although awards of silver cups were given to only first place in each group, the judges gave decisions for second place. Kappa Kappa Gamma's "Love Swings On," and Delta Delta Delta's "Forward and Backward" tied for that honor in the long-act group and Beta Theta Pi's "Gipsy Fiddler" was given second place for the short stunts.

The winning stunt "Snow Fun" had for a scene, huge walls covered with snow and in the center back an immense snowball. Blue lighting and falling snow made for added beauty. Dances by snow men and skaters were impressive and a solo by Mary Elizabeth Wilkes, Leavenworth, who emerged from the ball, topped off the stunt. Marion Buck, Abilene, was the student director.

Kappa Sigma's stunt "Who's Afraid of the Big Bad Wolf?" directed by Max Burk, Manhattan, was a combination of vocal duets, tap dancing, and chorus routines with a dramatization of the hunters' famous rescue of Red Riding Hood.

Judges for the Aggie Pop on Friday night were Miss Ruth Hartman of the music department, Miss (Continued on page two)

Honors To Students

Professor Conrad, Phi Kappa Phi Speaker, Says School System Molds Character

That college teachers can take little credit for the scholastic achievements of their students was a statement made by Prof. L. E. Conrad in his assembly speech last Friday morning.

Twenty-one seniors who had been elected to membership in Phi Kappa Phi and sixty-five sophomores who had been nominated for Freshman honors were the guests of honor at the assembly, at which all were awarded certificates.

"Good habits combined with natural ability are the factors which help to achieve success," said Professor Conrad. "I would like to think that the staff were the cause of the student's success but by the time he reaches college his character and habits of study are so established by the public school system that it is impossible to change them. All the teacher can do is to be the boss. And one thing a student must learn to do is to get along with his boss."

"Spaulding says that teachers are practically useless but I do not believe this," Professor Conrad said. "If they were why not have correspondence courses entirely? Some students do get all their work that way but many would let their work go if there were no teachers."

"Colleges are full of college spirit seen in clubs, organizations and literary societies. As long as we have colleges we will have college spirit and seniors will go out enriched by fine traditions."

COLLEGE HOSPITAL

Helen Boler, Dover, and Harry Flagler, Manhattan, were admitted to the college hospital Friday. Lawrence DeShazer, Burlingame, and R. L. Parker, Kansas City, were discharged. On Saturday Ernest Fink, Mankato, and Harry Flagler, Manhattan, were discharged from the hospital. Helen Boler, Dover, and Alvin Rector, Lincoln, are still confined.

No Broadcast Of Athletics In Conference

DR. H. H. KING AND ATHLETIC DIRECTOR AHEARN ATTEND CONFERENCE MEETING

A Big Six Meeting

Athletic Directors of Six Schools Plan to Make a Further Study of the Situation

Big Six athletic events will not be broadcast this year it was decided at a meeting of athletic directors of the six schools in the conference held recently at Excelsior Springs, Mo. The athletic directors agreed that the decision made at the start of the 1933 season not to broadcast athletic events of the Big Six schools would hold until a more "exhaustive study" could be made.

After a long disagreement, Kansas State college, Missouri university, and Oklahoma university have agreed not to broadcast athletic events, at least for the present. The discussion will be renewed, the conference promised, in a meeting to be held in Lincoln next May.

One of the reasons for delay in action, announcements said, was that the directors wished to take into consideration the findings of the National Collegiate Athletic association that is to hold its annual meeting in Chicago during Christmas week.

Through a private source it was disclosed that one of the problems to be considered relates to possible revenues to be derived from broadcasters to compensate for any losses suffered by lessening of patronage through broadcasting.

Kansas State college was represented at the meeting by Director of Athletics M. F. Ahearn and Dr. H. H. King. Doctor King is the district representative of the National Collegiate Athletic association. He will retire from his office January 1 to be succeeded by Dean F. W. Reeves of the University of Oklahoma.

There were 212 items of food purchased during the eight hours of buying, according to Mrs. West. One institution ordered 40,000 pounds of coffee and another 110,000 pounds of sugar.

Hold Open House For Dairy Barn

Visitors to Be Admitted Between 3 and 6 o'clock in the Afternoon

Open house for interested persons will be held in the new dairy barn tomorrow by the dairy department. Guests are invited to the building between 3 and 6 o'clock in the afternoon, and between 7 and 9 o'clock in the evening. Tours through the building are arranged and are to be conducted by members of the college dairy department staff, and members of the student dairy club.

The barn is a two-storied structure constructed of native stone. The main part measures 41 x 215 feet, with two 30 x 35 foot wings. The inside walls are finished in glazed tile.

A herd of 165 Jerseys, Guernseys, Ayrshires and Holsteins will be housed in the structure, which cost $45,000. The barn is an experimental laboratory, and the cows are to be used for experimental purposes.

Besides stalls for housing the cattle, the building contains a milk testing laboratory, an office for herdsmen, feed storage space, sleeping rooms for caretakers, and a locker room with shower baths.

Sunday Shows Voted Down in Poll of City

THREE-DAY ELECTION ENDING SATURDAY DECIDES QUESTION

Margin Is Narrow

1,307 Oppose Sunday Shows While 1,101 Favor Them, a Difference of 206 Votes

Manhattan voters are against Sunday shows as shown in a three-day election ending Saturday. The result of the referendum was 1,101 for and 1,307 opposed to having motion pictures shown here on Sunday. More than half of the ballots were cast on Saturday.

The community house was the only voting place. The voting resembled a regular city election, although the voting occupied three days instead of one and the hours varied somewhat. Instead of making a new set of registration books it was decided to use the ones of previous years in order to save expenses.

A secret ballot was used, names of the voters were checked against the registration books so that no one could possibly vote twice.

The welfare board would not have been bound by the vote. It was merely action taken to learn the public sentiment on the issue. They agreed to abide by the result.

In case the proposal for Sunday shows had been accepted there would have been a meeting this week to act on the change of rules, Prof. G. A. Dean, chairman, said before he learned of the outcome.

The Dickinson theatre was the one to start the agitation for Sunday shows. The first time the Dickinson held a Sunday show, the welfare board revoked its permit.

Business men show signs of being greatly in favor of shows on Sunday while the Parent-Teacher association and the churches are opposed to them.

FLORA A SPEAKER

State Meteorologist Addresses Group at Agronomy Seminar

S. D. Flora, meteorologist of the United States Weather Bureau, Topeka, challenged research workers in agriculture to explore the correlation of weather sequences in Kansas with crop production in an address at the agronomy seminar in east Waters hall yesterday afternoon. Mr. Flora discussed Kansas weather abnormalities and their effect on crop production.

This was the second of a series of talks to be given this year on crop ecology, which pertains to the home and surroundings of the plant and their effect on it.

Mr. Flora pointed out that although Weather Bureau records on a state wide scale have been collected in Kansas for 46 years, we have failed to take advantage of studying the vital relation between climate, weather, and crops. The Manhattan record is complete as far back as 1858. These records, according to Mr. Flora, are very reliable. The observations have been made by men and women in every walk of life, without pay, simply as a public duty and devotion to science.

He stated that eastern Kansas receives more rainfall from April to September than any other state except possibly a few along the Gulf coast. The greatest detriment in Kansas is the high rate of evaporation caused by hot winds and sunshine.

Varsity, Dickinson and Wareham will not operate after Thursday

Opening Indefinite

Managers Feel They Cannot Continue Operations With Competition in Surrounding Towns on Sunday Nights

Thursday of this week, according to an announcement made yesterday by the managers of the Varsity theatre in Aggieville and the Dickinson and Wareham theatres downtown, who reached the decision yesterday following a continued ban on Sunday movies after a referendum on Sunday picture shows resulted in a majority of 206 against the showing of pictures on Sunday.

A statement issued by the management of the three theatres yesterday afternoon follows: "After the outcome of the city referendum of Sunday shows indicated a majority of 206 votes against Sunday movies, the managers of the three theatres in Manhattan have found it necessary to close the theatres beginning Thursday of this week.

"Restrictions on Sunday shows for the theatres is equivalent to the closing of mercantile stores on Saturday. Business hours for the theatres are after other businesses are closed.

"During the past the theatres have operated at a loss and have continued their entertainment believing that Sunday shows would be allowed in Manhattan. The Sunday show business in other cities surrounding Manhattan has resulted in unfair competition to theatres in Manhattan. The books of the three theatres which have shown an actual loss during the past several months are open for inspection. The theatres will remain closed until Sunday shows are allowed in Manhattan."

Managers of the three theatres plan to continue the showing of the pictures at the theatres which have been advertised and booked until Thursday when they will then close the doors of their theatres indefinitely.

The outcome of the voting during the last three days of last week was believed to have been unfair (Continued on page two)

"The Christmas Oratorio" by John Sebastian Bach will be presented in the college auditorium Sunday evening at 8 o'clock.

The Manhattan Choral Union, the college orchestra, and soloists will give the oratorio, conducted by Prof. William Lindquist and under the auspices of Kansas State college and the Ministerial association of Manhattan. The chorus of 250 voices will be the largest to appear here in many years. Prof. Max Martin is concertmaster, Prof. Charles Stratton, pianist, and Prof. Richard Jenson, organist. The soloists are Lucille Allman, Manhattan, soprano; James Boyce, Wamego, bass; Helen Jerard, Manhattan, soprano; Miss Hilda Grossmann, soprano; and Prof. Edwin Sayre, tenor.

The Christmas celebration according to the Reformed Church of North Germany begins on December 25 and continues until January 6. The oratorio is therefore divided into six parts significant of the six great days of celebration," said Professor Lindquist yesterday. "The Christmas Oratorio was composed in 1734 when Bach was 40 years old, five years after he had written the Matthew Passion." Part of the oratorio was given in 1886 by the Royal Academy of Music in London under the direction of W. G. Cousins.

They are wrong who assert that man is but a puppet of circumstance, for values are not inherent in externalities but in ourselves. The chief author of man's destiny is man.

A SAD MISTAKE

The Sunday show question has been settled.
There will be no Sunday movies in Manhattan, and as a result many Kansas State college students were disappointed last Saturday when the outcome of the voting by citizens of the city resulted in a ban on Sunday shows.

Perhaps when Manhattan voters cast their votes against Sunday shows last week they did not realize that a reaction against student opinion would be a sad mistake. Because Kansas State college students were not allowed to vote in the city referendum they did the next best thing in an effort to express their opinions and voted unanimously in favor of Sunday shows at a poll conducted at the college several weeks ago. Manhattan citizens knew the attitudes of the college students. The opinions of the two groups, however, as shown by the voting, were in direct opposition to each other.

When Manhattan people voted against Sunday shows they indicated that they cared little about the attitudes of the students. It was one way of telling the students that their opinions are worthless and that they would be far better off if they had nothing at all to do about the regulation of morals in city government. Apparently the people of Manhattan do not realize that their little city of around 10,000 population would not amount to much without the more than 2,000 students who come here every year to spend their money. The citizens of Manhattan, in fact, have literally attempted to kill the goose that lays the golden egg.

Many citizens who voted against Sunday shows believed that student attendance at churches would be reduced if Sunday shows were allowed in Manhattan. Unfortunately they are wrong. If students really desired to attend church services it is not likely that they would be prevented from doing so by the presence of Sunday shows.

Of course the students live in Manhattan during an average period of only four years. Perhaps the people in Manhattan do not care if they remain that long. But when they do leave, they will remember the people of Manhattan as old-fashioned, selfish, unappreciative citizens, who have no regard for the student body.

ARMY FOR PEACE

Those who desire world peace and who yet believe that their nation should prepare for war are, in keeping with the peculiar intellectual fashions of our time, attacking their beliefs to frustrate their desires. The unbiased observer must at once suspect either the intelligence or the honesty of those who attempt to maintain such contradictory theoretical positions. Experience should have taught any ordinarily intelligent adult that the world is not likely to heed the pious words of a nation professing a deep love for peace but which, nevertheless, steadily increases its armaments—a nation which "speaks softly but which carries a big stick."

A nation with a sincere love for peace must have an equally sincere hatred for war—the two emotions, in this case, are complementary. Such a nation does not speak of "national honor" or "preparedness," or of "national defense." Such a nation reduces its armaments and attempts to induce other nations to do the same. It does not say to other nations, "I will reduce my armaments if you will reduce yours and then only on a parity basis"; it first reduces its own armaments and then talks to other nations about reducing theirs. Such a nation not only signs treaties outlawing war; it also shows by example that it intends to live up to these treaties.
If we intend to obey a law, we do not make careful preparations to break it.

Peace-loving America today is preparing for war; she is making great increases in national armaments—building new ships, new submarines, new guns. These things are not, as their opponents would have believe, insurance policies for peace; they are manifestations of that same war spirit which we as deplore in other countries.

"You know that there is no loneliness equal to the loneliness of youth at war with its surroundings in a world that does not care."—Rudyard Kipling in "Independence."

The Editor's Desk

A psychology professor at DePauw university, in a recent address before members of the freshman class at the Methodist institution, tried to smooth what he called, a score of "old beliefs."

The professor said: "Everyone is neurotic to some extent at all times. The belief that eight hours of sleep are necessary is not true. Overwork does not lead to a nervous breakdown.
Planned diets are not essential to good health.
Brainwork is not fatiguing. The bad effects from continued work come from lack of exercise.
Habits which will cure the neurotic are the acquisition of hobbies, social contacts and, best of all, cultivation of a sense of humor so that you can laugh at yourself as well as at others."

Perhaps the professor is right. But it is hard to believe that college students are going to risk losing their good health simply because a professor declares that eight hours of sleep are not necessary and that proper food is unessential to good health. Maybe the professor is a sort of super-human who snaps his finger at the rules of Mother Nature. Apparently he believes that a good sense of humor is all that is necessary in the lives of average college students. Forunately, college students have enough common sense to know that good health is one of the best things anyone can possess, in spite of the foolish declarations of erudite professors.

The Snooper

Question—Do you know Jane Harmon?

Answer—No.

Q—Well it doesn't make any difference, but I heard that she went to the Pi Phi party, and she's a Kappa.

A—Did the Pi Phi's want a beauty queen present? Or did Harmon crash the party? One beer please, waiter.

Q—No she said she was invited by a Pi Phi alumni.

A—Who was the Alumni?

Q—I heard that it was a girl named Bradley, who saw Harmon in Topeka. Waiter, make that two beers. And a certain boy wouldn't go to the party if Harmon didn't go or something. Anyway half of the Pi Phi's said they would like to throw her (hic, pardon me) her out. Anyway it was a great party—I almost forgot, did you see Emily Davis tear her dress? It sure was a riot—Hey wake up—Now let's see where we were—Yes, waiter, we'll go quietly, you don't need to be so insistent.

Who's Who—Dan Blaine, the most daring of the collegiate realm. We don't know what course he takes and it isn't worth the trouble to find out. Dan comes from Eldorado, which is nothing against the good and well meaning citizens of that quiet community. Dan is a Sig Ep, which is nothing—but a good thing because they live so far away from the rest of the common horde. Dan is a football player, he is a baseball player, he is a basketball player, he is a (censored). Dan helps out charities and old maid detention homes in his spare time when he isn't telling about the Blaines in general.

Someone was telling us that Mike "The Jew" Oberhelman told a Chi Omega that he was rushing the Chi O's around so that he could get a bid to their party which comes off next Friday night.

A (Ray) Nelson club has been organized by the Tri Deltis, it is composed of girls that have had dates with this rascally engineer. The two girls in the club sit around discussing Ray's good points and the bad points are brought up under the head of "unfinished business."

Considerable speculation has been going on as to who would get a date with the governor's daughter who is due to come here with her renowned dad sometime in the near future.

Badluck, The Freshman

Dear mom and pop:

Last night I came up in my room and I started doing a lot of hard thinking and I've decided that what this school needs is a feller like me to set a good example for the rest of the frat fellows who live in fraturnitie places.

There is a fraturnitie here called gamma chi and I wuz up there for dinner the other nite and I guess they sure like me because when I went in there house everybody shook hands with me and said, Badluck we are sure glad to see you. Well, I told them all about Pitchfork county, on account of that is where I am from and besides it is the best county in Kansas, because it has got a lot of swell cows like our old heifer Rebecca. I said that Rebecca wuz the first prize winner in Pitchfork county last year at the county fair and all the gamma chi fellers sure shot that wuz swell.

While we wuz eating supper that nite I told everybody that joke about the feller saying who wuz that woman I saw you out with last night and the other feller saying that wuz no woman, that wuz my wife, and you ought to hear every body laugh at that one. Everybody wanted to no where I heard that one and when I said I heard it last summer in Pitchfork county everybody laughed again but I don't know what at.

Anyway when I left that fraturnitie house that night those frat fellers shook my hand again and said that gamma chi wuz the best fraturnitie here at Kansas State and I guess it must be because they are sure a fine bunch of fellers and they sure believe in treating a guy nice on specul soshul affairs like this one.

All of the fellers at this fraturnitie house wuz wearing some pins that look like that boy-scout pin that I wore when I wuz a senior in high-school, so I guess I will start wearing my boy-scout pin again so I will be a big shot and look like a fraturnitie feller.

Your son,
Badluck.

THEATRES PLAN TO CLOSE DOORS AFTER SUNDAY BAN

by the managers of the three theatres who indicated that they took no part in influencing people to vote on the Sunday movie issue until it became known that churches and various clubs were campaigning against movies in Manhattan on Sunday.

The meeting of theatre managers with city representatives was held yesterday morning, where it was decided that the theatres would be closed after Thursday.

Sam Sosna, manager of the Varsity theatre, said yesterday that approximately 22 employees of the three theatres in Manhattan will be without employment as a result of the closing of the theatres next Thursday. Five of the employees have families. This number does not include the managers of the theatres, Mr. Sosna indicated.

PICK WRITERS FOR KANSAS MAGAZINE

from Kansas who was a contributor to the early Kansas Magazine.
Mr. Thackrey is also requesting contributions from college students in Kansas schools. Or student from the University of Kansas has had his article accepted already.

Kansas State studies are also asked to contribute. These articles, stories, and poems should be about Kansas and particularly about early day Kansas and its customs.
The theme of the magazine this year is, in the main, Kansas customs and traditions. For contrast, Mr. Thackrey intends to use some material on modern Kansas and its present day problems and customs.

The magazine will be out shortly after the first of the year.

High lights of the weekend: The losing of Al Wilson's teeth was about the biggest thing that happened this weekend. Note: The teeth are still missing! . . . Al's teeth were not the only things missing—Ward Colwell misplaced his tux. He forgot to mention whether it was before the dance or afterward. . . . Dan Blaine, the daring dunker, draped himself over the telephone Saturday night and attempted to get a late date. Unsuccessful from all reports! . . . T.T. refreshments at the Pi Phi party were furnished by Leland Propp—however, they only consisted of a few pretzels. . . . Everything eventually comes to the surface. The following people are socially extinct: Merrideth Manion finally put on The Great Graham's pin which eases a lot of people's minds, and Lucille Johnitz put on Carl Paulson's pin Friday night. . . . An orchid to little Eddie Kelly for pulling about the swiftest one that's ever been pulled around these parts Saturday night. . . . Of course everyone doesn't know that Fritz Beeler used to be a football star, but Bill Seales objects to Fritz proving it to Bob Boer—especially when Bill is carrying something of value (?). . . . Speaking of football "stars," we hear that Oren Stoner is boasting about his self-glorification in a paper (just what paper has not yet been ascertained) this fall, and yet this column is not giving him the razz that some of the others have received. Reason: We didn't think he was good enough to merit the Bronx cheer! . . .

Court Season Opening With K. U. Tonight

Bus Boyd Will Lead Wildcats Against Jayhawkers at Lawrence

Kansas State's basketball team will open its 1933-34 season tonight when it meets the champion Kansas university five in a non-conference game at Lawrence. Approximately 15 players will leave here for the Jayhawk city at 1:30 o'clock. The game will start at 7:30 o'clock in the auditorium.

For the past week Coach Frank Root has been drilling the court men hard in order to get them in shape for this opening game. Drills in fundamentals along with short scrimmages have constituted most of the practice sessions. Yesterday there was a short scrimmage along with an explanation of some of the interpretations of rules as made by coaches and officials last week.

Prosty Cox has been in charge of most of the training of the Jayhawks the past few weeks, as Coach Forrest (Phog) Allen has been busy with football and various meetings. He has been with the squad only a few times.

As this is the first game of the season for both teams, not much is known of their relative strength. If lettermen have anything to do with it the Jayhawks have the advantage. There are seven returning Jayhawk lettermen: Paul Harrington, Richard Wells, Gordon Gray, Ernest Vanek, Raymond Urie, Roy Klaas, and Robert Curd. The four Kansas State lettermen are Captain Bus Boyd, Oren Stoner, Ralph Graham, and H. R. (Doc) Weller.

The Wildcats who will probably make the trip are: Boyd, Stoner, Graham, Weller, Freeland, Morgan, Hanson, Hutchinson, Armstrong, Blaine, Oberhelman, Phelps, Bidnik, Telejohn, Farrell.

nasium, for all candidates for the varsity swimming team and the freshman swimming team.

Regular swimming practices will start Wednesday. Only the date for the Big Six swimming meet, March 10, has been definitely decided on. This meet is to be held at the University of Nebraska in Lincoln.

Dates for dual meets with other Big Six schools will be scheduled soon and announced by Director of Athletics M. F. Ahearn.

With seven men from last year's squad in school and with the addition of some good prospects from last year's freshman team, Kansas State should be well represented in its tank meets this year.

Women's Sports

(By Jane Whyte)

Outside of the janitor doing his work, and the water drying off the locker room floor, nothing of greater consequence happens in the gym from Friday to Monday.

Coming to beginning dancing class Friday morning for the first time in a long time, Jaconette Lawrence wore the look of the righteously indignant soul whose instructor didn't take roll that morning of all mornings—think of the time wasted!

Intramural dancing isn't over yet, but to judge from a lot of current opinion, some people never get a break. Instead of putting the Pi Phis and Kappas in easy intramural brackets, they put them against teams like Van Zile's and the X-Team, and what chance does that give them?

With Aggie Pop over, and the volleyball final tonight there will be no more official excitement for the women until the basketball intramural next year. Last night's semi-finals didn't give anybody a chance to say "I told you so." The games between Van Zile and the X Team resulted 27 to 9 in Van Zile hall's favor, and Chi Omega overcame the Alpha Delta Pi's 23 to 21, which all goes to prove that you can't be too sure.

MEN'S INTRAMURALS

With the end of the intramural soccer season less than two weeks off, five teams are still undefeated, one in each of the five brackets. These teams are Delta Tau Delta in group 1, Tau Kappa Epsilon in group 2, Kappa Sigma in group 3, Sigma Alpha Epsilon in group 4, and the White Shirts in group 5.

Results of games last week are as follows: Monday—Tigers 22, W. F. A. C. 20; Black Shirts 22, Red Shirts 19; Aggie Knights 31, Vets A. C. 11. Tuesday—Sigma Alpha Epsilon 21, Phi Kappa Tau 12; Alpha Tau Omega 41, Acacia 11; Theta Xi 22, Alpha Kappa Lambda 17; Kappa Sigma 31, Phi Lambda Theta 5. Thursday—Sigma Nu 45, Alpha Rho Chi 14; Delta Sigma Phi 18, Pi Kappa Alpha 16; Tau Kappa Epsilon 28, Beta Theta Pi 12; Delta Tau Delta 21, Sigma Phi Epsilon 15; Phi Delta Theta 34, Phi Sigma Kappa 19; Phi Kappa 21, Lambda Chi Alpha 19. Friday—Aggie Knights 19, Black Shirts 12; W. F. A. C. 29, Vets A. C. 7; White Shirts 29, Tigers 23; Sigma Alpha Epsilon 22, Acacia 16.

Last night's scores are: Alpha Tau Omega 24, Alpha Gamma Rho 28; Phi Kappa Tau 28, Acacia 14; Farm House 20, Kappa Sigma 24; Theta Xi won from Phi Lambda Theta by forfeit; and Sigma Nu 19, Tau Kappa Epsilon 24.

Tonight's schedule is Phi Sigma Kappa vs. Phi Kappa at 7 o'clock, Delta Tau Delta vs. Lambda Chi Alpha and Pi Kappa Alpha vs. Beta Theta Pi at 8 o'clock, and Sigma Phi Epsilon vs. Phi Delta Theta and Alpha Rho Chi vs. Delta Sigma Phi at 9 o'clock.

Tomorrow night's games are Vets A. C. vs. Tigers, and White Shirts vs. Black Shirts at 7 o'clock, and Red Shirts vs. Aggie Knights at 8 o'clock.

Thursday night's schedule is Phi Kappa Tau vs. Alpha Gamma Rho at 7 o'clock, Theta Xi vs. Farm House at 8 o'clock, and Phi Lambda Theta vs. Alpha Kappa Lambda at 9 o'clock. These games were originally scheduled for next Monday, but have been moved up.

Book Review

FORGIVE US OUR TRESPASSES

by Lloyd C. Douglas

(Reviewed by Jane Kahl)

Dinny Brumm had inherited from his young mother, who died at his birth, a passionate hatred for his family, his environment and a cynical outlook on religion. Dinny goes to college where he is expelled for blacking the eye of the president of the Y. M. C. A. because he said something insulting about the president of the college. Dinny became a successful writer of cynical journalism but he loses the girl he loves because of his outlook on life. Dinny finds a letter in an old desk of his mother's that she had written to him before her death. This document changes Dinny's whole life and he is "reverted to normal."

Douglas has the power and technique to create characters and really make them live. The episode of young Julia and Dinny's college career are done especially well. The book is written seriously, has substance and coherence and is well worth reading.

AT THE DICKINSON

"Sitting Pretty"

Starring Jack Oakie, Ginger Rogers, Jack Haley, and Thelma Todd this picture is full of laughs and chuckles. Haley, working as a sheet music wrapper, goes into a partnership with Oakie and finally, after no little amount of trouble arrives in Hollywood to write songs. On the way the two Jacks cash a check at a small restaurant that is owned by Ginger Rogers. Ginger Rogers finally joins the two boys in Hollywood finding that they have been out of work since they arrived.

The two partners get a job writing music. Thelma Todd gets Jack Oakie to dissolve the partnership; both boys lose their jobs and do not unite again until they both end up in a speakeasy. They get another job writing songs and Ginger Rogers sings in the production. There are ten songs and they are worked in the picture in scenes that do not make them detract from the plot. The usual happy ending, as far as pictures go, is the announcement by Ginger Rogers that she and Jack Haley have been married for two weeks.—F. S.

AT THE VARSITY

"The Prizefighter and the Lady"

This is your chance to see Primo Carnera, the heavyweight champion of the world, Jack Dempsey, the former holder of the title and Max Baer, the contender to the throne, in a most exciting story. They are supported by Myrna Loy, Otto Kruger, and Walter Huston, acting better than ever before. Max Baer is not only a boxer, but a ladies man as well. Myrna Loy, night club singer, falls in love with Max and marries him, running out on Otto Kruger, the faithful gangster. Myrna and Max have a struggle, but it all ends in a stirring prizefight between Max and Primo Carnera, with a perfect ending.

Aside from his superb boxing, Max Baer does a dance with several dozen girls, all of them beauties. It is a knockout.—M. K.

The first annual all-school dance, sponsored by the Junior American Veterinary Medical association, was held in Nichols gymnasium Saturday night.

Four Honorary Officers Presented Tomorrow Night At Annual Military Ball

THE OFFICIAL OPENING OF THE COLLEGE SOCIAL SEASON

One Hour Broadcast

Mogge, Spiker, and Olmsted Will Announce Program from 10:30 to 11:30 o'clock

The annual military ball, which is the official opening of the formal season at Kansas State college, will be broadcast over station KSAC from 10:30 to 11:30 o'clock at the Wareham ballroom tomorrow night. The music of Pee Wee Brewster's orchestra and the presentation of the honorary officers at 10:45 o'clock, just following the grand march, will be broadcast by remote control from the ballroom. John Mogge, Goodland; Robert Spiker, Emporia; and Denny Olmsted, Perry, New York, will announce the program.

Four of the seven women students who were nominated have been selected as honorary colonel and honorary majors of first, second, and third battalions respectively. The seven candidates are Myra Roth, Ness City, Alpha Delta Pi; Lois Narramore, Elmsdale, Chi Omega; Pauline Crawford, Luray, Alpha Xi Delta; Rosalind Almen, McPherson, Phi Beta Phi; Erma Jean Miller, Manhattan, Delta Delta Delta; Francis Farrell, Manhattan, Pi Beta Phi; and Jane Harmon, Manhattan, Kappa Kappa Gamma. The entire cadet corps voted upon these nominees, each cadet voting for four co-eds.

Lieutenant Colonel J. S. Sullivan, head of the military department, will officially welcome the honorary officers. Also, Cadet Colonel Jack Goring, Topeka, who is in charge of the ball this year, and Cadet Lieutenant Colonel Dale Dixon, Norcatur, will give short talks.

The military ball is sponsored and planned by the cadet corps for the school as a whole, and not for the military department alone. In the past some misunderstanding has existed on this point, probably for the reason that students may attend the party either in their military uniforms or in formal dress.

Guests who are expected to attend are Governor A. M. Landon, General A. G. Lott, Assistant Secretary of War H. H. Woodring, Brigadier General McLean, Pres. and Mrs. F. D. Farrell, the deans of the college, and faculty members of the military department.

Tickets which are now on sale and can be purchased from juniors in the military department, are offered at one dollar and fifty cents each. In addition there will be fifty stag tickets at one dollar each.

A Bach Oratorio

Department of Music Will Present Chorus of 250 Voices Sunday Evening

"The Christmas Oratorio" by John Sebastian Bach will be presented in the college auditorium Sunday evening at 8 o'clock. The oratorio is directed by Prof. William Lindquist of the department of music, and will be presented by the Manhattan Choral union, the college orchestra, and soloists.

The chorus of 250 voices will be the largest to appear here in many years. Soloists are Lucille Allmar, soprano, James Boyce, bass, Helen Jerard, soprano, Miss Hilda Grossmann, contralto, and Prof. Edwin Sayre, tenor. Prof. Max Martin is concertmaster. Prof. Charles Stratton, pianist, and Prof. Richard Johnson, organist. The oratorio presentation is presented under the auspices of the Kansas State college and the Manhattan Ministerial association.

ALL COLLEGE WRESTLING

Coach Patterson Looks Over Wranglers During Bouts

The all college wrestling tournament was opened yesterday afternoon with 76 men scheduled on the entry list. There were seventeen bouts and one forfeit in the opening rounds of the tournament. Three of the contests were decided by referee's points and fourteen did not last the six-minute time limit allowed.

Coach Patterson, who is refereeing the tournament, is getting a chance to watch some of the college men who are not out for wrestling and to pick out some men who could be developed into expert wranglers.

Theatres Close Doors Wednesday

Varsity, Dickinson, and Wareham Will Not Operate After Sunday Movie Vote

The Varsity, Wareham, and Dickinson theaters were closed yesterday after the owners decided it would be necessary to stop the loss at which they have been operating for several months. Mr. Dickinson, owner of the Wareham and Dickinson, assured Sam Sosna, owner of the Varsity, that he was prepared to stay closed six months if necessary.

The owners are determined to stay closed until the welfare board is either dissolved or loses its authority over the theaters and they are allowed to operate on Sunday. The competition of theaters from outside towns which operate on Sunday is so great that the three local theaters can not meet their expenses according to the theater managers. It would cost the theaters comparatively nothing more to operate on Sunday than to run but six days a week, according to Mr. Sosna.

As a result of their closing, the 22 employees of the theaters are thrown entirely out of work. The employees of the Varsity have sent a signed petition to Evan Griffith, Manhattan's mayor, asking his assistance in the problem caused by their unemployment.

As far as any other company opening up in Manhattan is concerned, it is impossible, Mr. Sosna declared, because the movie companies would not supply it with films.

Prix Announces Elected Members

Junior Honorary Organization Names 13 Students for Membership—Election by Former Members

Prix, an honorary organization for junior women, departed from usual custom of secrecy until after the first half of spring semester, and revealed its membership here last night.

These members are all wearing this morning, for the first time, the pin of Prix which is a miniature gavel.

Prix was founded in 1916 and has become one of the well established organizations of the campus. Members in Prix consist of influential and outstanding members of the junior class chosen and elected by former members. A junior girl considers membership in Prix a privilege and one of the highest honors she can attain. It is often considered similar to membership in Mortar Board, senior women's organization. Between ten and fifteen girls are elected to this organization each spring.

The honored members who were elected, with their activities are: Clara Jean Martin Allen, Manhattan, MED, Kappa Delta; Mu Phi Epsilon, freshman Phi Kappa Phi; Jeanne Bryan, Delta, C. Kappa Kappa Gamma; Aggie Pop, Enclilades-Glee club, Manhattan theater. Pauline Compton, Manhattan, C. Marshall, Dyanamis, Theta Pi, W. A. A. council, Purple Peppers, Freshman commission, Y. W. C. A. Junior Orchestra, Radio announcing, Frog club, Manhattan theater.

Jessie Dean, Baldwin, U. Glavia; Theta Sigma Phi, Collegiate 4-H club, Ionia, Royal Purple staff, debate, radio announcing, freshman Phi Kappa Phi, and Y. W. C. A. cabinet.

Ruth De Baum, Topeka, HE & J, Chi Omega, Freshman commission, Y. W. C. A. cabinet, Aggie Pop, Theta Sigma Phi, Omicron Nu recognition, freshman Phi Kappa Phi, W. A. A., Manhattan theater.

Game With Colorado School Third in Less Than a Week for Wildcats—Loss to K. U. Tuesday

Kansas State basketballers will clash with the University of Kansas five tonight at 7:30 o'clock in the first home game of the season, and the second with the Jayhawks this week. The Wildcats will meet Colorado university here Monday night in the third game in less than a week.

Last Tuesday the University of Kansas cagers doubled the score on the Wildcats in the first game of the season for both teams, winning 27 to 13. Although holding the Jayhawks fairly well the first half, the Kansas took a commanding lead the second period which was never threatened.

Since Tuesday, Coach Frank Root has been correcting flaws discovered in the team.

THE FIRST CHRISTMAS

Once again the birth of Christ will be commemorated on Christmas day when people exchange gifts and greetings—a custom originating with the bringing of gifts by the three wise men to Jesus of Nazareth nineteen hundred thirty-three years ago.

Royal Purple Printing Contracts Will Be Signed After Christmas Holiday

The printing contracts for the 1934 Royal Purple will be let by the Royal Purple board soon after the Christmas holidays. Specifications have already been sent to printing firms and bids from these companies are expected by the yearbook staff any time now.

Other contracts for the 1934 Royal Purple including engraving and photography have been signed. The board will then meet and compare these bids; taking the one offering the lowest prices for the best work. The annual staff has nothing to do with the letting of these contracts. After weighing the value of each bid, Prof. H. W. Davis, advisor, takes the vote of the three members: Howard Moreen, Albert Thornbrough, and Winifred Wolf, all juniors. The board's decision is final.

"The Royal Purple books are being audited by the college now. This is done several times a year as a matter of form to satisfy the suspicions of the few pessimistic students who are ready to accuse any student publications of graft without basis," said Clay Reppert, business manager of the yearbook.

The group organization pictures will be taken for the yearbook as soon as the set of books are back and the Studio Royal is through its Christmas rush for pictures.

It's a Yeah and a Nay With College Students When Shows are Discussed

(By Fern Vesceky Fox) "Frankly, what do you do on Sundays since we have no shows," was asked of representatives of 14 different types of people this week. The good looking barbs replied, "I think the Sunday show ban is silly. This way I have to spend my Sundays grinning in an old parlor or freezing on a side road—necking."

"Well," asserted a cigarette smoking co-ed, "not having Sunday shows just makes me smoke that many more cigarettes. A cigarette in my mouth is the only excuse I have for a recess from necking on a boring Sunday."

The religious student took the question rather seriously. "Well, I suppose the students have to do something on Sundays," she asserted, "but it's against my religious principles to go to a show on Sunday." "Why?" she was asked. "Because my folks don't think it's right so I don't either."

One of the 1934 Royal Purple beauties makes a division and says "In the spring and fall I go on picnics and . . . well, neck. In the winter we sit in the parlors, hunt for a place to spoon or make a public exhibition on Sundays."

The popular girl confessed that they had no car so they sat, "jellied," quarreled and made life miserable for each other.

"I used to study in the afternoon because I knew I had a date for the show that night," complained the popular "he-man." "Now I loaf all afternoon thinking I have plenty of time and decide I'm too sleepy at night so I go to bed; consequently no studying is done."

The other side of the cross section of Sunday show opinion is shown by the studious girl. "I'm not against shows, but the kind of shows they present on Sunday. If they were clean, educational pictures, it would be all right."

"Oh! I probably couldn't find a boy with enough money to take me

Many prominent Democrats of the state will address the fourth district annual district convention of Young Democrats to be held in Manhattan tomorrow. Headquarters will be established at the Wareham hotel, where all sessions of the convention will be held.

On the program of this year's convention will appear such speakers as Randolph Carpenter, fourth district representative in congress, Dudley Doolittle, national committeeman of Kansas, and other prominent state Democratic leaders such as Thurman Hill, Omar Ketchum, and Mrs. Kathryn O'Loughlin McCarthy.

Registration and meetings of committees will take place tomorrow morning, and the business session will begin at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon. In the evening a banquet will be held, following which there will be a dance in the Crystal room. The "Varsity Nine" will furnish the music. Don Davidson, president of the Young Democratic of Riley county has extended an invitation to all college students to attend the convention.

PLAN DIME DANCES

Plans to have dances sponsored by Mortar Board were made at the Mortar Board meeting held last Thursday noon at Thompson hall. These dances will be held once a month in recreation center from 6:45 to 7:45 o'clock in the evening. The first dance will be on January 11. The admission fee will be 10 cents and anyone may attend. Last year these Mortar Board dances were held only in the spring.

Platt Attacks Teaching of R.O.T.C. as Immoral And Opposed to Peace

STUDENTS AWAIT A CHRISTMAS VACATION

Voyages Homeward Will Begin Thursday Night — School Again January 5

College students are gathering bits of energy, mashing resources, and in every way possible fortifying themselves against that exhausting era known to college authorities as Christmas vacation.

At 6:00 o'clock next Thursday afternoon a large percentage of students will leave Manhattan for points "east, west, north, and south" planning exactly two weeks rest. Whether they go to California or New York, they are all going home. At least, most of them intend to make their homes a base of operations.

Aside from watching the battle of the citizens of Manhattan vs. motion picture enthusiasts, students who cannot go home will find entertainment offered them in several forms. The Y. M. C. A., Y. W. C. A., and various church organizations have entertained these less fortunate students in the years past and will do so again this year if the number of students in town warrants that action. Classes will begin again on Friday, January 5.

PASTOR OF CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH ADDRESSES PEACE CLUB TUESDAY

Kammeyer Speaks

Economics Head and Reppert Discuss Possibilities of Peace Club —Special Meeting This Afternoon

Voicing a scathing attack of the R. O. T. C. and its type of education, the Reverend Perry L. Platt, pastor of the first Congregational church, Tuesday night asserted that the teachings presented in the R. O. T. C. manual are immoral and that, in his opinion, the compulsory element of military training on this campus should be abolished.

The Reverend Platt was addressing an open meeting of students and faculty members called Tuesday evening for the purpose of organizing a peace club at Kansas State college. The meeting was held in room 58 of the home economics building.

Other speakers at the meeting were Dr. J. E. Kammeyer, head of the department of economics and sociology, who stressed the need of a student peace organization on the campus, and Clay Reppert, Harris, president of the student council, who offered to take back to a student meeting to be held in Washington, D. C., this Christmas vacation any proposals which the group desired him to take back.

A special meeting of all interested students and faculty members will be held at five o'clock this afternoon in room 58 of the home economics building for the purpose of considering proposals as to a line of action for the club. The proposals have been drawn up by a committee of four students headed by Chester George, Manhattan, and composed of Kenneth Davis, Manhattan, Romayne Cribbitt, Parsons, and Ruth Gresham, Manhattan.

"I think it is particularly fitting that such a group as the proposed club should work on this campus," said Mr. Platt, "because through compulsory military training in the R. O. T. C. practically all the boys are at least exposed to a type of teaching about war which in my opinion is, if accepted, fatal to the cause of peace."

In continuing his address, Mr. Platt quoted at length from the R. O. T. C. manuals, especially from the sections dealing with the military history of the United States, with the duties of good citizenship, and with national defense.

"In the basic manual on page 31 of the section on the military history of the United States," said Mr. Platt, "you will find the following comment on the war of 1812. 'Had we possessed a regular army of 15,000 to 20,000 men, we could have invaded Canada, ended the war in a single campaign of six months or less, and acquired valuable territory.' The advanced manual states its meaning more clearly on page 39 of its section on history. 'In the war of 1812 we risked much and gained nothing because too weak to take advantage of a splendid opportunity greatly to extend the national domain.' When Japan today takes advantage of its splendid opportunity to extend its national domain, when we thought Germany was doing it a few years ago, we were and are greatly incensed."

Mr. Platt quoted from page 182 of the advanced manual on which the problem of preserving peace is discussed. The manual rejects the (Continued on page 2)

225 MEN APPLY

L. E. Conrad Heads Manhattan Bureau for Employment

Prof. L. E. Conrad who has recently been appointed by the C. W. A. to direct surveys for the Coast and Geodetic Survey in Kansas reports that to date about 225 men have applied for the 320 engineering positions in this work.

The applications are fairly well representative of all the counties in the state. The greatest number for any one county is about 11 or 12 from Riley county. Ninety-nine of these men must be experienced engineers and the remainder should be men with at least an engineering degree.

Each applicant must file his application with his local national re-employment bureau and state that he wishes to enter the Coast and Geodetic Survey work. The Manhattan bureau is stationed at the community house.

Orchestra In Recital Today At Assembly

LYLE DOWNEY WILL DIRECT COLLEGE ORGANIZATION THIS MORNING

American Program

Appropriate Phases of Sparkling Work Will Feature the Program —Selections from "Hit the Deck"

A distinctively all American program, with one exception, will be played by the college orchestra in student assembly this morning at 10:15 o'clock. The exception is the Italian Symphony by Mendelssohn which is being played this year by this orchestra, and symphonic orchestras all over the country, because this marks the one hundredth year since its composition.

The program includes the Alma Mater Overture by Henry Hadley, one of America's foremost composers; the Italian Symphony—First movement, Allegro Vivace—by Mendelssohn; concert transcription of two old fiddlers' tunes: Arkansas Traveler and Turkey in the Straw, both by David Guion; and selections from the musical show "Hit the Deck," by Vincent Youmans.

The orchestra will be directed by Prof. Lyle Downey of the department of music.

One hundred years ago, the first performance of Mendelssohn's Italian Symphony, conducted by the composer, was given by the Philharmonic Society orchestra of London. The society had asked Mendelssohn to compose a symphony, an overture, and a vocal piece, offering him a hundred guineas for the exclusive right of performance during two years. The composer complied with the request, and even gave them two overtures, the extra one being "a sign of my gratitude for the pleasure and honor they have again conferred upon me."

It is particularly appropriate that the first movement of this sparkling work has been chosen as a feature of the orchestra concert in chapel today.

Omicron Nu Members Hear Speakers at Meeting Tuesday

Eleanor Irwin Highland and Florence McKinney, Bartlesville, Okla., talked on "Korea." Barbara Lautz, Manhattan, read Dean Justin's last letter, which was written from Shantung province just after she had left Korea.

As this is the last issue of The Collegian before Christmas vacation the staff takes this opportunity to wish everyone a very Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year.

THOUGHTS SEASONAL

As the Christmas holiday season approaches, we turn naturally to the contemplation of those simple, yet fundamental truths from which, in the intense preoccupation with trivialities which characterizes our everyday life, we stray so far. With the very thought of snow scenes and Christmas carols and all the hauntingly beautiful rituals by which we celebrate the birth of a great religion, we find renewed within ourselves something of that humility of spirit, that awe of realities far beyond our comprehension which manifests, perhaps, all that gives meaning to our existence.

We turn again to the contemplation of the good, the true, the beautiful—that triad of platonic ideals at which we are wont to sneer in this ghastly, cynical age. We come to believe again in our emotions and allow ourselves to feel things again; we begin to suspect our normal hard intellectuality as any accurate guide to ultimate truths, unless our intellectuality be inspired by our emotions. We realize anew that no scientific philosophy can ever quite replace a religion, for the former deals with tangibles which are relative and temporary, while the latter deals with intangibles which are eternal and absolute.

SOME THOUGHTS ON LYNCHING

The restraints which society imposes on the individual are necessarily artificial. Men are not naturally tolerant, or generous, or anxious to cooperate with one another. The process of developing these social traits is the process of learning to control passions and appetites inherent in all men and this approximates, in the individual, the process of growing up. Natural man is emotional rather than reasonable, but the social being must be a reasonable being.

That the social man is imposed on the essential man is a fact evidenced by the ease with which the social traits are shed under the stress of great emotions. It is a fact made terribly evident in the lynchings which took place recently in California, Maryland and Missouri. Anyone who read of these lynchings in detail must realize that they were crimes threatening the very foundations of society and not reasonable protests against the faults of the American court system, as many would have us believe. The San Jose mob subjected its victims to almost unbelievably brutality before killing them, a clear indication that the mob was fired with a spirit of revenge untempered by the cool impersonality necessary in administering justice.

In condoning the San Jose lynching, Governor Rolph was willing the death of society. For him there is no moral or reasonable defense. He has revealed himself as an anarchist with the ideal of the savage. That he should be praised for his "courageous" action is further evidence that civilization is but a cloak beneath which lurks the beast.

THE NEW LEONARDO

Leonardo—denounced, insulted, abused—fled again to distant hills and consulted with himself, in the absence of the gods, saying:

"I am sufficient unto myself alone. All externalities are but expressions of that which is within me. All gods are within me; they are my creations."

"My message to the valley-dwellers is that they create gods within themselves even as I have done. For the paradox is that though the world is my idea I in myself am not uncaused. And that which has determined me has determined that I should create gods within myself. This is the higher necessity."

"Since that which is outside me is, in the higher sense, my own creation, aloofness is impossible. If that which is outside of myself is false then I have been untrue to myself. Those who sneer, deride themselves."

Thus Leonardo spoke unto himself and prepared himself to return again unto the valley-dwellers.

The Editor's Desk

You can take your choice regarding the Sunday show situation. You can express your opinions, say what you want to, and everyone will have the same respect for you as they did before. The Sunday show question is like prohibition—there are many sides to take—and sympathy with one side or the other seldom results in breaking of friendships, fistfights, or riots.

A bit of irony arrived yesterday from a subscriber of The Collegian addressed to the newspaper. Apparently the subscriber was a bit irritated over the situation and decided finally that this was one way of expressing his opinion. The article, entitled "The Students' Declaration" follows:

Open the shows on Sunday.
Let hell run riot.
Close the doors of the churches;
They're no good anyway.
We don't go to church.
All we need is shows to feed our soul's on.
All we need is legs to feast our eyes on.
All we need is allagepoopstein to rot our guts on.

Let the "old fangled" go to church if they must;
All we need is hell to feed our souls on.
Close the churches.
We are modern students; we don't need God.

The Snooper

Howard Moreen, the slaying Sig Alf, dates a KSC beauty queen one night and the daughter of the governor of our fair state the next night. Howard, as you all know, dates the Tri Delt flash, Jerry Hammond, in the meantime. Speaking of Tri Delt, they do cause a lot of trouble don't they?

The freshmen are going to have their annual Pan-hell party next Wednesday. This get-together is about the only one that the frosh can have where they are not bothered by an over supply of actives. And did the actives gloat or not when they found out that the freshmen were not going to allow very many of the older people to attend.

Who's Who—Now we come to the Phi Delt, yes, they are a fraternity and have a chapter at KSC. Si Sartorius is probably the biggest shot this year since Red-Eye Wyatt left. Si is nothing like Red-Eye though; Wyatt wasn't bothered by anything. Si goes to school on week days and goes a jellying on Sundays. Someone said that Si was the best dressed man on the campus—but investigation proved that it was a Phi Delt pledge that had been trained to say that at opportune times. Also it was discovered that the pledge was a liar—oh well—Si takes chemistry, Si takes chances—on being caught—Si takes bad checks—(Next week would be a good time to start the sorority who's who, starting with the Alpha Delt.)

Notice! To all of those who propose to neck and to those who will neck Sunday night. Get your favorite spots in Sunset early. With nothing to do and the attitude shown toward Sunday shows go out and show the demoralizing influence of spooning. Any applicants for the job of showing the people just how awful college students can be please call the Phi Kappa house and ask for Jim Richards.

Something novel in the way of military balls—When you go into the ballroom a card will be handed to you with a space for a musical number that you want played on the all request program for the last half hour of the dance.

Badluck, The Freshman

Dear ma and pa:

Well, ma I wuz up in my room s'ing a couple of buttens on my shirt and was doing some more hard thinking and I gess got to wondering why nobody in town hear likes to have us college fellers take our girls to the shows on Sunday nights. I guess the people who live in Manhattan jest dont appreciate having all of us college students hear or they woud have given us Sunday shows a long time ago.

Why ma think of all the money all of us college people spends hear at Manhattan and then when we want to go to the piccher shows on Sunday all the people who spend our money say we cant wot to no Sunday piccher shows. Gee whiz ma, do you suppose everybody hear woud care if all the students quit spending so much money for stuff to wear and eat. Now take me for instintce—I guess I must spend right on to Thirty-five cents every day for hamburgers and hotdogs, and jest because I help keep all this money in cirqlashun the people hear tell me and the rest of the fellers that we cant do nothing we want too—for instnce going to the piccher shows on Sunday nights. Gee ma, I guess all of these people hear sure dont know what there doing when they treet all of us college students like that.

Whenever anybodys tells me that students oit to go to church on Sunday nights instead of piccher shows I jest tell them about you and pa when you was young and how you used to go out to church on Sunday nights instead over to Uncle Berts house on Sunday nights and play checkers. Well, I jest says that going to piccher shows on Sunday nights aint a bit worse now than when all the young people used to go places and play checkers on Sunday nights about 25 years ago.

Anyway ma, I guess all of us fellers can keep on going to church and Sunday school on Sunday mornings and we can go sum place else on Sunday nights if there aint going to be no shows.

Your son,
BADLUCK.

AN EDITOR LOOKS AT RUSSIA

(By Ray Long)

(Reviewed by Jane Kahl)
Russia—one for all, and all for the State. Mr. Long went to Russia to see for himself just what was going on, and he presents his views clearly and frankly. This is not a book for the political expert but for the ordinary American. The present Russian government has given the people two main things: a better existence than they had under the Czars and hope. They are fighting a war against capitalism and if they win they will all share the benefits.

Propaganda plays a large part in their government. "Russia—billboards and posters everywhere advertising communism—radio: loud world court as a peace measure and states that war is becoming so very expensive that nations can no longer afford to "indulge" in it. "Thus," said Mr. Platt, quoting from the manual, "do we observe the workings of that law of stable equilibrium which governs the universe."

In commenting on this quotation Mr. Platt said, "I am rather afraid that for the author of the above statement, war appears as he describes it at the bottom of page 182. 'We have occasion to note, and with some regret, the passing of that mobile warfare which has made the campaigns on the American continent so entertaining to the student of history. . . and so the World war in military retrospect, seems less picturesque and sprightly than the American Civil war.'

"But if there are any of you bcys," said Mr. Platt, "who do not care to entertain future historians by bleeding to death more or less picturesquely out in No Man's Land with no one able to answer your grans. I suggest that you do something more active than merely trusting the law of stable equilibrium."

IRVING JAFFEE

(At Right)—Again Jaffee makes a thrilling finish as he speeds to victory! Winner of 1,000 medals and trophies, including three Olympic Skating Championships, Jaffee has brought the highest skating honors to the U.S.A. Asked recently if he was a steady smoker, Jaffee said, "Yes—but that goes for Camels only. I have to keep my wind, you know, and healthy nerves."

Steady Smokers turn to Camels

You've often seen his name and picture in the papers—Jaffee, the city-bred boy from the U. S. A. who beat the best that Europe had to offer, and became the skating champion of the world! Speaking of speed skating and cigarettes, Jaffee says: "It takes healthy nerves and plenty of wind to be an Olympic skating champion. I find that Camels, because of their costlier tobaccos, are mild and likable in taste. And, what is even more important to a champion athlete, they never upset the nerves."

Change to Camels and note the difference in your nerves... in the pleasure you get from smoking! Camels are milder... have a better taste. They never upset your nerves. Begin today!

MANHATTAN'S STORE FOR WOMEN

Women's Sports

(By Jane Whyte)

It looks as if this might be Van Zile's big year in athletics. Tuesday night the Chi Omegas lost to them with the lowly score of 37-6, which gives Van Zile the 1933 volleyball championship, besides having won the riding intramural. A large number of girls from there have also made class teams, with a scattered representation on them from other organizations.

The freshman-sophomore game scheduled for Wednesday night was not played, but the juniors beat the seniors. Last night the freshmen won their game with the juniors, 24 to 6.

In spite of Lucille Allman's definite refusal to enter the dancing intramural with the Phi Phis, they won their bracket after all over Van Zile and Zeta Tau. The Kappas won their bracket Wednesday night in spite of some premature pessimism. This gives them a place in the semi-finals with Chi Omega, Alpha Delta Pi, and Pi Beta Phi.

DOCTOR MILLER A SPEAKER

Dr. E. C. Miller, professor of botany and plant pathology was a speaker at the agronomy seminar held yesterday afternoon in East Waters hall. His subject was a review of a paper on physico-chemical studies on the nature of drought resistance in crop plants, by R. Newton and W. M. Martin of Canada.

WOMEN'S RIFLE TEAM

The rifle season for the Girls' Rifle team will open the week of January 13, 1934, with a match against Pennsylvania State college.

The team will probably be selected from the following: Fernie Henry, Salina, who was captain of last year's team; Viola Barron, Kensington, who was high scorer last season; Myra Roth, Ness City; Maxine McKinley, Manhattan; Velda Wunder, Valley Falls; Inez King, Junction City; Marian Evans, Hartford; Laura Skillen, Frankfort; Ruby Wunder, Valley Falls; Barbara Claassen, Newton; Virginia Bryan, Topeka; Marjorie Kittell, Topeka; Eva Brownwell, Wichita; Mary Kimball, Manhattan; and Faye Young, Bloom.

MEN'S INTRAMURALS

The championships in four of the five group brackets have now been decided. The Delta Tau Delta defeated the Phi Kappas last night in the playoff for the championship of group 1. Tau Kappa Epsilon, Kappa Sigma, and Sigma Alpha Epsilon had already clinched the titles in groups 2, 3, and 4, respectively. In group 5, the White Shirts are the only undefeated team, but they must defeat W. F. A. C. next Wednesday in order to have a clear claim to the title. Otherwise the two aggregations would be tied. The semi-final and final games will be played after the Christmas vacation.

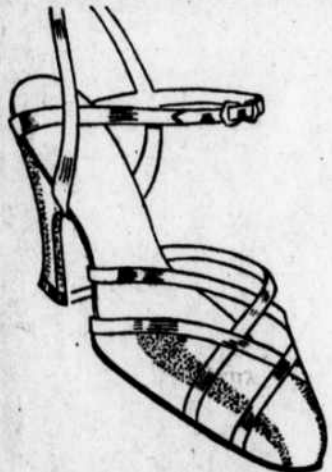

Tuesday night's scores are: Phi Kappa 30, Phi Sigma Kappa 14; Lambda Chi Alpha 14, Delta Tau Delta 11; Sigma Phi Epsilon 18, Phi Delta Theta 11; Phi Kappa Alpha 17, Beta Theta Pi 9; and Delta

SWIMMING PRACTICE

The first varsity swimming practice of the year was held yesterday in the college pool, under the supervision of Coach C. S. Moll, swimming coach.

Joe F. Creed, Bartlesville, Okla., is the only letterman on the squad, but Coach Moll has five of his swimmers from last year's squad which will form the nucleus of this season's squad.

Swimmers reporting yesterday and the distances they swim are: Joe Creed, Bartlesville, Okla., 60 and 100 yard free style; L. E. Murphy, Junction City, 60 and 100 yard free style; I. E. Perez, Panama, 100 yard back stroke and 100 yard free style; Leonard Izard, 220 yard free style; George Garrison, diving and 100 yard free style; W. E. Combs, Bartlesville, Okla., 100 yard breast stroke.

Paul Nomura, from Honolulu, and a member of last year's freshman team, is a good prospect in the 220 yard free style and the 100 yard back stroke. Dave Umberger, Manhattan, is showing up well in the free style events.

Several more men are expected out for the team within the next few days.

Ag Orpheum To Be Offered On March 2-3

DATES FOR ANNUAL COLLEGE EVENT SET BY Y. M. C. A.

Presidents Notified

Stunts Will Be Judged On General Effectiveness, Originality, and Finish—Eight Organizations to Compete

The date for Aggie Orpheum, one of the oldest events of the college campus and sponsored by the Young Men's Christian Association, has been set for March 2 and 3.

Plans for the orpheum were put under way yesterday when letters were sent to presidents of the Greek letter and other organizations on the campus urging them to submit the general idea for their proposed stunts by January 20. The committee, composed of Nelson Reppert, Harris, business manager; Max Burk, Manhattan, assistant manager; and Prof. H. Miles Heberer, director, will choose from those submitted, the eight stunts which will be used on the program.

Besides the eight competing organizations, there will probably be two or three stunts given that will not compete for the loving cup, which is awarded for the best act. The glee club usually gives such a stunt. There will be two classes of acts as usual, a long and short. The time limit for long acts will be 12 minutes and for short acts 8 minutes.

The stunts will be judged the first night by a committee which will base its opinion on general effectiveness, originality, and "finish." The second night, judging will be done by the audience in the form of popular applause. A committee headed by Dr. Howard T. Hill, head of the department of public speaking, will compare the results of the two nights and make the final decisions.

Dr. A. H. Holtz, secretary for the Y. M. C. A., will supervise the Ag Orpheum as he has done since his arrival at Kansas State college. Performances on the two nights will be given at the college auditorium.

Cafeteria Has New Meal Plan

Less Than 12 Cents Will Be Charged For Food—68 Meals For $8

Well balanced and attractive meals at less than 12 cents each will be served to Kansas State college students who take advantage of a plan to be offered by the department of institutional economics, through the college cafeteria, during the second semester. The new plan will not interfere with the regular cafeteria service, Mrs. West said.

The plan was recently announced by Mrs. Bessie Brooks West, head of the department.

Meal tickets will be sold in advance to those taking part at $8 for 68 meals. In addition each student will furnish from 3 to 4 1/2 hours of work a week, depending on the number participating. The student who is using this plan cannot eat these meals at any time during the semester, but must eat 17 meals a week, making 68 meals a month.

Meals on this plan are not served Saturday night nor during Sunday. Mrs. West must know by January 20 what students are going to participate in this plan.

Not more than 100 will be accepted in the group, and the plan will not be operated for fewer than 50, Mrs. West said. The use of this cafeteria as a laboratory for women students majoring in institutional economics makes it possible to offer the new plan to a limited number of students. Three hours of work a week will be required if 100 students take part, or 4 1/2 if 50 cooperate. Hours of work will be adjusted to fit class schedules.

Students participating will be served upstairs in the cafeteria so as not to conflict with the regular serving line, and will eat in the banquet room. Meals will be prepared by the regular cooks of the cafeteria, and planned by the department of institutional economics.

PICK INTELLIGENT GIRLS

Survey Shows Men Favor Women With Good Grades

The idea that men pick "beautiful but dumb" women for wives does not apply in the case of Kansas State students and alumni, nor those of Iowa State college.

Under the direction of Dr. M. F. Fritz, assistant professor of psychology at Iowa State, a comparison was recently made of the scores in the college aptitude tests of engaged couples. For 126 couples, of 200 engagements collected from the files of the newspaper, the scores of both men and women were available. Of these, only 26 high ranking boys chose low-ranking girls. The remainder picked girls of similar or higher intelligence rating than themselves.

Doctor Fritz, at the time an instructor in the department of education at Kansas State college, also conducted a similar investigation here. It was not as complete as the one at Iowa State, and no definite figures are available for comparison. However, the results follow the same trend.

"While the comparison made at Kansas State was not complete enough to warrant any definite conclusions," stated Dr. J. C. Peterson, professor of psychology, "it was found, in general, that boys preferred girls of about equal intelligence to their own."

Doctor Fritz, besides being a former instructor at this institution, is also an alumnus of Kansas State college. He received his B. S. degree here in 1924, and his M. S. degree in 1925. After teaching here a year, he went to Chicago university, where he received his Ph. D. degree in 1931. He has been with Iowa State college since 1927.

Show Petition In

Seventy-Five Business Men Demand Reopening of Movies With Sunday Shows Permitted

Mayor Evan Griffith was presented petitions signed by 175 business and professional people in Manhattan Thursday asking that the city commission act upon reopening the theaters and permitting Sunday shows.

The petitions described the conditions resulting from the closing of the theaters as a detriment to the city's economic and social welfare. They asked that the local laws be revised so as to permit the theaters to operate on Sunday.

A suggestion was made by Mayor Griffith at a conference with members of the board of welfare held at the city hall Friday night. His plan was that Manhattan be permitted to have Sunday moving pictures with all movies censored by the Parent-Teacher association. School children may be barred from unapproved shows shown any day of the week.

The welfare board, acting at the request of Mayor Griffith asked that the mayor appoint a committee to study the suggestion. The committee will be made up of one of the signatories on the petition presented by local business men to the mayor this week, an officer in the Parent-Teacher association, a member of the welfare board, and the mayor.

The proposal is dependent upon the acceptance by the theater operators. (Continued on page two)

Faculty Members In Federal Work

Call, Green, Dean, and Grimes Accept Appointments in the Administration's Recovery Program

Four faculty members at Kansas State college recently accepted federal appointments to positions in connection with the National Recovery program of the administration.

Dean L. E. Call, head of the division of agriculture became president of the Ninth District Federal Land Bank at Wichita January 1 after his appointment had been announced during the holidays by W. E. Pepperell, then acting president of the bank. He will be on leave of absence from the college for the remainder of the fiscal year ending July 1. He indicated that he would probably return to his duties at the college by next September. Dean Call has been a director of the bank since January 1, 1930.

Dr. W. E. Grimes has been appointed by the Federal Land bank as a special investigator at check appraisals in the district which includes Colorado and New Mexico. He has been in Washington reporting on similar work which he has been doing part time for the past two months.

It was also disclosed last week that Prof. R. M. Green, acting head of the department of agricultural economics had agreed to become vice-president of the Production Credit corporation of Wichita.

Prof. George A. Dean, head of the department of entomology at the college has been appointed by the federal bureau of entomology, United States department of agriculture, as state director of the mosquito control work in Kansas which is being done in connection with the federal civil works administration.

$22,000.00 Fire Loss

Sigma Nu Chapter House in Ashes After Disastrous Blaze Early Christmas Morning

The chapter house of Sigma Nu fraternity, 1031 Leavenworth, was destroyed by fire early Christmas morning. It was the most disastrous fire in 1933. The loss was estimated at $15,000 to the building and $7,000 for the contents.

The fire is believed to have originated in the basement from a faulty oil burner in the furnace. Leland Propp, Marion, discovered the fire as he was sweeping near the fire place on the first floor. The alarm was turned in about 3 o'clock in the morning.

When the fire department arrived the firemen started in at once to exterminate the blaze on the first floor. After getting the fire under control there they discovered that it had gone up through the walls into the second floor. From then on it was a losing battle, and by noon the fire had destroyed the building and nearly all of its contents.

At the present time the members of the organization are residing at the Gillette hotel.

AN ARCHIMEDES DISCUSSION

Wayne Richards, Manhattan, senior in electrical engineering, discussed "Archimedes as an Engineer" at the Mathematics club meeting held December 19. The life of Archimedes, together with his inventions and mathematics genius, furnished material for the discussion.

Prof. B. L. Remick talked on "Elliptic Integrals." His talk was connected with the nature of elliptic integrals and their use in applied science.

Prof. W. E. Beals of the department of economics and sociology spent Christmas vacation with his parents on a farm in Kentucky.

ASSEMBLY FRIDAY

W. M. Jardine, treasurer of the state of Kansas and former minister to Egypt, will speak at the student assembly to be held in the college auditorium Friday morning January 12 at 10:15 o'clock. His subject will be "Egypt, the Land of Sunshine and Contrasts."

Mr. Jardine is also a former president of the college and a former secretary of agriculture. In 1930 President Hoover appointed him minister to Egypt. When he returned to the United States last year he was immediately given the position as state treasurer by Governor Landon.

This will be the last assembly of the semester because of the nearness of the final examinations and the reorganization of the class schedule. The next assembly will be Tuesday, February 6.

PICTURESQUE LIFE IN FAR OFF CHINA

Dean Justin Writes to Friends of Trip to Hong Kong and Canton

(By Merrideth Manion) In a letter from Dean Margaret Justin written to her friends while she was on board the S. S. President Monroe, steaming from Hong Kong to Manila, she told about her visit in Hong Kong.

When the S. S. President Monroe docked at Kowloon, across the Pearl River from Hong Kong, she saw a large launch with a pretty young Chinese girl and an attractive Chinese woman in it, directing the activities of the crew of four men toward landing near the President Cleveland. Dean Justin correctly identified them as Lily Lee's people and was soon aboard, bag and baggage, and headed toward the city of Hong Kong that stretches from the water's edge straight up the steep mountain side of Victoria Peak. Lily Lee was a former Chinese student at Kansas State college.

She stayed in a residential hotel with an elaborate suite, and from these quarters sallied forth to tea with Dr. Lei, Lily's father, to drives about the city, to a Chinese dinner party at the Hong Kong hotel, honoring the 20th birthday of a young Chinese girl, and to numerous affairs at the Lei home. Dean Justin was always the only non-Chinese present and the fluency of the English language of the others varied widely so she was continually under a tension to understand and even interpret the attempted English conversation.

The only food she had for a week was Chinese food, served with chopsticks, so there was a question of skill in their use in order to get enough food. Dean Justin said that she managed fairly well under such compulsion. Hong Kong is more British than Chinese, and the homes are furnished in a sort of compromise style. Servants abound, even a small apartment usually having three. They are not expensive however, being paid $10.00, Hong Kong, or $3.50, U. S. A., a month, and, Dean Justin added, not very efficient.

The most outstanding experience of her Hong Kong stop was a trip to Canton, the center of the progressive movement in China, where she attended a dinner for distinguished Chinese guests. Just before desert the telephone rang, and the host after answering it, came back excited. After a brief Chinese conversation, the guests made a hurried departure. Canton had been placed under martial law and it behooved no intelligent person to be on the streets any later than absolutely necessary. The host forbade her trip back to the city that night, and as she returned the next afternoon, firing and the roar of airplanes could be heard over the city.

In describing the trip down, Dean Justin said that Pearl river is wide, almost like a lake in some parts, and narrow in others. Glimpses of village life, of burial grounds, and even of marriage and funeral processions could be seen on one side, and the glory of a sunset on a quiet lake with low mountains in bold relief against its gold, on the other.

New Plan Will Go Into Operation Next January—Cabinet Departments to Be Studied

(By Merrideth Manion)

The successful completion of plans for the establishment of a national student political and governmental laboratory through which students will study the actual workings of the federal government, the various departments of the cabinet and the organization and method of transacting business by both houses of congress was the most important outcome of the ninth annual convention of the National Students Federation of America held during the Christmas holidays in Washington, D. C. Clay Reppert, Harris, and A. K. Bader, Junction City, of the Kansas State Student council, reported upon returning from the sessions Wednesday.

According to the Kansas State representatives the plan will first go into operation next January when congress convenes for its next session. Approximately 150 student leaders will be selected from various colleges to go to Washington and study the various legislative, judicial and administrative branches of government.

Each department of the cabinet will be studied. Department officials will explain the administration of departmental affairs through lectures and students will be given actual experimental work. Later a study will be made of the two houses of congress with special seats reserved in the galleries for the students.

It was also said that the plan would be financed through the Rockefeller Foundation or the federal government. The move is being promoted as a means of giving students direct contact with the (Continued on page two)

Charles Morgan Uses Hypnotism in Architect Seminar

Charles Morgan, Chicago associate of Frank Lloyd Wright, best known modern American architect abroad, recently demonstrated in seminar for architectural students, methods of relaxation in drawing and design.

By use of parlor tricks in hypnotism, Mr. Morgan illustrated means of relaxing the body. His subjects were two students, R. C. Brown, junior in architectural engineering, and Ruth Rocky, freshman in general science and architecture.

Etchings and drawings of Frank Lloyd Wright, and Mr. Morgan were exhibited by the latter during his talk.

Rogers New Head

Journalism Professor Elected President of American Association of Schools in Journalism

Prof. C. E. Rogers, head of the department of industrial journalism and printing, was elected president of the American Association of Schools and Departments of Journalism, in Chicago recently where the association held its annual meeting. Professor Rogers served as secretary of the association in 1929.

This association is the standardizing organization of journalism schools in the United States. No school is admitted to membership whose curriculum does not come up to the high standards of journalism set by the association. The membership includes about 30 schools in the United States.

Professor Rogers was graduated from Oklahoma university in 1914. He won a master of science degree from Kansas State college and a master of arts degree from Stanford university. He worked on the Tulsa World and the Kansas City Star before the world war.

After the war, where he served as first lieutenant in the army, he returned to the Kansas City Star. He came to Kansas State college in 1919 and was made head of the journalism department in 1925. He is a member of Phi Kappa Phi, national honorary scholastic fraternity, and is a past president of the American Association of Agricultural College Editors.

VOTE THURSDAY

Thursday of this week, Kansas State students will go to the polls to select two members of the student council—the governing body of the S. S.
C. A. The duties of citizenship include taking an active interest in government. Unless you take such an interest, you have no kick coming if governmental affairs are not run as you would like to see them run.

Vote Thursday!

ANOTHER NEW YEAR

Kansas State college students, like everybody else, are making resolutions this year. They have resolved in many cases to study harder, or refrain from an excess of sweets, or spend less money during 1934, or perhaps they plan only to make the new year a better year than 1933.

The last resolution shows the greatest amount of common sense. Students have learned that when they resolve to do something or other about the "small trivialities of life, the resolutions are too easily broken.

No one should resolve to do or not to do anything which is of only minor importance to their daily life. Such things should be controlled by the individual without going to the effort of telling himself that he will or will not do a certain thing. No one should say, "I'll do this during the next twelve months"; or "I'll do this during the next three months." Courage, enthusiasm and determination are necessary, of course, but it is unnecessary to drive oneself to do the very thing which may make the individual better off than he is now.

Everyone can think of a dozen or more things which he can do to improve himself during 1934. Students should look ahead and think for themselves because it is for themselves and nobody else that they do their thinking.

A notable example of looking forward is illustrated by President Roosevelt, who has constructed the plans of the government and the national recovery administration for months and in some cases for years ahead.

For Kansas State college students, one resolution is sufficient—make 1934 better than 1933.

The Editor's Desk

Many Kansas State students were disappointed after returning to school last Thursday to find the three theatres in Manhattan with the same deserted appearances. The outcome of the matter has not been settled. Last week, approximately 175 business and professional people in Manhattan submitted a petition to the mayor of the city asking that necessary action be taken to enable the theatres to open. That the vote against Sunday movies in Manhattan by the citizens of the city was a grave step com-mercially is being realized now by the business men and women.

Shankar and his famous troupe of Hindu dancers will be presented at the college auditorium on February 13. Those who had purchased tickets for this entertainment several weeks ago, and were of course disappointed when an accident prevented the appearance of Shankar here, will now have another chance to see the actors. Such entertainment rarely comes to the Kansas State campus.

Many organizations at Kansas State college are now making preparations for the annual Aggie Orpheum to be presented on March 2 and 3. The Orpheum, one of the oldest events on the campus, offers the best of collegiate entertainment each year. A silver cup or trophy has been offered as a prize to the winning group.

Something of Egypt, where he returned recently as ambassador, will be the subject matter of an address Friday by Dr. W. M. Jardine, state treasurer, to Kansas State students and faculty members, at the last student assembly this semester. It will be Doctor Jardine's first appearance before the student body since he was secretary of agriculture. The program will likely draw a large crowd and will probably be listed later as one of the outstanding assemblies this year.

The Snooper

Whilst the Sigma Nu's were away (you all know this by now) their house burned away.
Some of the town men that happened to be around scamped up to the house and endeavored to save what meager belongings and valuables they could. Two of them were groping through the smoke and fire and behold they saw a human torso about to be smothered in the terrific heat. With heroic efforts our two saviors (names on request) dragged the body out of the house only to find that they had grabbed a beer case—and it was empty. Some-say, of course this isn't for sure, that Jim North was about the only Sigma Nu that had his military uniform saved—Jimmy wore it home. Lately all of the Sigma Nu freshmen have been taking a course in "Building Better Bell Hops" at the Gilett hotel where they were, are, or plan on staying. George Boone gives a 20-minute lecture each evening about the business side of the hotel.

A certain blonde Kappa had such a good time at a Phi Phi party that rumors came all of the way from Lawrence about her actions.

And as Danny Blaine said as he was sneaking around with a Pi Phi. Here I go hiding around with a Pi Phi and at the Chi Omega house I was King.

Again one of the famous Kansas State college elections comes along. Those who aspire to be big shots and gain the highest honor of the KSC campus are running for the Student Council. A list of candidates shows that "Babblings" Lawrence is running—this means one thing, if she is elected she will have to do away with her column, because you know that you can't be on both sides of the fence at the same time.

We stand up for Kannal's insinuation that the Deltas are doggie. Did you ever see a Delta without a dog? The boys down at the Delta Tea Og-gerle almost always are leading a canine ranging from a measly dachshund to a worm infested bird dog pup. Once one of the popular magazines had a picture of the well dressed man—he had a bonnet like Oberhelman's, a face like Tietze's, knarled legs like Tellejohn's, a shirt like—anyway he was dressed fairly well, and above all he had a little dog with an oversized collar attached to a leash. Just as the Delta Taus do at Kansas State.

Who's Who—Alpha Delta Pi was organized at Kansas State during the war—Civil war. Perhaps one of the most outstanding personalities outside of Olga Cook, (and Olga doesn't live there anymore,) is Peggy Parker. Peggy goes to college with a vim and vigor that is seldom displayed around these parts. Peggy takes journalism but that must not be held against her.
She lives in Hill City where Hasler and his ADPhi wife reside. With these few unsettled and unco-ordinated remarks we close with the Alpha Xi Deltas coming next in line.

It is reported that "Spud" Morgan has joined literally countless other girls in donning a Kappa Sig jeweled pin. The donor, George Hoopingarner, reports that the romance began when Spud first saw the name Hoop—ner in print. She immediately fell for the trick part of the name and that was that.

BADLUCK.

Book Review

THE HEART OF A DOG

By Albert Payson Terhune
(Reviewed by Jane Kahl)

All dogs die too soon. Many humans don't die soon enough, says Alfred Payson Terhune in the af-terword of his book "The Heart of a Dog." This is a collection of seven delightful stories written by a man who loves and understands dogs. In fact dogs are Mr. Ter-hune's life work. He studies them, writes about them, and raises them.
Your old friends of previous Terhune stories are in this book. Lad, the lovable pup that turned out to be a watch dog; Ruff, the collie who grew up with a wild fox;
Chum, who tamed the dog catcher;
Bruce, successor to Lad; Lechin-var Bobby whom $2,000 couldn't buy, they're all here and more interesting than ever.

Besides these stories Mr. Terhune tells about his own famous Sunnybank Kennel Collies; how he raises them, takes them to dog shows and sells them. Mr. Terhune raises champions too, and his dogs are famous throughout the United States.

Any dog lover from seven to 70
would enjoy this book.

Professor Smith Illustrates Lecture
With Old Copies

Ancient song books printed on hand prepared parchment in the fourteenth century, Spanish missals of 1700, and prints from the original pages of the Gutenberg Bible displayed on the tables in recreation center Tuesday evening, created a fitting effect for Prof.
L. B. Smith's illustrated lecture on "The Art of the Book Illustrator."

Tracing the development of illustration from the earliest hieroglyphics of 1500 B. C., Professor Smith displayed with slides their first conceptions of balance and composition in art.

Illustrations from Greek painters, skilled in the art of depicting correct moments were shown by the picture of Medea and her Children.
Works of Botticelli, the Florentine master; Caxton, the first English printer; Albrecht Durer, "whose illustrations are noted for their design, rich costume, and appropriate expression"; Raphael, Holbein, Lucas Cranach, Blake, "who found delight in massive characterization and flying figures rushing through the air," and Dore, "the best known of the illustrators," were shown on several of Professor Smith's slides.

ENGLISH BOOK REVIEW

Professor Hockey Will Discuss Atlantic Monthly Prize Winner

The book that won the Atlantic
Monthly prize during the past year,
Francis Winwar's "Poor Splendid Wings: The Rosettis and Their Circle," will be reviewed at 7:30 o'clock this evening in recreation center by Prof. Noble W. Hockey, department of English.

"The Rosettis and the pre-Raphaelite movement in art and literature is the material covered in the book.

The discussion tonight will resume the series of English lectures that were discontinued shortly before the holidays.

ART EXHIBIT SOON

Annual Oil Painting Group Will Be Shown Here February 3

The annual oil painting exhibit of mid-western artists is now being circulated throughout Kansas.
This exhibit, sponsored by the Kansas Federation of artists, has been selected by C. H. Seward, Wichita, from the works of artists living in the mid-western states.
Nineteen paintings from nineteen artists are in the display. Twelve of these artists are either living in Kansas or are native Kansans.

These paintings, said Prof. John Helm, are a representative cross-section of the work being done in this section of the country. However, he regrets that Iowa and Nebraska are not represented.

The Kansas Federation of artists, which also sponsors many art lectures, charges a fee to its ten member organizations for the privilege of exhibiting the paintings. The display is now in McPherson and will be in Manhattan February 3.

Prof. Paul Weigel, head of the department of architecture, is president of the federation; C. H.
Seward is director; and Prof. John Helm is secretary-treasurer.

DEBATE SQUAD WINS

Kansas State's freshman debate squad carried off high honors at McPherson Saturday when they won seven of their eight arguments at the invitation debate meeting held at McPherson college.

The team, coached by Dr. H. B.
Summers of the department of public speaking was composed of Ray W. Call, Holington, and Mac
Kappelman, Athol, J. W. York, Vinland, and J. C. Kauffman, Abilene.

The subject of the debates was the one selected by the Pi Kappa Delta organization for the current season, namely, that "The powers of the President should be substantially increased as a settled policy."

Prof. C. H. Scholer, head of the applied mechanics department, went to Topeka recently to attend a meeting of the state highway commission. Tentative plans were made for a highway conference to be held in Manhattan either in the last days of January or the first part of February. Members of the state highway commission and county engineers will attend. City engineers will be invited to the conference.

workings and business of government.
Robert Marcus, president of the student body of American University in Washington, was appointed chairman of a committee which will handle the project.

Due to the fact that the convention was held in the nation's capital, a prominent group of speakers was obtained. Among them were Henry T. Rainey, speaker of the House of Representatives; Mrs.
Franklin D. Roosevelt; Chester H.
McCall, assistant to the secretary of commerce; Dr. George F. Zook, United States commissioner of education; Joy Elmer Morgan, of the national education; Eyril Wynne, head of the division of research and publications of the state department; Senator Elmer Thomas, of Oklahoma and Senator Simeon D.
Fess of Ohio.

One of the special sessions was devoted to the promotion of friendship between the college students of Latin American and the United States. Speakers included
Dr. Ricardo Alfaro, minister of Panama, and Dr. Esteban Gil Borges, assistant director of the Pan-American Union.

Discussions were concentrated on student government, self-help for college students, college publications, international affairs and the college student and public affairs.

John Lang of the University of North Carolina was re-elected president of the federation. Thomas Neblett, former Southern regional representative, was appointed delegate at large and the University of Boston, at Boston, Mass., was selected as the next convention place.

Kenneth S. Davis, Manhattan, a senior in the division of agriculture, is assistant editor of the Collegian, assistant editor of the Kansas magazine, chancellor of the Quill club, vice-president of the Hamilton literary society, president of the Congregational Good Fellowship society, a winner of the Alpha Zeta freshman scholarship medal, a member of Phi Mu Alpha, Dynamics, Alpha Zeta, and Farmhouse social fraternity.

Richard Armstrong, Riley, a junior in physical education who has been prominent in athletics the last two years, being on the football and basketball squads. He is a member of Delta Tau Delta social fraternity.

A general election is not necessary until the membership drops below five but the present council believed it could operate more efficiently with seven members.

The Student Council is the supreme governing council of the student association, and sits as a court for determining the facts in all cases involving violations of the Student Governing association regulations by members of the association before final action is taken by the president of the college. The council determines the penalty and time and condition of inflection, and make a recommendation to the president of the college. All actions are considered valid and binding upon students unless they are disapproved by the faculty council and the president of the college.

Typical cases which may be brought before the council for trial are picking of pockets and stealing of all forms, smoking on the campus, improper or indecent conduct in public places, forgery, nonpayment of just bills, destruction of college or city property, the breaking of school traditions and customs, and violation of rules governing social functions.

Mayor Griffith believes that the vote was a protest against the quality of pictures and not against Sunday shows. He said he was occasioned by talks with voters since the referendum that the opposition was to indecent shows and not to Sunday shows.

He expressed concern for immediate settlement of the problem in order to avoid the ridicule of other cities in the state.
Until something is done about the show business, the Diamond Cab and Baggage company is discontinuing all-night taxi service and will operate only from 6 a. m. to 8 p. m. It was announced by Arthur Fair, proprietor.

Mayor Griffith proposed to take the responsibility himself of getting the theaters to agree to the plan.

L. A. Jacobson, formerly of the agronomy department, now connected with the Branch Experiment Station at Hays, is here doing some analytical work on sorghums.

After the driest Sig. Alpha party since the founding of the school the would-be students of this institution went on their homeward way. Then came the burning of the Sigma Nu house, and now what will the boys show their rushees next fall since the plans that they have proudly been displaying for the last ten years burned?

Swede "Rubinoff" Lutz announces that he would like to be promoted from second fiddle to first in Jean Dexter's orchestra. And we didn't even know that Swede could play the violin! . . . Don Isaacson, who aspires to be a second Casanova, is in quite a quandary. Now, to be happy Isaacson must have his badge on a young woman; the Theta sent it back last week, and he can't decide whether to put it back on Pickrell or not. Life is full of little mistakes! . . . Another love affair that has come to the point is the "Spud" Morgan-George Hoopingarner endeavor!

Questions of the hour: Why does everyone yell "No, we won't take you down to Springers" when they see Dean Griffing coming? . . . Who was liberally bespattering the Chi Omega lawn last Thursday night? . . . Who is coach of our basket ball team (?), Root or F. P. Blaine?

the embryo at about four or five days before hatching.

SOCIAL ORGANIZATIONS HIGH

Approximately 35 Per Cent of Students in Frats or Sororities

Eight hundred nine men and women students enrolled in Kansas State college this semester are members of social fraternities or sororities according to a survey recently completed under the direction of the sub-committee on student organizations of the faculty council on student affairs. This is exactly 35 per cent of the student body.

Two hundred fifty-five women, or 32.9 per cent of all women students belong to a sorority house. Five hundred fifty-four men students are members of fraternities. That is 36.1 per cent of all men students. Of this number, 365 live in fraternity houses. A total of 536, or 23.2 per cent of all students live in chapter houses.

This survey is conducted annually by the sub-committee, which consists of Prof. Harold Howe of the department of agricultural economics, chairman; Miss Grace Derby, associate librarian; and Prof. R. I. Throckmorton, head of the department of agronomy.

The student health department and the Manhattan fire department aided the committee recently in inspecting the houses. There are nine sororities and twenty-two fraternities maintaining houses at Kansas State college.

The Center Leaves have the finest Tobacco Quality

that's why only center leaves are used in Luckies

The first thing people see and like about Luckies is how round and firm they are. The tobacco doesn't spill out and there are no loose ends to cling to lips. That's because we pack each and every Lucky full to the brim with long, even strands of the finest Turkish and domestic tobaccos—only the center leaves. Not the top leaves—because those are under-developed.

Not the bottom leaves—because those are inferior in quality. We use only the center leaves—because they are the mildest and fully ripe for perfect smoking. That's why Luckies always draw easily, burn evenly—and are always mild and smooth. So smoke a Lucky, a fully packed cigarette. And remember, "It's toasted"—for throat protection—for finer taste.

Wildcats Downed By Missouri 32-20

Graham Returns to Team After East-West Game—An Unlucky
K-State Team

The Missouri Tiger's came from behind in the early part of the second half to defeat the K-State quintet by a score of 32 to 20, in the first conference game of the season at Columbia Saturday night. At the half Missouri led by a score of 16 to 0, but early in the last period Jim Freeland sank a basket to give the Wildcats a one point lead. From then on the Missouri defense tightened and they allowed Kansas State to make only three more points.

Ralph Graham played with the Kansas State five for the first time on the Missouri invasion since his return from the coast where he participated in the East-West football game.

Out of the seven non-conference games played so far this season the Wildcats have won one and lost six. The lone victory was over Colorado university by a score of 24 to 22. The Wildcats were handed two defeats by Kansas university, two by K. S. T. C., one by Warrensburg Teachers, and one by Creighton university.

POSTAL RIFLE MATCHES

Men's Team Compete Against —Selections from "Hit"

The men's rifle team of Kansas State college opened the rifle season last week when it fired postal matches with Washington university of St. Louis, Mo., and City college of the city of New York.

The team, composed of the following students, fired the following scores: Doyle Andrews, Salina, 359; Edward Waller, Wellington, 352; H. D. Benstrup, Deerfield, 352; W. F. Stewart, Kansas City, Mo., 345; Horton Laude, Manhattan, 344; William P. Simpson, Salina, 342; William H. Jutz, Florence, 340; W. S. Naylor, Manhattan, 337; W. M. West, Offerle, 336; and P. Willis, Manhattan, 336. The highest total score was made by Doyle Andrews with a score of 359 out of a possible 400. The highest single score in one position was a perfect 100 fired by W. F. Stewart.

During the month of February the team will also compete in the Corps Area Intercollegiate matches and in March targets will be fired for competition in the Hearst Trophy matches.

If present plans materialize the Missouri Valley Rifle League will be reorganized with Nebraska, Missouri, Kansas State and several other schools as members.

TEAMS INTO ACTION

Big Six Squads Will Show Strength in Battles

With every team in the Big Six getting into action against conference opponents this week, a better lineup on the strength of the various teams should be obtainable before long.

For example, Nebraska, in meeting Kansas at Lincoln tonight, and Missouri at Columbia Saturday night, will give an indication of whether or not its 37 to 31 victory over Iowa State Friday night was an upset. Iowa State was supposed to have a greatly improved team over last year's tail-end outfit, but in meeting the Jayhawkers and Tigers, the Nebraska quintet will have competition of known strength this week.

Iowa State, in games with Kansas State at Manhattan Friday night, and with Oklahoma at Norman the following night, will also have a chance to give an account of herself. The Sooners are regarded as one of the strongest teams of the conference, having two victories over Southern Methodist to their credit. Besides the Cyclone encounter, they also have a game with their ancient non-conference foe, Oklahoma, A. and M., tomorrow night at Norman.

Missouri and Nebraska, with victories over Kansas State and Iowa State respectively, are tied for the conference lead at the present time, while the Wildcats and the Cyclones are together at the bottom of the group. K. U. and Oklahoma have yet to meet conference competition.

SQUAD LOSES CLOTHING

Two suitcases containing clothing valued at 60 dollars were stolen from members of the Kansas State basketball squad in the Kansas City union station early Sunday morning. They were returning from Columbia where they played the Missouri Tigers Saturday night.

Baggage was piled together in the lobby of the station while the men were at breakfast. When they returned, bags belonging to Jim Freeland and Lee Morgan were missing. Ralph Graham, Oren Stoner, Dan Blaine and Doug Russell also had clothing in these bags.

DAKOTA WESLEYAN HERE

Dakota Wesleyan, a team which went to the semi-finals in the national A. A. U. basketball tournament in Kansas City last spring, is to appear in Manhattan against Kansas State Feb. 15. M. F. "Mike" Ahearn, athletic director, announced yesterday.

TWENTY BOXERS PRACTICE

The first boxing squad at Kansas State in six years is being rounded into shape by Coach B. R. Patterson. Although practices have been held only a short time, approximately 20 boxers are working out nightly in the gym.

No matches have been scheduled yet, but there are likely to be home and home meets arranged with Nebraska and St. Benedicts, and possibly Iowa State, if finances will permit.

A Wildcat team will be selected from the candidates working out and letters will be awarded team members. The last time letters were awarded for boxing was in 1928.

Women's Sports

(By Jane Whyte)

If any girl wishes to belong to WAA (Women's Athletic association), and has the one hundred required intramural points, Arlene Smith will take care of the matter if the points are given to her on or before midnight tonight.

The posture contest which is a part of the women's fall intramurals, will be held Wednesday, January 10 at 5 o'clock.

There are six girls allowed on a team, three of whom may be physical education majors.

Seven organizations are, already signed up and others desiring to do so are urged to inform the department immediately.

DINNER FOR TEAM

Kansas Wildcats Will Be Honored Next Year

New York alumni of Kansas State college are planning extensive entertainment for the members of the Wildcat football team when they play Manhattan college next fall.

At a meeting held the night of December 30 in the "Cell" of the old London restaurant, New York, alumni of Kansas State planned a dinner in honor of the Kansas team to be held the night of October 6. A cheering section made up of alumni members will attend the game and, on the Sunday following, will take the team on a sightseeing trip through the city.

Dean R. W. Babcock of the division of general science attended the New York meeting. He also attended a similar one in Philadelphia.

SWIMMERS PADDLE POOL

After several weeks of conditioning workouts before Christmas vacation, the Kansas State swimming squad is now buckling down to hard practices every night in the pool in Nichols gymnasium. Approximately 16 swimmers are taking part in these workouts.

Although no meets have been scheduled, there is a possibility of several home and home meets next month. Nebraska wrote for meets this month with the Wildcats, but these could not be arranged because the Kansas State squad could not get ready for competition that soon. Home and home meets with the Huskers and Kansas university may be scheduled for next month.

A DOWNEY DISCUSSION

Professor Faulkner Declares Author Has Characteristics of a Journalist. "In 'Richard Harding Davis: His Day,' Fairfax Downey writes as a newspaper man writes, and shows that he felt as a newspaper man felt," Prof. J. O. Faulkner in his discussion of the Downey biography of Richard Harding Davis, on Tuesday evening in recreation center.

"An adventurer of adventures, Richard Harding Davis symbolized adventure in everything he wrote—novels, short stories, essays, plays, and news writing. As a reporter witnessing a football game, a coronation, or at the front in a war, Dick Davis was a reporter—he saw all, he wrote all."

PLAY NEW GAME

Coeds Now Engage in "Kieko" in Nichols Gym

Perhaps you too have heard the squeals and yells issuing forth from the girls gym of late. Although screams and yells from the fans are not an unusual occurrence, these particular voicings called for an investigation. So—into the noisy place we went!

There on that floor which is more accustomed to the running feet of a basketball team lay about forty young coeds flat on their backs! With arms and legs akimbo, these maids were deeply involved in the game of "Kieko."

What won't they invent next! And tell us, what is Kieko. That, my friend, is just one of the games played with a new innovation, the cage ball—a small ball measuring about ninety inches around. Lying in two lines and facing each other the girls do their mightiest to push the awkward sphere over the heads of their opponents to score. And their only weapons are hands and feet. The ball slips off the daintily posed foot and frequently falls on some unsuspecting victim. Then it is pushed down the line to a robust creature who with a hefty kick sends the ball over the opposing line and releases the cry of victory and sighs of relief from the winners. In the excitement of the game these sweet young things have no time to think of the bruises and pains of stiff muscles to be suffered on the morrow when some vigorous kick missed the illusive ball and hit an undeserving neighbor.—Oh dear! Such is the life of a phys ed student.

Incidentally, it is only during the past several weeks that cage ball has been enjoyed in the physical education classes here at Kansas State. According to Miss Helen Saum, head of the department of physical education for women, the cage ball is to be used as an intramural sport next fall.

STUDENT IN RADIO WORK

R. D. Compton an Operator in Radio City

Robin D. Compton, former student, who is now a radio operator at Radio City in New York City, in a recent letter to Prof. L. M. Jorgenson of the electrical engineering department tells of his work in the largest studio in the world.

He writes that as many as eight programs are broadcast at the same time to WEA, WJZ, and various parts of the Red and Blue network. "Automatic announcing of WEA and WJZ is incorporated," he writes, "the announcer merely pushes a button and sound or film apparatus says, 'WJZ, New York.'"

Acoustics of many of the studios may be changed from the operators desk by pushing buttons which operate sliding portions of the wall, he said.

Robin was formerly chief radio operator at WREN and KSAC before going to Radio City in New York.

CHOOSE YOUR OWN JOB!

Positions Show Decreases and Increases During Year (By Marjorie Call)

For seniors who are looking for work or for freshmen planning their courses, a recent outlook on the increase and decrease of jobs is of interest. For women there is an increase of clerical occupations. Teaching professions lead them all as far as numbers employed are concerned. The increase in employment is not unusual. Stenography, typist jobs, telephone operating, hair dressing, and manicuring jobs have all shown great increase. The work which shows the greatest decrease is in laundry work, house servants, waitresses, and music teachers.

There are several relatively new fields of occupation. Insurance and real estate jobs for women are new and have been steadily increasing in employment. Decorating jobs, although not so new, show a decided field for women as far as employment is concerned. Social and religious workers also are increasing in employment.

Generally speaking, among men's occupations, the technical professions and white collar jobs are steadily increasing their employment. Engineers and electricians are finding more work. However, physicians, clergymen, and lawyers are remaining about the same as they have been in the last few years.

The trend has been for workers to go from the cities to the farms within the last few years. The increase shown in white collar jobs may indicate a return to the city, however. These statistics were taken from a map of occupations which was compiled during July of last year.

Charles Randolph Smith, '23, former editor of the Collegian, spent the holidays at the beach at Grand Isle, La., according to a letter received here by Prof. C. E. Rogers, head of the journalism department. Mr. Smith is on the teaching staff of the school of journalism at Louisiana State university.

LONGSDORF WILL SPEAK

Lyle Longsdorf, director of radio station KSAC, will speak at journalism seminar Thursday on "Opportunities for the Journalism Student in Radio."

Men's Intramurals

Two semi-final games in intramural basketball simmered down the field in pan-hellenic competition to two teams last night—Sigma Alpha Epsilon and Delta Tau Delta.

The Delta Taus won their game from Kappa Sigma 10 to 8. In the other game the Sig Alphas downed Tau Kappa Epsilon 23 to 14. Finals will be played Thursday.

The winner of the White Shirts-Tiger game will play Wesley Foundation Athletic club for the independent championship. The Pan-hellenic champion and the independent champion will then play off for the 1934 intramural basketball title.

The final standings in the respective group brackets is as follows:

Group I—Delta Tau Delta, won 4, lost 1; Phi Kappa, won 4, lost 1. (The Delta Taus defeated the Phi Kappas for the championship in a play-off); Lambda Chi Alpha, won 3, lost 2; Sigma Phi Epsilon, won 2, lost 3; Phi Delta Theta, won 2, lost 3; Phi Sigma Kappa, won 0, lost 5.

Group II—Tau Kappa Epsilon, won 5, lost 0; Sigma Nu, won 4, lost 1; Beta Theta Pi, won 2, lost 3; Phi Kappa Alpha, won 2, lost 3; Delta Sigma Phi, won 2, lost 3; Alpha Rho Chi, won 0, lost 5.

A BIG FOOTBALL YEAR

Kansas State in a New Attendance Record for Games

A new all-time record for attendance at Kansas State football games in a single season was established this year, when 73,443 persons saw the 1933 edition of the Wildcats in action in the nine games. The previous record was made by the team of 1926, which drew 70,500 cash customers. Last year's attendance was 55,600.

Kansas State's share of the receipts at the games was $35,321.23. This is not a new record, however, for the admission prices were quite a bit higher in 1926.

The Kansas State-Kansas game drew the biggest crowd of last season, 17,389. It is interesting to note that this was a larger crowd than the one which attended the Kansas-Missouri game, which is sometimes called K. U.'s "big game."

The crowd at the Nebraska game was the largest of the home season, as 15,138 persons almost filled Memorial stadium to see this battle which later proved to be the game which decided the Big Six title.

The exact figures for the attendance at the Michigan State, Iowa State, and Texas Tech games have not yet been received at the athletic offices, and the figures for these games are estimated. However, the estimates are very conservative, and the official figures for these three games might bring the total season attendance up to 75,000.

The figures for the various games are: Emporia Teachers at Manhattan, 3,251; St. Louis U. at St. Louis, 8,235; Missouri at Columbia, 4,757; Nebraska at Manhattan, 15,138; Kansas at Lawrence, 17,389; Michigan State at East Lansing, 6,500 (estimate); Iowa State at Ames, 3,500 (estimate); Oklahoma at Manhattan, 8,173; and Texas Tech at Lubbock, 6,500 (estimate).

Haven Company Gets Printing Contract—Pictures Sent to Burger-Baird Company

Printing contracts for the 1934 Royal Purple, yearbook at Kansas State college, were awarded yesterday to Joseph D. Haven company, Kansas City, Mo., according to Ken Harter, editor of the Royal Purple.

Senior pictures for the class section are now being sent to Burger-Baird Engraving Co., at Kansas City, Mo. Seniors should have their pictures taken immediately, the editor of the yearbook said. The deadline for all pictures for the 1934 Royal Purple is February 1, and senior pictures for the class section should be in by Wednesday of next week. All pictures should be taken at the Studio Royal, 1131 Moro street.

The work in the completion of the Royal Purple is rapidly getting underway. A large part of the initial work has already been completed, and the staff is now working in the latter stages of the yearbook. The sports section of the yearbook has been completed, except for the basketball and wrestling sections. The cuts in the sports section of the Royal Purple will be made in an outline form and will consist of an action cut extending across the center of each page in the section.

The division pages have been re-mitted to the engraving company and the proofs on the cuts, which include the campus scenes, and various other photographs, have been received at the office. The cuts of deans, and pictures of fraternity and sorority houses, have also been received on proof sheets by the Royal Purple staff.

Two proofs are received by the office from the engraving company. One of the proofs for the individual cuts is retained by the Royal Purple office here and used on the final dummy for the yearbook, and the other proofs are used for the printer's sheets.

The basketball pictures are nearing completion at the studio. All basketball pictures which have not been taken will be completed as soon as possible, Harter said. The wrestling pictures will be taken sometime during the wrestling season.

R. M. GREEN

Prof. R. M. Green, newly elected head of the department of agricultural economics, left Manhattan Tuesday to assume his position as vice-president of the Production Credit corporation in Wichita. It has not yet been determined whether Professor Green will be given a leave of absence until June 30 or be forced to resign from his position at the college. His successor as head of the department of agricultural economics has not yet been named by the board of regents.

Miss Gladys Schmedemann will return Sunday to Pawnee, Neb., where she teaches. Miss Schmedemann has been spending a two weeks vacation with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Schmedemann.

Move To Abolish Military Training

Kansas State League for Peace Agrees on Statement Against R. O. T. C. Here

The abolition of compulsory military training at Kansas State college is one of the objectives adopted by the Kansas State Student League for Peace at its meeting held Wednesday afternoon in Calvin 58.

The league, which was organized December 12, has a membership of approximately 40 students. Its primary aim is "the education of students and faculty members in the causes and consequences of war, the current conditions of international relations, and the trend toward another war."

The statement opposing military training reads as follows:

"The individual should not be coerced into training against his personal feelings and convictions. No objections are made to the actual drill. Certain benefits are to be admitted but the instructions given foster ideals not conducive to peace principles. War is made to seem a glorious adventure."

"We believe that mental disarmament as well as material is the only way we can abolish war. We must think peace instead of war."

"We believe the R. O. T. C. courses are not conducive to mental disarmament. The constant association of students with things of a military nature tend to inure them to the horrors of war, making them easier victims of war propaganda."

The executive council of the league is composed of Chester George, Manhattan, chairman; Romayne Cribbitt, Parsons; John Kauffman, Abilene; Ruth Gresham and Kenneth Davis, both of Manhattan.

This meeting was the last one to be held this semester.

BOXING MATCH SCHEDULED

Kansas State Matmen to Meet St. Benedicts Jan. 31

Although Kansas State has been without a boxing team for six years, about ten or twelve enthusiastic candidates are working hard for a position on the team. There are also several freshmen working out with the squad. The following are the candidates for the varsity squad: heavyweight, Plenthorpe; 175 pounds, J. Zilnik; 160 pounds, Joe Long; 145, R. Madison; 135, W. Hines, Gomez and George Garrison; 125 pounds, Dean Scott. C. Scott will be eligible the second semester.

One boxing match has been scheduled with St. Benedicts college, at Atchison, for Wednesday, January 31. Nebraska and Iowa State are the only other colleges in the Big Six who are sponsoring a boxing team and it is possible that some meets will be arranged for in the near future with one of these two schools.

Wildcats And Cyclones In Game Tonight

FIRST OF TWO BASKETBALL TUSSELS IN TWO DAYS

Nebraska Monday

Coach Root Works On Offensive Formations This Week—K-State Cagers Showing Improvement

(By The Collegian Sports Editor) Two conference games in four days will be the Wildcats' basketball lineup this weekend. Tonight the Kansas State cagers meet the Iowa State Cyclones and on Monday night they meet the conference-leading Nebraska Cornhuskers. Both games will be played in Nichols gymnasium and will begin at 7:30 o'clock.

In conference play both the Wildcats and the Cyclones have lost one game. Kansas State lost to Missouri university and Iowa State to the surprisingly strong Nebraskans. In nonconference competition the Cyclones did well, bowling over their opponents with regularity, while the Wildcats were not so fortunate.

With unexpected victories over both Iowa State and last year's champion Kansas university Jayhawkers, Nebraska will be a hard nut for the Wildcat courtmen to crack. At the beginning of the season Kansas State and Nebraska were doped to end up at the bottom in conference play. The Huskers have completely upset that dope with their victories, so the Wildcats will undoubtedly have to be at their best to trounce them.

This week the Kansas State varsity has been working hard on offensive plays. The men are quickly learning the formations and consequently have been displaying a marked improvement in their scrimmage sessions. They will be in their best form of the season when they meet the Cyclones tonight.

Coch Frank Root has been working several different combinations this week in trying to find the best that work best together. Graham, Bidnick, and Stoner have been working at "forward" consistently, with Freeland at center and Captain Boyd and Hutchinson at guards. This combination seems likely to get first call for the starting lineup tonight. Another five has been Russell and Weller at forwards, Farrell at center, and Morgan and Gilpin at guards.

COLLEGE HOSPITAL

Two students are now confined at the college hospital. Herl Webb, Meriden, was admitted on Tuesday and Maurice Smyth, St. Joseph, Mo., was admitted on Thursday.

CHARLOTTE BUCHMANN TREASURER OF QUILL

Elected at Meeting of Writers' Club Tuesday—Plans for Magazine Discussed

Charlotte Buchmann, Clay Center, was elected treasurer of Quill club at a meeting of the club held Tuesday night in the office of Prof. H. W. Davis. She will take the place of Stanley Morris, Paxico, who recently left school.

Plans to publish a proposed magazine of creative writing as in previous years were also discussed in the meeting. Further investigation by a special committee will be made before final arrangements are made. Students other than Quill members may be asked to contribute. Poetry and prose both will be used.

The next meeting will be at the home of Miss Catherine Bower of the English department. At that time plans for the coming semester will be discussed in addition to the regular program.

Dr. E. L. Tague Dies At College

Chemistry Professor a Victim of Heart Trouble—Instructor Here Since 1919

Dr. E. L. Tague, professor of chemistry at Kansas State college, died of heart trouble at the college yesterday morning between 9:00 and 10:00 o'clock.

Doctor Tague failed to come home during the noon hour yesterday and a search was immediately instituted. Later he was found dead in a small room of the chemistry building at 12:30 o'clock. While it is believed Doctor Tague had suffered from heart trouble during the past 30 years, his death was totally unexpected.

Doctor Tague is survived by his widow, two daughters, Eleanor and Virginia, and a son, Albert. Doctor Tague, whose home was at 321 Delaware, was 60 years old at the time of his death.

Coming to Kansas State college in 1914 after having been head of the department of chemistry at Washburn college, Doctor Tague held three degrees from the University of Kansas.

He was an instructor of colloidal chemistry and the chemistry of proteins at Kansas State college. Doctor Tague also conducted investigations of proteins for the experiment station.

He had written many technical magazine articles, was author of a book on casein (a protein substance found in milk), and was a joint author of Roger's Industrial Chemistry, a text used by advanced students at the college.

When Doctor Tague came to the college, he was made assistant professor. He was given a professorship in 1931.

Dawley Again Is Secretary Of Engineers

KANSAS SOCIETY REELECTS FACULTY MEMBER TO OFFICE

Five Kansas State Representatives Speak on Program of Twenty-Sixth Annual Convention

Prof. E. R. Dawley, of the applied mechanics department, was re-elected as secretary-treasurer of the Kansas Engineering society at the 26th annual convention of the society held Wednesday and Thursday in the engineering building of Kansas State.

One hundred twenty-seven engineers from all parts of the state registered at the convention which began Wednesday morning with a President Farrell's address of welcome. The response was given by Prof. C. H. Scholer, president of the convention and head of the applied mechanics department. Assistant Dean M. A. Durland of the engineering division was program chairman. President Farrell stressed the increasing importance of the engineer in all countries and cited the United States, Russia, and Italy as examples of this dependence of a country upon its engineers.

O. J. Eldmann, engineer of design of the state highway commission at Topeka, was elected president of the Kansas Engineering society and also president of the American Society of Civil Engineers.

The civil engineering society held its annual meeting after a luncheon at the Gillett hotel Thursday. Other officers elected then are A. B. Griggs, Topeka, vice-president; and F. W. Epps, of the highway commission at Topeka, secretary-treasurer. Prof. F. F. Frazier, civil engineering, was president of this organization.

D. C. Jackson, Jr., head of the electrical engineering department at K. U., was elected vice-president of the Kansas Engineering society at the concluding sectional meeting Thursday afternoon.

The convention was divided into five sections for the technical discussion of current engineering problems. Five speakers from Kansas State were on the program. Engineers from Kansas university, the highway commission, and other Kansas engineers also contributed to the program.

Dean R. A. Seaton of the division of engineering discussed the Kansas Registration and Examining Board for Professional Engineers; Prof. R. G. Kloeffler, head of the electrical engineering department, talked on the "Economics of Hydro Versus Steam Power"; Prof. C. E. Pearce, head of the department of machine design, gave a demonstrated lecture of the new photo-elastic testing apparatus; A. B. Speery, professor of geology, presented a paper on "Kansas as a Mineral Producing State"; and A. W. Johnson, of the highway materials laboratory, spoke on "Investigations of Soil Densities and Subgrades."

Brigadier-General A. G. Lott, Fort Riley Commandant, spoke of the civilian conservation camps in Kansas at the banquet in the Waukegan hotel Wednesday evening.

Manhattan men who registered for the convention are: Dean R. A. Seaton, Professors E. R. Dawley, C. H. Scholer, M. A. Durland, F. F. Frazier, A. J. Mack, L. E. Conrad, C. E. Pearce, R. G. Kloeffler, F. J. Zink, J. P. Calderwood, M. W. Furr, D. E. Lynch, W. W. Carlson, L. H. Koenitzer, G. F. Branigan, D. C. Taylor, G. A. Sellers, F. C. Fenton, E. J. Pettler, L. V. White, President F. D. Farrell, O. E. Noble, C. G. Duffey, H. B. Miller, Frank Kramer, F. E. Whipple, Vic Venard, J. W. Conrow, J. W. Perkins, A. W. Johnson, Lowell Birkhart, K. W. Day, H. A. Rowland, G. R. Pauling, A. J. Lane, R. B. Niehart, and W. E. Gibson.

A. A. A. REPRESENTATIVE HERE

Harold Hedge, field representative of the corn-hog section of the A. A. A., is at the college to consult extension division members relative to the problems arising in the administration of the corn-hog control program. Mr. Hedge arrived Thursday and will remain through Saturday. He is ordinarily on the staff of the University of Nebraska but like so many university officials is on leave of absence at the request of the administration.

ASSEMBLY TODAY

Dr. W. M. Jardine, state treasurer and former minister to Egypt, will speak on "Egypt, the Land of Sunshine and Contrasts" in student assembly this morning at 10:15 o'clock. Doctor Jardine is a former president of Kansas State college and former secretary of agriculture under President Coolidge. This will be the last assembly of the semester. The next assembly will be on Tuesday, February 8.

STUDENTS SIGN UP ON NEW DEAL PLAN

Director of College Cafeteria Announces Only Eight More Days Left

There are only eight more days left to sign up for the cooperative meal plan proposed for the college cafeteria by Mrs. Bessie Brooks West, of the department of institutional economics, according to an announcement issued today. A group of 100 students will be accepted and the closing date is January 20.

"The plan was made chiefly for students, both men and women, who are now doing their own cooking," said Mrs. West. "This will give these students an opportunity to get well-balanced, wholesome meals at an extremely low cost. If 100 students sign up, each student may obtain sixty-eight consecutive meals a month for eight dollars in cash in addition to three to three and one-half hours of work a week. If fifty students sign, the work-period will be from three and one-half to four hours a week with the cash payment remaining the same."

Students who take advantage of the plan will eat upstairs in the cafeteria. Meals will not be served Saturday night or Sunday. The cafeteria will be open to the public as usual.

HELM'S WORK IN EAST

Faculty Member Has Aquaintance With Wood-Cuts in Show

An aquatint, "Hill Country," and two wood engravings, "Sunset Kansas," and "On a Country Road" by Prof. John F. Helm of the department of architecture were accepted by the Philadelphia Art Alliance for a December exhibit.

This exhibit, made up of the latest prints by American print makers, contained the work of several "Prairie Print" makers, among them, Doel Reed of Oklahoma and Lloyd Folia of Wichita. Works of such well-known artists as George Biddle and Wanda Gág were also exhibited.

New Art Show Up

Prairie Water-Color Society Exhibits in Architecture Gallery

Vivid splashes of color from the brushes of members of the Prairie Water Color society now decorate the interior of the department of architecture galleries.

According to Prof. John F. Helm, a charter member of the society, the exhibit this year is somewhat uneven in quality, due to the fact that the work of younger painters has been included and that these water color paintings are not up to the quality of those of the older painters. However, he remarked that they showed promise.

The Colorado group including colors by Vance Kirkland, William Dickerson, Pansy Dawes, and Muriel Sibell are considered particularly strong by Professor Helm. He commented on the good work done by Lars Hofstrup, Henry Varum Poor of New York, Delores Caston Runbeck, Lindborg, Albert Bloch, head of the painting department at Kansas university; and Robert Lockard of the Nelson Art Galleries in Kansas City.

Water color paintings by Prof. Linus Burr Smith, and Prof. John Helm of Manhattan are included in the exhibit.

The display will hang in the department galleries until January 27, and will be the subject of Professor Helm's lecture to be given January 27 at 4:00. This lecture will be one of a series sponsored by the A. A. U. W.

Romayne Cribbitt, Parsons, and John Correll, Manhattan, are co-authors of an article describing results obtained in a chemical analysis of chicken brains, to be published soon in "Science."

Theaters To Operate Sans Sunday Shows

MAYOR REQUESTS OPERATORS TO OPEN DOORS

Opened Yesterday

"A Result of Unpleasant Situation and Out of Respect to People Who Desire Shows"

The three Manhattan theaters opened yesterday afternoon and last night for the first time in exactly four weeks. The announcement Wednesday of the managers that the shows would reopen on a six-day week basis followed the action of the city commission Tuesday afternoon authorizing Mayor Evan Griffith to request the theaters to operate again on a six-day basis; that is, until a settlement is made on the Sunday show issue.

The theater manager, Vaughn Mann of the Dickinson and Warehouse and Sam Sosna of the Varsity, issued the following statement:

"In response to the request of the city commission and of responsible business interests, we are reopening our theaters Thursday, January 11. Based on previous experience, it seems possible that our business will be operated at continued losses. After all, it is the response of the people as expressed at the box office, not the polls, which will determine the success or failure of our efforts to continue. We shall await hopefully such constructive steps as will overcome the handicaps which our business has had to face."

A committee including Arthur F. Peine, representing the business men; L. R. Engle of the Parent-Teacher association; and Prof. George A. Dean, chairman of the welfare board, met Sunday with Mayor Evan Griffith. It was reported that the group made little headway in an attempt to work out a plan for censorship of moving pictures here and the opening of the theaters seven days a week.

The commission's action in asking a reopening was prompted, the mayor said, "because of the very unpleasant situation existing at the present time, with no theaters operating, and out of respect to the people of Manhattan who desire the entertainment of picture shows, the people coming here from out of town expecting entertainment, and the college students whose wishes are important."

Mayor Griffith said Wednesday that he had no thought of arbitrarily denying a vote on his proposal of censored movies seven days a week, excluding children from unapproved pictures.

The mayor stated he believed that if the welfare board approved the commission would want another referendum soon in the hope the question would be settled definitely and with no misunderstanding.

The proposition should be submitted to the voters only after a meeting of responsible organizations and individuals and the theater men to agree on a fair and workable censorship, he contended.

SICK CALLS HIGH

Last Year Total Number Reached 19,145

The total number of student sick calls for last year reached 19,145, according to a record of the student health department issued yesterday by Dr. C. M. Siever, college physician.

Of this number 18,258 were office calls, 684 were hospital calls, and 202 were hospital cases. Men students made 11,654 of the office calls and women called 6,605 times. The number of men hospital cases was 146 and women, 56.

Students made 261 consultations in 1933. The most prevalent ailments according to the report were colds with 1,133 cases, influenza with 134 cases, acute indigestion with 134 cases, tonsillitis with 297 cases, pharyngitis with 295 cases, bronchitis with 51 cases, athlete's foot with 268 cases, and arthritis with 19 cases.

KANSAS STATE COLLEGE ORGANIZATION NOW COMPLETE

1061 Students Vote

The Newly Elected Members Will Fill the Vacancies of M. L. Carter and Mayrie Griffith

Dame Chance last night determined who one of the two new Kansas State student council members should be after one of the largest votes polled in the recent history of the school had failed to do so.

F. W. "Bus" Boyd, Phillipsburg, and Myra Roth, Ness City, emerged victors in the race for S. G. A. offices yesterday when a flip of a coin last night had decided against Harry Johnson, Marquette, who tied with Boyd in total votes. The special election was held yesterday in Anderson hall to fill the positions of Mayrie Griffith, who did not return to school this fall, and Merrill Carter, Smith Center, who graduates at the end of this semester. Ten hundred and sixty-one votes were cast.

The list of candidates and the votes cast for each one follows:

Women:
Myra Roth 350
Mary Elizabeth Wilkes 331
Jacquette Lawrence 224
Charlotte Buchmann 156
Men:
F. W. Boyd 274
Harry Johnson 274
Kenneth Davis 256
Richard Armstrong 192
Sam Caughan 65

Candidates for the student council are nominated by the council after being presented with a petition signed by twenty-five members of the student governing association. A general election is not needed until the membership drops below five but the present council believed it could operate more efficiently with seven members.

The student council is the supreme governing council of the student association, and sits as a court for determining the facts in all cases involving violations of the Student Governing association regulations by members of the association before final action is taken by the president of the college. The council determines the penalty and time and condition of inflection, and make a recommendation to the president of the college. All actions are considered valid and binding upon students unless they are disapproved by the faculty council and the president of the college.

Typical cases which may be brought before the council for trial are picking of pockets and stealing of all forms, smoking on the campus, improper or indecent conduct in public places, forgery, nonpayment of just bills, destruction of college or city property, the breaking of school traditions and customs, and violation of rules governing social functions.

A LECTURE-RECITAL TO BE HELD SUNDAY

Professors Stratton and Matthews Will Present the Works of Schumann in Recreation Center

Prof. Charles Stratton, pianist, and acting head of the department of piano and Prof. Charles W. Matthews, lecturer, of the department of English will present works of Robert Schumann Sunday at 4 o'clock in recreation center in the fourth of a series of lecture-recitals.

The program to be played by Professor Stratton will be: Sonata Op. 11; Scenes from Childhood Op. 15; Symphonic Etudes Op. 13.

In selecting the numbers for the recitals, Professor Stratton has chosen those compositions which present most adequately the works of each composer. Through the performance and discussion of these works, the series offers the opportunity of hearing and studying in detail the works of these composers.

The lecture-recitals will conclude February 11 with a presentation of works of Johannes Brahms.

Mrs. Roger C. Smith, wife of Dr. Smith of the department of entomology, was recently elected president of the Women's club of Manhattan.

NEW HOPE FOR COLLEGE GRADUATES

As the wheels of industry are being speeded up, the college graduate is finding a place for himself once more as the leader of his fellow workers.

With the advent of such relief measures as the A.A.A., O.W.A., H.O.L.C., F.F.L.C., and P.W.A., the prospects for employment of college graduates are even better. Young men versed in the value of farm land will be needed to appraise farm property for loans; crop and livestock specialists will find jobs as investigators of seasonal yields on farms cooperating in the voluntary acreage reductions.

A call for a thousand engineers, 300 of whom must have college degrees, has come from government relief agents. Prof. L. E. Conrad of Kansas State college has charge of the recruiting of these men in this district, and already many graduates of this college have found employment.

Nor are college men the only beneficiaries of the New Deal. Scores of college women who specialized in sociology and kindred subjects have found employment as relief workers. Many others are doing detail work in the offices of the federal relief administration.

A recent measure, affecting both men and women, is the educational project sponsoring night schools for literate but only slightly educated citizens; the re-organization of defunct rural schools; and the enlargement of high schools where shortage of tax payments has curtailed educational activities. Many college graduates may find places for themselves in teaching positions created by this act.

These many activities open avenues of employment for the "white collared worker" as well as for the day laborer, and are encouraging signs of better times to college students, particularly.

THE REAL VALUE

Several college officials recently reached the conviction that students who find it necessary during the school year to do outside work for room and board and other necessities are robbed of much of the value of college life and that there is a harmful influence exerted upon the individual.

During the past several years, however, thousands of students entered the colleges and universities in this country and accepted hundreds of different types of "bs." They proved to step-heel "college authorities" and other people that it was possible to work their way through college and at the same time get the same benefits received by those who had nothing to do but study.

If the college authorities, in their beliefs about the value of college life, meant the social life that is obtained during hours of recreation, they are perhaps correct in declaring that the working student does not get all the possible value out of college. But the real value, the things that make of the non-working students do not get, are really obtained to a high degree by the self-supporting students.

It is unfortunate, of course, that many students must work extra hours in an effort to obtain an education. But to say that self-supporting students do not get the value of college life is a declaration that our colleges favor only those careless students who are after only grades.

The presence of the machine in itself, represents much greater social control of industry than we have had in the past of than we now have. Our problem is to maintain vital individualism in an age devoted to masses and glorifying mere material efficiency.

The Editor's Desk

One of the finest results of the student council election yesterday, exclusive of the winning candidates, was the fact that it was one of the largest votes cast by Kansas State students during the past several years. It is significant that there is an increased interest among students in taking part in student affairs. A few years ago only a small number of students voted at the student council elections. The total number of votes cast yesterday was 1,061.

In approximately two weeks the second number of the revived Kansas magazine will be offered to Kansas State college students, faculty members, and other people. The magazine, which includes the best in Kansas literature and art, was issued last year and was a financial success. In addition to many of the famous Kansas authors who contributed manuscripts last year, a large number of other noted men and women writers will be represented in the publication this month. The group of paintings by Kansas artists is the real feature of the magazine.

A Kansas State professor yesterday termed the opening of the three theatres in Manhattan as the end of round two; listing the city vote on Sunday shows and final closing of the moving picture houses as the end of round one. A good fight usually consists of at least ten hard rounds. Students and people in Manhattan, and the managers of the three theatres will likely witness some hard battling during the next several months. It may be a knock-out or perhaps a draw, but everyone should have some idea of the outcome along about the sixth or seventh round.

Read Babblings and Nibblings for the latest political gossip. Wear overshoes this cold weather. No, McNay isn't a Delt. Read The Collegian, read the dailies, Reid the Kappa Oo to church, go to the show, go to class, and other places. (That's a few more lines of space taken up.)

It was a moral victory, and how the morals of students will improve now that the picture shows in Manhattan are open again. Of course Sunday shows are as yet taboo, but long hard fought battles are appreciated more, or something.

Prospects for the weekend—rather quiet, all the Alpha Delt party might cause some noise it is expected that the churches will be filled for the Sunday morning services.

Badluck, The Freshman

Dear ma and Pa:
I have sure been studyin hard lately because we are going to have some final examunashuns prettie soon and we got to review everything we've had this year and belive me that is sure a lot too. Why, I was looking through my chemistree book just last night and saw all that about suspension and solushun in the frunt of the book and I'd just about forgot all about it.

Say ma you know they have got a political organization hear called the student council and I guess everybody in school wanted to be on it because there was sure a lot of hard fisted politishuns running. My 5-h club for iron men wanted me to run but I told them that I was going to wait until next semester to be on the student council so I could run this school like it ought to be run. When I got to be president of the student council I am going to have free moving picture shows right on the campest on Sunday nights and have a big all-school party every week-end rite up in wreck center. Another thing I am going to do too is to change the name of the student council to "Badluck's School brain trust" because every body on my brain trust is going to be mighty smart fellers just like all the members of my 5-h club for iron men.

Another thing this school needs too is a street car line running from one building to another so the students won't have to do no walking. And besides it would be a mighty good thing to have street cars because then none of the students would have to be late to no classes, and not get tried out from running about three blocks like I have to do every day from the ag building to Nichols gym where I take fysical educashun.

So if this school wants a new deel next semester they'd just better elect Badluck president of the student council so he can get his brain trust organized and put this school on the map.

Your son,

BADLUCK.

ps: say pa I ask my ag professor why our old cow Rebecca didn't have a good appetite during the winter and he said that as soon as spring come again she wood probably feel better and start eating more grass. I guess cows have just naturally got a run down feeling during the winter time.

Book Review

CORONET

By Manuel Krommroff

(Reviewed by Jane Kahl)

Coronet is an epic romance having for its theme the decline of the aristocracy from the Italian renaissance to the beginning of the twentieth century.

This is symbolized by a jeweled crown which passed from one member of the family to another. Coronet, in its some 800 pages, gives a drama of history with strong description and good characterization for a period of almost four centuries. The author presents Napoleon's invasion of Russia, the Moscow retreat, Chopin dying in France, and the disintegration of Balzac. The atmosphere for all this is in the book but it is loosely written and as a social philosophy Coronet doesn't stand the test. If you wish to forget this you can surely be absorbed by this highly entertaining narrative with colorful description and genuine appeal.

SURVEY SHOWS FRAT MEN HIGH IN GRADES

Outrank Non-Organization Men in Scholarship, Interfraternity Report Reveals

Scholarship averages of fraternity men at Kansas State college are higher than those of non-fraternity men, according to a survey just completed by the National Interfraternity conference, an organization including in its membership 69 of the leading college fraternity groups in the United States.

The fraternity rating at Kansas State is well above the average given as the all-men's mark on this campus, the study shows. The western group of states is among the highest geographic section in the study.

Not only does the scholarship average of the fraternity men rank higher than the non-fraternity in a majority of the 156 colleges studied, but the rating is higher than the all-men's average, which includes both unaffiliated and Greek-letter students. The group average of 59 per cent of the fraternities exceeds the all-men's average on respective campuses.

Outstanding among the facts revealed by the 1933 survey is that all-men's averages have risen in 79 per cent of the institutions of the country, denoting an increasing amount of attention to academic objectives on the part of undergraduate men.

According to the report, the younger fraternities still outstrip the older scholastically.

Greater interest in scholarship and the steady improvement in the past five years are removing much of the grounds for criticism directed toward fraternities and fraternity systems, the scholarship committee believes.

STUDENTS IN A CONTEST

Public Speaking Groups Will Speak Over Radio Next Week

The public speaking department has decided to give students in the public speaking classes an opportunity to talk before large audiences, according to Prof. Kingsley Given. The result is a seminar which will be held Monday afternoon at 5:00 o'clock in recreation center.

A preliminary contest will be held this afternoon and from the group of 13 students, seven will be selected to speak Monday; five from public speaking I classes, and two from public speaking II.

Tuesday afternoon from 4:30 to 5:30 o'clock a selected group of students will broadcast over station KSAC. Thursday afternoon the oral interpretation class will be broadcast from 5:15 to 5:30 o'clock. Three or four members will read and the remainder of the time will be spent for criticism. The broadcast will be conducted as a regular class meeting.

AN INSPECTION TRIP

Prof. C. H. Scholer, head of the applied mechanics department, made a three-day inspection trip during the Christmas vacation to southeastern Kansas, where he studied concrete roads built within the past 12 years. The survey covered the condition of these roads compared with the quality of materials used in their construction.

"POOR SPLENDID WINGS"

Professor Rockey Discusses Pre-Raphaelite Book

"Poor Splendid Wings" was the book reviewed by Prof. Noble W. Rockey, in recreation center Tuesday evening. The review concerned the pre-Raphaelites who were primarily painters in revolt against all English art from Raphael down to their own time in 1847. Professor Rockey opened his lecture by displaying some illustrations of Fra Angelico and Botticelli, the pre-Raphaelite artists.

Rossetti, Hunt, and Millais, the leading painters in revolt, accused Raphael of losing sight of Botticelli's and Fra Angelico's sincerity and care with details by emphasizing grace and unity.

"The author, Frances Winwar, whose original name was Francis Vinciguerra Grebanier, called the book 'Poor Splendid Wings' because she pictured the men of the nineteenth century as struggling hard for high ideals but only partly succeeding," according to Professor Rockey.

MAXINE ROPER ELECTED

Barbara Lautz, Amarillo, Texas, and Miss Roper each gave a talk on Japan.

The mathematics club will meet Tuesday afternoon at 5 o'clock in A73. Mrs. H. A. Totten will discuss "Mathematical Recreations." Dean R. W. Babcock will tell of the recent Boston meeting of the Mathematical Association of America.

CALENDARS ISSUED BY KANSAS STATE

Printed in College Department of Printing—Contains Campus Scenes

Mailing of the first calendars to be issued from Kansas State college was completed Wednesday. They were distributed from the office of Vice-President J. T. Willard to city and county school superintendents over the state, the state officers, and the state board of regents.

The calendars, which are 14 inches wide and 21 inches high, are printed in purple and black and contain information as to the administrative organization of the college, the curricula offered which lead to degrees, the degrees offered, and the address to which prospective students may write for information and catalogs, as well as the regular college calendar of events.

On each sheet is a picture of some college building or representative campus scene. These calendars are not available to anyone except those to whom they were distributed.

They were printed in the college printing department.

FRICK TELLS ABOUT FUR FARMING IN U. S.

Represents Investment of Fifty Million—Professor Exhibits Rare Furs

Fifty million dollars is invested in the fur farming industry in the United States, Dr. E. J. Frick of the college veterinary department, said in a talk given before the Co-Operative club Thursday night in the Wareham hotel. There are 3,000 fur farms in the United States and 1,500 in Canada.

Dr. Frick, who is veterinarian for three such concerns in Colorado, gave a talk about the fur industry and production methods.

The annual fur output for the United States and Canada is $70,000,000, he said, more than that of Russia and Canada combined. Dr. Frick exhibited a number of pelts, including red, silver, black and cross fox. The last, which is valued most highly, is marked with a cross, and is obtained by cross-breeding.

Except for such descriptive words, furs with an extra name such as Alaskan sable and Hudson seal denote a cheaper fur, the former being skunk and the latter muskrat.

He told of the origin of the two standard strains, and of cross-breeding efforts to produce rare pelts.

He said an investment of $50 a year is required for a pair of foxes. They will produce normally a litter of from three to five pups a year, although they are extremely temperamental and if upset will destroy their pups or not produce any. They also are subject to disease.

Dr. Frick said that the animals must be killed within 24 hours of the right time in order to get the furs at their best.

He suggested the use of certain sub-marginal lands for fur farming. Although the industry has suffered from the depression there has been an increase in fur prices of 25 per cent during the past two months, with silver foxes advancing 75 per cent.

Prof. B. H. Fleener became a new member. Guests of the club were Frank Horejsi, Clair Jordan and Alden Huse. Miss Mary Elizabeth Guthrie gave a harp solo.

AT THE VARSITY

"The Right to Romance"
Ann Harding is the whole show, but she has a fine supporting cast. Ann follows the career of a plastic surgeon, but one day gets the "jitters," and goes in search of romance.

She finds romance in Robert Young and finally marries him, but he is the hey-hey type and constantly chisels on her with Sari Maritza, his old playmate. A very dramatic scene ensues where Ann makes up her mind whether to restore the beauty of the girl who has stolen her husband's love.

Nils Asther is the patient lover who finally gets his reward. It is a sophisticated picture and should be enjoyed by everyone.—J. L.

After all the politicking yesterday maybe the school can settle down for a little peace until the next election comes along. The day was quite eventful especially when the campaigners got a wee bit mixed up and asked other ardent politicians to vote for their candidate!

Fligstein, the journalism jinx, has found a new way to make his lady loves sit by him in class. The other day he coyly took Julia Rader's purse, so that she would grace with her presence the seat next to him. Just proving that there's more than one way. . . . A going over the holiday files of the Chronicle reveals that Wayne Thornbrough, of Sig Ep fame, was a guest at a slumber party of Manhattan's Sub-Deb group. Tak! tak! Students are glad to see Danny Blaine has recovered from his recent illness; although it was doubtful for some time if he would recover from over-exposure after "Get-Her-Man" Allman kept calling and getting him out of bed every five minutes to see how he was. . . .

Black eyes have been making their appearance lately—just what the well-dressed man of 1934 will wear. Lee Morgan got his by guarding the right man in basketball, and the cause of Charlie Johnson's has not been ascertained. . . . The Tri Deltas have set a record for the rest of the sororities to shoot at. When Ned Drake passed the candy Wednesday night to signify his engagement to Eleanor Otto it brought the total to 40 pounds. What a breeze! . . .

1934 Track Team Going The Rounds

Clinton Roehman Not Available for Competition After Auto Accident

With a nucleus of twelve lettermen around which to build his 1934 indoor track team, Coach Ward Haylett has been busy the past week rounding the large Wildcat squad into shape.

Clinton Roehman, a letterman, White City, received a broken leg in an automobile accident and will not be available for competition. Last year Roehman placed second in the high jump in both the indoor and outdoor conference meets.

Following are the lettermen and their events: sprints, none; 440-yard dash, Darnell; 880-yard dash, Dean McNeal, Hostettler, Miller; mile run, Landon; two-mile, Nicx (McNay lettered in the two-mile but not in spring track); hurdles, Schmutz, Knappenbeger, Stoner, Spring; shot put, Wertzberger; high jump, none; pole vault, Booth; board jump, Bliss, Veatch and Costa lettered in the javelin, but that event is not an indoor event.

New men reporting are: sprints, none; 440-yard dash, Jensen, Ziegler, Hall, Nixon; 880, Tindall, Phelps, Don McNeal; hurdles, Russell; mile, Garvey; two-mile, Wheeler; weights, Fuller, Hermann; high jump, Denchfield, Hackney, George Bell, Salina, is back in school after a year's absence and should help in the discus and shot.

The Wildcat squad thus far is weak in sprints, jumps, and weights. Coach Haylett is looking for any men who have had experience in these events. There is all indication that the team will be strong in the 440-yard dash, 880-yard dash, mile run, two-mile run, hurdles, and relays.

The indoor schedule:
Feb. 10—Drake at Des Moines (tentative).

Feb. 17—Missouri at Columbia.
Feb. 24—Nebraska at Lincoln (tentative).

March 3—Conference indoor meet at Columbia.

March 17—Armstrong Tech, Relays at Chicago.

March 24—Butler Relays at Indianapolis.

Women's Sports

(By Jane Whyte)

The final intramural outlook at the end of the first semester should worry the Alpha Deltas if they intend to keep the cup that they won last year. They stand third now at the end of this season, having won the posture contest Wednesday afternoon. The Tri Deltas were second, and Van Zile third.

Van Zile has brought out some outstanding girls this year, and as a result they hold first place at the present moment, the winners of three out of the six contests held—riding, volleyball, and tennis. The Kappas are second, evidently going in for less strenuous exercises, winning the dancing and golf intramurals.

A sports dinner to officially close the season will be held Tuesday night at the college cafeteria. Recognition for girls with high athletic ratings will be given by W. A. A.

3 Mat Lettermen

1934 Schedule Will Include Five Matches Besides the Big Six Tournament

Three lettermen from last year constitute the nucleus for the 1934 Wildcat wrestling team. Captain Paul Griffith is a two-letterman and won the Missouri Valley A. A. U. title last year in the 118-pound class. McDonald won his first letter last year in the 126-pound class, but will probably wrestle 135 this season. Ed Houser was a capable man in the heavyweight class, but will wrestle in the 175-pound division. All weights will be filled with promising men and the outlook for the season is favorable.

The all-college tournament held before vacation proved a success in attracting a large number to participate and a number of spectators. Those eligible who are working out in their respective weights are as follows:

118 lb.—Capt. Paul Griffith, Edmond; Carl Kirk, Newton.
126 lb.—Emanuel Zoglin, Kansas City, Mo.; Ralph Winget, Garden City; Charles Walters, Manhattan.
135 lb.—Alvin McDonald, Marysville; Everett Hienz, Abilene.
145 lb.—Carroll Arnett, Clay Center; Ben Butler, Phoenix, Ariz.; Ivan Conwell, Manhattan; Richard Fowler, Holton; M. P. Rogers, Glasco; Durward Watson, Osborne; George Watson, Clifton; W. D. Wetlaufer, New Berlin, New York.
155 lb.—Louis Earle, Washington; Joe Adams, Leavenworth; Claude Young, Uta; Forrest Cox, Blue Rapids.
165 lb.—Lester Zerbe, Salina.
175 lb.—Ed Houser, Douglass; Ben Kohrs, Hope; Roland Hinkle, Carbondale.

Heavyweight—Alvin Otte, Great Bend; B. H. Scott, Atwood; Dean Swift, Olathe; Floyd Sconce, Hal-

The schedule includes matches with Oklahoma Aggies, Oklahoma university, Central Teachers, Southwestern Teachers and possibly home matches with K. U., and Nebraska. The Big Six meet is to be held in Columbia, Mo., March 2 and 3. The Missouri Valley A. A. U. will be held here March 9 and 10. Oklahoma has a good chance to take first this year in the Big Six, as only one man of last year's team was lost by graduation. Iowa State has three lettermen back this year. K. U. will be without the services of Mehringer, who has turned professional. Nebraska and Missouri may show considerable strength.

White Shirts And Delta Taus Win

School Championship Will Be Determined Tuesday Night—Sig Alpha and W. F. A. C. Lose

Delta Tau Delta and White Shirt basketball teams are respective champions of the pan-hel and independent intramural groups by virtue of wins last night over the Sig Alpha and W. F. A. C. They will play for the school championship Tuesday night.

The Deltas went on a scoring spree in the last half of their game with the Sig Alpha to tie it at 11 and then won it in the overtime period with a field goal and two free throws. The half time score was 9-0 for the Sig Alpha, and the final score was 15-11.

The White Shirts had less trouble winning their game with the W. F. A. C., the final score being 22-10. With a well balanced team composed of several freshman candidates the White Shirts played a smooth floor game and led the entire time.

OKLAHOMA WRESTLERS WORK

Norman, Jan. 11—Paul Keen, University of Oklahoma wrestling coach, is hard at work with another brilliant sophomore squad.

Eight letter men and four squad men are reporting. Letter men back are Gene Hammons, Elk City, 126 pounds; Vernon Sisney, Geary, 145; Lewis Jackson, Tulsa, 145; Harm Musgrave, Elk City, 155; Marion Foreman, Newkirk, 165; Bill Whiteside, Council Hill, 175; Ellis Bashara, Norman, heavyweight, and James "Red" Stacy, Altus, heavyweight.

Squad men are: Roscoe Johnston, Wilson, 118; Bill Brakebill, Shawnee, 126; Ray Froge, Paden, 165, and Lloyd Manley, Mountain View, heavyweight.

The Sooners will wrestle their usual tough schedule, meeting U.S. Millam's Weatherford Teachers at Weatherford and Ed Gallagher's Oklahoma Aggies at both Stillwater and Norman besides engaging Edmond Teachers, Kansas State, possibly Missouri and Iowa State and attending the Big Six, national collegiate and A. A. U. tournaments.

Keen's boys will concentrate on their annual dual with the Oklahoma Aggies, with whom they have held their own the past two years. In 1932 Keen's all-victorious Sooners topped the Aggies at Stillwater, first dual meet Gallagher's men had lost in more than a decade. Last year the inexperienced Sooners tied the Aggies at Norman but lost to them at Stillwater.

COLLEGE MERMEN BUSY

Fifteen mermen are reporting to swimming coach C. S. Moll at the college pool for daily practice in preparation for the coming tank season.

This week Coach Moll is teaching his team to start correctly and to make correct turns while swimming. To stimulate interest in these two fundamentals Coach Moll divides all his swimmers into relay teams.

No time trials have been held as yet, but the swimmers are in better condition now, than they were at this time last year, and competition is keen between the new and old members of the team.

A PERFECT RIFLE SCORE

Viola Barron Makes 100 in Rifle Match

A perfect score of 100 was made by Viola Barron, Kensington, in this week's women's rifle match with Pennsylvania State college. The results have not been received, but last year the women's team defeated Pennsylvania in the first match of the season.

The men's team is competing with Kemper Military school which defeated Kansas State last year, and also the University of Akron, which Kansas State defeated last year.

A new floor has been built in the range, replacing the sand firing point. According to Captain W. F. Rehm, of the department of military science, this should result in higher scores.

Winifred Wolf, Ottawa, big sister chairman of Y.W.C.A., sent out letters yesterday announcing new big sisters for new girls enrolling the second semester. The big sisters will receive the names of their little sisters during registration.

A big and little sister dinner will be held February 4.

COEDS RESOLVE TO DO OR NOT TO DO

Sorority Presidents Give Personal Resolutions for 1934—Dispositions Get Considerations

(By Clara Gantenbein)
The new year, 1934, is well enough on its way by this time for students to have discovered just how noble and how workable their New Year's resolutions are.

The sorority presidents, each of whom is the standard bearer of her own group, were asked to give their own personal resolutions and also if they "worked."

Two of the group of eleven decided that they would try to improve their dispositions. One said she hadn't lost her temper once in the new year; the other one is just trying for a better disposition.

Five of the women didn't make any resolutions. Of these, four didn't believe in resolutions and one believed in them but just didn't make any. One girl stated, "I believe it is harder on the character to make and break them than not to make any at all."

"I shall not 'jelly' anymore," said one girl and when asked if she had broken it she said she hadn't started keeping it yet.

Another coed has resolved to stop smoking, and make better grades. "I haven't smoked once this year," she said.

One girl made an ambitious list: Read good books, improve vocabulary, not cut classes, and go to church as often as possible.

"I made only one resolution so that I would have fewer to break. I have resolved to keep up my school work," said another girl.

A HATCHERY MEETING

Operators Gather Here For Annual Event

A meeting of the hatchery operators of the state to hear the explanation and interpretation of the code which became a law January 3, and which all hatchery operators, including farmers who hatch 500 or more chicks and sell or custom hatch chicks, are duty bound to comply with, was held yesterday at the college.

tricts and educational meetings will be held in each district as soon as possible to give every hatchery in the state an opportunity to thoroughly understand the law and its application to industry.

Seaton, extension poultryman, will organize the educational program to be conducted in the state and will have charge of the meetings.

NO TEAM FOR DENVER SHOW

Livestock Judges Will Go to Fort Worth Instead

Kansas State college will not be represented by a livestock judging team at the Denver livestock show this year. Prof. F. W. Bell of the department of animal industry who coaches the college livestock judges, said Friday that the college team would go to Fort Worth, Tex., show in March instead.

Professor Bell indicated that the Denver show management had found it necessary to curtail certain of its activities, making it less attractive than it formerly was.

OHIO STATE CONTROVERSY

Final decision on the cases of five students at Ohio State university who have refused to take military training on conscientious grounds has not yet been made. The cases of the five students has aroused national interest.

Dr. George W. Rightmire, president of Ohio State, is quoted by an Associated Press dispatch as saying that the students' attitude "left but one course open—dismissal."

Miss Iverna Danielson, who has been spending the holidays with friends and relatives in Kansas City, has returned home.

Dean L. E. Call, now president of the Wichita Land bank, will address the Arkansas City Chamber of Commerce, January 22.

Prof. W. H. Metzger, assistant professor of soils, was the speaker at the fourth of a series of agronomy seminars on crop ecology Monday afternoon in East Water hall.

ELECT K. U. CAPTAIN
Lawrence, Kan., Jan. 11—Members of the Kansas football squad today chose Ormand Beach of Pawhuska, Okla., great defensive fullback of the university team for three years, as honorary captain for 1933. Beach, Peter Mehringer, and Richard O'Neil served as acting captains throughout the 1933 season.

He scored the first touchdown of the 1933 season, in the game against Warrensburg, and played all ten games, to and including that against George Washington at Washington, D. C.

Beach has the distinction of having played on four teams against Missouri, including a freshman game, in which the Jayhawks not only won the games, but actually shut out the Tigers.

The last student recital of the semester will be presented by the department of music on Tuesday at 4:00 o'clock in the college auditorium.

M. H. Coe, state 4-H club leader and member of the extension division staff, is attending the state board of agriculture meetings in Topeka this week.

BLUE KEY FRATERNITY FOR KANSAS STATE

Wildcats Beat Nebraska 25-24 In Extra Period

Deadline Date Set By Editor For February 1

HARTER ANNOUNCES PICTURES MUST BE TAKEN AT ONCE

Records To Seniors

Dates for Group Pictures of Organizations Must Be Decided Upon Immediately

The deadline for Royal Purple pictures will be February 1 instead of January 17, Ken Harter, editor, said yesterday. The reasons for the change, according to Harter, is that examinations might interfere; some seniors have not yet had their pictures taken and several seniors will be in school second semester who are not attending college now. Approximately 107 seniors have turned their pictures in to the office.

All sports groups pictures and pictures of coaches and captains have been taken and are now ready to go to the engraver.

The Studio Royal will be ready next week to take all group pictures on the hill. Harter urges all organizations to hold meetings immediately to decide when group pictures for this year's Royal Purple can be taken. They should report at the Royal Purple office following the date decision.

Sample book covers have been received from the S. K. Smith company in Chicago. One cover received here was designed especially for this year's Royal Purple. The book cover will be decided on later.

Senior activity records will be sent out immediately, Harter said, and should be filled out and returned at once either through the post office or to the year book office.

The last chance for buying Royal Purples for $4.00 will be at the registration doors during the two days of enrollment at the beginning of next semester. After that time year book prices will be advanced. At the present time year books may be purchased at $1.50 down and a payment of $2.50 when the book is obtained in the spring.

Adrian "Eggs" Sorrells will write a portion of the copy for the humor section of the year book it was announced yesterday.

Samples of senior invitations have arrived at the Royal Purple office. The new invitations are purple leather with white ties and French fold.

CRIBBETT, CORRELL PUBLISH ARTICLE

Science Magazine for January 12 Contains Story of Experiment Conducted Here

An article by Romyne Cribbett, Parsons, and John T. Correll, Manhattan, son of Assistant Dean C. M. Correll, telling of their experiment with chicks in confirming an observation of Holst and Halbrook, appeared in the Science magazine for January 12.

Cribbett graduated from Kansas State college in 1933 and is now doing graduate work in industrial chemistry. Correll graduated in 1932 and received his master's degree in the summer of 1933. He won a fellowship to the University of Iowa where he is now working toward his doctor's degree in biological chemistry as a research assistant.

In their article, the co-writers describe their experiment with the chicks. Holst and Halbrook reported in the April 7 issue of Science magazine that in the course of nutritional studies on baby chicks they observed the development of a "scurvy-like" disease. Correll and Cribbett experimented on three lots of 25-day-old Leghorn chicks, feeding one group on the Holst-Halbrook diet.

At the end of eight weeks the chicks showed no signs of the disease, and the Holst-Halbrook fed chicks showed less growth than either of the other two lots.

Correll's master's thesis appeared in the December number of the Journal of Biological Chemistry. He has received several requests for reprints.

Box-Office For Shankar Opened

Famous Hindu Dancer to Be Here February 13—Earlier Engagement Cancelled

Box-office sale for the dance-music program which is to be presented in the college auditorium Tuesday, February 13, by Uday Shankar and his Hindu company will start Friday, February 9, Miss Clarice Painter of the music department announced yesterday.

Out of town people may obtain tickets after February 1 by sending a check with self stamped and addressed return envelope to Mu Phi Epsilon-Orchestra, Manhattan, Kans. The rush for seats will be large if the advance ticket sale for the previous engagement, November 21, means anything. This engagement was cancelled the night before the scheduled appearance because of injuries received by Shankar in an accident in Chicago. A full house had been virtually assured for the entertainment.

Shankar has been in California recuperating from his injuries, but has been presenting his dances on the coast recently. He will start east soon to fill the engagements he was forced to cancel.

Kansas State Now Second In Big Six Race

CROWD WILD AS K-STATE CLAWS OUT CLOSE VICTORY

Graham's Goal Wins

Two Teams Exchange Leads During Game—Boyd Sends Teammates Ahead in First Half

(By The Collegian Sports Editor) A tip-in field goal by Ralph Graham with 30 seconds of an overtime period left to play and Nebraska one point in the lead gave Kansas State a hard-earned 25-24 Big Six victory over the Huskers in Nichols gym last night. The victory was the Wildcats' second straight and boosted them into second place in the conference behind Missouri and Oklahoma. Nebraska dropped into third place.

In the closing minutes of the regular game the Wildcats gradually cut down a five-point Husker lead. With only 1 second left to play a double foul was called on Graham and Parsons, Nebraska guard, with the Huskers one-point in the lead. Parsons missed his charity shot but Graham made his good, tying the score 23-23 at the end of the game.

Amidst the wild cheering of an excited crowd, the game went into an overtime period. Nebraska took the lead when Lunney made good a free throw on Morgan's foul. A few minutes of furious playing followed with both teams shooting at the basket at every opportunity. With only 30 seconds of the extra period left, Graham got the ball out of the melee of players under the Kansas State goal and slipped it into the basket, sending the Wildcats into a lead the Huskers could not match.

The first ten minutes was all Kansas State. After the Huskers scored first, the Wildcats rolled up an impressive 10-2 lead, largely through Captain Boyd's field goals and touchdowns by Graham, Freeland, and Hutchinson. This lead soon melted under the accurate basket shooting of Parsons, Lunney, and Coppel. The score at the half was tied, 12-12.

With Parsons, Lunney and Boswell hitting, the Huskers piled up a 23-18 lead with seven minutes to play. Two free throws and a field goal by Freeland made the score 23-22 with two minutes to play. Graham's counter on the double foul tied the score at the end of the regular playing time.

The game was fast and furious throughout, with first one team racing up the floor toward its opponents basket and then the other. The Wildcats' ability to score free throws when needed and Nebraska's inability to hit won the game.

Graham led the scorers with 10 points, four field goals and two free throws. Parsons, Nebraska, scored nine points. Boyd, Kansas State, eight points, and Lunney, Nebraska, seven points.

Jardine Pleases Assembly Crowd

Former College President and Minister to Egypt Discusses Land of Sunshine and Contrasts

(By DeVere Kay) Dr. W. M. Jardine, state treasurer and former minister to Egypt, came "home" to Kansas State college last Friday morning when he spoke from the platform from which he had last spoken nine years before. His talk, "Egypt, the Land of Sunshine and Contrasts," constituted the last student assembly of the semester and was heard by a large crowd of students and townspeople.

Doctor Jardine was president of the college before he was appointed secretary of agriculture and later minister to Egypt. As he arose to speak the assembly arose to pay him tribute. "Thank you," he said, "They never did that for me when I was president." The crowd laughed. They laughed not at him but with him all through his speech—which was not a speech but a travelogue—in a thoroughly enjoyable manner.

At first he waxed reminiscent. "The trees are still here. The auditorium is still here. Those steel towers that I thought were going to be so decorative are still here. I see that Mike's wildcat is still here. And I see that you have a new organ."

To one who did not hear him talk it might be hard to visualize the refreshing informality of the man and the jovial good humor which pervaded his entire "chat" and kept the crowd twitter—and awake.

"When Mr. Hoover asked me to take the position of minister to Egypt, I asked him for time to answer. I had heard many stories of the unhealthy climate and I wanted to investigate. One day Mr. Hoover called me up to see what I had decided. I hadn't made up my mind yet but jobs were scarce and so I told him yes."

"When I arrived in Alexandria, I found everything decorated. I thought the decoration was for me. I soon found that the decorations (Please turn to page two)

B. AND R. HAS FORTY BALES WASTE PAPER

Plan to Sell Waste Material—Offer Receive $150 to $200 for It

Each year the building and repair department collects and sells the waste paper from Kansas State college.

During the course of the year the paper is collected and taken to the old coal room in the engineering building where it is baled and banded for shipment. The rough finish paper is pressed into bales weighing approximately 115 pounds each and the smooth finish paper is stacked and banded by hand. At the present time there are about 40 bales of the paper on hand.

In the past the department has received from $150 to $200 and sometimes even more in one year from the sale of this paper. At the present time quotations on the paper are so low that the department is storing it in hopes of higher prices.

Monogamy Attacked in Essay Full of Weird, Wild, and Wonderful Sentences

(Rose is a Rose is a Rose is a Rose)

(By Margaret Mary Reddy) Under these roofs of matrimonial bureaus and broader learning what questions cannot be answered—what facts cannot be learned—in books—out of books—and, well, just learned. One sees people, plutocrats, and pines—come and go—each bit of brass, each piece of platinum—bids the former owner a fond and dubious farewell—"I go but I shall return again unto you eventually." We are a generation neither seeking or craving satisfaction or stability—hence when we with gallantry depart these walls—what ho—what then—will but one person (for better—for worse) prove satisfying and congenial throughout our mortal coil existence? No. What then—why flexible monogamy—of course—hence the rally round revival.

"M" for matrimony, "M" for monogamy, "M" for monotomy and hell, my friend, for you. For 'tis a dying ember which carries no warmth, and 'chill be the air of the disinterested.

For avoidance and flexibility rather contort the loud lauded battle cry into "Remember the Moron"—and there—there lies variety—sophistication—naivete—brain—brown—out door brute—hot house plant—all rolled into the greatest of living seasonings—spice.

Confuse not the word moron with morrow for they are of two species of nature far flung from similarity—as far flung seemingly as was the Peak of the Pike to him of the nose and peanut who pushed his way to the top—and there by hangs an example for he—he is of the latter species, and it is not of these but to these I write.

BENNETT'S JOURNAL AT ENGLISH LECTURE

Miss Anna Sturmer Will Discuss Diary of Modern Writer

"The Journal of Arnold Bennett, 1933" will be reviewed by Miss Anna Sturmer, associate professor of English, this evening at 7:30 o'clock in recreation center. This is the sixth in a series of lectures presented by the English department this semester.

These journals, already accounted an English classic, give an extensive review of the late English literary scenes as well as Bennett's own background, his method of work, and his attitude toward literary art. Although he is not a Peppys, he observes keenly and reports truly in his use of the diary.

Literary critics regret the recent death of one so important in English letters.

Two Hundred At Hatchery Meet

Convention Held Here Last Week to Interpret Operation of NRA Code

Two hundred fifteen hatchery operators attended the NRA code interpretation meeting sponsored by the Kansas State poultry husbandry department and held at the college the latter part of last week.

Dr. E. E. Boyd, Stafford, member of the national coordinating committee, and Reese V. Hicks, executive secretary of the International Baby Chick association, were the speakers.

Doctor Boyd and M. A. Seaton, assistant professor of extension of the college, will hold four or five district sessions over the state since there are more than 80 small hatchery operators who need to know about the new code which went into effect January 2. The purpose of these meetings will be to present the provisions of the code to the poultry operators and to educate the public, especially those who buy chicks from the hatchery operators. The fact that there can be no selling below cost under the terms of the code will affect many persons.

Prof. L. F. Payne, head of the poultry husbandry department, said that there was much interest and cooperation shown at the meeting Thursday and that everyone seemed eager to obtain information and to have the code interpreted.

Civil Engineering Department Receives Set of Precise Level Rods

The civil engineering department has recently received a new set of coast and geodetic precise level rods for use in training men for that work. The rods are 10 feet long and made of highly selected wood with an invar-steel bar through its entire length. It is graduated in feet on one side and in centimeters on the other. Its cost was $125 with the carrying case.

Prof. L. E. Conrad, head of the civil engineering department, is director of the control surveys in Kansas on which 320 men will be employed. About half of them already have been employed.

WRESTLERS BEGIN TRYOUTS

Mat Team to Meet Jayhawks in First Match Saturday Night

Tryouts began yesterday afternoon for positions on the Kansas State wrestling team which meets Kansas university grapplers Saturday night in the first match of the season for the Wildcats.

As this is the first match for these teams, there is not much hope on their comparative strength. The Wildcats lost several good men from last year's mat team, who will be hard to replace. New prospects are showing up well in their places, however.

Pete Mehrling, former Jayhawk heavyweight grappler, turned professional recently and therefore will not be eligible to compete. He is coaching the Jayhawk mat team.

Farm and Home Week Will Be February 6-9

PLAN ANNUAL PROGRAM FOR FARMERS AND FARM WIVES

Draws From State

Little American Royal to Be Sponsored by Block and Bridge and Dairy Clubs

The campus will increase with the number of persons hurrying to and fro on the campus walks during the week of February 6 to 9, the dates of Farm and Home week. It is the week that Kansas State college acts as the host to farmers and home makers all over the state.

Sixty years ago Kansas State college held its first convention for the Kansas farmers and their wives. This annual event draws people from all parts of the state. According to Pres. F. D. Farrell, the people who attend are leaders in their respective communities especially in farming and home making. President Farrell said, "They come as students and return to their homes as teachers—as examples of good farming and good living."

Meetings will be held every day from 9 o'clock in the morning to 6 o'clock in the afternoon with programs in poultry, dairy, live stock, agronomy, home economics, and bee-keeping. Many well-known speakers are on the various programs.

Some of the leading events of the week will be the annual "Little American Royal Live Stock Show" sponsored by the Block and Bridge and Dairy clubs; the Blue Ribbon Corn Show to which any blue ribbon winner at a state, county or community fair, and all ex-county or state champions may enter a 1-ear sample of their corn; the student forum luncheon; the Farm and Home Week popular concert; home talent night when local talent from counties that have had try-outs in either music or plays during the past year will entertain; and the Farm and Home banquet the last evening, when announcement will be made of the champions in the agricultural contests held during the year, and the presentation of the Master Farmers of Kansas will take place.

"Farm and Home Week offers an excellent opportunity to rural people to obtain inspiration and information of value in making farming more profitable and farm life more satisfying," according to President Farrell.

Magazine Out Soon

Reminiscences Subject of Article by E. E. Kelley to Be Included in Publication

A bit of reminiscence—when Marie Dressler was giving her 300th performance of "Tillie's Madness" and was rated one of the two best comedienne in the country, and Mary Pickford was playing with Lionel Barrymore in a movie written by a 16 year old girl, Anita Loos by name—when admission to movies was five and ten cents and livery stables run an advertisement in the paper every week.

Such reminiscence is cleverly written for the Kansas Magazine by E. E. Kelley of the Topeka Daily Capital. It will be of interest to newspaper men. Such names as William A. White, O. Little, and Tom Thompson appear in the article.

The remarkable cure which Kansas effected on a New Yorker is the subject of a humorous piece by Arthur Carruth, of the Topeka State Journal to be printed in the magazine. Adrian "Eggs" Sorrells, former student at Kansas State college, has also made a contribution.

Proof reading of the Kansas Magazine has already begun. Prof. R. I. Thackrey of the journalism department, editor of the magazine said it would be published on or about Kansas Day.

PAPER FOR ENGINEERS

"Intake and Exhaust" Will Be Published Soon

The "Intake and Exhaust," an annual newspaper, will be published soon for the Engineers' Alloy which will be held in the Nichols gymnasium February 8. A box has been placed on the main floor of the engineering building for material that students in engineering wish printed in the paper.

The manager yesterday urged the students to turn in an abundance of material with the assurance that everything they turn in will be printed.

This material may be constructive or destructive in type, for or against the professors or the department in general.

The Engineers' Alloy is the annual get-together of all engineering students. There is usually a program or some other form of entertainment. Definite plans have not been completed.

THIRTEEN MEMBERS OF LOCAL GROUP TO TAKE PART

Installation Soon

Banquet Will Be Held for Pledge Services and Other Necessary Ceremonies by Members of Friars

Blue Key, national honor fraternity, will be established on the Kansas State campus next semester when members of Friars club, local honorary organization for senior men, hold their installation banquet after meeting requirements of the national offices, it was announced yesterday.

The tentative date for the installation banquet for Blue Key fraternity has been set for January 30. Blue Key was founded at the University of Florida in 1924 by Major B. C. Riley, dean of the general extension division. It is a new departure in the field of the honor society, and operates exactly as Rotary or Kiwanis clubs within the student body.

Members of Friars club, who will attend the installation banquet of Blue Key, are: Nelson Reppert, Harris; Ken Harter, El Dorado; Vorras Elliott, McPherson; Clair Palmer, Kincaid; A. K. Bader, Junction City; C. D. McNeal, Boyle; J. F. Knappengerger, renalosa; E. L. Metcalfe, Manhattan; Harold Dendurent, Goodland; Harry Cobler, Gove; L. C. Froelich, Abilene; Don Landon, Topeka; and J. C. North, Brighton, Mo. Prof. R. I. Thackrey of the department of industrial journalism is faculty advisor.

Blue Key is a fraternity in which members get together to discuss ways and means of cooperating with the faculty to promote the welfare of the student body, and the best interests of the institution. The fraternity takes for members only outstanding student leaders.

Each chapter of Blue Key follows a model constitution but has the authority to adopt it to suit local needs. In selecting members, the fraternity recognizes qualities of character, scholarship, student activities, leadership, and service. The method of selection and determining these qualifications is left to the local chapters.

Blue Key is a strictly student organization but a few prominent faculty men and outstanding alumni may be taken as honorary members.

What this country needs is dirtier finger nails

SELF DIRECTION

One of the big outcomes of a college education is and should be the ability of an individual to direct himself in such a method that he will not be dependent upon other people for his subsistence.

Rudyard Kipling, in his book "Independence", declares that when he wished to claim his freedom and express himself according to the latest lights of his age, it was disheartening to be told that he could not expect to be clothed, fed, taught, amused, and comforted—not to say preached at—by others, and at the same time practice towards them a savage and thorny independence.

According to Kipling, "The initial payments on the policy of one's independence, then, must be financed, by no means for publication, but as a guarantee of good faith towards oneself, primarily out of the drinks that one does not too continuously take, the maidens in whom one does not too extravagantly rejoice; the entertainments that one does not too systematically attend or conduct; the transportation one does not too magnificently employ; the bets one does not too generously place; and the objects of beauty and desire that one does not too generously buy."

"Secondarily, those revenues can be added to by extra work undertaken at hours before or after one's regular work, when one would infinitely rather rest or play. That involves the question of how far you can drive yourself without breaking down, and if you do break down, how soon you can recover and carry on again. This is for you to judge, and to act accordingly."

There are few people who do not agree with Kipling's philosophy regarding one of the most important assets of one's life. The terms of the policy are in harmony with one's independence. There are still a few things in this world that a man must manage for himself, says Kipling. His own independence is one of them; and the obscure, repeated shifts and contrivances and abstinences necessary to the manufacture of it are too personal and intimate to expose to the inspection of any department, however sympathetic.

Kipling's thoughts are well worth the consideration of every college student.

TRAVELING BY AIR

Students have in the important things on their minds than the successful flight of the navy air squadron to Hawaii. They are worrying about the coming final exams or a prospective love affair. It is but a matter of course to them that this flight is a major step in the advancement of a form of transportation which is fast pushing ground travel into the background.

Two other big steps in aviation are being made at present: One is the building of a floating landing platform in the ocean, a sample one of which is being built in America and sponsored by the government. If successful, these platforms may be placed across the Pacific and Atlantic oceans making safe travel on the water.

The other step is the construction of a flying airplane, now being designed by the major plane manufacturers. It will be turned out on a mass production basis at a price of $700 or less, a price within the reach of the general public.

Today and tomorrow the old bus, the family car, the car that they drive down to the Ozarks or out to the Rocky mountains to spend a vacation for a week. A few years from now, the man that was a college student in 1934 may also walk up the old bus and take the family for a vacation. But his bus will travel through the air instead of on the ground and the family will spend the vacation week in the mountains, Hawaii or the Alps of Switzerland.—The University Daily Kansan.

DOES

There was a word for this word, which was the word to do. It was, however, a word of a Dublin theater, and a word that he could introduce a new word, with no meaning, into the language within a hour. Accordingly on every wall these four words were chalked up, and overnight all Dublin was laughing what they meant. The word was to do, and the word remains current in the language.—Reader's Digest.

The Editor's Desk

Plans for the establishing of Blue Key on the Kansas State college campus on January 30 at the installation banquet deserves more than passing notice by undergraduates and especially members of the junior class who will carry on the work of the organization during 1934 and 1935.

Blue Key is an old idea applied in a new way. The organization at Kansas State college has been welcomed by the president of the college, the dean of men, and members of the faculty. The fraternity is sworn to cooperate with officials of the school. Its purpose is to see that nothing which should be done to create a more worthwhile campus is left undone. Blue Key in other schools has done everything from assisting freshmen to building stadia.

The fraternity is a living organization of service—not a mausoleum for preserving honors already gained. With the choice group of students and faculty members, Blue Key is the one organization equipped better than any other to accomplish its high aims.

The Snooper

The freshest bit of gossip—when the rural journalism class journeyed to Council Grove to put out Papa Lawrence's paper all of the local business men wondered if Nathan Fligstein was the boy that Jacobette had been running around with in Manhattan. Clay Reppert advised the citizens, as he sold them advertising with his NRA, New Deal etc. speech, that those of Council Grove were wrong.

The Alpha Delt party, one of the best of the year, was graced by the presence of Mr. and Mrs. Hasler. The Hill City romeo brought a few of his local dance steps and actions and almost immediately all of the Sigma Nu's were doing the famous Hill City Hop. But can you imagine the great Spiker doing a la-Waller-stadt? And without adieu and forethought Pee Wee Brewster introduced Kay Bader and his royal syncopations.

Who's Who—Pi Phi Phi, heralded and sung as a sorority. Most girls do not know the mistake that they made, even some Pi Phi's. Look over the chapter list for supposedly big shots at this institution of higher learning. Glenda Mae Hodge, who has been fairly quiet under the NRA (No Re-dating Allowed) policy is really one of the cogs in the great Pi Phi machine. Betty Jones is also a big shot, ask "Who me?" Kannal if you don't believe it. More things could be said about the Pi Phi's but the editor censored the idea with the retort "What do you think this is—the Police Gazette?" Next time, it has been suggested that Sigma Alpha Epsilon be mentioned.

In the last two weeks several boys have received through the College postoffice, their stag bids to the Pi Phi party given December 9, 1933. Several bids were received a week or so after the party. Before long the students will receive their last semester church notices through the medium of the so called college postoffice.

The Chi Omegas have been reading "Planting Spring Gardens", a volume written for the sole purpose of improving truck gardening. It is rumored that they are planning to put in a small vegetable garden in their front yard, but some of those who know think that a flower bed of pansies for the boys to fall in would be a much better idea.

Badluck, The Freshman

Dear folks:

Well all those fraternity fellers up at the Gamma chi house wants me to join there organization and be a regular college feller but I don't know whether too or not because its just like I told them—as long as I am president of my 5-h club for iron men and other freshmen who can take it, there ain't no sense in being to big of a shot.

Anyway I guess me and my 5-h club members is going to organize a committee sumpting like the student council so we can run the school when the student council aint running it. We are going to have an election of officers next Wednesday and find out who the president is going to be, but I suppose it will be me because I know more about how this school ought to be run than most anybody else in the 5-H club.

Say pa you know I was down in aggieville the other night and I saw a new suit in a window that I guess I'd better get if I ever expect to be a big shot in school. I have almost wore out my cordroy pants already and I hate to wear overalls all the time and try to be a leader on the campus too. Of course now, I am a ag student and mighty proud to be wearing overalls which is the real costume for a farmer boy like me to be wearing but I thot if I could buy this new suit for $18.49 I would have more prestige over the school.

every body is going to the shows again now on account of all the theaters opened up again for every night except Sunday night and I guess they'll be open then if everybody wants them too and don't forget to vote the next time. Me and my gal went to a show last Friday night that was sure sad, and I guess everybody cried except me. Since I was president of the 5-h club I had to show everybody I could take it, which I did.

well, examinations start pretty soon so I guess I had better start studying some chemistry on account of I have just about forgot what a atom and a molecul look like.

Your son,

BADLUCK.

P. S.—Say pa if you want your son to be a big shot you'd better send me $18.49 for that new suit I saw in that window.

Book Review

"JUDITH PARIS"

By Hugh Walpole
(Reviewed by Jane Kahl)

Judith Paris is a sequel to Rogue Herries and the scene is laid in the same picturesque English country. The story deals with the first part of Judith Herries' life—Judith, the red-headed fanciful daughter of Rogue Herries and his gypsy wife, who lost both her parents when she was born and who spent her life loving, hating and protecting her father's descendants.

Judith Paris is a better novel than Rogue Herries. It covers more ground and is better unified. It does not seem so massive and perhaps this is because the central character is Judith Paris.

A. G. Strong says that the whole book is illuminated and held together by the spirit of the heroine. Mr. Walpole, the creator, has fallen in love with Judith, and his love makes the book live. Mr. Walpole's zest for life has produced a remarkable story; not by any means faultless, so boldly on the positive side that it could carry a score of blemishes and still be big in more than bulk.

There are many characters and most of them have some degree of relationship with the heroine, and the average reader might have some trouble keeping them straight. The book gives a good picture of the life in the latter eighteenth century before the age of steam.

Rogue Herries and Judith Paris have been compared to John Galsworthy's "Forsyte Saga." Some say the comparison is inevitable. Mr. Walpole makes his characters individuals and Mr. Galsworthy makes his characters both individuals and types.

MONOGAMY ATTACKED

ard spots and a very ungleetic growth; but recall, if you will, his tactics—force—fury—might—femininity fell—of course they might and they might not, but still, after centuries the cave man remains the idol in the shrine of every faint heart of the universe.

Yes agreed—flexibility in monogamy as well as in monetary matters requires physical force and mental fortitude—but no advertising—we are spared the expense—in its creative form stands awaiting us, unbeknown to itself, the greatest out door advertising campaign since Godiva—the nudist colony. No longer need trailing gown and tailored to prove a bulwark to even the imagination—how legs and bulging biceps will receive in turn their just due—and life becomes random selectivity.

No longer need Jim take unto himself in June, Joan, and expect her to remain always his better half, for not even Ady Hester nor Arjes Chatlas could stand that coffee pot gas 365 mornings out of the year. 'Tis soon the better turns to bitter and the bitter to someone just a trifle better. And why not?—don't go from bad to worse and from worse to alimony—if you can't get along with one or two—then your much better off with three. For instance—if before another June is torn from the calendar on Joan's writing desk—for Joan is most methodical and thinks in terms of potatoes and calories collected—Jim's thoughts turn to Janet whose culture hits the five foot shelf and the knowledge that olives not cherries should garnish matinees—obey the impulse—Joan will merely sigh, not a languishing intonation but one of damn relief—once more she can read the headlines of the Tribune before the sport and market pages have been ruthlessly ripped from its vitals, she can use tooth paste that is squeezed from a neatly rolled tube rather than from one that is pressed mirthlessly flat at the top—and she can cast lingering glances at Banker Brown—across the street—who leaves promptly at nine thirty five, returns at four fifteen and wipes his feet on the mat (left foot—heel—right foot—heel) be it a day of Noah or one which brings thirst to even a camel. So each is satisfied and opportunity turned from a hesitant caller into a constant rapper.

There is, doubtless, a question in your mind—mine too—no, posterity shall not be ignored—rather, shank we say—surprised. Instead of shank, at the age of three, being sent to Miss Hemples on the Sudson, and Johnny, just beginning to walk, to one of the various military academies throughout the forty-eight United States—all can be sent to a National Reservation for Dispensers of Exhilaration—where parents are admitted by formal invitation of the offspring and exit accordingly—and vice versa—for parents can be patricizing and sons and daughters damned demanding. The presidential cabinet would then have added to it one more member—"Papa of Posterity"—who with federal authority would regulate the reservation.

For symbolic effectiveness we substitute for the blue eagle of economics the blue jay of eugenics, and become strictly coded under the N. R. A. and securely remain not responsible for accidents. Husbands may not hoard their wives—nor wives their husbands—circulation is demanded—the list of those who default will be both published and punished—and as before we remain not responsible for accidents.

No longer need Mrs. Jones rock, darn and dream, dreaming of those things best forgotten when Henry sits snoring—head nodding over an abdomen whose girth has more than doubled in recent years—then when fond Henry some spring morn, leaves, bag and baggage, for the club and the blonde demon—third from the left in the Flegfeld Zolles—need she soak with tears a pair of his knitted slippers and moan over the disgrace of divorce—heavens no—boots, saddles, and away, there are many fish in the sea—all bite once, be it just a nibble—cast your line upon the unsuspecting and they shall be reeled unto you.

This era shall be known as that of expansion, exploration, and exploitation—needless to say, history repeating itself.

Wars will become a thing of the past—for one could really never be quite sure whether he were not perchance—bayonetting his brother-in-law, cannonading his cousin, or gumming his grandfather—all would end in a friendly family disagreement. Treaties could be torn up instead of violated and disarmament conferences removed from the budget.

Under this flexible mormonic revival life would move smoothly forward—minus domestic crises—annoying infants—and that ruinous but monotonous monogamy.

JARDINE PLEASES

ASSEMBLY CROWD

were to celebrate the king's ascension to the throne. For five days I was forgotten. Finally I was given an audience by the king. Four horses and a coach, all of which were decorated with copper, silver and braids, came to take me to one of the four palaces which the king occupies at different times. The proper number of guns were fired and I was ushered through spacious halls into a large room. It took me 15 minutes to find the king, then I saw him off in one corner. I was warned to always keep my face toward the king as I went toward him. I wondered how I was ever going to get out of that place.

"Egypt is fast making use of western civilization. Alexandria is a beautiful city and quite western. There are many languages and styles of dress there. The women wear veils and do not appear in public assemblages of men but in time the veil will pass.

"All of Egypt is the same; flat, and irrigated and the same crops are grown all over. Only three percent of the country is under cultivation. The rest is desert.

"If you go to Egypt don't fail to see the Karnak temple and the Luxor temple at Luxor. And don't fail to get a room overlooking the Pyramids. If you aren't impressed then you aren't impressable."

AT THE DICKINSON

"Roman Scandals"

We want Cantor—we want Cantor and we have him—the same pop-eyed Eddie—this time clad in a pocketless toga of ancient Rome—pulling about the coliseum with Emperor Valerius and diving into Agrippa's private bath. Wisecracking his way from the slave mart to position of royal food taster—he becomes enmeshed in a dark plot regarding Sylvia, a captured princess.

The dance numbers, whose members are supposedly the most beautiful in these United States, are exciting and spectacular. The settings are lavish if not completely Roman.

Ruth Etting as Olga, a former favorite of the emperor, gives a most favorable contribution in her singing of "No More Love."

David Manners, as Josephus, in reality but a stooge to Cantor, will be well remembered—in fact his handsomeness is most appalling.

The ending, though it be the proverbial overthrow of the traditional X-mustached crook, is quite overshadowed by a previous chariot race which would humble Ben Hur for days. All in all, it is a most satisfying definition for the fall of Rome and we popcey you will once again fall for Eddie.—C. C.

An orchid to Don Hutchinson for his playing in the game last night. The high spot was when two of our "best" players used their noses for scooters—for those noses there is no better use! . . . The apprehension about Doc Holtz was relieved when he appeared in his customary seat at the game Friday night. It was thought that he had joined the ranks of the deserters. . . .

In reference to the item about the press trip in the Snooper column, an observer could state that the trip was not without its heart throbs. Just as he was going out the door we heard the editor of the Collegian, to whom women are abhorrent, promising faithfully to write to one of the local girls. Remember breach of promise suits, Rod! . . . Dan Partner, the power-house of the Betas, found Friday night when he called for a date that he was no longer in the king row—in fact he wasn't even playing! . . . Mark Kannal has invented a new game. When R. L. Parker accidentally knocked him in the ditch the other night, instead of getting up in the proper fashion, he just laid there and yelled "Come and find me!" Funny, huh? . . .

It is rumored that Dean Van Zile was in Kansas City after Governor Park signed the bill, and the story goes that when she tripped and fell in the lobby of the hotel there was the customary raising of eyebrows. She was just a nine o'clock girl in a ten o'clock town. . . . And they're still doing it—Dorothy Linde is now wearing Tyne Pearman's pin. . . .

DOES NOT SPILL OUT

Good tobaccos... real good tobaccos... that's the reason for Lucky Strike's fine, smooth quality. We use only the center leaves of the finest Turkish and domestic tobacco plants. Not the top leaves—because those are underdeveloped. Not the bottom leaves—because those are inferior in quality. We use only the center leaves—because these are the mildest leaves—fully ripe for perfect smoking. Only these choice tobaccos are used to make Luckies—so round, so firm, so fully packed—and no loose ends to spill out. That's why Luckies are always mild and smooth. That's why always "Luckies please". And don't forget—"It's toasted"—for throat protection—for finer taste.

Wildcats Win First Conference Games of Season—Graham Leads Scorers

The Kansas State basketball team, showing an airtight defense and a smooth functioning offense, upset the Iowa State Cyclones 28-23 in a thrilling Big Six conference game in Nichols gymnasium Friday night. It was the first conference victory for the Wildcats.

The half time score was 15-13 for the Wildcats. Ralph Graham, Kansas State forward, led the scoring of both teams with four field goals and three free throws for a total of eleven points. He was pressed closely for the honors by Captain "Bus" Boyd who accounted for 10 points with five goals from the field. Most of Boyd's counters were long shots. Coach Frank Root used only five men during the entire game.

Graham opened the scoring with a free throw but a long shot by Cowan gave Iowa State the lead which they kept until 12 minutes of the half had been played. Then two goals by Boyd gave the Wildcats the lead. The lead changed many times in the second half and it wasn't until the last three minutes that the game was decided, when Graham and Boyd sank three field goals.

The box score:

Kansas State (28)	G	FT	F

Men's Intramurals

The Delta Tau Delta basket ball team, pan-hel champs, will meet the White Shirts, independent bracket winners, tonight at 7:30 to decide the championship of the 1934 intramural basket ball tournament.

The Delta Taus tied for first place in group one with the Phi Kappas, each winning four games and losing one. In the play off, however, the Delta crowded the Phi Kappas out of the race. The Delta Taus then won their inter-group game with Kappa Sigma, sending them in the semi-finals. In the pan-hel finals the Delta met a worthy foe in the Sig Alpha aggregation. The lead continually changed from one team to the other, but when the final whistle blew the Delta were ahead 15 to 11.

The White Shirts of group five ended in a three-way tie with W. F. A. C. and the Tigers, each winning five games and losing one. The White Shirts nosed their way out of the tie last Thursday winning a one-sided game from W. F. A. C. with a final score of 22 to 10. The two teams playing in the final game tonight are without a doubt the choice teams of the pan-hel and independent groups. The White Shirts and the Delta found themselves in a hole several times during the course of the intramurals, but always had reserve enough to pull out above their foe. Matched together, these two teams should afford some real basket ball entertainment.

Wildcat Tracksters to Clash With Missouri in First Meet of Season, February 14

The Kansas State track team under the supervision of Coach Ward Haylett will begin regular workouts and time trials tomorrow in preparation for their first meet which is scheduled with Missouri university on February 14.

Coach Haylett says that the team is not as strong as it should be because of an apparent shortage in weight, sprint, and high jump men. The team should strengthen as the season advances.

Larry Darnell, a letterman of last year, had his tonsils removed yesterday but he hopes to be able to compete in the first meet. Darnell

Women's Sports

(By Jane Whyte)

The W. A. A. Sports dinner to-night from 5:30 to 7:00 o'clock sounds like it ought to be quite an interesting affair, with Jean Payne as toastmistress, and Cora Oliphant leading the singing. New members will furnish the stunt entertainment after a meeting at 4:00 o'clock this afternoon in the gym. Florence McKinney, the president, will present the awards and conduct the initiation, and during the course of the evening there will be a dance given by Helen "Spud" Morgan and Cora Oliphant, followed by general dancing.

As soon as the people who will receive incomplete grades for this semester make up the lacking work next semester, they will receive a grade—otherwise their grade automatically will be "F". (Abbreviated Department Notice.)

The first horseshoe intramural for women which will take place in the coming semester is causing some comment and much bewilderment. Organizations really should take advantage of the pre-spring weather and practice throwing "rings" in the backyard so they'll have some experience. Tennesse opens the second semester, however, and basketball follows, thus eliminating immediate worry.

Frosh Squad Cut

After Week of Workouts, Coach Root Reduces Number of First Year Basketeers to 30

Thirty freshman basketball players have been picked by Coach Frank Root from the squad of 65 that reported early last week. The squad will practice daily for the rest of the season. Ten of the men were captains of their high school teams.

Those on the squad are: Eldon Ashton, Manhattan; Leo Ayers, Pasadena, Calif.; Charles Bateman, Manhattan; Oren Burns, Topeka; Lee Baker, Overbrook; Bob Benson, Herington; Harold Clasen, Newton; Frank Cooley, Goff; George Dileo, Republic, Pa.; Charles Decker, Enterprise; Harold Engleman, Indianapolis, Ind.; Maurice Elder, Manhattan; Lawrence Horton, Wichita; Barney Hayes, Kansas City; Waldo Hatfield, Fairview; Joe Hrab, East St. Louis, Ill.; Chester Johnson, Garrison; Charles Johnson, Kansas City; Bill Jones, Wichita.

Bill Lutz, Sharon Springs; William McDaniel, Ashland, Ohio; W. Muhlenheim, Ellis; Wilson Osten, Pembrose, Georgia; Less Railsbeck, Landon; George Rankin, Gardner; Myron Rooks, Kansas City, Mo.; Max Springer, Manhattan; Lloyd Sommers, Canton; Harold Scanlan, Abilene, and Ted Warren, Delphos.

Huge Motor Truck Of Future Planned By Physics Teacher

On the cover of the December issue of the "Popular Science" magazine is a picture of Prof. Eric R. Lyon's idea of what the future motor truck may be like. Professor Lyon, of the physics department, predicts that the freight-carrying vehicle of the future may be something resembling his ideal creation. The article which he wrote describes it as a "motor truck so large that it dwarfs the biggest locomotive in the world."

Imagine a "juggernaut" with a boat-like shape, pneumatic tires that are as high as a bungalow, and an electric drive with a propeller and rudder so that it can navigate in the water as well as on dry ground. It is capable of holding hundreds of tons of cargo—as much as a ship is able to carry. This is a mental image of the 1,500-ton, amphibian super-truck that Professor Lyon has imagined. He has worked out the engineering design of this machine which he calls a "navitruke."

The principle advantage of these machines will be that they can travel over roads that need only be sanded or graveled because of the specially adapted tires. This is estimated to cut down the cost of road building greatly. No bridges will be necessary for this ingenious truck because it is able to ford streams. Both the operating plans and the freight charges will approximate those of water-borne shipping.

Professor Lyon believes the most important phase of this idea lies in planning its wheels. To carry the truck's crushing weight smoothly and rapidly he has worked out several designs for steel-shod pneumatic tires which are thirty feet high, and with treads ten feet wide, revolving on gear driven rims.

The huge pneumatic inner tube is covered with alternate layers of fabric and armor of steel and cable or tubing. These are constructed in this manner to avert the possibility of blow-outs. While an outer, renewable rubber tread permits high speed on good roads.

Every possibility of accident is provided for. In case of a leak a place is provided where a man can climb through a manhole in each tire section and make repair. Each tire contains an automatic electric compressor that will maintain the required sixty pounds pressure despite all but the most severe leaks.

Roads for these trucks will be at least 40 feet wide for one-way traffic and eighty feet for two-way, according to the estimate of Professor Lyon.

The roads will be easy to maintain in good condition, because the wheels of the monster will act as road rollers and pack the surface more firmly each time they pass over it.

INTRAMURAL SEASON WILL END TONIGHT

Delts and White Shirts Will Settle Honors

The final game in intramural basketball will be played Tuesday night between the Delts and the White Shirts. This will finish intramurals for the first semester. There are a number of sports on the program for next semester.

A plan is now being worked out whereby the participation in volleyball can be doubled and retain the same amount of interest. In wrestling each organization may enter one man in each weight. This is a new rule made to eliminate unequal matches and decrease injury.

Handball, indoor track, and swimming are other indoor sports for next semester. Baseball, outdoor track, and tennis will follow. This variety and number of team and individual sports should interest a large number of men. Intramural athletics are becoming more popular every year in the larger colleges and universities. High schools are for intramurals too, and some have gone so far as to exclude varsity athletics entirely.

AT THE VARSITY

"The House on 56th Street" is another version of the "Madame X" theme. Kay Francis as eggy Martin, a chorus girl in the Florida era, marries Gene Raymond, who brings her to the home he has built for her on 56th street. She becomes implicated in the murder of her former lover and spends the next 20 years in the penitentiary.

When she emerges from prison her husband is dead and her daughter taught to think that her mother is dead. She takes up the life of a professional gambler and finally returns to the house on 56th street which is now a speakeasy. There she is able to save her daughter from disgrace.

Kay Francis is splendid and is ably supported by Gene Raymond and Ricardo Cortez. All Kay Francis fans will like this show.—B. M.

TEAS BY FOODS CLASSES

About 90 women in the Foods 1 classes are making practical use of their culinary knowledge this week. The five classes are serving teas in Calvin hall.

The girls have written invitations according to the rules of etiquette, and they prepare all the good to be used. Dainty sandwiches and cookies suitable for teas are made in the foods classes, so the students may serve refreshments, which if they were to be purchased ready-made, would be prohibitive because of their cost.

Y CABINET MEETING

Important Matters to Be Considered

A meeting of the Y. M. C. A. cabinet to discuss several urgent items will be held today at 4:00 o'clock in the "Y" office.

This is the last cabinet meeting that will be held this semester and Dr. A. A. Holtz, Y. M. C. A. secretary urges that "This is an important meeting and everyone should make a special effort to be there."

AN EROSION JOB

Prof. Charles A. Logan of the agricultural engineering department, has accepted the position as assistant to John S. Glass who was recently appointed engineer in charge of the soil erosion project in Jewell county with headquarters in Mankato.

His family will move to Mankato the first of next week.

A FIELD IN RADIO

L. L. Longsdorf a Lecturer to Journalism Students

Many opportunities exist in radio work for journalism students, declared L. L. Longsdorf of the division of extension in a talk before journalism students Thursday.

There are 565 commercial radio stations, and 39 educational stations in the United States, each of which employs several persons. A great number of these are former journalists, he said.

Examples of radio positions given by Mr. Longsdorf include radio-press, reporters, radio-press announcers, advertising writers, continuity writers, radio dramatists, writers, sports writers, writers specializing in a certain field as music or engineering, and free-lance radio writers.

Mr. Longsdorf stressed the difference between writing for the eye, as for a newspaper, and writing for the ear, as for the radio. A reader can reread a story in a newspaper, but a listener must get the story over the radio after hearing it but once. The time element in a newspaper story is not so important, as the reader can spend as long or as short a time on a story as he wishes. On the other hand, the speaking time over the radio never exceeds 15 minutes, and the best average is from six to eight minutes. The entire story must be presented in that length of time.

"The exact wording of a speech as given by an announcer over the radio is first written out by a continuity writer," he said. "This is to adapt the story exactly to the amount of time which is allotted to it."

The prerequisites for a radio writer, radio editor, or radio program manager as stated by Mr. Longsdorf include a good general education, good English, correct pronunciation, a background in foreign languages, the ability to read, good appreciation for music, the ability to describe things, accuracy, the ability to organize work, a pleasing personality, and a knowledge of law terminology.

ANNUAL "Y" RETREAT

The annual between-semester retreat of the Y. M. C. A. and the Y. W. C. A. will be held in Wamego at the Episcopal Guild house on Saturday, January 27.

The Rev. W. A. Jonnard of the Manhattan Episcopal church will be a leader. The number going will be restricted to thirty men and thirty women because of the size of the guild house. The retreat will be held at a time when the examinations will be over so that those desiring to go should sign up as early as possible to make sure they are included in the list.

Those going will leave for Wamego directly after the last examination Saturday morning and will return in time for dinner in town. Luncheon will be served by the ladies of the Wamego Episcopal church. In the afternoon, periods will be devoted to discussions and recreation. A charge of thirty-five cents will be made to those students attending the retreat.

NEW FUSELAGE FOR GLIDER

Aeronautical Association Repairing Damaged Machine

A new glider fuselage of steel tubing is being constructed by the Kansas State Aeronautical association to replace the one which was damaged in a smashup earlier this winter, according to information issued by the organization yesterday.

The new fuselage is to be made of tubular steel welded together. "This will give the glider greater strength and less liable to damage than was the wooden one which was used before," stated Prof. C. E. Pearce, consulting engineer for the association, yesterday.

ing a two-wheeled trailer for the glider in order to transport the machine from its shop to the flying grounds. The trailer is to be large enough to carry the two wings which are four feet wide and sixteen feet long and weigh about eighty pounds apiece.

Lectures on various phases of glider and airplane construction are given each Tuesday afternoon. United States department of commerce requirements in regard to gliders have been studied and the machine designs are scheduled for the next few meetings.

Turkish tobacco, you know, is the best "seasoning" there is for cigarettes. At all times Chesterfield has in storage—at this plant and in America—about 350,000 bales of the right kinds of Turkish tobacco.
